N. C. Wilson Elected to New Post

The 50th World Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church has elected Elder Neal C. Wilson as president of Seventh-day Adventists throughout North America.

Elder Wilson, 45, President of the Columbia Union Conference since 1962, was elected leader of the 380,855 Seventh-day Adventists of the United States and Canada on the fifth day of the Quadrennial World Session of the denomination in session in Detroit.

A native of Lodi, Calif., Elder Wilson was graduated from Vincent Hill College, India, and Pacific Union College in Angwin, Calif. The son of Seventh-day Adventist missionaries, he began his ministry in Wyoming, then studied Arabic in Washington, D. C., in preparation for foreign service.

From 1944 to 1959 he was a pastor and church official in the Egypt and Nile Union Missions. He returned to the United States in 1959 as Religious Liberty Secretary of the Central California Conference. He became Religious Liberty Secretary of the Columbia Union Conference in 1960 and two years later was elected President of the Columbia Union Conference.

As the Vice-President of the General Conference in charge of the North American Division, he will oversee the activities of 24,000 church workers, 3,300 churches, 1,134 schools, and 38 church-operated hospitals.

Statement Made by Elder Neal C. Wilson on the Christian Radio Network and Broadcast on WGTS-FM

I take up my new responsibilities with the knowledge that one by himself can do little. I cherish the support and cooperation of the nearly 400,000 Adventist Church members in North America as well as the many friends of the church.

Seventh-day Adventists in Canada and the United States are dedicated to the task of meeting the physical and the spiritual needs of mankind. We must tenderly and with devotion become a benefit and blessing in neighborhoods in the community.

This we must faithfully achieve through the outreach of our medical, educational, welfare, literature and youth activities.

We must seek every possible way to exalt the name and the delivering power of the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is a time when the church must diligently strive for true brotherhood regardless of color or race. To this end we are unitedly committed.

Retire

Following his opening night sermon, Elder R. R. Figuhr made the dramatic announcement of his retirement as President of the General Conference.

Elected . . .

Named to the post of General Conference President is Elder Robert H. Pierson, who has headed the work in the Trans-African Division for the past eight years.

Thousands Attend General Conference Session

With over 25,000 delegates and visitors in attendance, every facility of Detroit's ample Cobo Hall and Arena were taxed to capacity for the opening weekend of the General Conference Session.

Representing nearly 200 countries, the delegates came together for the 50th session with change being the chief topic of conversation.

This came from the announcement made by Elder R. R. Figuhr during the opening-night sermon. He told the delegates: "The time has come when the burden of leadership of the denomination should be laid on other shoulders. When one stands in the shadow of three-score years and ten, he begins to feel the weight of the years, and these times demand a man of activity, as well as of strength and courage."

Elder Figuhr had carried the heavy responsibilities of the leadership of the church for 12 years.

The first action of the nominating committee was the election of a new General Conference President. To fill this important post, a call was extended to Elder Robert H. Pierson, President of the Trans-African Division.

Elder Pierson has been president of the division since 1958 and prior to that had served in mission service in Asia and the Caribbean. Included in his past work was a stint as pastor of the Takoma Park Church.

Speaking for the worship services of the first weekend, Elder Pierson issued a challenge to the membership.

About the Cover . . .

Every seat in the Cobo Hall arena was filled for the Sabbath-morning worship service for the first weekend of the General Conference Session. About 12,000 packed the arena while another 8,000 watched closed-circuit television in another auditorium. Separate meetings were held for the various youth divisions.

Members from the Columbia Union took an active part in the planning and the work of the General Conference session. Anywhere one pointed a camera, there was a Columbia Union delegate . . .

Elder Charles Brooks, Field Representative for the Columbia Union Conference, was one of the narrators on the television program, "Global Assignment," released on several stations.

The Publishing Department exhibit brought together several from the Columbia Union Conference, including (left to right) Elder Paul Bernet, Publishing Secretary, Pennsylvania Conference; George Rogers, Publishing Secretary, West Virginia Conference; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rutan, Ohio Conference literature evangelists; and Elder Kenneth O'Guin, Publishing Secretary, Potomac Conference.

Looking over a display of flags at one of the exhibits are Elder E. D. Clark and Elder Lester Carney of the Potomac Conference.

As C. H. Kelly, a member of the reception committee, looks on, Elder Cyril Miller, President of the Chesapeake Conference, registers for the General Conference Session.

With Elder C. L. Torrey, General Conference Treasurer (left), Elder N. C. Wilson reports on the Columbia Union Conference's share of the million-dollar offering. It amounted to $100,000.

times in any part of the world," he declared. "There is no status quo with God and His last day movement. Let us make bold plans for advance to finish the work. At times and in places it may be slow, frustrating advance, but advance it must be."

Pierson called for a renewed consecration. "Now is the accepted time for courageous planning, but it is a time that requires godly living. Planning, no matter how wise or bold, is not sufficient to meet God's requirements at this late hour. A spiritual preparation is urgently required for the finishing of the work in all the world. Courageous planning and godly living must go together."

As the quadrennial conclave went into its closing days, a full line of duties confronted the delegates. There were reports to hear from the church's vast work and a full slate of officers to be elected.

The next issue of the VISITOR will contain a full report in pictures of the General Conference Session.

Acreage on the opposite side of the street has been secured for the proposed future home of the conference headquarters. God is opening the way for us to surge forward and the enthusiastic zeal of the Harrisburg church membership is typical of God's people throughout Pennsylvania.

Unlimited Opportunities For Music Study at BMA

SOME years ago, when Blue Mountain Academy began, its board made a decision to make a flat charge for all the services the school offers without making additional fees for music, typing, laboratory, etc. This has not only proved to be ideal for school operation but also for talented students who would otherwise delete some of these subjects for financial reasons.

All have equal opportunity to take private lessons in piano, band instruments, and voice. With no extra fees for choir or band anyone who passes an audition can join the organization of his choice.

The music staff is comprised of four full-time instructors. Donald Runyan, choir director, teaches voice; John Edison, band director, teaches instrumental music; Nancy Edison teaches organ; and Eloise Leftrook teaches piano.

The Cantabile Wind Ensemble is a select group of instrumentalists that plays for occasions where a full band would be awkward. A select group of singers from the choir, the Bel Canto Singers, performs for school functions as well as civic organizations in the community.

With enthusiastic student interest and participation, this music program fills well an important facet of Christian education.

Seven Persons Baptized

ELDER D. W. Hunter baptized Jack Rapiscak and Connie Lane for Pastor Burton Maxwell in January, 1966. Three more—James Reilly, Mrs. Edwin Smith, and Mrs. Roberta Jackson—were baptized in Laurel Lake by Elder J. A. Toop, on May 21. On the following Sabbath Vicky and Sharan Nulph followed their Lord in baptism when Elder Ray West officiated.

These seven named are the first fruits of evangelism conducted by Pastor Maxwell. He has as a goal for 1966 30 persons baptized for the kingdom.

THE REVIEWER

SPRING rains seem to have brought with them a veritable avalanche of new books to tempt the tastes of our devoted readers. A detailed analysis of every news release is just about impossible. However, we shall discuss a few of the most notable and list others with brief descriptions for your information.

Tops, in our opinion, is the new Pacific Press book, My Father's World, by Herschel and Ruth Wheeler. This volume, a companion to Wonders of Creation, is photographic art at its finest. Through the camera's eye we learn that happiness is sunlight on a forest path. Power is a waterfall and solitude a twisted tree. Accompanying the photographs are inspirational selections from Ellen G. White, poetry by Henry Van Dyke and others, psalms, and contemporary hymns. This is a book to be read, enjoyed, and read again. $5.95.

This month we have something really special for ministers and anyone else called upon to speak in public. Robert H. Pierson, a well-known author in church circles, has compiled two of the handiest self-help books for speakers we have seen in a long time. What Shall I Speak About? contains 250 suggested sermon topics for almost any occasion. Each outline gives an aim, suggested Bible texts, Spirit of Prophecy references, possible illustrations, and an appeal.

Going right along with this book is the companion volume, 501 Illustrations. Here the author has definitely supplied something for everyone. Looking for a story about spiritual apathy? public relations? tithing? reverence? You name it, there is a story about it.

Primary-age children will be delighted with the colorful new story from Africa, Kamwendo, by Josephine Cunningham Edwards. The story of Kamwendo's journey from the disease-infested African village of his childhood to the happiness of Christian life is cleverly interspersed with long-ago tales of African legend.

Mrs. Edwards has consistently made story telling a real art, especially where children are concerned, and Kamwendo is no exception. A Southern Publishing Association release, $2.95.

Briefly, let us mention other new releases you will want to look at. Bride in the Parsonage, by Dorothy Aitken, is a handbook in story form for young ministers' wives. From Southern Publishing, $3.95.

Two new small paperbacks from Pacific Press Publishing Association are worthy of note: The Parable of Pershing Square, by H. E. Rice, and Wonders of the Spirit World, by Roy Allan Anderson. Parable is an interesting story, warmly human, with a clear though somewhat abstract message. Wonders of the Spirit World would be most enjoyable when read in a well-lighted room, preferably full of people.

Twenty Ohio Districts Hold Unified Reading Program

RECENTLY 20 districts, or approximately 35 churches in the Ohio Conference, started the Church Reading Fellowship Plan and are reading The Adventist Home each week through weekly assignments made every Sabbath during the announcement period and in the church bulletin. Approximately 1,000 families in the Ohio Conference are reading The Adventist Home under this program. Reports coming from the pastors indicate that our members are enjoying the reading of this wonderful book. Other districts are planning to start this reading program in the near future.

Shortly before Mrs. E. G. White died she said: "I am very anxious that our young people shall have the proper class of reading; then the old people will get it also. We could begin a course of reading so intensely interesting that it would attract and influence many minds" (Messages to Young People, p. 288).

The Church Reading Fellowship Plan, as voted by the Autumn Council in 1964, is certainly a step toward a reading program such as Mrs. White encouraged us to begin.

Dr. Harding Speaks At Monnett School

Dr. George Harding, Jr., staff psychiatrist and director of education and research for Harding Hospital, Worthington, Ohio, was the guest speaker at an afternoon meeting held in the Monnett Church School, Sabbath, May 21, at 3:00 o'clock.

The school assembly room was literally filled with adults and teenagers as Dr. Harding spoke on the subject, "The Effect of Childhood Experiences on Emotional and Spiritual Growth." During his one-hour presentation he included a question-and-answer session.

The program was a part of Christian Home Emphasis Sabbath which was sponsored in cooperation with the Home and School Association.

During the morning worship service the plan for studying the Spirit of Prophecy book, The Adventist Home, was presented with nearly 100-per-cent participation.

The film, "Does Christ Live in Your Home?" was shown in the Galion Church as a part of the fifth evening meeting of the "Six Steps to Victorious Living" series now in progress.

Saving Change Proves to Be Successful Investment

It is evident that Wilda McDermott of the Chillicothe Church is enthusiastic about her Investment project. How to raise funds for this project concerned Mrs. McDermott—a widow who does housekeeping for a living—so she decided to place in an Investment jar all change left in her purse from shopping. The miracle of Investment began to prove itself. She is shown holding the jar which contains $56 collected during 1965. She already has a $30 start in 1966. "Gold and silver belong to God. I'm only too glad to give Him back His own," she said. Her prayer is that many more will take part in the Investment program so that Jesus' coming will be hastened.—J. F. Littlefield, Pastor.

Scholarship Fund Presented To Mount Vernon Academy

THE C. V. Leach Memorial Scholarship Fund was presented to Mount Vernon Academy recently by B. E. Leach of Fort Worth, Texas, and A. D. Leach of Washington, D. C. The scholarship was presented in memory of C. V. Leach, a former Mount Vernon resident and President of the Ohio Conference. The fund is a perpetual endowment of $1,000. The interest of the endowment, which will approximate $50 a year, will be equally matched by the Ohio Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, Mount Vernon Academy, and the church or family of the recipient. The total amount of student aid will be $200.

The recipient of the scholarship will be decided by the Mount Vernon Academy faculty and announced at graduation weekend. Qualification will be based on both financial need and academic potential.

In presenting the scholarship fund on behalf of the Leach family B. E. Leach stated that he hoped this would be but the beginning of more memorial scholarships to be awarded to Mount Vernon Academy students.

Evangelistic School Held At Lakewood

A LAYMEN'S Evangelistic School was conducted in the Lakewood Church for six weeks, with an average attendance of 30. The instructors were: Mrs. James Bruder, decisions; Mrs. Monroe Dixon, methods; Mrs. Ethel M. Pember, Bible doctrines; and Elder Marlo E. Fralick, denominational history. The pastor plans to press these trained members into service.

TV Set Won by Member, Used in School

At a discount house in Newark, Mrs. Kenneth Berry (right) was asked to sign a card for their free drawing. A television set was being given away. While registering she protested that television had nothing to offer these days, etc., and stated to the salesman that "It would be just my luck to win it." You guessed it. Three days later the store called and said the television set was hers. Since the one she had won had a small screen, Mrs. Berry paid an additional $38 to get a bigger one for classroom viewing in the Newark school. Her husband, Elder Berry, got the antenna. The teacher there, Leslie Baker, installed it. The set is now in use and the children in Miss Rafferty's room are delighted. Since winning this set, both Mr. Baker and Evelyn Rafferty (in back) are in a position to utilize television in their curriculum. The Berrys had given a television set to the other room earlier.

BOOTHBY MEETINGS IN OHIO

ELDER Robert L. Boothby, with 46 years of evangelistic experience, conducted a three-week series of meetings in the Cincinnati Junior Academy in May. The meetings were well attended, requiring two identical sessions on Sabbaths and Sundays.

This campaign was supported by the combined efforts of the four local churches and their pastors: Elder Clayton R. Jepson, First Church of Cincinnati; Elder J. H. Lester, Shiloh Church, Cincinnati; Elder Lawrence Yeagley, Hamlet Church, Amelia, Ohio; and Elder E. E. Shafer, Covington, Kentucky.

An interesting feature was the fact that each person entering the auditorium was given a Bible, together with a list of the references and page numbers of the texts to be used in the sermon. After 14 meetings, each person who had attended twelve meetings received the Bible as a gift.

Many people took a Bible course, receiving the printed lessons at the auditorium, and returning their test sheets there for correction.

The music was under the direction of Pastor Charles H. Buursma of Defiance, Ohio, Elder C. L. Brooks, educational superintendent of the Allegheny Conference, and Elder Lon Cummings of Bucyrus, Ohio.

The campaign was given wide coverage by the press, radio and television.

In 1940, Elder Boothby held an extended series of meetings in the Emery Auditorium in Cincinnati. That campaign continued for eleven months, with all three floors of the auditorium filled, and even the orchestra pit and the platform packed, resulting in about 500 baptisms.

Nineteen Years of Prayer Result in Baptism

MV Week of Prayer At Newtonville (N. J.)

THE Newtonville, N. J., First Church recently concluded a spirit-filled MV Week of Prayer. We were privileged to have as a guest speaker Elder George W. Thompson, Pastor of the Mt. Zion Church of Haden, Conn. The young people took an active part in the services each evening, conducting the song service, prayer, and readings.

The sermons were geared to encourage the youth to take a firm stand for right principles. The theme was "Responsibility of taking an effective stand for God in all our living." The meetings were well attended by the youth and strongly supported by the adults of the church. The theme song, "Lord of All," was reverently sung to open each meeting. Mrs. Timpson assisted at the piano throughout the entire week.

Elder Timpson chose as his final subject "One Clear Voice Speaking Out for God," an excellent and befitting climax to this spiritual feast. The entire church responded to the appeal for a rededication of their lives to God's service. Five persons surrendered to Christ for baptism. Elder W. M. Fordham is the pastor of the church and Mrs. Ruth E. Stovall is the Missionary Volunteer leader.

Pathfinder Club Receives Flag Flown Over Capitol

THE recently formed Pathfinder Club of the Akron Bethel Church was given a special honor by Congressman William H. Ayres of Ohio.

Mrs. Edna Johnson wrote to Congressman Ayres requesting an American flag for the club, explaining its goals and a few of the club's other activities. The flag is to be used for display and during the pledge of allegiance.

Shortly afterward the flag arrived. The certificate reads as follows:

"This is to certify that the flag presented with this certificate was flown over the capitol of the United States especially for presentation to the Bethel Seventh-day Adventist Pathfinder Club of Akron."

It included the date flown and Congressman Ayres' signature.

A flag pole has not yet been secured for the flag.

Recently Elder D. L. Davis, Missionary Volunteer leader of the Allegheny Conference, visited the Bethel Pathfinder Club. This was an inspiration to the counselors and Pathfinders as well. His talk was encouraging.

Officers of the club are as follows: Leroy Johnson, director, counselor; Mrs. Edna Johnson, deputy director (finance officer); Mrs. Margaret Means, counselor; Mrs. Mabel Sherard, counselor.

A RECENT baptism conducted for candidates of the Columbus Ephesus Church was a most unusual one. Of the five candidates baptized two were wives of members who were joining their husbands in the church. One candidate was engaged to a church member and is now married and beginning her married life with Christ in the home.

One of the candidates was the husband of one of our members, Mrs. William Boyer. For 19 years Mrs. Boyer had prayed for her husband to join the church. Mr. Boyer, who is a career fireman, having been with the Columbus Fire Department for 31 years and having served as a lieutenant, captain, and for the past eight years as a battalion chief for the department, always manifested a keen interest in the work of the Ephesus Church.

On several occasions he and his wife have given funds for church projects. Now that Mr. Boyer is a member of the church he has asked for a transfer to light duty within the fire department that he might have his Sabbath free. Mrs. Boyer requested to be rebaptized with her husband that this might symbolize the beginning of their walk with God and His church as a Christian couple.

The Boyers left Columbus on June 27 for an extended European tour. Their plans are to visit at least eight countries and, in addition to visiting the usual tourist attractions, they plan to visit Adventist institutions.

Our prayers go with them on their trip and in their new spiritual experience.

Soul-Winning Assistance Here Now For Logan-Williamson Area

MR. and Mrs. B. F. Hurley have come into our midst to give assistance in soul winning in the area of Logan and Williamson, W. Va. Because of distance these churches have been without continual leadership in their faithful endeavors to uphold the gospel commission.

God used a colporteur to bring conviction concerning the three angels' messages to the Hurleys. They were baptized December 27, 1947, and were placed in charge of a branch Sabbath School in Grove City, Ohio. One year later this branch Sabbath School became a sister church with 33 members. Mr. Hurley continued as pastor of this church until 1950, when he was called to the Florida Conference to enter colporteur work. Here again he gave of his talents to the branch Sabbath School in Brooksville, and assisted the pastor by giving Bible studies to interested persons. Many persons were won to the faith and a church was organized.

The Hurleys returned to Grove City, Ohio, in 1951, where he acted as a lay pastor until a regular minister was chosen.

Four years before accepting the call to the West Virginia Conference, Mr. Hurley was canvassing in the Lancaster district of the Ohio Conference, where he was first elder of the church.

Mrs. Hurley has stood loyally by her husband in their service for God. Together they have been instrumental in bringing 39 persons to the Lord and into the wonderful message of the remnant church.

We welcome these light bearers into our midst and pray God's blessing upon them as they witness in their leadership in the churches.

JO ANNE WALSH, a member of the Huntington, W. Va., Church, was valedictorian at Symmes' Valley High School, Lawrence County, Ohio, graduation exercises on May 23, 1966. Scholastically she is a "straight A" student. Her grade average is 94.066 out of a possible 96. A member of the school Honor Society, Glee Club, and Latin Club, and on the staff of the school annual, she also won a scholarship in the statewide Buckeye Rural Electric Cooperative Contest. In 1963, when she was valedictorian for her junior high school graduation, the date for the graduation exercises was changed because she could not attend on Friday night.

A regular attendant of the Huntington Church, Jo Anne has held office in the MV Society and was chosen as a delegate to the youth congress in Atlantic City in April, 1965.

She has been accepted as a student by Southern Missionary College for this fall and desires to glorify God in her life.

Parkersburg Kindergarten Closing Program Held

THE Parkersburg Junior Academy kindergarten children presented their closing program on Wednesday and Thursday evening, May 18 and 19. The program, entitled "No Longer Five," was under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. H. W. Bass, assisted by Mrs. R. H. Shepard, music instructor.

Fifty bright-eyed bundles of energy, all non-Adventist children, put on a program second to none to the joy of their proud parents. The varied program consisted of numbers by the rhythm band; a salute to the flag; finger plays; and patriotic, secular, and religious songs.

All pre-schoolers received their diplomas and are now eagerly awaiting to be full-fledged first-graders next fall. Elder R. H. Shepard, pastor of the local Seventh-day Adventist church, who is chairman of the school board, expressed his appreciation to all the parents for attending the program.

Refreshments were served by the eight room mothers: Mrs. Joe Astorg, Mrs. Robert Postlewaite, Mrs. G. R. Turner, Mrs. James Durham, Mrs. Leroy Vincent, Mrs. Frank Fannin, Mrs. Robert Hawthorne, and Mrs. Horace Florence.

CUC Group Visits Morgantown, Fairmont

COMMENTS such as "This has been a wonderful weekend," "Now I understand my teenager better," and "I've learned how to help the Lord answer my prayer for my husband" were said by members and friends of the Morgantown and Fairmont Churches.

The occasion was the visit of Dr. W. John Cannon and others from Columbia Union College as they presented a weekend program geared to family understanding. Problems related to the child, the adolescent, and the parent were freely discussed. Assistance with marital and spiritual problems was arranged for through the holding of private counseling periods.

Elder J. F. Harold, district pastor, said about this experience: "It was a spiritual 'high day' for all concerned."

Cooking School Held in Salisbury

A class in cooking and nutrition was conducted during the past two months in the Dorcas room of the Salisbury Church by Mrs. Jeannette Worth, left, Bible Instructor. Demonstrations were made each period, such as cooking vegetables, bread making, menu planning, good and poor combinations, length of time various foods take for digestion, vegetable and fruit sources of all minerals and vitamins needed for nutrition, etc. With classes held at 4:00 P.M. on Sundays, by 6:00 the foods prepared were served in balanced meals, some dinners, luncheons, one breakfast, and school or work lunch boxes. Twelve qualified for certificates. In the picture Mrs. Dorothy Rose (right) demonstrates kneading bread.

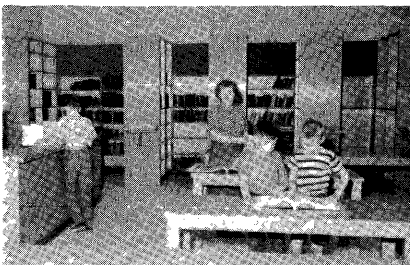

Spencerville Holds Open House

Nearly 500 parents, students, and friends toured the newly enlarged and renovated Spencerville Junior Academy on a recent Sunday afternoon. The open house coincided with the annual fun fair of games, food, and entertainment.

This marked the climax of two years' of enlargement and renovation. With the new three-story wing the plant now has 12 classrooms plus a library, chapel, tiered bandroom, music-practice room, dining room, and gymnasium. Great expense has been involved in the new modern science room, bandroom, library, home arts room, and the business office. A new carpeted office has been completed for the Principal elect, Roger Davis, of Takoma Park, Md. The Chesapeake Conference salutes this 350-member congregation at Spencerville and the Pastor, Elder Raymond Spencer, for their vision, sacrifice, and dedication in providing this outstanding Christian educational institution.

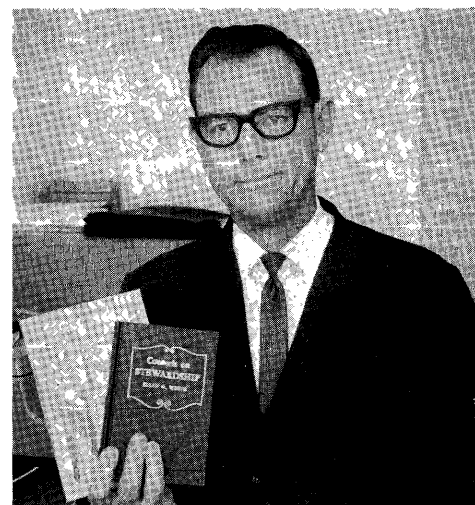

Mrs. DeVona Malcolm, home economics teacher, designed and equipped the Home Arts Department which has three self-contained kitchens in modern, early American, and provincial styling, plus a sewing area and modeling platform.

Visitors at the open house were impressed with the large library that will be ready for the fall school term. It includes carrels for individual study, study tables, open book stacks, and a carpeted area with lounge furniture for relaxed reading. The chairman of the school board, Frank De Haan, is directing the building and equipping of the library.

Stewardship to Be Studied

Recently announced plans for the use of the book, Counsels on Stewardship and the study guide, "Eternal Values," for prayer meeting use this fall has met with many favorable comments. The plan calls for the study guide to be used as the basis of 10 prayer meetings beginning Wednesday, September 7, and continuing through Wednesday, November 9.

This will be a union-wide project and has the endorsement of the Union Executive Committee and the presidents of the conferences in the union. Among those commenting on the plan is Edgar Bradley, assistant treasurer of the Columbia Union Conference.

"I believe a study of the fine volume, Counsels on Stewardship, will prove a blessing to the membership of the Union Conference," he said. "It has proven to be a blessing to me personally," he continued, "and I look forward to the prayer meetings this fall."

COLUMBIA UNION COLLEGE

Religious Activities Increase At Columbia Union College

By M. K. Eckenroth

Chairman, Department of Religion;
Director of Religious Activities

MANY of our parents and students are thinking in terms of continuing an educational program on the college level. Because of this we are bringing you a report of the many religious activities that are available to the Columbia Union College student.

Columbia Union College is situated favorably near the nation's capital. At the strategic cross-roads of the world it is located here in harmony with the specific instruction given to the church by the messenger of the Lord shortly after the turn of the century. The cultural and historic points of interest of our nation are unsurpassed as they are found here in Washington, D. C. For the serious student who is interested only in the best things culturally, historically, and spiritually, Columbia Union College stands in a leading position among all colleges.

Columbia Union College has on its campus adjacent to the Religion Center the largest Seventh-day Adventist church in North America. The Sligo Church, along with other area churches, affords marvelous opportunities for the student to engage in all phases of Christian endeavor. Elder Loveless and the other pastors of our churches in the area are happy to have the cooperation of the student body in filling many missionary functions. Featured in the active MV program of Sligo Church is the project inaugurated by Columbia Union College in sponsoring the student missionary of the year. This program is now accepted as a denominational program but it was a "first" here at Columbia Union College just as are the "Religion Center" building, "Museum of Biblical Antiquities," Extern Scholarship program and a Bachelor of Science in Religious Education degree.

Each Friday evening following the MV meeting is a program known as "Big D." After each MV meeting students gather in the chapel in the Religion Center and discuss freely a wide range of topics and interests.

The young people of Columbia Union College, in cooperation with the Sligo and Sanitarium Churches, have united in a Sabbath program entitled "Sing for Joy." This is a 30-minute program of music and spiritual activity which is broadcast over the intercom system at Washington Sanitarium and Hospital. After a general meeting the group is divided into bands and they visit other institutions in the community.

An activity that has been participated in for several years by the students of Columbia Union College is the weekly visit to "Junior Village," an orphanage in the District of Columbia. Volunteer workers of Columbia Union College are welcomed by the officials of Junior Village to assist in the responsibilities of caring for these unfortunates who are deprived of a normal home because of death, divorce, or other tragedies.

A student activity that has not received very much publicity is the special swimming class conducted by our students each Sunday morning for handicapped children between the ages of nine and 14.

STUDENT BODY ACTIVITIES

One of the more recent religious activities of our student body centered in "Operation Apartment." Students, in cooperation with the College Sabbath School and the home missionary departments of the Sanitarium and Sligo Churches, have engaged in a visitation of the residents in the large apartment houses in the Takoma Park area. Hundreds of missionary books have been placed in these apartments with encouraging

New GI Bill for Korean War Veterans

BECOMING law now is a new GI bill for veterans with service after the Korean War.

"There soon will be a wide variety of new benefits for today's service-men and young veterans of the armed forces. These benefits will go to all men who have served since the old GI Bill of Rights expired on January 31, 1955," according to a recent article in the U.S. News and World Report. It goes on to say:

"Terms of the new law will apply to every veteran of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force or Coast Guard—male or female—who was on active duty for six months or more and has an honorable discharge.

"Most important of the benefits to be offered will be those for education. The new GI bill provides for a monthly payment of $100 for single veterans in school full time, veterans with one dependent will collect $125 monthly; those with two or more dependents, $150. Part-time students get a proportionately lower benefit—$50 a month, for example, for a single veteran going to school half time.

"Monthly payments will start, for those who qualify, on June 1—in time for the summer session.

"A veteran will get one month's benefit for each month spent in uniform, with a maximum of 36 months, for which payments will be made.

"Education from the high-school level through graduate school is covered.

"Benefits will be available for a general college education, as well as for college courses that are useful in a job or career.

"The veteran himself selects his school, but has to be accepted by that school.

"The nearest regional office of the Veterans' Administration can supply application forms."

If you are interested and qualify for these benefits, you should apply early for admission to Columbia Union College.

results. This operation has made it possible for the students to make contacts with residents who live in these large apartment centers, many of whom have not known the beliefs of Seventh-day Adventists before.

Takoma Park "Over Eighty" Group Honored

THE Takoma Park Church honored the senior citizens in an "Over Eighty" social as part of its celebration of 50 years as a church. The gathering was held in the Land Recreation Center on University Boulevard, Sunday, May 1.

Elder C. J. Coon was master of ceremonies. Musical numbers, poems, and talks were presented by several of the group. The Takoma Park Dorcas Society prepared and served the meal. Of the 20 guests present, six were over ninety years of age. These were Mrs. Esther Green, Mrs. Bertha Forshee, Mrs. Clara Taltamus, Mrs. Mattie White, and Mr. and Mrs. White.

SVA Alumni Present Award

MRS. Mabel Bowman Good, a busy housewife from Stanley, Virginia, and a member of the Stanley Seventh-day Adventist Church, received a bronze plaque cast for her by the Shenandoah Valley Academy Alumni Association. This honor was bestowed because of Mrs. Good's unselfish service and loyalty to the Stanley Pathfinder Club.

This spring the S.V.A. Alumni Association was honoring the graduating class of 1946. Mrs. Good was a member of that class, but was unable to attend this occasion because she felt she could not "let her Pathfinders down." Her club was preparing to attend the Potomac Conference Pathfinder Camporee the same weekend her class was to be honored.

Mrs. Good represents many youth leaders in the churches who know that "with such an army of workers as our youth, rightly trained, might furnish, how soon the message of a crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour might be carried to the whole world!"—Education, p. 271.

Shenandoah Valley Academy, one of the oldest boarding secondary schools in the Southland, has served well through the years in helping prepare for loyal service many good citizens and church members such as Mrs. Good. Many graduates of this school have given thirty, forty, and even a few as many as fifty years of devoted service to the church.

Since its founding in 1908, Shenandoah Valley Academy has been dedicated to the purpose of providing the best in Christian education. Plans are now being formulated to provide even better facilities for molding and teaching the greatest asset of the church—our youth.

How many youth might be saved to the church and for the kingdom of God were more dedicated leaders willing to put aside their own desires, that the boys and girls should not be "let down."

Hadley Memorial Hospital Honors Employee

ALLEN HALE was honored in a special service held in connection with National Hospital Week at Hadley Memorial Hospital. He was chosen by his fellow employees as the employee of the year for 1965.

Harvey A. Rudisaile, administrator, is shown presenting the appropriately inscribed cup to Mr. Hale. As a worker in the hospital laboratory, Mr. Hale has given outstanding service in being faithful, dependable, and loyal to the ideals of the institution.

"Open House" at Galax Welfare Center

THE Health and Welfare Center operated by the Galax, Va., Church held "open house" on Sunday, April 24, from 2:00 to 5:00 P.M.

Visitors were greeted at the door by Pastor and Mrs. Vivian Puccinelli. After registration the visitors were shown through the Center from the sorting room to the packing room where clothing is stored to be distributed. Church members were working so that visitors could see each step in processing the clothing. Mrs. William Tremble, welfare leader; Mrs. Edith Chappell, assistant leader and secretary-treasurer; and William Tremble, lay elder, acted as tour guides. Refreshments were served to the visitors.

The welfare center is open each Wednesday from 2:00 to 5:00 P.M. to serve those in need. Besides the church ladies, assistance is given by several from the local Methodist church. At present, owing to the great amount of work on hand, both men and women are working at the center on Sundays.

During 1965, 1,660 persons were helped and 11,570 articles of clothing were given out. The work of our welfare center is greatly appreciated by the county and city officials. The welfare ministry is opening the way for many who want to know more about the Adventist message.

Sustentation Group Meets at Stanley

ON Sunday, May 1, a group of 21 sustentation workers met at the church school in Stanley, Va. More than 30 sustentation workers were present for the potluck dinner where the group was organized. Those present represented over 692 years of denominational service.

Plans were made to meet several times a year for mutual association, information, and inspiration. A leader and a secretary-treasurer were appointed to serve a term of one year.

Paraplegic Baptized in South Richmond Service

It was, indeed, a day of rejoicing when James Stone, a paraplegic for ten long years, took his stand for Christ, was baptized, and joined the South Richmond church.

One day Pastor Eric Norman received an envelope in his mail enclosing a $25 check marked "tithe." Our pastor went to the address on the envelope, and met with Jim who resides at a large Veterans Administration Hospital in South Richmond.

It was discovered that Jim's mother was a faithful colporteur in West Virginia for many years, and Jim now felt led to support God's work. Bible studies were given by Pastor Norman, and Jim, pointing to his wheel chair, said, "Through this experience, the Lord has led me to full salvation. I thank Him for it."

When Pastor Norman inaugurated "The Bible Speaks" soul-winning program in the South Richmond Church, Jim was one of the first to proceed with two Bible studies. He is also using his recording equipment, valued at $3,000, to reproduce sermons and sacred music to lead others to Christ and to glorify God.

Roanoke Meetings Close; Five Added to Church

Pastor Orley Berg explaining prophecies of Revelation, with visual aids, in the Roanoke, Virginia, church. He was assisted by Pastors Earnest D. Clark and Roger Mace.

ELDER Orley Berg, ministerial secretary of the Potomac Conference, joined Pastors Earnest Clark and Roger Mace in conducting a two-week series of evangelistic meetings. The theme of the series was built around the prophecies of the Revelation and entitled "Reappraisal of the Protestant Reformation in the Light of the Ecumenical Movement." The attendance was gratifying. Several of the families attended as the result of laymen's activities with the "Bible Speaks Course Plan" which was begun in February as part of Operation Total.

At the close of the series five adults were added to the church—four by baptism and one by profession of faith. Further baptisms were planned.

Manassas Church Organized

IN October, 1961, a branch Sabbath School of the Vienna Seventh-day Adventist Church was organized in Manassas, Va. Under the direction of the Vienna pastor, Elder W. H. Coffman, and faithful members of that church, this congregation steadily grew in size. In 1964 a church building lot of 14 acres was acquired in one of the most rapidly developing suburban areas of America adjacent to the town of old Manassas.

On April 16, 1966, Elder C. H. Lauda, President of the Potomac Conference, officially organized the Manassas Seventh-day Adventist Church with a charter membership of 55 members. The congregation is now meeting in the local Marsteller Junior High School, but plans are being laid for the erection of a church building to serve as a lighthouse in this formerly "dark" county.

Woodbury Church Conducts Second Five-Day Plan

DR. J. Wayne McFarland (left) and Elder Lee Roy Tripp conducted a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking recently in the West Deptford High School. This was the second clinic conducted by the Woodbury Church in six months. A small, but friendly, group of about 30 people came nightly and most were able to claim victory by the fifth day. Many felt the need of meeting together frequently to exchange experiences and to give each other moral support, so they have met once a week since. One woman is recruiting people in her community for a clinic to be held there in the near future.

Books Presented to Hoboken Library

Lawrence F. Myers, Pastor of the Jersey City and Elizabeth Churches, recently presented the selected set of volumes to the Hoboken, N. J., Public Library. The librarian expressed her sincere thanks for the outstanding contribution of the Seventh-day Adventist church to their public service in this way. The set contains Prophetic Faith of Our Fathers, Bible Readings, Christ's Object Lessons, The Desire of Ages, Drama of the Ages, Education, Evolution and Creation, The Midnight Cry, Ministry of Healing, Questions on Doctrines, Steps to Christ, Thoughts From the Mount of Blessing, and Daniel and Revelation.

State School Superintendent Inspects GSA Campus

DR. William Warner and Robert Flood, state and county superintendents of schools in New Jersey, respectively, made a complete inspection of the Garden State Academy campus recently with the specific purpose of making an evaluation for state approval.

These officials showed real interest in the forthcoming program of improvement and building and offered many constructive suggestions. They have outlined a reasonable program to be followed by the school administration that can assure our academy of being placed on the pending approval list that is sent to all institutions of higher learning in New Jersey.

We believe that God is directing the development of our school at Tranquility. Let us pray and work for a strong constancy in the spiritual and scholastic goals of Garden State Academy.

OBITUARIES

BOHNER, John Frederick, was born near Nurnberg, Germany, December 14, 1881, and died at his home in Luray, Va., May 9, 1966. At the age of 16 he came to the United States seeking work and educational opportunities, residing in New York City until 1905 when he was married to Wilhelmina Zeh. They moved to Buffalo, N. Y., where he had a wholesale food business. In 1917 he was baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist Church. After liquidating his importing and manufacturing interests, he was called in 1918 to the New England Sanitarium and Hospital as Buyer and Assistant Business Manager. Here his first wife died the following year. He remained at the sanitarium until 1921 when he was asked to become the Home Missionary and Sabbath School Secretary of the Western New York Conference, which position he continued to hold even after the Eastern and Western New York Conferences were combined with headquarters in Union Springs. In 1923 he was married to Ruth E. Seltz of Rochester, N. Y., a church school teacher. From 1932 to 1938 he was a departmental secretary in the Southern New England Conference. During this period he was ordained to the gospel ministry. Returning to the New York Conference, he continued as Home Missionary and Sabbath School Secretary until 1941 after which he ably supervised the work of the Twentieth-Century Bible School for 11 years. Survivors include his wife, Ruth; two sons: Leonard F. and John F., Jr.; and two grandsons: John III and Mark. Elder H. J. Capman officiated at the funeral service held in the Stanley, Va., Church. He was assisted by Elders F. D. Wells, R. G. Burchfield, Clarence Schram, and L. S. Crawford. Elder Bohner rests in the Stanley Church cemetery.

CAPMAN, Elder Joseph, was born November 4, 1873, in Chatham, Ontario, Canada, and died June 3, 1966, at Staunton, Va., at the age of 92. As an infant, he was baptized into the Roman Catholic Church. He was married to Minnie May Russell in 1895. To this union were born three children: Howard Joseph, Gladys Evelyn, and Freda (deceased). Also surviving are three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. In 1897 Elder S. T. Wellman, from the Michigan Conference, held gospel tent meetings in Chatham, Ontario, and preached the advent message which fascinated Joseph Capman and his wife who accepted the Adventist faith as a result of those meetings. A number of years later he sold his thriving business and began to carry this message from door to door as a book salesman. He was so successful that soon he was chosen to be the Publishing Secretary of the Ontario Conference. Later he was called to be Secretary of Laymen's Activities in the Western New York Conference at Rochester, N. Y. In due time he was invited to enter the ministry, and as the result of tent meetings he organized a church in Wellsville, N. Y., and was ordained to the gospel ministry in Buffalo, N. Y., by Elder K. C. Russell and Elder F. M. Wilcox in 1920, a few months after the ordination of his son. Elder Capman served as a pastor in Rochester, N. Y., Hamilton, Toronto, and Halifax in Canada; also in Portland, Maine, and South Lancaster, Mass., and had charge of the Bermuda Mission for five years. He served as chaplain of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital in Illinois, and the Lawrenceburg, Tenn., Sanitarium. He retired at the age of 70 in Lawrenceburg. His wife, Minnie, died in 1953 as the result of a heart attack. Two years later he was married to Mable Shotwell in Buffalo, N. Y., where they lived for seven years until her death. Since that time he has made his home in Staunton with his son for the past four years. Elder Capman lived a dedicated life.

You AND THE WORLD AROUND YOU—

Pointers for more pleasant and meaningful relationships between you and your church and the people among whom you live and work.

Don't:

Press distinctive doctrines of the church in contacts with new people.

Do:

Dwell on points you hold in common, win their confidence first as a person; then you will have opportunities to speak of the doctrines.

“You Say You’re Busy . . . ? Then Join Me in EVANGELISM!”

by Cassie Roberts

SOME people just have to do evangelism. It makes little difference what they are doing for a living, they like to sow the seed of the Word of God. Elder Gerald Williams, busy Assistant Administrator of the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital in Takoma Park, is one of these. No office job fulfills the urge to get out and preach the Word.

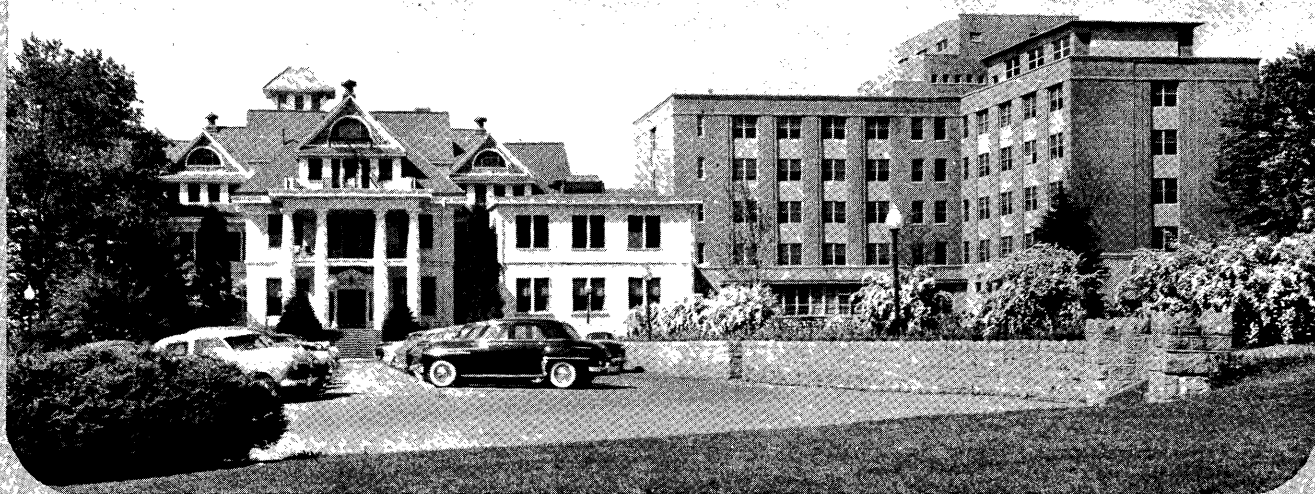

Last year he gathered a group of busy people who had the same desire as he, and together they held a series of meetings at Glen Burnie, Md. A male quartet composed of Dr. R. Paulson, dentist; K. Daggy and G. Gattici, teachers; and E. Benton, law student, participated in the meetings. The soloist was Jeannetta Manuel, a nurse. Mrs. Earnest Runge was the organist and Mr. Runge was director of music. Cassie Roberts, a dental assistant, did the chalk artistry.

From this 10-night series of meetings several were baptized, one of whom was a teenager who later held a “Voice of Youth” meeting and brought into the church several other people.

This spring Elder Williams held a series of meetings in the Sanitarium Church. Ron Turner, a busy college student, was the song leader. Mrs. James Nelson was the organist, and a nurse, Miss Barbara Thurlow, was the pianist. College students furnished special music each night. Cassie Roberts was again the chalk artist, assisted by Dale Williams, 11-year-old son of the evangelist.

As a result of these meetings held by busy people, employed at various occupations, eight persons were baptized because some had the love of God so in charge of their lives that they had to share their faith. The interest created in the hearts of those who attended is being followed up by Elder Russell Quackenbush, pastor of the church.
