LET'S TOOT OUR HEALTH HORN

J. DeWitt Fox, M.D.

Editor, "Life and Health"

THERE is a well-known saying, "If you don't toot your own horn, no one's going to toot it." And it's about time we began tooting our health horn.

Perhaps you don't realize it, but you have one of the world's greatest treasures. It is called Life and Health. Your own life and good health can be assured or improved by putting into practice the tips found in this magazine.

J. DeWitt Fox, M.D.

Adventists long ago made good health a cornerstone in their Christian life of love and happiness. This action dates to our heritage from God to Mrs. Ellen G. White and her avant-garde ideas for physical fitness. In her day the Battle Creek Sanitarium was world famous as a health mecca for such notables as John D. Rockefeller, Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison, and J. C. Penney. These men came to enjoy a renewed life from better diet, exercise, hydrotherapy, and rest. They came away blessing God and the people who had shared their health concepts.

Today Loma Linda University and our network of hospitals around the globe are carrying on this mission of medicine. But there is many a neighbor and friend near you who cannot seek health education from these centers. There is a health gap in their lives, a deep void in their hearts, which only you can fill.

They are longing for a reminder to keep fit, exercise daily, eat better food, worry less, and have faith in God, who loves them. Every Adventist home needs the same kind of help.

God placed a void in the heart of every man, an emptiness that He alone can fill. This longing is for the love of a friend or a relative, but, above all, a longing for the love of God. He alone brings inner tranquility, peace transcending what any tranquilizer pill can offer.

You can fill this void in your own heart and that of your neighbor by offering him something tangible to improve his health.

It is as simple as this: Send Life and Health, the world's most widely read health magazine, to your neighbor for one year. It will cost you $5.50. (You spend $30 a year on your daily newspaper.) Each month your friendship will be renewed as he is reminded of new ways to keep fit.

Your gift of Life and Health will help fill the health gap that each year finds millions of Americans sick.

Just think, at this hour one in every 10 Americans has a headache—that's 20,000,000 throbbing heads—for which they will take 21 tons of aspirin today. If not physically ill, your neighbor may be heartsick or soulsick and in need of the new Life and Health.

To bring robust health to every Adventist, we want to send you Life and Health free.

Our goal: Every Adventist sends Life and Health to a neighbor, every Adventist receives Life and Health free—our love gift to you.

There is true healing in giving. Listen to the story about John D. Rockefeller:

At 33, Mr. Rockefeller was head of Standard Oil; at 43, the youngest millionaire; at 53, the world's first billionaire. But at 53, he was a dried-up old man who could eat only milk and crackers, so bad was his stomach and so sour his disposition. He was rich but worried, tense, and sleepless. He had selfishly and ruthlessly striven to the top. Now hated by many of his men in the Pennsylvania oil fields, he had to have a bodyguard.

To the Fore With Our Health Message

The message of health has occupied a prominent place among Seventh-day Adventists since the early days of our history. It is not to lose force nor prominence as the church moves nearer to the grand climax of history. This we have been told by God's special messenger to the church. I would direct your attention once more to the precise and clear words spoken to us: "As we near the close of time we must rise higher and still higher upon the question of health reform and Christian temperance, presenting it in a more positive and decided manner" (Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 112).

What a clarion call to the advent people! Not only should true healthful living be an integral part of our daily lives, but it should be given a prominent voice in our evangelistic and missionary endeavors. So, dear fellow believers, let us practice healthful and temperate living. Let us help others to live healthfully and temperately. It is my conviction that much more attention should be given to the health message that we have for the world than ever before.

Our fine health journal, Life and Health, should be a regular visitor in every Seventh-day Adventist home. It should also be used intensively as an evangelistic agent among our friends and neighbors. Life and Health is an excellent journal.

Let us keep the health message in its rightful place of prominence.

Robert H. Pierson

One night, even after he began giving away shiny new dimes, he got to thinking about how many of those dimes he was going to take with him when he died. In the dark hours of that night he resolved no longer to grab but to give.

He organized the Rockefeller Foundation. He gave huge grants for helping impoverished people. Today we can thank Mr. Rockefeller's giving spirit for penicillin, cures for malaria and other tropical diseases, improved nutrition, and better sanitation.

The greatest miracle of all was the one that occurred in Mr. Rockefeller's own health. Overnight he seemed to be a different man. He began eating better, gaining weight, smiling, and being better liked. He slept like a baby. His new program added years to his life. He was able to play golf nearly every day until he reached the age of 97.

Why? Because he was letting God fill the void in his heart and he in turn was giving love and kindness and new life to other people.

You can reap the same rich reward as did Mr. Rockefeller by giving health and friendship to your neighbors, relatives, and friends—the Life and Health way on Life and Health day, July 1. We in turn want to show our love by giving you Life and Health free.

We have the world's best health message—so let's toot our health horn!

"Life and Health" Has Important Role

It is believed that the teaching of health is one of the cardinal principles of Adventist witnessing. It represents one of the most meaningful ways our ministry, medical workers, and laymen alike can fulfil the injunction given us to "educate, educate, educate pleasantly and intelligently. We must preach the truth, pray the truth, and live the truth, bringing it, with its gracious, health-giving influences within the reach of those who know it not"

(Medical Ministry, p. 262).

Life and Health is a tool of the church, dedicated to health education, both for our members and our communities. Constant and earnest study is being given to methods of making it even more effective in its role as a communication medium designed to elevate standards of living and to raise levels of health.

John's desire for the church as expressed in the words, "Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth," is the hope of the General Conference Medical Department for every Seventh-day Adventist in the world. As a means of helping to make this possible we are pleased to commend Life and Health to you. Study it for your health's sake and for the sake of your family and community. Give it to your friends.

Secretary, Medical Department

HELP FINISH THE WORLD-WIDE TASK OF THE GOSPEL THROUGH INVESTMENT

By PAULA BECKER

"The success of the church to which we are devoting our lives depends to a great extent on what happens between 11:00 and 12:00 o'clock on Sabbath mornings."

With this arresting thought, Norval F. Pease, Professor of Applied Theology at Andrews University, opens a discussion of the Seventh-day Adventist philosophy and method of worship in his new book, And Worship Him.

Published by Southern Publishing Association, And Worship Him is the fifth and newest addition to the Reference Series. Dr. Pease notes that, although there are literally hundreds of denominational books available on the day of worship, there is not a single one on the way of worship. He proposes to fill that gap, and he does an extremely creditable job. Although this book is designed to be of interest primarily to ministers and church workers, any thoughtful adult who is concerned with the meaning and practice of his church liturgy will appreciate Dr. Pease's simple, practical approach.

The young folk in your family will be delighted with three new Pacific Press books by Joe Maniscalco, author-artist. Creatures of the Sea is a fascinating combination of words and pictures describing such interesting things as sharks, dolphins, whales, and jellyfish. Similar in layout and design is the book, entitled Flowers and Insects, and the real winner of the series, Creepy, Crawly Creatures. From lizards and toads to crocodiles and alligators, these animals will be easier to appreciate after reading this book.

Anyone you know in the junior-age bracket will enjoy Brave Men to the Battle, by Virgil E. Robinson. This Panda Series paperback, released by Pacific Press, tells the dramatic story of the courage and Christianity of the Waldenses. Although it is a completely historical account, there is none of the expected historical dryness present. There is excitement on every page, and every young person (or adult!) who reads

Servicemen's Center Under Construction in Takoma Park

Construction is underway on the new servicemen's center in Takoma Park which will serve Adventist military personnel stationed in the greater Washington area. The new facility is located off Barron Street, overlooking Longbranch Park. With a construction cost of $160,000, it is slated to be completed in November, 1967. It is being built by the National Service Organization of the General Conference. Other centers for Adventist servicemen are located in San Antonio, Texas, Anchorage, Alaska, and Frankfurt, Germany. Another center is being built on Okinawa. Included in the brick-and-stone center will be dormitory sleeping areas for 70 servicemen and four rooms for married servicemen and their wives. There is also an apartment for the caretaker. The top level includes a lounge-meeting area with a large stone fireplace, kitchen-snack bar, prayer room, library, and an apartment and office for the civilian chaplain.

this one will be just a little more conscious of the importance of his own religious freedom.

If you are a church pastor, elder, or press secretary, or even if you are just a plain, ordinary member who wants all the facts at your fingertips, get yourself a copy of the Seventh-day Adventist Fact Book, prepared by the General Conference Public Relations Department. This handy little looseleaf notebook is divided into six sections: History and Beliefs; Organization; Church Activities; Issues; Misunderstandings; Unique Features. Does someone want to know when the first church was formally organized? It's on page 12. Do you need to explain your feeling on Sunday-closing laws to your congressman? Check page 60. Whatever your question, you will find the answer here with a minimum of time and effort. Published by Southern Publishing Association.

Home Study Institute Introduces New Course

A careful study of the world's major religions ranging from Animism through Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, and Christianity are included in Home Study Institute's new course, Comparative Religions. While the new course is designed for college credit (two hours) it is specifically aimed at the intellectually curious church layman. It provides a very useful "elective course" for college students and a thoroughly stimulating study for church members who are searching for ways to keep mentally alive and growing.

A careful study of world religions can provide a sympathetic understanding of other faiths; if you are anxious about avoiding mental stagnation; if you are serious about sharing your faith; if you hope to serve the church overseas; or if you are needing two stimulating hours of college credit then write to the Home Home Study Institute, Takoma Park, Washington, D. C. 20012, for further details.

Dedication at Pottstown

Those who took part in the Dedication Service held on May 6, 1967, at the Pottstown S.D.A. church were (left to right): Raymond W. Zent, first elder; E. M. Hagele, Secretary-Treasurer, Pennsylvania Conference; Allan R. Williamson, present pastor; Cree Sandefur, President, Columbia Union Conference; G. Brian Tarr, pastor at the time of construction of the church and now pastor of the West Palm Beach, Fla., Church; and Wilson Fronheiser, general contractor and supervisor of the construction of the new building.

THE Pottstown Church, with a membership of 65, joined guests and friends on May 6, 1967, to dedicate its beautiful chapel.

Beginning as a branch Sabbath School of the Orvilla Church, the first Pottstown Church group met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Smith on April 6, 1940.

With 13 charter members, the congregation was organized in the community chapel, Manatawny Street, Glasgow, December 14, 1940. Under the leadership of Elder Michael A. Maloney, Pastor of the Orvilla Church, the group remained in the community chapel for 12 years before moving to rented quarters in Saratoga, Pa., in 1951, where they stayed until moving to the present structure in 1964.

Of the original 13 charter members, only Mrs. Kulp remains in Pottstown where she has been a continuous member for 27 years.

The members of the church are grateful to God for the blessings that have attended the building of this structure and are pressing forward to extend the cause of God in their district.

Enlarged Vision Needed

THE religious world is facing its greatest crisis at a time when the world is making its greatest discoveries and progress and enjoying its greatest luxuries.

Millions of people born each year go into Christless graves. Apostasies are numbered by the thousands from the ranks of God's people.

Compromises are prevalent and one is led to cry out with the prophet, "Who can be saved?"

Year by year we face an increased population yet the great commission is "Go ye into all the world." As time progresses, God's people face an ever-increasing and greater task in finishing the work.

God has placed unprecedented wealth and means in the hands of His people to use in His work. The work of God will be finished and cut short in righteousness. Thousands upon thousands will hear the Word of God proclaimed through the spoken word on radio and television and from the pulpit, but the greatest potential is soul winning through the house-to-house visitation and opening to the people God's truth through the printed page in the most powerful medium God has given to man.

The finest journal or messenger that has ever been produced is These Times. This messenger will visit homes you cannot enter. It will preach sermons when you cannot be heard. Prejudice is broken down, hearts are convicted and souls won.

One subscription to a neighbor, friend, or relative will make 12 visits, give 36 Bible studies and reach 180 people.

Now is our opportunity to supply the needs of the masses. These Times sent out by the hundreds and thousands will help to do the job for us in giving a real message of hope.

When it comes to soul winning, none of us have really sacrificed as much as we could to reach our neighbors, friends, and relatives. Christ gave His ALL. How much will you do?

To invest in souls is the most important work to be done. These Times cannot go unless we send it. It is not enough for a church to reach an assigned goal. We must ALL participate and must keep our eye on the goal of a finished work.

You still have time to get those names in to your Church Activities Secretary.

We are counting on all of God's loyal people to ACT NOW in the greatest soul-winning campaign ever undertaken.

T. H. WEIS

Lay Activities Secretary

Institute Becomes Member Of Hospital Association

Elder O. D. Wright (left), President of the Pennsylvania Conference, Jack Schleenbaker, administrator of the Reading Rehabilitation Institute, and Russell Youngberg, M.D., Chief of Patient Service at the Institute, view the certificate showing that the hospital is now an institutional member of the American Hospital Association. Word has been received that hospital care at the Institute under the Medicare program has been approved, in addition to the coverage granted under the Blue Cross and other hospitalization plans. The Institute is one of the few Rehabilitation Centers that have been approved by the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation—a state agency devoted to restoring handicapped and disabled persons to gainful employment.—Louis Canosa, Public Relations Secretary.

EVERYONE WELCOME

THE History Seminar, comprised of 15 students with an unusual interest in American history, recently took a trip culminating their year's study. The six-day trip took the group through the historically rich states of Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Maryland, their instructor, Fred Perlee, reported.

The class is designed for college-bound students, Mr. Perlee said, and offers opportunity for all who pass the Advanced Placement tests to earn six hours of college credit. The activities of the group consist largely of writing papers and giving reports on research. This seminar is in addition to the regular high-school course in American history.

Before the trip each student qualified himself as somewhat of an expert in a particular spot of interest. Upon arriving there, he would then lecture to the group and answer questions.

Mr. Perlee seems particularly pleased with the cost of the trip. By beginning early in the year to raise money and by camping in state parks, the cost to each student was only $7.50.

According to Mr. Perlee, plans already are being made for next year's course and trip.

1. Girls prepare to shoot Arbutus Likens from a Revolutionary cannon. 2. Francine Conner gives a lecture at Richmond. 3. Students explore the Petersburg battlefield. 4. Another typical student lecture. This time Tim Derigo and Bob Malin are the experts. 5. Margaret McFarland and Danielle Wuchenich stand where Stonewall Jackson fell during the Battle of Chancellorsville. 6. At Williamsburg, Paulette Witt sights down the barrel of a musket made during the Revolutionary War. 7. The study of war "gets" Danielle Wuchenich as she wakes Al Stamm for a day of following the Civil War trail. 8. The sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perlee, pose with the great-great-grandson of James Monroe. 9. Members of the group pause to have their picture taken with a state park ranger. 10. Upon their return Margaret McFarland presents Principal Shultz with a bronze head of Robert E. Lee. 11. Arbutus Likens and Tim Derigo examine a cannon at Yorktown.

Elder Cyril Miller, Conference President, and his wife in the President's new office.

Elder and Mrs. Roger Dudley oversee the work of the Missionary Volunteers.

The busy Lay Activities and Sabbath School responsibilities are shared by the director, Elder Kenneth Cox, and his secretary, Mrs. Ethel Simeone.

Elder Joe Crews directs the Radio-TV Department and is the speaker for the "Amazing Facts" radio broadcast. His secretary is Mrs. Barbara Francisco.

Chesapeake Opens New Office for Inspection

By Morten Juberg

Public Relations Secretary, Columbia Union Conference

THE Chesapeake Conference's modern, new office building in Atholton, Md., was opened for official inspection on Sunday, May 21. Many came to see the new structure.

Though this might be called a "rural" location, it probably will not fall into that classification too long.

Atholton, about halfway between Baltimore and Washington on Highway 29, is within the confines of Columbia, a planned, rural city under construction.

Utilizing all of the latest concepts in city planning, Columbia has received wide attention and is expected to have a population of 80,000 within a decade. The Washington Symphony Orchestra will have their summer home about a mile from the Chesapeake Conference office.

The new office is "L" shaped, with one wing housing the administrative offices and the Book and Bible House and the other wing being the location for the departmental offices. Charcoal brick has been used in the construction and this is complemented by the white panels.

To those who have visited the old office in Baltimore, the efficiency of the new facility is quite evident. Suites of three offices make up each section of the departmental wing, with a departmental leader on each side of the secretary's office. The blonde ash paneling provides a pleasing contrast to the darker bronze and brown carpeting.

In the administrative wing the offices of the President and the Treasurer also are designed for maximum efficiency. Serving a dual purpose, the President's office is large enough for a committee room and serves as a worship assembly room. Ample closet and storage space is found in all of the offices.

The lower level of the office is unfinished except for the Amazing Facts radio broadcast studios. Quite possibly the arrangement here is unique. Designed by Gabe Romero, a recent Columbia Union College graduate, the recording studio has a remote control panel enabling the broadcast speaker, Elder Joe Crews, to tape his complete broadcast without the use of a studio engineer.

Designed for future expansion, the lower level provides ample room for the expected growth of the Amazing Facts Bible School. There is also space allocated for a guest room. A large chapel also is located on the lower level. Each department, as well as the Book and Bible House, has a large storage bin.

The cost of the new office, exclusive of the furnishings, was about $180,000. Seven acres of land for the office, as well as an initial gift for building costs, were given by E. D. Snook. It is expected that the new office will be dedicated free of debt in the latter part of 1967.

"We're pleased with our new office," said Elder Cyril Miller, President of the Conference, "and we invite our friends to come and visit us."

Enrollments come in daily for the "Amazing Facts" radio broadcast. Mrs. Lewis takes care of the many details related to the Bible school.

MV Week of Prayer Held in Dayton Far Hills Church

THE MV week of prayer speakers in the Dayton Far Hills Church were local youth, aged 15 to 30.

When the scheduled guest speaker was unable to meet the appointment, the committee agreed to let local talent present the seven topics on the general theme of "Christ for Today."

The speakers were: Dr. Richard Ruhling, medical intern at the Kettering Hospital, Stuart Pottle, Connie Storie, Jerry Winkle, Esther Tate, Donna Thomas, and Sandra Tension, who shared an evening, and Clarence Heinlein. Connie and Esther are high-school students who have never been privileged to attend church school.

Many in attendance referred to the speakers as "excellent," "outstanding," "consecrated," "youth with a message."

The Pastor, William C. Hinton, climaxed the meetings at the Sabbath worship service. Responding to the altar call were several youth who made their decisions for Christ during the week. Testimonies at the close of the altar call gave expression to renewed dedications.

"Being responsible for one of the evening meetings," witnessed one of the speakers, "made me realize as never before that I must be truly converted before I can help others."

All of the speakers felt that contributing to the meetings proved to be one of the greatest spiritual blessings ever experienced.

Ohio Conference Camp Meeting

Camp meeting at Mount Vernon will begin Thursday evening, June 22, with a message from Elder F. W. Wernick, President of the Ohio Conference. During the following 10 days a number of guest speakers will be on the campground. A partial list is as follows:

Elder T. E. Unruh—A series of sermons at the early-morning hour during the 10 days.

Elder H. M. S. Richards and King's Herald—Sabbath, June 24.

Elder D. A. Delafield—A series on the Spirit of Prophecy, June 23 and 24.

Elder M. K. Eckenroth of C.U.C.—A series of services during the week at 11:30 A.M.

Elder William Fagal of Faith for Today—Sabbath, July 1.

Elder N. R. Dower of the General Conference—an evening series, June 25-29.

Many other speakers and programs are planned on Sabbaths and during the week which will bring inspiration to the entire family. Let us pray for a special blessing upon our encampment during this week.

F. W. Wernick

President, Ohio Conference

Elder and Mrs. Wernick Honored on Anniversary

Elder and Mrs. F. W. Wernick have memories of their wedding in 1942, as they look at gifts that were presented to them at an anniversary open house given by the Ohio Conference office staff on May 21. Several pastors and their families joined with the office group in congratulating the couple. Elder Wernick is President of the Ohio Conference.

Cincinnati Church Presents Bible to TV Station

Elder C. R. Jepson (left) presenting a Bible to Steve Womack, director of the "Church by the Side of the Road" television program, for use on the program. The program originates from WLWT in Cincinnati.

ELDER Clayton R. Jepson, Pastor, and Marvin Hugo, radio-television secretary of the First Church in Cincinnati, Ohio, recently presented a large, new Bible to Television Station WLWT there.

The opening of the "Church by the Side of the Road" program, which reaches a large audience on television stations in Cincinnati, Dayton, and Columbus, as well as on radio, features an open Bible on a pedestal. The new Bible will be used for this scene on the weekly program.

When the Mount Vernon Academy Ecoliers were featured on the "Church by the Side of the Road" program in March, Elder Jepson and Mr. Hugo noticed that the Bible being used by the station was quite worn, so they offered to make the gift of a new Bible for the purpose. Steve Womack, director of the program, gladly accepted it.

Mr. Womack has indicated that the Ecoliers are scheduled to appear on the program again next Easter.

Big Week for Ohio Literature Evangelists

IN the spring of each year a Big Week date is set aside in the Columbia Union Conference when the consecrated canvassers make an all-out effort to increase their hours worked, their deliveries made, and the Bible course enrollments taken. The Ohio Conference literature evangelist rally to the privilege of serving God in this way.

In one week they delivered $18,-064.25 worth of literature, worked a total of 2,290 hours and enrolled 493 people in the Bible course.

The men topped the ladies in deliveries, hours, and Bible course enrollments. Mark Clay sold $947 worth, Mary Lou Davies, $770.50; Merle Toalston worked 58 hours, Anna Spicer, 42; Gary Studebaker took 94 Bible course enrollments, Anna Spicer, 30. The winners of each category receive a gift.

Big Week? Yes, but in more ways than one. The third week of April, 1967, was a big week—big in souls as well as sales for the literature evangelists of the Ohio Conference.

Mrs. Anna Spicer, a colporteur from Akron, reported: "Even though this week has not been a 'big week' for me in sales, it nevertheless has been a 'great week' for me soul-wise. This past Sabbath I joyfully witnessed the baptisms of six persons as a result of the purchase of our books!"

Everett Boggess of Carrollton stated that five individuals were baptized in April and two in March as a result of literature sold.

Sixteen baptisms in all were reported during the month of April by the Ohio literature evangelists.

"My brethren and sisters, remember that one day you will stand before the Lord of all the earth to give an account of the deeds done in the body. Then your work will appear as it really is. The vineyard is large and the Lord is calling for laborers. Do not allow anything to keep you from the work of soul-saving. The canvassing work is a most successful way of saving souls. Will you not try it?"—Colporteur Evangelism, p. 33.

Mount Vernon Church Honors Mothers

ELDER LeRoy Albers, Pastor of the Mount Vernon Church, conducted a service on Mother's Day Sabbath for the reaffirmation of the marriage vows with some 150 couples participating. The choir's anthem was "O Perfect Love." Five-year-old Trindy Rapp and Rickey Rawson, symbolizing the marriage, led the procession to the altar. The pastor and his wife led the husbands and wives in reciting their vows of marriage.

In the sermon Elder Albers said that one of the most important ingredients for a successful mother is her husband's true and continuous love. "This is as important as the love of her children," he stated. "We often honor the silver-haired mothers whose children are married and gone from home. Today let us honor in a special way the mothers who are presently doing the great task of rearing children to the glory of God and country, and who faithfully serve the needs of their husbands."

The pastor stressed the need for more steadfast love in the home, love that comes from the heart of God. He concluded the sermon with a solo, "The Wedding Prayer."

Spot News

• THE Mount Vernon Pathfinders and their families conducted an "appreciation social" for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oldham on Sunday, May 7. The Oldhams are the directors of the Pathfinder Club.

There was a potluck supper and a program including an original poem and song appropriately recalling events of Pathfinder activities under the Oldhams' leadership during the past three years. They were given a copy of the Bible Encyclopedia and an autograph book with the signatures of the Pathfinders.

• A very successful eight-day revival has just been completed in Zanesville, Ohio, with Elder C. R. Jepson, a former pastor, as the speaker and Elder Donald Mackintosh, the present pastor, assisting. The attendance was good and a number of important decisions for Christ were made.

"Bible Speaks" Graduation Held

FIFTY-THREE certificates for "The Bible Speaks" graduates were presented at a graduation exercise in the Elyria Seventh-day Adventist Church by the Pastor, Marlo Fralick.

The occasion was the opening service of a two-month evangelistic series in the church, Sunday night, April 16.

The minister gave a brief address on finding the hidden treasures in God's Word. Mrs. Ernest Neubauer, Mrs. James Bruder, and Mrs. Ray Zeiner, instructors for the 53 students, presented the diplomas to their students.

Many graduates could not be present for the service, but it was a

After the presentation of diplomas, Elder Fralick offered the course to others who were present and several more enrolled in the course.

"Voice of Prophecy" Time Changes

CHANGES have occurred recently in the release of the Voice of Prophecy weekly program on two stations in Ohio that have carried the program unchanged for many years.

In Cleveland, the program, formerly heard on WJW on Sundays at 9:30 A.M., is now carried by WIXY, 1260 kilocycles on Sundays at 9:00 A.M.

In Cincinnati the program continues on WLW, 700 kilocycles, but the time has been changed from 9:30 A.M. to 11:00 A.M. on Sundays. WLW also carries the "Nite Owl" broadcast at midnight on Sunday nights.

Buckeye Outdoor Nature Club Holds First Campout

Saturday-night entertainment by Mrs. Jeannie Spratt.

Dr. England even gives a helping hand for "priming" at camp.

Camping is for the whole family, as shown by the Ruddock family from Cleveland.

"GREAT" is the word for the first camp-out of the Buckeye Outdoor Nature Club, held recently at Camp Mohaven. Most of the campers arrived Friday evening and saw an interesting slide program at the Lodge. It was a beautifully clear night and many took advantage of the opportunity to have a star study after the program. The stars were so bright and there were so many visible, it was almost difficult to pick out even familiar constellations.

On Sabbath morning, after an early birdwalk, Sabbath School was held in the Outdoor Cathedral with the Polar Bears, who were kind enough to share camping facilities on their last big camp-out of this season. There was much singing in which all enthusiastically participated, Bob Spratt of Dayton gave some "nature nuggets," and Elder LeRoy Albers had an inspiring lesson study.

This newly formed organization was established with the idea of not only camping, but also studying into the vast storehouse of nature to learn and increase one's knowledge in as many fields of nature as possible. In accordance with this, the Sabbath-afternoon walk was not just for good exercise, but was led by Loren White who taught edible wild plants. It was fascinating to learn how many of the wild plants are edible.

On Saturday night members were treated to a delightful program by Mrs. Jeannie Spratt, artist. Polar Bear insignias were awarded to 41 indefatigable Pathfinders who had earned them.

The last meeting was on Sunday morning at 9:30 after another early-morning birdwalk. As camp broke that afternoon, it was with great anticipation of the good things in store at the next camp of the Buckeye Outdoor Nature Club.

in Suburban Maryland

Columbia Union College is located in suburban Maryland. Its campus was chosen by leaders of the church and approved by Ellen White.

"In the city of Washington there is much to be done. . . . The location that has been secured for our school and sanitarium is all that could be desired. . . . It seems as if Takoma Park has been specially prepared for us, and that it has been waiting to be occupied by our institutions and their workers."—Life Sketches, p. 397.

Takoma Park, true to its name, is situated in an area of streams and parkland. Within easy access of the campus are more than 7400 acres of parks kept green by 47 miles of meandering streams.

One of the first steps in the modernization of the Columbia Union College campus will be the erection of a Campus Center building. It will be located just north of Morrison Hall, the men's dormitory, facing Flower Avenue. This four-story modern building, designed architecturally to blend with present buildings on the campus, will provide for the student needs of Columbia Union College for the foreseeable future a modern dining room, student lounge, bookstore, snack bar, student offices, and student services; will bring to the campus an integrated center meeting every need of the student body.

Added to the two modern dormitories it will make living on the Columbia Union College campus modern, efficient, and comfortable.

Member Leaves for Mission Post in Africa

DENNIS COLLINS KEITH of Boyertown, Pa., left Friday, May 5, from New York City for Bo, Sierra Leone, where he will take the position of Treasurer of the Seventh-day Adventist mission.

Mr. Keith and his family will return to the United States in December, 1969, for three months, after which they will return to Sierra Leone to complete a five-year tour of duty.

He was graduated from Pine Forge Academy in 1956 and attended Oakwood College in Huntsville, Ala., for three years. After three years as a medical technician at Norristown General Hospital, he returned to college and was graduated from Columbia Union College in 1965 with a degree in business administration.

Upon graduation, he became Assistant Treasurer of the Allegheny Conference. Then he was assigned by the General Conference to the post of Treasurer of Riverside Hospital, Nashville, Tenn.

followed by an impressive and informative discussion on the importance of Christian education.

Elder Edward Dorsey, Secretary-Treasurer of the Allegheny East Conference, delivered an unforgettable sermon, "Faces," on April 8. With Jesus as the Key, Elder Dorsey outlined steps to improve the facial expression.

Elder W. W. Fordham, Associate Secretary of the Regional Department of the General Conference, was the guest speaker for the 11:00 o'clock worship service, Sabbath, May 20.

Elder W. M. Fordham is Pastor of the church.

Richmond Church Chooses "Miss MV"

THE young people of the Richmond Church recently enjoyed a semi-formal affair in which one of their number was crowned "Miss MV." This honor was won by Alberta Joseph. The requirements for "Miss MV" were: (1) being a regular member of the MV Society, (2) taking an active part in the programs, and (3) raising the most money in the Ingathering campaign. Miss Joseph raised $35.03. Runners-up were: third place, James Minor; second place, Paul Bryant; first place, Patricia Perry.

This unique program was sponsored by the MV leader, Mrs. Novella Minor. The last "Miss MV" was Minnie Jefferson, now Mrs. Minnie Gilliard. The Pastor of the church is Elder U. S. Willis.

News from Newtonville (N. J.) Church

THE First Church of Newtonville, N. J., already has been blessed with an illustrious roster of speakers in 1967.

On February 21 Elder H. D. Singleton, Secretary of the Regional Department and Associate Secretary of the General Conference, delivered a timely, stirring message to a capacity audience.

"Rally Day," March 11, brought a power-packed message in sermon and song by Elder C. L. Brooks, Sabbath School and Educational Secretary of the Allegheny East Conference. The Youth Choir, under the direction of Ernest Williams, furnished music for the occasion. At the afternoon session Elder Brooks presented a delightful group of songs,

Cleveland Youth Active In Investment Program

REMEMBER now thy creator in the day of thy youth. The youth division of the Bethel Sabbath School in Cleveland, Ohio, is doing just that. The enthusiasm of the young people has been very heart warming to their superintendent, Isaiah Hall, and his assistant, Verdais Johnston, and to all the teachers.

In January their weekly offering goal was set at $15. For the first few weeks they fell a little short of this, but after this they began to exceed their goal by turning in each week from $18 to $22.

They went from seven daily lesson studies per week to 32 daily lesson studies per week.

For investment they are saving dimes and placing them on a dimes-for-Investment chart. For the first quarter they had $20. For the Thirteenth Sabbath their goal was $50. They turned in $56.55 on Sabbath, March 25.

There are approximately 45 students in this division with three youth classes and two early-teen classes. The teachers in this department are Mrs. Margaret Shinaul, Charles Orr, James Adams, Mrs. Verdais Johnston, and Mrs. Jayola Stokes.

College Choir Featured in Album

Music lovers will be interested in a new album which features the Columbia Union College Choir directed by Paul Hill (center). The beautiful tonal qualities of the musical group are featured in an excellent variety of hymns, anthems, and spiritual songs. Selections include such diverse presentations as Haydn's "Great and Glorious" and the childhood song, "This Little Light of Mine." The 13 numbers on the stereophonic recording make a wonderful addition to anyone's music library. The album is available at the Book and Bible Houses.

Plans for Campus Center Approved

PLANS for a two-million dollar, four-story campus center for Columbia Union College, have been approved by the Board of Trustees of the school.

According to Dr. Winton H. Beaven, President, working drawings for the new facility are being prepared and contract letting is slated for this fall. Actual construction is expected to begin early in 1968. It is expected that the center will require 12 to 16 months for completion.

The new campus center will be built on Flower Avenue, next to Morrison Hall, the men's dormitory, and will be of brick and masonry construction. Several homes owned by the school are being removed to make room for the structure.

Housed on the first floor of the center will be the student lounge, bookstore, snack bar, and post office. The infirmary and medical services for the College will occupy much of the basement. Included are treatment rooms, an isolation ward, and in-patient services. Also in the basement will be a beauty salon and barber shop, as well as alumni guest rooms.

A new cafeteria, designed to serve 600, will be one of the main features of the second floor. Also included are private dining rooms, food director's offices, bakery, and food storage and preparation areas. A "scramble" system will be used for the cafeteria service.

The third floor will be for student services, including offices for the alumni association, College yearbook and newspaper, and students' association. The office of the Dean of Students will be located here as well as the offices for the Behavioral Science Center.

Classrooms and offices for the Mathematics and Physics Departments and the Nursing Department will occupy the fourth floor. These offices and classrooms, according to Dr. Beaven, will be located there on a temporary basis and will be moved when future buildings for these departments are constructed.

Also included in the building plans is the construction of utility tunnels to the new building to connect with the present tunnels. With the completion of the new center, North and Central Halls, located across Flower Avenue, will be removed.

The architect for the new facility is Ronald S. Senseman of Silver Spring.

Potomac Has Biggest "Big Week"

THIS year God blessed the Potomac Conference literature evangelists and publishing leaders with the greatest BIG WEEK ever recorded for one conference in the history of the Columbia Union Conference. Last year our BIG WEEK delivery reached an all-time high total of over $25,000. This year we really stretched our faith by setting our goal at $30,000 in the hope that everyone would put forth special effort, so that we could at least exceed last year's figure.

After more consideration of this tremendous goal, we realized that something special must be done. Recognizing the importance of giving everyone something to aim for, we decided to set individual goals for every literature evangelist. It was only after totaling these individual goals and coming up with a grand total of about $30,000 that we really began to see the possibility of ever achieving such a tremendous accomplishment.

We are happy to report that the Potomac Conference literature evangelists accepted their individual goals and set out not only to reach them, but to surpass them. At the end of the week when our reports were all totaled, we were overwhelmed to realize that we had gone $5,000 over our goal, with a total delivery of over $35,000. To some this might sound like just more statistics, but actually it represents $6,000 more than our delivery for the entire month of January this year and about one-third of the deliveries for the Potomac Conference for the entire year 1958.

In the first four months of this year the Potomac Conference literature evangelists placed in the hands of their friends and neighbors over $200,000 worth of Adventist publications, which represents a gain over the same period last year of nearly $50,000.

Thank you, one and all, for remembering our literature evangelists in your prayers. Thank you for praying that God would send us more workers, which He has done and is still doing. Please continue praying that this work may continue to go forward with increasing success until Jesus comes.

Sligo Church Drinkers' Service

If you called an alcoholic every day for four months, attended Alcoholics Anonymous meetings with them, or crawled out of bed in the dead of night to lend a "helping ear," you might begin to think that you knew something about alcoholics. But the Advisors of Sligo's Drinkers Service do not feel that way.

Instead, these experiences emphasize how difficult it is to give meaningful help to those with drinking problems.

How, then, do the Advisors keep from "wearying in well doing"? Part of the answer is continuing education and it was for this purpose that three experts, Elder Francis Soper and Elder Ernest Steed of the General Conference Temperance Department and Elder Thomas K. Williams of Battle Creek Health Center and Sanitarium were on hand for the Advisors' recent retreat in Prince William State Forest.

Elder Soper began by stressing the need for greater practical service to our fellow men, "particularly those who are the victims of various problems of intemperance." He showed from the Testimonies that the use of liquor is a direct cause in bringing the judgments of God to the world. Most startling were his examples indicating that quests for "religious" experiences are becoming a major factor in the use of drugs.

Drinkers' Service Advisors serve lunch for a hungry group.

Elder Steed followed by stating: "I believe that if we are going to help alcoholics, we are going to have to talk about something more than alcoholism. The gospel of Christ must be presented." "I believe," he continued, "that the word temperance really means the gospel in action." And he admonished that "we find out what we stand on and what we stand for." The Advisors already are finding out the worth of his suggestion that an individual need not first become a teetotaler before being asked to help in the cause of temperance. Some of the Advisors' partners, while still dealing with their own problems, are working for their drinking friends.

At lunch there was talk of what has been done by the Drinkers' Service program. Of the 174 who have asked for personal help, it is surprising to note the nearly equal number of men and women, 88 men and 86 women. Group therapy sessions have been attended by 17 persons and 21 have gone to A.A. Both of these groups acted as a result of contacts with Advisors. To date, 34 have maintained continuing contact with Advisors. Thirty persons have shown improvement with 19 of these showing "prolonged improvement" and five being considered "dry."

The Alcoholism Service of Battle Creek Sanitarium was explained by Elder Thomas K. Williams during the afternoon session. Patients with drinking problems are referred to the program and remain under a doctor's care while participating. After a relationship has been established between the staff and the patient, the patient is assisted in gaining insights into his personal problems which are related to drinking. Then they are encouraged to think of ways in which they can take constructive action.

Elder Williams commented that "when you are working with alcoholics, one should go easy in the beginning—quote it rather with your lips—quote it rather with your life." He pointed out that 85 per cent of their "recovered" patients had no help from other rehabilitation programs.

Sligo Church does not plan to limit its future action to the telephone dial service. Plans are underway to expand the program so that it may more effectively help with the drinking problems of the Sligo community. In order to achieve the objectives of the identification of community needs, possible provision of treatment programs based on the identified needs, and the launching of targeted educational and basic research programs, expanded working relations with C.U.C. and the medical profession and facilities are anticipated.

Report of Literature Evangelism "Big Week"

Just prior to Big Week here in the Columbia Union Conference the local conferences had been giving good promotion for a big Big Week, and how thrilled we are for the way God blessed in this promotion and how He blessed our faithful literature evangelists and also our leaders as they put in many hours.

Deliveries amounted to $107,000. The literature evangelists throughout the field enjoyed phenomenal success and we are so pleased for the success of our leaders. Some of them came back with some rather astronomical figures for deliveries. One of our leaders went over $2,000, and I believe the general average would be well over $1,000.

While this was an all-time high amount for deliveries in the Columbia Union Conference, it was also an all-time high total for the Potomac Conference with $35,000 in deliveries. Another all-time high amount was West Virginia's more than $13,000.

Much joy came to one of our literature evangelists as six people were baptized during Big Week as a result of her work. The literature evangelist is Mrs. Anna Spicer of the Ohio Conference.

Only eternity will reveal the full impact of the hundreds of prayers, the hundreds of enrollments in the Bible School, the very pleasant visits by all of our literature evangelists, and the many sales that took place during this Big Week.

Book Review

Title: Job and the Mysteries of Wisdom; Author, Paul T. Gibbs.

THROUGH the ages the story of Job has challenged not only Bible scholars and philosophers but also the ordinary reader. The message of this book, the oldest in the Bible, is for modern man as much as it was for priest and peasant of long ago.

In this new volume the author, a prominent writer and literary critic, attempts to plumb the depths of Job's spiritual struggle. In conclusion he says:

"Rivers flow—and do not cease.

Winds refuse to rest. The sun, whether it bring cheering warmth or searing dearth, must shine. So God's mercy flows unfailling. We have that to learn. So had Job. Although often concealed, God's provident hand was present to bless throughout—throughout Job's felicity and throughout his affliction; it is present to bless throughout our own experiences of every sort. And just as loyalty, including faith, was the crucial element in Job's experience, so it must be in ours."

As Norval F. Pease, Professor of Applied Theology at Andrews University, expresses it in his foreword to the book: "Dr. Gibbs' essays on Job assist today's reader to climb again the ladder of faith. . . . The experiences of Job have their counterparts in modern life. Perhaps a new look at this great epic can help twentieth-century man solve some of his problems."

Ready now at your Book and Bible House, this 176-page hardback volume sells for $3.95. Published by Southern Publishing Association.

Waldwick Students Awarded DAR Medals

At the Waldwick Seventh-day Adventist School the study of history has been made more meaningful by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

It all began last year when the Elizabeth Parcells De Voe Chapter became acquainted with the school through a non-Adventist student there. At the graduation, the organization presented two eighth-grade girls, Margaret Albrecht and Jane Lydecker, with medals for excellence in history.

This year the school was invited to enter a state-wide essay contest, sponsored by the D.A.R. This annual event, open to fifth-to-eighth-grade students of public and private schools in the state, had as its theme American naval battles. Awards were given in each school that participated.

At a special assembly in Waldwick Mrs. Herman Gerdes, Regent of the local chapter of the D.A.R.; Dr. Louise Niel, the state historian for the organization; and Mrs. Louise

Veltri, the flag chairman, presented medals to the following students, who were the winners among their own classmates: Vicky Pilaet, fifth grade; Valmore Albrecht, sixth grade; Audrey Jones, seventh grade; Albert Grashius, eighth grade.

A large American flag also was presented to the school at that time.

Shortly after this occasion, word was received that Valmore Albrecht had been chosen as state winner for the sixth grade. On March 31 he was among a group of more than 200 young people who spent the day in Trenton as guests of the D.A.R. He is now a contestant in the national D.A.R. essay contest.

TIDEWATER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

SERVES SIX COUNTIES

The story of the establishment of Tidewater Memorial Hospital in its needed area is a thrilling one and shows how the desires of a community with the gentle leading of the spirit of God, over a period of many years, resulted in the service to this six-county area. This hospital is a member of the Association of Seventh-day Adventist Self-Supporting Institutions and came into being through the joint efforts of the Medical Group Foundation and the leading citizens of the community.

Elder C. A. Carter, a retired missionary from China and present chaplain of the hospital, was foremost in the church's effort in working to see the final creation of this institution. Only through Doctors Wendell E. Malin and Lawrence W. Malin, organizers of the Medical Group Foundation in July, 1949, was a real beginning started.

In 1950 Mayor Clanton of Tappahannock called a meeting of leading citizens interested in establishing a hospital. They met together to discuss the subject and a committee was formed with Charles Lewis as its Chairman and special study was given to the project. This committee, through several years under the leadership of Frank Sale, Catherine DeShazo, D. C. Fox, and Allen Fletcher, with many other local people, made surveys and laid a good foundation for the work that followed. Several difficult problems were encountered and a dormant period again entered into plans.

In 1959 Elder Carter returned from the mission field to settle here on the family homestead to find just a few embers of interest glowing, ready to burst into a flame of activity. Arrangements were made for Dr. Malin to meet with the committee in Tappahannock during which time an outline offer was made to establish the hospital. The meeting aroused a new effort in and among the local citizens and resulted in the joining of forces for investigation and planning. Delegations were sent to the Eugene Leland Memorial Hospital in Riverdale, Md., and to the Wytheville Sanitarium and Hospital, Wytheville, Va. This committee investigated the type and quality of care being given to patients in those hospitals. They liked what they found.

Today Tidewater Memorial Hospital is a memorial to honor those who died in World War II. It is serving to restore health to those who come for care. When the institution opened in September, 1964, Dr. and Mrs. Wendell Malin were here working long hours doing the necessary things needed to be done. Other faithful help came from far and near to their aid; many are still working in a most dedicated way that the sick may be restored to health, both physically and spiritually. We want to honor our employees because of the fine work they all are doing. The hospital now needs an addition, as its 50 beds are filled to capacity. Other dedicated workers are needed to join their services to this medical ministry.

The hospital is located on a 52-acre tract of beautiful wooded land two miles below the town of Tappahannock at the junction of Highways 360 and 17. It is built on a hill that overlooks the town to the north and the Rappahannock River to the east and south. It is in a beautiful location of modern design, and well equipped. The quietness and peacefulness with plenty of pure air and water make it a wonderful place to aid the sick to recovery.

Tidewater Memorial Hospital has been open for two and one-half years and has now grown to be filled to its capacity. It was thought that a period of five years would be necessary before an addition would be necessary. The people of the area continually express their thankfulness that not only the need is supplied, but they are well pleased with the fine care given. Praise for the hospital is found everywhere.

Dr. Paul L. Fisher, Medical Director and Administrator, and Dr. Niels H. Oster, surgeon, have their offices in one wing of the hospital and, working together, they are busy caring for those who need their services. Mrs. Winnifred Wilkens, R.N., is our Director of Nurses and is a most conscientious and hard-working member of our staff.

Adventist Administrator Goes to Bolivia

HENRY S. NELSON, administrator of the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital, Takoma Park, for the past 16 years, has volunteered his services to the hospitals in Bolivia for the next six months. He retired this past January and sailed for Bolivia, May 16.

He accepted the assignment with the International Executive Service Corps and will serve as an executive in Bolivia with the Corporation Minera de Bolivia.

Henry S. Nelson

Mr. Nelson's responsibility will be to assist in the upgrading of the hospital and health services provided by the corporation for its employees. He will be accompanied by his wife.

He expects to visit the denomination's hospitals and clinics also while in South America.

Washington San Plan for Future Supported by Hospital Family

WASHINGTON Sanitarium and Hospital has launched a $1 million capital fund drive to help meet the cost of an $8 million expansion program recently voted by the Board of Trustees. This is the largest amount of money that any Adventist institution has endeavored to raise in the Wash-

Of Cooks and Cooking

BY ALBERTA REED

I AM especially happy to compile this column. In the past I have printed some of the dishes that I have solicited from friends, family, and a few from my own files. The recipes given below represent some of the first direct responses to my request for Union-wide contributions.

I have tried both of these dishes on my family and also some friends. All agreed that I should pass them on to you; so now I am hoping that you, too, will set your seal of approval on them. Why not add some variety to your main meals this week? You will never know whether you like something until you have tried it.

Now that you know others are actually contributing, why not carry out your good intentions and send me yours? I really enjoy getting our mail for the first few days after a column appears in the VISITOR, because this is the time when most of your recipes and suggestions arrive. I do appreciate your responses and, judging from the mail that comes both to the VISITOR and to my home, I know that many of our readers appreciate being able to share their favorites.

My first feature today was contributed by Mrs. Melvin S. England of Centerville, Ohio.

Administrative officials are confident that the goal will be reached and perhaps oversubscribed, owing in part to the excellent support of the hospital family. Already over $325,000 has been pledged by the employees, medical staff, Board of Trustees, and Hospital Auxiliary.

Administrator John D. Ruffcorn, speaking to employees during a departmental meeting, thanked one and all for their loyal support. "One million dollars is a lot of money," he said, "but it isn't too staggering an amount when everyone willingly does his share."

This is the first time in the 60-year history of the institution that the public has been asked to participate in a project to provide capital funds.

Centerville, Ohio. Mrs. England has sent several delightful recipes and we shall feature some of them at a later time. I selected her Vegeburger Roast for this issue.

NANCY'S VEVEBURGER ROAST (Mrs. Melvin S. England)

2 medium onions, minced
 1/4 lb. soda crackers, crumbled
 1 can Vegeburger, 20 oz.
 4 or 5 eggs
 dash chili powder (optional)
 1 teaspoon basil
 1 can evaporated milk
 1/2 cup oil
 1 cup chopped pecans
 poultry seasoning and salt to taste
 Combine all ingredients. Pour in long oiled cake pan. Should be 1 to 1-1/2 inches thick. Bake at 350° for 1 hour.

Our second feature was sent to us by Mrs. Richard Kriser of Pomeroy, Ohio. She says that this recipe appeared in Life and Health magazine several years ago and that it is a favorite with her family.

MOCK TURKEY (Mrs. Richard Kriser)

1 large onion } saute until tender
 1 stalk celery }
 2 tablespoons McKays Chicken Style Seasoning
 3 eggs—well beaten
 1/2 cup uncooked rolled oats
 2 tablespoons oil
 1 cup cottage cheese
 1 cup walnuts—chopped
 2 cups Worthington Soyameat Chicken (diced)
 1/2 cup asparagus juice
 1/2 cup sour cream.

Mix together and shape into round or loaf pan. Bake at 350° for one hour or until brown and firm.

Both of these dishes will serve 6-8 people.

Remember, the mailing address is Route 7, Frederick, Md.

It is believed that, with the financial assistance given by hospital-connected personnel, the community also will rally to its financial support. The necessary organizational plans are being completed to involve the community, and this phase of the drive is expected to get underway soon.

The $8 million expansion program was felt necessary by the Board of Trustees in order for the hospital to continue giving adequate medical care to the growing community that looks to it for help when sickness or accident strikes. Elder Cree Sandefur, board chairman, said: "This is a necessary and vital step if the challenge of tomorrow is to be faced by Seventh-day Adventists in their care of the sick in the Washington metropolitan area."

Sabbath Services Held in California National Parks

Sabbath School and church in a California National Park is an unforgettable experience. If you plan to visit Yosemite or Sequoia Parks this summer do not miss this privilege of worshipping with fellow members from far and near. Services begin May 27 in Yosemite Valley Bowl and June 10 in Sequoia's Giant Forest and Grant Grove areas. All extend through Labor Day. Sabbath School, 10:00 A.M.; church service, 11:00 A.M. Thousands visit these services every summer; we cordially invite you in 1967. Above: A typical Yosemite congregation.—Reuben W. Engstrom, Public Relations Secretary, Central California Conference.

Worthington Foods Included in Book

Worthington Foods, Inc., has been included in The Heartland, a literary-pictorial essay on America's heartland states—Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

Published this year by the editors of Time-Life Books, this 189-page book features Worthington's Veja-Links. The accompanying copy notes: "For the future, scientists look to new soybean-based foods to help alleviate the world's deepening food shortage."

Most of Worthington's newer food products are spun from protein-rich soybeans.
