THE EDUCATION NEEDED FOR THE TRAINING OF MISSIONARIES

MENTAL CULTURE

There is something that may be briefly said about mental culture of itself, as we get mental culture in the College. Mental culture is not mental cramming, to prepare for an examination. Mental culture is not mere memorizing; do not forget that a retentive memory is a very important faculty these days, and the power to put your hands on the facts that you want is of almost untold value. A proper college training will enable a man to control his mind, and set it to a task, and keep it on that task until that task is mastered. Think of how many of these tasks a missionary has to tackle. The world to-day is in such close touch with even the outskirts of civilization that it is, so to speak, simply a great city, with its suburbs scattered in all directions. A missionary ought to aim to reach as many people as possible, and if he desires to become a leading missionary—that's the kind we need everywhere, to-day—he will have to be able to speak several different languages. A missionary to Egypt ought to know English, German, French, Coptic, and, most important of all, Arabic; in Turkey the Arabic should be supplanted by Turkish, and Armenian would come in very nicely. So we might go on through the civilized countries. If you go to the uncivilized, as where we are working in Matabeleland, or in Nyassaland, or in German East Africa, you may run up against some of these unwritten languages, which you must reduce to writing yourself, before you can give the people the Gospel. Suppose you are to translate portions or all of the Bible into one of these languages: You could very nicely use the original languages of the Scriptures, and make use of such modern languages as you know, to assist you over some of the very difficult passages,—and even then you'd have to do a good deal of earnest work and much devout praying, before you would be reasonably equal to the task before you.

The reasoning powers need to be largely drawn upon, by one who will become a missionary. You will find the agents of Satan very acute in their arguments. While we cannot meet them with argument alone, yet we must be able to show the reasonableness of the Third Angel's message. In so-called Christian lands, where Spiritualism, Romanism, Mormonism, Zionism, and a hundred other "isms" are to be met with continually, the successful messenger of an unpopular, persecuted, despised church, such as we represent, must be able to show a reason of the hope that is in him, with meekness and godly fear.

MANUAL TRAINING

Very closely connected with mental culture, is the training of the hand. I think too much cannot be said upon this matter. Missionaries ought to be able to work with their hands, so they can teach others how to work, too. Laziness, and a fashionable fear of honest labor, must be encountered among ignorant savages of the forest, as well as in the ranks of many so-called "noble families," and in the ranks of the rich who think themselves aristocratic, and above honest and useful toil with their hands. I believe some advanced thinkers attribute this disinclination to work to a "torpid liver," in some instances—another reason why a fellow ought to have a good liver. If I understand it rightly, Union College is introducing this system of hand-training into its curriculum. Of course it is doing this scientifically, as that's the only way to do.

AMONG THE CHURCH SCHOOLS

A few days before the close of the institute at Lee's Summit, Mo., I left for Iowa. After a short visit with the Iowa teachers at Stuart, I visited the following churches and companies in the interest of school work: Des Moines, Atlantic, Council Bluffs, Modale, and Blencoe.

According to previous arrangement, I then went to Sedalia, Mo., to assist in the young people's work at the camp meeting, expecting to return at once to Iowa and visit a number of other churches. A large number of young people were present at the camp meeting, and a good spirit was manifested in the meetings from the first. Baptismal services were held the last Sabbath and Sunday of the meeting. I do not know the number baptised, but was glad to see a large number of young people dedicate themselves to the Lord and go forward in obedience to His commands.

While at this meeting, I received word to attend the Nebraska camp meeting in the interest of the educational work. I went to Iowa again and spent some time at Stuart, Marshalltown, Forest City, Algona, Ruthven, Spencer, Sioux Rapids, and Sac City.

I have found by conversation with conference superintendents of schools, and by visiting among the churches, that there is a great lack everywhere of an intelligent knowledge of the importance of church school work and how to conduct it successfully. O, that all our workers and people would give more attention to this important line of work.

TEACHERS' READING COURSE

The Special Training Course offered to teachers last winter and spring has been so much appreciated that we feel encouraged to offer another course commencing the early part of this fall. As opportunity has been presented we have talked with conference superintendents and teachers about the plans for another year's work, and have decided to commence the course with "The Place of the Bible in Education," by A. T. Jones, and follow this with a course in elementary agriculture or school gardening. The first lessons will soon be ready for the mail.

All who wish to take the course should procure a copy of "The Place of the Bible in Education" at once. Order from your tract society or the Pacific Press, 1109 E. 12th St., Kansas City, Mo. Price 25 cents. Watch for further notice and plans for the work. B. E. H.

"Not more surely is the place prepared for us in the heavenly mansions than is the special place designated on earth where we are to work for God."—Christ's Object Lessons, p. 327.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE

I left Broughton, Kan., August 2, and reached Downs the next day. Here Elders Ogden and Bringle had been holding a tent meeting. After the first service of the camp meeting, some one noted the fact that four Union College students, with one of their teachers had occupied the platform. The students were Elders Crane, Ogden, Brown, and Bringle.

Not many came to the camp meeting until Friday. On Sabbath and Sunday about one hundred were present. After meeting Sabbath afternoon I accompanied Belle and Mina Dixon, Union College students, to their home at Portis, nine miles away, returning Sunday forenoon. They will probably both come back to school this fall. I had to leave Sunday night, before the meeting was over, in order to reach the Missouri camp meeting, at Sedalia.

The Sedalia meeting was one of the most satisfactory I ever attended. The camp was beautifully located in the city park. The weather was generally good, and when it rained, a large hall was at hand for meetings. The attendance was larger than last year, but not so large as to prove unwieldy. There was no complaining or faultfinding. Everybody seemed to attend all the meetings and to be on time. Brother Phillips' canvassers' meetings were attended daily by nearly the entire congregation. Excellent revival services were held, and many were baptized. The interest in education was greater than I have observed it before. Sixteen teachers were given license. About a dozen persons present had decided to attend Union College this fall. Of last year's students I noticed Messrs. Johnson, Kurz, and Wesner, who have been canvassing with good success in eastern Missouri. There were also present Misses Nora Hough, Lillian Lickey, and Esther Hanson.

The Omaha camp meeting was very large. The Conference recognized the fact that it was too large to accomplish the most good, and voted to have no general meeting next year, but several local meetings. Wednesday was education day. In the morning there was an educational social meeting. At 2:30 addresses were made by Professor Kern and the writer. The matron and the preceptress, Mrs. Emerson and Mrs. Lewis, spoke to the congregation at five o'clock. Educational exercises were also held in the German, Scandinavian, and young people's tents. A large number of "catechisms" and calendars were called for by the people, indicating that Nebraska will supply her usually large quota for the College. Bro. C. H. Miller was elected field education secretary, and Mrs. Pearl Morrison office secretary.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

We are glad for the interest being manifested in our young people by our workers. When we come to think and pray more about this work we shall see greater results. The following is an extract from a letter from one of our ministers.

M. E. K.

Your letter received this A. M. I read it with interest, also the leaflets. I think that I begin to see a little more light in this line of work. I note several expressions in both of these articles that indicates the drawing together of parents and children, old and young, in missionary work. I think this is in harmony with Mal. 4:6.

It now seems to me that the expression, "Will not young men and women who really love Jesus organize themselves as workers," does not mean so much that they should form a separate organization but that already being members of the church and missionary society, they should (with but little formality) organize themselves into little working bands to go out together to work for God and souls. Then report, compare experiences and counsel at the missionary meeting.

The homes of our people are sadly in need and any work to be permanent must reach and influence the home life. I shall do all I can for our young people here, and will be thankful for any suggestions you can give me.

ANNUAL MEETING

A. T. ROBINSON

The second annual meeting of the International Publishing Association was held in College View, Neb., September 5-7 in joint session with the members of the Foreign Department of the General Conference. There were present: G. A. Irwin, E. T. Russell, I. H. Evans, R. A. Underwood, H. Shultz, Lewis Johnson, B. G. Wilkinson, C. M. Everest, H. S. Shaw, G. F. Haffner, C. A. Burman, L. F. Starr, S. F. Svensen, James Cochran, J. J. Graf, P. E. Berthelson, A. Swedberg, C. A. Thorp, J. F. Anderson, S. Mortenson, A. A. Meyer, T. Valentiner, Jacob Riffel, J. G. Hanhart, R. M. Rockey, J. Staby, G. A. Grauer, R. C. Porter, Carl Svenson, J. H. Morrison, August Anderson, Valentine Leer, Conrad Reiswig, Bro. Ewert, A. T. Robinson.

The business of the Association passed off harmoniously. Important measures were taken up, looking to the future development of the institution. The treasurer's report showed that a good degree of prosperity has attended the work during the past year.

The following persons were elected members of the Board of Trustees: E. T. Russell, N. P. Nelson, J. J. Graf, Aug. Anderson, G. A. Grauer, R. M. Rockey, and A. T. Robinson.

At a recent meeting of the Board, the following organization was effected: E. T. Russell, President; J. J. Graf, Vice-President; A. T. Robinson, Secretary; R. M. Rockey, Business Manager and Treasurer; and L. E. Koon, Auditor.

AN EXTRACT

We quote the following from a letter of renewal of subscription to the MESSENGER.

"Have had a very good summer in Scandinavia, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, England, Scotland, and Ireland, attending our summer meetings. Have plenty to do, and am happy and of good cheer. My wife and little boy are well and very contented with their lot. We are always trying to be an honor to Union College and the cause of God. With best wishes for the success of every young man and woman and all the Board and Faculty at Union.

Yours in the work, G. DALL.

GET AN EDUCATION

Getting an education is like saving money and placing it in the bank as capital for your life work. There is this difference, however—money placed in the bank may be lost, but money invested in an education is safe for all time, and for eternity, too, if it be Christian education. Furthermore, it is not only safe, but is drawing big interest in character and power to do things, which can not be measured with money. A man in business without a working capital has "a hard row to hoe." He has to buy everything on time, paying more for lack of cash. He misses good opportunities for want of money to seize them when they come. So it is with men or women who enter upon the work of life without a good education. He lives from hand to mouth and cannot take advantage of opportunities because he has not the preparation to fill positions as they open to him. Men in middle and advanced life continually regret that they did not get an education when they were young. Young man, young woman, profit by their experience, and enter school now.

WHY NOT ATTEND THE SECULAR SCHOOLS?

1. The Lord has told us that all our young people should have the blessings and privileges of an education in our own schools. (Testimonies, Vol. 5, p.197.)

2. In the secular schools the curriculum is not arranged nor the teaching done with the true object of education in mind. "The true object of education is to restore the image of God in the soul."—Christian Education, p. 63.

3. The development of character for eternity is the most important work we have to do.

4. In the secular schools the most important part of education is omitted, —namely, the religion of the Bible. (Christian Education, p. 39.)

5. In the secular schools much of the teaching is contrary to the Word of God.

6. Our schools are the only ones where workers are trained to give the Third Angel's message.

7. We have been told that plans should be devised for the development of an army of educated missionaries. Our schools are ordained of God to do this very work.

8. Our children should have Christian teachers, for the strongest influences of school life come from personal contact of teachers with students.

9. The ideals held before the students of the secular schools are usually opposite to the spirit of self sacrifice and true humility.

10. "The mind gradually adapts itself to the subjects upon which it is allowed to dwell."—Christian Education, p. 37. If our young people would be Christians and have a part in the Lord's work they must have daily systematic study of the Word of God. M. E. K.

THE COW'S TOILET

A useful session of the Health Congress concluded with four papers dealing with a question which is daily becoming more urgent—our milk supply, with special reference to the feeding of infants. Dr. T. D. Lister, assistant physician to the Royal Waterloo Hospital for Children, adduced abundant reasons for the establishment of municipal milk depots, declaring that children were dying by thousands every year for the lack of such provision; Dr. E. W. Hope, medical officer of health for Liverpool, described in detail the encouraging work carried on by the milk depot of that city, at an annual cost of £1200; and Councillor A. W. Short, of Bootle, advocated in a paper full of facts and figures the municipalization of the milk supply.

In the last contribution, H. Reginald Rhodes advocated a reform which hails from America, and works on different lines. He described the production of medically certified milk as carried on at one of the farms of which he had charge under the New York Medical Committee. By this system, practically everything except the milk itself is sterilized and the natural product thus assured a high pitch of cleanliness sells at a shilling a quart to the well-to-do New Yorker. One passage from this paper may be worth quoting:—

"The day's work commenced at 4:30 a. m. every day by each cow being led singly and in turn, from their living stable into the washing and cleaning shed. Here they are washed with sponges and brushes in antiseptic water and dried with sterilized towels. As each cow is finished off, a lad leads it by the halter to the milking shed, where it is fastened to a snap along the wall.

"Here the milkers take each cow in hand as it arrives from the cleaning shed. These milkers are required to wash themselves thoroughly in a bath-room provided, adjacent to the milking shed, and to wear clean linen clothes that are frequently washed and sterilized twice daily."

The result of all this elaborate care was that, according to the paper, while ordinary milk supplied to New York was found to contain 5,000,000 bacteria to the cubic centimeter, an analysis of certified milk showed an average of only from 1,500 to 1,600 bacteria in the same bulk.—London Telegraph.

YOUNG PEOPLE—ATTENTION!

We are authorized to announce the publication, about November 1, of a volume of "Addresses for Young People," by President Charles C. Lewis, of Union College. It will consist of ten addresses, given on various occasions during the past fifteen years, principally before audiences of young people. Just the book to save young people from skepticism, and inspire them to seek an education, and lead pure and noble lives. The book will contain about 300 pages, and will be durably and handsomely bound. It will form an appropriate and valuable present for any young person, and may turn the current of his life into broader, deeper, and purer channels. Price $1.00 per copy, post-paid. Orders received at once and filled with first copies from press. Send for descriptive pamphlet, giving sample pages, and telling how to secure a copy free. Address correspondence, and make orders payable to UNION COLLEGE PRESS, College View, Nebraska.

THE OPENING OF UNION COLLEGE

The enrollment is 211 before the close of the first week. Students will be coming for several weeks yet. So far as the total enrollment is concerned, it is a little larger than last year, but there is a marked increase in the number in the Home. Last year at this time we had only ten or eleven tables, now we have sixteen. Our enrollment at the Home is 111.

As for the character of the pupils, I think I have never before seen a more earnest class of students together. One marked feature of the opening is the small number of seventh grade pupils. Last year the Grammar and Arithmetic classes in this grade were large, and had to be divided at the beginning of the second term. This year we have seventh grade classes only in the Grammar and Arithmetic, and there are only five or six pupils in these. I believe by another year we can, in our announcement, eliminate the seventh grade entirely.

The organization of the school was effected easily and quickly. We gained a day's time over last year, being ready to take up regular recitations on Friday, instead of on Monday as we did last year.

One hundred and twenty-six persons have enrolled in the different Bible classes. Most of the remainder of the students have either completed the Bible work, or else have some excellent reason for not taking Bible study this year. There are only a few who do not wish to take Bible study. No special effort was made to induce them to choose Bible studies, but nearly all seemed glad to do so. The enrollment in industrial studies and trades is also encouraging. Sixty-six is the number at present. The industrial studies come at three o'clock in the afternoon, and many of our students desire to work in the afternoon to help meet their expenses. If it were not for this fact there would be many more in the industrial classes, but we feel gratified that the number is so large.

An excellent spirit pervades the school. This is especially noticeable in the Home. Although circumstances beyond our control had made it impossible to have the Home in perfect readiness for the students, yet there has been no murmuring or complaining. At the social meeting in the Home parlor at the beginning of the Sabbath, it was evident that the Spirit of the Lord was present in a marked degree. A large number of cheerful testimonies were borne in quick succession, and it seemed as if the work was beginning where it left off last year. The same was true in the social meeting in the chapel Sabbath afternoon. We are encouraged to believe that the blessing of the Lord will rest upon the work at the College in a larger measure even than it did last year, and the teachers and students enter upon the work with hearts full of courage and good cheer.

PUBLISHER'S NOTES

Manuscript.—All manuscript should be addressed to C. C. Lewis, College View, Neb, and should reach the office by the eighth or twenty-third of each month.

Business Correspondence.—Letters relating to subscriptions, advertising or any other business, should be addressed to M. E. Ellis, College View, Neb. Money orders should be made payable to him.

Change of Address.—Always give both your old and your new address.

Discontinuances.—Notice of expiration will be given by a blue X on the wrapper. When you see this, please renew your subscription or request us to stop the paper.

Premiums.—Anyone sending us $2.50 for five subscriptions, new or old, will receive the Messenger free for one year. Write for liberal terms to agents.

To Contributors.—We want the news from our church schools, intermediate schools, sanitariums, etc. Personal doings and experiences are always welcome. We want a correspondent in every school and institution. Send us striking quotations, gems of thought, etc. Write us short articles upon any phase of education, not theory so much as practical experience. Three hundred words will make a column. Keep within this limit if possible.

News and Notes

Sarah Ronald Carr, who was in Union College 1900—1901, is living at Nevada, Iowa.

Margaret Anderson expects to graduate from the Iowa Sanitarium at the end of this year.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Vinton Hamilton and Winnie Caldwell.

S. Sorenson, who finished the Scandinavian Course in Union College in 1896, lives at Exira, Iowa.

L. N. Muck of College View, editor of the Christian Record, a paper for the blind, delivered a lecture in the Methodist church at Cheney recently.

J. B. Meyers, of Marengo, Ia., who was in Union College two years ago, has been farming since. He expects to take a trip South soon with a view to locating there as a self supporting missionary.

Mrs. Ada Hunt having visited her daughters, Dr. Lyra H. George and Winnie Hunt, has returned to her home in Battle Creek, Mich. Harry Hunt is prolonging his stay for a time.

C. W. Larson, who attended Union College 1892-1894, is treasurer of the Iowa Conference, Tract Society, and Sanitarium.

In the great missionary campaign this fall let all our young people realize that they "can do much." We may bring the greatest blessings to others and the blessings will react upon ourselves.

Earl Austin took advantage of the G. A. R. rates to visit his home at Boulder, Colo. No one feared for Earl's remaining away overtime, since all who know him are aware that his interests are in Union College. He has his old position as steward for the College.

The Thayer, Kan., Intermediate School opened September 11 with an enrollment of 16 in advanced grades and 24 in primary and elementary grades, and there are a goodly number to come later. Mr. H. E. Reeder has charge of the school. We wish the school success.

"Why, I could hardly wait until it came," said a young man just returned for his second year at Union College, when asked how he had enjoyed his ~~MUSEUM~~ the past vacation. "Every one who has ever been here should enjoy the MESSENGER when away, if they had any interest in the school at all."

The Elk Point (So. Dak.) Industrial School will open Sept. 20. Ten or a dozen students have been employed during vacation caring for the farm, one of the principal products of which is tomatoes. These have yielded quite well, and the school hopes to can from 12,000 to 15,000 quarts of these, and have already received an order for 400 dozen cans. At present they are running their canning factory nearly night and day, with a force of over twenty students. The outlook for attendance the coming year is better than ever. The faculty consists of Bert Rhoads, Mrs. Mary M. Twining, Miss Lizzie Magnuson, W. H. Twining, Marshal J. Low, and Miss Laura Neumann.

Dora Rasmussen is matron of the Iowa Sanitarium.

Wesley Beard is working in Des Moines, Iowa.

Miss Carrie Wallace is back in her old place as stenographer in the Iowa Sanitarium, after a six month's vacation at the home farm near Bedford, Ia.

We recently received the prospectus of the Central Michigan Business College of Lansing, Mich., and by the pages we see that Prof. E. E. Gardner, one-time teacher in Union College, is principal of the school.

Bro. F. J. Wilbur writes in regard to the Sac City, Iowa, camp meeting, "There were about thirty young people present, and there were quite a few who were planning on going to Stuart or Union College."

Mr. Burl Morrison and wife who have been in London during the past year have been visiting his father, John Morrison at College View. They have now gone to Chicago where Mr. Morrison will have charge of an office for the F. A. Davis Co., of Philadelphia.

As noted in our last issue, Professor Newton has accepted a call to Battle Creek. The Professor has been connected with the College since its first opening. He has contributed in many ways to the welfare of the institution. Besides his regular work as teacher, he has given instruction in several industrial lines, and has often treated the students to stereopticon lectures on his travels. At present he is closing up his work in College View, preparatory for an early departure for his new field. Because of Professor Newton's resignation Professor Morrison has been released from his engagement at Washington, D. C., and he will remain with the College another year.

LATER: Prof. Newton and family left for their new home Sunday, Sept. 10, best wishes of a host of friends follow them.

Miss Maggie Ogden returned the 13th inst., from a visit to her home in Kansas, bringing her two sisters, Katie and Clara, to enter the College.

Mr. Fred Davis, of Ashland, Neb., is among our new students. His brother Louis, who was in the College three years ago, is working in Colorado, near Boulder.

Gladys Shufelt is again in school, bringing with her her brother Luther, who was in school four years ago. Harry Baker, also a Colorado student, has returned.

Cush Sparks and Myron Jenkins are once more in College View. They have spent the summer traveling in the west, visiting the Lewis and Clark Exposition on their trip. They also canvassed a few weeks in Oregon with excellent success.

Union College opened Wednesday, September 13th, and that evening found room left for just one more boy in South Hall, so rapidly had the students filled the rooms which have afforded shelter and home to hundreds of our young people during the past twelve years. But still they come, and all are being cared for. The President announced in his address that evening that 159 had registered. More than a score enrolled the next day, and more are coming in every day.

Saturday evening, September 9, a company of more than thirty of Elmer Hough's friends met (by invitation) at the home of Charles Hodges, a mile northwest of College View, to participate in a watermelon feast. Elmer has spent his odd moments this vacation in caring for a patch of the plants of the genus Cucurbita, and is reaping a good harvest. By the way the melons disappeared that evening it is quite evident that Elmer understands how to raise good ones. He expects to be in school again this year.

Misses Belle and Mina Dixon, of Portis, Kans., both old Union College students, have returned this year. It has been five years since Belle was with us.

Elder M. D. Mattson, the new Bible teacher in Union College, has arrived from Massachusetts and entered upon his duties. He has rented a house in the village and expects his family soon.

Ada Trease has returned from her summer's vacation spent at her home in Missouri, and has begun her work as College laundress. Her sister Lou returned with her and has entered upon the nurses' course at the Nebraska Sanitarium.

By the South Dakota Worker we see that Bro. E. Russel Potter has yielded to the supplication of the Manitoba Conference and since laborers are scarce in that field will continue to labor there. There will be no further particulars at present.

J. F. Nelson, our College tailor, has moved his shop into the post office building. He will continue to work for the students, and will conduct a class in tailoring during the winter term. He is assisted by his brother Carl, and has several helpers besides.

O. J. Graf and Clem Benson arrived in College View, September 12th, after spending their vacation sight-seeing in the west, and canvassing in Oregon with excellent success. Mr. Benson went on to Battle Creek for a short visit with his parents. On his return, he and Mr. Graf will attend the State University in Lincoln.

September 8th, Prof. E. C. Kellogg returned from a visit to Colorado. After the Colorado camp meeting the Professor rusticated in the mountains near Pitkin. While there he participated in mountain climbing and other amusements furnished by that western country, returning with a look of youth upon his visage and spirits refreshed for his year's work in school.

Verna Garner and Ethel Ames are nursing in Lincoln, Neb.

Hannah Larson recently returned from a visit to Lake Okobojo, Ia.

A. L. Leer is general assistant in the College business office, and Harley Stevens is clerk in the book store.

Mrs. W. L. Johnson and daughter, Genevieve, left us the 11th for a short visit in Iowa, after which they will proceed to California where they will spend the winter.

Miss Della Potter, stenographer for the International Publishing Association has been taking an enforced vacation of several weeks, due to ill health. She has resumed work.

Miss Nellie Davis, of Ashland, Neb. a former Union College student, is helping at the Nebraska Sanitarium for a few weeks. She has been doing Bible work and nursing at McCook, Neb.

Miss Josephine Nelson, bookkeeper at the Nebraska Sanitarium, was recently visited by her three sisters from their home in Burlington, Ia. One of them, Miss Teckla, was at Union College three years ago.

The gents' bathroom, at the Nebraska Sanitarium, is being practically rebuilt. A new cement floor and steel ceiling are being put in and a new spray room is being built. The gymnasium is also being enlarged.

The College View church school opened Monday, September 11, with an enrollment of 75. This was increased to 85 on Tuesday and more are coming. Prof. M. A. Farnsworth, principal, is assisted by Misses Kinneburgh and Edna Schee.

Elder Nettleton and family are expected back next month to rejoin the Sanitarium family. They have enjoyed their summer spent on the Pacific coast. The Elder has visited several camp meetings and disposed of his time to a good advantage preaching the gospel.

Miss Agnes Krouse is nursing near the Platte river in Nebraska.

Miss Etta Oppy of North Dakota is once more in Union College.

Dora Burke is nursing in Elder Russell's family in College View.

William Nelson left last evening for Walla Walla, Wash., where he will connect with the Walla Walla College.

Allen Rich is once more among us. His brother Walter will teach the church school at Broken Bow, Neb.

Union College has a student from the island of Trinidad, West Indies, in the person of C. A. Crichlow. The young man is preparing for the medical work.

We have received the eleventh annual announcement of the Oakwood Manual Training School, at Huntsville, Ala. The first quarter begins September 20, and the faculty consists of seven members.

This year's delegation to Union College from St. Louis, consists of Mamie and Lizzie Jamison, Carrie and Zillah Daniels, Kate Sanborn, and Lillian George. Miss George is a sister of Carrie George, formerly a student of Union College, but now taking the nurses' course at the Nebraska Sanitarium.

The International Publishing House is more than busy. Besides turning out our denominational literature at a more rapid rate than usual, they are printing a finely illustrated book of over 100 pages, in two colors, descriptive of the Uncompahgre Valley, Colorado. It will be for sale by the International in the near future at 75 cents per copy. The coming missionary campaign will necessitate hard work on the part of the helpers, of whom there are now twenty-seven on the pay roll, as it is expected to publish large editions of the German, Danish, and Swedish weekly periodicals. Order some for your foreign neighbors at 5 cents a copy, 3 cents in quantities,

Ralph Emery is attending the Colorado University again this year.

Adolph Kurz was recently visited by his mother and two brothers from Colorado Springs, Colo.

Rachel Johnson and Pearl Jenkins of Boulder, Colo., will not be in Union College this year. Miss Jenkins' mother is very sick.

Clark Evilsisor expects to continue canvassing during the winter in the vicinity of Boulder, Colo. That's Right Clark, stick to it.

Clay Trusty of the class of '05 is stenographer for the United Zinc and Chemical Company of Utah Junction, near Denver, Colo.

Calvin and Earl Bungor are again in school at Union College bringing with them their sister. She attended the Stuart, (Ia.) Academy last year.

Eugene Stansbury has returned from a visit to the Pacific Coast and his parents who are in the west. He expects to enter upon a medical course this fall.

Miss May McBride, formerly of the Nebraska Sanitarium but more recently of Guadalajara, Mex., is now in College View with her sister Lillian, who has just entered Union College.

Mrs. M. I. Reeder, who now lives at Boulder, Colo., has recently made a trip to Portland visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Harry Farnsworth, at Missoula, Mont., on her return trip.

Grace Mitchell is still in Colorado and will probably spend the winter there. The returning Colorado students report her to be in excellent health and with hopes of returning to Union next year.

Nora and Stella Hiatt recently visited in Boulder, Colo. The former goes to Keene (Texas) Academy as teacher of English, while the latter will spend some time in Colorado. Miss Nora will be remembered as a member of the Union College class of '05.

The International Publishing Association has recently installed a new stereotyping machine. They also have a large first class Dexter folder coming. The preparation by them at the present time of the Family Bible Teacher in Spanish places that publication in five languages.

It was expected that the graduating exercises of the nurses' class of the Nebraska Sanitarium, would be held early in October. This may yet be true, but since several of its members have been placed upon serious cases demanding constant care, some of them at a distance, the date may be postponed. We are sure that all who are interested in evangelical work will rejoice with these young people, that they have successfully completed this course, which so many begin and for one reason or another give up. The class consists of ten young ladies whose names are as follows: Ethel Ames, Dora Burke, Esther Bergquist, Verna Garner, Stella Fuller, Ethel Jones, Agnes Krause, Helena Peters, Hattie Rittenhouse, Luella Reid.

FOR SALE

A 6-acre plot of ground, about four acres into fruit of all kinds: peaches, plums, cherries, apples, apricots, grapes, currants, goose-, straw-, rasp-, and blackberries, asparagus and rhubarb beds. 6-room house, good cellar, well, corncrib, barn, and buggy-shed. Terms, $2,500, partly on time. An excellent place for anyone with children to help them. Correspond with J. W. Summey, College View, Neb.

A 5-acre plot, with 800 peach trees, 200 cherry, 175 plum, 2000 raspberries, all in bearing condition. $\frac{1}{4}$ mile east of Union College, College View, Neb. Terms: \$900, cash. Correspond with C. A. Burman, Aberdeen, S. D., or J. W. Summey, College View, Neb.

These pieces lie close together, and will be sold together or separate. They are $\frac{1}{2}$ mile from church school.

A new reed pipe organ will be placed in the College chapel next week. Professor Shryock will give an organ recital upon it the week following. A silver collection will be taken during the concert to aid in paying for the instrument. It is a two manual organ with a full scale of pedals, and for student practice will be as satisfactory as any large pipe organ. It is a $700 instrument, but the College secured it through Mr. Matthews of Lincoln, at one half price or cost, Mr. Matthews donating his entire profits to the school.

Teddie is the name of a newly arrived student in Union College. He is but six months old and as yet speaks but a few words of English. Whether he is versed in any other language has not yet been ascertained, but nevertheless he has taken up his abode with Professor Parmele and wife on third floor of South Hall with the understanding that they are to board and educate him for whatever amusement they may derive from such philanthropic work. Teddie is a double yellow-headed Mexican parrot.

Mrs. Mary Pines Stone, with her husband, C. L. Stone, live at Hazel, Kentucky. They have charge of the intermediate school at that place. They have recently exchanged their former location for a farm of 55 acres on which they expect to conduct their work in the future.

In a meeting held by the Home family one evening recently, it was decided to discontinue serving suppers, as was done last year. There are now seventeen tables in the dining room.

We learn that two of our students were unfortunate in having their pockets picked to the extent of $90 and $120 respectively while enroute to school.

Miss Elizabeth Runck, of Alma, Neb., is one of our new students. She is a sister of the young people of that name who have attended in former years.

The choral work for the music department of the College as outlined by the director is as follows: A male chorus meeting once a week for rehearsal, running through the entire year; a ladies chorus also rehearsing once a week throughout the year; a large mixed chorus meeting once a week for the practice of Mendelssohn's "Elijah." Another mixed chorus will meet also once a week for the practice of choruses selected from other oratorios. This will make three rehearsals each week for ladies and gentlemen respectively, but requiring no more time than under previous years. Singers from the village are invited to join in the rehearsals of "Elijah" making this the largest choral body we have had. These rehearsals will be held every Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the College chapel. This oratorio will be rendered next May at the close of school and is a very beautiful work, not so difficult as "Creation" or "Messiah."

In addition to these rehearsals a sight singing class will be organized for those wishing to learn the rudiments of music. Those wishing to join this sight singing class, (which will last three months) will be able to join the choral practice at the end of this term. All other choruses except "Elijah" including the sight singing class will be held in the afternoon.

Students recitals will be held every two weeks as usual, beginning early in October. Several faculty recitals will be given during the winter, also an occasional organ recital by the director. The teachers in the music department are B. R. Shryock; director; assisted by Misses Woods, Lewis, Wallace, Burghart Madison, and Sanborn. Professor Shryock's studio has been changed from room 20 to room 9.

Alfreda Emerson, of Topeka, Kan., is here with her parents, and is taking work in the College. Her brother Burt will return soon.
