Holy Spirit, Dwell with Me

TRUTHFUL Spirit, dwell with me;
 I myself would truthful be,
 And with wisdom kind and clear
 Let Thy life in mine appear,
 And with actions brotherly
 Speak my Lord's sincerity.
 Silent Spirit, dwell with me;
 I myself would quiet be,
 Quiet as the growing blade
 Which through earth its way has made
 Silently like morning light,
 Putting mists and chills to flight.
 Mighty Spirit, dwell with me;
 I myself would mighty be,
 Mighty so as to prevail
 Where unaided man must fail,
 Ever by a mighty hope
 Pressing on and bearing up.
 Holy Spirit, dwell with me;
 I myself would holy be;
 Separate from sin, I would Choose and cherish all things good,
 And whatever I can be,
 Give to Him who gave to Thee.

Organization

THAT the Lord is still instructing His people along the lines of organization, I quote in this article from Vol 9, (Testimonies to the Church.) This is the latest volume we have given to us. My former article was quoted from "Acts of the Apostles", the latest production from Sister White. Therefore these quotations are not obsolete.

On pages 257,258 we read, "Those who were in the work at the beginning are passing away. Only a few of the pioneers of the cause now remain among us. Many heavy burdens formerly borne by men of long experience, are now falling upon younger men. This transfer of responsibilities to laborers whose experience is more or less limited, is attended with some dangers against which we need to guard. The world is filled with strife for supremacy. The spirit of pulling away from fellow laborers, the spirit of disorganization, is in the very air we breathe. By some, all efforts to establish order are regarded as dangerous, a restriction of personal liberty, and hence to be feared as popery. These deceived souls regard it a virtue to boast of their freedom to think and act independently. They declare that they will not take any man's say-so; that they are amenable to no man. I have been instructed that it is Satan's special effort to lead men to feel that God is well pleased to have men choose their own course, independent of the counsel of their brethren.

"Herein lies a great danger to the prosperity of our work. We must move discreetly, sensibly and in harmony with the judgement of God-fearing counselors; for in this course

Cumberland Conference Institute

AT present, a canvassers' institute of the Cumberland Conference is in progress. Thirteen canvassers are present, and it has been truly said, that seldom can we find a more studious class. I am sure that the prospect looks bright for Cumberland to do an aggressive work during 1912.

As the institute is being held just before the bookmen's convention, it gives some additional help which is very much appreciated. Those assisting in the instruction are:— Eld's. Chas. Thompson, and P. G. Stanley; Brethren A. F. Harrison and W. S. Fulbright. Of course, it will be understood that Brother D. W. Dillen, the field agent, is present and takes a leading part.

Thirteen are present who intend to put in their entire time at the work. Their names are as follows:— L. D. Wright, John Wright, J. D. Finley, Mrs. J. D. Finley, J. W. Pervis, Miss Viola Pervis, Miss Pansy Sorrells, J. D. Andrews, Walter Kirkham, R. E. Hicks, Thos. V. Chapman Mrs. M. J. Cozart and E. D. Haskell.

Eld. E. R. Palmer is expected to be present during the last two days of the institute, to put on the "cap sheaf" and give us the benefit of his wide experience in this department of the work.

V. O. COLE.

Newspaper work at the Union Conference

THE daily papers of Chattanooga and Knoxville are giving excellent daily notices of the conference sessions. A few days preceding the opening meeting on Sunday night these papers contained quite a long article descriptive of the work, progress, and doctrines of the Seventh-day Adventists.

A class in Newspaper Reporting has been formed of the workers present at the conference and they are receiving daily instruction in this most important work. This instruction has been prepared by the newly established Press Bureau of the General Conference which was established at the last Fall Council of the General Conference Committee, and will be given at the session of every Union Conference this winter.

It is the purpose of the Press Bureau to train a force of our workers in the practical use of every avenue of publicity. This will include instruction in writing articles for the daily and Sunday newspapers, the weekly county papers, the weekly and monthly magazines, and in reporting tent and hall meetings sermons, addresses, lectures, local and union conference sessions, ministerial institutes, departmental conventions, and camp meetings.

After this instruction is given, the plan is to have these trained men become reporters and correspondents in the localities where they are laboring and write up every item concerning the truth which falls under their observation, whether it be their own sermons in tent or hall, at the church on the Sabbath, or other meeting or happenings of any character that would bring Seventh-day Adventists and their work and doctrines before the public, and send it to the local papers. In this way we hope to provide a trained press agent for every conference and institution without additional expense, and we also hope that these men will become so enthusiastic and active in this work that the words, "Seventh-day Adventist" will be kept so prominently before the public as to awaken a spirit of inquiry as to who, what, and why Seventh-day Adventists are.

This is the generation in which the truth is to go to the entire world. That this may be accomplished many wonderful inventions have been produced in recent years by which the gospel message may be rapidly carried to the ends of the earth. The newspaper has been brought to its high state of efficiency in the rapid dissemination of news for the express purpose of being used of God in these last days to finish his work. This is the real purpose for the existence of the press of the world. The possibilities before our workers who take this instruction in newspaper work are that they may be enabled to put the press to its intended use. Every worker in the Southeastern Union Conference ought to be receiving this instruction.

Organization

alone lies our safety and strength. Otherwise God cannot work with us, and by us, and for us.

"O, how Satan would rejoice if he could succeed in his efforts to get in among this people, and disorganize the work at a time when thorough organization is essential, and will be the greatest power to keep out spurious uprisings, and to refute claims not indorsed by the word of God. We want to hold the lines evenly, and there shall be no breaking down of the system of organization and order that has been built up by wise, careful labor. License must not be given to disorderly elements that desire to control the work at this time.

"Some have advanced the thought that as we near the close of time, every child of God will act independently of any religious organization. But I have been instructed by the Lord that in this work there is no such thing as every man's being independent. The stars of heaven are all under law, each influencing the other to do the will of God, yielding their common obedience to the law that controls their action. And in order that the Lord's work may advance healthfully and solidly, his people must draw together.

"The spasmodic, fitful movements of some who claim to be Christians are well represented by the work of strong but untrained horses. When one pulls forward the other pulls back, and at the voice of their master one plunges ahead the other stands immovable. If men will not move in concert in the great and grand work for this time, there will be confusion. It is not a good sign when men refuse to unite with their brethren, and prefer to act alone. Let laborers take into their confidence the brethren who are free to point out every departure from right principles. If men use the yoke of Christ, they cannot pull apart; they will draw together.

"Some workers pull with all the power that God has given them, but they have not yet learned that they should not pull alone. Instead of isolating themselves, let them draw in harmony with their fellow-laborers. Unless they do this, their activity will work at the wrong time and in the wrong way. They will work counter to that which God would have done, and thus their work is worse than wasted."

These words need no comment, but to be read, believed, and acted upon, by all who propose to advance the cause of God.

CHAS. THOMPSON.

We hope to give quite a full report of the session in our next issue.

CHAS. THOMPSON

Graysville Current

This little village is a busy place these days and, at present, is the most important place in the Southeastern Union Conference.

In other columns will be found reports of the Cumberland Institute, The Bookmen's Convention, and the Southeastern Union Meeting.

The first half of the school year of the S. T. S. is almost past. Before we realize it, we will be closing our work for the year.

The brethren and sisters of the village are doing their best to entertain the delegates to the conference, and the visiting brethren appreciate the kindness shown.

Sister Dillen has been seriously ill but is now making rapid recovery.

The new water system of the S. T. S. is certainly proving a blessing to the school. Under Prof. Maxwell's guidance the work was done with accuracy and dispatch.

Last week Miss Mary Roberts of Georgia, returned to Graysville to continue her studies.

Mr. Parkins, a former student, is attending the Union Conference meeting. He expects to enter some branch of the work at the close of the session.

The broom factory of the S. T. S. is making brooms equal to any on the market. Three or four boys are learning that valuable art.

Elder Haynes spoke to the young people of Graysville last Sabbath afternoon. His talk was practical and inspiring, with a direct application to present conditions.

The people of Graysville were favored with a musical recital by the pupils of Sister Mitchell and the Graysville Band under the direction of Harlan Harrison. The parts were well chosen and rendered in a creditable manner.

All the brethren and sisters attending the Cumberland Institute, and Bookmen's Convention were invited to dine at the sanitarium Sunday, January 7.

W. H. WILLIAMS, Treasurer.

Atlanta, Georgia, January 4, 1912.

To the Atlanta Sanitarium Board, Brethren:—

In harmony with your request, I made a careful examination of the accounts of the Treasurer of the Atlanta Sanitarium from April 24 to Dec. 31, 1911. I have checked all receipt stubs to their proper accounts in the Journal, and have found suitable vouchers for all important items of disbursement. I have found the cash in the Bank and the cash on hand sufficient to meet the demands of the books. I have proved the trial balance from which the statement herewith is derived, and found it to agree with the Ledger Acc'ts.

After this careful audit, I am prepared to certify that the books have been carefully kept, that they are in balance, and that the statement rendered you herewith is a correct showing of the present standing of the Atlanta Sanitarium.

The management of the Graysville
Sanitarium have recently added some needed improvements to their already well equipped institution, by treating the whole of the exterior to a coat of paint, and many of the rooms to the same. Dr. Gregory who has had years of experience as a physican in the home and foreign fields, is the Medical Superintendent. We believe this institution is as well equipped now to accommodate the public as at any time during its history.

Bookmen, Attention

If you expect to be present at the meeting in Nashville, Tenn. commencing Jan. 15th, 1912, be sure to bring bedding, especially blankets, as it will be very difficult to provide furnished rooms for over seventy-five people who are expected to attend.
Write the Entertainment Committee

today telling them you will attend.

Do not expect to be provided for comfortably if you fail to notify the committee.
