SOME TOUCHING AND IMPRESSIVE SCENES

Published by Request.

Like many other cities, during the past few weeks the capital city of Tennessee has entertained large numbers of returned soldiers from the battlefields of France and given them a royal welcome home. But, of all the boys who visited Nashville there were none who made the impression upon us as did those of the 117th Infantry.

These brave boys were in the division who broke the supposed impregnable Hindenburg line, the 117th being the first of division to get through; however the toll of life was heavy. Out of ninety officers belonging to that regiment there were eighty who were either killed or seriously wounded within three weeks' time. In this same length of time the ranks were reduced to forty per cent of their original strength.

Nearly all of this regiment was made up of stalwart young men from the mountains of Eastern Tennessee and the Carolinas. They were certainly fine looking specimens of young manhood. Many of them were so young that they appeared to be hardly more than mere boys, and yet many a hair had been turned gray by what they had passed through. But what impressed us most deeply was that we saw group after group where most of the lines were short from one to three men out of the four, while some of the groups were reduced to a mere handful. These boys showed all too plainly in their faces and in their step that they had been through the baptism of a terrific German fire, as well as some of the other hardships which they had been called upon to endure. We could but long anew for the time to come when war and sin, sickness and death will be forever past, and the faithful gathered home.

As the long trains would pull into Centennial Park, with their engines shrieking their arrival, and the soldiers were allowed a little time in which to greet their loved ones, we were informed there were hundreds and thousands of most touching scenes, when the strongest men could not keep back the tears. Some fond father or mother, or wife, or sister, or "sweetheart" had come to the city from their country or mountain home with the hope of meeting their loved one, only to be told by the officers of his company that they had left him in France, and that he would never return. Brother Curtis, secretary of the Southern Union Conference, tells of seeing two sisters who had not heard from their brother for a long time. They, too, had come a long distance, as they still had a lingering hope that he was alive. They eagerly sought out his company, but finally the officers were forced to tell them that he, with many others, had been left behind in France, and that they would never see him again. It is useless to try to describe the scene that followed, and it is doubtful if any but those who have passed through the experience can imagine it.

One feeble mother, whose mind had been affected by her son's service in the army, had been allowed to come with the other members of the family to meet her boy. He was indeed a fine-looking soldier, of whose appearance any mother might well be proud. The poor old lady could not keep her hands off the boy, but would "pat" and caress him as she did when he was a babe in her arms. For a brief moment she would seem rational, and then her mind would begin to wander. As this brave young soldier looked upon his mother in this pitiable condition and realized that it was her love for him that had caused it all, strong as he had been in facing the guns of the enemy, he was compelled again and again to withdraw from the family circle until he could regain control of his feelings. This mother's love but faintly illustrates something of the love which Jesus must have felt in giving His own life for sinful man.

Again, there was another mother, whose son had been reported killed, who also had come a long distance in order that she might learn something of the last hours of her boy's life. As she looked for some of his comrades, all of a sudden that boy whom she had supposed to be dead, sprang out and gathered her in his arms with the word "mother" upon his lips. The shock was almost more than the dear old mother could stand. However, this is but a feeble illustration of the great rejoicing and the many glad reunions that will take place in the earth made new.

As these boys marched up Capitol Boulevard, we wished again and again that everyone of our colporteurs might have seen the broken ranks, the battered helmets, the scars, the wound-stripes, and the worn, drawn faces of these young men. We believe it would have given them a new inspiration and a firmer determination to quickly finish the work, and thus bring an end to all this suffering and woe. Such scenes as we have described should be a trumpet-call to service—to more consecrated and energetic effort on the part of our colporteurs and other workers. It should lead many to put in better time than they are accustomed to doing in order that the Message may be more quickly given. Furthermore, we have been told that if the people of God had been faithful in doing the work assigned them, they would have been in the kingdom before this. This is indeed a solemn thought, and places a heavy responsibility on all who know the Truth.

May the events which are now taking place with such startling rapidity—many of them being enacted over night which have heretofore been stretched over entire generations, and which are in keeping with the statement that the final movements will be rapid ones—inspire all who read these lines to be more diligent and earnest in doing their part in quickly finishing this work.

Knoxville Thirteenth Sabbath Offering

Enthusiasm ran high among the Intermediate and Primary departments of the Knoxville Sabbath School on the Thirteenth Sabbath. The children of these departments raised over $88. This was done by soliciting with the Thirteenth Sabbath envelope and selling our papers and magazines. Needless to say the children are interested in this offering, and this only gives them a greater desire to do more for the next Thirteenth Sabbath offering. I hope that this will prove a stimulant to the children of other Sabbath Schools in the Cumberland as well as to the adults.

The goal for the Knoxville church was set for $150.00, and we just made it; but had it not been for the children's department we would have fallen far short. Our goal for this coming Thirteenth Sabbath offering is $300.00.

The Banner Class was Mrs. W. E. Bailey's, which raised over $38.00. Six of the girls raised over $5.00 each. Above is a picture of some of those who had part in this work.

As a result of Elder E. T. Wilson's recent efforts in Columbus, Ga., seven were baptized and united with the Conference church. We hope to see others united to this company a little later, and a good strong church organized at this place.

It was the writer's privilege to spend Sabbath, April 12th, at the Flat Rock School. Quarterly meeting service was observed at this time; also Professor Boynton was ordained elder and Brother Stover deacon of the Douglasville church. The students of the school met in the afternoon for Young People's meeting, which we all greatly enjoyed. The young people of the school are doing good work, and are apparently happy and enjoying the blessing of the Lord.

Bro. A. E. Deyo and Bro. B. F. Brown have been having some interesting experiences in Wilkes County. They report some awful roads, and several slight mishaps, but they delivered the books, for which they are indeed grateful.

As a result of the efforts of our Missionary Secretary, Bro. K. R. Haughey, over 1,000 Watchman Magazines per month will soon be coming to our Conference and sold by our brethren and sisters who are only able to devote a part of their time to this work. This is very encouraging, but many more should enlist with these workers. A very attractive offer is now open to all who will contract to do definite work with the Watchman. Those interested should address Prof. K. R. Haughey, 121 Hill Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Brethren Deyo, Haughey, and Elder E. T. Wilson spent Sabbath and Sunday, April 19th and 20th, at Columbus. Several expect to enter the colporteur work from this point. B. W. SPIRE.

Dear Fellow-Workers:

I am glad to say that the Lord is blessing the work in Georgia in a marked way. The reports from week to week are very encouraging.

We can see that the Lord had impressed His people with a desire to see the work finished, and that He is blessing the efforts of those who go out with the printed page.

The Workers' Meeting held in Atlanta April 7-10 was a great spiritual help to all present. We came in closer touch with each other, and better acquainted with the work we as workers are doing. When the leaders of the different parts of the work in the Conference would emphasize his part of the work, it could be clearly seen that the book work was the hub of the wheel, and that all other parts of the work were as spokes to fill in and make a complete wheel; but without all fitly joined together we could not, as a people, finish the great work that is before us to do.

It was encouraging to see that every worker was working to push his part of the work and to help in every other part at the same time. There was a spirit of cooperation present that I am sure was well pleasing to the Lord.

BIG WEEK

All our workers are manifesting a great deal of interest in the bookmen's BIG WEEK. This begins July 13th, 1919. I am sure if they all go out this week as they are planning, many of them accompanied by some of the Union Conference workers, with the Lord's blessing, we will go "over the top."

But we are not to have just one "big week," but two "big weeks." Our first one begins May 4th. I would like to see what we can do at this time, and would be glad to hear from both the workers who put in all their time and those who just work a part of their time in the book work, and know just where you want to work, and what book you plan to use.

The Lord is willing to pour out His Spirit in great power at this time. The Message must go to thousands that have not as yet heard it. Let us as workers see what we can do to get the Message into as many homes as possible in this first BIG WEEK, beginning May 4th. But if anything should prevent you from going out in the first one, you will have another opportunity July 13.

My prayer is that we will pray much, and experience a great outpouring of the Holy Spirit at this time, when all around seems trouble on every hand from a worldly standpoint. A. E. DEYO.

Announcement

The Florida Sanitarium offers to those desiring to enter training for nurses a strong, full three years' course. A new class is to be formed July 1, and we urge those contemplating such a course to correspond with us at once. An outline of the course with requirements for entrance will be sent upon request. Address The Superintendent of Nurses, Florida Sanitarium, Orlando Florida.

All through the ages it has been faith that has claim through faith. With not quite one-half in, and the those who are holding the ropes will respond. It w the Seniors, as they came to us bringing the money for their class pins, say: "We ha pins." If these young people are willing to sacrifice like this something they can get "over the top?" Next week tells the story. What will it be?

Knoxville, Tenn., and

Jacksonville, Florida

From December 25 to March 19, wife and I spent in Knoxville, Tenn., on a vacation, and to dispose of our home there. While there we had the privilege of serving the Knoxville church and following up the public interest in Sunday night theater meetings. During the past two years a large number of souls have been gathered into the church, and there still seems to be a live interest to hear the truths of the message. Larger quarters are necessary to accommodate the Sabbath congregations, and a movement was set on foot to secure a more commodious church building. We regretted very much the necessity of leaving this work without someone to follow it up, but there seemed no other way to do, as there is a dearth of laborers in this great cause.

March 19 we responded to a call to come to Jacksonville, Fla., for the summer. Upon arriving, we found a telegram awaiting us, calling my wife back north to the

and the victory, and so with only five days yet to go we can claim the same victory month almost gone, the students are anxiously watching every mail, and believe that could have touched you greatly if you could have been here Thursday night and heard we decided to turn this money in on the Collegedale Catchem Club instead of buying but once in their lifetime, what ought not we to sacrifice that this campaign may go bedside of her mother. She is still away, and though I am glad to receive word of improvement in her mother's condition, it is yet indefinite when it will be consistent for wife to return.

I found the church in Jacksonville well organized for missionary work. The brethren, Smith and Spire, who have preceded me here, have done good work, and we hope for a continual harvest of souls as a result of the combined labors of members and pastor. It is just one month today since we reached Jacksonville, and during that time four have united with the church on profession of faith, three of whom were baptized April 13. Several others have signified their desire for baptism, and we hope to arrange for the rite to be administered in the near future to these, with the one who could not be baptized when the others were.

It has been fifteen years since I have had the privilege of doing pastoral work, and this period of rest from official cares is very much appreciated.

R. W. PARMELE.

Florida News Items

A good report comes from Eld. Allen Walker, who is now conducting a tent effort in West Palm Beach. There is a good attendance and ample space is given in the papers for a narration of the sermons.

Watch the reports of the colporteurs if you wish to see how the book work is growing in the Southland. Florida is also coming up in her part.

Sabbath and Sunday, April 5, 6, a Sabbath School and Young People's Convention was held in the Jacksonville Church. The meeting was much enjoyed. The Missionary Volunteer Society was reorganized, and we hear some good reports as a result of the convention. Sister Haughey, S. S. and M. V. Secy. of the Georgia Conference, and Sister Stringer were present to lead out in the exercises.

A Standard of Attainment class of 24 members has been organized in Jacksonville, with Elder Parmele as Educational Secretary. The class are preparing for the December examination and have placed a large order for Manuals, Great Second Advent Movement, Outline of Mission Fields, etc. If all our church members would take Standard of Attainment it would make them better representatives of the Lord's work here on earth.

Elder W. H. Smith now has his tent in readiness in Daytona to begin meetings next Sunday night. The effort in Orlando is continuing with the same good interest as has been from the first.

The Tract Society has a large supply of the little khaki binding, "Steps to Christ." These are 25c each. They are splendid to use in studying the Sabbath School lessons of the present

Wilmington and New Bern, N. C.

The No. 2 churches of Wilmington and New Bern, N. C., are progressing nicely by the power of the Holy Spirit. Recently I had a ten days' meeting with both churches, with splendid results. I am sure that we are receiving some drops of the latter rain. These churches are responding nobly to the help of the tent fund. Besides their pledges, they are selling 300 "World's Peace in the Light of Prophecy." Wilmington No. 2 church for the past quarter, tithes $237.34, S. S. offering $157.04, 13th Sabbath offering $43.66. New Bern No. 2 church, tithes for the same period, $196.07, S. S. offering $106.79, 13th Sabbath offering $28.20. At the same time these two churches are struggling with all their might to pay off their heavy church debt. However, the latter, I understand, has paid up in full its indebtedness. They shall soon be able to do more for the mission fields beyond. Truly the spirit of willingness has characterized all our churches. Our Sabbath Schools are improving in methods and are progressive. Also our Mission schools by sisters Maude Dickson and S. J. Martin and daughter are doing likewise. Accessions are coming in and our hearts are made to rejoice to see souls surrendering to Jesus our King.

Our Home Missionary department is using the "Present Truth Series" with lively results. We are of good courage on all sides, though in the midst of unrest and disquietude.

I hope to visit all the churches in the interest of the tent campaign book fund. We thank God for a place to work among His people in the closing work of the Gospel.

Obituary

WATSON—Minnie Ballenger was born at Honey Grove, Fannin County, Texas, November 5, 1884, and at the age of three years moved with her parents to Manatee County, Florida, locating at Ellenton, where she died April 18, 1919. In early life she was converted and united with the Presbyterian church, but in 1912 a further study of the Bible led to her acceptance of the truth that we hold, and she remained a devoted member of the Seventh-day Adventist church until death claimed her. For six years she had battled with tuberculosis, bearing her sufferings with patience, and even cheerfulness. On August 29, 1906, she was united in marriage with Bro. Alex M. Watson, who, with her aged mother, brothers and sisters, and a host of friends, mourn their loss, but we feel sure that she rests in hope.

You who love to play at Bible,
Dip and dabble here and there,
Just before you kneel, aweary,
And yawn through a hurried prayer;
You who treat the Crown of writings
As you treat no other book,
Just a paragraph disjointed,
Just a crude, impatient look;
Try a worthier procedure,
Try a broad and steady view;
You will kneel in very rapture
When you read the Bible through.

Notes

We were glad to welcome Professor Wood back from Washington, where he attended the Educational Council. He brought us a very encouraging report of the work outlined for our schools.

Elder Wight spent a few hours with us on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kennedy, of Murray, Ky., spent a few days at the school last week.

The sawmill is now running full blast, and we expect to have a good supply of lumber out by the first of July.

Miss Josephine Cothren expects to leave for her home this week, to convalesce from her recent illness from erysipelas.

Work on the farm and in the garden is being carried on as rapidly as possible. A good crop of rye hay will be cut this week, which will help to tide us over the summer.

Our readers will be glad to learn that Elder B. W. Brown's health is improving. A letter just received from him gives his new location as Boulder, Colo.—that he would be glad to hear from his friends in this Union.

Killed, Wounded, or Missing

Headquarters of the S. S. Army
Somewhere in the Cumberland Conference

In the great battle for truth, which is raging with unabated fury along the whole Sabbath School front, the casualties for this quarter have been heavy on the side of the allies.

The enemy, however, has suffered some losses. Among those reported to be found permanent members of the Home Department Guard for the past quarter are:

Adam Meister
Mrs. Mollie Hixon
Mrs. Ellen Hixon
Mrs. Laura Garrison
Mrs. J. I. Stuart
Mrs. W. W. Goss
Mrs. Maynard
Mrs. Charity Goforth
Ira Sneed
C. M. Ridley
Mrs. W. B. Bolton

Ten have reported to their home school, whose names we do not have.

Altogether 336 are missing. Two hundred and fifty of the missing are located within hearing distance of the Sabbath School's cannon's roar. The remaining 76 are connected with the Home Guard, but fail to report.

The Sabbath School secretary at the Army Headquarters takes this opportunity to invite you to enlist in the Sabbath School army; also those who have been lost in some skirmish to return to the trenches of safety.

The bugle call sounds forth every Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock, both at the church and at the home. If missing, report found.

Cumberland News Items

Elder W. H. Branson arrived in Knoxville Thursday afternoon and spent a few days here.

Mr. F. W. Washburn is spending a few days over at the Mt. Pisgah Institute, at Candler, N.C.

We are glad to welcome Bro. W. T. Tucker, of Ooltewah, Tenn., into our colporteur ranks.

He sent in a report of $72.00 worth of orders for his first week's work in the Cumberland. Brother Tucker is one of our old, experienced colporteurs and we feel sure that he will prove quite an addition to this branch of the work.

Brother Sorrells is now able to get out in the work again, and reports $217.20 worth of books delivered and $71.00 worth of books ordered during the past week.

Misses Isabel Saltz and Dora Patton, of Chattanooga, Tenn., have recently entered the colporteur and magazine work in that city, and are having splendid success.

Brother Dart was able to get out and sell a few helps this past week, and we are anxious to see him enter this work again in earnest. Because of illness in his family he has not been able to do very much along this line for some time, but hopes to soon.

Word has just come from Washington that the same party who furnished one thousand copies of "Present Truth" No. 38 for distribution throughout the country has offered to furnish two hundred thousand more copies of this little paper to be used in connection with our hall, theater and tent efforts this summer.

A very pretty wedding took place Monday night, April 14th, at the home of Brother Raymond Lovell, when his sister, Luella Margaret, was united in marriage to Mr. Edgar Davis Russell of Knoxville. To the joyous strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Dorothy Lovell, the contracting parties marched into the parlor, in front of a beautiful floral embankment, where they made their vows. The bride was becomingly attired in white crepe de chine and carried a large bouquet of white roses. Refreshments were served following the ceremony. Gifts, congratulations and good wishes were freely bestowed upon the happy couple by their relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Russell will reside in Knoxville.
