DAILY BULLETIN

—OF THE—

GENERAL CONFERENCE.

VOL. 3.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., FRIDAY, NOV. 22, 1889.

No. 17.

AN EXPLANATION.

WHEN number sixteen of the present volume of the BULLETIN was issued, it was supposed that that would close the volume. But upon due consideration it was decided that a comprehensive index for the volume, was very desirable, and as some important decisions had been reached by the several Executive Boards since the adjournment of Conference, it was thought best to publish the whole in another issue of the BULLETIN. This will explain the appearance of another paper after so long an interval, and when it was supposed that the volume was already complete.

tral Bible-school of Chicago, was presented, and adopted:—

We, your Committee to present plans for the Central Bible-school, hereby submit the following report:—

1. We find that the Illinois Conference has completed a suitable building for a training school for Home and Foreign Missionaries, in harmony with the recommendation of the General Conference, supported by the Testimonies; and that the Illinois Conference officers wish to furnish the building free of charge for the above work, with the request that the General Conference provide the necessary instructors for the school. SECOND MEETING, 8 A. M., NOV. 8.

Prayer was offered by A. T. Robinson. The committee appointed at the previous meeting, reported that they were unable to submit any definite plans, on account of the lack of knowledge as to the relation the society was expected to sustain to, and the part it was expected to take in the circulation of Religious Liberty literature. On motion, it was voted to invite the Executive Committees of the General Conference, and the National Religious Liberty Association to participate with the International Tract Society in a joint meeting. The following members of these committees responded to the invitation, and were present: General Conference Committee: O. A. Olsen, W. C. White, Dan T. Jones, R. M. Kilgore, E. H. Gates, R. A. THIRD MEETING, 8 A. M., NOV. 10.

This was a joint meeting of the General Conference Committee, the National Religious Liberty Association Committee, and the International Tract Society Board.

Prayer was offered by R. M. Kilgore.

The committee appointed at the last meeting, presented a report which was amended and adopted as follows:—

We recommend the National Religious Liberty Association to make the International Tract Society an agent for the circulation of its literature.

We recommend, that the publishers furnish the literature at 55 per cent. discount, and ask the State tract societies to furnish the same to canvassers at 50 per cent.

The question of preparing tracts on practical subjects for general circulation was presented for consideration by the Chairman. W. C. White explained that the matter had been referred to the book committee last year, but that they had taken no action in regard to it. The Chairman was empowered to appoint a committee of three to suggest subjects upon which the International Tract Society might desire to have tracts written, and to secure their publication. Dan. T. Jones, D. A. Robinson, and W. C. Sisley were subsequently announced as said committee.

Prayer by D. A. Robinson. On motion of D. T. Jones, the treasurer was authorized to procure the necessary books for keeping his accounts.

Voted, that the furnishing of the Chicago office be referred to sister Huntley, with such assistance as she can procure in Chicago.

The Chairman called for the report of the committee appointed by the Executive Board one year ago, in regard to the disposal of the stock of the trans-Atlantic guide book. The chairman of the committee, C. Eldridge, reported that the committee had not done much, but had concluded that it would not be advisable for the society to expend any more money on the book.

Voted, to invite the secretaries to participate in the deliberations of the board.

Mrs. F. H. Sisley raised the question of how far the society should go in the free distribution of reading matter to schools. It was discussed freely, and, on motion of W. C. White, it was — Voted, that L. C. Chadwick, D. T. Jones, and Mrs. F. H. Sisley constitute a committee on the free distribution of reading-matter to public schools and libraries in America. It was discussed, but not voted, that the amount of such free distribution should not exceed $100.00 per quarter.

While this motion was being discussed, the committee having under advisement the matter of issuing a canvassers' journal, offered a report bearing on the question under consideration, which was, to recommend that four pages of the Home Missionary be devoted to the interests of the canvassing work, in charge of an editorial committee of three; and that the society accept the offer of the Review & Herald to furnish the Home Missionary free to all regular canvassers during the coming year, paying the regular subscription price therefor. After considerable discussion the motion to enlarge the paper carried.

SEVENTH MEETING, NOV. 13, AT 9 A. M.

Members present, L. C. Chadwick, W. C. White, D. A. Robinson, W. C. Sisley and C. Eldridge. M. L.

Huntley, F. H. Sisley and C. E. L. Jones were present by invitation.

Prayer by W. C. White.

Sister Huntley raised the query if it would not be for the best interest of the Chicago branch of the society to have some territory assigned it in the home field. C. H. Jones came in at this time, and was invited to participate in the deliberations of the meeting.

W. C. White raised the question as to whether "The Home Hand-Book," "Man the Masterpiece," and "Ladies' Guide" should be handled by the tract societies as health books. L. C. Chadwick stated that these three books were the personal property of Dr. Kellogg, and that the doctor had informed him that he wished to handle them himself. The tract societies, he thought, had no claim on them.

Moved and carried, that the matter of procuring type writers for the international office be left to the Chairman, C. Eldridge and W. C. White.

Sister Huntley spoke of the correspondence that was begun last year with the State secretaries, or those appointed by them, to receive instruction in the various lines of work, but which had been broken off by her sickness. It was recommended that the matter be left until the January meeting of the board.

It was suggested that the Illinois society might be glad of some assistance and counsel; also that she should spend some time in making herself familiar with the workings of the Bible school.

The question was raised as to what steps should be taken to dispose of the unsalable stock on hand.

Voted, that the President take such steps as he thinks best to dispose of any surplus stock of publications.

The Chairman raised the question of how much authority the President and Vice-president shall have in the matters of business. It was recommended that they should have authority to decide all ordinary business matters incident to the affairs of the Office.

The question was asked if the children's department of the Home Missionary should be continued the coming year. It was the opinion of those who expressed themselves, that it should be discontinued after the next number.

The matter of the present system of reporting was considered. After remarks by several, it was voted that this question be referred to the committee on revision of constitution, with the suggestions that had been made in regard to it.

Voted, that the President, Vice-President and C. Eldridge be a standing committee for the employment of help.

Voted, that the moneys of the society be paid out by the order of the President or Vice-President, counter-signed by the Secretary.

The President and Vice-President appointed the following persons as editors for the four departments of the Home Missionary:—

For Home Department, Miss M. L. Huntley; for Health and Temperance Department, Mrs. D. T. Jones; for Foreign Mission Department, W. C. White; for Religious Liberty Department, A. F. Ballenger.

Voted, That the work of supplying publications to those who are interested and willing to receive them; as the result of foreign correspondence, be pushed forward as rapidly as the secretaries deem advisable; the amount of the same not to exceed $500.00 per quarter.

Voted, that D. T. Jones, W. C. White, C. Eldridge, M. L. Huntley, and F. H. Sisley be a committee to make the division of the territory for the work of the foreign and home corresponding secretaries. Adjourned.
