TAKE TIME TO TALK WITH GOD.

BY MRS. E. G. WHITE.

SPECIAL instruction has been given me in regard to our ministers. It is not the will of God that they shall seek to be rich. They should not engage in worldly enterprises; for this disqualifies them for giving their best powers to spiritual things. But they are to receive wages enough to support themselves and their families. They are not to have so many burdens laid upon them that they can not give proper attention to the church in their own home. It is their duty to train their children for the Lord.

It is a great mistake to keep a minister constantly at work in business lines, going from place to place, attending board meetings and committee meetings, sitting up late at night. This brings to him weariness and discouragement. Ministers should have time to rest, to obtain from God's word the rich nourishment of the bread of life. They should have time to drink refreshing draughts of consolation from the stream of living water.

Let ministers and teachers remember that God holds them accountable to fill their office to the best of their ability, to bring into their work their very best powers. They are not to take up duties that conflict with the work that God has given them.

When ministers and teachers, pressed under the burden of financial responsibility, enter the pulpit or the schoolroom with wearied brain and over-taxed nerves, what else can be expected than that common fire will be used instead of the sacred fire of God's kindling. The strained, tattered efforts disappoint the listeners and hurt the speaker. He has had no time to seek the Lord, no time to ask in faith for the unction of the Holy Spirit.

In order for the efforts of God's workers to be successful, they must receive that grace, that efficiency, which He alone can give. "Ask, and ye shall receive," is the promise. Then why not take time to ask, to open the mind to the impressions of the Holy Spirit, that the soul may be revived by a fresh supply of life? Christ himself was much in prayer. Whenever He had opportunity, He went apart, to be alone with God. As we bow before God in humble prayer, He places a live coal from His altar on our lips, sanctifying them to the work of giving Bible truth to the people.

I am instructed to say to my fellow workers, If you would have the rich treasures of heaven, you must have secret communion with God. Unless you do this, your soul will be as destitute of the Holy Spirit as were the hills of Gilboa of dew and rain. When you hurry from one thing to another, when you have so much to do that you can not take time to talk with God, how can you expect power in your work?

The reason so many of our ministers preach tame, lifeless discourses is that they allow a variety of things of a worldly nature to take their time and attention. Unless there is constant growth in grace, we shall be wanting in words suitable for the occasion. Commune with your own heart, and then commune with God. Unless you do this, your efforts will be fruitless, made thus by unsanctified hurry and confusion.

Ministers and teachers, let your work be fragrant with rich spiritual grace. Do not make it common by mixing it with common things. Move onward and upward. Cleanse yourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and of the spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of the Lord.

We need to be converted daily. Our prayers should be more fervent; then they will be more effectual. Stronger and stronger should be our confidence that God's Spirit will be with us, making us pure and holy, as upright and fragrant as the cedars of Lebanon.

THE GENERAL CONFERENCE BULLETIN.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., SECOND AND THIRD
QUARTERS, 1902.

"TO EVERY MAN HIS WORK."

THE work has been assigned. It has been allotted by the Master-workman Himself. Our hope for the speedy triumph of the gospel message may, therefore, be sure and steadfast, as far as it is influenced by a perfect plan of campaign. The only element of possible uncertainty is that involved in the attitude of the laborer to the work assigned.

Notice how forcibly this thought is set forth in one of our Lord's most stirring admonitions to diligence in the performance of duty. "For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch." Mark 13:34. If, then, "every man" would just now forever give himself wholly to "his work" appointed by the Master, how soon would the problem of the world's evangelization be solved in the swift and irresistible onward march of the host whom God has called! The plan is perfect. The objective point is determined. The leadership of our General is incomparable. No failure is possible if the men who bear arms in this holy war, faithfully execute the work assigned under the Captain of the Lord's host.

THE UNIVERSAL RESPONSIBILITY.

The responsibility of this campaign does not rest upon a few. We cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that Christ, our Captain, has given "to EVERY man his work." The question of paramount importance to us as individuals is, Have I given myself to the work given me? If every member of "His house" could truthfully answer in the affirmative, the glad chorus of "yeas" would voice the answer of eternity to the problem of the ages.

THE WORK IS VARIED.

Think not, brother, that you are not enlisted in this warfare because you are not engaged in some conventionally recognized form of Christian work. Remember that "He gave to every man his work." Your service is special. Whether it be to take the pulpit or follow the plow, it is your specific work. It may widely differ from the service of your brother, but do not for this reason lose sight of your work or neglect its performance. If you account yourself happily a member of Christ's house, be assured your special work is assigned, and make its performance the business of your life.

When William Carey first began to plead so earnestly for the establishment of Christian missions in heathen lands, he earned his living by repairing shoes. Thus his time was divided between preaching the world-wide gospel, and cobbling shoes.

A friend remonstrated with Carey one day, assuring him that his business was suffering from neglect occasioned by his preaching. To this charge of neglect, the great-hearted man of faith replied, "My business is to extend the kingdom of God. I only cobble shoes to pay expenses." Who would venture to assert that he was not then as truly a missionary of the cross as when he gave his life to service in distant India, regarded by the Christian world as the "Father of modern missions"?

Oh brother, what do you account your real business in this world? Do you live for the one purpose of extending the kingdom of God? Do you till the soil because farming is your business, or do you give it its proper place as a means providentially provided for enabling you to pay expenses while following your high and holy calling?

THE EXAMPLE OF CHRIST.

Since to be a Christian is to be like Christ, is it not clear that we must recognize our duty to God and His work as the first of our obligations? Said Jesus, "My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work." Like the blessed Master, whose we are, and whom we serve, let us join in the grand movement that shall "finish his work," by giving ourselves without reserve to the work He has given to us.

THE DIRECTORY.

As announced in our last number, we present in this issue a revised directory of our denomination. Recent changes in our conference organizations have made imperative a revision of the directory. Much effort has been put forth to secure accurate information concerning our organizations, institutions, and laborers. We trust that the many workers who depend upon this compilation for data, addresses, and general information, will find it a safe and serviceable assistant in the execution of their duties.

It is not claimed that this directory is entirely complete, or its information in every instance perfect. Any one meeting with disappointment in a particular case should charitably bear in mind the fact that it is often a somewhat long and circuitous journey from the local institution to the desk of the one who compiles the directory. The present dimensions of our work make it impossible for us at this office to have personal knowledge of the facts relating to local organizations and institutions. We believe, however, that faithful, painstaking work has been done by the large number who bear their share in the preparation of this directory.

In view of the fact that our General Conference office is not now kept in such close touch with local organizations as prior to the formation of Union Conferences, we would suggest that any omission or inaccuracy in the directory be made known to us by the party interested, that proper corrections may be made in future issues.
