I Am the Way

Jean 14:6" were the eight characters stitched on the sleeve of a volunteer distributing food outside a center of influence in Quebec City, Canada. They were enough to pique the interest of a man living in that largely secular city. The volunteer explained that the characters referred to a Bible text in which Jesus says, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life." The conversation that followed led to the beginning of Bible studies.

In a city where almost 95% of the church membership is made up of recent immigrants, the need for outreach to long-time residents is great. Church members are learning ways to build friendships and confidence with people in their communities. Meilleur Chemin (meaning "best way") is a center of influence that was opened as a means of outreach. Following Christ's method of ministry, the center offers the community free health programs and computer literacy classes for children.

While the center meets the physical needs of the people, the staff hopes to eventually introduce them to Jesus. Pray for centers of influence such as this as they minister to people in their surrounding communities.

VEILED COUNTRY

It Came in a Dream

One night I dreamed that an old woman approached me with money in her hands and asked me to pray for her.

The following day, I saw an old woman taking out her trash. She appeared to be sad. I felt impressed to talk to her, so I walked over. I learned that she was worried about her granddaughter, Nuo*, who was scheduled to have surgery to remove a tumor on her spine. I offered to pray with her and invited her to come to our home that evening for a prayer meeting.

After our prayer time that evening, the woman handed me some money. “You don’t need to pay me,” I said, “but if you want, this money can be an offering.”

After Nuo’s surgery, I visited the family, taking over meals and encouraging them through prayer and Bible study. Nuo can walk now, and she attends our church plant every Sabbath.

Thank you for remembering frontline workers. Through your support, you are partnering with us to share Jesus with many people in this country!

A veiled country is one where the work of the church, our workers, and the people we seek to reach could be endangered if details were released.

VEILED COUNTRY

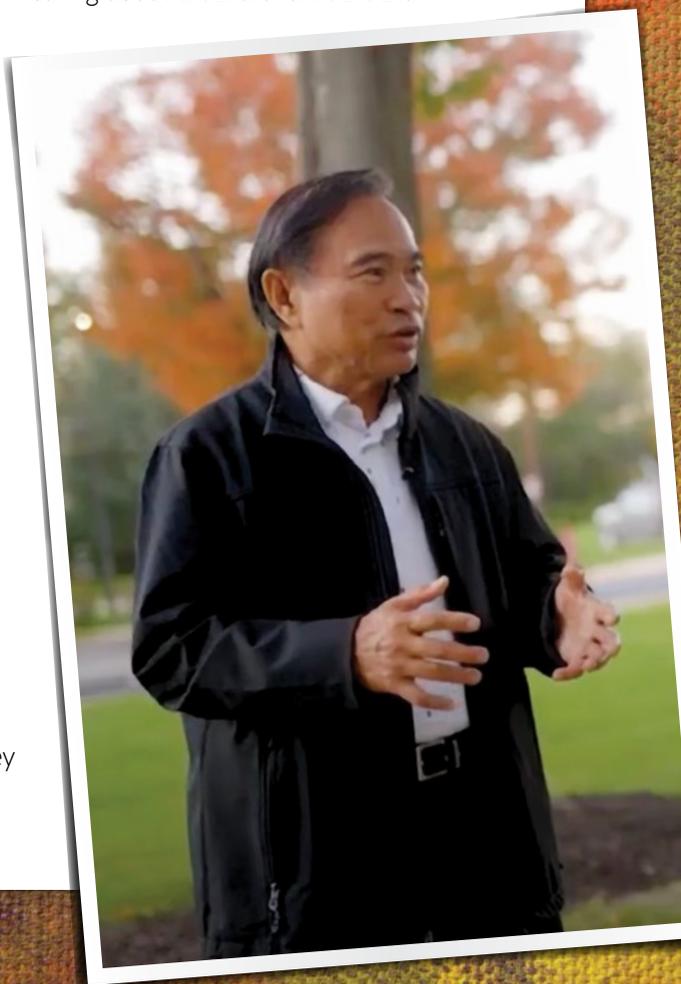

An Exciting Adventure

Dr. Jose Dial and his wife spent some 40 years as missionaries in various nations, including a veiled country which we can't mention without possibly jeopardizing the work there. When asked what it was like to serve in a sensitive country, he responded, "Exciting . . . part of an adventure." He added that it was challenging at times, but that the joy he received from interacting with the people and learning about their culture was fulfilling.

Dr. Dial shared an experience that he had while on a flight. The passenger seated next to him struck up a conversation and the topic turned to religion. The passenger was a religious leader in that area, and he was interested in hearing about Dr. Dial's faith. Dr. Dial shared some Adventist beliefs and principles with the man. His new acquaintance was pleased to learn that their religions had several things in common. Before disembarking, he told Dr. Dial he appreciated their conversation and even embraced him.

The mission of leading people to Christ and training individuals to become effective servant leaders was the passion that motivated Dr. Dial all those years.

Thank you for supporting missionaries around the world as they share their faith with others.

The Unreached Need Your Help!

Dear Friend,

Global Mission pioneers are bringing hope to troubled families around the world as illustrated by this recent story from the Middle East and North Africa region. A pioneer met regularly with a family to study God's Word. They had a nine-month-old daughter named Miray, who wasn't growing normally and was slow in developing motor skills. Doctors said she would never walk.

The pioneer prayed for Miray faithfully. He also helped her parents obtain the special milk and medicines she needed. She didn't get well, but the pioneer kept praying.

One time, when the pioneer and parents were praying together for Miray, the mother prayed a silent prayer: "God, before we take Miray to another costly exam, please show us if this is necessary. If she stands on her own while we're praying, may it be a sign that we don't need to continue testing." Suddenly, Miray not only stood up but also took several steps!

Miray is now two years old and walking everywhere. She is a testimony of God's healing power.

Your prayers and donations make it possible for Global Mission pioneers to share God's love and healing power. Thank you for supporting them and their work.

In His Service,
Laurie Falvo
