TO PRAY AND HEAR

To stretch my hand and touch Him,
Though He be far away;
To raise my eyes and see Him
Through darkness as through day;
To lift my voice and call Him—
This is to pray!

To feel a hand extended
By one who standeth near;
To view the love that shineth
In eyes serene and clear;
To know that He is calling—
This is to hear!

Emmanuel Missionary College

Week of Prayer

This week of April 29 to May 7 was spent as a week of prayer at Emmanuel Missionary College. It was one of the best weeks of prayer that we have had at the college in years. The faculty has been seeking God very earnestly for some time that His Spirit might be manifested in our school in the closing days of the year. We have felt that the good work of the Holy Spirit was needed to convict of sin and to turn to righteousness. A preparation such as God alone can give was needed for those students who are to go forth into God's service this summer, and truly the Lord heard prayer, for at the very beginning of the week there was a special seeking after God manifested by all. As a consequence, early in the week the spirit of confession came in. These confessions were quite largely along the line of criticism and indifference. Carelessness in personal devotion had brought in a weakness of Christian experience which had resulted in many failures. These confessions were definite and heartfelt. A great deal of personal work was done, and as a consequence all our school came onto much higher ground spiritually.

We were favored for a portion of the week with the labors of Elder J. G. Lamson of Grand Rapids. Brother Lamson's plain talks were of great help and his work was much appreciated. As he pointed teachers and students to the Lamb of God an earnest response was given. The time has come when our schools should be citadels of spiritual strength. They should be placed where the power of God is especially manifested as it was anciently in the schools of the prophets. This can only be when the teachers and students are united in serving God in a whole-hearted way. It is only when His righteousness is manifested in the lives of all the individuals of the school that we can truly say that His Spirit does possess and actuate the school.

The year that is closing has been a good year. The Lord has been very gracious to us. Our property has been preserved from fire and from disaster of any kind. The health of the teachers and students has been excellent. We have great reason for gratitude. The prospects for this coming year are very bright. We are receiving many letters from persons who plan to attend college this next year, and we look for the school year of 1921-22 to be the best year in the history of the college, and indeed it should be for the coming of the Lord is nearer and the call for workers in His cause is greater than ever before.

Summer School

Again we call attention to the introduction of new plans at the college. A twelve weeks' course will be given this year in which any classes that are assured of sufficient enrollment to meet expenses will be taught.

The school begins June 1 and ends August 23. If a student can arrange his work to do so, it is possible for him to take a half year of regular school work. The classes will recite six times a week. It will be heavy work, but it can be carried if a student will do sufficient physical work to keep himself in good health. Emmanuel Missionary College is a good place in which to spend these summer weeks. Our young people do not need to slacken their effort to obtain an education, but rather it should be increased, for workers in this cause are needed more than ever before. The King's business indeed requires haste.

The regular summer school for church-school teachers will begin June 28. It closes August 23. The courses of work pursued in the normal training summer school prepare for examinations for certificates for teaching.

It will be a great pleasure to us to correspond with those who are interested in the summer school, and we hope that a large number of our young people will arrange to attend. Catalogues are now ready. Send for one if you have not received it.

enforcement bill. It happily proved to be otherwise, however, for the only legislation regarding work and rest is a bill originating in both houses of the legislature which prohibits the employment of workers for more than six days in the week. It does not indicate what day shall be selected by the employer and employees, that being left to their decision.

H. R. No. 529, defining general libel in such way as to curtail the liberty of speech and of the press, which was before the Michigan legislature during its closing hours, was not passed by that body. I refer to this again because of a misunderstanding on the part of some of our brethren in Michigan.

I had the privilege and pleasure of addressing the Chamber of Commerce of South Bend, Indiana, on May 9 on the subject of "Sabbath Laws, Blue Laws and Americanism," dwelling more specifically upon the subject of "Americanism." The address was received in a very friendly spirit and a cordial invitation extended to visit the Chamber of Commerce again at some future time.

No preventing providence, I am expecting to attend the camp-meetings of the Union. S. B. HORTON

A Look Into the Old People's Home

A few days ago the James White Memorial Home board had a session at the James White Memorial

Miss Myers of Ohio and Mrs. Yeager of Indiana

Home in Plainwell. While there the writer took occasion to make a few pictures of the old people who are now in the home. I am placing some of these before the readers of the LAKE UNION HERALD so you may have some idea of the good that is being done.

A Group of Old People at the Home

The man with the saw in his hand is one of the latest to come to the home. He seems to be a splendid man and will assist us some this summer in the building operations as we endeavor to make room for more inmates. The two ladies you see sitting on the steps are among the inmates, one, a Miss Myers from Ohio and the other a Mrs. Yeager from Indiana. It would do your heart good to see these dear old people as they gather in the parlor for worship and to see how they appreciate the truths presented to them. A visit to the home will convince you that it is a much-needed institution in our midst. May the Lord greatly bless us in our efforts to take care of the old people and make their last days among their best. Wm. GUTHRIE

An Experience

"He who in his work meets with trials and temptations, should profit by these experiences, learning to lean more decidedly upon God. He should feel his dependence every moment."—Testimonies for the Church, Vol. VI, page 334.

This conviction deepened sometime ago as a result of an experience I had while canvassing. I left the College for a near-by town one afternoon with high hopes of receiving several orders for my book. Ten minutes after I stepped off the car my prospects were very bright for I had received an order at the first house. Full of confidence, I turned to go to the next place and it was here that I had this very interesting experience—one that I shall never forget.

In response to about the third knock, a woman came and opened the door about seven inches. Then in an icy tone, "What is your business?" she demanded.

"I am engaged in Christian work, and have called to speak with you for a few —"

Right here I was interrupted by the door being closed with considerable noise for having only seven inches to go, and I heard the woman say "Oh, well, we are Christians here."

It is strange what some people who claim to be Christians will sometimes do, but my thoughts, as I left, were not evil toward this family, but rather that if this act corresponded to the amount of Christianity they had, they would become better Christians. The door had been shut in my face; and for the next few days this home was remembered in my prayers.

A few days later as I was passing the place, I was impressed to stop, and so turned into the yard. It seemed that the Lord was leading the way, when in response to only one knock at the door, I heard someone coming. As the door opened, I said, "Pardon me, Mrs. ———, but I thought as I was passing, I would stop and speak with you for just a few minutes. I realize you were busy when I called the other day and could not spare the time, but I am supposed to call at every home here in the interest of Bible study. If I may step in, I will take only a few minutes of your time, and it will save my coming back again."

"All right," she answered, "come right in. I am just as busy today, but will give you a few minutes of my time."

As I began to explain that my work was to help the people to study the Bible, I asked her what church she belonged to. In answer she told me that she did not belong to any church because none of them she knew of seemed to follow all of the Bible; but she said, "I am trying to do what I think is right."

Then she told me she had a Bible but did not understand it. I showed her the book which I believed would be a help along this line, and she ordered a copy of "Bible Readings," in the full leather binding on which she made an advance payment. As I was turning to go she said, "I am certainly glad you called the second time."

The other day I delivered the book to this woman, and she seemed very glad to get it.

Now, why did I have to go back the second time? I believe this experience was meant to teach me that if I would "lean more decidedly upon God" I would have better success.

W. I. COLEMAN

"O God, help me to really be what I want other people to think I am."

"Nothing that anyone else does really matters; it is what you do that will count."

ONE OF THE SWEET OLD CHAPTERS

"One of the sweet old chapters,
After a day like this
The day brought tears and troubles,
The evening brings no kiss,
Nor rest in the arms I long for,— Rest and refuge and home:
Grieved and lonely and weary,
Unto the Book I come.

"One of the sweet old chapters,—
The love that blossoms through
His care of the birds and lilies
Out in the meadow dew.
His evening lies soft around them,
Their faith is only—to be;
Ah! hushed by the tender lesson,
My God, let me rest in Thee!"

Cedar Lake News Notes

From reports we are receiving, we believe that our people in North Michigan are quite generally pleased with the arrangement for holding the camp-meeting at the academy. The school where we place our boys and girls for nine months out of the year ought to be and is very near to our hearts. Many of our people in the conference, and even some who have been sending their young people here, have never seen the school. We believe that a visit to the school at this annual season will lead us all to value more this institution the Lord has given us for the salvation and training of our youth. The school and local church extend a warm welcome to all our brethren throughout the field.

During Big Week the school was closed on Wednesday. Several autos took students and teachers to near-by towns and through the country. The total sales of small books for the day were $61.50.

During a recent chapel hour the principal presented before the students and teachers the need of funds to complete the building of the new barn. In a short time $40 was raised to help forward this important work. It will interest our brethren to hear that those who are working on the new barn are, to a man, putting forth every effort to carry the work through with the least amount of funds. The writer has been connected with different building projects and he has never seen more faithful and enthusiastic workmen. The purchasing of materials is having very careful thought and everything possible is being done to minimize the expense. When these lines are being read, the barn will probably be completed with the exception of the basement. Here there will be floors and equipment yet to install.

The second twelfth-grade graduating class from Cedar Lake has twelve members. These young people are earnest Christians, and they are going forth from our doors, some for advanced training and others directly into the Lord's work. Our juniors number twenty-three and nearly all are planning to return next year. They have set a goal of twenty-five for their graduation class next year.

It is difficult to secure teachers for our church schools. There is a dearth in this line. The academy board, realizing this, has voted to open a normal department in the academy the coming year. We are sure many of our young people will take advantage of this opportunity for a teacher's training.

A short visit from Professor Fattic recently was much appreciated. Other recent visitors have been Miss Morey, North Michigan educational secretary, Brother and Sister Collins and Brother and Sister Medford of Mt. Pleasant, Miss Thora Nelson, Elder W. P. Elliott, and Brother and Sister Bert Smith of Holland.

Evening after Sabbath, May 14, Mrs. Orpha Root-Ford and Miss Vera Smith gave a piano and voice graduation recital in the chapel. The platform was artistically decorated, and the program was a real success.

News Notes

The conference office closed Thursday, May 12, for field day of the Big Week. A good time generally was reported, and we believe resulted in the circulation of quite an amount of literature and the bringing in of a good sum for our Big Week offering.

Brother E. C. Townsend, our home missionary secretary, has accepted a call to the Ohio Conference and leaves us the first of June.

Brother Herbert Lockwood, recently of the Review and Herald, has accepted a call to the International Branch of the Pacific Press. He is to take the position as foreman of the press-room.

Elder Louis Passebois made a visit to our conference Sabbath and Sunday, May 14 and 15. He spoke to the Brookfield and Broadview churches.

A chorus made up of individuals from Broadview, Brookfield, and Hinsdale rendered a sacred cantata, Esther, at the town hall in La Grange, Tuesday, May 17.

Big Week

In company with Brother T. S. Copeland, it was my privilege to spend Big Week in the field with the prospectus, and I certainly enjoyed the experience. We called at practically every home in two towns and found the people very friendly and a great many were ready to place their order for the book which was presented to them.

Our total sales for the week amounted to $403.50, and the profits for the big day to help build that African publishing house were $80.40. Truly one going from house to house placing the printed page in the homes of the people, has a wonderful experience and can see the Lord working for him in a very special manner. We surely enjoyed the experience and are looking forward to the next Big Week, when we hope to be able to get out again and share the good experiences which the colporteurs have each week.

A Colporteur's Experience

This week I gave a lady a canvass. She became very much interested and wanted one of the books, but desired to have her husband see the book. She asked if I could not come back after six o'clock when her husband, the principal of the high school, would be home. I told her I would come back at that time if I could stay all night. She assured me I could stay. When the time came I hurried back and found her husband at the barn. I helped him do the chores. After supper he enquired about my work. He said, "I see you are well posted on the Bible. I would like to ask you one question, What do you think about evolution? How long did it take God to create the world? Science tells us it took millions of years." I asked for a Bible and read the first chapter of Genesis, showing that the evening and the morning constituted a day. He could see that the Bible did not agree with the teachings of men, so God must be right and men wrong. He asked for an explanation of different parts of the Book of Revelation. He then said, "I see from your explanation that you do not believe in keeping Sunday." I told them that I kept the Sabbath (the seventh day). He and his wife wondered why their minister had not told them this. They said, "Surely this is the Bible truth this man has been telling us." They became so interested in the Bible study that it was one o'clock before we realized it. They seemed hungry for the truth. It seems wonderful the way the Lord leads the colporteur. I have sent this man and his wife "Daniel and the Revelation," and "Bible Readings," and some tracts.

News Notes

We quote from a recent letter: "Dear Sirs: I saw a book published by you, 'Our Day in the Light of Prophecy.' I do not know the price of it, but wish you would send me one by parcel post, C. O. D., or let me know the price of it and I will send the money. If you have any more books on this subject let me know."

We are now ready to fill all orders for Leaves of Autumn. We have a good supply on hand and more coming. Send in the orders and help scatter the Leaves of Autumn.

Have you renewed your club of Signs Weekly? Read this and we are sure you will not delay: "A leading physician has begun to keep the Sabbath, also, an entire family has returned to the truth in South Dakota as a result of the Sabbath Special Signs."

Does the good old Review pay its weekly visit to your home? If it does not you are missing one of the grandest treats of your life. We cannot see how you can be without it.

Camp-meeting for North Wisconsin will be held in Ashland, June 16-26. Will you be there? Have you ordered your tent? Do not delay. Send in your order early and avoid the rush and confusion at the last minute. We are expecting a feast of good things, so be there to enjoy this feast. We shall have a good supply of our literature on hand and will try to supply all your needs.

Eldorado, Harrisburg and Herrin

The work is onward in this section of the Lord's vineyard. There is no church organization in either Harrisburg or Eldorado, but the believers in Harrisburg meet with those in Eldorado for Sabbath school at 1:30 P. M. With the writer, there were twelve adults present yesterday, and the Lord met with us.

After the service, I went to the city with the idea of finding a suitable location for a tent effort following the one now planned for Harrisburg. The brethren at Harrisburg feel that inasmuch as hundreds of dollars' worth of our books have been sold there, an effort will be profitable. Brother Larger and his faithful companion have done creditable work in this part. Brother Frank Hiner took orders for and delivered $150 worth of "Great Controversy" during the evenings of three days last week, and plans to give the entire profits to the publishing work. These orders were taken from bankers and doctors.

Nearly all of our brethren in the south portion of the state expect to attend the general meeting to be held in Duquoin May 20-22. Brother and Sister Edward Creal of Harrisburg are planning to enter the canvassing work soon.

The school at Duquoin will close May 21. Several of the young ladies who have been attending school expect to be at Fox River Academy next year. We plan to have baptism during the general meeting at Duquoin.

In spite of the rainy days last week, Brother Watson and Brother Morse each sold over $120 worth of books around Benton. While on the train en route for Eldorado, I passed out a few 25 cent magazines with a word or two of explanation, and soon three different persons handed me the price for them. Let us all do our bit in spreading the message. J. D. REAVIS

Camp-Meeting

An elder of a church which raised $1.32 per week for each member for missions for 1920, and has started on the same program for the first three months of 1921, said to me when I asked if he is planning to attend camp-meeting: "Yes, I figure it is worth more to me to seek God at these spiritual gatherings than my business would be worth to me for the few days that I am away from it." Now I believe, dear people, if we all count the cost as this dear brother, we shall find it to our present and eternal interest to attend these special gatherings. I have noticed in my experience with our people that the majority of those who prosper, along business lines are faithful attendants at the camp-meeting as well as being faithful in tithes and offerings. This is as it should be; there is nothing to be lost when we fulfill our part in the covenant which God makes with us. He has said, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse . . . and I will pour you out a blessing." Every faithful child testifies that God is faithful. It is just so in attending camp-meeting. The spirit of prophecy says: "The object of a camp-meeting is to lead all to separate from business cares and burdens and devote a few days exclusively to seeking the Lord." One thing above all others which we need is to seek the Lord. He has promised by the prophet Jeremiah, "Ye shall seek Me and find me when ye search for Me with all your heart." Let us turn now with our whole heart toward the Lord, asking Him to help us that we may plan our work so that we may be able to spend the few days between June 9 and 19 at Monona Park in Madison where we may all together seek Him for a great spiritual revival, which I am sure we all need. If we come hungering and thirsting, God will be there to fill our souls.

Bethel Note

By the time this number of the HERALD reaches the homes in South Wisconsin, Bethel Academy will have closed its doors and the school year of 1920-21 will have forever passed. Eighteen young people will have finished their course and moved on. Several of these go to summer school and from thence to the elementary schools of this conference as teachers. Some are planning to attend our advanced schools. At least two of them will go into the colporteur work this summer.

A Word to South Wisconsin Believers

Although I have gone from South Wisconsin, I have another word to say to the people of that conference. During the five years I worked there it was a pleasure to meet with our people, and I truly appreciate the cooperation given me in the Sabbath school and Missionary Volunteer work. I shall long remember the kind friends and the pleasant, hospitable homes where I have been.

You have learned some time before this that Mrs. Augusta B. Jorgensen is now your conference Sabbath school secretary; and that Mr. L. G. Jorgensen is your Missionary Volunteer secretary. I ask that you give them the same hearty support and cooperation that you gave me.

At present I am connected with the Indiana Conference, but I shall continue to be interested in the progress of the Lord's cause in South Wisconsin. I wish to call the attention of the Junior and Senior Missionary Volunteers to their goal for 1921. Upon comparing this with that of other conferences of the Union, you will notice that it has been placed high, because we knew you were able to achieve much. The last Sabbath school reports (for the first quarter) were especially gratifying. Many of them were the best I ever received for the first quarter. Some were better than even the fourth quarter which is usually considered the best for the year.

May the Lord bless and prosper you in your efforts to finish His work in the earth.

An Urgent Appeal

Every year at the close of school hundreds of young men and women volunteer for our colporteur work. Through the country, towns, and cities they scattered our truth-filled literature, and many have accepted the truth, and in some places churches have sprung up. This work, besides being the means of saving souls, has proved valuable to the students in many ways. It gives them a broader vision of the world's great need, and develops courage, self-reliance, and leadership. Besides being an important educational factor, the way is made possible for many of our youth to attend school who would not otherwise be able to go. To the work of the school it is also of value, for the students return from the field better acquainted with their needs and in a better position to get out of the school work that which will make them trained workers in the cause of God.

Since we appreciate the faithful labors of these students, the school, the local conference, and the publishing house make special concession to them. This year we are glad to welcome into our field in South Wisconsin a large number of students from our college and academies. Most of them will remain in the field twelve weeks or more, and we believe our members will help in finding suitable headquarters for them, where they can spend the Sabbath with our own people. They are our young people and we want to treat them the same as though they were our very own boys and girls.

Many of our members are not in a position to enter the field themselves, but they can open their homes for our students, and thus share in the reward of those who give their all to the Master's cause. Since the importance of securing proper homes for our young people cannot be too strongly emphasized, I appeal to our members through the HERALD to come to our assistance. I thank our people who have assisted in the past. You will enjoy having young people with you over Sabbath. It will encourage them and you will help hasten the message and our Lord's return. Those who can assist us in this way the coming season, will kindly write me as soon as possible at 260 Washington Building, Madison, Wis.

News Notes

Sabbath, May 21, will be Sabbath school Investment Day in all the churches. A program has been sent out to the Sabbath school superintendents. This program is intended to take the place of the regular church service for that day. We hope old and young will set aside something definite "for the Master's use."

Mr. Jorgensen recently visited Baraboo and Ft. Atkinson churches. He left last week for a ten-day trip, visiting nine churches.

Most of the church schools are closing this month. Tired teachers and pupils will appreciate these next three months of vacation.

The Moon Sabbath school reached twenty-eight cents per member for the first quarter. They have set their goal high enough this quarter to pass their goal of thirty cents.

Do you want to keep in touch with the progress of Christian education, its methods for both home and school? Then send in your subscription for our magazine, Christian Education, for one year, $1.50.

Remember camp-meeting, June 9-19. Prices of tents and supplies are as follows: Tents, according to size and quality, $3.50, $4, $4.50; chairs, each, 15 cents (2 for 25 cents); tables, large, 50 cents; tables, small, 35 cents; double springs, 75 cents; spring cots, 60 cents; cotton cots, 50 cents; lumber, per thousand, $20; lumber, per foot, 2 cents.

Have you paid your South Wisconsin Relief pledge? We should like to have all the pledges in before camp-meeting if possible. May we hear from you? Thank you.

Leaves of Autumn are being scattered throughout South Wisconsin. This is evident from the number of orders we have filled from the office. What has your church done? Put up in packages of 1,000 they are $3.50. Sold only in quantities of 1,000. When shall we hear from you?

News Notes

The following churches failed to send in a home missionary report for the month of April: Allendale, Covert, Decatur, Grand Haven, Maple Grove, Otsego, North Liberty, Wright, and West LeRoy. There was a promise made that all churches failing to report for April would have their names published. There were more missing ones than any previous month thus far in 1921.

The union meeting at Kalamazoo Sabbath, May 7, was a grand success. Fully three hundred were in attendance.

There will be a union meeting in Grand Rapids Sabbath, June 4, to which all near-by churches are cordially invited. Plan to stay all day, bringing your lunch.

The Battle Creek Academy observed Wednesday of Big Week by going out with the Big Week Signs. They report very encouraging experiences.

We just closed the last institute of the year at Cedar Lake. It began on Sabbath, May 7, and closed on Wednesday with solicitations for the publishing houses in foreign lands. Those present giving instruction were J. W. Davis, Hugh Stearns, G. H. Barbee, and H. P. Bloum. About twenty-five from that school are planning to enter the field this year. West Michigan will have about ten of this number.

The colporteur work is looking up in West Michigan. There are at present six who are reporting weekly and we look forward to an exceptionally good year during 1921. All who are interested in this branch of our departmental work, we encourage to write to the field secretary of West Michigan.

Last Sabbath Elder and Mrs. Piper, Elder Shadel, and Brother Bloum met with Eaton Rapids church in the forenoon and with the young people's society at Charlotte in the afternoon. Excellent meetings are reported. About seventy of the small books were left with the different members of these two churches and a number of the Special Signs which the people are planning to sell for the benefit of our publishing work in Africa. Although the Big Week is over, let not the good work stop.

The conference committee met at Battle Creek Monday, May 16, at which time plans were definitely laid for the tent meetings for the summer. The program will probably be announced in next week's HERALD.

Brother Walter P. Elliott has been asked to look after the work in Holland, necessitating his giving up the young people's work in the conference. The committee invited Gordon H. Smith of Quebec, Canada, to take up this work. Brother Smith has already shipped his goods and will be in the conference soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Green and Miss Grace Amadon were in the conference office Monday of last week in counsel with Elder Piper, Professor Lamson, and others.

Elder and Mrs. Serns, Mrs. Nielsen, and Mrs. Hansen from Battle Creek motored over to Grand Rapids and were callers at the office last week.

Elder Piper met with South Bend church recently in counsel over their proposed new church building and schoolroom.

Miss Carolyn Rasmusson is meeting with the different school boards, making plans for teachers and school work during the coming year.

Office Address, 417-421 Castle Hall Bldg., E. Ohio St.
Indianapolis, Ind.
President, C. S. Wiest

Notice

Those who are planning to attend the camp-meeting which convenes at Cicero, June 2-12, coming on the interurban, can either stop at Cicero station or at Midland. Those with trunks should go to the town station, but those who have only hand baggage could stop at the station called Midland and they will have less than one-fourth of a mile to walk. Limited trains, however, do not stop at Midland. Only local trains.

We shall try to make special arrangements for taxi service, and all trunks will be handled the same as last year. The Indiana academy will take care of all baggage you wish transferred. Do not give your trunk checks to any one at the station, but hand them to the one appointed who will have his headquarters at the book-tent. We will charge 15 cents for one trunk, or round trip transfer for 25 cents.

Sabbath School Work

Fifty-five schools reported the first quarter of 1921. The membership and attendance has increased nearly one hundred. Six members made a perfect yearly record in attendance and daily study, while one hundred ninety-four were entitled to the perfect record card of honor for the quarter. One hundred and two children could repeat all the memory verses for the quarter.

The membership of the Home Department in the local schools is one hundred and two. Seventy-three isolated ones reported to the Conference Sabbath school. The total offering given by the Home Department members were $263.99.

Fourteen schools reached the membership goal; fourteen the weekly financial goal while only four made the thirteenth Sabbath Double Dollar Day.

Our total offerings were $5,188.64, which is $1,967.86 short of the 30 cent goal.

Our schools have sixteen working points. A school earning 12 or more points is rated first grade. The schools reaching this splendid standard are Anderson, Crawfordsville, Evansville, Greenfield, Indianapolis Union, Indianapolis West Street, Joy, Middletown, Peru, and Richmond No. 2. Joy has 15 of the 16 points, Richmond No. 2 has 14 while Indianapolis Union 13 points. At camp-meeting a large wheel will represent the Sabbath school work of our conference. Each school will be a spoke in the wheel. We trust every one will be a first rate spoke so the conference wheel will do good service for the Master.

EDITH SHEPARD

Indiana Academy Items

Professor Fattic made us a short visit the past week.

Dr. Simmons and Elder Starr spent a night at the school. We were glad for their good words at chapel and evening worship.

Elder Matt J. Allen was in Cicero on business concerning the coming camp-meeting.

The barn and farmhouse are painted. The white buildings add to the beauty of the landscape.

The farm set out a thousand strawberry plants recently and much in the line of small fruits, which foretells good things for another year.

The tent effort in Cicero seems to have aroused considerable interest. The meetings are well attended and much discussed. The student choir and orchestra are helping out in the music, and Elder D. C. Newbold is giving the series of lectures.

The juniors entertained the seniors at the home of Edith Jones on Monday evening, May 9. A pleasant time was reported. On Thursday the seniors gave a picnic for the juniors.

The Big Week did not pass unobserved at the school. Brother Bryan took a group of boys to Noblesville on Wednesday. On Thursday the girls canvassed Tipton. The amount gathered will add to the quota for the goal set.

Howard Buck's father of Kokomo made the school a visit last Sunday. About 10:30 A. M. the whir of an airplane was heard coming from the north and soon it was circling above the school homes. It landed in a field near by and out stepped Mr. Buck, having made the trip in seventeen minutes, a distance of about twenty-eight miles. Several from the school made flights, circling about the village at a height of 2,800 feet.

Under the direction of our farm manager, Mr. C. J. Harris, considerable tiling has been done of late. The old tile has been cleaned out on the bottom fields, new lines have been laid, and altogether it has added much to the value of our land.

Special Camp-Meeting Music

Big plans are being completed for special music at all of the important meetings that will be held in the large tent and also for the young people's meetings.

Several good singers and musicians will be present with us this year, furnishing solos, duets, trios, and quartets, both vocal and instrumental.

Names are coming in daily for the choir list, and in reply to the many inquiries I am happy to announce the use of Hall-Mack's new book, "Jubilate," especially adapted for choir and special songs. A limited supply of these books has been ordered and may be obtained in various bindings at the book-tent.

Our special "camp-meeting song" for every one will be "Love Lifted Me," which is loved by all who know and hear it.

I again urge all to bring their "Christ in Song" for congregational singing, and learn Psalms one hundred, that we may "serve the Lord with gladness, and come before His presence with singing."

Among the School

On May 11, I met with the school board in Pontiac and found a live interest in the school work. Their school is outgrowing its present quarters, and plans were laid to remodel to make more room for next year. This school has purchased a fine set of maps which contain an up-to-date map of Europe. A pencil sharpener was secured through the efforts of the pupils.

On May 12, we held a meeting in Jackson at which plans were laid to perfect the organization of the Parent-Teacher's Association which will carry on definite work during the summer in the interests of the school.

Sabbath, May 14, a strong effort was made in Lansing to emphasize the importance of our church-school work. G. R. Fattic spoke to large, attentive audiences in both forenoon and afternoon services. He said:

"Our greatest danger is not apostasy, but rather that we may fall asleep and wake up when it is too late. Our ministers labor to bring new believers in through the front door; but we fail to notice our young people slipping away from us through the back door. Our schools are ordained of God to save our children and young people. Are we going to go to sleep and make no plan to save our very own."

Lansing has a fine new school building which seats thirty pupils. Here Miss Boat has been teaching grades three to eight; there was no room for first and second grades. There are about seventy-five children and young people of school age in this church. Steps are to be taken to provide that all these may be sheltered in what God calls, "a city of refuge for the tempted youth,—our schools."

From Lansing I went to Saginaw. Here a very successful school is being conducted by Savilla Birmingham. The school board here is laying plans to redecorate the inside of the schoolroom and to make various other improvements.

God is blessing our elementary school work in East Michigan. Quite a number of our boys and girls have been baptized as a direct result of the work of faithful, consecrated teachers. We desire to see greater results accomplished through the avenue of our schools.

M. V. Work at Bay City.

Sometime ago I mentioned in my report of M. V. Week that the Missionary Volunteer work at Bay City had been advancing slowly for the past few months, but is now taking a new start.

Sabbath, May 7, it was again the writer's privilege to meet with the Bay City church and organize the young people for service. Every young person showed a keen interest and with enthusiasm signed the pledge.

The church also manifested its interest by offering to buy all necessary supplies for the young people. An offering was taken, and beside the amount required for the supplies there was a nice sum left for the young people to use in their missionary enterprises.

Our Bay City brethren are also taking a deep interest in the Sabbath-school work. During the first quarter of the year their Sabbath school secured $309.80, or 37 2/3 cents per member per week. For this quarter they have set their Sabbath-school goal for $350. From the present outlook they will go away beyond this goal.

Realizing the financial conditions which exist in our cities at this time, I inquired of a number of the members how it was possible for the church to do this. The answer that came from all was that the Lord was wonderfully blessing and prospering them because they were making real sacrifices for Him. I wish that it might be possible for all members of our Sabbath schools to say the same—that the Lord has blessed and prospered them because they have sacrificed.

Harvest Ingathering Magazine

As I write this, I am looking at the front cover page of the Harvest Ingathering magazine for 1921. This came to my desk yesterday from the Southern Publishing house. It certainly is a work of art. The same superior style of workmanship that has marked the production of former Ingathering magazines has been not only maintained this year, but very largely increased. I do not know of any other magazine published by anyone for any purpose that equals the appearance of this magazine that will be used this year for our Ingathering work.

The articles in the magazine come from missionaries in all parts of the world. Most of them are short and right to the point. These articles are connected with original photographs of heathen peoples from every land and every clime—from the arctic regions to the torrid zone, from the low lands to the Andes heights.

Every one of these articles breathes the spirit of advance, so that those to whom we shall hand this paper can catch the inspiration of the forward march of our movement. An article by our General Conference president, A. G. Daniells, entitled, "Present World Situation Proclaims the End Near," is intensely interesting and thoroughly instructive.

Our Home Missionary Department is not neglected, but is given considerable prominence. In connection with this home missionary work, "The Stranger Within Our Gates," is called to our attention, so that all may know that we are working for those who need Christ in their lives, whether it be at home or abroad.

The last part of the magazines shows the picture of all our large publishing houses and gives the information that in these houses the message that we love is being printed in 101 languages in the form of 138 periodicals, 645 books, 409 pamphlets, 1,823 tracts, and adds the information that the aggregate cost of a sample copy of each at the retail price would be $812.53. Surely with so large a work and magnificent medium by which to present the knowledge of this work to the people, we, the lay-members and ministering force of the Adventist faith, can go out this year and bring in, not only a large fund for the advancement of the cause, but many souls for the kingdom of God.

News Notes

Brother Brodt has just returned to the office from his Big Week experience. He spent the week at Lansing, and the Lord gave him $245 worth of orders.

Elder Westworth was with the Detroit Colored church Sabbath, May 14. The congregation is growing rapidly and will soon be in the new church home.

Brother Hall spent Sabbath, May 14, with Detroit West Side.

Elder Gaede is getting a firm hold upon the Detroit German situation and has now commenced some evening meetings in a church building that has been rented. Brother Gaede's residence number is 5911 Bewick Street. Anyone having German friends in Detroit, please direct them to these meetings, also send Brother Gaede their names and addresses.

Elder Wilbur is conducting a school of health in connection with the tabernacle effort in Detroit. More than sixty people are enthusiastic members of this class, and a growing interest is apparent. Much is hoped for as a result of this department of the effort.

The men of the office force, together with some of the academy teachers, have just engaged in some strenuous physical labor. The camp-meeting equipment has been loaded and shipped to Lansing for our forthcoming yearly convocation.

Elder Westworth reports as a result of the recent meeting at the Plainwell old folks' home, that a much-needed addition will be built to accommodate the long-waiting list this institution has. Inasmuch as the two-per-cent is used very largely for the support of this home, our people should be faithful in this part of their giving.

The series of evangelistic meetings will start June 5 in the big tent at Lansing. These meetings will be conducted during the time of the erection of the camp, also all the night sessions of the camp-meeting period and those evenings immediately following while the camp is being taken down. These meetings are to be in charge of the evangelistic force of the conference. All conference laborers will be present.

Sabbath, May 14, Brother Bunker met with the St. Charles church. The hour of the morning service was turned over to the young people, and they gave a very interesting and well-prepared program. Brother Stevenson, the M. V. leader, is conducting a Standard of Attainment class in connection with the society and every one is taking hold with enthusiasm. In the afternoon, Brother Bunker spoke to the young people and every one showed a keen interest. We believe that the M. V. Society at St. Charles has an exceptionally bright future.

Elder McComas has a large baptismal class. The exact number of this class cannot be told at this time, but the baptism will occur before the camp-meeting.

Elder Sherrig reports sixteen baptisms at Flint, May 7, also another class will be baptized at St. Charles as the result of the meetings held there last winter, and six are waiting for baptism at Saginaw.

Elder Wilbur, on May 14, baptized a class of fifteen at Prattville.

Elder Dudley is now finishing instruction to a large class that will be baptized just before camp-meeting begins.

Adelphian Academy Items

The latest improvement at Adelphian is a battery of powerful lamps placed on the flagpole of the academy building, high above the campus. These lamps light up the entire campus and surrounding neighborhood. Games are enjoyed in the evenings by means of this "artificial moonlight."

The Big Day was observed by the academy, May 11. Although the industrial depression has affected our

The Biggest Thing in Sight

From a numerical viewpoint the circulation of the Leaves of Autumn Series of tracts at the present time eclipses every other literature enterprise in which we are engaged. In three months the printing orders have climbed up to the four million mark. Last week orders for 75,000 were received at the South Bend depository, making the total for the Lake Union 344,000 to date. This is the second largest Union Conference in the world, but several other unions are ahead of us in this Leaves of Autumn campaign. One man in New York has ordered 15,000 to date. The price is low—only a third of a cent each—but each tract is as large as the ordinary eight-page tract in the Words of Truth Series. At this price everyone can afford to use them freely. Scatter the Leaves every day. Keep them falling everywhere. Remember our goal, "A Million in the Lake Union this Year." Sold only in packages of one thousand copies—one hundred each of ten different topics. Price $3.50 postpaid. Order a package today from your tract society.

Can You Explain and Defend Your Principles?

You can be a Christian without taking part in the fight against Sunday legislation, but unless you are doing something to help forestall the enactment and enforcement of unjust and unnecessary Sunday laws, you are surely not doing your full duty at this time. The issue before us is a serious one. Strong men are pushing the issue and the people do not understand that it is really the first step toward a union of church and state. They see in it only a civil rest day for tired laborers. Perhaps you cannot stop to explain this to everyone you meet, but you should be well informed on the subject and should be helping others to a correct understanding of it. If you cannot talk as intelligently about this issue as you would like, get a few copies of Elder Longacre's new book, "Freedom," and let them talk for you. Twenty-one thousand copies have already been sold in the Lake Union. You don't have to sell the book, simply show it and your neighbors will readily purchase. Order a supply today. Better explain now than when forced to in court because you have broken the law.

J. D. SNIDER

"If thou couldst trust, poor soul,
In Him who rules the whole,
Thou wouldst find peace and rest;
Wisdom and sight are well, but trust is best."

To have the power to forgive
Is empire and prerogative;
And 'tis in crowns a nobler gem,
To grant a pardon than condemn.
