Why A Colporteur Sabbath

By C. E. Weeks

"MAN'S EXTREMITY is God's opportunity." It was in recognition of this fact that our first special Colporteur Sabbath was planned. Over in one of the countries of Central Europe where persecution and imprisonment are the common lot of the colporteur, the outlook was dark indeed at one time in their experience. It looked as though our colporteur work would suffer seriously unless the Lord in a special way interposed. In a council of leaders in that field it was felt that we should call the attention of our people throughout the field to the situation faced by setting apart a special day of prayer for the literature ministry. God did hear and He has worked marvelously for our colporteurs in that field. The enemy of God's work recognizes the influence of the printed page in bringing the light of truth to a world in darkness, and he is doing all in his power to close doors which have been open to us. In one large section of our world field where thousands, yes, tens of thousands of our people live, and where our believers have been very active in the sale of our literature, government edict has robbed our laity of the privilege of selling our literature. Naturally this has come as a great blow to our churches and to our work in that field. While our regular colporteurs in that field can still carry forward their work, we know not how soon serious restrictions will come to them. History is being made fast these days, and suddenly we can face a real crisis in our colporteur ministry. Never has there been such a time as this to gather fruitage from the literature ministry. Since starting this brief article a report has been placed on my desk which comes from a far field. It is for the month of May, and it says that it is the best thus far this year. Along with the fine report given in hours, and orders, and dollars comes this still better part:

"The greatest joy that comes to us is the joy of souls being saved, men and women being snatched from the burning. Information has recently come to hand that one good colporteur, who has been working two or three years, has done splendid spiritual work, and already thirty-eight have been baptized as a result of his pioneer evangelistic canvassing. Only last week two more families took their stand, and eleven new faces are seen at the church as the result."

Here is a sample of the work being done by evangelistic canvassing in all parts of the world field. Just think of it, only two or three years ago this brother went a-warring at his own charges; today a nice church of thirty-eight is the result. What an opportunity for service our colporteur ministry offers to hundreds, yes, thousands, of our dear people. Depleted treasuries, reduced mission budgets, have nothing to do with the number colporteur work in any part of the world. But we know that God still rules, and that He can keep doors open and open new doors to us.

In Esther's day the outlook for the cause of God was dark indeed. But God's people took advantage of the opportunities which were theirs in prayer and fasting; God in a marvelous way worked, and a door right in to the palace of the King was opened. This same God who ruled then rules today and has His hand over His work.

We are glad that this special day has been set apart for prayer for our that can engage in this fruitful work. In the above case these thirty-eight, brought into the message through the efforts of the self-supporting colporteur, have doubtless in turn become tithe payers, and offering givers, thus bringing added financial strength to the conference where they are living.

Surely it is fitting that on this day, the attention of our people throughout the world field should be called in a special way to this work, that our people should unitedly join in praying for the colporteurs now in the field and for the blessing of God to rest on the literature already in the homes. And let us pray that He will send many more laborers into this very fruitful field of service.

Experiences

Wisconsin: "My summer's work is done. As I look back over the weeks spent in sun and wind and rain, I have no regrets. I enjoyed my work greatly, and I hope it will not be without fruit. I am looking forward to a successful school year, but with the hope of being in the field again next summer."

Illinois: "A lady who conducts a kindergarten was impressed with 'Bedtime Stories,' and asked me to call back, suggesting that she would give me a list of parents whose children were in her school. I received an order from a Sunday school teacher, which I feel will help in selling 'Bible Readings.' I feel more than ever the need of this work, and appreciate its blessings in preparing for higher service."

Indiana: "Mr. Stoner sold a Bible to a family on a payment plan, and I called to get the payments for him. On my last trip, I took with me a full copy of 'Bible Readings.' They purchased it at once, and upon visiting them the following Sunday, I found the man of the house giving a Bible study to the family and a Catholic lady, who had come to visit them. They asked me a number of questions about my faith, and in the course of conversation, I invited both families to come to church the next Sabbath. They came and were much interested in the Sabbath school lesson and also the after meeting. They have requested the elder of our church to conduct Bible studies in their home each week. Please remember in your prayers these two families, numbering ten altogether, that they will finally accept the message."

Michigan: "I called at a home where two quite elderly ladies resided, after the neighbor had suggested that she didn't think it would be expedient, for I felt that all souls are precious in God's sight. It was a joy to meet the dear souls who so graciously received me into their home, and to observe their reaction to the canvass as the spirit of God came in, impressing their hearts. They ordered 'Bible Readings' in the full leather, making a substantial deposit. After receiving the order we bowed while I offered prayer, and oh, what a joy their countenances reflected as they expressed their gratefulness to me for having called. It is experiences such as this that cause our hearts to rejoice. I am of good courage. My determination is to be faithful to the end."

Our Magazine and Periodical Work

By N. Z. Town

THE FIRST message that ever came to us through the Spirit of prophecy regarding the publishing work gave instruction to Elder James White back in 1848 that he should begin to print and send out a little paper. It was to be small at first, but the assurance was given that it would be a success from the beginning and that it would be like streams of light going clear round the world. What a joy it would be to Elder White if he could see today how remarkably this assurance has been fulfilled. From that small beginning of that one little paper, the whole edition of which he carried to the post office in a carpet bag, our periodical work has grown until now we are publishing 223 different periodicals. And the value of the yearly circulation of these periodicals throughout the world has averaged during the last five years over $1,890,000 a year. In fact, we have come to the place where the value of periodicals circulated is greater than the value of books sold each year.

In every principal mission field where Seventh-day Adventists have begun work a missionary periodical has been started right from the beginning. In the early days when our missionary endeavors extended from the East to the West Coast, the Signs of the Times was at once launched and it has been our able missionary ever since. When the subscription book business was first organized in Great Britain in the early nineties the workers in that field were already selling successfully from house-to-house the periodical Present Truth. In those early days the writer had the privilege of going from door to door in London selling this paper in company with Elder G. F. Jones who later became the apostle to the South Seas. In Central Europe the Herold der Wahrheit was one of the early preachers. The periodical work of the Hamburg Publishing House has grown until it almost equals that of the Review and Herald, the mother of all our publishing houses. And what a wonderful work the Chinese Signs of the Times has done in the Far East, the circulation reaching at one time 80,000 copies per month. And so in the French, Spanish, Portuguese and other language areas where mission work has been carried on, the missionary periodical has been from the beginning one of the principal missionary agencies.

SABBATH SCHOOL AT THE FALL COUNCIL

Sabbath school will convene at 9:30 on Sabbath morning, November 2, in the auditorium at Louisville, Kentucky, where all the meetings of the Fall Council are to be held. Provision is being made for the children's divisions in different rooms.

Anticipating that there may be quite a number from the Lake Union who will drive down to Louisville for the Sabbath of the Council, we urge that you endeavor to be on time so that you will not lose your perfect record.

In recent years special attention has been given in different fields to our magazine literature. Not only in single copy sales but in the regular subscription work and in the combination plan. God has greatly blessed in these endeavors but we believe that in the future we should see still greater things done with our magazines. This is a work in which many of our church members can engage. The Spirit of prophecy tells us:

"Many can engage in the work of selling our periodicals. Thus they can earn means for the work in foreign fields while sowing seeds of truth in the byways and hedges in the home field. Such labor will be blessed of God, and it will not be done in vain."

In North America a goal of 100,000 for each issue has been set for the magazines, Health, Life and Health, and the Watchman. Should we not plan to reach this goal for these three magazines by the time of the General Conference session in 1936? We believe there are other magazines which might reach this goal before that date. 100,000 is the goal the brethren have set for the Chinese Signs of the Times.

We have now reached the time of the year when the field men will begin recruiting colporteurs for the winter institutes. May we suggest that each leader have for his aim the doubling of the number of magazine colporteurs which they now have. If we could have in the field twice the number that we have this year we could reach our goals of 100,000 each for these magazines. From among these recruits we may expect to get a goodly number of regulars for the book work. May the Lord greatly prosper each leader in his efforts to increase the circulation of our magazines.

Prepare Now

By W. H. Holden

THIS IS an appeal for every reader of the LAKE UNION HERALD to begin preparation at once by daily laying aside some gift for the Lord that we may be able to bring to His treasury a liberal offering during the Week of Sacrifice November 23-30.

For several years we have practiced bringing a week's salary or income to the Lord during the Week of Sacrifice, for work in foreign fields. This has materially strengthened the hands of the foreign mission board, and made it possible to hold our missionaries at the front in mission lands instead of bringing them home.

Not all have taken part in this annually, and at the Spring Council in Washington an earnest appeal was made that leaders in our conferences and churches, not only throughout North America but throughout the world, urge our people everywhere to take part this year in the Week of Sacrifice November 23-30.

I now pass this appeal on to you and ask "Who then is willing to consecrate his service this day unto the Lord?" Or as the margin translation reads: "Fill his hand this day unto the Lord?"

For your information the recommendation of the Spring Council follows:

"Whereas, the Week of Sacrifice has been an important factor in helping to hold our lines of advance around the world during these troublous times,

"We Recommend, 1. That the plan of gathering funds by means of the Week of Sacrifice for 1935 be made world-wide and that the Division committees outside of North America be responsible in developing promotion plans in their respective fields.

"2. That we urge all our laymen and workers alike, including the institutional groups, to contribute the equivalent of a week's income to this important offering.

"3. That the plan for the Week of Sacrifice for the North American Division be as follows:

a. That there be a general goal of $50,000.

b. That the overflow be appropriated for new work to advance our educational, publishing, and medical interests in mission lands.

c. That the Publishing, Medical, and Educational Departments be invited to make a special effort to promote this offering among their respective groups.

d. That we earnestly endeavor to spring the offering so as to have an overflow of $15,000.

"4. That the Minority Committee choose the mission project to benefit from such overflow as may be raised above the $50,000 goal.

"5. That the General Conference Minority Committee appoint a special promotion committee, including representatives of the Treasury, the secretaries of the Educational, Publishing, and Medical Departments, with others, to work out the details of the promotion plans."

Dear reader, let us most earnestly consider this appeal. As never before the world at large is in crying need of the gospel. Seventh-day Adventists have been entrusted with the message for this hour. This fall, of all times, is the time to make a sacrifice and bring a liberal thank-offering to the Lord. Do not pass this appeal by as just another ordinary, regular request, because it is more than that. We face the last, last hour. Let us take this matter to heart, and really bring an offering for the Lord during the Week of Sacrifice that will cause all nations to rejoice.

"Happy the man who sees a God employed in all the good and ill that checker life."

THE HARVEST INGATHERING CAMPAIGN

Experiences

A CONFERENCE president and a lay brother recently called at a large medical plant, in the interest of Harvest Ingathering. The office secretary inquired what their business might be, and, when informed, refused them an audience with the head manager.

The brethren departed, and going across the street to a telephone called up the manager and told him they very much desired to see him. He told them to come over and walk straight to his office.

At first when the Ingathering work was presented this man was reluctant to give anything. Finally the lay brother said, "We are not asking you for a large offering, but are expecting $50." The manager cheerfully gave them the $50.

House-to-house solicitation proves that better offerings are being received this year than last year. These offerings are not very large, ranging from five cents to fifty cents, but in a few hours of faithful service, these small sums count up. And we must never lose sight of the greater purpose of Ingathering—bringing the truth to those we meet, by literature, example, or the awakening of a deeper interest in God's great plan of salvation.

Did You Know—

That Illinois is forging ahead in the Harvest Ingathering campaign to win, and that the faithfulness of each church and each member will determine the final results?

That we have four districts that to date are ahead of last year's record?

That to October 19 forty-two churches have kept ahead of the race?

That twelve churches are on the honor roll, seven of which have raised a per capita amount of $7 plus per member?

That two hundred fifty "minute men" have applied for the Harvest Ingathering buttons, and that hundreds more are planning to do so in the next few weeks?

That we have now—October 19—about five-eighths of our goal?

Illinois Teachers' Institute

By F. R. Isaac

NO, NOT the same thing over again, but so much new mingled with the old that it all seemed new, was what the teachers discovered at the institute which closed Sunday, October 20. Added preparation to do better service was the desire of every teacher; added wisdom to know how to lead the pupils nearer to God was the prayer of every heart; and added knowledge to know how to train the youth to meet life's problems is the effort of every instructor.

The teachers appreciated the leadership of Professor W. C. Loveless, the new educational superintendent, and pledged their hearty support in an endeavor to build up a large church school enrollment in the Illinois Conference.

Topics of interest were presented by Mrs. Grace Stevens, Elders Hollister, Murphy, Sheldon, Joyce, and the writer.

All realized that we have reached the time in our educational program when our students need more than mere book-knowledge, and that they must build up within them a power that will enable them to stand for right in the trying times before us.

We do well today to place emphasis upon the pedagogy and teaching methods of Jesus, and how to make the Bible the fundamental guide to all of our teaching. It is interesting to see how the Spirit of prophecy has guided us, and how education has tied to it. In teaching the Bible we realize that it is not merely studying history and learning verses, but we create an interest in the Word, and instill love for the message in the hearts of the boys and girls.

Miss Mildred Ostich and her pupils presented to us some of the beauties found in music. It is really wonderful how children's voices may be developed, and how much interest can be developed in worthwhile singing.

The institute closed with an interesting round table discussion of the vocational training due our boys and girls. More along this line may appear later.

Grand Total Received $7,280.73

I just returned to the office after spending the morning in Harvest Ingathering. In three hours' time working with two sisters we received $17.10.

The two churches here in Madison are working desperately this week to top the goal for 1935. This is being done in the face of the community welfare drive that is on now too.

We believe that all the churches in the conference will give their best to the finishing of their Harvest Ingathering work, and we have received report of thirteen churches in our conference which have reached their Harvest Ingathering goal to date. This is a fine beginning, and as we study the chart we find that there are a number more who can easily finish their work by just getting at it.

We have seen some real sacrifice on the part of our people. Some have arranged to get away from their regular work in order to go out soliciting, while others have spent hours in heat, cold, wet, and dry, to gather in a few more dollars. The singing bands have also done fine work. Let us stay at it a little longer until all goals are reached.

If one feels too timid to go out alone, get some one to go with you. If two go, we have the promise that ten times as effective work can be done, for one shall put one thousand to flight, and two shall put ten thousand to flight.

This week's returns show that the conference has reached one-half the goal. Let us reach the other half soon.

Are the Harvest Ingathering charts being kept up to date in your church? We have seen a few of the charts with the lighthouse all built, in the churches where we have visited. It is a fine sight, too. If you want to see how the light house really looks, just work and then keep your chart up to date.

Let us rally, rally, rally!

H. K. HALLADAY

AN APPEAL

Thirteen churches are over the top in their Harvest Ingathering; several others are nearing their goal; some have at least reached the half-way mark; and some, I am very sorry to have to say, have scarcely begun.

The doors of practically every mission field on earth are wide open, and thousands of souls are pleading for light. Every day that God's people delay multitudes are lost. How shall we answer our Heavenly Father in the great judgment day if we now, because of our indifference, neglect our opportunity?

The world is facing a terrible crisis, and we do not know what a day may bring forth. In case of war, many doors of opportunity now open will then be closed. Just now is the time to enter every open door and to prepare the people for the coming of Jesus.

The General Conference is in great need of mission funds and is even now faced with the thought of having to withdraw missionaries if help is not received immediately. Brethren, shall we permit them to call back our missionaries? It seems to me that I can hear the cry being raised by every true-hearted Seventh-day Adventist in Wisconsin, saying, "No."

I appeal to every believer in this conference to arise now, raise your individual goal, and determine to help put your church over the top.

V. E. PEUGH

COMING TO SAND PRAIRIE

A group of students and teachers from Bethel Academy have recently been visiting in churches in various sections of the conference. This group is to visit the Sand Prairie church Sabbath, November 2. Both forenoon and afternoon services will be held, and the programs will consist of speaking and music. A special musical program will be given in the afternoon.

Friends from neighboring churches are invited to attend these meetings. We are sure they will feel well repaid for the effort put forth to come.

HARVEST INGATHERING NOTES

We are glad to see that twenty-three churches have now an amount exceeding that raised during the entire campaign last year.

The following eight churches are over their goal: Otsego, Detroit Slovak-Polish, Flint No. 1, Shelby, Ithaca, Alpena, Bay City, and Saginaw. Watch the stars increase. E. R. POTTER

CHURCH SCHOOLS DO THEIR PART

Encouraging indeed are the Harvest Ingathering reports that come from the church schools in Michigan. With scarcely a single exception every school finds itself in the full swing of the campaign. In spite of the pressure of the school work, teachers and pupils are taking time to engage in this practical form of Christian service. The enthusiasm of the children is inspiring. Truly the Harvest Ingathering work provides a splendid opportunity for the children to practice the elements of Christian service which in reality is one of the major goals of Christian education.

Not only does the campaign provide an opportunity for service, but the practical results of the children's efforts must not be overlooked. The goals the children set for themselves are challenging. Reports coming to the office indicate that these goals are being reached. The Lansing school has already gone beyond its goal of $60. From Flint comes the word that the school has exceeded its $25 goal and that they hope to reach $40 in a few days. Many other schools are within a few dollars of their goals. Everywhere interest and enthusiasm are running high. Paragraphs from a few letters selected from the many that reach the office will serve as illustrations.

Miss Webber of Emmanuel Missionary College says: "We set our goal at $1 per child and $10 for the teacher. There are twenty-one children. We are within $4 of our goal." This was written a number of days ago and no doubt by now they are over the top.

From Grand Rapids, Mrs. Thornton, the teacher, sends this word: "Our Harvest Ingathering is going in a very enthusiastic way. We have fifteen children and have set our goal at $20. To date we have $14.65. The children are anxious about going out. We have had some very interesting experiences."

Miss Bollinger writes from St. Louis: "Just last night the children went again in their singing band. I am glad to report that we have nearly half of our Harvest Ingathering goal which we set at $50. The children are very enthusiastic about their work. In the Junior meeting they planned their own device, and the leader and secretary made it. This they enjoyed also. We expect to keep on until both boys on the goal device are at the top of their ladders."

In the Gobles school five children raised $8.25 in but a few days. Clarenceville is well on the way toward its $25 goal. Encouraging messages come from Kalamazoo, Pontiac, Detroit and other schools. Thus, once more the children are doing their part. May their whole-heartedness inspire those of us who are older to greater achievements for God.

WORDS OF APPRECIATION

While all our Michigan readers will be interested in the following paragraph, it will be of special interest to those who were present at the camp meeting this year when Chaplain McLain of the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia, gave a very interesting and educational address. At that time we took up an offering to help supply some of our literature for that institution. On receipt of a good supply of literature including the Youth's In- structor, Life and Health, The Watchman, and Signs of the Times, Chaplain McLain writes:

"Practically all of it is taken and read. Comments and compliments recently received indicate very marked interest in your books on Bible lessons and prophecy. I want to express my sincere appreciation of the work being done by your people in sending religious literature to be distributed in this institution. I can heartily commend your work and the assistance you are giving so generously."

And now we wish to ask for further assistance in this good work. Any contribution in money to help us supply the most suitable literature to this institution and other like institutions in our state, should be sent to the conference marked: "For institutional literature fund." We desire especially sufficient money to place a liberal supply of the book "Prophecy Speaks" in these institutions. Anyone having clean back numbers of Youth's Instructor, Life and Health, Watchman, or Signs of the Times may send these to Frank Root, 327 Center St., Ionia, Mich., who will deliver these to the institution at Ionia. NEWS NOTES

Miss Shepard just returned from a three week's field trip on which she visited the Sabbath schools and isolated believers located at Owosso, Ovid, Elsie, Chesaning, Brant, St. Charles, Saginaw, Freeland, Midland, Mt. Pleasant, Wheeler, Breckenridge, St. Louis, Cedar Lake, Coleman, Clare, Edenville, Rhodes, Gladwin, Omer, East Tawas, Hale, Long Lake, Mio, Curtisville, Glennie, Lincoln, Oak Grove and Alpena.

Wherever possible Miss Shepard assisted the believers in their Harvest Ingathering work, and her rehearsal of these missionary visits, the earnest work being done by our Sabbath school officers and teachers, together with the sacrificial giving of our isolated brethren and sisters, are truly inspirational to our conference office family.

We are glad to have Brethren Green and Knecht back in their usual places at the office, after a week's illness.

Mr. Oliver Pitts, of Fond du Lac, Wisconsin, has been assisting our Book and Bible House in the rush of sending out school and Harvest Ingathering supplies, during the past few weeks.

MARORIE NION-REY

ADELPHIAN ACADEMY

The opening weeks of this year at Adelphian Academy have been marked by a spirit of industry and earnestness. The second week after school opened Elder Meade MacGuire was with us and gave us very earnest counsel and spiritual food. We had meetings in our chapel every morning, and at eight o'clock each evening. These studies made a deep impression on the minds of students and teachers, and we were made to appreciate in a new way the privileges which this truth and our schools are bringing to us as young people. For the most part the students have taken hold of their studies and work in a very earnest and energetic way. There is an atmosphere prevailing about the school that is very heartening to us as teachers.

Our farm crops have been unusually good this year, and Mr. Beardsley and the boys have been working hard in order to get the supplies stored away for the winter. Our barn is filled with hay, and evidently there will be more than enough corn to fill the corn crib while we have a reasonably good supply of small grains. Our vineyards yielded about 300 bushels of fine grapes which have met a ready market. The root cellar is being filled with potatoes and vegetables which will help furnish the supply of food served through the winter.

A new coat of paint makes our mill building and garages more beautiful. Many other more or less minor repair jobs have been done to get our buildings in good shape for this school year. Mr. Mobley and Mr. Spaulding have been designing a new ironing board which we have every reason to believe is going to find its place in the demand for such a product.

A large number of our students and teachers have taken part in the Harvest Ingathering work, and we have raised about $5 per person for those who took part. Our campaign is not yet finished.

The subscription campaign for the Shiawassian is on, and within the next two weeks we expect to have reached our goal of 500 subscriptions. Whether someone writes you or not, be sure to send in twenty-five cents together with your name and address so that you can keep in touch with Adelphian Academy and its activities.

INDIANA CONFERENCE

2004 North New Jersey St., Indianapolis, Ind.

PRESIDENT, S. E. WIGHT

RESULT OF SUMMER EFFORTS

Our work began under difficulties in Richmond, which is a modernistic Quaker city, therefore involving many obstacles to overcome. For about one month before our tent meetings there we were looking for a location for our tent. Seven times we were refused desirable lots, but finally secured a location on the Old National Road leading west.

The meetings began Sunday night, July 7, and continued through until September 8. The attendance was small all the way through the meetings, but, in spite of small crowds, there was a definite interest almost from the first, and the interested people were a desirable class of individuals.

Brother and Sister Wilber Sanders gave very loyal assistance all through the series of meetings.

On Sabbath, August 31, we rejoiced to see eight precious souls follow their Lord in baptism. There are twelve others who have a very definite interest which we are following up, and we expect to see several of these come into the church later on.

The Lord has blessed our work all through the district this year. Before the tent effort in Richmond nine souls were added to the Anderson church, and seven to other churches in the district, making altogether twenty-four souls added to the churches in the district this summer. We expect several more to be baptized later, which will increase this number considerably.

Our church schools in the district are progressing nicely. Two of our schools have a larger enrollment than they had last year.

The believers in this district are taking hold of the Harvest Ingathering in a strong way. One of our churches has already gone over the top, and we are happy to see the funds from this source growing from week to week.

We solicit the prayers of our believers throughout the field that the work may continue to prosper under the blessing of God. F. R. WIGGINS

LIVONIA

On June 25 we pitched a large tent on the school grounds of Livonia, a small rural village in southern Indiana. Situated as we were on the main highway our meetings were soon well advertised. So efficient was the country exchange in spreading the news from party line to party line the usual extent of advertising was not necessary.

While there was a good bit of opposition at the beginning of our meetings the attendance, though not large, was steady and continued until the close of the effort; in fact, there was such an interest manifested that it was thought best to follow it up later with meetings in some hall or church.

Even before the tent came down there arose the necessity of building a church as nothing in town was available for our Sabbath services. Thus on August 12, after much planning and praying we began the foundation of a new brick church twenty-six by forty-eight feet in dimension.

After two months of hard work, mostly donated labor, we held our first Sabbath school in the new church on October 19 when a group of about thirty worshippers gathered to praise God for His blessings to them.

There has been no one baptized as yet, but we are expecting before long to baptize eight or ten to add to the little group of believers already here, and will organize a church in the near future. MURRAY W. DEMING

APPRECIATION OF OUR MISSION PROGRAM

There used to be a tendency on the part of some to hide their identity when doing Harvest Ingathering work, but that day is past. We have found that the straight-forward policy is best. We have been definitely called to a work that others are fast laying down. We have a message to give to weary, sin-sick souls that they may be cheered and their physical suffering alleviated.

Just recently in the Illinois Conference an experience came to our attention which reveals true appreciation of our mission and welfare work. One of our sisters who was employed as a stenographer in a university office was discharged because she insisted on keeping the Sabbath; however, God honored her stand and promoted her to another and higher office. This fall this sister received a letter from the dean of women of the university where she was formerly employed, in which was enclosed a check for $5 with the following words: "Please find enclosed a check for $5 for your church work. Have been reading in the papers about your work in Ethiopia and want to say that such courage is from above."

In visiting an undertaker in Quincy, Illinois, we heard expressions of appreciation for our work; and in making out the check for his contribution this man voluntarily raised it to $10, whereas in former years he had only given $5. Truly our work is appreciated, which is evidenced by the good responses all of our churches are meeting this year.

The Ethiopian situation has also enhanced in the eyes of the world our foreign mission work. We do not hear as many objections to this phase of our work as in former years. Our work for the Lord is appreciated. Let us be faithful in doing our required part.

C. S. JOYCE

OUR OPPORTUNITY

Not for many years has there been an opportunity like the present to focus the attention of the reading public on the nearness of the second coming of Christ. Efforts for peace, preparation for war, economic and moral collapse during the past twenty years have been very real signs of the times to Seventh-day Adventists, but they have not been recognized as such by the world generally. Now the civilized world is shocked, and trembles at the fearful prospect.

While minds are thus stirred, we should step forward with every resource at our command to give the message for these closing hours of earth's history. The Present Truth War Special (No. 94 in the current series) dealing with the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, is only $4.75 per thousand. Send orders to your Book and Bible House. Distribute this War Special now while interest is keen.

OBITUARIES

Stewart.—Samuel Stewart was born near Belfast, Ireland, November 4, 1883; and died at his home near Hope, Arkansas, September 15, 1935. He accepted the Advent message in Ireland, and canvassed there for awhile before coming to America in 1906. On September 8, 1910 Brother Stewart was united in marriage with Miss Pearl C. Kimsey, a church school teacher in the Lake Union Conference. He is survived by his wife, eight children, and four sisters.

A. F. Ruf

Mortevedt.—Mrs. Ellen Mortevedt, aged sixty-four years, died at Herscher, Illinois, October 11, 1935. Sister Mortevedt was a member of the Kankakee church, and was faithful in her service to the last, for just a few days before being stricken she had been busily engaged in the Harvest Ingathering work. Funeral services were conducted by the writer at the home in Herscher, and also at the church in Kankakee, following which interment was made in the Herscher Cemetery. She is survived by her husband, Peter Mortevedt, six daughters, and one brother.

Our Missionary Volunteers

News Notes

REPORTS are beginning to come in from a few of the societies regarding the activities of the young people in the Ingathering. We hope to have more such reports soon.

Mrs. Ruby Wilson, leader of the Junior Society at West Allis, Wisconsin, reports that her little group of eleven, all under seventeen years of age, are earnestly working in the Ingathering. They have turned in about one-fourth of the totals reported by the church up to this time. This Junior group has also gone beyond its goal in offerings for the North China Union Mission, having reported about $7; but they expect to give a missionary program, and hope to largely increase their totals for the M. V. mission project. We hope that many of our other societies will undertake to go beyond their society goal.

Mrs. Louis Thompson, leader of the Elkhart, Indiana, society, reports that their singing band of sixteen young people has gone out every evening that the weather has been suitable. They have had many interesting experiences, both pleasant and otherwise, and are rejoicing over the fact that they are able to turn in the largest Ingathering offering in the history of the society. They now have $75, and plan to continue singing as long as the weather permits.

The Fort Wayne, Indiana, society has recently been reorganized and has taken on new life. Sister Griffin has agreed to take the leadership until the end of the year, and we are looking for big things from that society. The young people are active in the singing bands and other phases of the church work.

At Anderson, Indiana, the young people's society has a very fine attendance. At their Sabbath afternoon meeting on a recent Sabbath they organized their prayer and personal workers band for very definite service. They are planning first to reclaim some of the young people who have become careless or indifferent, and then through missionary activities to reach the people of the community.

We are interested in reporting a Sabbath school enterprise at Marion, Indiana, which though not strictly young people's work may be properly considered such because of the activity of the young people and the Sabbath school superintendent, one of our Missionary Volunteers, in this work. Within recent months four branch Sabbath schools have been organized in Marion and vicinity. These are officered by members of our church, but the attendance is almost wholly of children and youth, ages five to fourteen years, not of our church, with some of the parents of these children attending at times.

These Sabbath schools have developed beyond the anticipation of those who sponsored them. The total attendance in these four schools runs from fifty to seventy each week, with an average attendance of fifty. They are equipped with picture rolls, Little Friend, Instructor, and the regular devices used in our own Sabbath schools. The offerings, which amounted to about twenty dollars for the last quarter, were used to increase the Thirteenth Sabbath Offering of the main Sabbath school. Brother Richard Hammond, Sabbath school superintendent, who is earnestly promoting this work, says they expect to add another school in the near future. We feel that this plan might be followed in many of our churches.

Let us remind the young people's workers again that we would like brief reports direct to the union office, telling of your success in the Ingathering, and lists of the names of young people who have become "minute men."

PLEASE LOOK IN THE CHURCH

CUPBOARD

Possibly a search through the church cupboards would bring to light copies of "Christ in Song" which, having served their purpose in the Sabbath school and church services, were laid on the shelf when a new stock of books was purchased. These discarded books could be made to meet an urgent need of church members in the Virgin Islands, who are calling for a supply of song books to use in connection with gospel services in jails. A good work for prisoners has been started, and superintendents and wardens of the institutions extend a cordial welcome to Seventh-day Adventists in their regular visits to the jail. The song service is a prime factor in the jail meetings, and the need of a supply of song books is keenly realized. Funds are lacking to purchase books, therefore donations of used copies would be appreciated and would be a great help to the Virgin Island members who are seeking to present the Saviour of the world through sermon, song and literature. Shipping address will be furnished by the General Conference Home Missionary Department.
