West Szechwan's Tribes Calling

HWANG DZI-CHIANG

SOMETIME ago it was my privilege to make an itinerary among the Chiang tribes living among the mountains in the northwestern part of our mission. I found these people more eager for the knowledge of salvation than for their necessary food. The Chiang have a simple and comparatively pure form of worship, free from many of the degrading practices connected with most forms of heathen worship. On the top of every house is a place set apart as sacred to their god. In this spot is placed a white stone, an emblem of holiness and purity, and to them a representation of the deity. When they meet with some misfortune or perplexity, they go to this place for prayer.

We have twelve baptized members as the firstfruits of our labor among the Chiang. This is but a small beginning, when we consider the hundreds of thousands to be reached, but we thank God for the loyalty of this little group, for in spite of opposition and persecution they have not lost their faith in God.

When a meeting is opened for preaching the gospel among these people, the place is soon filled with people, regardless of the fact that there are no benches or chairs on which they may sit. They long for the truth, and when they hear even a little they immediately plead for a worker to stay and teach them constantly. Alas, that we cannot respond to their call! Just at this moment, since I began writing, the mail has arrived, and here is a letter from one of the very places I visited, begging for a worker.

A day's journey to the north of the mission headquarters takes us to the villages of Dehyang and Penghsien. We visited these places at one time, and held a few Bible studies with the people. They quickly grasped the truths presented. They understood the Sabbath as a seal of their fitness for heaven, and immediately began to keep it. They, too, need a worker to instruct them more fully, but we have no one to send to them.

A day's journey to the south is another place where we have several tens of Sabbathkeepers. They meet faithfully every Sabbath, for prayer and the study of the Bible, and regularly send their tithes and offerings to the mission treasurer. But our workers are too few, and our means too limited to respond to their call for a worker.

We have mentioned but a few of the many requests for help. How long must these people wait for someone to break to them the Bread of Life, for which they long and plead so earnestly? In bitterness of spirit we beseech God to give them patience, and to keep them faithful.

The West Szechwan Mission has untold opportunities for the proclamation of the gospel message. Whenever and wherever we open an evangelistic meeting, the room is filled with people, eager to hear. But our workers and means are far too few to serve all the needy places of this field. We thank the Lord that on the coming Thirteenth Sabbath our friends in all the world will give to help supply some of our urgent needs.

Annual Offering for the Negro Work

By R. L. BENTON

President of the Southwestern Union Conf.

THE ADVANTAGES enjoyed by the white race were for many years beyond the reach of the colored. As a result, their need along many lines is greater, and at the same time their ability to supply that need is much less. We can see that among other calls for Christian giving, their need stands out as a definite call for help in educational, evangelistic, and medical lines.

The earning power of the Negro is especially curtailed during times of depression and recession, as during such times work ordinarily done by him is given to unemployed white men. Notwithstanding the low income of our colored believers, they as a rule are faithful in their offerings for missions as well as in their tithe.

The line of evangelistic forces in the colored work in the South is pitifully thin. To reach the honest in heart among them, before situations arise that will make it much more difficult than now, a large number of workers should be added. Young men and women from our Oakwood Junior College are well prepared for the kind of service needed, and a liberal offering from all our churches for the Negro work, on Sabbath, August 13, would enable our conferences to employ many of these young people.

Truly the Negro population of this country constitutes a real mission field, and our experience assures us that a liberal donation to this work will prove a profitable investment, giving blessing to the giver, opportunity to the sower, and joy to the angels in heaven who rejoice over sinners that repent and accept the message.

Senator Vandenberg at Camp Meeting

THE HON. Arthur H. Vandenberg, United States Senator from Michigan, has accepted an invitation to be the main speaker at the dedicatory exercises of the new auditorium at Grand Ledge on Sunday afternoon, August 28, at 2:30 o'clock.

To prevent any misunderstandings, let it be understood that this will be in no sense a political speech. The Senator will deal with the value to this nation and our state of cultivating and maintaining the old-fashioned Christian virtues of home, school, and church.

We are also inviting to this service the former governor of Michigan, Frank D. Fitzgerald, and the mayors of Grand Ledge and Lansing. These men will give brief speeches before Senator Vandenberg speaks. These speeches will be merely greetings by our neighbors. The general public will be invited to this occasion and we anticipate that many will respond. We think it will be helpful if the news of this is passed on to your friends and neighbors and invitations extended to them to attend this dedicatory service.

Still Another Working Bee

RAINY weather has made it so impossible for us to get an adequate supply of help at the working bee last Sunday that we are appealing again for a large response to a call for another working bee at the campground at Grand Ledge for Sunday, August 14. We really must have more help if we are to get everything in proper shape for camp meeting. We greatly appreciate the faithfulness of those who have come for the working bees that have been held. Your response, however, has not been sufficient to get our work done. Those who have been present have worked devotedly but we need a considerably larger number of men to come on the 14th than we have yet had. Will the leaders and elders in the churches of Grand Rapids, Hastings, Carlton Center, Grand Ledge, St. Johns, Ionia, Holly, Battle Creek, Ubaldale, Bedford, Charlotte, Dimondale, Eaton Rapids, Linden, Owosso, Alaiedon, St. Charles, Ithaca, Jackson, Bunker Hill, and Flint No. 1, please make a special appeal this coming Sabbath, August 13, and endeavor to make up carloads of men who will give a day's work on the 14th, at Grand Ledge?

CARLYLE B. HAYNES

Camp Meeting Opportunities

ONE OF the most beneficial opportunities our people enjoy at the camp meeting is to obtain a supply of reading matter to take back to their homes for the months that will follow. I refer to this now because I want you to all come to the camp meeting prepared to supply yourselves with the books and periodicals which will be of most benefit to you.

By all means prepare to get a copy of "Youth's Problem No." or "Friendship, Courtship, and Marriage," and give it to your boys and girls after reading it yourself. This book, which will only be off the press about one week at the time of the camp meeting, is one of the finest things which I have ever seen on this subject.

Another book which I would like to see our people read and benefit from is "The Virtuous Woman" or "Sex Life in Relation to the Christian Life." This is also a new book and well worth reading.

By all means prepare to get a copy of Elder F. D. Nichols' latest book, "Behold He Cometh." I have not read anything for a long time which I have felt was more timely and more heart-searching than this fine book. Every home in this conference would greatly benefit by having it and reading it.

This holds true also of Elder F. M. Wilcox's new and latest book—"The Former and Latter Rain." By all means do not miss the opportunity of getting this as well as these other books at camp meeting prices.

CARLYLE B. HAYNES

Do Not Miss Camp Meeting

WE HOPE you are all definitely planning to come to camp meeting and be there through the entire time, August 23 to September 4.

The more we get into the preliminary arrangements of the camp meeting the more convinced we are that God is preparing for us an unusual blessing on this important occasion.

May we remind you again that Elder E. D. Dick, secretary of the General Conference; Elder F. M. Wilcox, editor of the Review and Herald; Elder Steen Rasmussen, secretary of the Home Missionary Department of the General Conference; Elder Meade MacGuire, one of the field secretaries of the General Conference; Elder L. H. Christian, vice president of the General Conference; Elder E. E.

Books Desired

A PUBLIC library is being started at Weidman, Michigan, and some of our sisters have been asked to solicit books for this project. The following letter has been received from Sister Ivy E. Tinker, of Remus, Michigan:

"We are soliciting books for this new project and thought it would be an excellent way to get some of our books before the public. It may not be possible to get any of our denominational books accepted, but we have many excellent children's books and reading course books, as well as books on bird lore and animal stories that would be very good. Such books as "Beautiful Gold" and "Min Din" would be very appropriate. Our church is doing its bit and I thought others might be glad to help also if they knew about it."

We feel sure there are many idle books that could be donated for this library, so take them off your shelves, wrap them for parcel post mailing, and send them to this sister at once. She will see that they are properly placed.

Another Church Music Institute

A FEW YEARS ago the musicians of the Lake Union Conference will remember that a church music institute was held at the College at Berrien Springs. Those of us who were fortunate enough to attend it were agreed that it was an occasion of much real benefit.

Another similar institute has been arranged for under the direction of Dr. O. S. Beltz of Northwestern University at Camp Mack at Milford, Indiana, from August 14 to 21. Looking over the announcement which has been sent to me giving information as to the objectives and program of this institute, I feel convinced that any of our musicians who can possibly attend will greatly profit by being present. Those who are contemplating attendance should write at once for the program of the institute and any information regarding registration, cost of room and board, what to bring, and how to find Camp Mack. These programs may be obtained by writing to O. S. Beltz, 1822 Sherman Avenue, Evanston, Illinois.

CARLYLE B. HAYNES

"Someone has suggested that if it were possible to take all the troubles of the world and throw them in a heap, and then give each one an opportunity of selecting the particular trouble he would take, very likely each of us would be glad to take back his own rather than the troubles of the other fellow. I am inclined to believe that my own troubles are far less than those of the other fellow, if I can only see myself in his place."

Senior Youth Meet

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION of the Indiana Academy has gone forward with plans for a state-wide Senior Youth meeting to be held at the academy August 12, 13, and 14.

Elder E. W. Dunbar, of the Lake Union Conference, has promised to be with us, and is doing his best to secure the services of Elder Bond from Washington.

The program calls for the initial service on Friday night, August 12, beginning promptly at 7:30 with songs and special music. Elder Dunbar will address the youth that night. Sabbath school will be held at 9:30 Sabbath morning and church at 11:00. Beginning the afternoon at 2:00 o'clock we are to enjoy another one of those paneled discussions in which the young people introduce topics from the rostrum and answer questions from the congregation. This will doubtless be a very vital and interesting section of our program.

The evening after the Sabbath we are expecting to have a grand march and such campus games as we can play out on the lawn. Sunday morning there will be a brief devotional service followed by all types of campus games.

At one o'clock Sunday afternoon all are to gather in the dining room of the academy for the banquet sponsored by the members of the Alumni Association. Special music and speeches will be featured at the time of this fellowship hour.

Please remember that this meeting is planned for Senior youth only.

The school is planning to charge only 25 cents for two nights' lodging. Meals will be served on the cafeteria plan. It is anticipated that this important meeting will take the place of and be much more interesting than a Senior Camp.

Colporteur Rally

A VERY successful colporteur rally was conducted over the week end of July 30 here in the Indianapolis South Side Church for our student colporteurs. We deeply appreciate the kind hospitality of the South Side Church members.

Elder Wagner and Brother Lawry rendered excellent help and the students left the rally determined to do acceptable work for the Master in the colporteur ministry between now and the time school starts.

We are planning to have another beginners' institute this fall over the week end of October 1. This institute is for the purpose of giving instruction to any one desiring to take up the colporteur work. Begin now to make arrangements to attend this institute by writing your field secretary in care of this office.

A. G. SUTTON

Thanks

CAMP JUVOLINDA of Indiana has just closed with an enrollment of fifty-four junior boys and girls. The entire camp numbered close to seventy.

We truly appreciated the hospitality afforded us by the faculty and students of the school who helped to make our Junior Camp a real success.

"Let the youth make the word of God the food of mind and soul. Let the cross of Christ be made the science of all education, the center of all teaching and all study. Let it be brought into the daily experience in practical life. So will the Saviour become to the youth a daily companion and friend. Every thought will be brought into captivity to the obedience of Christ. With the apostle Paul they will be able to say, 'God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.'"—"The Ministry of Healing," p. 460.

Midsummer Colporteur Rally

ON JULY 15 from the north, south, east, and west, the regular and student colporteurs gathered at the Galesburg church for the annual midsummer rally. The Lord certainly blessed the Friday evening meeting as Elder T. J. Kroeger brought us a stirring message from the experience of Moses.

We were glad Elder B. E. Wagner, the Lake Union field secretary, could be with us to speak at the eleven o'clock hour Sabbath morning, and Brother Clarence Lawry was a welcome visitor who brought added inspiration and courage from the experience of Elijah in his message just following the colporteur symposium on Sabbath afternoon. The colporteur experiences related gave evidence that the Lord is still using the faithful colporteurs to search out the honest in heart.

On Saturday night Elder Kroeger again delivered a stirring message on "Faithfulness." In giving us a chapter from his own experience in getting started in the work of God, he convinced all those present that a man called of God has but one thing to do—respond, and remain faithful through trial and perplexity.

A picnic dinner was to have followed the Sunday morning activities, but owing to the inclement weather we had to forego the pleasure of having the Galesburg church carry out their plans for us. Throughout the week end the colporteurs were the guests of the local church members. We feel sure that all who helped to make the rally a success felt well repaid when the colporteur reports for the ensuing week reached the gratifying figure of $1,095. in sales.

We deeply appreciate the spirit of cooperation on the part of our ministers and laity throughout the field in supporting this important phase of God's work, and we stand ready to assist in training all those who feel called to enter the ranks of the colporteur army.

Calling You—Senior Youth!

THE THRILLING days of the Illinois Senior Camp will soon be here! Senior youth, what is more enjoyable than a refreshing swim on a summer day, an early morning hike through the dense woods, delicious appetizing meals, a rousing volleyball or baseball game, inspirational instruction under a competent leader, paddling a canoe in the cool of the evening, and a thrilling camp fire. Think of the joys of living and sleeping in the great out-of-doors for four days and the companionship of youth of kindred ideals.

Many surprises and good times await the senior youth who are planning to attend the Illinois Senior Camp, August 19 to 22. Why not be there to enjoy these happy days? Send in your $1. registration fee at once to W. C. Loveless, Box 29, Brookfield, Illinois. Remember this fee covers everything but your meals which will be served on the cafeteria plan.

We welcome you, Senior youth, to have a glorious time at the Illinois Senior Camp from August 19 to 22.

Southern Illinois Regional Meeting

AS INDICATED in the last issue of the HERALD, plans are being laid for a southern Illinois regional meeting again this year. It will be held in the city of Mount Vernon from Friday evening to Sunday evening inclusive, September 2 to 4. All members residing in districts 23, 24, and 25 are cordially invited. The churches and companies located in these districts are: Kingman, Martinsville, Noble, Mt. Vernon, Vandalia, St. Elmo, Sailor Springs, Keensburg, Jerseyville, Alton, East St. Louis, Belleville, Duquoin, West Frankfort, Carterville, and Eldorado. We trust that all isolated members in this area south of Springfield will also make an earnest effort to attend.

The officers of the Illinois Conference, in addition to several of the leading ministers from the conference, and representatives from the Union and General Conferences, will be present. The opening meeting will be held Friday evening and meetings will be conducted on a regular camp meeting program throughout Sabbath and Sunday.

There are excellent hotel accommodations at Mount Vernon, and a large number of economical rooms in private homes will also be available.

We believe that this meeting can be productive of much good if all of our members come with a desire to receive a rich blessing from the Lord. We know that the Holy Spirit will be present to bless, and we trust that each member in the southern section of the conference will plan to attend.

New Thrills for Nature Club

FIFTEEN members representing eight churches in the Chicago area met at Palos Forest Preserve Sunday morning, July 17, for the monthly meeting of the nature club.

The cars had scarcely come to a stop when several members spotted a Florida gallinule, a least bittern, and a green heron near the edge of a lake in a small marsh. On closer observation a nest and a young least bittern were discovered.

As the hikers started to circle the lake, many black-crowned night herons flew up. Upon the waters several pud-bill grebes and coots were swimming about with their young. A rare find at this place was the wood dick with about six young. A black tern flew about over the water, and the red-winged blackbirds were on every side. An American bittern was discovered sitting quietly in a tree top, and a spotted sandpiper was seen along the shore.

The birds were forgotten for a while when a blackberry patch was found which tempted the members with luscious berries.

Completing their tour of the lake, the hikers ate their lunches and then sought other sections to explore. This time a more upland section was chosen where several species of sparrows were found, and all had the opportunity of comparing their songs. The henslow sparrow was the prize bird found here.

Those interested in butterflies had the opportunity of adding several to their collections. Among those captured were the regal fritillary, the great spangled fritillary, the red admiral, orange sulphur, white cabbage butterfly, the grayling (or wood nymph), the buckeye, and several dragon flies.

The last stop was at Swallow Cliff. There were no swallows to be seen, but there were several indigo buntings, a cardinal, a crested flycatcher, and a phoebe. In answer to Mr. Durham's call, several chickadees came near, while a Towhee in a tree near by felt that he, too, must have some attention.

On checking over the lists for the day, it was found that a total of fifty-nine species of birds were seen by members of the club. Mr. George Kent saw the egrets on his way to the meeting. All had hoped to get sight of these beautiful white birds, but it seems they chose another haunt.

Aeolian A Cappella Church Music Institute

THE LAST CALL! The last chord is sounding, inviting musicians from everywhere to assemble in a music institute and recreational retreat beside the sylvan blue waters of beautiful Lake Wawbee. The time is August 14 to 21—a full seven-day period of study and play. The place is Milford, Indiana. A happy, harmonious, yet serious spirit will prevail in all that shall be done at the institute.

Send for your copy of our beautiful six-page, illustrated folder. Hurry and send your application fee of $2. and thus assure your presence at the institute.—Aeolian A Cappella Choir, Box 29, Brookfield, Illinois.

Camp Meeting Pledges

THE CONFERENCE greatly appreciates the many pledges that were made during the camp meeting season, and the interest shown in the various projects.

Payment of these pledges should be made through the local churches, and not sent direct to the conference office, thus saving unnecessary delay and possible confusion.

The envelope containing the payment should be plainly marked "Educational and Improvement Fund," "Missions," or "Pavilion," as the case may be.

Members of the Conference church, of course, will remit direct to the conference office. C. B. CALDWELL

Reclaiming Alcoholics

COUNTLESS are the families that must live with one or more chronic drinkers. Incurable drinkers are not necessarily perverse and deliberate in the course they follow. More often they are relatively powerless to resist the urge to drink.

The cure is through treatment, not punishment. In the September issue of Life and Health, Mildred G. Gray, Ph.D., who is in charge of a WPA project for the study of alcohol at the Boston City Hospital, tells how modern medicine regards the alcoholic. The findings she sets forth in this article suggest a new and successful approach to the problem of guiding the alcoholic back to a normal productive plan of living.

Help relatives, friends, and neighbors deal with this difficult problem. A copy of the September issue of Life and Health will be mailed anywhere for only 10 cents. By personal and gift subscriptions for only 75 cents each, Seventh-day Adventists may provide for themselves and their friends the benefits of ethical health information for the home for an entire year. Order yearly subscriptions to Life and Health from your Book and Bible House.

Christian Education

By B. E. WAGNER

"IT IS TO FORTIFY the youth against the temptations of the enemy that we have established schools where they may be qualified for usefulness in this life and for the service of God throughout eternity. — "Counsels to Teachers," p. 495.

Personally, I am very grateful indeed for our schools, because it was while attending one of our colleges that I gave my life to God's service. It was there that the missionary idea was kindled in my heart and fostered until it became the all-consuming desire of my life.

I can testify from personal experience that our schools do fortify "the youth against the temptations of the enemy." Had it not been for our schools I know I would not be engaged in the work of God today, and I doubt if I would even be a member of the remnant church.

Dear young people, are you determined to prepare "for the service of God throughout eternity"? If so, get a Christian education. It can be done. Others have and so can you. God's program for you can be carried out. Write at once to the president of Emmanuel Missionary College and make arrangements to continue your education in a Christian college where students are trained to live for God and their fellow men.

If you cannot possibly arrange to attend school this fall, get in touch with the field missionary secretary in your conference right away and make plans to earn a scholarship by selling gospel literature.

Let parents and young people cooperate with God's program of Christian education that the work may speedily be finished in all the earth so we can continue our service for the Master in a better world.

OBITUARIES

MRS. MARY LANPHER

Mary Jane Doughty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doughty, was born near Rushville, Ind., Sept. 3, 1846. At the age of six weeks she went with her parents in a covered wagon to Iowa, and was four weeks on the way. After three years her parents returned to Indiana because of the illness of her father, and located near the old home.

At the age of 22, on November 3, 1868, she was united in marriage with Isaac Lanpher, a Civil War veteran who died in 1919. To this union were born four children.

In the winter of 1882, Mrs. Lanpher was baptized and united with the Seventh-day Adventist Church at Lebanon, Ind. In the year 1912, she with her husband, went to live with her daughter Edith at Berrien Springs, Michigan, and united with the Emmanuel Missionary College Church at the place where she remained a faithful member until failing health compelled her to rest on July 16, 1938. She leaves to mourn, two sons, one daughter, three grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, six nephews, three nieces, and a host of friends.

She sleeps in Jesus with a bright hope of the resurrection. She was a devoted Christian, and her life was an inspiration to all her associates. She made it a practice to overlook the mistakes in others and speak only of the good they possessed. To know her was to love her. She was laid to rest in the Hopewell Cemetery near her old home in Indiana.

C. A. Burman

Wicker.—Richard Wicker was born September 30, 1929, in Pontiac, Ill., and died there Sunday, May 29, 1938. Funeral services were conducted May 31, 1938. He was the son of Mrs. Gladys Bennett-Wicker, who is a member of the Pontiac Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Clarence C. Katt

Gale.—Mrs. Diana M. Gale was born at Ioska, Minn., March 14, 1860; and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eva Peterson, in Minneapolis, Minn., July 15, 1938. Brother and Sister George Gale were charter members of the Clear Lake, Wisconsin, S. D. A. Church. May the Lord sustain our aged brother, George Gale, in the loss of his companion and help him to look forward to glad reunion in the resurrection morning.

H. Grundset

Petz.—Frebert H. Petz was born in Germany, Feb. 16, 1863; and died in Capac, June 2, 1938. At the age of four years he came to this country. He is survived by two daughters, three sisters, and one brother. Brother Petz had been in poor health for a number of years and since February of the current year he had been confined to his bed. He was a faithful and true Christian and looked forward to the blessed hope of eternal life.

The accuracy of the Bible's longest time prophecy, demonstrated through the testimony of History, adds tremendous force to the presentation of the companion doctrine of the Investigative Judgment.

No. 64—Nature of Man

The obedient will rejoice anew and the wicked will be called to repentance as they read in this issue the Bible answer to the question, "Where Does a Man Go When He Dies?"

Present Truth subscriptions entered now will begin with the first of the current series, and in 24 issues will present the doctrines of the third angel's message in logical, convincing order as given by successful evangelists in tent and hall efforts. Send the Present Truth to your friends for only 35 cents a year; three subscriptions for $1. (In the District of Columbia, Canada, and foreign, 60 cents each.) Order from your Book and Bible House.

Gluck.—Louise Gluck was born Feb. 14, 1864; and died June 27, 1938, in Chicago, Ill. Sister Gluck joined the Seventh-day Adventist Church in 1898 and was a faithful member until her death. After a long and painful illness she fell asleep in Jesus. Her sweet smile and kindly words will long be remembered by all who knew her. She was truly a personal missionary worker. Services were held at Zimmerman's Funeral Home in Chicago, and she was buried in Fairview Cemetery, Vincennes, Ind., on June 29.

Howard J. Capman

McCoy.—Charles F. McCoy was born in Moon, Wis., March 28, 1857; and died in Bangor, Mich., July 2, 1938. On Jan. 1, 1888, he was married to Sarah Jackson, who preceded him in death June 17, 1930. To this union was born one son. Three grandchildren are also mourning their loss. Brother McCoy accepted the third angel's message in 1884 and with his wife was instrumental in bringing many into the truth. In recent years he was local elder of the Bangor church. He sleeps now waiting the call of the Life-giver.

A. C. Lien.

Kirkland.—Mrs. Harriette E. Kirkland was born on the Isle of Wight, on May 23, 1882; and died in Grand Rapids, Mich., July 24, 1938. She came to Battle Creek at the age of eight. She was one of twelve children born to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sargent. She was a member of the Battle Creek

Tabernacle. She leaves her husband, B. C. Kirkland, two daughters, a son, her father, Daniel W. Sargent, two grandchildren, and nine brothers and sisters. Funeral services were held at Battle Creek, July 26, with interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

THE VOICE of the Volunteers

Illinois Senior M. V. Camp

By E. W. DUNBAR

I AM WRITING this last-minute appeal for the Illinois Senior M. V. Camp from Camp Ki-Shau-Wau where the boys' section of the Junior Training Camp is now in session. There have been many improvements and advance steps made in this camp this year and everything is in readiness for a large and successful Senior Camp. The prospects are very good for a large enrollment. The cost is very low and within the reach of all. The only fee charged is $1.00 for registration. Pay for your meals on the cafeteria plan. Endeavor to arrange transportation with others from your church. Write to W. C. Loveless, Box 29, Brookfield, Illinois, for information regarding Senior Camp, August 19 to 22.

Looking Forward at Emmanuel Missionary College

PREPARATIONS for the opening of another school year are being vigorously pushed in the E. M. C. science department. Supplies and new equipment have been ordered and are being received. Among these new items of equipment are a precision tensiometer, used in the determination of surface tension of liquids, and a grating spectograph, the latter to be used by our physics students.

Desk tops in the chemistry laboratories have been refinished. The gas machine, supplying fuel for our bunsen burners, has just been recharged with 200 gallons of aviation gasoline.

Some independent research has always been carried on through the years by budding E. M. C. scientists; it is planned to strengthen this feature of our work. The orderliness of natural processes is a partial revelation of the mind of the omniscient Creator; the study of science, rightly conceived, is therefore an effort to understand Him more fully. What better fundamental motive for the study of science could be advanced?

It is a pleasure to report at this time that President Klooster, for many years a teacher of the biological and physical sciences, will be in charge of one class in the chemistry department this coming year. We appreciate the strength which his inspirational teaching will add to the department.—H. F. Halenz.

Beautiful music performed artistically—this is one of the objectives of the music department of Emmanuel Missionary College for 1938-1939. One of the first programs of the year will be a faculty recital at which time the members of the music and expression departments will present piano, voice, violin, and organ numbers and readings.

The chorus will organize early and begin work on Handel's Messiah which will have its fourth annual presentation in December. The orchestra will also begin its work on good symphonic material for its two programs. Smaller organizations will be organized if the school program and the time of the students will permit.

Two or three Saturday evening student recitals will be arranged, besides more frequent and informal studio recitals. The introduction of frequent studio recitals will give students more opportunities to become accustomed to playing for others. The presenting of a musical program reacts upon the students who participate by giving them training in poise and expression.

We extend a most cordial invitation to our friends to visit the campus at the time of these programs. (The dates for these programs will be published later.) We wish our friends to feel that these occasions are opportunities for genuine enjoyment of good music. Be assured of your welcome!—H. B. Hannum.

Mr. H. M. Tippet will be at the College this fall after a year's leave of absence, and full course work will again be offered in the English department.

Mr. J. J. Hafner is already busy sorting music for band and orchestra organizations.

Allan Buller, vice president of the Student Association, has some interesting plans for entertainment during the freshmen orientation days.

Elder Burman has the fall flowers well on their way to nod their welcome to incoming students.

Painting, repairs, improvements, new equipment are noticeable in various places about the campus.

In fact, everywhere about the College is that expectant air of the opening of the fall term. "I can hardly wait," said one student recently. We, too, are anxious to see the stir of life of another school year at E. M. C.

"Although for ages sin has been strengthening its hold on the human race, although through falsehood and artifice Satan has cast the black shadow of his interpretation upon the word of God, and has caused men to doubt His goodness; yet the Father's mercy and love have not ceased to flow earthward in rich currents. If human beings would open the windows of the soul heavenward, in appreciation of the divine gifts, a flood of healing virtue would pour in."—"Ministry of Healing," p. 116.
