Emmanuel Missionary College Birthday

EMMANUEL Missionary College celebrated its sixty-fifth anniversary at the chapel hour, March 13. Features of the program were an address by Prof. H. M. Tippet on "The Challenge of Heroic Traditions" and a roll call of the presidents. Current news was given of the living ones and drum rolls for the deceased as Dorothy and Winifred White, granddaughters of Founder James White, carried two large American flags to the sides of each president's picture arranged on the chapel walls.

Sixty-five years ago the denomination received instruction to establish a college where workers might be trained for the cause of God. Battle Creek College, the forerunner of Emmanuel Missionary College, was built and dedicated to that great work.

"Its managers hope to have a school where the fear of God will prevail," read the early calendars, and the college, later moved to Berrien Springs, has never lost sight of that ideal.

The story of the moving of the college in 1901 away from the city is an interesting one. Following the counsel of the servant of God to build a school where farming and other practical industries could be carried on in connection with the school, the founders purchased the ground on which the College now stands, but there was absolutely no money with which to erect as much as one building. Summer school was held in the Indian Woods, and when cold weather came, classes were held in the old courthouse and county jail, and an old hotel served as dormitory.

But the spirit to "arise and build" filled the hearts of faculty and students, and the following years marked the erection of one building after another, the successful completion of every campaign to improve the physical plant.

"Perhaps," said one who is privileged to look back on those early days and to contrast them with present attainments, "perhaps they didn't build too well as far as the structures themselves are concerned, but those early founders did a marvelous job some way of building men and women." And it is the spirit of those early sons and daughters of Christian educational institutions who worked under unguessed hardships and limitations that has made possible the splendid plant today with its five hundred acres of good farm land and various industries where young people may have part-time employment in excess of $100,000. each year while they learn from teachers whose wisdom has its foundation in the sure word of God.

Tribute was paid to the early builders by Mr. Tippet in his Founders' Day address. "It is good," he said, "for the adherents of any great movement to think occasionally upon its past, to pause in the midst of a busy activity and contemplate its humble beginnings, to remove their shoes and visit in retrospect the shrines of their forefathers. And in all our thinking of the past our hearts turn inevitably not to events so much as to the men and women who gave life and meaning and direction to those events."

The spirit of E. M. C. that now belts the globe was kindled in our men and women during those days of privation and hardships. And that rich heritage has come to the sons and daughters of the institution and has awakened in them a desire to sacrifice also if need be for the great cause of Christian education and for training in the work of God.

Emmanuel, the early founders named it, and the personnel of the college through the years has pledged itself to the end that God, indeed, shall be with us.

Indiana Academy

IN CHAPEL Monday morning, March 6, Elder Deming, of the Gary, Indiana, church, was introduced to the student body. He had laid aside his multitudinous duties as leader of the Gary district for one week in order to conduct our spring week of prayer at the academy. The helpful messages that Elder Deming presented each morning and evening brought great spiritual blessing to the school family. We learned to appreciate and love our Saviour more and were happy to dedicate ourselves to Him anew. Although this was Elder Deming's first visit to our school, we trust it will not be his last. Long will we remember the inspirational and profitable week of March 6-11, 1939.

Since the week of prayer a baptismal class with a membership of seven has been organized, and meets each Tuesday morning with Mr. Weaver as instructor. More are planning to join this class later.

The lay preachers of our State held an institute from February 24-26. Elders Butler, Joyce, and Marsh were here to lead out in this enterprise.

Elder L. L. Murphy was an appreciated visitor on Sabbath, March 4, at which time he gave the morning sermon.

There are twenty loyal young people in the senior class this year. They met in the history room on February 15 and elected officers. The results were: Thomas Kessler, president; Arlene Church, vice president; Ann Urdanoff, secretary; George O'Brad, treasurer; Orval Scully, pastor; W. A. Nelson, sponsor. The class colors are vermilion and white. Just now the seniors are busy making final plans for the commencement week end.

The formal organization of upper-classmen terminated with the balloting for junior class officers, March 12. The following officers were chosen: Lloyd Kinsey, president; Betty Blume, vice president; Dorothy Hyatt, secretary; Ernest Inman, treasurer; H. A. Habenicht, sponsor. The class presented its officers, and its colors of magenta and silver, to the student group on March 15.

For a long time we had been looking forward to the time when Brother and Sister Came of Indianapolis should come and show motion pictures of their last summer's vacation trip. The evening of March 11 we assembled in the chapel and there was not a dull moment as we journeyed with the Comes through Carlsbad Caverns, Mesa Verde Park, the Grand Canyon, Bryce Park, the Rocky Mountain National Park and other places of interest. We truly appreciate the willingness of Brother and Sister Came to share their travels with us. Many of the pictures were in technicolor and were beautiful beyond mere word description.

It is planned that our colporteur institute will be held March 31 to April 3. Brother Wagner of the Lake Union Conference, and Brother Smith from our local conference will be here at that time.

Since the recent registration of two more students our total enrollment for this school year totals 105. The present attendance is 94. Although we have a good enrollment this year, we trust many more young people may even now be planning to be numbered with us the coming year. The opening date for the next school year has already been set. It is September 5.

Elkhart, Indiana

ABOUT eleven months ago I was asked to come to Elkhart as there was a great interest aroused as the result of Sunday night meetings being held by Brother George Vandeman in the Odd Fellows Hall down town. From this interested group sixteen were baptized last June. Following the tent meetings held through the summer were other baptisms making a total of fifty-one for the year. This splendid addition to the Elkhart church, which included eleven men, has been a real inspiration and help to the church.

There has been a large follow-up work here and I have a large class of about forty readers. Brother Vandeman has begun a new series of meetings at the church on Wednesday nights. We have had one baptism recently. A number of others are keeping the Sabbath and we are looking forward to others uniting with us soon.

We have a Bible training class on Sabbath afternoons. Some of the class are already giving Bible studies. About four thousand "Hope of the World" series have been distributed, and some interested ones are being found. Brother Frank Galbraith from South Bend is conducting a very enthusiastic first aid class of thirty members on Monday nights.

More than one of my readers has told me that they are not satisfied. There is something lacking, something they are hungering for. We know it is this wonderful message that satisfies the longing heart. Does this not fulfill the statement that "All over the world men and women are looking wistfully to heaven. Prayers and tears and inquiries go up from souls longing for light. Many are on the verge of the kingdom, waiting only to be gathered in."

The city has been districted into five groups for prayer bands with a leader for each group. Thus we hope to keep in close touch with every member and have a praying church. For we know a praying church will be a working church.

An Appeal

THE COLLEGE and academy institutes are soon to be held, and that naturally brings up the question of week-end headquarters for these prospective student colporteurs. We have been in the conference only a few months and are not yet thoroughly acquainted with the field. However, from experience in other fields, I know our people respond to such a plea.

Would it be more convenient to open your home to young men, or to young women? Word from you as to whom you can accommodate will be appreciated. You may write to me at the conference office, 310 East 23rd Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Radio Broadcast

THE BOYS and girls of the South Bend church school under the leadership of their teachers, Mrs. Laurinda Crays and Miss Adele Hamra, gave a very enjoyable radio broadcast on the Safety Council Hour over station WFAM on March 14.

The fact that the boys and girls of this school are safety minded was clearly demonstrated by the original poems, compositions, and dialogues, which the children ably prepared and presented. One of the boys was permitted to announce this program over the air.

Children enjoy this type of activity, but perhaps the greatest value lies in the advertising which our church schools receive.

Camp Juvolinda

YES, WE are going back to Camp Juvolinda—the camp where ten happy days offer the joys of Christian camping away from the noise and dust of city life.

Joy number one is the jolly good fun that we enjoy when Christian boys and girls accept the challenge of discovering the advantages of Camp

Juvolinda where high standards and good fellowship work together for ten days of wholesome recreation and devotion.

Joy number two is the campfire, true with its flickering light and merry song. Nothing so beggars description as a happy circle of Junior boys and girls surrounding a beautiful fire at night singing the lovely songs of childhood and youth. We like it and the story hour too.

Joy number three is the story of a tree. Nature study is one of our keenest pleasures at Camp Juvolinda. This year five thousand acres of hills and valleys, trees and flowers, welcome the discovery of their beauty. Birds are in abundance everywhere. Rocks and fossils are of unusual formation in this section of Indiana.

Joy number four is an open door to the dining room. How could we camp without a cook, and how could we eat without good food? Camp Juvolinda is noted for its dining-room service. Come and see!

Joy number five is the great high dive. Never before in the history of Camp Juvolinda have we been able to advertise a private swimming pool for our use. It is a lovely pool with deep and shallow water for all purposes. Hot and cold showers are to be a part of its regular equipment.

Watch this space for additional surprises. Camp Juvolinda welcomes you at Versailles, Indiana, July 9 to 19.

Church Music Institute

A CHURCH music institute was held in the Marion church, Friday evening and Sabbath, March 10 and 11.

Prof. O. S. Beltz, director of the Chicago Aeolian A Cappella Choir, conducted the institute. Subjects were as follows:

Friday evening: "The Music Minister of the Church and His Objectives."

Sabbath, 11:00 A. M.: "The Relation of Music to the Church."

Sabbath, 2:30 P. M.: "Study of the Advent Hymns."

Many non-Adventist families and choir directors attended the sessions, and openly expressed their gratitude for the excellent training and help received. RICHARD J. HAMMOND

Church Officers' Institute at Cedar Lake

THE SEVENTH in our series of one-day church officers' institutes will be held at Cedar Lake Academy, on Sunday, April 2. We wish to urge that the elders, deacons, deaconesses, treasurers, clerks, missionary leaders, missionary secretaries, Sabbath school superintendents, Sabbath school secretaries, Missionary Volunteer leaders, Missionary Volunteer secretaries, together with the Dorcas society leaders of the churches listed below, be present and on time at this important meeting.

The meeting at Cedar Lake will include the churches of Alma, Belding, Carson City, Cedar Lake, Clare, Edmore, Frost, Greenville, Howard City, Ionia, Ithaca, Lakeview, Mt. Pleasant, Ola, Riverdale, St. Johns, St. Louis, Titus, and Trufant.

The conference will take care of the transportation expense of church officers who attend these institutes so far as gas and oil is concerned, of cars bringing loads of officers from various churches. Each one should bring his own lunch and the entertaining church will provide a hot drink. Both local and Union conference men will be present to discuss your problems with you and give instruction along all lines. Meetings begin at 9:30 in the morning.

"When it is hardest to pray is the time to pray the hardest," is wise counsel.

Calling All Students

SOMETIMES we hear the expression "calling all cars" and know that this means that all cars are to come to attention, and so I trust that each young person who reads this article will be patient and read it through to the end. I address each young person now, for it is not too soon to begin planning for another school year. I know some are already looking forward to that time, for I am receiving cards and letters every little while inquiring about the possibilities of entering school another year. To many I have written making suggestions as to things they could do to assure their being present at Adelphian when school starts next September. Some of the suggestions made are:

1. Raising chickens. We have been without a flock of chickens this past school year which I realize will not be the case another year, for many of you will be in a place where you can raise 150 or 200 pullets and turn them in on your account next September.
2. Raising garden produce and canning it or turning it in raw, depending upon the kind of produce. This past year we have bought many bushels of parsnips, onions, carrots, potatoes, cabbage, spinach, turnips, and hundreds of gallons of tomato juice and other canned vegetables.
3. Some of you might be living on farms and have an extra horse or an extra cow that you would be willing to turn in on your account. If there are any such I would appreciate getting in touch with you immediately for we could use a good team and a couple of good milk cows right now. Furthermore, in the line of farm equipment we need a good disk, mower, and hayrake.
4. There is canvassing work. I know that some will shrink from the thought of such work because it is hard work, but also a work from which one can obtain a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that he is not only helping himself to get a Christian education, but is also helping someone else to know the truth. I feel that the colporteur work holds many advantages to the sincere, consecrated young person who is anxious to receive a Christian education. If any who read these lines are interested in taking up the colporteur work in order to make it possible to be in Adelphian Academy next fall, I urge you to get in touch with me for it is very likely that we could work out some plan whereby you could attend our colporteurs' institute which will be held for the students here at the academy April 21-25.

I trust that these foregoing suggestions will make it possible for a large number of our young people in eastern Michigan to be in attendance at Adelphian Academy next fall.

From March 9 to 11 the students at Adelphian Academy enjoyed good counsel and admonition given along missionary lines. Elder Butler from the General Conference, Elder Joyce from the Union conference, and Elder Brown from the local conference were present and instructed the young people, and those who cared to attend from the church, in the best ways to win souls to the truth. Truly the efforts put forth during those few days were appreciated.

We have just enjoyed a Missionary Volunteer rally here at Holly, and believe that most everyone who attended was helped thereby. We are glad for the efforts put forth by our workers in behalf of our boys and girls. We only wish that more of our young people from eastern Michigan could be here to enjoy these opportunities. I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to those large-hearted brothers and sisters who have so kindly given of their means that so large a number of our young people could be in Adelphian Academy this year, and we appeal to others to look forward to helping some worthy young man or young woman through school another year.

The school chorus has been practicing for the past several weeks and plans are laid to make five tours. The first will be made April 1, on which date we plan to give programs at the following places: Jackson, 9:30 A. M.; Hillsdale, 12:00 noon; and Ann Arbor, 4:30 P. M. Anyone within driving distance of these places is cordially invited to be present.

The past few Sabbaths, Mr. Beardley and members of the Seminar have been visiting several of the smaller churches in eastern Michigan. We are glad the membership enjoy these visits for in this way our young people are given practical experience that they so much desire.

During the past week we had our Spring Week of Prayer. Classes have been shortened and the chapel periods lengthened. Prayer bands have met every day and the students met each evening in union worship. Under the leadership of Elder and Mrs. Heppenstall the young people were greatly encouraged along the Christian way. The frank, determined way in which God's messages were presented to us was greatly appreciated.

It will interest most of you to know that the enrollment at Adelphian Academy stands at 112 with about 97 in attendance. As far as available records are concerned, it appears we have the largest dormitory attendance for many years.

We ask that you remember us in your prayers, and we ask you older members of the church to plan with the younger members that they might be in Adelphian Academy another year.

Ionia Church Dedication

ON SABBATH, March 4, the Ionia Seventh-day Adventist Church held its long-awaited dedication.

The church had been redecorated for this special occasion and it looked very pleasing in its fresh, clean, and new appearance.

Various committees had prepared a well-organized and interesting program which was enjoyed by a full house both in the morning and afternoon.

A large group arrived early to take part in a very interesting and helpful Sabbath school.

Elder Carlyle B. Haynes, president of the Michigan Conference and father of Donald Haynes, a former pastor, gave a gripping dedicatory sermon during the church service. He emphasized the thought that not only should buildings be dedicated and set apart for the worship of the true God but also the lives of His people; for the human body is a temple of the living God. The only way this can be done, Elder Haynes brought out, is by a complete surrender of the heart, the mind, and the body. The congregation signified their desire to give all to God by standing when the call was made. At the close of his sermon, Elder Haynes prayed God to accept both the place of worship, which is no longer encumbered with debt and the human life which should no longer be burdened by sin.

Preceding the sermon, a male quartet sang that beautiful song, "Only a Contrite Sinner."

In the afternoon, Elder H. L. Shoup, pastor of the Lansing church, addressed the congregation on the great prophecy of Matthew 24. He emphasized the fact that Jesus Christ would come in this generation.

H. H. Crandell, the local pastor, followed Elder Shoup with brief remarks on the raising of the church debt. It was brought out that God blesses His people when they follow His instruction. He expressed appreciation for the loyal support, the hearty cooperation and the great effort which made the church free from debt.

Mr. Crandell's "Dedication" with apologies to Abraham Lincoln on his Gettysburg Address, was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Mrs. Eva Mae Adams, in whose home meetings were first held in 1913, read the church history. With apt phrases and bits of poetic thought, the history was made very interesting as she depicted the gradual growth of the church.

Mr. Crandell then burned the mortgage papers. The members, especially, were pleased that this had been made possible. The Belding and Greenville churches also joined the group to make this a day long to be remembered. * * *

Sabbath School Investment

Past — Present — Future

DID YOU know that fifty-eight native missionaries could be sustained in the mission field for one year with the Investment offering given by the Illinois Sabbath schools in 1938? The average yearly salary of a native missionary is $120. and our total Investment offering last year amounted to $6,944.86, or a per capita of $1.36.

The following twenty-five churches raised the amount necessary to support one or more native missionaries for a year:

South Side	$620.00	Sterling	152.00
W. Central	400.00	Shiloh	148.70
La Grange	360.14	Joliet	147.24
Hinsdale	270.07	Streator	135.62
Brookfield	251.61	Evanston	121.20
Swedish	240.28	Decatur	120.73
Aurora	240.22	Broadview	120.00
Galesburg	240.00	Czechoslovak.	120.00
Moline	240.00	Italian	120.00
N. Shore	240.00	Hungarian	120.00
Peoria	240.00	Humboldt P.	120.00
Waukegan	240.00	Sheridan	120.00
Twin City	166.46

There were forty-seven Sabbath schools in the conference which reached a per capita of one dollar or more. Some of our smallest schools had high per capita, but owing to the small membership were not able to raise the entire $120. necessary to place them among the group supporting a native missionary for a year. Lack of space will not permit us to list these schools, but we do appreciate their splendid work last year.

We have the names of only ten of the boys and girls who raised $10., which is the amount necessary to support a native missionary for one month. They are:

Dorcas Collier	Sanford Moore
Ruth Halvorsen	Robert McFadden
Sheldon Fritz	Arlene Peake
Elaine Hays	Jacqueline Bauer
Dorian Wilson	Whitney Lindwall

We also mention the thirteen children who earned $5. each:

David Strelow	Ted Hamer
Billie Strelow	Evelyn Partain
Nanette Carman	Dorothy Watson
Peter Sobb	Richard Pehrson
Carol Lou Carman	Kathryn Spradley
Edna Loga	Warren Filipenko
Evelyn Fabian

There were 105 seniors who received certificates for raising from $10. to $120. Of these we will mention just the sixteen who reported $25. or more:

Mr. and Mrs. J. Berg	$120.00
Mrs. O. C. Durham	120.00
Miss Inis Morey	120.00
Mr. Fred Rill	100.00
Mrs. Myrtle Rith	75.00
Mrs. M. E. Tharp	70.00
Lula Young	50.00
The Blake Sisters	37.00
Nettie Roberts	35.00
Alice Crantz	32.00
Vito Andreucci	30.00
Mrs. M. Torto	30.00
Anna Gloetzel	30.00
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard	30.00
Mrs. A. Buck	30.00
Mr. Wm. Ferguson	27.00

We greatly appreciate the faithful work of these members, as well as all others having a part in the Investment last year. Doubtless we will never know the good that has been accomplished through this means, but it is gratifying to be able to cast our bread upon the waters.

The present year offers us greater opportunities through the Investment plan. Jesus' coming is one year nearer. Shall we not look for our honor lists to grow, yes, and even double in 1939? Set your stakes now. Then run, as did Paul, to gain the mark. If one native missionary wins from 100 to 300 souls for Christ in one year (the actual figure), is it not worth laboring diligently to support a large number of these workers?

SABBATH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

Are You Keeping Up?

CUT IN stone on the wall of the Vatican is a statement in connection with the Catholic Press Exhibition. It reads: "However one strives toward the triumph of the Catholic cause this will never be achieved if the press, which is the principal means, is forgotten. The Catholic who does not protect, help, defend, and make known the Catholic press may be pious, but he does not take into account the times in which he lives nor has yet reached the stage to see clearly the present hour."

We could well substitute the name "Seventh-day Adventist" for "Catholic" in this challenging statement, and while the original is on "tables of stone" we, who have the finest literature in the world, should surely have such a conviction inscribed indelibly on the fleshly tables of our hearts.

As custodians of the truth, are we keeping pace with the message? There was a time when one would have to search for a considerable time for material enough to talk for an hour. Now we can gather material enough in an hour from a hundred sources to talk for a week. The "March of Time" has made way for the "Flight of Time!" It would be no less than tragic, yes, eternally tragic, if for any reason we should lag behind and follow afar off.

It is easy to keep pace with our message (which truly is flying) by reading our splendid periodicals published weekly and monthly. Among these is our full-message journal, the Watchman, which is celebrating its tri-decennial anniversary this year, and which is more than ever an "Interpreter of the Times," both to the members of the remnant church and to those who are wondering as to the real meaning of world affairs.

March 25 to April 8 is Watchman week. Besides subscribing, or renewing your subscription, why not help to make possible the placing of this journal in the libraries in your city or town? Then, too, Illinois has proven to be excellent territory for the sale of the Watchman either single copies or subscriptions. For particulars regarding the scholarship or year-round plan of selling the Watchman, address the writer at Box 29, Brookfield, Illinois.

News Notes

AT A RECENT meeting of the conference committee it was voted to hold the Illinois camp meeting this year June 9 to 18 on the Broadview Academy campus. It is not too early to begin now to lay plans to attend this important session.

On Sabbath, April 1, Elder M. V. Campbell will meet with the companies at White Hall and Jacksonville. Elder W. C. Loveless will be associated with Elder T. E. Unruh of the Lake Union and Elder M. R. Bailey in conducting an all-day Missionary Volunteer rally in the Rockford church, and Brother P. M. Lewis will speak at the Shiloh Church in Chicago.

Missionary Volunteer Officers, now is the time to make definite plans to be present at the M. V. officers' institute at Broadview Academy April 7 to 9. We are looking forward to greeting representatives from every church in Illinois at this council. Address your request for reservation or inquiries regarding the institute to Elder W. C. Loveless, Box 29, Brookfield, Illinois.

Friday evening, March 17, at the Hinsdale Missionary Volunteer meeting, Elder H. D. Strever, who is on furlough from India, presented an intensely interesting report of the activities of the Karmatar Mission in that country. Elder Strever's talk was illustrated with a large number of attractive slides. Members of the Hinsdale congregation were very happy to have Elder Strever meet with them again Sabbath morning and occupy the church hour.

Dr. Floyd E. Bates, former missionary to China, was a welcome visitor last Sabbath at the La Grange church where he presented a very inspiring sermon during the church hour. Dr. Bates has recently been connected with the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles and is now on his way to take up work in the Iowa Sanitarium.

There are no dull moments for those who love nature. The members of the Chicago M. V. Nature Club found this to be their experience Sunday, March 19, when about forty met at Orland Park for their usual monthly meeting. The club members were happy to have Elder Dunbar of the Union join them on their hike. It seems that nature put on an unusual display for the club that day, for in addition to other interesting things, they saw flocks of Canadian wild geese and many varieties of wild ducks on the lakes, and also numerous summer birds which were just returning from the South.

Milwaukee English Church

EARLY last November, Sunday night services were begun in a very comfortable hall, and have been continued during the winter months with a fair attendance. Before the close of the year a baptismal service was conducted, bringing into the church some persons who had been studying the truth for a period of time, and who had become ready for membership.

Some who have been attending the Sunday night services are keeping the Sabbath, several of whom are already attending our Sabbath services. Another baptismal class will be organized in the near future. We plan to follow the Sunday night Bible lectures with a large Bible study class to be held in the church on Tuesday nights. These studies will not only be of benefit to our church members, but the class will also provide an opportunity for interested persons and new believers to continue their study of the truth. In this way we hope to bind off our public effort we have been holding on Sunday nights.

Our committees are still busy studying plans for a new church home and church school, and also in the raising of funds for these projects. Soon we hope to have these plans worked out to such a degree, that in due time, they will begin to materialize.

Much prayer, consecrated and unified effort on the part of all, together with careful planning, will mean brighter and more prosperous days in the future work and history of the Milwaukee English Church.

COLPORTEUR EVANGELISM

First Half Day After Institute

BROTHER John Herman and I secured two orders for "Bible Readings," one was in the half leather. In both these homes the people inquired before letting us in if we had Russellite literature. The lady who ordered a half-leather binding said she had long been wanting to get a book like it. At the other home, the people ordered knowing that it was a Seventh-day Adventist book. Besides these two orders the Lord blessed us with two subscriptions to Life and Health as well as other cash sales, making a total of $14.60. God Leads

I usually canvass the north side of town one day and the south side the next day. At eleven-thirty I had finished the north side. It was bad walking, the sidewalks were slick, and I was tired and hungry, and was tempted to go home. But I had asked for the guidance of the Holy Spirit and for strength.

I went to a friend's home in the south part of town, who buys Bed-time Stories, and Life and Health, and she wants "Bible Readings." While there the Baptist minister called. When he came in he said, "I had the strangest experience." She introduced us. He spoke and shook hands, and then said, "I never had such a strange thing happen; just as I started to come in, the gate opened by itself."

I didn't think much about it at the time, but I know the Holy Spirit led me to that home at that time, and I believe an angel opened the gate for that man, for I don't think it would open by itself.

A friend told me he was explaining "Revelation." I offered to loan him "Daniel and Revelation." He said he would rather study the Sabbath question with me. I told him I would be glad to study with him, so he has promised to come to my home and study. I am praying for wisdom from on high. He has a sister who is an Adventist. Will you pray that this sister's prayers may be answered, for she is praying that he will come into the truth?

Adventure in Achievement

By E. W. DUNBAR

NINETEEN hundred thirty-nine is presenting some very serious challenges to our youth. It demands that every young people's leader work, pray, and organize the youth under his charge. If we are to save our young people there must be an advance on all fronts toward the objectives of the Missionary Volunteer organization of Seventh-day Adventist youth—"To save from sin and guide in service." There must be a new emphasis placed on the aim, "The advent message to all the world in this generation."

A balanced program in every society in 1939 means using four lanes of activity:

Devotional	Missionary
Prayer bands	Literature work
Morning Watch	Sunshine band
Bible Year	Cottage meetings
Consecration services	Branch S. S.
Week of Prayer	Hospital and jail
	Big Week
	Harvest Ingathering
Educational	Social
Profitable programs	Nature hikes
Reading courses	Hobby clubs
Study and Service League	Picnics
Master Comrade	Camps
	Social gatherings

Special Features for 1939

1. Every society making a survey of the youth connected with Adventist homes in the community and a strong endeavor to bring to each one the blessings of Missionary Volunteer fellowship.
2. Every society using literature. "Truth for Youth" suggested as the best.
3. Each society conducting a training class. Suggest Master Comrade training and Study and Service League.
4. Social life provided through nature clubs, hobby clubs, and summer training camps.

News From Illinois

Moline. The M. V. Society at Moline has just started a Master Comrade class and has fifteen signed up. Congratulations!

Humboldt Park. Our Sunshine Band has been going to the Danish Old People's Home. At the close of their meetings they hand out literature. The pastor is launching an extensive literature campaign in the church vicinity and the young people are taking an active part in this.

Kewanee. Progressive classes are being started here. We have not had a society in this church for some time. So glad to see the young people active there again.

Springfield No. 1. Their society writes that they have been having very enthusiastic Bible and Morning Watch drills.

Danville. The M. V. Society Sunshine Band visits the Old Folks' Home every Sabbath afternoon.

Barrington. This society reports some wonderful experiences gleaned from their Sabbath afternoon literature distribution.

Morgan Park. Each week their members hand out literature for distribution to neighbors and school friends. They are endeavoring to bring their friends to the society meetings.

Swedish, Humboldt Park, and North Shore. These societies held very profitable union meetings during the recent Week of Prayer.

Timely Advice

We do not know who is the author of the following hints, but the advice is good, whoever wrote it:

If you are impatient, sit down quietly and talk with Job.

If you are just a little strong-headed, go and see Moses.

If you are getting weak-kneed, take a good look at Elijah.

If there is no song in your heart, listen to David.

If you are a policy man, read Daniel.

If you are getting sordid, spend a while with Isaiah.

If you feel chilly, get the beloved disciple to put his arms around you.

If your faith is below par, read Paul.

If you are getting lazy, watch James.

If you are losing sight of the future, climb up the stairs of Revelation and get a glimpse of the Promised Land.

IF I WERE LEADER of Your Society

1. I would study carefully all promotional material from the office, and file it in a loose-leaf binder.
2. I would call an officers' meeting after every society meeting to plan our programs, our missionary work, and our socials.
3. I would see that the suggested subjects in the "Gazette" were followed in general.

IF I WERE SECRETARY of Your Society

1. I would study carefully all promotional material from the office and then counsel with the leader and post on the bulletin board such pages as would inspire our members.
2. I would keep accurate minutes and see that a good report was taken in the society meetings.
3. Nothing on earth would stop me from keeping my report accurate, filling in every item—and getting the report in on time.
4. I would also feel it my business to keep the membership list up to date.
