Clarifying the Report Blanks

By W. A. BUTLER

Article No. 3

IN THE two preceding articles the items pertaining to individual missionary reports have been explained. We now consider those special items concerning which the individual worker does not report, but which are called for on blanks made out by the conference home missionary secretary. For example:

(a) Offerings for Local Missionary Work. This might be better understood if it read "Offerings and Expenditures for Home Missionary Work of all Kinds During the Month," as this report covers the four-week period. This item includes the First Sabbath Missionary Offering and any other offering for church missionary work; also donations or money for subscriptions to missionary periodicals, such as Signs, Watchman, Present Truth, and any other literature purchased for church use. Money invested in lay preaching efforts should be reported. The Dorcas Society Funds, which are reported to the church treasurer and held in trust by him, may be included in the total figures for the month's or quarter's offerings and expenditures for local missionary work. This does not imply that the church missionary secretary receives or expends the money belonging to the Dorcas Society, but simply has a record and thereby is able to make a complete report on the missionary funds of the entire church.

(b) Number Added to the Church as the Result of Layman's Work. Individuals received into church membership by baptism or on profession of faith who have been directly influenced in such action through any line of missionary endeavor carried on by lay members, should be counted as fruits of lay effort. Youth reared in Seventh-day Adventist homes, or otherwise influenced by parents or friends to give their hearts to God and unite with the church, should likewise be included in this group.

(c) The Welfare Society. During the years of the depression, which began in 1931, Seventh-day Adventists organized many Welfare Societies throughout the country. In other divisions of the world field such organizations have been long in existence. The purpose of the Welfare Societies in the various churches was to care for the unfortunate and poor in our ranks, and also others not of our faith. An extensive and helpful work was carried on. As the federal governments, states, and local secular organizations assumed greater responsibilities along this line, there was less need for extensive welfare work by church organizations. So today there are comparatively few Seventh-day Adventist Welfare Societies operating in the North American Division. Still there are a few places where our Welfare Societies are carrying on and meeting a real need. We have not lost our zeal and warmth toward those in need because the government has taken hold of this work in a grand scale. We must always be ready to give personal aid when within our scope and reason. In order to report that a church has a Welfare Society, there must exist an organization and complete set of officers especially functioning in regular welfare work.

(d) The Dorcas Society. The Dorcas Society is one of the missionary units of the church, and every sister in the church should be enlisted in the good work which is being carried on. The number of Dorcas Societies in each conference is indicated on the monthly blank No. 2, according to the reports by churches. The work done by the Dorcas Societies is reported on special Dorcas Report Blanks Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, and is a group report on the items included in the scope of Dorcas Society work, rather than individual reports by the members of the society, all of whom should be engaged in other lines of church missionary activity and reporting regularly on the Individual Missionary Report Blank.

(e) Lay Preaching. This good work is not provided for on the regular missionary blanks at the present time. It has come prominently to the front since the present reporting system was inaugurated, but a revision is contemplated in the near future, whereby Lay Preaching will be included. For the present, complete reports are collected on special blanks provided Union Conference Home Missionary Secretaries quarterly.

(f) Society of Missionary Men. This is also a new phase of organized missionary endeavor which will be added to the report blanks at an early date. For the present, the number of such societies can be placed on the regular blanks by special insertion, according to information available to the missionary leader of the church.

(g) Home Hygiene Class. For years this item of missionary promotion has been on the report blanks. Recent changes have been brought about, however, by which the term "Health Study Circles" will be substituted to represent the organization and training for which the Home Missionary Department becomes primarily responsible. The "Home Hygiene" instruction will continue under the direction of the General Conference Medical Department, with fullest cooperation on the part of the Home Missionary Department; but on the Home Missionary Blank the name "Health Study Circle" should appear. It is anticipated that members of the "Health Study Circle" will desire to become members of the "Home Hygiene Class" in due time, thereby becoming thoroughly informed and instructed in regard to the health principles and how to apply them in missionary endeavor.

This concludes the attempt to clarify the intent and purpose of the missionary report blanks. Church missionary leaders and secretaries may find it advantageous to clip the series of three articles and file for future reference.

of bringing the message to others. It is hoped that meetings of this nature can be held in other districts from time to time.

South Side Evangelism

ON Sunday evening, January 28, the Masonic Temple hall at Loomis Blvd. and 64th Street was filled with an attentive audience that heard Elder Howard J. Capman speak on the subject, "The Fate of Europe—Who Will Win?" More than a hundred persons signed cards for free literature, and the offering was $25.04.

A half hour before the sermon the Symphonettes of Broadview Academy, under the direction of Prof. W. A. Schram, rendered a fine repertoire of songs. The large audience stood to its feet in appreciation of the creditable manner in which they interpreted their songs. Broadview can be proud of its Symphonettes.

The South Side Church members are cooperating with Elder Capman in securing a good attendance at the Sunday night meetings by each week writing hundreds of postal cards and also distributing ten thousand announcement cards from house to house in the vicinity of the hall. They

News Notes

Progress of North Side Effort

OUR members will be interested to hear of the progress which is being made in the large effort conducted by Elder C. T. Everson in the North Side Auditorium at 3730 North Clark Street in Chicago. Meetings have been held each Friday and Sunday evening since the effort commenced last October, with the exception of one week end during the holiday season, and there has been a good attendance throughout the series. Several hundred people are being sent free literature each week as a result of the requests which have been received at the meetings, fifty persons are definitely interested in the truth and are now receiving Bible studies, and ten have already been baptized. Of those who have been baptized, six united with the North Shore Church, three with the Swedish Church, and one with the Polish Church. This effort will continue throughout the winter, and we trust that our members will pray for Elder Everson and his associates that they may win many more souls to the truth in this campaign. Elder Everson's subject for Friday evening, February 9, is "Will There Be Persons in Heaven Who Have Never Been Baptized?" and the subject for Sunday evening, February 11, is "The Mark of the Beast in the Forehead—What Is It? Who Has It?" All of our members living on the north side of Chicago are invited to bring their friends to hear these important subjects explained by Elder Everson.

Successful Rally at Rockford

The rally which was held in the Rockford church last week end was the first of its kind in our conference. The work of the five departments was studied. Elder W. C. Loveless represented the Missionary Volunteer and educational departments, Elder J. C. Christenson the home missionary and Sabbath school, and Brother P. M. Lewis the field missionary. Brother T. E. Lucas of the Wisconsin Conference also joined in the successful rally. Elder Raymond Cales, the leader of the district, had everything planned for a very interesting day. The members enjoyed the privilege of meeting together and studying better methods deserve words of appreciation for their faithful work which resulted in large audiences on both nights during the sub-zero temperatures of the last two weeks of January. May the God of heaven reward their labors with many souls saved in His kingdom.

On the evening of February 11 Elder Capman will speak on "The United States in Bible Prophecy." A half-hour musicale by Mr. and Mrs. James Hagle and their little daughter, Betty, will precede the sermon.

All members and friends living on the south side of Chicago are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Rome in the Days of the Caesars

NEARLY three months ago Elder C. T. Everson presented his first of a series of three lectures on Rome in the conference auditorium at Broadview. Those who made up the large attendance at this first lecture have been looking forward with eager anticipation to the two which remain, and we are happy to announce that Elder Everson will deliver his second lecture on Rome, Saturday night, February 10, at the Auditorium.

This second lecture will be entirely different from the former one, for rather than describing Modern Rome, it will depict Rome in the days of the Caesars. There will be 150 beautifully colored screen pictures showing, among other things, the Tarpean Rock from which the political criminals of Rome were cast to death, the gladiatorial contests where men fought man and beast, the place where Mark Anthony gave the funeral oration over the body of Julius Caesar, the home of the vestal virgins who kept the lights of the altars of Rome burning perpetually, and who were buried alive if the lights went out. There will also be a vivid presentation of the martyrs who wrote the history of early Christianity with their blood upon the yellow sands of the Roman arenas and who were tarred and burned alive by the monster, Nero.

In addition to the 150 slides which will illustrate the lecture, there will be a talkie motion picture at the close. The proceeds will be used to help finance Elder Everson's evangelistic effort on the north side of Chicago.

This is a lecture which every Adventist will want to hear. It will be of great educational value and real interest. We urge every member within driving distance of Broadview to lay plans to be present at this second great lecture on Rome by Elder C. T. Everson, who for several years lived and labored in the city of Rome.

Springfield Missionary Volunteer Rally

February 10

ALL the members in district 21 are invited to Springfield to attend the Missionary Volunteer rally to be held in our church Sabbath, February 10. Elder E. W. Dunbar of the Lake Union and Elder W. C. Loveless, our Missionary Volunteer and educational secretary, will be with us. We trust there will be a large gathering present from this district to enjoy the program which is being planned. Bring your lunch and plan to spend the Sabbath day in Springfield.

PRESIDENT, S. E. WIGHT

THOSE WHO WISH TO MAKE WILLS OR LEGACIES, PLEASE CORRESPOND WITH THE INDIANA CONFERENCE, 310 EAST 23RD STREET, INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA.

News Note

At the workers' meeting held in Indianapolis, January 8, Brethren A. V. McClure and M. K. Eckenroth were ordained to the gospel ministry.

Elder McClure has labored in the Indiana Conference four years, mostly in the southwestern part of the State. Elder Eckenroth has been in Indiana three years and has spent most of his internship in the northern part of the conference.

Both these men have been active in district work, building churches, doing pastoral work, and giving radio sermons. We wish them continued success in their labors.

New Colporteurs

IN THE last few weeks the Lord has touched the hearts of quite a number to enter the colporteur work with our large books. It has already been my privilege to get a number of these started in their work. I am pleased with the response of those who have felt the call. Never has there been a greater interest in the message that we have to bring, especially among professional people.

Last week a doctor ordered "Bible Readings," paying a $2. deposit. A Methodist minister in the same town wrote us a recommendation for "Bible Readings" and our children's books. The leader of the Cradle Roll of the Christian Church purchased "Bible Readings," as did also her mother-in-law, paying $1. and $2. deposits respectively. In another town, the County Recorder purchased "Bible Readings" with a year's subscription to

During the month of December the colporteurs turned in one hundred and fifty subscriptions for Life and Health. What they have done may be duplicated by many others. There are many towns in Indiana that are going unworked every month which could just as well be worked for single copies and subscriptions. Our best magazine worker sold four hundred copies last week. It has been the burden of my heart for some time to add more magazine workers.

Events in the world are rapidly shaping toward a crisis. Soon many will say, "I wish I had worked while there was opportunity." Will you dedicate your service to the Lord and make arrangements for territory? Correspond with the writer, 310 E. 23rd Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Educational Progress in Wisconsin

THERE have been but few changes in the physical set-up of our schools in Wisconsin for several years. We have reached the time, however, when we must do more toward bringing our schools to the physical standard as prescribed by the denomination. This standard is not unreasonable but right. Some of our deficiencies are glaring ones. This must not be. Our Wisconsin schools should be examples in dimension, equipment, proper heating and lighting.

We are planning continually and forces are always at work whereby our educational system in Wisconsin may be improved. We shall never be satisfied until we are the head and not the tail. Much is now being done to forward this very important work. Even as you read this article, plans are in effect that will culminate in the building, repairing, and reconstruction of some of our needy schools. Please pray with us as we go forward with these projects. We are striving to provide better educational facilities for your children. We call your attention to some of the improvements being made in our schools.

Clearwater Lake

Many of you read the article in a previous issue about our school at Clearwater Lake. You also saw a picture of the new building occupied about December 1. You cannot appreciate this building unless you have seen the one just vacated. I have a picture of it on my desk and it can best be described as a wretched old shack.

May the Lord help us to house our children in well-built, neatly painted, correctly lighted and heated, and properly equipped buildings. This is what we now have at Clearwater Lake. Their newly equipped library has grown to 700 volumes. The Clearwater Lake school is taught by Miss Lucille Parfitt.

Milton Junction

We are thankful for the progressive spirit at Milton Junction. The church, the board, the parents, the children and the teacher are all enthusiastic for the school. Recently old partitions in the rear of the schoolroom were torn away, giving an additional 75 square feet of space. The space once served as cloakrooms, which were moved to the basement.

City water has been piped into the school. This aids sanitation and provides greater convenience. Much of this work was done by the brethren during the Christmas holidays. A new casing was constructed for the door, new shades were purchased, the floor was oiled, and the woodwork was repainted.

The Home and School Association at Milton Junction is one of the most progressive in the State. Charles Antisdell is the leader. The Milton Junction school is being taught by Miss Mae Brodersen.

Bethel

This school is close to our academy campus. The piano has been tuned and they are installing indirect lighting fixtures. Lumber has been secured with which they are going to build shelves for their bookcase. New storm windows are being purchased and plans are being made to raise money for new seats. Primary supplies are being secured and a committee is at work to make plans for a summer club. This summer club will provide means by which students can earn part of their tuition. The Bethel school is taught by Miss Alice Bodine.

Beloit

It is our hope that when school opens next September we shall have a new school building at Beloit. Two lots have been purchased in a very desirable location and plans are being made under the direction of Elder Keiser, our district superintendent, for the building of a new church school. Miss Marian Johnson is the teacher at Beloit.

This is only a sample of what is being done educationally in Wisconsin. Our new school at Tomahawk, which is being taught by Miss Graham, is making new progress every day. The enrollment is increasing and there is confidence in the administration of the school.

It has been my privilege recently to do supervisory work in both the Oakland and Waupaca schools. These schools are being taught by two new teachers, Miss Lorraine Meert and Miss Lucille Haagensen. We are proud of the development of these schools.

Mrs. Brown's school at Madison is equipped with new seats.

We are looking forward to better things for 1940 and believe the Lord will abundantly bless us as we strive to improve the educational facilities of our schools in Wisconsin.

THEODORE LUCAS

Attention District 7

YOUR district leader is taking this opportunity to notify you of a change of address.

For the past fifteen months we have enjoyed residence at Richland Center, but since it was considered advisable for us to move to La Crosse, we have located there and our address is now 133 S. 22nd Street, La Crosse, Wisconsin, Phone 3029-J.

During our stay at Richland Center it was our privilege to assist in the work of finishing the new church which is now very near completion. At the time of our departure there was no debt on the building, and the plans are that it will be ready for dedication sometime during this year. The work of completion is in charge of Brother Ernest A. Smith, the local elder.

We solicit your prayers in behalf of our labors at this new location and throughout the district. Let us make 1940 a banner year as we labor together with God for the finishing of the work. CLAYTON SOWLER

Revivals

THE writer, with the assistance of Brother C. M. Bee, closed a week of revival meetings at Rhinelander on Sabbath, January 27. The Lord richly blessed our people as we assembled from night to night through the week. At the close of the week we organized a baptismal class of seven members. Some of these needed further instruction and it was decided to postpone baptism until spring. Brother Bee has been laboring faithfully in his district and there are a number of scattered believers throughout his district, hoping to unite with the church by baptism in the spring.

We find that these revival efforts are a real encouragement to our people and especially to the workers who take part in them. I have in mind particularly the precious season that I spent with our Missionary Volunteer secretary in the revival meetings at Milton Junction, at the close of which eleven persons were buried in the wattery grave. The baptismal service was held in the Seventh-day Baptist Church.

Other ministers are planning similar meetings through the winter and from time to time they will be reporting their interests through the LAKE UNION HERALD.

We greatly appreciate the faithful work being done by the lay members of our churches. The more faithful our brethren and sisters are in home missionary activities the more successful will be these short revival efforts when they are held. W. H. HOLDEN

A Fine New Book

IT NEEDED doing, this new book. We have waited long for our authors and publishing houses to enter the field of significant biography. It has come at last.

In this time when fundamental American principles are feeling the impact of the pagan conceptions of totalitarianism from abroad; when fascism, nazism, and communism are endeavoring to get their conceptions of the supremacy of the state to overthrow the Christian ideal of the dignity of the individual, it is refreshing to go back to basic principles of American life in the study of the life of such a man as Roger Williams.

This has been done by Elder C. S. Longacre, secretary of our Religious Liberty work for twenty-eight years, in a book just issued by the Review and Herald, entitled "Roger Williams: His Life, Work and Ideals."

The price is only one dollar, and the book should be obtained and read by our people everywhere, regardless of price. It contains 191 pages of excellent, deeply satisfying material.

It is doubtful if any man ever had a clearer conception or better understanding of the Christian relationship which should exist between church and state, or of the dangers and fallacies of a totalitarian and authoritarian system of government, than did Roger Williams.

Certainly no man ever stood for his principles more loyally than did this man. The story of his life, and his struggle for the principles of truth which he believed, and which came later to be incorporated into the structure of the American nation, is a moving and heartening one. Our young people should read this book, as should every lover of liberty.

Let us do you a favor and a benefit by sending you a copy. It can be ordered from the Book and Bible House.

Pontiac Progresses

HAVING just compiled the following items concerning the Pontiac church for the year 1939 I am giving a brief summary which may be of interest to others outside of Pontiac.

The financial facts of the church reveal that the total funds raised by the church amounted to $11,729.29 for the year or an average of $977.44 per month. This makes an average of nearly $50. per member for our 240 members and an average of $108. for each family of the church. The tithe alone amounted to $6,521. while the mission offerings and conference funds amounted to $2,054. including $663.76 Harvest Ingathering. The amount raised for the church school teacher's salary and church expense and other local funds was $3,152.68.

These amounts represent an increase in tithe and mission funds of $1,273.58 and an increase in local funds of $893.68 or a total gain of $2,167.26. The $1,187.92 raised for church expense and new equipment provided for such new equipment for the church and school as, new leak-proof roof covering, new window shades, poster strips above all blackboards and new blackboards, flags and flag pole, and effectively sealing the cement floor of the chapel room.

The church has received twenty-one new members by baptism during the year. Thirty new attendants are with us at Sabbath school and services since the effort held here in connection with the work of Elder Julius Gilbert White. The enrollment of our school has increased from 39 to 46 during the year so far. For the evident spirit of cooperation among the members of the church and for God's blessing we are most thankful.

New Church at Evert

FOR some years, the group of believers at Evert, Michigan, has been organized into a company. It is now a church.

During these years they have built a representative church building of stone construction, only a block or two removed from the very center of Evert's business section.

Elder D. S. Osgood and Elder Hugh Williams labored in connection with the interest in Evert, and encouraged the believers there to go forward with their building work.

The church is now in the district superintended by Elder B. J. White. A church organization was brought into existence and the new church building dedicated at special services held there on Sabbath, January 20. Sixteen members now constitute the church. Others will join later.

The officers of the new church are: J. R. Kittrell, elder; Kenneth Bentley, deacon; J. R. Kittrell, missionary leader; Mrs. Nettie Wilson, missionary secretary; Mrs. Martha Shore, clerk; Mrs. Grace Bentley, treasurer. The deaconesses are Mrs. Bernice Seath and Mrs. Grace Bentley. The pianist is Mrs. Shirley Bentley.

The officers of the Sabbath school are: Mrs. Bernice Seath, superintendent; Mrs. Shirley Bentley, assistant; Kenneth Bentley, secretary; Mrs. Lena Stevens, assistant.

We welcome this new organization to the list of churches in Michigan, and pray for its enlargement and growth through the days to come.

A Series of Dorcas Federation Meetings

A HELPFUL series of Dorcas Federation meetings has just closed. The Lansing Federation joined with the Battle Creek Area, and the Berrien Springs Area suspended their meeting due to the inclemency of the weather, so there were but seven meetings.

The guest speakers were, Elder T. E. Unruh, Mrs. Little, president of the Pontiac W. C. T. U., and Mrs. Hudson, president of the Lansing W.C.T.U. and Mr. G. K. Smith of the Anti-Narcotic Bureau. The themes presented were helpful and instructive. Those of Elder Unruh were challenging to the extreme.

Next spring there will be another Federation organized, making ten for Michigan. Then every church in districts 1 to 12 will be included in some federation.

Experience proves that these Dorcas Federation meetings are stimulating our ladies (and some men also) to a greater ministry to the needy in this time of uncertainty.

MRS. E. R. POTTER

Lay Preachers' Institute in Grand River Church

THE lay preachers' institute held in the Detroit Grand River Church on January 26 to 28 was a blessed occasion. Elder H. B. Taylor gave his whole-hearted cooperation in every way. Particularly was his encouragement to the laymen of value, because it came from his early experience.

Elder W. H. Bergherm of the General Conference, and Elder C. S. Joyce of the Union, gave helpful and practical instruction, and the spiritual uplift was appreciated by all.

At the closing meeting some thirty-five men and women took goals for the souls they plan to win during the present year. Two of them took goals of fifteen souls each, and two others took ten. The total was 142 souls.

An Experience Worth Repeating

By EDWARD HEPPENSTALL

MISSIONARY Volunteers have no more thrilling experiences to tell than the experiences of Christian Service for others.

A few days ago the Missionary Volunteer leader wrote me a thrilling account of the missionary work carried out by the young people of the Hastings church during Christmas season.

"Our M. V. young people went out to sing Christmas carols in the interests of the poor and needy of this city and the vicinity. We went faithfully for about six or eight nights and were very successful in our work. We looked like Santa Claus every evening when we came in with our arms loaded with canned fruit, potatoes, apples, store canned food, and everything one could think of. We raised $44.16 in this worthy work. We received 83 cans of fruit and about 40 cans of store canned food. Our M. V. Society put out, not baskets, but sixteen great big grapefruit double-section boxes of food, and in cases of large families, we filled two such boxes. We counted up the number of pounds of foods we had and found that we distributed over 1700 pounds of food. Everyone told us they never saw such well-filled boxes as we had. We were the subject of the Chamber of Commerce here in our city. One of the members asked how we did it and we told him through solicitation.

"We went into homes where I dare say most farmers would not think they could keep their live-stock; but there lived human beings, in such places with practically nothing to keep them warm, and nothing much to eat.

We went to one place, arriving just as they were having supper. All there was on the table was some dry bread; they were eating off pie tins and cake tins. We noticed them as we were driving out of the yard. The little family of ten were gathered around the two boxes we left and looked with eager eyes to see the contents.

"We tried to supply every need with the following articles in each box: Butter, Bananas, Cranberries, Flour, Jello, Prunes, Apples, Peanuts, Candy, Oranges, Shortening, Sugar, Onions, Cocoa, Bread, Potatoes, Beans, Canned Fruit, Jams and Jellies, Carrots, Pancake Flour, Syrup, Crackers, Canned Store Food.

"In each basket we placed a Signs of the Times bearing the inscription: 'Christmas Greetings! This basket was made possible by contributions from the business men, several residents, farmers, and the Hastings Seventh-day Adventist Church. This work is sponsored every year by the Missionary Volunteer Society of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.'"

This society has a membership of sixteen. Each year they assume half of the Harvest Ingathering goal.

Are you in search of happiness, contentment, and a deeper experience in spiritual things? Here is a way to find it. Are you looking for thrills? Then try this rich field of service endeavor and you will not be disappointed.

New College Award Plan

By H. M. TIPPETT

OF special interest to our academies is the announcement from Dean H. E. Edwards that a new departure is to be followed in determining the eligibility of academy graduates for E. M. C. scholarships. While heretofore the scholarship award has been jointly given by the academies, the conferences, and the college, the new plan is to give one annual award to each academy in the Lake Union Conference, sponsored entirely by the college.

With the cooperation of the academy faculties, the graduates qualifying for college entrance will be given standard examinations in the two fields of their major study and in the two fields of their minor study. The grades will then be graphed according to a standard scale, and the honors council or some other appropriate committee of the college will decide the student to whom the award is to be made. This plan will do away with any possible charge of favoritism, since it is wholly an objective and not a subjective plan. The student will be chosen in each case who shows the greatest promise of probable success as revealed in his response to the standard tests.

Experience with advanced schools of training show that E. M. C. graduates do superior work in their respective fields of scholarship. It is a record of which the college is proud, for it fits in with the counsel of the Spirit of prophecy that scholarly attainments should be the aim of all our schools. It is in the interest of stimulating scholarly ideals in our applicants for admission that these annual awards are given. We would bespeak the encouragement of parents and teachers of the young people in our secondary schools to "seek the best gifts" in training for the Master's service.
