The Greatest Criminal Producer

E. G. WHITE

HOUSES of prostitution, dens of vice, criminal courts, prisons, alms-houses, insane asylums, hospitals, all are, to a great degree, filled as a result of the liquor-seller's work. Like the mystic Babylon of the Apocalypse, he is dealing in "slaves, and souls of men." Behind the liquor-seller stands the mighty destroyer of souls, and every art which earth or hell can devise is employed to draw human beings under his power. In the city and in the country, on the railway trains, on the great steamers, in places of business, in the halls of pleasure, in the medical dispensary, even in the church, on the sacred communion table, his traps are set. Nothing is left undone to create and to foster the desire for intoxicants. On almost every corner stands the public house, with its brilliant lights, its welcome and good cheer, inviting the working man, the wealthy idler, and the unsuspecting youth.

In private lunch-rooms and fashionable resorts, ladies are supplied with popular drinks, under some pleasing name, that are really intoxicants. For the sick and the exhausted, there are the widely advertised "bitters," consisting largely of alcohol.

To create the liquor appetite in little children, alcohol is introduced into confectionery. Such confectionery is sold in the shops. And by the gift of these candies the liquor-seller entices children into his resorts.

Day by day, month by month, year by year, the work goes on. Fathers and husbands and brothers, the stay and hope and pride of the nation, are steadily passing into the liquor-dealers' haunts, to be sent back wrecked and ruined.

More terrible still, the curse is striking the very heart of the home. More and more, women are forming the liquor habit. In many a household, little children, even in the innocence and helplessness of babyhood, are in daily peril through the neglect, the abuse, the vileness of drunken mothers. Sons and daughters are growing up under the shadow of this terrible evil. What outlook for their future but that they will sink even lower than their parents?—Ministry of Healing, pp. 325-540.

LISTEN

W. A. SCHAFFENBERG

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS have, through the years, been prolific writers, active publishers, and zealous distributors of truth-filled literature. They have recognized the importance of the printed page. Every member of the church was encouraged to distribute our literature like the leaves of autumn. As we near the end of time we should be even more zealous in this respect than were the pioneers, for Satan realizing his time is short will do all in his power to promote his subtle doctrines.

The trend, so far as the temperance issue is concerned, since the Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment has been towards moderation. The liquor interests are promoting the idea that beer, wine and whiskey, if taken moderately, will hurt no one and that only five per cent of those who drink excessively ever become alcoholics. If they do become alcoholics it is not due to the alcohol, but rather to their psychological or pathological make-up. These few are allergic to alcohol and should never drink. The vast majority of the people, they tell us, know how to handle their liquor.

This doctrine of moderation has permeated the rank and file of the people today, including many clergymen and prominent church leaders. The influence of the liquor interests can, therefore, be felt in many of the Christian churches today, and men engaged in the manufacture, the distribution, the sale, and the consumption of alcoholic beverages are members in good and regular standing and may even hold office in many of the leading churches.

We believe the time has come to launch a mighty revival of the temperance issue. Our new temperance journal, Listen, which presents the principles of temperance in a most attractive form, and which will serve as the voice of the American Temperance Society, should be literally circulated like the leaves of autumn. It should be sent to every official, clergyman, physician, school superintendent, principal, teacher, judge, attorney, law-enforcement officer, prominent business man, and public library in the country.

You can have an active part in placing Listen in 1,000,000 homes in America, by contributing liberally to the Temperance Day offering that will be taken up in all our churches on Sabbath, December 10, 1949. The offering this year will be used for the circulation of Listen on a national scale. By taking advantage of the "LISTEN SPONSORSHIP PLAN" churches can send a yearly Listen publication to ten different addresses in the United States or its postal zones for only $5. Listen

Sponsorship Order Blanks will be furnished each church. A special Temperance Day Offering Envelope on which to indicate your pledge, or the amount of your offering is to be passed out in all our churches on Sabbath, December 10. If $500,000 could be raised on that day, Listen could be sent to 1,000,000 American homes during 1950.

May the Lord impress our people everywhere with the importance of launching a mighty soul-saving revival of the temperance issue throughout the length and breadth of the land, and respond liberally to this appeal to contribute to the "LISTEN SPONSORSHIP FUND."

REMEMBER THE DATE—December 10, 1949. Let's make this offering the largest Temperance Day offering in our history, for time is short, and what we do must be done quickly.

Temperance Day, December 10, 1949

W. A. SCHARFFENBERG

SABBATH, December 10, 1949, has been designated by action of the General Conference Committee as TEMPERANCE DAY. A special program has been prepared for this occasion. This program entitled "LISTEN" appears in the December issue of the Church Officers' Gazette. Reprints of this program will be sent to all district leaders, pastors, church elders, and church temperance secretaries.

The Temperance Day program this year will call the attention of our people to the aim, purpose, and objective of our new temperance journal, Listen, recognized by all temperance forces of America as the outstanding temperance magazine in the nation. Listen should be circulated on a national scale.

If every Seventh-day Adventist in North America would contribute $2 for this purpose on Temperance Day, Listen could be sent to the 1,000,000 most influential people of the nation for one year. It is one of the most effective ways of making our influence felt in behalf of the temperance cause throughout the nation. We trust the offering to be taken up on Temperance Day this year for the circulation of Listen on a national scale will surpass all previous Temperance Day offerings in our history. Let us make December 10, 1949, a big day for TEMPERANCE.

Our Duty To Our Youth

JESUS has admonished us as under-shepherds to "Feed My Lambs." In Councils to Parents, Teachers and Students, we find the following quotation on Page 42. "God requires that the church arouse from her lethargy, and see what is the manner of service demanded of her at this time of peril. The lambs of the flock must be fed. The Lord of heaven is looking on to see who is doing the work He would have done for the children and youth. The eyes of our brethren and sisters should be anointed with heavenly eye-salve, that they may discern the necessities of the time."

Every member of the church has a duty in helping save our youth and preparing them for service. Cedar Lake Academy has a fine group of students this year as well as many others in Western and Northern Michigan that would like to be here. Unfortunately, the problem of finances holds back many from coming to school. Also another problem that comes and one we are greatly concerned about is when some few students are well established here and are doing fine work, then a death, financial reverses or being laid off of work causes some students to have to leave school. This ought not to be. The church and its members should rally and see that no young person has to leave school.

Because of conditions that have arisen since school opened, a small number of students may not be able to continue school the second semester unless some help is secured.

I am wondering if a number of people whom God has blessed financially would be willing to help some of these fine youth? It would be missionary work of the highest order to help those of our own in need. I am a believer in foreign missions, however, I also believe we need to help our own youth as well as those across the seas. It pays to invest in fine youth today. The future of this church depends on its youth.

We can use a number of large donations as well as smaller ones. We can assure you that any donation would be appreciated.

I am sure if we all do our part that no young person will need to withdraw from school. Why not write now and either send in your contribution or tell us what you will do month by month. Your help is needed now as the second semester will soon be here.

R. O. STONE, Principal
Cedar Lake Academy

Laws of Health—X

IX. Thou Shalt Be Temperate in All Things.

"Every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things." I Cor. 9:25.

Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." I Cor. 10:31.

Peter tells us to add to our knowledge temperance. "The law of temperance must control the life of every Christian. God is to be in all our thoughts; His glory is ever to be kept in view. We must break away from every influence that would captivate our thoughts and lead us from God. We are under sacred obligations to God so to govern our bodies and rule our appetites and passions that they will not lead us away from purity and holiness, or take our minds from the work God requires us to do." C. H., p. 42.

"The great end for which Christ endured that long fast in the wilderness was to teach us the necessity of self-denial and temperance. This work should begin at our tables, and should be strictly carried out in all the concerns of life." C. H., p. 125.

What then is true temperance? It is not abstinence from that which is harmful and moderation in the use of all that is good? Not only is this true in regard to the food and drink which we take into our bodies, but also in all other matters. Too much or too little of any good thing is intemperance. God plans that we should strive to be temperate in all things. "Temperance in all things has more to do with our restoration to Eden than men realize." C. H., p. 129.

Highlights of the Fall Council

THE annual General Conference Autumn Council convened in St. Louis, Missouri, November 7-15. It is customary each autumn to make up the annual world budget for the ensuing year. The total for the year 1950 as voted amounts to $16,000,000, by far the largest budget adopted in Seventh-day Adventist history. Every Seventh-day Adventist believer will praise the God of heaven for this indication that the Lord will speedily finish His work in all the world.

Now that mission doors are wide open in Japan for all Christian missionaries, the Autumn Council voted a special consideration to send many Seventh-day Adventist missionaries to Japan in coming months. It is estimated that the Catholic church has already sent 1,000 missionaries to Japan. There is no doubt that this is the day of opportunity for us to preach the everlasting gospel to the Japanese people. We understand that wherever our missionaries hire halls to preach the message the people of Japan are eager to listen. Elder J. L. McElhany, President of our General Conference, made a very earnest appeal in behalf of Japan during 1950. At the forthcoming General Conference in San Francisco a special offering will be taken to augment the funds for our work in Japan.

SATAN AGAINST TITHING

"THE subject of tithes and offerings has not been dwelt upon as it should have been. Men are not naturally inclined to be benevolent, but to be sordid and avaricious, and to live for self. Satan is ever ready to present the advantages to be gained by using all their means for selfish, worldly purposes; he is glad when he can influence them to shirk duty, and rob God in tithes and offerings. But not one is excused in this matter. 'Let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him.' I Cor. 16:2. The poor and the rich, the young men and women who earn wages, all are to lay by a portion; for God claims it. The spiritual prosperity of every member of the church depends on personal effort and strict fidelity to God."—Mrs. E. G. White, in the Watchman, January 3-April 11, 1905.

who connects the present with the pioneers. His sermon on "God's Wonderful Work" emphasized the Providential hand of God over His remnant church from its very inception. The final triumph of the Second Advent Movement is absolutely sure. God has marked the remnant church, which keeps the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus, in Revelation 14:12. In a special way God has called commandment-keeping people to fulfill the prophecy of Revelation 14:12. The time has come for the work to be finished in the loud cry of the Third Angel's Message. We should give ourselves to prayer and sacrifice that God's Last Day Message may be quickly finished. There is not one shadow of doubt that the Lord stands ready to pour out his Holy Spirit upon all flesh. Let us empty our hearts of sin, and pray that we may be filled with the necessary power to witness for God and be triumphant when Jesus comes.

Subscribe Now for the Review

NOVEMBER is the month for the Review Crusade to encourage every Seventh-day Adventist home to subscribe for our denominational weekly journal. This instruction comes to us from the Spirit of Prophecy: "The Review is a valuable paper; it contains matters of great interest to the church and should be placed in every family of believers." Vol. 4, page 598. "If any are too poor to take it, the church should by subscription raise the amount of the full price of the paper and supply the destitute families." Vol. 4, page 598. The Chairman of the "Review Committee" should take the list of those who cannot afford to subscribe for the Review, requesting the church board to provide the Review for them.

Have you renewed your subscription for the Review? You cannot afford to be without the information and inspiration that this "authentic voice of our denomination" can bring to you every week. You cannot afford to be without the weekly visits of the Review for you would be out of touch with the advancement of God's work in this earth. You want to triumph with the message, don't you, therefore you should subscribe for your church paper. You may think that you can get along without it, but read the following: "To those who fail to read the Review and keep track of the progress of the work, the loud cry of the message may come, and they not know it. Yes, because they know not the time of their visitation." Review and Herald July 31, 1919.

Be sure to place your subscription in the hands of your Church Missionary Secretary, or mail it direct to the BOOK AND BIBLE HOUSE, Box 512, Madison, Wisconsin. Remember that for the yearly subscription price of $3.75 you will receive a special premium for the year 1950, composed of twelve additional issues of the Review and Herald covering the proceedings of the General Conference to be held in San Francisco next July. Many of you will not be able to attend the General Conference, but you can read all about it by subscribing to the Review for 1950. Subscribe without delay.

Here is a beautiful testimony of appreciation for the "good old Review":

"I can join the family of the Review and Herald readers. I do not remember when I first saw the paper as it was a weekly member in my parents' home. My grandmother, whose home was near Harvard, Illinois, for over 50 years, possessed a copy of the first issue that was ever printed. She was a regular subscriber. She told me she would rather live on one meal a day than be without the Review, which she was not obliged to do. The paper kept coming during her declining years. It was there for her sons to read.

"I would feel lost could I not have access to the current issues of the Review and Herald."
MRS. J. ARMITAGE

News Notes

• THE members of the Bethel district enjoyed an all day District Rally in the Bethel church on Sabbath, November 19. Meetings were conducted Friday evening and all day Sabbath, with Elders H. J. Capman, C. M. Bee, and Brother R. G. Burchfield conducting the various services.

• Elder and Mrs. H. J. Capman, accompanied by Brother R. G. Burchfield and wife, attended the Autumn Council in St. Louis November 7-15. They returned to Madison

November 16, and report a deeply spiritual and impressive council.

• The students at Wisconsin Academy appreciated the Sabbath morning sermon given by Brother L. G. Wartzkow November 19. Both students and faculty participated in the Week of Sacrifice Offering for missions.

• A meeting of Temperance Secretaries convened in Berrien Springs, Michigan, November 19-21, and Elder J. F. Knipschild, who attended the meeting, reports a genuine interest on the part of our leaders in the great cause of temperance.

• It is none too early for those are interested in God's call to the Colporteur Ministry to plan for attendance at the annual Colporteur Institute to be held in Milwaukee January 8-15. If you are interested in taking up this line of service for the Lord, be sure to write to our Publishing Secretary, W. C. WHITTEN, Box 512, Madison, Wisconsin. Remember to pray for the colporteurs every day at noon. Let us pray that the year 1950 will be the best year yet in the history of the literature work in Wisconsin.

• An all-day district meeting of the believers in the La Crosse area convened in the Seventh-day Adventist church in La Crosse on Sabbath, November 26. On Friday night Elder H. J. Capman spoke to the believers at Hylandale Academy. Elder G. F. Ruf conducted a Council on Home Missions in the La Crosse church Sabbath afternoon. The La Crosse church has increased its membership by approximately one-third as a result of following up all the interested people found by means of spearhead evangelism.

• Elder J. F. Knipschild visited the Bloomville church on November 12, and received one of the greatest thrills of his life as he observed their Investment program. This is a country church, with just a small group of believers but each and all, from six to eighty-five took part, and knew their parts by heart. Then one by one each came forward with his little bag or box of Investment money and told how he or she was able to raise the amount. There were at least fifteen to twenty different ways utilized. In total, the small group of 22 presented $307 to God in that service. One of Wisconsin's excellent school teachers, Ruth Kaiser, who is teaching in Milwaukee, sent home her Investment offering of $35. Their example of liberality to the Cause of God is something we all can heed.

What Are You?

WE ARE WHAT WE THINK. Says the Scripture, "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he." Prov. 23:7. In these days when the senses are constantly assailed by unchristian ideals and thoughts, it is imperative that the Seventh-day Adventist safeguard his thinking. Not to do so may lead to the cherishing of impurity, evil and sin. In time the thought will become the practice of life. To prevent this tragedy the Bible warns: "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." Prov. 4:23.

Dr. Wayne McFarland Will Speak At Rural Living Council

Everybody interested in rural living, gardening, and connecting with medical centers, will be interested in the presentations at the week-end Rural Living Council to be held at the Humboldt Park church in Chicago, 2914 West North Avenue, December 9-11, beginning at 7:30 Friday night. Dr. Wayne McFarland, from the medical department of the General Conference, an authority on self-supporting medical institutions and rural living, will be the guest speaker and counsellor at this meeting.

C. R. FRENCH

If wrong thinking leads to wrong living, then right thinking leads to right living. But what will the Christian adopt for right thinking and living? Certainly not the cinema, radio, press and television of our day. The ideals presented by these modern mediums of communication are corrosive to Christian living. There is only one guide for Christian thinking and living—the Holy Bible. Says the Psalmist, "Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee," and "I esteem all Thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way." Ps. 119:11, 128.

If you are enjoying a good Christian experience, it is because you are daily meditating upon the word of God. If you are defeated, discouraged and backslidden, it is because your thoughts and ideals are not in harmony with God's Holy Word. Why not begin the daily study of God's word and notice the effect it will have upon your thinking and living. There is no better method devised for the daily study of the Scriptures than the Sabbath-School lessons. May every church member in our Conference conform his thinking to God's word and thus be transformed into the similitude of Christ. "What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they? And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me. These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb." Rev. 7:13-14.

DECEMBER 10TH

WE are calling the attention of our members to the fact that the offering for December 10 goes for the conference temperance program. This date has been set aside by the General Conference in which a temperance offering should be taken in all our churches.

Due to the sweeping menace of the liquor traffic, we must spare nothing in order to place signs of warning in every place, so that "He that runneth may read." In order to combat this great menace, we need funds to put forth a stronger program of temperance education in Illinois than we have ever done before. We appeal to your liberality for a generous offering on this date.

Ministers Each Week

If every believer in Indiana were in my office this morning, and I wanted to give you some counsel which would benefit you the most for the coming year, what would it be? I suppose first of all I would naturally ask you to be faithful in your Bible study and devotions, and next on the list I would just have to place the Review & Herald.

Our message is the greatest thing on earth, but the message would avail the world little if we did not have an organization to take it to them. The Review ministers to every class and covers every phase of the work. It sounds the warning signal when dangers arise, it sets forth the denominational teachings on certain subjects of a controversial nature. Every missionary sailing is listed, and constantly we have up-to-the-minute reports on home and foreign activities.

Every week in the Review there comes to our home a minister to help every member of the family, the church, and any others with whom we might share the paper. All of this for about thirty cents per month. Yes, this small amount for the whole family. No one could evaluate the good it would do if every believing family in Indiana were a subscriber for the coming year.

Every family should subscribe at once, while they can get the Review for one year and he General Conference Bulletin, all for $3.75, which is only the regular price of the Review alone. May we have the privilege of getting your subscription, soon?

"Let's Do It Right"

We are now in the time when nominating committees are at work selecting and nominating officers to fill the various church offices for the coming year. The work of this committee is most serious, and in nearly every case the members feel the solemnity of their task. After much prayer and many hours spent in considering the important duties and sacredness of these offices, the best talent and most devoted and consecrated members are chosen to shoulder the responsibility of leadership.

While a serious responsibility rests upon the ones that nominate the officers, a much more solemn and sacred responsibility rests upon the one accepting such an office. It is no light thing to stand constantly before judgment-bound souls, and by our acts, words, and life endeavor to lead them into the kingdom. Such a position of responsibility and trust demands the very best there is in us. To quite an extent a leader has to think, study and act for the people.

Because of this, every one who accepts an office in the church should first of all consecrate all he is and has to this sacred work. Then he should leave no stone unturned in an endeavor to fully and clearly understand every detail of the work connected with his particular office. After he has thus informed himself, he should then take hold of the work, determined by the help of God that to the very best of his ability, everything will be done in harmony with the Bible, the testimonies, and our denominational policies.

No matter how long one has been in this or another church office, he should never be content with what he has before known or done. He should again, or for he first time, go to the Church Manual and carefully read over his duties. He should also counsel with his pastor and the one that heads up that particular department in the conference. From every available source one should get all the suggestions and counsel possible. After this, we should do everything in our power rightly to discharge our duty to God and the people we are chosen to serve. Only when we do this will we have the courage to attempt great things for God and be able to expect great things of God.

Your Office Secretary Speaks—

A CHEERY GOOD DAY TO YOU! May I take a few moments of your time to introduce myself and tell you about my work? Unless you have visited our Conference office, my sister secretaries and I may be unknown to you. Inasmuch as the nature of our work does not require us to make trips into the field, our only contact with you is through your correspondence.

Did you know that those mysterious initials at the bottom of the letters you receive from the Conference office represent your office secretary and her interest in you? She is glad to have a part in helping to keep a constant live connection between the local Conference office and the many workers and thousands of members of the outlying churches. She takes a personal interest in seeing that the requests which reach her department from the field are promptly honored, the desired information or supplies mailed. As the executive's right-hand helper, it gives her pleasure to transform his notes into an attractive bulletin by artfully weaving in a bit of her own originality. Her satisfying reward for a job well done is the sincere appreciation expressed by her chief from time to time.

Yes, your office secretary holds a position of importance and responsibility. Her work calls for accuracy, thoroughness, and initiative. The position is not necessarily an easy one, but it is always interesting and has the spice of variety.

As personal assistant to a busy executive or department head, the secretary takes care of all general and confidential correspondence, and handles the routine business of his office. During his absence she acknowledges correspondence and disposes of numerous small matters of business, thus enabling her chief, upon returning to his desk, to give items of major importance his first attention.

I would not imply that your office secretary is an all-sufficient, overworked individual who takes unto herself all manner of authority and undue responsibility. On the contrary, working under the direction of her superior, and carrying out his instructions, she takes the initiative and makes decisions only where she has been given liberty to do so. But remember, whenever her name is signed to your letter, it should have as much attention as though the signature were his.

Perhaps enough has been said in our first chat together; but I did want you to know that there are several members of the office family who, although working in the background, are making a vital contribution to keeping the Conference program running smoothly. And now, may I hope that when you receive the next letter from us, those meaningless initials will have become an animated symbol of your office secretary?

Needless to say, I've enjoyed meeting you today and shall look forward to visiting briefly with you again sometime!

EVELYN PLATT, Office Secretary

Lake Region Teachers Attend Institute

SHILOH CHURCH and School played host to a most interesting Teachers' Institute. At the opening session, Elder T. M. Fountain, president of the Lake Region Conference sounded the keynote which had to do with the "Teacher's High Calling." We were admonished to "look upon the pupils for what they may become." All eight areas in this union had full representation in attendance.

It was pointed out that Jesus was a teacher sent from God. He was not designated as a great preacher. As teacher we should glorify our profession by our godly demeanor, as was brought out on Monday in the devotional hour conducted by Elder W. A. Nelson, Educational Secretary of the Lake Union Conference.

Other speakers were: Colonel Clarence Lineberger, Public School District Superintendent of City of Chicago, who had made an interesting study on arithmetic and shared his findings with the group; Professor Joseph Urbancsek from Chicago Teachers' College, who discussed reading in the grades; Elder D. W. Hunter, Missionary Volunteer Secretary of Lake Union Conference, who had gathered data on the juvenile problem here in Chicago. His findings were most astounding and present a challenge to all who are dealing with youth.

Miss Sarah Fredenberger, instructor in Handwriting, from Zaner-Bloser Company stayed by and demonstrated her technique in teaching this system, which would prove quite effective in making for more legible expression of ideas in the primary classrooms.

Mrs. Anita Mackey, Social Service supervisor, brought before the group ways of reaching every child where special problems are involved. Her report dealt with specific cases.

Miss Louise Ambbs, Normal Director, was constantly in demand leading out in the discussions on methods with helpful suggestions that will be used daily throughout the union.

Many teaching for the first time feel that they are greatly benefitted for having attended the institute. To further add to the comfort and pleasure of each one present, the meals served daily and the musical and social hour held on the closing evening gave a most helpful warmth of Christian fellowship.

The faculty of Shiloh School wishes to thank the Educational Superintendent of the Lake Region Conference, Elder L. H. Davis, and all who helped him make the institute a success, as well as for considering Chicago as host to the institute.

MRS. CHRISTINE THOMPSON
Principal of Shiloh School

I Will

"Many will falter when something goes wrong,
While others will fight when swinging along.
Some will feign weakness, and sit by the way,
While others will strengthen at work through the day.
Some people are strong in all that is true,
And others are spineless in things they should do.
"None can afford, when traveling along,
To falter a trifle when something goes wrong.
None ever reaches the top of the hill
Unless he is made of the stuff called "I will."

Senior Placement Begins

First Steps Toward Senior Placement Taken

THEY are out in the work now, or perhaps taking further school work. How do they find their places? The great question in the senior's life is—after this year, what? This question is of interest to the college administration and faculty as well as to the students. The first steps in the placement of the members of the class of 1950 have already been taken. Placement data, both personal and professional, have been turned in to the registrar's office. In addition to personal information turned in by the student and professional training records from the school, four faculty members who are well acquainted with the student are asked to fill out recommendation questionnaires. One of these four faculty members is usually the faculty advisor.

A profile of the student's health record is also included. This is taken from the records of the health service, and includes the reports of the yearly physical examinations. The business office is asked for a report of the student's responsibility in his industrial work and his ability to take care of his financial obligations. A picture of the student is attached to the questionnaire.

Seniors are asked to give names and addresses of those to whom they wish this material sent, enabling them to have it sent wherever they may wish to apply for a position.

Balance of SM Staff Elected

Thirteen offices in the Student Association and Student Movement were filled in the recent fall election. Candidates were introduced by William Fuchs, president of the Student Association. Those elected were Gerard Slack, news editor; Ralph MacDonald, auditor; John Krchnavi, custodian; Roland Mullin, feature editor; Elaine Thompson, Make-up editor; Robert Reiber, religious activity editor; Ted Massey, Clubs activity editor; Martin Fishell, circulation manager; Mrs. Ann Wyatt, staff librarian; Jack Nail, administrative vice president; Thelma Ortnier, secretary; Ila Morefield, associate secretary; Wyman Wagner, assistant treasurer.

Consecration

Is giving to God without reserve

Every faculty,
Every ability,
Every talent,
Every ambition,

Every purpose,
Every desire,
Every possession,
Every affection,

To be used by Him
As He will,
When He will,
Where He will,

For the glory of His name,
For the upbuilding of His kingdom,
For the accomplishment of His work.
