CONFERENCE VIEWS ON

Education in the Lake Union

Are We Keeping Up With Our Catholic Friends?

The history of education in the United States shows that educational institutions, particularly secondary schools, were largely established by religious organizations. These were largely Protestant denominations. In the early days scores of small Protestant colleges and academies were established wherever the country was settled.

Today many—the majority, in fact—of these institutions have either been closed, or have lost their religious character. As an example of this, Yale, Harvard and Princeton were all established for training ministers and were church colleges. No one considers them such today. The disappearance of the small church-related college from America is a well known fact and great concern has been shown about this by thinking people.

What the effect of this trend has been on American Protestantism in general hardly needs comment. As the church-related colleges lost their religious character and were infiltrated by modernism and evolutionary teaching the graduates reflected conditions within the colleges. American Protestantism lost its distinctive doctrines, church membership became a nominal matter, standards were lowered, and the prophecy of the last days that men would

He Should Have Read the Letter Twice

"This matter of changing from a church school to a public school is probably the most serious decision that you have ever yet had to make. The most important thing that you are going to get out of your education, regardless of whether it be acquired in a church school or in a public school, is CHARACTER. That is the only thing you will take with you through this life and into eternity. Your chances of developing, attaining, and maintaining the right kind of CHARACTER are one hundred to one greater if you stick with a church school than if you switch to a public school." This is a paragraph of a letter written by a business man in

Grand Ledge Academy Holds First Graduation

Six graduates received diplomas from Grand Ledge Academy, May 23, 1959, at an evening service.

Guest speaker for the commencement exercises was Eld. G. E. Hutches of Lansing, president of the Michigan Conference. His topic was a descriptive challenge of the future to the seniors as well as to the parents, relatives, and many friends that attended this first commencement. Ralph P. Bailey, principal, presented the diplomas to the first graduates.

Those who received diplomas were:
Connie Jones Gary Briggs
Alda Sue Redfield Judy Holbrook
Vesta Van Allen Patricia Johnson

Voice of Prophecy Fair Displays Now Ready

For conferences and local churches who desire to feature The Voice of Prophecy among the exhibits at their state, county, or local fairs, brandnew displays are now ready for use.

These displays are in two colors, both vertical and horizontal in shape, and are 23" x 35" in size. Also supplied with the layout is a full color picture of "The Christ of the Radio Tower," our theme picture.

This colorful display can add much interest to your fair exhibit, and at the same time increase the number of listeners to our Sunday broadcasts in your area. Also, new enrollments for Voice of Prophecy free Bible courses can be secured at your fair booth. A supply of enrollment cards will be sent to you upon your request to Public Relations Department, Box 1511, Glendale 5, Calif.

To secure a fair display, please make your request to your local conference Radio-TV Secretary, giving him information regarding the fair, the place where it is to be held, and the dates, together with your full name and mailing address.

For a small charge your local sign painter can prepare a showcard giving local time of release, kilocycles, and call letters of your nearest station carrying the Voice of Prophecy broadcast. Not only will this be helpful to the potential listeners, and to those at V.O.P. headquarters, but it will be appreciated by your station manager; for your conference Radio-TV Secretary will notify him of your promotion of his station in connection with the Voice of Prophecy broadcast. Please send word to your conference secretary that you are promoting your nearest V.O.P. station, giving him its location and call letters.

"MI PROGRAMA"

by B. A. LARSEN, Radio Secretary Inca Union Mission

Often our Voice of Prophecy listeners write about the program as their program. "It is my program" they say.

A brother in Guayaquil, Ecuador, who is working on a large farm, told how his employer had bought a good radio and installed it with powerful loudspeakers so that all his workers could enjoy listening to good broadcasts. Our brother at once thought of the Voice of Prophecy and went to his employer to tell him about it. But the owner, who knew he was an Adventist, would not hear of any religious program.

"I have my program," he said. "That is what we are going to listen

The Adventist did not get discouraged, however, for on Sunday morning he went to his employer again, and as soon as he saw him coming, he called: "Come, come here, I want you to know my program."

As he tuned in to the Voice of Prophecy program, he said, "Listen, that is my program, that is what we all are going to hear every Sunday morning."

Wisely, our good brother did not say anything. He was just very happy that his employer's program was the Voice of Prophecy.

Unknown to us there are hundreds, yes thousands, who listen to the program regularly as their favorite broadcast.

Pastor Vernabe Chavez said that one day he went to the bank in Chiclayo, Peru, when the cashier suddenly asked him, "Don't you belong to the Voice of Prophecy?"

"Yes," Pastor Chavez said, "That is our program."

"Oh, I am so glad to meet you," the bank cashier said. "I have been wanting for a long time to meet someone from the Voice of Prophecy. I want to express my appreciation for that excellent program. That is my program. My family and I listen every Sunday. I want to congratulate you and thank you for that broadcast which brings such blessings to me and my family every week."

A professor of the Lima Symphony Orchestra said, "I never have time to go to church, but the Voice of Prophecy is my church." There are many like

One day Pastor and Mrs. O. Krause bought a suitcase at one of the large stores in Lima. They asked for a discount and the manager gave them a very good reduction. But, when during their conversation he found that they were missionaries and sponsors of the Voice of Prophecy program, he exclaimed with enthusiasm, "If that is so, if you are from the Voice of Prophecy, then I am going to give you a real discount."

He cut another S/80 off the bill. He was a devoted Voice of Prophecy listener. It was his program. He had studied and finished the Bible Correspondence course. He is one of our Nicodemus type Voice of Prophecy friends who loves the truth and indirectly fosters its proclamation. There are many such friends of the Voice of Prophecy who will undoubtedly some day come out and follow the Master fully.

The Divine Blueprint Says:

"The importance of the canvassing work is kept ever before me. This work has not of late had the life infused into it which was once given by the agents who made it their specialty. Canvassers have been called from their evangelistic work to engage in other labor. This is not as it should be. Many of our canvassers, if truly converted and consecrated, can accomplish more in this line than in any other in bringing the truth for this time before the people."-Colporteur Ministry, p. 7.

What Do You Do?

When Your Child Eats Between Meals?

PARENT 1: "I try to prevent this by having good nourishing food prepared in an appetizing way at each meal. We eat heartily and enjoy our food. I never coax or urge a child of mine to clean his plate, neither do I permit one to take too big a helping. We sometimes enjoy playing games at the table like 'Feed the Birdie' or 'Guess what.' We eat what we want and no one ever thinks of eating anything until the next meal."

PARENT 2: "Irregularity causes children to think they are hungry between meals. I find that when the meals are regular the children adjust to them all right, but when they are close together today and hours apart tomorrow, the children do get hungry and are tempted to eat at any time. We see that our meals are properly spaced."

PARENT 3: "When I find my children slipping food between meals or sampling this and trying that, I let them finish what they have and then skip the next meal. Once or twice is all it takes. A child hates to sacrifice a whole dinner for a few nibbles."

When Your Teen-ager Has Younger Brothers and Sisters?

PARENT 1: "We noticed no change in our oldest son in his relationship to his younger brother and sisters when he reached the teen-age. From the time they were born we let him know that they 'needed' him. We believe that the older child should take some responsibility in caring for the younger. We are our brother's keeper and should be so trained. A child who is responsible for his brother or sister is not so likely to be jealous of him but is happy to see him succeed."

PARENT 2: "An older child should not be allowed to be so bossy that the younger child is made miserable. I discovered with my oldest child that it paid for me to outline very carefully just what she was expected to do and also how. If the younger child gave her trouble, she was to report to me and not try to correct him herself."

PARENT 3: "When a teen-ager knows that he has an influence over his brothers and sisters, he is more than likely to deport himself properly. Not that a smaller child should tag him around and tell on him, but the fact that others are following in his steps helps one to go straight."

Hints to Mothers

Do ants, bugs, and caterpillars crawl into your baby's play pen when it is outdoors? Why not wrap the legs of the play pen with tape, turning the sticky side out. This usually discourages the most of these intruders and baby can enjoy his outdoor fresh air better.

Ministers are instructed to have a "little corner" in every sermon for the children.

"I like to hear you preach. You tell stories."

"Church Duties Should First Begin in the Home."—Ellen G. White

Home and School

Warning! You and your children are very likely to be courteous if you attend the Home and School program when the topic "Courtesy is Contagious" is presented. No one is immune. Tiny tots, teen-agers, and husbands are likely to develop symptoms right in the home within a few hours after the program. (It is on page 12 of "The Adventist Home and School.")

HOME AND SCHOOL

Elder Detamore's Sermon

"Twentieth Century Parents," that thought-provoking challenge given by Elder Detamore at the last General Conference, appears in the May-August number of the Adventist Home and School. If you are a subscriber to this journal, you already have your copy. If you are not a subscriber, you can place your order at once with the Southern Publishing Association, Nashville, Tenn. It is only $1.25 a year. So many requests came in for a copy of this sermon after Elder Detamore gave this soul-stirring appeal that it has been printed in full in the Adventist Home and School magazine. Be sure to get your copy.

TINY THINKERS

Bobbie, age 3, closed his prayer thus: "And, dear Jesus, make Kathy sick again so I can sleep in the top bed. Amen." Instantly Kathy appealed to her mother, "Mother, Jesus won't answer that prayer, will He?"

Mother had not thought it wise to trust a 3-year-old on the top bunk. But when Kathy got sick, mother had brought her down to the lower bunk where she could be cared for better. Sleeping on the top bed was pure delight for Bobbie, and he could think of no other way for Jesus to answer his prayers except for Kathy to get sick again.

New Workers Join Staff

We welcome several new workers to the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Among them is Eld. R. J. Christian who has been recently appointed by Administrator A. C. Larson to a newly created position of field representative for the Sanitarium Schools of Professional Nursing, Practical Nursing, X-ray and Medical Technology. He will also promote the need for other workers, assisting the personnel office in developing an interest among our people to fill the need for loyal Adventist men and women in our various professional and service areas.

Eld. R. J. Christian

Elder Christian comes to us with a background of 36 years in denominational work. For five years he labored in the Central and South American field. Prior to his mission service he was employed by the Glendale Sanitarium where he completed the nurses' course.

After 14 years in local and union conference work he joined the Review and Herald where he has served more than ten years. His last position was that of manager of the periodical department, which included our medical journal, the Life and Health magazine.

Mrs. Christian is also a graduate nurse and will be working on the medical floor.

Another team that has joined us recently is Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davis who are well known to former E.M.C. graduates. Mr. Davis was connected with the college for many years before moving to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davis

Mr. Davis is in charge of our janitorial staff of 14 men who are responsible for keeping the hospital halls clean and also the new auditorium gymnasium as well as several apartment buildings on the campus.

Mrs. Davis has been appointed Assistant Director of Nursing Service and shares the office of Mrs. Hazel Beck, our director.

Other newcomers include Oscar G. Keeney, a licensed plumber from Freeport, Ill.; Beverly Johnson from Wilton, Minn., for the Business Office; Mrs. Rose Kerr from Chicago for the switchboard; Mr. Rexford Estell, a landscape gardener from Laporte, Ind.; Lillian Gabel, our new assistant dean and registrar from Canada; Jacob Richardson, a physical therapist from Norway; and Mrs. Elinor Hallifax, R.N. from the New England Sanitarium who is our evening supervisor.

Current new arrivals in the nursing service include Joan Frederickson and Sharon Dahse, both graduate nurses from Union College, and Joan Carpenter, another graduate from Detroit, Mich.

Two graduate nurses from the Manila Sanitarium and Hospital arrived June 25 and will be here two years under the Exchange Visitor Program. They are Miss Junsey and Miss Gam-

boa. Several other nurses have applied from the Philippines and Korea and arrangements are now underway for their transfer under this program.

Staff changes in our School of Nursing and the faculty announcement of our new School of Practical Nursing will be featured in a forthcoming issue of the Herald.

Camp Meeting to Feature Well-known Speakers

The whole world is rushing madly toward its destruction, and it is only through the goodness of our God that we are not hurled into the worst and most destructive war of the ages. Time is fast running out, and today is our opportunity to prepare for eternity. While the world is fearfully standing on the precipice, wondering about coming events, we have a loving heavenly Father who is calling for us to give our hearts and lives to Him. We are urged, "Seek ye the Lord, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger." Zeph. 2:3.

Today, leaders and preachers of many of the denominations and religious organizations around the world are proclaiming, just as we are, that the end of all things is at hand and that Jesus is coming soon. "And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed. The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light." Rom. 13:11,12.

This is the tenor of the messages we will hear from the speakers at our forthcoming Camp Meeting, July 23-Aug. 1. Eld. F. A. Mote has many years of mission experience. Among other Camp Meetings, he was recently in the Bahama Islands where he met a heavy schedule of meetings. Many still remember the stirring messages Eld. W. R. Beach brought us at Camp Meeting a few years ago. We feel privileged to have him return this year. Like Elders Mote and Beach, Eld. Eric B. Hare was for many years a missionary. The deafness of a daughter caused him to specialize in junior psychology and skills acquired through this study have made him a favorite with thousands of young people around the world.

Eld. Archa O. Dart, Assistant Secretary of the General Conference Department of Education, July 23-Aug. 1.

Eld. Eric B. Hare, Associate Secretary of the General Conference Sabbath School Department, July 23-29.

Eld. Archa O. Dart, along with Elders Hare and Beach, claims authorship of a number of books. His genuine interest in young people's activities led him to organize junior summer camps in 1930 and Seventhday Adventist child evangelism institutes in 1945.

Eld. R. R. Bietz, president of the Southern California Conference, is not a stranger to many of our Wisconsin believers; and, knowing that he is brother to our academy principal's wife, Mrs. F. W. Bieber, makes us feel that he belongs to the "Wisconsin Camp Meeting family," too. We are happy he will bring the evening messages, "Our Security Rests in Jesus Christ," to the adults and senior youth in the auditorium.

The Faith for Today television group will have the Sunday night meeting, July 26, and the 9:30-10:30 hour Monday morning. Tuesday morning this hour will be taken by Eld. A. A. Leiske of the American Religious Town Hall TV program. His subject will be: "The Final Crisis and How to Meet It." The Wednesday morning soul-winning hour will feature a temperance meeting, conducted by Eld. Fred Beavon of the Union Conference. There will be other interesting speakers you will enjoy hearing. Why not invite your relatives, friends and neighbors to attend with you and receive a blessing from these meetings?

Attendance at Camp Meeting as families will help to make our Christian homes a little heaven here on earth, and a little heaven to go to heaven in, for "the family that prays together stays together."

Camp Meeting Is for Children

Wisconsin believes each age division should have a full Camp Meeting program. So again as in the past several years you will find no Camp Meeting problem with reference to taking your children there. To illustrate how well conference officers take care of the tiny tots, primary, junior and senior young people, the following is the general daily program for the primary division, ages 7, 8 and 9, for Camp Meeting:

MORNING, 9:00-Noon: Worship (Bible Workbooks, stories, etc.), Singspiration (illustrated songs, pictures), Swimming (boys and girls separate time forenoon and afternoon with lifeguards on duty), Game Time (group sports, quiet games, supervised recreation throughout), Nature Museum (collection tables, etc.).

DINNER AND REST PERIOD, 12:00-2:50 p.m.

AFTERNOON, 3:00-6:00: Primary Missionary Volunteers (costumes, missionary adventures), Swimming, Handicraft (one a day, planning a complete craft each day, always new), Nature Adventuring (hiking shoe time).

EVENING, 7:30-9:00: Camp Fire (starlight singspirations, stories), Primary Ideals Meetings (flanorama). These will be on alternate nights.

Come and see our BIG BIBLE! Largest flannelgraph board in the state. Six feet high TEN COMMAND-MENTS! New decorations! All this at the PRIMARY TENT.

Cost is small: $3.50 for the entire nine days, or for shorter stay 65c per day.

REGISTRATION: July 24, 8:00-9:00 a.m., and 8:00-8:30 each morning thereafter.

Keep your children with you during the brief free periods of the day, and send them to the primary tent or other divisions before meeting time. We love children and our fine staff of workers are selected because of this factor. We will be seeing you at Camp Meeting.

Primary Director

Won't You Visit Our Bible House?

You would like to look around the Bible House? But of course, come in and I will be happy to show you around. We are very proud of the improvements which have been made; the tile floor especially helps to keep things looking so much nicer and it is a great deal easier to keep clean.

Here to your left are the Bibles and the Spirit of prophecy books. As you can see we do have a wonderful selection of Bibles and in every price range too. Here are the Oxford and Cambridge Bibles, truly the most beautiful that can be bought. The National and World Bibles, too, come in almost every size and type that you would ask for, even the small rainbow Bible for the children. We have the Revised Standard Version for those who want it and also several other translations by Weymouth, Moffatt, etc. We have a good selection of the Bible dictionaries and concordances too.

On this side we have the wonderful books by Mrs. White. The Crisis Series, the sets of Testimonies, both the nine and the four volume sets, and all of the other marvelous books she was inspired to write. We have the commentary sets too and of course you know about the 8th volume of the commentary which will be released early in 1960. This will be the Bible Dictionary and will be available to you at the same price which you paid for your set of the Commentary. Of course you know that during Camp Meeting you get 15 per cent discount on all the Bibles and the sets of Testimonies and Crisis Series and 10 per cent off on all the other books. It really is a good time to add to your library; a person never goes wrong when he buys a good book.

Here are the new books which have been released since our last Camp Meeting. There are some very interesting books; some of them are very difficult to put down once you start to read them. "Soldier of Fortune", "Swelling of Jordan" and "Whispering Halls" are just a few of these. You will find many more new books for both adults and children and of course you get the 10 per cent discount on these too.

On this table you will find our miscellaneous items and we do have a large selection this year. Here are both Bible and Nature games, quiz books (these are a new item especially purchased for Camp Meeting), color books, crayons, scissors, dot to dot coloring booklets, paint sets, book marks and so many other things that it would take all day to really get acquainted with all we have here. If you will turn around and look on that counter you will find the wonderful assortment we have of song books both for group singing and for special numbers. We have had many requests for these books.

And now would you like to see our record department? We have a stereophonic record player this year and it really brings out the beauty of these records, both the stereo and regular. We have such a good supply of all types of music, vocal, instrumental, organ, and choir. We have the 45 R.P.M. records by the King's Heralds and others, but these won't last long because of the very special price we have placed on them. Both the 10" and 12" records are real bargains this year, too. It would be nice to be able to stand here for hours and listen to this lovely music but if we are going to see the rest of the Bible House we will have to hurry on,

Along the walls we have shelves and you can see the many items we have displayed there. Here are the greeting cards and stationery and note paper. Along this wall we have tracts and on these racks you will find nature books and the pocket companion books and all the other small booklets everyone is always so interested in.

Oh yes, you must stop here at this counter. This is where you can buy stamps, envelopes and paper; and these new picture post cards! We are very proud of these. They are reproductions of the beautiful paintings from the Bible Stories and other books, which were painted by such well known artists as Harry Anderson and others. We are sure that anyone would be proud to send these through the mail to a friend or relative. Oh yes, we have a good supply and will be able to let you pick a nice assortment for your use.

Over here you will find our children's books, and don't we have a grand assortment? Such bargains too! You can get the Bible Stories, (either singles or sets) and the Bedtime Stories with a 40 per cent discount, and at any price you couldn't find better books for your children. The beautiful stories from the Bible are told in such a simple straight-forward way. I am sure you will want to get some of these wonderful books.

Before you leave you probably would like to look at our Sabbath School supplies. Have you ever seen such fascinating cut-outs for the children? Sabbath School is so much more interesting when the stories can be told and illustrated by these Sand Table Cut-outs, Suede-o-graphs, and Floct-o-graphs. By next year the Suedeo-graph series will be complete and then you will be able to tell any story in the Bible and illustrate it with these colorful picture cut-outs.

Oh yes, you don't want to miss this table. This is where we feature our missionary book of the year, "Love Unlimited" which includes both Steps to Christ and Thoughts from The Mount of Blessings. Have you ever seen a more beautiful cover? And this book sells for just $1.00! You will want to get many of these inspiring books to give to your friends and neighbors.

Thank you so much for stopping by; we hope you will feel free to come back again and again. We will look for you and are always happy to be of service to you.

Baptism Conducted at District Meeting at Merrill

On June 6, approximately 200 members from District 7 gathered at the Merrill church for an all-day district rally and an afternoon baptismal service. Eld. Donald Albertsen, pastor of the Rhinelander district, was the guest speaker of the morning and led the congregation into the spirit of worship and consecration.

At 2:30 p.m. the writer introduced the 14 baptismal candidates to the members assembled and then led them into the watery grave. Two girls joined the Merrill church and 12 became members of Wausau. Five of the latter were baptized as a direct result of the Wausau Crusade held during March and April by Eld. R. D. McGann of LaCrosse and the writer.

The members of District 7 are of good courage and have dedicated themselves to the task of doing more effective witnessing for the Master.

Clear Lake Surpasses Academy Building Fund Goal

The Clear Lake church reached its Academy Administration Building Fund goal during the month of May and went over the top by $16. This is a very commendable record inasmuch as the Clear Lake church supports a good two-teacher church school and has a relatively heavy church expense budget.

The Sheboygan church has reached its goal for the Academy Administration Building Fund with a surplus of $8.00. The Manitowoc church at the end of May lacked only $4.00 of having reached their goal which makes District No. 21 actually over the goal as a district. We wish to commend the people in these churches for having given this splendid help to the Academy Administration Building Fund.

have "a form of godliness, denying the power thereof," has been fulfilled.

But this is not the whole story. While Protestants have been abandoning church schools, academies, and colleges, Roman Catholics have been building them. In this they show wisdom and this fact alone, I believe, is one of the paramount reasons why Catholicism is growing in this country.

I believe that every legitimate effort should be made to open Seventh-day Adventist schools and keep them open. Upon this policy the future of our church depends. Not long ago I analyzed the report of baptisms from a small conference. Of the splendid total of baptisms almost one-third were church school children. Is this good? Yes! No group that comes into the fellowship of the church should be greeted with more joy on the part of the church. These are the lambs of the flock. They deserve our tenderest care.

Beyond baptismal figures there lies the training young people get in school. Their philosophies will be those of the schools. They will mold our denomination's future. This is why we must support our educational system and send our children to its schools.

R. E. FINNEY, JR., President
Wisconsin Conference

"A character formed according to the divine likeness is the only treasure that we can take from this world to the next."

—"Christ's Object Lessons," p. 332.

He Should Have Read

Battle Creek, Mich., to a young man who had decided that he no longer wished to continue his education in a Christian school. We are well acquainted with this young man and we are sorry to say that today he does not belong to the church, which is a result in part to the decision he made. We are of the opinion that if he had heeded the counsel given him by this godly businessman, his chances, if we may speak of them as such, would have been one hundred times greater of developing and maintaining the right kind of character.

That was one of the very purposes for which our schools were established. We read in Testimonies Vol. 4, p. 425: "The youth should be taught . . . that they may develop symmetrical characters, and thus be fully prepared for usefulness in this world, and obtain a moral fitness for the immortal life." This certainly is the twofold purpose of Christian education. Truly our character is the only thing we can take from this life through eternity. Sister White informs us on page 225 of the book Education that: "Character building is the most important work ever intrusted to human beings; and never before was its diligent study so important as now. Never was any previous generation called to meet issues so momentous; never before were young men and young women confronted by perils so great as confront them today." How much more so is this true than when these words were written over fifty years ago. How much more necessary it is then that we have our children in our own schools which truly are havens of refuge.

While we may have the best public school system in the world with excellent surroundings and equipment, there has been evidenced in these institutions of learning great spiritual and moral decline of recent years. Any one doubting this should compare the subject matter contained in former textbooks with the literature, history, and especially science and textbook philosophy published today. The books are beautifully printed and illustrated, but God and His Word are ignored, if not actually held up to open contempt. Lies and the vain imaginations of men are put before children in most attractive dress, as though they were facts. From first grade through high school years the children are exposed and taught agnostic propaganda. Because of man's pride and his natural enmity to God, the evolutionary theory has met with widespread acceptance. In a recent contact with a public school teacher we learned some startling versions of the school librarian's evaluation of what constitutes creditable collateral reading for even primary grades. Her approval of a science book that portraved man's theory of how this world began was purely in accord with evolutionary ideas. The book was chosen because of its photographic appeal vet woven into its content were sentences so contrary to Biblical teaching as to sound absurd to the Bible student. But to a child they seem to evolve step by step as the author leads on to his materialistic conclusion.

In an article "Why Parish Day Schools?" by Rev. Robert Ingram, of Houston, Texas, published in a small magazine called "Portions in Due Season", Denver, Colo., among other comments he makes this statement: "If He (Christ) is necessary for Life, then He is necessary in education: and it is immoral to expect non-Christians to teach Christians interpretation of life and history. The only way to get real Christian teaching is for Christian people to take the responsibility for giving it.

"The Church school makes it possible for students to pray together every day . . . It provides the place to sing God's praises, and to hear His word, every day, as a normal, reasonable, glorious cover to every hour spent in the classroom." Inasmuch as our lot and that of our children is cast in these perilous times, how important it is then that we do all in our power to have our children where they may

Baptism Climaxes Rally in Springfield

Sabbath morning, June 6, was a time of rejoicing and reconsecration for the members of the Springfield district as they met in the Springfield church for a district rally climaxed by a baptismal ceremony.

Eld. R. C. Detweiler of the Centralia district, as guest speaker, presented a timely message at the 11:00 a.m. service and conducted the baptism.

Five new members were added to the church; four by baptism and one on profession of faith. Truly there was rejoicing in heaven as well as on earth as these folk took their stand for the Lord, determined to have a part in the kingdom of heaven.

Your prayers are solicited for these new-born individuals as they live lives of submission and consecration to God, by faith claiming victory over the world and the things of the flesh.

____ ATS INFLUENCE FELT AROUND THE WORLD

The work of the American Temperance Society is being felt throughout the world field today. God is richly blessing the efforts put forth by church temperance leaders, secretaries, and the workers in the field assigned to this specific phase of God's work. Never before has such recognition been given to a phase of the Third Angel's Message as is being given to the temperance work today.

Just the other day after the showing of the film "One in 20,000" to a friendly non-Adventist audience of educational people, the lady who was responsible for the showing stepped forward with this statement: "Any movement that is doing as much good as this film represents is worth supporting. I want to join the American Temperance Society. Here is my $5.00 membership fee for this coming year. I consider it a privilege and a pleasure to become a member of the American Temperance Society."

My wife and I met a man and his wife at Midway Airport yesterday afternoon who came in by plane to spend a few days in Chicago. This man is a prominent business leader in Colombo, Ceylon. He is well recognized in the government of Ceylon as well as in other phases of the business world organization. He is an influence in the news.

Mr. Gardiner and his wife were on a world honeymoon tour. Her charm and personality were very attractive indeed.

After the exchange of introductions we were on our way to their hotel. Mr. Gardiner pointed out with pride that he neither drank nor smoked, nor did he gamble. He made it clear that he was a loyal supporter of the temperance work and certainly appreciated the influence of the American Temperance Society in his country, Ceylon.

Mr. Gardiner is anxious that the school of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism be set up in his country so that his people might have the advantage of its educational training and enlightenment.

These stories could be repeated from all parts of the world today. Many of our members are thrilled to be an influence in the American Temperance Society program. The membership looks to its leadership for encouraging influence and representation of faithful support.

We invite all of our temperance secretaries, temperance leaders, and our

We thereby place our influence definitely on the side of right and of strength in the encouragement of healthful living as well as total abstinence from alcoholic beverages, narcotics, and tobacco in any form. The Illinois Conference desires to introduce Mr. and Mrs. Gary Schneider and their little son, to the constituency of Illinois. Brother Schneider completed his ministerial training at Emmanuel Missionary College at the end of this year and has accepted our invitation to choose this conference as his field of labor.

He will continue his seminary training for one year at our new university and will join our staff at the end of that time.

Pray for this dedicated family as they continue preparation for the service of God.

The city officials at Geneva, Ill., invited Broadview Academy to prepare

"No More Mud at Broadview"

The Broadview girls will be happy to know that the main lobby, hallway, and second-floor rooms have all been plastered in the girls' dormitory. Brother Colburn, our plasterer, and a group of boys and teachers are busy lathing and plastering the first floor hallway and rooms. Soon scaffolding will be set up to lath and plaster the first floor hallway and rooms in the boys' dormitory.

Kane county has given us permission to mine gravel on our Broadview property. Mr. Eisele and a crew of boys have been busy building roads and parking lots.

Mr. Knecht, our foreman in charge of all construction, has been building forms for sidewalks and staking out the sidewalk between the girls' dormitory and the administration building. Yes, the mud-days are just about over at Broadview. By the time another six or seven weeks roll by all of our buildings will be joined by sidewalks, and there will be a sidewalk joining each building to a parking lot.

Mr. Carr, our farm manager, sowed rye grass in the three acres in the center of our campus. The first crop of hay has already been stored in our barns. A little over 200 acres of corn is already waist high. It will not be long until our oat crop will be ready to havest a booth for Swedish Days, June 18-21. We were offered a 10° x 10' space in the industrial exhibit tent. Several of the students and teachers busied themselves in preparing an attractive display.

Two days before the fair opened the Geneva Ministerial Association canceled their plans for a booth. The chairman of the Industrial Exhibits Committee asked the school if we might be able to utilize the space that had been reserved for the ministerial group.

The display stressed two points. First, education of the heart, the head, and the hand was expressed by means of pictures describing these activities at the school. Second, the public was invited to listen to the Voice of Prophecy and view the Faith for Today programs.

Hundreds of pieces of literature were carried away by interested folk.

Beverly Hills Church Bids Farewell to Eld. and Mrs. K. M. McComas

A decided hush fell over the Beverly Hills congregation, Sabbath, June 6, as our pastor, Eld. K. M. McComas announced he had accepted a call to Toronto, Canada, and would be with us just one more Sabbath.

Plans were immediately launched for a farewell in his honor. At five o'clock, Sunday afternoon, June 14, over 150 members and guests gathered in the recreation room to enjoy a delicious dinner prepared by the committee in charge. The guests were seated at beautifully decorated tables with Elder and Mrs. McComas sitting at the table of honor.

Our head deacon, Louis Schuetter, was the master of ceremonies for the interesting program which followed the dinner.

Words of appreciation were spoken by the elders, Brethren Cornelius, Heidenrich, Durichek and Wojcik. Piano solos were presented by Misses Blanche Deering and Sharon Smith, and Mrs. Norma Oddie.

Brother and Sister Daniels, whom Elder McComas baptized a few months ago, expressed their appreciation and gratitude for his showing them the way of salvation. Dick Williams, a student colporteur from E.M.C., sang "Wonderful Morning", and Brother

A Wonderful Camp Meeting

The Indiana Camp Meeting is now history, but again we can say it has been one of the most outstanding Camp Meetings we have ever had. Good help was provided by the General Conference and the Lake Union Conference. The Lord surely blessed the people as they came in.

We had a good attendance throughout the week and we know that our people who were privileged to attend the entire period of camp meeting were greatly blessed and spiritually refreshed.

We appreciate the many prayers that were offered for the success of our Camp Meeting. May the Lord help us not to forget the things we learned and the inspiration received.

Education Day Approaches

Sabbath, Aug. 15, has been designated as Education Day for the denomination by action of the General Conference Committee. It is important that every church of the Lake Region Conference plan definitely for this high day. The messenger of the Lord tells us that "nothing is of greater importance than the education and training of our children and young people." Every boy and every girl of our churches should have the privilege of attending a church school. A census should be taken in every church to ascertain the number of boys and girls eligible for church school attendance. "Wherever there are six children, a church school should be established," is the counsel of the Lord.

In some areas we do not have church schools, yet there are many children. We should begin planning now to establish schools in these places. Material especially prepared for Education Day will be sent to all workers of the conference. Let us join in this thrust and help direct our boys and girls to the proper training institutions.

A Blessing for All

"The Camp Meeting is a school where pastors, elders, and deacons can learn to do more perfect work for the Master. Parents who come to Camp Meeting should take special heed to the lessons given for their instruction."—Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 49.

The Camp Meeting is for the whole family. The whole church will benefit through preaching of the Word, children and youth meetings, and through personal contact with those of like faith.

Camp Meeting is a place to find an answer to your questions and help with your problems. The educational department will be there to help you with questions concerning your children and youth. You will find three academies to assist you. The college will be there to assist our youth plan for college next fall. Parents, teachers, and school boards will find the educational booth a good place to discuss the church school program.

Pray that God will bless the meeting and come prepared to receive and to contribute to this good gathering of God's people. H. R. Nelson

★ The Vacation Bible School at Holly enrolled 178 this year. Mrs. Eta Cook was the director. Eld. and Mrs. Donald Mackintosh and about 28 church members took part in teaching and helping in various capacities.

★ During the month of May eight new members were baptized at Holly by Elder Mackintosh. These joined the Holly, Fenton and Academy churches.

CAMP MEETING

Camp Meeting is part of the Adventist way of life. At these annual gatherings church members come together for several days in a quiet atmosphere to give undivided attention to spiritual matters.

As a worker, and as an officer of the Michigan Conference, I share in the opportunity and privilege of making Camp Meeting time pleasant and of benefit to all who are privileged to attend.

To keep a large encampment such as Michigan's operating smoothly is no small task and requires much planning and forethought, the full cooperation of each worker, and the willing understanding of the campers. Offerings and the counting of them are an important part of our camp meetings. These, together with cabin and tent rentals, the receipts at the store and cafeteria, keep our coin counter active and the workers in the treasury department busy wrapping and tabulating each.

A few years ago special offerings were taken up at our Sabbath meetings. Many gave large offerings and we thrilled with the total received for our missions offerings. Today, we probably are following a more systematic plan of giving, and turn our funds in at more frequent intervals.

Yet, Camp Meeting is a time when we can do something special. If it was important to bring an offering to God during the days of the children of Israel, how important it is to do the same today! "God requires no less of His people in these last days, in sacrifices and offerings, than He did of the Jewish nation. Those whom He has blessed with a competency, and even the widow and the fatherless, should not be unmindful of His blessings. Especially should those whom God has prospered render to Him the things that are His. They should appear before Him with a spirit of self-sacrifice, and bring their offerings in accordance with the blessings which He has bestowed upon them. But many whom God prospers manifest base ingratitude to Him. If His blessings rest upon them, and He increases their substance, they make these bounties as cords to bind them to the love of their possessions; they allow worldly business to take possession of their affections and their entire being, and neglect devotion and religious privileges. They cannot afford to leave their business cares, and come before God, even once a year. They turn the blessings of God into a curse. They serve their own temporal interests, to the neglect of God's require-

"Men who possess thousands remain at home year after year, engrossed in their worldly cares and interests, and feeling that they cannot afford to make the small sacrifice of attending the yearly gatherings to worship God. He has blessed them in basket and in store, and surrounded them with His benefits on the right hand and on the left, yet they withhold from Him the small offerings He has required of them."—Testimonies, Vol. II, p. 574, 575.

"A strong, clear sense of eternal things, and a heart willing to yield all to Christ, are blessings of more value than all the riches and pleasures and glories of this world."—Testimonies, Vol. II, p. 600.

Camp Meeting, to be at its best, should be attended for the full time, Aug. 6 to 16. Week-end attendance is better than none, yet because of the large week-end attendance, the spiritual benefits may be minimized. Camp Meeting means much more than simply social contacts, though those are most appropriate. Camp Meeting means an opportunity to gain new fervor, new dedication, new zeal, to live on a heavenly level. Camp Meeting is where we all belong. Should we not be faithful in attendance at the meetings, so we may receive the needed help and blessing for the troublous times ahead of us?

DISTRICT FOUR REPORTS

May the 27th marked the end of the third school year for Tri-City Junior Academy. Altogether there were 66 enrolled from Saginaw, Bay City, Midland and St. Charles. Seven completed the tenth grade and plan to go to either Adelphian or Cedar Lake Academy next year. There will probably be a large increase in enrollment next year, for Edenville, one of the oldest church schools in Michigan, may close the school and send all the students to the Junior Academy. Estey will be the only other church school in district four.

We are pleased to report some baptisms for the district. Eld. E. D. Willmott baptized four from Estey on May 23, followed by three more at Saginaw by Eld. D. B. Myers on June 6. Brother Herbert Alexander had three candidates for baptism at Camp AuSable June 13, and these united with Houghton Lake and Long Lake churches. Eld. Don Howe plans to baptize three more at Bay City on June 27.

The twelve churches represented in district four enjoyed a camp-out at Camp Au Sable June 11 to 14. This is one of the great outdoor activities we look forward to each year. This is canoeing, skiing, boating, swimming, and the canoe trip down the Au Sable river. The weather was a trifle cool but all enjoyed the experience. On Sabbath there were 250 present. A special offering was received to help Grayling raise funds to build a chapel at Camp Au Sable. Seventy dollars was given this year and last year $52. The Grayling church membership is 21 so it will be a struggle to raise the amount necessary for the erection of the chapel. With this small membership, Grayling can boast of four of their young people in our work: two in the ministry, and two wives of ministers.

Saginaw members returned from Camp AuSable to enter into a Vacation Bible School for two weeks. There are 83 happy youngsters attending and enjoying the program. There are 12 adults working faithfully to make this program a success.

There is an excellent spirit among the 724 members in district four. We are working hard, praying faithfully, and longing to finish the work of God.

Felt Painting Classes to Be Conducted at Berrien Springs

Mrs. H. F. Halenz will conduct a felt painting class for all interested Sabbath school workers, and any others, in the basement of Lamson Hall of Emmanuel Missionary College on Tuesday, July 21, and Wednesday, July 22, from the hours of 8 to 12 in the morning and 1 to 5 in the afternoon. Mrs. Halenz will not give this course at Camp Meeting this year so this will be your only opportunity to receive this important help from her. Make your own arrangements for room and board.

If you have your own felt, Tri-Chem tube paints, and oil colors, and brushes, and any patterns you may wish to use, bring them with you. There will be felt, patterns, brushes, and paints for sale at cost which you may purchase if you wish.

We appreciate Mrs. Halenz's willingness to teach these classes. The people who have just attended the classes at Cedar Lake not only had beautiful felt paintings sets as a result but were thrilled that they could learn to paint so well and feel that now they can continue to paint more pictures and scenes by themselves. First Camp Held at Scott Lake

As dawn broke over the woods at Scott Lake Youth Camp, Sabbath, June 6, a bright, clear sun found about 40 juniors and youth asleep, but not for long. By 5:45 camp was astir and soon the leader's whistle summoned all to crawl from sleeping bags and prepare for a never-to-be-forgotten Sabbath day.

Soon the whistle sounded again and we gathered in our church area for morning devotions. Who sang the most cheerfully—the young people or the birds, I could not tell. Surely the angels were delighted and had a good report to carry to heaven. The boys and girls had been asked to bring texts on nature. Here are a few: Num. 29:29, Ps. 23:2, Prov. 21:1, Prov. 30:24-26, John 6:3. We then separated into prayer bands, praying especially for Bro. Earl Beardsley and Sr. Strand who were in the hospital.

By the time breakfast was over and camp cleaned up (you'd be surprised how good a housekeeper a junior boy can be), it was 9:15 and song service was beginning, led by Bill Redmon.

Parents and friends began arriving to join our Sabbath service. Elder Shaw told a "first hand" mission story from Jamaica. Dr. McFadden taught the lesson. Special music was by Ruby Rossenberg and Pat McFadden on the marimba. Elder Shaw preached a wonderful sermon. Renata Teasychner sang a solo.

The day was passing on wings. After a good lunch from home we assembled at 3 o'clock for a nature talk by Prof. Phipps from the college and a short hike. He showed us some of the things of nature God has prepared for our pleasure.

Vespers and song service came at sundown as we again praised God. Mr. Wildman, the chorister from the Allegan evangelistic meetings, led out. Elder Morey from Battle Creek gave a talk.

Campfire in the evening was presided over by Neal Neff who kept all spell-bound with his stories. By 10 o'clock each tired and weary young person had trudged through the brush and up the hill to his or her pup tent. And in such a contrast to the night before, they welcomed the rest offered by sleeping bag and hard ground. Not a sound was heard this night even after Terry Beutsch had played taps on his trumpet, "echoed" by David Ekkens on his tuba!

This was the first Sabbath day spent by the first group to use our new Scott Lake Youth Camp.

The school is already looking forward to next year's graduates—a junior class of twenty-eight that moved into the senior rank.

There have been eighty-eight enrolled at the academy this first school year. Seventy of these charter students completed the first year of attendance and were awarded pennants bearing that inscription.

All six of the seniors graduated plan to attend Emmanuel Missionary College this fall.

During this first year the Academy has been recognized as an accredited member of the Association of Seventh-

Dr. Snyder is a member of the American Physical Society, the Sigma Xi, the Sigma Pi Sigma, the American Crystallographic Association, and the American Association of Physics Teachers.

While in attendance at M.S.U., Dr. Snyder worked two years as a graduate teaching assistant and one year as special research physicist at the University. He was an occupational therapy technician for the U.S. Army from 1951 to 1952. He took his present position immediately upon receiving his Doctor's degree two years ago, and has worked there since.

Currently living in Clawson, Mich., while working for G.M. in Warren, Mich., Dr. Snyder and his wife, Elsie J., will soon take up residence in Berrien Springs where he will become associate professor of physics at E.M.C. when the fall term opens.

We are very happy for this turn of events. These, as well as denominational accreditation, are among the many firsts of Grand Ledge Academy's charter year.
