OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LAKE UNION CONFERENCE OF SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS

The famed "Winter Wonderland" of Michigan became a memorable "Winter Wonderland" for 110 Seventh-day Adventist young people who attended the third annual "Winter Camp," December 28 to January 1.

Camp Au Sable, with its 840 acres near Grayling, so familiar to Michigan's summer junior campers, found a warm spot in the hearts of those attending winter camp even though the camp was tightly gripped in winter's deep freeze. Temperatures were low enough to make the ice and snow perfect for winter sports, yet the thermometer stayed high enough to allow campers to enjoy outdoor activities comfortably.

Winter camp emitted sounds which summer campers never hear—the scraping, cutting sound of ice skates making designs on frozen Shellenbarger Lake; the crunch and squeak of footsteps on frozen, packed snow; the shriek of tobogganers plunging down the toboggan run for the first time into what seemed like empty space; the rustle of boots blazing trails in fluffy snow; the whirl of skiers zooming down snowy slopes of nearby hills; the crackling sound of ice as canoes pushed through ice-bound sections of the Au Sable River; the purring of the tractor and the sliding sound of the sleigh runners as campers enjoyed numerous sleigh rides on white lanes among snow-laden northland trees; the siren at the waterfront announcing the arrival of the new year.

Other sounds will also be remembered by winter campers—the popping and crackling of the ever-burning logs in the fireplace; Deputy Director Bill Edsell's whistle summoning silence before he announced camp duties; Eld. Elden Walter's Bonanza airplane zooming overhead as he gave someone a top-side view of the camp; voices of earnest young people giving their testimonies at the Friday evening vesper service; hymns and choruses sung at the devotional periods; vocal and instrumental music presented by the many talented campers; and the many fervent prayers that were offered during morning and evening worship periods.

Smells of winter camp may be remembered even longer than the sounds. There was the aroma of delicious food (especially that fresh whole-wheat bread!) being prepared by the camp chefs, Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Snyder; smoke from a pine log fire; cool, crisp, invigorating winter air.

The feel of winter camp was a most pleasant surprise to first-time campers, except for several who attempted to navigate the Au Sable River without the aid of their canoes. The outdoors was both pleasant and inviting to those who dressed for temperatures below freezing. Some were heard to say that it was more comfortable outside than in the lodge.

Some of the winter camp feels were tingling cheeks and ears exposed to the northern air; radiant heat from the roaring fire in the fireplace; the exhilaration of a lungful of winter air; a cool, cold, frozen feeling of snow purposely forced down one's neck by a "friend"; the feel of irresistible sleep after a day of winter activity.

The sights of winter camp cannot be adequately portrayed even in pictures. There were some things that had to be experienced in person—the glow of a winter wilderness night, bright even under an overcast sky; the smoke curling up from a big chimney at one end of the lodge; majestic trees and tiny twigs decorated with newly fallen snow; a stately buck poised at the edge of a clearing in the forest; happy Christian young people learning from God's great white-covered lesson book of nature in the winter!

Spiritual appeals were brought through nightly motion pictures and the Friday evening vespers messages of Eld. Elden Walter, new conference evangelist; devotional talks by Eld. Lawrence Caviness, Michigan MV secretary; the Sabbath morning church service and worship talks by Eld. Fred Beavon, Lake Union MV secretary; and a nature talk illustrated with slides by Eld. Marvin Walter, founder of Adventist mission work in Monument Valley of Arizona.

Elder Caviness, camp director, expressed keen satisfaction at the record winter camp attendance—more than double that of previous years—even though the large turnout heavily taxed the winterized portion of the camp. Currently the extent of the winterized facilities includes two cabins, half of the main lodge, the medical unit, and the staff building. Ronald Edsell, camp caretaker, has done nearly all the winterizing and had the camp ready and waiting for the arrival of winter campers.

"We hope to winterize additional cabins, more of the lodge, and the rest rooms in order to keep up with

Group singing, led by Bill Edsell, was a memorable part of worship periods enjoyed by all who attended winter camp.

COVER PICTURE: Preparing a meal at wilderness camp.

The telephoto lens of the camera brings Elder Walter's Bonanza close as it passes over the camp.

This is the view of the camp Elder Walter gave several campers who rode in his airplane.

"The Big Wheels" in Grayling which were used to transport huge logs in the lumbering heyday of Michigan are inspected by four of the winter campers. Above are Susie Van Camp and Marcella Berg and below, Lynn Beavon and Ted Beavon.

Two canoes begin the five-hour run down the picturesque Au Sable River. Twenty canoes were used for the trip, which covered 17 miles of the river.

The Sabbath school orchestra was directed by Bill Edsell, left. Numerous instrumental solos were also presented by members of the orchestra.

In the social Saturday night, one of the games played required blindfolded persons to find their own shoes. Elder Caviness, upper left, seems to be wearing the wrong pair, while Dr. Spalding, on his back, pulls on a boot for which Mrs. Elden Walter lost the battle.

A favorite relaxing place for winter campers was the large fireplace in the main lodge. With a full day of activities just ended and a good supper just completed, an apple enjoyed while gazing in the fire made the day complete.

The new toboggan run, constructed by Caretaker R. S. Edsell, was in use continually, providing many thrills and a few spills.

the growing attendance at winter camp," stated Elder Caviness.

"Perhaps one of our greatest needs is for expanded kitchen facilities. We hope to make a storm and fall-out shelter below ground level, placing the kitchen above it," he explained.

During 1960, Au Sable was host to more than one thousand campers. When regular camps are not in progress, church groups are welcome, Elder Caviness stated.

A new project being launched is one in which all members of the conference can easily give assistance. Elder Caviness announced the start of a camp library project with the goal of building up a collection of books and Youth's Instructors for use by summer and winter campers. Members can participate by sending books to the conference MV Department in Lansing.

Fourteen winter campers with more adventurous spirits headed some 50 miles north of Grayling to the Pigeon River State Forest for "Wilderness Camp." Supervised by Milo Sawvel, associate pastor of the Pioneer Memorial Church in Berrien Springs, these campers left their cars behind and trekked over a mile into the woods to set up camp. They made their shelters from pine boughs and prepared their meals over campfires. In addition, they foraged for a portion of their food.

Mr. Sawvel, an avid camper and promoter of learning wilderness survival, says that many Adventists will one day be thankful for the knowledge of how to survive in the wilderness. Mr. Sawvel and his group took numerous hikes in search of wildlife, especially a herd of elk known to be in the area. On Sabbath they held their church service on log benches with blue and Norway spruce walls and an 18-inch snow carpet.

One of the greatest satisfactions wilderness campers gained was the assurance that they could, if necessary, survive and even thrive on wilderness living.

Responsibilities for regular winter camp activities were divided among several individuals. Dr. R. W. Spalding, conference Medical secretary, served as medical counselor and staff physician; Miss Greta DeWind, dean of girls at Grand Ledge Academy, was in charge of the women's cabin; and Bob Hamstra and Theo DeWind supervised the men's quarters.

J. D. Westfall, youth pastor at Battle Creek, was deputy in charge of registration and location; Mrs. Marjorie Harder supervised the dining room; and publicity was directed by Eld. Morten Juberg, conference Public Relations secretary.

As displayed in the accompanying pictures, winter camp was a time of enjoyment, relaxation, and spiritual enrichment for those who attended. If you were not among this year's winter campers, why not start planning now to join them next year?

Broom hockey was an active indoor game which gave each participant a chance to outmaneuver his opponent by knocking the can under the chair, scoring a point for his team.

Thank You, North America!

The October, 1960, Voice of Prophecy Offering Day is in the past. Wonderful reports are coming in from across Canada and the United States, and our radio office already has word from the General Conference of the largest single offering ever to come to The Voice of Prophecy! The report, as of December 7, totaled $240,000. Our goal set by the General Conference was $175,000!

Many radio stations, formerly lost to the broadcast because of lack of funds, can now be redeemed; perhaps some expansion can even be made by adding at least a few new stations which The Voice of Prophecy has urgently needed for many years.

Readers will be interested to know that each year, in addition to the October offering and other appropriations, approximately one million dollars must come, by faith, from listeners through our mail to Box 55, Los Angeles. This, with your good offerings, helps to balance our annual budget of $1,300,000.

We have heard of churches that doubled, tripled, and even quadrupled their 1959 offering to the broadcast; several conferences and some unions doubled their last year's gifts. Tiny churches—and large churches—responded in an amazing way, that brought to the hearts of our entire Voice of Prophecy staff of workers a surge of grateful thanks to God for His rich blessings, and to our wonderful fellow members who gave so willingly and so generously.

We believe the reverberations of this offering, which is to be used in North America, may well reach around the world and cause unnumbered thousands to look to God and His Son Jesus Christ for their salvation. People of other tongues—as well as those of English-speaking nations—will be reached because our members are opening first their hearts, then their purses, to help The Voice of Prophecy in its radio ministry to the millions. From our hearts we say, Thank you, North America!

Death of Mrs. A. O. Dunn

The news of the death of Mrs. A. O. Dunn, long-time missionary and educator, came as a shock to her many friends and associates. Mrs. Dunn, along with her husband, served in the Caribbean area and in the French-speaking islands for many years. For a more complete account of her life of service, please see the obituary section.

BOOK WORKERS' CONVENTION

Hinsdale, Ill., Church

Jan. 31 to Feb. 4, 1961

All credentialed, licensed literature evangelists, magazine workers, part-time workers, and auxiliary units are cordially invited. You who are planning on entering the literature ministry, now is the accepted time to avail yourselves of special instruction. Contact your local publishing department secretary for final details.

"Program Helps for Kindergarten Leaders"

BOOK TWO

Every kindergarten leader should have a copy of this book, which has been prepared by the General Conference Sabbath School Department.

Louise Meyer

This book will help those who have been leaders, as well as those who are just beginning the work with the boys and girls of kindergarten age.

Forty-eight program themes are included in this book, as well as patterns to be used with some of the programs.

The program themes coincide with the Sabbath school lessons. Book 2 contains the helps for 1961, since this is the second year in the three-year cycle. Book 3 will be ready in ample time for 1962, and in 1963, Book 1 will be available. These three books will contain theme material for the entire three-year cycle of kindergarten lessons.

Order Book 2 now from your Book and Bible House. The price is just $1.00.

Beginning with 1962, the cradle roll lessons will follow a one-year cycle, and in 1962, there will be a book for the cradle roll leaders entitled Program Helps for Cradle Roll Leaders.

ON WORLD EVENTS

After reading of world events in the daily paper recently, a man in a southern state exclaimed to his wife, "The things taking place today are exactly what we used to hear Adventist preachers years ago say would happen just before Jesus comes. Isn't it high time that we get back into the church?"

Last week in this column several instances relating to Sunday laws were given. The following two accounts are also indications of the times we are living in. What do these things mean to you?

PATRON SAINT AT FORT SILL

St. Barbara, listed in the National Catholic Almanac as an official saint of the Roman Catholic Church, has been adopted as the patron saint at Fort Sill, Okla. A St. Barbara certificate is issued to all graduates of the artillery school, which authorizes them to call upon the Catholic saint when in danger or distress.

PROPOSE MERGING FOUR CHURCHES

Four of America's largest Protestant denominations are discussing merger. They include the United Presbyterian Church, the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Methodist Church, and the United Church of Christ, with a combined membership of 18,311,588 in 63,581 churches with 41,802 ministers.

REFUSE UNDESIRABLE MAIL

A letter recently came to our office requesting that we print a notice in the HERALD to the effect that this person burned all literature arriving in the mail from a certain source and that the receivers would treat all other such literature in a similar manner.

Rather than publish any such statements, we offer this solution. The postal laws help provide the answer for such problems by requiring the sender to pay return postage on mail which is refused by the receiver. Thus, when undesirable mail comes, all you need to do is to mark "Refused; Return to Sender" on the outside and place it in a mail box. The sender, not wishing to continue to pay postage both ways on his literature, will soon drop your name from his mailing list.

With an ever-increasing amount of obscene or undesirable literature cluttering the mail, may we suggest that this method be used to halt it rather than simply burning it every time it comes. —G.E.

Book and Bible House Notes

On Sabbath, January 28, a Church Officers' Institute will be held in the Centralia church for the church and Sabbath school officers of the churches in that vicinity.

As announced previously in this column, there will be a bookstand prepared and available to the individuals attending this special meeting. At this time you will be able to secure manuals and aids for church and Sabbath school officers and teachers, Bibles, Spirit of prophecy volumes, Bible and nature games, and new books recently published. If there should be some particular item that is desired, we would welcome requests from individuals to bring those items so that they would surely be on hand when we are in your area.

Special discounts will be offered as usual at church sales. The bookstand will open at the sundown hour, or the close of the afternoon service.

See you at the bookstand!

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hoffman were here for a short visit. Brother Clifford Hoffman is a minister in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference.

School Helps Needy Family

The church school children of Terre Haute recently had the privilege of brightening Christmas day for a needy family of seven in Clay City.

Members of the church discovered that the family had lost its car and that the electricity had been shut off because the payments could not be met.

The church school children heard of the need and rallied to help. With Christmas so near, they decided to collect money and buy a gift for each of the five children in the family; then, with the help of the Dorcas Society, some much-needed blankets were added to the gifts.

The gifts were delivered and our adopted family was thrilled—and so were the church school children. They know now, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Madison Pathfinders Honored

Another year of Pathfinding for the Madison club was climaxed with a buffet supper and the presentation of awards, MV honors, and ribbons to the club members. Mrs. W. D. Brown, club director, was in general charge of the program.

During the year the Pathfinders earned points for good conduct, work completed, MV honors earned, and other activities. Jerry Hawkins earned the most points and was followed by Cheri Grahn and Clyde Squire. Thirty-nine MV honors were given to the club members. The larger number were earned in Campercraft, and next came First Aid.

Of special significance was the awarding of Trail Friend and Frontier Companion ribbons. These ribbons are presented after the completion of the requirements in these enriched MV classes. The Madison club has scored another first for Wisconsin in that this is the first club to have candidates receive these MV class ribbons. Ten Madison Pathfinder club director, Mrs. W. D. Brown, congratulates Jerry Hawkins, the first Wisconsin Pathfinder to receive the Frontier Companion ribbon.

Her unselfish life of service greatly endeared her to the population of the countries where she lived, for it was her pleasure to help the women become better homemakers, better wives, and better mothers. The title she loved best from the native women was that of "Sister," for they said, "She makes us forget that we are not of the same race."

She was a devoted mother to her three sons and foster daughter, all of whom are in the faith. She was a loving companion to her husband, and a friend to all. She leaves to mourn her passing, her husband, three sons and their wives, the foster daughter and her husband who are missionaries in India, eight grandchildren, four sisters, a brother, and many nieces and nephews.

Burial was made in Rose Hill Cemetery in Berrien Springs, Mich. Words of comfort were spoken by the writer, assisted by Eld. Jere D. Smith. J. H. Rhoads

MV and Pathfinder Officers

The MV and Pathfinder Officers' Council of the Lake Region Conference will convene at the Independence Boulevard church, Polk Street and Independence Boulevard, Chicago, Ill., beginning Friday, February 3, through Sunday, February 5. Each MV society should send its leader and secretary, or any combination of two, and its Pathfinder director. Churches which operate church schools are entitled to send two teachers to this convention.

A strong youth program is planned for the youth of the Lake Region Conference, and every youth leader of our churches should be present. We do not have all the names and addresses of the MV leaders, secretaries and Pathfinder directors as yet for 1961, so please accept this invitation as official to all MV leaders, secretaries, and Pathfinder directors. We shall appreciate receiving names and addresses of all 1961 MV officers as soon as possible. We shall "Spotlight the Holy Scriptures" for 1961.

OBITUARY

DUNN, Florence Wilhelmina Puels, daughter of Charles R. and Mary Meta Puels, was born Oct. 4, 1899, in Manhattan, New York City. She fell asleep in Pawating Hospital, Niles, Mich., the morning of Dec. 16, 1960.

In 1914 she was baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist faith and remained a faithful member of the church until her death. On June 27, 1920, she was united in marriage with A. Orville Dunn. She and her husband taught school in Hartford City, Ind., for two years.

In 1926 they graduated from Emmanuel Missionary College, and went immediately to the Republic of Haiti, in the Caribbean area. For two years she was dean of women and food director at our Haitian Seminary near the city of Cape Haitian. Three sons, Robert, Kenneth, and Gilbert, were born during this period of service.

In 1933 the family was transferred to the French Islands of Martinique and Guadeloupe. The two years of 1942 and 1943 were spent in Trinidad, where Sister Dunn founded the St. Andrew's School. Two years were again spent in Haiti, and the family returned to the United States.

The Old and the New

A new year brings wishes for experiences that are based upon a knowledge of the past and aspirations for the future. For E.M.C.'s Chef Don Knecht, Cafeteria Director Clara Marsh, and the college food service staff wishes will become a reality when the dining room, kitchen, and bakery facilities of Birch Hall will be vacated. The space, designed for student enrollments of yesteryear, has long been grossly inadequate for E.M.C.'s present needs. The Birch Hall facilities will be vacated after fifty-odd years of use. Space and equipment, once adequate, have long taxed the ingenuity and patience of those who daily prepare and serve meals for approximately eight hundred students. The old equipment, at times seeming to sense that retirement was imminent, has balked and given sporadic service. For months repairs which otherwise would have been appropriate have been deferred.

For the food service staff the trying interim of seeing a new building but not being able to occupy it will soon end. Within the next two weeks full-scale services will be inaugurated in the new Campus Health Center.

The pictures of the old and the new illustrate conditions in the old kitchen and comparable space in the new. The new electric ovens and ranges are of stainless steel and have been installed under a stainless steel hood which contains exhaust fans and filters. No such hood was in existence in the old kitchen.

The contrast between a black, iron stove or oven of 1926 vintage with a gleaming 1960 high speed, stainless steel oven or range is nothing less than startling. The traffic flow of work involved in the preparation of hot foods has been planned so that a high degree of efficiency will be possible. To eliminate waste motion refrigerated storage facilities, work tables, and other kitchen equipment have been placed immediately adjacent to the electric ranges and steam cookers. In the old kitchen the small work area prohibited a free flow of employee traffic.

Instead of the limited fenestration of the old kitchen the new receives natural light from four large sky domes and artificial light from continuous strips of recessed fluorescent lights.

As the new facilities are placed into service it is again appropriate that

E.M.C. express gratitude to the constituency of the Lake Union Conference for the loyal support which has been given through the years.

S.A. Banquet to Be in Campus Health Center

The first use of the Wolverine, Hoosier, and Lincoln rooms of the new Campus Health Center will be on Sunday evening, January 15, when the Student Association will hold its annual banquet. For several weeks the Social-Culture committee of the Association has been counting the days and awaiting the arrival of the table tops which were delayed by the manufacturer. E.M.C. Business Manager V. E. Garber has reported that the table tops were to be delivered on January 11. Full-scale food services will not begin for another week or ten days after the banquet.

Strength in Unity

A 100-per-cent participation by the young people in this year's Ingathering—this is the record for Indianapolis Southside. Between the ages of 8 and 18, Brother Cameron Dehart, church missionary leader, affirms that he knows not one who has not joined in this endeavor for the Lord this year; in fact, 130 out of the 240 total church membership had participated as of this writing. In unity there is strength. In record time this church pushed beyond the Silver Vanguard line.

Nine solicitors, predominately youth, have a total that is well beyond $2,000. Their names are: Jerry Dehart, Christena Dehart, Charlene Harris, Ruby Neville, Darral Neville, Lloyd Pleasants, Mike Pleasants, Theresa Pleasants, and Edith Pleasants.

Some of these solicitors have worked six nights a week, from Thanksgiving through Christmas without missing a night.

Jerry Dehart, 13 years old, has solicited over $350. Lloyd Pleasants, church school teacher, has over $650; George Bowers, 11 years old, has over $160.

I was with this church a few nights ago. The temperature was below zero, but three cars were out pushing forward courageously. I shall never forget my contacts with a home where the husband and wife and three children were stone deaf. I was invited inside, the message was put across in writing, and they very graciously gave.

Thank God for devoted young people, and for consecrated adults who are leading young people into paths of service for our Saviour.

Pathfinders

Pathfinders received the Trail Friend ribbon and one the Frontier ribbon. The club director demonstrated her interest in these new classes by also completing the requirements for the Frontier Companion insignia.

At the conclusion of the service the pastor expressed sincere appreciation to Mrs. W. D. Brown for her faithful, enthusiastic leadership of the Madison Pathfinders. She introduced the new director, Ronald Crary, and extended to him the very best wishes for successful Pathfinding in 1961.

We Can, We Will Do It!

"The home missionary work will be farther advanced in every way when a more liberal, self-denying, self-sacrificing spirit is manifested for the prosperity of foreign missions; for the prosperity of the home work depends largely, under God, upon the reflex influence of the evangelical work done in countries afar off."—Christian Service, p. 170.

Here in the Lake Union we can testify to the accuracy of that statement. On financial reports from the North American Division this union usually appears in the upper half. The Lake Union church members continually give loyal support to the world-wide program. As a result, we are confident that many blessings have come back to us. We see God's blessings on every hand. The Ingathering work this year is another testimony of our determination to continue that support. It is an evidence that we wish God's blessings to continue to flow to us.

We are nearing the end of this year's work. May God bless each and every one, that the final effort which is so vital to success will come from every quarter and we will be all finished by the middle of January. We can do it. We will do it.

VERNON FLORY, Lake Union Home Missionary Secretary
