Not Too Late

by T. S. GERATY, General Conference Education Department

World War II had started. People were evacuating. The neighbor lady from next door came to our union president in his office as he was going through his files to decide what to leave and what records should be destroyed.

"As you know, most of the people in the neighborhood are evacuating, and I'm planning to go, too," reported the worried property holder.

"Now, Pastor—, before leaving the city, I have brought over the title deed to my house and property, and here is a list of household articles—all of these I'm turning over to the Seventh-day Adventist Church for keeps!"

"Ah, lady, that would have been so useful had it been earlier—it's too late. We're packing up now and have to flee, too."

The frantic woman left the office of the union mission president with the legal papers in her hands, muttering to herself, "No one wants my valuable property now—even the church—too late, too late!"

Within the same city others were leaving, and with more money on their person than the government allowed—they were restricted in what they could have—so what did they do but stuff mailboxes along the streets and roads. Too late to have so much money!

Think of the numerous needs in the mission lands that our money now can help meet: launch another boat in the South Pacific, build another church in central Europe, open another medical unit in the Middle East, install another press in Southern Asia, provide another mission station in the Far East, serve another tribe in Africa, establish another school in Southern Europe, and more. . . .

Before governments restrict the flow of funds and before pressures close doors in one land after another, let us each strengthen the greatest missions thrust that this church has ever known since the Master Himself bade His followers, "Go ye. . . ."

Shepards Feted at Farewell

At our Union Conference Session the first of May, H. A. Shepard, who has for the past 12 years been treasurer of the Lake Union Conference, decided to retire after giving 42 years of service to the denomination.

Mr. Shepard was born in Saugatuck, Mich. After graduating from Emmanuel Missionary College in 1921, he entered denominational employment as assistant Book and Bible House manager of the North Michigan Conference in Reed City, Mich. He then went to Canadian Junior College, Lacombe, Alberta, as commercial teacher. Mrs. Shepard, a graduate nurse from the Wabash Valley Sanitarium, Lafayette, Ind., served as dean of women at Lacombe. He first began conference secretary-treasurer's work in the Saskatchewan Conference, a position he held for four years, transferring in 1928 to become secretary-treasurer of the British Columbia Conference. In 1932 he began a five-year term as business manager of Rest Haven Sanitarium in Canada.

For 14 years, beginning in 1937, Mr. Shepard was secretary-treasurer and auditor of the Canadian Union Conference. In 1951 he came to Berrien Springs as secretary-treasurer of the Lake Union Conference where he has served until the present time.

The Shepards' three children were all born in Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard plan to remain in their own home in Berrien Springs, traveling some to visit friends and relatives in various parts of the country.

At an informal picnic early in June, the Lake Union staff met to bid the Shepards farewell.

The Challenge of Cuban Refugees

Seventh-day Adventists, along with 14 other Christian denominations represented in Miami, help the U.S. Government care for the material and spiritual needs of more than 200,000 Cuban refugees.

The Miami Spanish Seventh-day Adventist Church, the only Spanish-speaking church in the Southern Union, has had the privilege and great responsibility of representing the denomination in this program. Although, due to lack of funds and the necessary personnel, we cannot say that our center has been at the top of the list in this program, great efforts have been put forth which have taken much of our time and energy.

With the cooperation of the Florida Conference churches, the General Conference, the Church World Service, the American Bible Society, some of our brethren in other states, and our own church members, it has been possible to teach English, cooking, and Bible classes, and to distribute Bibles, food, and clothing to approximately 4,400 non-Adventist Cuban refugees and more than 300 Seventh-day Adventist Cuban refugees who have gone through Miami en route to other states.

But our work is not over. More refugees continue to arrive. Our services need to be continued and enlarged.

A Seventh-day Adventist Cuban Relief Committee has been formed with representatives from the General Conference, the Southern Union, the Florida Conference, as well as the Inter-American Division. This committee has studied our need for an adequate building in which to conduct our welfare program. We have been working in two small inadequate rooms in our church basement. Study has also been given to our need for an elementary school and to the establishment of a medical dispensary in our center.

On behalf of the Lake Union we extend to them our appreciation for the many years of service, and wish them success in their years of retirement.

JERE D. SMITH, President
Lake Union Conference

The Cuban Relief Program presents extraordinary opportunities for service to all Seventh-day Adventist churches and institutions in the United States and Latin American countries. More than 22,000 Cuban refugees are unemployed in Miami. To help as many refugees as possible to work with their hands, to learn the English language, to find employment, to learn of the plan of salvation through our literature and preaching, and to resettle in other localities constitutes a real challenge which all of us are called to meet.

We are anxious to learn how many Cuban refugee students your school or hospital can receive and help to get a Christian education, how many refugees you can receive in your locality and help in every way possible. As the true people of God we cannot be indifferent in the face of human tragedy. In our ministry needy humanity must be at the top of the list. There are many ways in which you can participate in this program.

Please let us hear from you.

Oakwood College Offering to Be Taken August 10

The Oakwood College offering is to be taken in all churches. The need is urgent for this important offering to be the largest amount ever given.

The members of the churches have given liberal offerings in years gone by to the expansion program carried on at Oakwood. The money received has brought to the college campus the much-desired face-lifting which has come, due to the construction of several buildings which were needed. This building program has tangibly helped Oakwood College to increase its facilities and improve its educational program so that more young people can receive Christian training. For all past gifts we say from grateful hearts, thank you!

This is the year and time when Henderson Hall, the old fire hazard on the campus which has been declared by the local city authorities as unsafe, should be replaced with a new dormitory for the young ladies. We are appealing to you, the members in the Advent family who believe in the divine institution of Christian education, to give a liberal offering toward the building program of Oakwood College on Sabbath, Aug. 10, 1963.

The Week-Day Kindergarten, No. 3

Question: Why are we hearing so much these days about kindergartens, preschool education and early training?

Answer: Because it is so important. "The lessons that the child learns during the first seven years of life have more to do with forming his character than all it learns in future years."—Child Guidance, p. 193.

Question: That is a very striking statement. How can that be?

Answer: Here is the answer: "The first lessons impressed upon the child are seldom forgotten."—Child Guidance, p. 193.

Question: Indeed, that is a vital point for every parent to remember. But tell me, how am I to teach my child?

Answer: The best way is to tell him stories. The little child's mind is just as hungry for stories as his body is for food. Storytelling is one of the most powerful teaching methods known to man. Christ, the Master Teacher, told stories. "Without a parable spake He not unto them." Matt. 13:14. "No more effective method of instruction could He have employed."—Christ's Object Lessons, p. 21.

Question: But I do not know how to tell stories to preschool children. What should I do?

Answer: Learn how. All parents, fathers as well as mothers, should tell stories to their children. The new Manual for Parents and Teachers of the Week-Day Kindergarten can guide you in your learning how.

Question: Then, too, I suppose I could go to the dime store and to the public library and find all kinds of story books, couldn't I?

Answer: How true. And you can find a number of good ones to be sure. But beware! You can also find stories that will not only fail to be of any good, but will actually harm your child—stories that glorify evil and stories that destroy faith in God's word like myths and fairy tales.

Question: Destroy faith in God's word? What do you mean?

Answer: I mean just that. Myths are imaginary stories about the gods of the ancient peoples. When truth and error are given to a child, how is he to tell which is truth and which is error? Fairy tales are accounts of supernatural happenings that distort one's belief in miracles and in angels. When a child learns that these interesting stories are only imaginary, is he not likely to think that the interesting stories of the Bible are also imaginary?

Question: I suppose that is right. But a few fairy tales will not hurt a child will they, especially if we make sure to explain that these stories are "fairy tales"?

Answer: Of course a few will not be so bad as many. One lie is not so bad as a hundred, but why tell one? Why tell a child anything that is likely to weaken his confidence in our word. We want our children to believe every word we say, whether we are talking or reading.

Question: If we permit our children to develop an interest in stories that are not true, are we encouraging them to belong to the ungodly of Rev. 22:15 who "loveth and maketh a lie"?

Answer: I am afraid we are. We as Christian parents are duty bound not only to teach our children the truth but to love the truth.

Question: Is it a fact that most of the stories told to children today are the wrong kind?

Answer: Although I have no statistics on this point, I fear that is true. That is one of the main reasons why we cannot send our sons and daughters to non-S.D.A. kindergartens. "The lessons that the child learns during the first seven years of life have more to do with forming his character than all it learns in future years."—Child Guidance, p. 193.

Ten Commandments for Parents

1. Thou shalt guard thy children in the home and on the streets.
2. Thou shalt make thy home a sanctuary of love and devotion.
3. Thou shalt honor the teachers of thy children, and teach the children to honor them.
4. Thou shalt not condone the faults of thy children through a misguided sense of loyalty.
5. Thou shalt teach thy children respect for the law, and keep them from the companionship of those who disrespect it.
6. Thou shalt not lead thy child into temptations by providing him with the means thereof, such as too much money, a car and adult privileges.
7. Thou shalt endorse decency in the dress of thy daughter, and dignity in the dress of thy son.
8. Thou shalt protect the morals of thy children from the indiscretions of youthful ardor and inexperience.
9. Thou shalt conduct thine own affairs in such a manner as to set an example worthy of imitation by thy child.
10. Thou shalt always remember that thou art in the place of God to thy children until they come to the age of accountability. No task is so sacred as being a parent.

Lake Region Biennial Session

More than four hundred delegates of the Lake Region Conference met Sunday, June 23, 1963, at Cassopolis, Mich., to elect their conference officials for the next biennial period. C. E. Bradford was returned to office as president. M. C. Van Putten was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

C. E. Bradford

Departmental secretaries for the ensuing biennial period include: J. E. Roache, Education, Temperance, and War Service Commission; Xavier Butler, Home Missionary, Sabbath School, Radio-Television, Industrial Relations, and Civil Defense; James H. Jones, Jr., Missionary Volunteer, and Public Relations; R. P. Robinson, Book and Bible House manager; and L. W. Brantley and Walter Jones, assistant Publishing Department secretaries. The office of Publishing secretary, which has been open for a number of months, was not filled by the nominating committee, but was referred to the conference committee for further consideration.

The selection of a conference committee was the concluding business of the delegates to the biennial session. The new committee consists of C. E. Bradford, chairman; M. C. Van Putten, secretary; C. F. Warren, pastor, Detroit Burns Avenue; Samuel Flagg, pastor, Gary; S. D. Meyers, pastor, Chicago Shiloh; R. W. Bates, pastor, Flint-Saginaw; B. F. Reaves, pastor, Independence Boulevard, Chicago; Calvin B. Rock, pastor, Detroit City Temple; W. H. Moore, salesman, East St. Louis, Ill.; Fred Simpson, worker at the Link Belt Co., Indianapolis; Roger Smith, social worker, Saginaw.

In reporting to the delegates, Elder Bradford pointed out that this was the ninth biennial session of the Lake Region Conference, the senior organization among regional conferences.

Persistent growth has characterized this biennial period, Elder Bradford stated. Through aggressive evangelism, 1,161 souls have been added to the Lake Region membership which now stands at 5,670. This is a net increase of 483 members.

A professional fund-raiser has been employed on a part-time basis to assist the churches in raising money for much-needed expansion of churches and church schools. Under this program six churches have pledged $435,000. Church buildings have been erected in Milan, Ypsilanti, and Saginaw, Mich.; a new church at Idlewild, Mich., was dedicated debt free last year; the Capitol Avenue Church School, one of the finest in the Lake Union, was occupied last year; the Burns Avenue Church in Detroit purchased a building which was remodeled and used for a school beginning in September, 1962, with 96 pupils enrolled; and the Calvin Center, Mich., church and school are nearing completion. Other churches preparing for major building projects in the near future are: Detroit City Temple; Inkster, Mich.; and Chicago Shiloh.

Tithe for the biennium was $891,667.28. In 1962 there was a $42,500 gain over 1961 in tithe.

Reports from departmental secretaries indicated enthusiastic support for each of the functions of the church.

The campground at Cassopolis, site of the biennial session, was in the process of being readied for camp meeting. The motto for the biennial session as well as for the ensuing camp meeting was "Ablaze for God in '63." Each department pledged itself to carry out this motto.

"Mind If I Smoke?"

Mind if I Smoke? by Harold Shryock, M.D., is a straightforward presentation telling just what the hundreds of billions of cigarettes consumed by Americans every year do for the consumer.

Cigarettes and lung cancer are a burning issue. Here in this newly revised edition, as up-to-date as today's TV cigarette ads, is to be found the latest scientific research information linking smoking and lung cancer.

Have you ever wondered what the honest, unbiased facts are about smoking? Mind if I Smoke? answers such questions as: Are some cigarettes safe? Does smoking affect brain power? Do cigarettes cut down physical endurance? Does quitting help? You owe it to yourself to know the facts; and whether or not you smoke, you will benefit from the up-to-date review of a controversial subject.

Dr. Shryock, noted professor, authority on health, and author of several popular books for the home and family, has gathered together the latest findings on such timely topics as: Cigarettes and Lung Cancer, Cigarettes and Heart Disease, The Value of Filter-Tip Cigarettes, The Increase of Lung Cancer Among Women, Cigarettes and Blood Pressure, Claims of Cigarette Manufacturers, The Best Way to Stop Smoking.

This 160-page, paper-bound book is well illustrated by graphs and is written in a style that is easily understood. It will not be offensive to anyone, not even to confirmed smokers. There are thousands who would thank you for making this book available to them. It is ideal for the Five-Day Plan participants. Priced at just 50 cents each, plus 15 cents for the first book and 5 cents each additional book for mailing costs, it is available at your local Book and Bible House.

The Teen-ager

Question: There are no young people in my home church and when I go home for vacation it can get very lonesome indeed. Wouldn't it be all right to date a very nice man who lives near us just for the summer?

Answer: Special friendship starts the moment you voluntarily seek each other's company. The more you voluntarily seek each other's company the stronger will grow the attachment. You may associate with your classmates as long as you are in school and still be nothing more than speaking friends.

You may work in the same office or shop with others for years and remain casual friends only. But when you plan to meet each other at the fountain, you plan to meet in the cafeteria, you plan to walk home together, you plan to be together at any time or place, you began to be special friends. Each planned association draws you closer together. This is as it should be. And that is why we say, "Choose your associates with care," for out of your associates you will select your special friends, and from your special friends you will select a life companion.

Your Help, Please

My parents, Eld. and Mrs. J. F. Knipschild, are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary this coming Dec. 25, 1963. Father's nearly forty years of denominational service saw many souls blessed by his ministry.

If you are among the above group, would you be so kind as to forward to me a congratulatory and newsy letter to go into a special album to be presented to my parents at their golden wedding anniversary.

Thank you. Please forward your letter to:

LAKE REGION

Evangelism in Chicago Area

"There is a fountain filled with blood drawn from Immanuel's veins." The strains of this grand hymn filled the auditorium of the Independence Boulevard Church and the hearts of its members and friends. Their Christian joy abounded as they watched 13 baptismal candidates go down into the watery grave. Prior to the baptism a service of dedication was held for ten children. Three mothers dedicated their children to the Lord and were baptized with the ten others.

Following the baptism a fellowship dinner was enjoyed by the new members and their families. A rich time of Christian fellowship and physical nourishment was enjoyed.

The membership of the church has accepted the challenge of their pastor, Eld. B. F. Reaves, and officers to an all-out evangelistic thrust into the teeming tenements of the west side of Chicago. Under the leadership of Logus Butler, a community Sunday school has been organized with more than 70 children attending. The Sabbath School under the guidance of its superintendent, Lewis Johnson, recently conducted a Visitor's Day with more than 60 visitors in attendance. Literature is now being distributed in the area where the tent canvas will be lifted into the sky as Elder Reaves and his staff launch an evangelistic meeting.

It is the prayer and belief of the Independence Boulevard Church that the cause of God by the consecrated efforts of all will result in the Gospel being carried to the 450,000 inhabitants of Chicago's West Side. The prayers of our fellow believers are solicited that the power of God will be manifested in this city.

B. F. REAVES, Pastor

Student Colporteurs

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Crigler, former Lake Region Conference Publishing Department secretary and conference magazine leader on leave of absence attending Oakwood College, have brought with them from Oakwood a most energetic and dynamic group of students who are most determined to return to school with full scholarships in hand at the close of summer.

There are about twenty in the beginning group who have made their initial thrust on the Chicago Loop business area selling our magazine periodicals only, with the determination not to be defeated in their objective. Word has been received that they are traveling at great speed and in orbit, selling on an average 1,500 magazines a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Crigler inform us that each student expects to achieve a minimum scholarship of $1,000. One student already has reached $900.

Hats off to Mr. and Mrs. Crigler and their student workers. May we all be praying that God will grant them an abundance of success in their labors as they witness for Him.

New Pastor for City Temple Church

The Lake Region Executive Committee has extended a call to Eld. Calvin B. Rock, of Miami, Fla., to assume the pastorate of the City Temple Church of Detroit, Mich. Elder Rock is a graduate of Oakwood College and has had successful pastorates in several cities of the Southeast.

Under his leadership the members of the Bethany Church of Miami have just completed a new sanctuary at a cost of $150,000 which is valued at approximately $200,000. During his years in Miami three new churches have been organized and the area membership has more than doubled.

We wish to welcome Elder Rock and his family to the Lake Region Conference, and to wish them Godspeed in their labors with us.

C. E. BRADFORD, President

Summer Evangelism

We wish to solicit the prayers of the entire conference family on behalf of the evangelistic teams who will begin seven efforts simultaneously on July 14. Our prayers should ascend around the clock for these workers who are valiant for truth. This is a program of faith. We do not have in hand the large outlay of funds needed to support such a large program, and your conference is counting on you, its members, to give $20,000 for Evangelism '63.

God has prospered His people in "basket and store." As recipients of His manifold blessings, are we not bound to return to His treasury the funds necessary to support the cause? The time has come to strengthen the stakes. Your sacrificial gift will help send out the light of the Third Angel.

truck, and bus, from as many and more different cities and communities. Everyone was busy pitching tents, driving stakes, tying ropes, hauling wood, building fires, cooking food, pumping water, blowing up air mattresses, making beds, and all that goes with camp life including greeting and visiting friends.

The weather was ideal—yes, a little chilly but delightful. Bird watchers were out at 6 a.m. Morning Watch was kept by each club. Campfire closed each day's events.

With the exception of a few front seats, the U.P. Auditorium was well filled for the Sabbath morning worship services at the Upper Peninsula camp meeting. Another 80 or 90 youngsters had separate worship services which brought the crowd to well over 500.

UPPER PENINSULA CAMP MEETING

The spacious Upper Peninsula Auditorium in Escanaba was the scene of the annual camp meeting, June 6 to 9, for those residing in the northern section of the state.

For those attending, it was a time of blessing. Over 500 were present Sabbath morning for the worship services. Members were present that day from each of the 16 congregations in the Upper Peninsula, with the exception of the Ontonagon Company.

Conference President N. C. Wilson was the speaker for the opening night's service. Eld. O. D. Wright, pastor of the Detroit Metropolitan Church, spoke on the three remaining nights of the annual conclave. The timeliness of his messages was matched only by the preaching of Eld. Wesley Amundson, General Conference A.S.I. secretary, who spoke for the Sabbath and Sunday morning services. Add to this the preaching of eight of the departmental secretaries of the conference, and it was a session filled with activity.

Two large tents were erected to provide meeting space for the children. The junior and primary groups occupied these for two services daily, and the kindergarten children met in one of the school rooms. The Book and Bible House display was in the other room of the school.

Featured in the afternoon service was the Investiture, when 31 youngsters from the Upper Peninsula received awards for their achievements. Special music was furnished by many members of congregations of northern Mich-

About 75 million Americans have suffered at some time or another from a hangover. As one of the main symptoms of an alcoholic, the hangover costs America a billion dollars a year.—Listen.

Indian Hill (Bethel) Pathfinder drill team gave a repeat performance under the leadership of Herb Wolfe.

Milwaukee's drill team is directed by Stewart Freeman.

Two Milwaukee Pathfinders are proud of their new trailer.

The Eagles from Almond and Wautoma win the speed knot-tying contest.

Eld. and Mrs. R. E. Finney, Fred Beavon and son Eric. We were also happy to welcome Harold Beavon from Canada who is on his way to India.

The Sabbath was welcomed with vespers as the sun was sinking in the west. Milwaukee Pathfinders conducted Sabbath School. In the afternoon the Madison club directed all in a nature walk and hunt. MV was led by the Bethel Indian Hill Pathfinders.

Sunday found Pathfinders and officers in full-dress uniform ready for the parade, marching, drills, and contests. Enthusiasm mounted to the very end. First, second, and third award ribbons were earned by each club. It was a thrilling experience, thanks to our wonderful Pathfinders and their loyal club directors and officers.

Books Wanted

Contributions of good books and other reading materials would be appreciated by the Palau Mission School and Church of the Palau Islands; Spirit of Prophecy books, reading course books, science, history, biography, children's stories, Bibles, etc., in good condition.

These may be brought to camp meeting and deposited at the President's Office. Eld. and Mrs. Ed Higgins are home on furlough and would appreciate having these to take back to the mission field. He is a former teacher from Wisconsin Academy.

★ When the addition was made to the girls' dormitory at the academy, closets were installed with sliding doors and the chests were built into the study counter by the windows. This new arrangement was so enthusiastically received that it was decided to put the same arrangement in the rest of the dormitory. Now all rooms will be equipped alike. Gordon Scribner and his helpers have been finishing that work this summer.

★ Harris Pine Mills plant, in Geneva, is enjoying very good business this summer; this has created extra work opportunities for students.

New Workers in Illinois

Two ministers have been added to the working force during the month of June.

R. Allen Jamison completed his work for the B.D. degree at Andrews University and was graduated on June 2. Following graduation Pastor Jamison and his wife and baby son moved to Chicago. He will work with Eld. E. D. Calkins at the West Central Church following up the many interests that have developed as the result of the field school in evangelism.

Robert G. Miller began his work in the Missouri Conference. Our committee invited Pastor Miller to come to Illinois and locate in the Peoria district. He, with his wife and small son, are living in Bloomington. He will spend part of his time pastoring the Bloomington Church and will assist Elder Bacheller with the growing work in Peoria.

We welcome these young people into our ministerial family. We know our members will support them with their prayers.

Record Camp Meeting Sales

In spite of heat, wind, rain, and even cold the Book and Bible House had record camp meeting sales of $14,221.82. This was because of your faith, trust, and devotion to a cause and a God who is not in the wind nor the rain but in the still small voice which was made manifest through His servants at the many meetings.

We in the Book and Bible House first want to praise God and thank Him for the privilege of being associated in such an important phase of His work.

Then we would commend you for availing yourself of the finest literature in all the world and trust that through

OBITUARIES

BROWN, Glen Lawrence, having failed in health for the past several years, passed quietly to his rest late in the evening of May 16, 1963.

He was born Feb. 27, 1882, at Clockville, N.Y., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Brown. In June of 1897 Glen was baptized along with Jeannette Kinne, who later became his wife. Officiating at this baptism was Eld. P. C. Kinne, the father of Mrs. Brown, who also officiated at the wedding of his daughter to Mr. Brown on Dec. 14, 1904.

At the early age of 17, Mr. Brown began setting type for a printing firm at Rome, N.Y. In the course of his experience in this occupation, he set type for S. N. Haskell's book, "Story of Daniel the Prophet," as well as two denominational periodicals.

Following the years spent in the printing trade, Mr. Brown received training in nursing at the Middletown, N.Y., Sanitarium. For a time he served as superintendent of a small hospital at Connersville, Ind., after which he operated treatment rooms for 27 years at Decatur, Ill.

For the last 14 years of his working life, Mr. Brown was employed in the nursing services of the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, at the termination of which he was honored as the institution's "Man of the Year."

Mr. Brown considered it a real privilege to be chosen as one of the men to carry Ellen G. White's coffin from the home of a friend to the old Dime Tabernacle at Battle Creek for final memorial services.

Left to mourn the passing of Mr. Brown are his wife, Jeannette; a foster daughter, Mrs. Lois Darling, of Simi, Calif.; a beloved niece, Mrs. Grace Robbins, of Brookfield, Ill.; two brothers, Earl T. and Herman N. Brown of California; as well as a number of nieces and nephews and many friends. An only daughter preceded him in death at the age of five years.

J. D. Westfall

CRATE, Mrs. Irving (Catherine), passed away suddenly on May 27, 1963. She was born to George and Mary Marti at Mokena, Ill., on October 9, 1888, and was united in marriage with Irving Crate on April 25, 1915. She was a faithful, active member of the Adams Church.

Mourning their loss are her husband, Irving; a son, Harold of New Port News, Va.; 2 brothers, George Marti of Mokena, Ill., and Frank Marti of Monee, Ill.; a sister, Gladys Crate of Arkdale, Wis.; and 3 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in the Roseberry Funeral Home, Friendship, Wis., and her resting place is in the cemetery at Friendship.

Duane E. Longfellow

LEE, Fory Archie, son of Archie and Elizabeth Strobel Lee, was born Aug. 15, 1919, in Summit, Wis., and died instantly of electrocution while working in Manitowish Waters, Wis., May 23, 1963. He served his country 33 months a U.S. Marine, as member of a searchlight battalion on the Island of Guam. He was baptized by Eld. Donald Anderson in 1946 in Tomahawk, Wis., and became a member of the Bloomville church.

For the past ten years he has served as elder and chairman of the church board of the Bloomville S.D.A. Church. In Merrill, Wis., on July 27, 1947, he married Frieda Leder and to this union 2 children were born; a daughter, Sandra Jane Lee, 12, and a son, Dennis Foy Lee, 4. He was preceded in death this year by his paternal grandmother and also his mother.

Surviving, in addition to his wife and children are: his father, Archie Lee of Gleason; 3 brothers: Herbert of Chicago, Harold of Milwaukee, and Elmer of Merrill. Eld. Donald Albertsen of Sioux Falls, S.Dak., officiated at the funeral service held May 27 in the Rhineland Seventh-day Adventist Church. Burial was in Summit, Wis.

Paul Whitlow

LEE, Miss Nita V. Sackett, was born in Stevens Point May 24, 1895, and passed away following surgery in the Bellin Memorial Hospital, Green Bay, Wis. She graduated from Stevens Point State College and then taught school for many years.

Funeral services were held in the Waupaca Seventh-day Adventist Church where she had been a faithful member. Burial was in Floral Hill Cemetery, New London, Wis.

Surviving are 3 sisters: Miss Nina Sackett, Waupaca; Miss Lee Sackett, Washington, D.C.; and Mrs. Lyman T. (Fern) Branch of Setevens Point, Wis.

Kurt Kurz

McPHERSON, William F., born June 6, 1892, in Sanilac County, Mich., passed away April 27, 1963, after seven long years of illness at Estey, Mich.

Survivors are his sons: William, Clifford, Donald, Larry, George, Roy, Richard; four daughters: Mrs. Pearl Chubb, Mrs. Fern La Fave, Mrs. Lillian Friedle, and Mrs. Evelyn Leavitt; 39 grandchildren; 3 great-grandchildren; a brother Robert; and a sister, Mrs. Anna Nestell.

RENDEL, Mrs. Allie Grace, was born near Britton, Mich., July 21, 1886, the daughter of Elias and Ellis Oliver. Sister Rendell fell asleep in Jesus on May 11, 1963, at the age of 72 years.

Mrs. Rendell was a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church for the past 50 years. She was laid to rest in Ithica where she now awaits the call of her Saviour on the resurrection morning.

SMITH, Nettie Rachel Ryckman, was born in Alpena, Mich., on Oct. 1, 1880. Eighteen years later she married Mr. Smith and into their home were born 2 children, a son and a daughter.

Sister Smith accepted the Advent message in Denver, Colo., in 1950 and remained faithful to the end which came on June 2, 1963, in Muskegon's Hackley Hospital.

Sister Smith rests now in the Seaman Cemetery near Grant until He Who broke the power of the grave shall call her to eternal life.

Jeremia Florea

WEST, Charles Ferris, was born Sept. 25, 1886, near Baldwin, Mich., and died May 28, 1963, at Loma Linda, Calif. He was baptized into the church at the age of 19 at a camp meeting in East Jordan, Mich.

During his lifetime he was employed at Hinsdale Sanitarium, Madison (Wisconsin) Sanitarium, Emmanuel Missionary College, Loma Linda Food Company, and Loma Linda Sanitarium. At the Loma Linda Food Company, he built and installed the machinery now in use.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ethel Vootheis; his daughter, Ruth G. West of Glendale, Calif.; his son, Winton of Clearlake Highlands, Calif.; 2 brothers, John of La Puente, Calif., and Francis of Baldwin, Mich.; and 3 grandchildren.

Summer Session at Andrews Opens With Record Enrollment

Andrews University's summer session boasts a record enrollment according to Dean W. E. McClure, director of the summer session. Undergraduate enrollment totals 239, while 262 are students enrolled in the graduate school, and 112 in the Seminary.

Students from thirty-eight states and twenty-six foreign countries are registered for nearly 160 course offerings on the graduate and undergraduate level.

The summer session features such programs as the Deans' Conference for residence hall deans, a Work Conference dealing with work-study programs in Seventh-day Adventist academies, and a mathematics curriculum supported by the National Science Foundation. Immediately following the summer session the Seminary is sponsoring a New England tour under the direction of Eld. Arthur White.

Knittel Named as Dean of Students

The Andrews University executive board elected Dr. Frank Knittel as dean of students in a June 17 meeting, according to Dr. Richard Hammill, university president. Dr. Knittel will replace Dr. John Cassell who will serve as academic dean at Southern Missionary College, Colgedale, Tenn.

Dr. Knittel has taught in the Louisiana Conference and has been dean of men at Campion Academy, Loveland, Colo., and Enterprise Academy, Enterprise, Kan. In 1959 he joined the English Department at Andrews University.

In Dr. Knittel's educational pursuits his emphasis has continually been in the field of English. He received the B.A. degree in 1947 from Union College, Lincoln, Nebraska. The M.A. and Ph.D. degree were earned at the University of Colorado in 1955 and 1960 respectively.

Doctoral Degrees Awarded

Three Andrews University faculty members were awarded doctoral degrees at the completion of the 1963-64 school year, according to Dr. Richard Hammill, president of the university.

Receiving degrees were: C. Warren Becker, associate professor of music; R. L. Jorgenson, associate professor of mathematics; and S. J. Schwantes, associate professor of religion.

Dr. Becker was awarded the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in organ performance and pedagogy from Eastman School of Music, University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y. His thesis was titled "A Transcription of 'The Organ or Instrument Tablature' by Elias Nicolaus Ammerbach (1530-1597)." Tablature, in contrast to modern notation, is a system of writing music with letters and rhythmic figures. This organ tablature contains 142 compositions and is one of the largest collections of music printed during the Renaissance.

The Doctor of Philosophy degree in mathematics was earned by Dr. Jorgenson at the University of Minnesota.

"Construction and Variation of Canonical Conformal Maps of Multiply-connected Domains" was his dissertation title. The work carried out in this dissertation has physical applications to such fields as aerodynamics, electrostatics and hydrodynamics.

Johns Hopkins University awarded the Doctor of Philosophy degree in ancient oriental languages to Dr. Schwantes.

Dr. R. L. Jorgenson

the Greek Syriac, Latin, and Aramaic versions of the text as well as with new material brought to light by recent archaeological discoveries.

Seniors Receive Scholarships and Assistantships

Nine seniors from Emmanuel Missionary College have received scholarships or assistantships to aid them in furthering their schooling at Andrews University or other institutions of higher learning according to Dr. W. E. McClure, academic dean of Andrews University's undergraduate school.

Watson Chin, physics major, has been appointed assistant instructor in mathematics at Ohio State University. The Andrews University department of mathematics awarded a fellowship to mathematics major Milton Hwang.

A teaching assistantship and fellowship has been given to Karl Konrad, senior chemistry major, to the Illinois Institute of Technology. Norman Moll, senior physics major, will attend the Case Institute in Cleveland with a National Education Defense Fellowship which guarantees him an income for three years.

Mathematics major Lawrence McNitt has been awarded an assistantship in the Computation Center of the University of North Carolina. Norma Smith has been offered a traineeship in speech therapy at Michigan State University. The University of Illinois has awarded a physics teaching assistantship to physics major Douglas Wartzok.

Also receiving awards during the school year were senior business majors Ray Roberts and David Allen. These awards were made available through the Costerisan Coon public accounting firm of St. Joseph. Mr. Costerisan is an alumnus of Andrews University and guest lecturer at the university.
