OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE LAKE UNION CONFERENCE OF SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS

An Appeal to Sabbath School Officers and Teachers

by THEODORE CARCICH
Vice-President for North America

As I travel over the vast territory of the North American Division, I am burdened by the large number of cities, towns, and villages that have not been reached by the third angel's message. Our thin line of workers is doing its best to reach these areas of population as quickly as possible. However, the ministers alone will never be able to complete the task. We need the help of our church officers, and especially the Sabbath School officers and teachers.

To be specific, I wish that each Sabbath School Council in North America would give serious study to starting Branch Sabbath Schools in its immediate vicinity.

Think what this would mean. There are 3,390 Sabbath Schools in North America. If each of these schools would pick out an unentered area or a nearby village, it would mean 3,390 new Branch Sabbath Schools, and a vast extension of God's work. If each school would accept the General Conference Sabbath School Department's suggested goal of one school for each Sabbath School class, it would mean 19,422 branch schools. What a mighty revival would take place in our conferences if each church prayerfully undertook this project!

Of course, such a project means much prayer, much sacrifice, and much work. But it is worth all this and much more to see new souls coming into the truth and new churches being raised as a result of our efforts.

In 1962 there were only 989 Branch Sabbath Schools in the entire North American Division. We thank God for these, but really, should we not have thousands and thousands of such schools in this vast territory? Of course, you agree.

May I appeal to the ministers, the Sabbath School officers, and church boards to give careful consideration to the unentered areas and villages adjacent to their churches and plan to start Branch Sabbath Schools as soon as possible. Our conference officers and the conference Sabbath School secretaries stand ready to help our people with counsel and equipment. "The Lord imparts a fitness for the work to every man and woman who will cooperate with divine power. All the

Ninth Mental Health Institute

What is the difference between a psychiatrist and a psychologist? Aren't these fields dangerous for a Seventh-day Adventist to dabble with? Don't they undermine the faith and teachings of the Church?

Let me answer these questions briefly for you. A psychiatrist is a medical doctor who specializes (at least 3 years) in the treatment of mental illnesses. A psychologist is one who has studied the laws of mental health and also helps in the treatment of the mentally ill but is not an M.D. He usually has a Ph.D. or M.A. degree which represents 3 to 5 years' study beyond the basic 4-year college course. The answers to the second and third questions are a qualified "no." The qualification is the human element. Any field of study may be dangerous if one's faith has a shaky foundation. There are some doctors whose influence is negative in regard to religion even as there are some mathematics teachers whose influence is not desirable. Fortunately, there are many psychiatrists and psychologists to whom we may turn with confidence both within our church membership and outside it, men and women who recognize that responsibility for one's actions is a mark of maturity and that there is such a thing as sin.

Where did I get these answers? It was my privilege to attend the Ninth Annual Institute on Mental Health for S.D.A. Ministers, held at the Harding Hospital in Worthington, Ohio, October 21 to 23. Not only were these questions dealt with fully but many others pertaining to the ministry such as: the recognition and referral of the mentally ill, problems and pitfalls in pastoral counseling, and how the mind develops spiritually. Actually, three full days were spent in lectures, demonstrations, and discussions of these vital phases of pastoral work.

The setting for the Institute is very fitting. Harding Hospital is the first institution for mental therapy set up by a Seventh-day Adventist psychiatrist, Dr. George T. Harding (brother of President Warren G. Harding). Since its founding in 1916 the Harding Hospital has grown to be the center of Adventist psychiatric training. Forty-two physicians have received their training in psychiatry there. Many of these are now serving in and directing the mental therapy of our Adventist hospitals and some are teaching in our educational institutions across the country. The field of mental health has become very important in our modern age. We are fortunate to have in our midst a center of training such as the Harding Hospital, a charter member of the A.S.I., offering not only training in psychiatry, but also in the related fields of psychiatric nursing, occupational therapy, and social work.

The Institute for Ministers has been a yearly function since 1955. Held with the collaboration of Andrews University, including the theological seminary, and Loma Linda University, this year's session brought together 39 pastors, chaplains, and educators from seven of the ten unions of north America. From the Lake Union the following attended: B. H. Green, and S. K. Lehnhoff from Illinois, R. L. Hutchinson, H. D. Miller, and O. R. Scully from Michigan.

Lectures were given by Doctors George T. Harding, Sr., Donald H. Burk, (who also demonstrated a psychiatric analysis with the cooperation of a young Seventh-day Adventist patient), Grace Collet, George T. Harding, Jr., and Chief Social Worker Miss Mary Jane McConaughy of the staff of Harding Hospital; Dr. L. Harold Caviness, chief psychiatrist of the Battle Creek Health Center; Dr. Charles Anderson, chief psychiatrist of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital; Dr. Harrison S. Evans, chairman of the department of psychiatry, Loma Linda University; Dr. John A. Whieldon, assistant professor of psychiatry, Ohio State University School of Medicine; Eld. Charles E. Wittschiede, professor of pastoral counseling, Andrews University; and Robert A. Willson, chaplain of Medical College of Virginia.

With such a roster of authorities opportunity was given to satisfy most any question in the field. It was reassuring to find ourselves instructed by such men whose eminence in the scientific field had not dimmed their faith nor prevented them from being active laymen in their local S. D. A. churches. Their constant use of Bible and Spirit of Prophecy references added weight to the lectures and discussions. We came away feeling that we had spent three very compensating days. Not only is our vision a bit more clear in regards to our responsibility toward the mentally ill, but we are convinced that the basic laws of the mind are as vitally connected with our religion as are any laws of health. Most of us could increase our knowledge of these important principles to good advantage. To partially fill this need the Institute on Mental Health for S.D.A. Ministers was conceived and to the some 250 Adventist ministers who have attended through the years the goal has been achieved.

requisite talent, courage, perseverance, faith, and tact will come as they put the armor on."—Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 333.

We have special lessons, films, and literature especially prepared for this type of work. All we need are willing hands and responsive hearts. Even the youth can help in this evangelistic endeavor. "To everyone who offers himself to the Lord for service, withholding nothing, is given power for the attainment of measureless results."—Ibid., Vol. 7, p. 30.

How many Sabbath Schools will take up this challenge and move forward in faith? "Long has God waited for the spirit of service to take possession of the whole church, so that every one shall be working for Him according to his ability. When the members of the church of God do their appointed work in the needy fields at home and abroad, in fulfillment of the gospel commission, the whole world will soon be warned, and the Lord Jesus will return to this earth with power and great glory." (See Matt. 24:14).—The Acts of the Apostles, p. 111.

We believe this to be one of the avenues for greater evangelism. "All over the world men and women are looking wistfully to heaven. Prayers and tears and inquiries go up from souls longing for light, for grace, for the Holy Spirit. Many are on the verge of the kingdom, waiting only to be gathered in."—Evangelism, p. 462.

"The Lord desires that those who are engaged in the Sabbath School work should be missionaries, able to go forth to the towns and villages that surround the church."—Testimonies on Sabbath School Work, p. 74.

May God cause our members throughout this great division to move forward in faith and accept this challenge is my earnest prayer.

the use of this film after December 15. He says "Becky" is slated to be aired throughout the Christmas holiday season, when over 500 Americans are predicted to die in traffic accidents.

Jones released the following excerpts from the National Safety Council letter: "We think you made an impressive, effective presentation out of a subject which was delicately loaded with chances to stray in extreme directions. We think the final film can do a job for safe driving. And we do not hesitate to recommend it for both TV and group use.

"As a father, I feel deeply sorry for Becky's parent. As a driver I feel compassion for the drinking driver and his kin but resentment of the practice he

"Auf Wiedersehen"

To our many friends in Michigan and the Lake Union Conferences, we say, "Auf Wiedersehen." After having lived in Michigan and worked in various churches of this beautiful state for 16 years, it is not easy to leave and begin all over again in another place.

We have responded to the call of the Washington Conference to serve as pastor of the Olympia, Wash., Church and district. Already we have located in this beautiful capital city, within sight of "the mountain," Mt. Rainier.

Our new address is 2214 Beta Dr., Olympia, Wash., 98502. Our thoughts and prayers are with the many friends we have left in the churches and cities of Michigan, and we look forward to the grand "home-coming" at our Lord's second appearing.

My Largest Sale

One week things were not going too well. It was about time for my fieldman to come down and work with me, and I was glad to see him. We visited many homes but sold nothing.

The last home we visited was a Lutheran home. It was a humble home; the lady was a nurse. She said if only we would have come yesterday, she would have had the down payment, as she got paid every two weeks. We had shown her the Bible Stories, the Tri- umph of God's Love, and "Life and Health." We took her order for two weeks in advance.

When I came back to deliver them we talked for a few moments after the order was taken. She said that she had never been able to understand the book of Revelation. I told her I had a volume out in the car that would explain it fully. Immediately she was interested, and I went out to my car and brought in Daniel and Revelation and the Conflict Series.

I first canvassed her on Daniel and Revelation and then proceeded to show her the other volumes. She liked them so much she said she wanted them with her Bible Stories. So I wrote the order over again. It came to $151.50, the largest sale I had ever had.

The Lord brought us through that one bad week to give us something better, and this lady got the largest share in the blessing—God's truth in full.

New Minister of Music

Richard Lange, outstanding baritone and conductor of the Portland Vesper Chorale, has accepted a call to Michigan to join Elder Walter in the conference evangelistic team as minister of music. He replaces Gordon Henderson who has requested pastoral work and will be leading out in Detroit's Oakwood Church.

Richard Lange

After attending Walla Walla College, Lange joined the Voice of Prophecy radio group as a member of the quartet. Following this he linked his talents with those of J. L. Tucker in the denomination's television program then coming over KGO-TV in San Francisco.

For three years Lange was a member of the Canadian Union evangelistic team, appearing in cities from coast to coast. He then went to Portland, Ore., to be minister of music in the Sunny-side Church and to further his studies along musical lines.

Lange is an accomplished trumpeter, as well as a vocalist. Chapel Records is at present pressing an album entitled, "Richard Lange and His Friends," which will be released about the beginning of next year.

Scheduled to arrive in the field January 1, Lange will be joining Eld. Walter for an evangelistic series the 18th of that month in the Metropolitan Church, Detroit.

Sky-High Church Project

The men of the Wilson, Mich., Church stood still only long enough to have their picture taken, Sunday morning, October 27. In five hours they laid 5,900 square feet of roofing on the pictured chicken house, earning $232 for the church decorating fund.

This is not a new adventure for this industrious church group. Through the courtesy of the contractors and carpenters of the church many such roofing projects have been made possible in the past.

They Are Watching

This week I called the service department of the garage where I have my car serviced. When one of the supervisors of the department answered the phone, he said, "Say, I saw your television program Sunday afternoon, and it is one of the best I have ever seen." He talked at length about Elder Vandeman's presentation and about religion in general. This is the first opportunity I have ever had of discussing spiritual things with this man, and it illustrates how the television program penetrates the minds and hearts of those who view our program.

Almost the entire central part of Wisconsin is now covered by the "It Is Written" program over WSAU-TV, Wausau, and over WMTV in Madison. Thousands and thousands of homes are being entered by the truth that probably have never been entered before. Telephone surveys show that many people are watching with interest.

If you live in Wisconsin and are one of those who made a pledge for evangelism for 1963-64 at our camp meeting, we would remind you that this pledge should, if possible, be paid by January 1. If you did not make a pledge and wish to contribute to this great effort to finish the work in Wisconsin, please mail your checks or money order to: R. E. Macdonald, treasurer; Wisconsin Conference of S.D.A.; Box 512; Madison, Wis.

Enclosed in a letter I recently received was a check for one thousand dollars, five hundred to pay a pledge made conditionally last year, and five hundred to cover another pledge for this year. We greatly appreciate this faithfulness on the part of many of our believers.

Please pray consistently for the success of the "It Is Written" program in Wisconsin.

Janesville Baptism

Eight people were baptized Sabbath, October 19, at 3 p.m. at the Janesville Church, Eld. Elmer Rasmussen, formerly the Janesville pastor but now attending Andrews University, and Elder Vitrano from California conducted the baptism.

Mrs. Laura Boughton, soon to be 80, took her stand for Christ. She has been attending the Janesville Church regularly for the past three years with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boughton.

Nancy Boersman attends school in Delavan, which is also her residence. Wayne Friestad and Richard Serns, grandson of Elder Vitrano, both attend church school in Milton Junction where they live.

A year ago the health and welfare service of the Janesville Church called on the LeRoy Stafford family. Mr. Stafford was in the service. Mrs. Stafford needed some assistance at that time with her five children. A tract was left with her. It answered questions she had often wondered about. Bible studies followed. Today, Roy, Lee, Stanley, and Dale are attending church school in Milton Junction. They were baptized along with their very faithful mother. May the Lord bless all these faithful people who took their stand for Him.

Teachers' One-Day Convention

The teachers of our church schools and junior academies met in the Green Bay Church School on Monday, November 11, for a one-day convention. Eld. Kurt Kurz spoke at the devotional meeting challenging all to a higher, deeper experience in Christian teaching.

Professional teaching was the topic presented in a talk by Benjamin Beck. Other teachers, led by Mrs. W. D. Brown, gave valuable help in demonstrations and talks on devices, methods, charts, and teaching aids.

Conference policies were outlined by our treasurer, R. E. Macdonald. The Book and Bible House had an excellent display of books and other teacher needs.

The noon meal served by our Green Bay ladies was "tops."

The success of this day was a result of the cooperation of each one on the program. A special thanks goes to the pastor and teachers in Green Bay.

Answering the Call

Many people today are calling to learn more about what Seventh-day Adventists believe. The answer to these questions can best be given by Seventh-day Adventist friends. Every inquiry is an opportunity to represent Christ and His message of love.

More people are interested in what God wants than they are in what Seventh-day Adventists want. These people know two things. One, Seventh-day Adventists are sincere in what they believe. Two, Seventh-day Adventists are students of the Word of God.

Each of the inquiries opens the door for a Branch Sabbath School. The definite objective is not immediate conversion, nor merely an increase in church membership. Rather, it is to meet the needs of an inquiring mind and an honest heart. The objective, then, of a Branch Sabbath School is to set up a program of Bible study which contains the gospel of Jesus Christ. The gospel itself "is the power of God unto Salvation."

Let's make our Branch Sabbath School research projects in the Word of God. The Holy Spirit will direct such study.

Springfield Home Coming

It was home-coming day in Springfield, Ill. Although the Springfield Sabbath School has only a membership of 93, some 165 people attended the special home-coming rally on Sabbath, November 9, held at the Jerome Methodist Church.

Age and distance were honored with awards. The oldest person attending was a woman in her eighties. A book was given to the one coming the farthest—more than 200 miles.

Emphasis was placed upon Branch Sabbath Schools and the people of Springfield responded wholeheartedly. More than six prospective Branch Sabbath Schools were pledged for the near future, following an appeal given at the conclusion of Eld. Vernon Flory's Sabbath afternoon presentation. Taking part in the afternoon program also were Illinois Conference Sabbath School Secretary Harry M. Lodge and Lake Union P.R. Secretary Gordon Engen.

Featured speaker for the occasion was Eld. P. F. Lemon, a veteran missionary from the Congo. The stories he told of present-day Daniels made everyone realize that days of persecution have not ended.

Springfield Pastor Clifford Eckman was pleased with this year's response to the home-coming rally. "This is to be an annual affair," he stated. "We hope an even larger group will return to Springfield for next year's program."

Champaign Baptism

Sabbath, October 26, was a very special day at the new Champaign Church. The lovely new baptistry, for the third time since the church was completed last May, received a group of candidates.

Thirteen were baptized on this most recent occasion, bringing the total to 18 baptisms since the completion of the church. The initial group of four was baptized on June 1 and another baptism with one candidate was held during the summer. We feel this is a good start for a new baptistry and are praying that many more will find their way into this sacred fount before Jesus comes.

The Champaign congregation is very pleased with the new church. It is located in a dignified section of this important university town of some 100,000 population. Every Sabbath the services are well attended.

Plans are being formulated to hold evangelistic services in the new sanctuary sometime in the year 1964. We ask an interest in the prayers of all our friends throughout the Lake Union that God will richly bless the efforts that are being put forth in Champaign-Urbana for the finishing of His work.

The federation membership consists of the following churches; East St. Louis, Peoria, Springfield, Ill.; Evansville, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Jeffersonville, Marion, Muncie, Terre Haute, Ind. The cooperation of each one is solicited in this worthy endeavor.

OBITUARIES

CARTER, Claire Alfred, born Sept. 8, 1949, and his sister, Starr Lynn, born Sept. 21, 1951, passed away Oct. 3, 1963, at Picacho, Ariz. Sunstroke and heat exhaustion prematurely took the lives of these two active Pathfinders who were in search of rocks near a mountain. With their parents, they were enroute to a new home in San Diego, Calif.

They were baptized together in August, 1961, at Ferndale, Mich., and attended the church school. Left to mourn this tragedy are their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Carter Sr., a sister, Cannie, 15, a brother, John, 5, their relatives, and many friends.

Joint funeral services were conducted in National City, Calif., by the writer, a former pastor. Together they are waiting the call of Jesus in the Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Neil D. Mullins

DAVIS, Carl Y., 84, was born in Monticello, Ind., March 28, 1879, and passed away at his home in Harrison, Ark., Nov. 3, 1963. He was married to Alice May Brannon who passed away several years ago. He later married Minnie May Fry, July 15, 1945.

Carl Davis served as custodian at Emmanuel Missionary College for years and many young people learned to look on him as a second father. Even in the last years of his life of devoted service he took a great interest in the young people.

Mr. Davis was a devoted Christian, a loving husband, a loyal friend, and a faithful church member.

He leaves to mourn his passing his faithful companion, Minnie May Davis; 2 sons, Victor Davis of Chicago and Claude Davis of Hinsdale, Ill.; a brother, Charles Davis of Springfield, Mo.; 5 grandchildren; 7 great-grandchildren.

He was laid to rest near the home at Harrison, Ark., and words of comfort were spoken by the writer.

Ernest A. Lemon

GRAY, Charles L., 80, was born June 12, 1883, in East Saugatuck, Mich., to Calvin and Suzanne Gray. He resided in the Tomah area since the age of six. He was married to Maude Hulett in 1906 and to them 5 children were born.

Mr. Gray accepted the glorious hope of Christ's advent in 1938. Brother Gray looked the part of the Christian gentlemen that folks knew him to be.

He passed to his rest after a brief illness in the Tomah Memorial Hospital. Funeral services were held on July 1 and interment was at the Greenfield Cemetery in Tunnel City, Wis.

He is survived by his wife, Maude Gray, of Tomah; his daughter Margaret of Gardena, Calif.; and 4 sons, Bernard, of Page, N.D., Lyle and Earl of Tomah, and Calvin of Ash Grove, Mo.

John Holstein

HUBBELL, Espy, 76, of Traverse City, Mich., died Oct. 10, 1963. He leaves to mourn, his widow, Edith, 2 sons, and 4 daughters.

Mr. Hubbell's wife has been a faithful member of the church for fifteen years. She prayed for the conversion of her husband. During an effort held in the Traverse City Church in 1962, Mr. Hubbell attended every night. A specific call was made one evening and he did not respond. The pastor prayed that those who had not yielded to the Lord as yet would have no rest until surrender. It was 2 a.m. when Brother Hubbell knelt in his living room and surrendered. He then rejoiced in the truth until his death.

Words of comfort were spoken to the family by the writer.

He did all in his power to advance the growth of the remnant church. In 1948 he married Miss Bertha Galstad of Minneapolis, a former Bible worker in the Minnesota Conference. The couple moved to LaCrescent, Minn., in December 1962 and joined the LaCrosse Church.

While working in his garden Sept. 18 Mr. Langaard suffered an attack of sickness which proved fatal. He is survived by his wife, Marie Langaard, and two daughter, Mrs. Laura Weeks and Mrs. Helen Nelson. Interment was at the Minneapolis Hillside Cemetery.

Student Missionary Reports on Summer's Mission Experience

It's a long way from Mt. Vernon, Ohio, to Chiapas, Mex., but A.U. student Wilma Schmidt would like to make the trip again.

Miss Schmidt, a senior home economics major from Mt. Vernon, was a student missionary at Linda Vista, a Seventh-day Adventist academy and junior college, from June 6 to September 6, 1963. Her trip to Linda Vista in Chiapas, the southernmost state of Mexico, where she taught a class in home economics at the academy, was sponsored jointly by the Student Association and Missionary Volunteer Society of the university.

Wilma Schmidt

As well as sponsoring Miss Schmidt as student missionary, the university also made a $500 grant to Linda Vista to help build a new girls' dormitory. Miss Schmidt received $500 as a scholarship for her summer work at Linda Vista.

Having lived in Mexico while her father was a medical student at Monterey, Miss Schmidt is fluent in speaking Spanish. "One thing that impressed me immediately," she said, "was the friendly and courteous attitude of the people there. They made me feel right at home."

Reflecting on her experiences as a student missionary, Miss Schmidt said, "I learned a lot about working with people in general, and particularly about working with people who have been brought up in a different environment."

"I definitely want to return to Latin America for mission work after I finish an internship in dietetics," she emphasized. "It is a rewarding work, and I really want to return."

Wilma's plans for missionary work also include teaching. "Most anyone who goes to a mission field can plan on teaching at some time, they need teachers," she says.

There are currently between 650,000 and 700,000 alcoholics in the State of California. —Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in Listen Magazine.

Of the total enrolled at the Seminary, twelve are from the Lake Union. Under assignment to various areas are Emil Moldrik, Illinois; Cline Johnson and Richard Mummert, Michigan; Stanley Cottrell, Wesley Flory, and Elmer Rasmussen, Wisconsin.

Other students from the Lake Union area are Roy Bellenger from Wisconsin, Robert DeLong and Chuck Hutton from Michigan, Harold Lindberg and Deane Nelson from Illinois, and Steve Willsey from Indiana.

Since its beginning in 1934 as the Advanced Bible School at Pacific Union College, Angwin, Calif., with 71 students, the Seminary has granted almost a thousand degrees and trained nearly 2,600 ministers and teachers.

Institute Held for Local Mathematicians

An in-service institute for high school mathematics teachers is being conducted at Andrews University by Dr. Harold Jones, associate professor of mathematics and director of the institute.

The government-sponsored institute offers local mathematics teachers a chance to keep up to date in their mathematics education, explains Dr. Jones. This year marks the second mathematics institute that has been held at Andrews. The first institute was held during the 1961-62 school year.

A grant of $4,230 has been made to the mathematics department to cover the salary of the instructor and other class costs. No tuition charge is being made to the 26 high school teachers attending the class since the grant takes care of their tuition, allows up to $10 for books, and provides seven cents per mile for travel to and from the institute.

Under the present General Conference plan, a sponsored, married student in the Seminary receives $50 per week during his year of study.

Of the total enrollment this year over 65 per cent are working toward the master of arts degree, nearly 25 per cent are pursuing the bachelor of divinity curriculum, and about 10 per cent are taking the fifth-year course of study.

"As we look ahead," say Dr. Murdoch, "study is being given to the bachelor of divinity program as a prerequisite to entering the ministry. This is due to the growing recognition that ministers should be well qualified for their work in this age of advanced learning. Such a program would permit a more broad base in general education on the college level before specialization in theology."

"We look for an increasing enrollment in the next three years," says Dr. Murdoch, "and it is expected that in the not too distant future there will be 300 or more students in the Seminary."

At the present time there are 17 full-time staff members, 10 part-time staff members and 10 guest lecturers and teachers at the Seminary.

Up to six semester hours of graduate credit toward the master of arts in teaching degree is offered for the two-semester course, according to Dr. Jones.

There are 231 such institutes in the country, covering various areas of science and mathematics, with over 11,700 teachers in attendance.

The 26 teachers attending the classes represent high schools in Goshen, North Liberty, and South Bend, Indiana; Decatur, Dowagiac, Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, and Niles, Michigan.
