Muslims Accept Christ in Indonesia

Marajati Kalitouw opened her eyes wide in wonderment. "Can it be so," she thought, "that this teacher, a former Muslim and son a hadji (a teacher of Islam who has studied in Mecca), is telling me the truth?"

But there it was, right in the Koran just as the teacher had said—that there is a true Christian group that does not eat unclean foods. A Christian group! In the Koran!

Could it be that her husband, a respected police officer, was justified in worshipping Alah on Saturday instead of on Friday as do all the 80 million faithful Moslems in Indonesia? Was it possible, as he hoped, that if she continued to study with this Christian they might be able to resolve their differences and live happily together! As long as her fanatical zeal for Islam matched his steadfastness for his new found faith in Jesus there could be no reconciliation between them; a divorce seemed imminent.

Well, perhaps she should continue to study. It was worth a try, and if she could be convinced from the Koran that Jesus Christ was more than a mere prophet, that He was in truth the Son of God, then she might—well, there was no harm in investigating anyway. But she would remain firm in one stipulation—they must study from the Koran, for was it not the true revelation from Alah?

Faithfully Pastor Burhanuddin visited the home twice each week for studies with Mrs. Marajati Kalitouw. Often it seemed his efforts were doomed to failure, but in faith and with much prayer he persisted. How well he recalled his own attitude toward the truth and the fact that even now he was considered an outcast by the Muslims in Palembang, his home in South Sumatra.

After three months studying concerning the Christ in the Koran, Mrs. Kalitouw was finally willing to compare its teachings with the Bible. Gradually, through the sweet influence of His Holy Spirit, Jesus in all His beauty and holiness was revealed to this dear lady's heart. She longed to be ready to meet Him, and she decided to cast her lot with His church. Now her zeal for Jesus and His Truth knew no bounds. The fact that theirs was now a united and happy Christian home was in itself a powerful witness to others. She began to work earnestly for her parents and neighbors.

Before long, Brother Kalitouw now being pensioned from police service, they moved back to their home suburb of Bandung. Each afternoon Sister Marajati Kalitouw could be seen visiting the homes of her neighbors telling them about the true Christian group spoken of in the Koran who do not eat unclean foods. She assured them that this people is even more careful about their diet than the Muslims. Surprised and incredulous at first, for they had never heard of Christians who did not eat unclean foods, her friends refused to listen to this newborn Christian. But Sister Marajati continued to witness for Jesus, and after a while several families gathered every Wednesday evening to hear Pastor Burhanuddin teach them from the Koran as he had done for her.

Soon a lay family from our hospital church in Bandung moved to this community and started a branch Sabbath school for the group. Since that time two baptisms have taken place. The conversion of each of these new members makes a wonderful story of the redeeming love of Jesus.

ON BOOKS

"Prove it to me from the New Testament, and I'll believe it!"

This is often the remark that we hear when we have quoted a text from the Old Testament.

Here is a new book that shows very clearly that both testaments of the Bible do harmonize. The illustrations are excellent! When people see the beautiful harmony that does exist between the Old and New Testaments, they are well on the way to shaking off many of the errors that are commonly taught today.

Some of the chapters are:

"Christ in Old and New Testaments"

"Who Was at Sinai?"

"Once Saved, Always Saved"

"Law, Grace, and Works"

"The Sabbath a Sign"

I greatly enjoyed reading this new presentation of these age old subjects—and so will you! Order a copy today from your local Book and Bible House.

Some weeks ago a man named Ing was employed by Mrs. Marajati Kalitouw. When Friday came Ing went to his employer with the apology: "I am sorry, but it will be impossible for me to come to work tomorrow or any Saturday thereafter."

"Oh, that is perfectly all right," replied Mrs. Kalitouw. "I was going to tell you that you need not come to work tomorrow, for we do not work on that day either. You see, the seventh day of the week is God's holy day and Seventh-day Adventists neither work or do business on that day."

Mr. Ing was greatly surprised to hear this. "I thought that no one but my family kept Saturday. The custom has been handed down from father to son for many generations. We have been taught that this is the true holy day of Allah."

Immediately Sister Kalitouw invited him and his family to attend Sabbath school and worship services in her home the next day. Since that time he and his wife have been faithful attendants every Sabbath.

Though Muslims' hatred for Christianity and their cruel treatment of all who forsake Islam to embrace Christianity is well known the world around, in Indonesia, greatest of Muslim nations, a new day is dawning. This story is but a sample of how honest people among the Muslims are turning to Jesus Christ and His saving grace as the answer to their souls' needs. Millions are waiting for the gospel light. Many unentered islands are now open to the proclamation of the soon-coming Saviour. In spite of these great opportunities we do not have sufficient workers to take advantage of them. We need three times the young ministers we are able to graduate each year from our union college.

Our senior academy in the North Celebes is strategically located to attract the youth of this large area of concentrated membership which is too far removed to permit the majority to attend our college near Bandung. Providing at least two years of college work in this institution will greatly increase the number of ministers and teachers ready to join the ranks of gospel workers each year. But it will take money to provide the increased facilities necessary, and we are a poor people.

Dear friends, we have many needs in this land of opportunity, but this school is one of our most urgent now. We look to you on this 13th Sabbath to lend us a hand. Through your generous gifts you can "Come over... and help us." We are sure you will not fail us.

Drinking Driver Laws Discussed

Six thousand Americans who will die this year in highway accidents could be alive, a national insurance company executive said recently at American University.

William N. Plymat, president of the Preferred Risk Mutual Insurance Company, Des Moines, Iowa, told students at the ninth annual Washington Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism that "our effective legal limit of alcohol in the blood (.15 per cent) is about three times higher than it should be."

He suggested that the present drunk driving laws be left to stand for the more severe offenders, but that a move be made in the direction of establishing a "speed limit" in the field of drinking and driving by making it an offense to operate a motor vehicle with more than a certain amount of alcohol in the blood.

In his talk, the insurance company executive pointed out that around 50 per cent of the fatal-accident drivers in the U.S. have been drinking. And half of the drinking drivers have less alcohol than is normally required to convict for drunk driving, he stated.

Seated and standing here in the Home Missionary booth are 24 of the 29 laymen who were honored in the Laymen of the Year program. Byron Churchill is seated in the center.

Michigan's Layman of the Year

Byron Churchill from Kalkaska is Michigan's Layman of the Year for 1964 and was honored at special ceremonies Friday evening, August 7, at camp meeting in Grand Ledge. Churchill is a social worker for the State of Michigan. He is the county supervisor for the Bureau of Social Aid, but in his work and away from it he is first and foremost a spokesman for the Lord. His coming to Kalkaska he feels was under the direction of God.

Starting from scratch by using his own home as a branch Sabbath School, selling it to build a larger home to provide adequate space for the growing Kalkaska company, this group was organized into a new church in 1963 after a very successful tent effort by Elder Myers, their pastor and district leader, which resulted in thirteen new believers taking their stand for the message through the vision, leadership, toil and sacrifice of Brother Churchill, the local elder.

Each member is now engaged in a systematic plan of giving to their church building fund. The church building is in the process of construction and plans call for occupancy by Christmas of this year.

Besides the lay-evangelistic activities engaged in by Brother Churchill, resulting in eighteen new believers baptized, he is secretary-treasurer of the Volunteer Fire Department; he is president of the P.T.A.; for the past two years he has been chairman of the Boy Scout Drive; he has taught Red Cross First Aid classes; he is squad leader of a citizen's band rescue group; he has a two-way radio in his car and home and organizes search and rescue groups when a distress call comes; for five years he has been the Electrical Club leader of the County 4-H Club; he has headed up polio clinics in the county; and he has been Sabbath School teacher and local church elder for seven years.

Other laymen of the year awards for distinguished service as indicated were presented to: Alfred Smith of Linden, literature distribution, Ingathering, church leadership, lay preaching; Dr. Stewart Erhard of Eaton Rapids, church leadership, medical missionary evangelism, temperance worker; Phil Hopkins of Benton Harbor, literature evangelism, church missionary leadership, Bible evangelism; Ralph Stephan of Ithaca, Bible evangelism, missionary zeal, church leadership; Mrs. Inez Kurtz of Reed City, State Federation

C. Wilson and W. M. Buckman of the Michigan Conference in a special ceremony featuring Michigan's laymen of the year at the Lake Union Laymen's Congress. Over 85 believers are now rejoicing in the message through their lay-evangelistic witness.

A Parent and Teacher Looks at S.D.A. Schools

My life has been devoted to education for nearly twenty years. My training is the product of Andrews University. Later I received my masters' degree at the University of Richmond and I have continued my graduate work at Michigan State University.

At present I am teaching in a public school and this has deepened my conviction in the necessity of a Christian education for my three children, and for all our youth.

The public schools are doing a wonderful job for all the many and varied types of problems they have to handle, but they are not designed nor can they be adapted to meet and solve the specific problems of Seventh-day Adventist youth.

Christian schools and only Christian schools have been planned and dedicated to this singular task.

Carl Mosher

We need to greatly expand our academies' source of income that they may efficiently carry on this specific task. As a parent I feel that because of the peculiar beliefs and especially the necessity of my children getting Sabbath privileges in the work-a-day world, I owe them the very best in education. Since we believe in Christian education for our children we should give our school a much better financial base from which to operate. Truly our academies are as much a mission field as our schools in the foreign fields. If we fail our youth here how can we send workers over there? Let us meet the challenge of the hour! Let us give that Christian education may accomplish its singular task: preparing young people for eternity.

Mrs. Richard Hutchison, the pastor's wife, were a real attention device for the primary and junior age children.

Making flower planters out of juice cans and plaster of Paris, or a thermometer plaque from a piece of plywood and colored shells, were two main attractions for the juniors.

The 30 primary children made aquatic paper weights from baby food jars, colored water and plastic sea replicas, and a whole pen of piggy banks from bleach bottles and bright pieces of felt.

Under the direction of Mrs. George Yancer and Mrs. Harvey Schmidt, the Vacation Bible School was sponsored by the Saginaw Sabbath School.

Peterson-West Wedding

Miss Norma Lee Peterson and Jennings Chapman West were united in marriage July 19 in the Seventh-day Adventist Church at Grand Ledge, Mich.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peterson of Springfield, Ill. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. West of Lansing, Mich.

The couple will be at home in Lansing, Mich., where Mr. West is employed at the Michigan Book and Bible House.

We wish God's blessing upon this new Christian home.

Wilson-Racine Wedding

On Sunday afternoon, July 12, Verlaine Wilson and Edwin Racine were united in a beautiful ceremony in the Pontiac Riverside Seventh-day Adventist Church. Verlaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilson of Pontiac, and Edwin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Racine of Pontiac.

Both the bride and the groom attended the Pontiac Junior Academy, both were graduated from Andrews University, and both are church school teachers. This fall Verlaine will teach church school at Lake Orion and Edwin will teach in the Pontiac Junior Academy.

The large number of friends and relatives in attendance at their wedding and reception is indicative of the good wishes of all their friends. We invoke God's richest blessing upon this new Christian home.

Changes in District Pastors

Changes in the leadership of several districts in Wisconsin have taken place recently. Elder John Yuros of Nova Scotia will be the pastor of the Sheboygan district and will be located at Fond du Lac. Elder Hector Ortiz, who has been pastor of the district, is leaving the district to further his education.

Elder John Holstein is taking charge of the Rhinelander district which was formerly under the leadership of Elder Paul Whitlow, now pastor of the Wausau district. The LaCrosse district will be under the direction of Elder Bernald Mohr who comes to us from North Dakota. We welcome these new workers to Wisconsin.

Elder Lloyd Ellison, who has been church development secretary of the Wisconsin Conference for the past year, is now pastor of the Milton Junction district, taking the place that was occupied by Pastor George Sherman, who is now assistant pastor at Wausau.

Four Baptized at Oshkosh

Four persons were united in fellowship through baptism to the Oshkosh Church on May 30. The 2:30 p.m. service saw two of our precious young people take their stand publicly for the Lord, one sister who had previously taken her stand rededicated her life through baptism, while the fourth joined the Advent people as a result of an Ingathering contact.

Debra Schultz and Paula Malone, the two junior age youth, culminated a series of pre-baptismal studies conducted by Pastor W. A. Wellman with this vital step.

Miss Joyce Loret, whose willingness to assume any task asked of her endeared her to the local congregation, took the rededication step on this date.

Mrs. Carlton Hoffman first learned of the existence of a local Seventh-day Adventist church last December. In the course of his door-to-door contacts, a volunteer solicitor called at the Hoffman residence. Mr. Hoffman, who answered the caroler's ring, had a friendly and sympathetic attitude. In the course of that brief conversation, it was learned that Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman frequently listened to H. M. S. Richards' sermons on the Voice of Prophecy programs and enjoyed them. The family felt some dissatisfaction with their present church, due to the failure of the pastor to explain certain tenets of their church's doctrines which appeared to be contrary to Scripture.

The voluntary solicitor called back at the home a couple of times to maintain the initial interest and finally questioned whether they would care to have the local pastor call on them to discuss more fully the doctrines of the Adventist Church. The response was affirmative, and Pastor Wellman commenced a series of Bible studies which continued for several months and concluded finally with the stand taken by Sister Hoffman on this date. Mr. Hoffman is planning to follow his wife in baptism in the not too distant future.

The Oshkosh folk were sorry to have to say goodbye to Sister Loret only a few short weeks after her baptism, since her employment is in the Bethel area. However, her many friends in Oshkosh wish her the best in this new endeavor.

Lucht-Kind Wedding

On Sunday afternoon, July 19, Beverly Joyce Lucht, daughter of Mrs. Mathilda Lucht of Thiensville, Wis., and Alvin Frederick Kind, son of Mrs. Anna Kind, of Waukesha, Wis., were united in marriage. The ceremony was held in the Concordia Seventh-day Adventist church in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kind plan to make their home in Waukesha where Mrs. Kind will continue to teach the church school and where Mr. Kind is employed. May this newly established home be a place where angels are ever pleased to dwell.

Knutson-Sherman Wedding

Esther Steffen Knutson became the bride of George Sherman in services held Saturday evening, August 8, in the Raymond, Wis., Church.

A large company of friends and relatives gathered in the church to witness their exchange of the marriage vows, and a reception was held after the ceremony at the Raymond Intermediate School.

Sherman has served for a number of years in the Book and Bible Houses of the Michigan and Indiana conferences, and is at present a minister in the Wisconsin Conference.

The Shermans have now taken up their work in Wisconsin, where they will make their new home. We pray God's richest blessing upon their united efforts in His cause.

News Notes

★ News releases will appear other places concerning the Laymen's Congress recently held in Grand Ledge, but it has been good to hear the remarks of those who attended. All seem to feel that this was one of the very best with help for all in our missionary work.

★ According to DeForest Patchin, Grassy Lake camp custodian, the U.S. Government men have just completed a survey of the camps in the Grassy Lake area. They were not hesitant to tell us that ours received the very highest rating, both for physical plant and camp operations. can be attested to by all who were in attendance. Meals were prepared on a table set under a huge mirror, for an excellent view to the audience. Some delightful new recipes prepared from Loma Linda and Worthington food products were introduced for the first time. The homemakers were pleasantly surprised at the variety obtainable from the excellent products of these two very well-known companies.

Another interesting feature was "The Proper Setting of the Dinner Table" by Josephine Macri. The ladies commented with pleasure as they circled the table getting pointers on simple but attractive decor.

The meals prepared were not only nutritional, but attractive as well. Miss Rose Greer gave a discourse on the required food and vitamins of a well-balanced diet.

Among the foods served were a hot carob drink, eye-appealing salads of many varieties, delicious cakes and cookies prepared from wholesome soya, rye, and wheat flours, tangy tomato sauce over high protein homemade noodles, pecan-nut balls, and varied vegetables in many forms. Somehow the word got around that delicious food was being served and our audience acquired the staunch support of the male gender.

Again we wish to thank all those whose tireless help and contributions made this program a complete success.

Adventist Metropolitan Chorale

Do you enjoy the great masterpieces of choral literature? Then this choir, sponsored by the Illinois MV Department, is for you.

Tuesday evening, September 15, is the first rehearsal of the fall season.

This is the time for new members to join in preparation for the first concert to be given on Sabbath, November 21, 1964. James Mercer, the musical director, and other officers of the choir have selected an inspiring and challenging program of choral works. We have five goals to work toward:

1. To help develop a love for good music.
2. To provide an opportunity for singers in the metropolitan area of Chicago to combine their efforts in the singing of great choral literature.
3. To plan for two musical functions a year, one in conjunction with the music festival and one concert.
4. To encourage all those taking part to develop greater participation in the musical functions of their local church.
5. To provide a musical experience that will enrich and uplift all those who listen.

Join us at the first rehearsal, Tuesday, September 15, 7:30 p.m., at the West Central S.D.A. Church, 1154 Wisconsin Avenue, Oak Park, Ill.

Bloomfield Church Makes a Cradle Roll Room

For a long time there has been a need for a cradle roll department in the Bloomfield Church, but no longer does it have to be combined with the primary and kindergarten divisions.

A drab, seldom-used room designated as the mothers' room when the church was built a few years ago has been made into a very attractive room for the tiny tots. Each Sabbath a nice group of little boys and girls, cradle-roll age, sit in a semi-circle around their teacher, Mrs. Carol Renshaw, enjoying every minute of their class time.

Carol, a former S.D.A. school teacher, makes class time very interesting by careful selection of songs, along with toys, devices, and exercises to keep little hands and minds employed. As these are used, a lesson about Jesus and His love for children is brought to these little ones in a truly interesting way.

Since the room had no window, a large mural 45 x 65 inches showing a lovely woodland scene was installed on the north wall. Curtains were hung at its side making it appear to be a picture window. A shelf holding potted, artificial flowers is yet to be installed below the window as a sill. A nice tweed effect rug has been donated for the floor and a davenport was also contributed.

Little chairs built and upholstered and just right for little tots were gifts from Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Grounds.

On other walls bright scenes and pictures are used for adornment. Everyone feels that it has been a worthwhile change.

Dr. Klimes and family will soon be leaving by plane for Korea, where he has accepted the superintendency of the Seventh-day Adventist schools located there. These consist of one college, 24 junior and senior high schools, and 35 elementary schools. The Klimes will live in Seoul.

Changes at Indiana Academy

The Indiana Academy board of trustees appropriated $50,000 recently for improvements on the campus of the school, which is located in Cicero.

Summer construction of these improvements has provided dormitory space for 38 additional students, ten new showers and a new parlor and entryway in the girls' dormitory, a new worship room in the boys' dormitory, and a new storage room for the cafeteria.

In addition, most of the rooms in both dormitories have been painted and the campus lighting has been improved.

The academy has four new teachers, as well as a new dean of boys and a new assistant business manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baerg will teach science and mathematics. Graduates of La Sierra College, Arlington, Calif., they have both been completing requirements for their master's degrees in physics this summer.

Miss Joy Caselli, who graduated this spring from Atlantic Union College, South Lancaster, Mass., will teach home economics and art. I.A. has Miss Pat Dow, also a '64 graduate of A.U.C., will teach English and history. She is from New York State.

The new dean of boys will be William Kaiser, a graduate of Atlantic Union College who has taught in the Pacific Union Conference for a number of years and was most recently the principal of the Binghamton, N.Y., junior academy.

Frederick A. Neigel will assist in the business office. With the increased enrollment shown by Indiana Academy in the past few years, the heavy load in the business office has indi-

That was for the month of January. For February, the January total had to be doubled. So then each class had a total of ten cents. These early steps were all very easy to make, so classes climbed up these ladders with their Investments, 20 cents, 40 cents, 80 cents up to $1.60. Even in March, July, and August, steps were being taken. The July step required that each class have $3.20 to their credit. The August, $6.40, September, $12.80 and October, $25.60. Today, one class is on the verge of taking this October step. One other is not far behind. Two class leaders have been lost recently and the Investment secretary has been ill a number of weeks. This is hurting, but there are those still determined not to give up. So the question is, "Which class is going to reach the top of the Investment Ladder first?" If all should attain their goal, a total of $409.60 would be turned in for Investment this year in the Bloomfield Church. This is about four times the usual amount.

Will it be? We will just have to wait and see.

Elder and Mrs. Reavis Honored

Elder and Mrs. J. D. Reavis of Winter Park, Fla., who have been vacationing in Bloomfield for about a week, were guests of honor at a covered-dish dinner Sabbath noon, August 8, in the Dorcas room of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

In addition to members of the church who attended, others were present from Anderson, Chicago, Vincennes, Bedford, and Bloomfield. All enjoyed a wonderful time of fellowship together, as well as the dinner.

Elder Reavis is a retired Seventh-day Adventist minister. Among the churches where he has held pastorates are Bedford and Bloomington, Ind., and Bradenton and Tallahassee, Fla.

Is Your Child in Church School?

Does your church have a school? Is your child going to that school? If not, why not? Church schools are so very important. You know the statistics that are quoted. Do you want your child to be one of those to leave the church when perhaps church school could have held him?

We want our children to have the best. Why settle for anything less than church school? We want them to be ready when Jesus comes. Is public school helping to prepare them for that happy day? We don't have to answer that; the answer is obvious. In our schools, we know that they are getting the spiritual preparation which will enable them to remain firm when the shaking time comes.

It is so very hard for young people to live their faith today. Why make it harder for them by exposing them to the temptation which will come their way if they go to public school? Enroll your child in church school now. Make sure he or she won't be left behind when Jesus comes to take us home with Him.

Teacher's Exchange Meeting

Calling all teachers of children in our Indiana Sabbath Schools: A teacher's exchange meeting is being called at the Indiana Conference office for Sunday, September 27, beginning at 9:30 a.m. This will run till 12:30; then there will be time after that for working on materials, purchasing materials, etc. The Book and Bible House will be open.

It would be well to bring your own lunch, but there are cafeterias and restaurants in the area.

We believe this meeting will be abundantly worthwhile for teachers of cradle roll, kindergarten, primary and junior divisions. A special effort is being made at this time to have something worthwhile for teachers of juniors.

For further details, check with your church Sabbath School superintendent. Many of those active in the children's departments will also be kept informed. RALPH COMBES, Secretary

News From the 1964 Evangelism Front

The summer evangelistic meetings have now entered the harvesting time, and the first reports from the "front lines" bring the following glad tidings of baptisms:

Progress Report on Operation Great Lakes

During January a series of church officers meetings was conducted by conference officers and departmental secretaries. At this time Operation Great Lakes was introduced: the Master Plan to coordinate the various phases of the work in Lake Region. We went forth from these meetings with the rallying cry ringing in our ears, "We must do more in '64!" The year is now half gone; what have we accomplished toward reaching our major objectives in evangelism, the literature ministry, church and school buildings, Christian education and youth projects, and camp ground improvement?

Evangelism always comes first. We are well on our way toward the goal of 800 baptisms for 1964. At this writing seven tent meetings are well underway. Hundreds of new converts are keeping the Sabbath and preparing for church membership. As a part of Operation Great Lakes, your conference committee has employed a full-time secretary of evangelism, Elder J. M. Phipps. His good influence is already being felt in a renewed interest in public evangelism among the workers of the Lake Region. We feel confident that we shall baptize more in '64.

Another objective we set before our people in January was the revitalization of the colporteur ministry. The return of Brother Hunter Crigler, after a two-year study program at Oakwood College, has given great impetus to the literature work. At the present time, more than 25 student colporteurs are delivering thousands of Message magazines each week. These fine young people will no doubt deliver 80,000 single copies of Message, plus several thousand copies of Life and Health this summer, thus shattering all previous records. We are sure to sell more in '64.

From all indications, our church schools will be bursting at the seams this coming school year. Last school year's total enrollment of 695 children and youth is sure to be exceeded. The new Sharon-City Temple School building in Inkster, Mich., is ready for occupancy. Our larger church schools: Shiloh (Chicago), Davison Avenue (Detroit), and Capitol Avenue (Indianapolis), report the prospect of having their finest seasons. We are pledged to do more to save our youth in '64.

The recent camp meeting broke all attendance records to date for Lake Region. Your conference officers anticipated this upsurge in camp meeting interest and urged the conference committee to undertake an ambitious program of camp improvements. The list is an imposing one:

1. New main pavilion
2. New duplex concrete block cabins
3. New roads
4. Continued development of wooded area
5. Converting the former main pavilion into a multi-purpose housing, kitchen, 250-capacity dining room, walk-in refrigerator, steam table, Book and Bible House, First Aid room, camp store
6. Two large septic tanks and dry wells
7. Added dormitory rooms
8. Conversion of former Book and Bible House into cabin rooms
9. Purchase of tractor and flat bed
10. New rest rooms and 2,000 feet of 4-inch water line added to our existing water system. Engineers say we have the best water system in Cass County.

Insofar as camp improvement is concerned, we have done much more in '64.

This is only a partial report. Much more could be said. When the entire membership of Lake Region rises to the task there will be much more to say. The call of the hour is for a dedication and a commitment commensurate to the task that lies ahead.

OBITUARIES

GARRETT, Roscoe Uriah, son of John Wallin and Emma Gano Garrett, was born Dec. 6, 1875, in a log cabin, across the St. Joseph River from what is now Andrews University.

He attended Battle Creek College, where he finished his course in 1899. Later, in 1927, he received the Bachelor's Degree from that school.

In 1902 he was married to Edith Belle Becker of Berrien Center, who was also a teacher in the area. To them were born a son who is now Evan L. Garrett, M.D., of Niles, and a daughter, Alice, Mrs. Frank L. Marsh, of Andrews University. Later Dorothy Riding, a foster daughter, now Mrs. Kenneth Allen of Sacramento, Calif., completed the family.

In 1910 he became the first pastor of the newly organized Seventh-day Adventist Church in Berrien Springs, and he, in these last years of his life, cherished his membership again in that church. In 1913 he was ordained to the

In the many active years that followed, Elder Garrett's days were filled with teaching, preaching, baptisms, marriages, and funerals. As an educator he served at Adelphton Academy, Holly, Mich.; at Hinsdale Academy, Hinsdale, Ill.; at Emmanuel Missionary College; and at Battle Creek Academy. During his retirement he also taught at Pewee Valley Academy, Ky., and at Platte Valley Academy, Neb.

His wife, Edith, preceded him in death in 1951. In March of 1955, he married Maggie Dell Hicks Siems, who strengthened his work as a minister, lightening and brightening the last nine years of his fruitful life.

His retirement has been a release from routine, leaving him free to spend even more time ministering, especially to those who were shut in, ill, or alone. With Mrs. Garrett at his side they have been in almost daily ministry to many who were awaiting their visits.

His last sermon, given recently at the Berrien Springs Church, "Sunrise Tomorrow," is a benediction to his life of loving service, and a comfort to his beloved church members.

Elder Garrett was well and active until the last 98 days of his critical illness. He passed away on July 14. Funeral services were at the Pioneer Memorial Church and burial was made in the Rose Hill Cemetery, Berrien Springs. Officiating was Elder Robert Boothby, assisted by Elders G. A. Coffen and Anthony Castabona.

ADRIAN, Emma: On July 8, 1964, our beloved Emma Adrian laid down the burdens of this life. This sister who was born on Feb. 24, 1873, has been blind for about the last 20 years. Although she was always very content with her lot, she looked forward to seeing her Saviour face to face.

Services were conducted on July 10, when she was laid to rest in Forest Hill Cemetery.

BOISMIER, Julia M., died Sunday, June 28, 1964, at her residence in Davison, Mich., at the age of 74 years. She was born in New Lothrop, Michigan, on November 4, 1889, and was a resident of Davison for the past 32 years.

Funeral services were conducted from the Swartz Funeral Home by Elder R. J. Kachenmeister on June 30.

Surviving are: husband, Oscar; three sons, David of Davison; LaVerne of Flint; and Oscar J. of Lansing; two daughters, Mrs. Viola Wise of Flint and Mrs. Frances Moore of Davison; 17 grandchildren; 14 great-grandchildren; a brother, William Sheldon of Hillman, Mich.; and a host of friends. She was a faithful member of the Flint Seventh-day Adventist Church. Sister Boismier was laid to rest in Union Cemetery where she awaits the call of the Life-giver on resurrection morning.

DIGMAN, Zona May, was born June 3, 1881, in Beecher City, Ill., the daughter of John and Ella Williams.

On June 12, 1898, she was married to Francis Digman, who preceded her in death. She passed to her rest July 14 at Murphysboro, Ill. An infant son and sister also preceded her in death. She was Dorcas leader in Du Quoin for many years.

Surviving are a son, Floyd Dignon, of Chicago; a daughter, Mrs. William Roy (Lila) Milam, of Du Quoin; five sisters, Mrs. Essie Hill, Murphysboro; Mrs. Jessie Meyers, Granite City; Mrs. Genevieve Eymann and Mrs. Eva Stewart, both of Chicago; and Mrs. Norma Sellet of Joliet; six grandchildren, eighteen great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

Services were held at Du Quoin and burial was at Sunset Memorial Park in Du Quoin.

PIERCE, Mina L., 94, of Holly, Mich., was born Aug. 19, 1869, near Charlotte, Mich., the daughter of Lorraine and Henry Pierce. She fell asleep on July 10, 1964, awaiting the call of Jesus.

In 1892 she was one of 16 girls who were sent to Detroit to be trained as Bible workers.

After doing Bible work for some time, she was asked to be Secretary-Treasurer of the Michigan Conference, with offices at Adelpian Academy.

A breakdown in her health forced her to give up her work and kept her from ever returning to full-time employment. Since that time, she made her home with her sister, Mrs. Darwin Dean.

She was always active in church work, assuming various church responsibilities. In her last days, the songs she sang and her conversation testified to her belief in the protecting care of her Father's love.

Surviving are several nieces and nephews. Funeral services were conducted by Elder W. E. Snider at the Dryer Funeral Home with interment at Oakhill Cemetery at Holly, Mich.

SHASKY, Joseph, was born in Perham, Minn., Aug. 23, 1880, and passed away at his home Sabbath morning June 27, 1964.

He married Nina Gens in Appleton, Wis., in 1909. After living in Minnesota for a short time, the Shaskys moved to Kalamazoo, where they have resided ever since.

Mr. Shasky was a faithful member of the church, serving as a Sabbath School teacher for many years. He spent a number of years working as a nurse at the Battle Creek Sanatorium. His faith in the Lord remained strong and he looked forward with great confidence to the resurrection morning.

He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, Nina; two daughters, Mrs. Josephine Howard of Gull Lake, Mich.; and Mrs. Ruth Illick of Maitland, Fla.; three brothers, M. D. and Charles of Augusta, Mich., and Fred of Battle Creek, Mich.; and Mrs. Mary Oms of Battle Creek, Mich.; and Mrs. Carrie Johnson of Berrien Springs, Mich.; seven grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren. H. D. Miller

SWARTOUT, Roy, was born Feb. 26, 1890, and passed to his rest July 29, 1964, after a long illness.

Brother Swartout was one of the only class to graduate from the now little-known Otsego Academy. He took business at Emmanuel Missionary College and graduated in 1916. He was a loyal member of the Charlotte Church for many years.

His death, just the day before the Michigan camp meeting opened, ended a record of 49 consecutive camp meetings attended. At the close of the camp meeting of 1963 he asked his wife, "Well, I wonder what another camp meeting will bring?" The fiftieth never came.

Mourning his passing are: his wife, Grace; one daughter, Altavene; a brother, William; and a host of friends.

Words of comfort were spoken by Elder M. E. Foll, assisted by Elder R. E. Lemon and the Heralds Quartet.

WOOD, Alfred M., 98, fell asleep in Jesus, June 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Grace Smith, Mooresville, Ind., where she made her home for the last 15 years.

The native of Dane County, Wis., was born July 27, 1864, the daughter of Christopher and Hannah Welch Outhwaite, both natives of England.

She married William B. Wood on Dec. 3, 1882, and he died in November, 1933.

Mrs. Wood had been a resident of Indianapolis and was a member of the South Side Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Her beautiful, faithful life was an inspiration to all who knew her, and her sunny disposition, even during stress, revealed her intimate acquaintance with her Saviour.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Smith in Mooresville, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Parsons, S. Dak.; a foster son, Albert D. Wood of Seneca, Ill.; 5 grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; and 2 great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. Joseph Galusha, associate professor of industrial education, has been elected by the Michigan Cooperative Curriculum Program to the state's

Joseph Galusha

Committee on Industrial Arts for the year ending June 30, 1965.

The Michigan Cooperative Curriculum Program is designed to improve instruction in the state through bringing together the voluntary efforts of citizens, local school systems, institutions of higher education such as Andrews University, voluntary educational associations, and the Department of Public Instruction.

The committee of which Galusha is a member will first meet on September 25 and 26 at Boyne Mountain in Boyne City, Mich.

He has taught in the industrial arts department of Andrews since 1955.

Annual Faculty Retreat

Faculty and industrial superintendents of A.U. will convene at the annual faculty retreat on September 9 at the Pannelwood Resort, Berrien Springs, for consideration of trends and goals on the university campus.

Entitled "Perspective," this year's retreat will feature group discussion under the leadership of various faculty members. Topics are as follows:

"Are We Achieving Our Aims?" Kenneth Strand; "Are We in the 20th Century?" John D. Waller; "Daily Program—Suited to our Students?" Mercedes H. Dyer; "Spirituality in the Classroom," Leonard H. Hare; "Spirituality Out of the Classroom," Norval F. Pease; "Leading to Responsibility, Judgment, and Maturity," Ruth R. Murdock; and "Without Me—Ye?" Wilbur Alexander.

On the following day, faculty, staff, and their families will attend the annual picnic, also to be held at Pannelwood Resort. The picnic will feature volleyball, softball, tennis, badminton, and swimming.

New Parking Lot

A new 246-car parking lot is currently being laid north of the James White Library. The present parking lot will be used by construction equipment during erection of the new administration building. Upon completion of that structure, the old parking lot will be replaced by grass.
