Old Administration Building

New Adelphian High School Building Described

The third boarding academy building project to be started this spring will be what is traditionally known as an administration building. The 140 foot by 280 foot one-story structure will be erected at the Adelphian Academy campus. It is scheduled to be started in May and to be completed in time for school use the second semester of next year.

The administrative portion of the unit represents but about 6 per cent of the total floor area of the building. This section of the building includes the offices of the principal, registrar, and accountant as well as two specially constructed vaults to protect the student scholastic records and financial papers.

In the building committee we refer to this addition for the Adelphian campus as the "high school building" which actually more adequately describes its intended function in modern language. Under one roof are seven distinct areas: home economics, library, science, and music facilities, an auditorium, and classrooms, in addition to the business offices.

Many are acquainted with the Adelphian campus. To help you visualize the building, imagine that you are standing on Academy Road and looking north. Directly ahead is the front of the proposed building. Beyond the building is the open campus, flanked on the right by the boys' dormitory and on the left or west side, by the girls' dormitory. To the north of the mall is the cafeteria-gymnasium complex.

Returning to our position on Academy Road walk north across the grass and parking lot toward the front of the envisioned building and look through a row of square decorative columns that mark the building line, into a patio with natural plantings. Directly beyond the patio are the large shaded windows of the library. There are two front entrances, one on each side of the library.

The east portion of the building contains the music rooms, a 475-seating capacity assembly room, and the science area. The music space is separated by a hall that has baffles built into it to prevent sound from penetrating the rest of the building. This music accommodation contains a large band room with built-in permanent risers and an instrument storage room. A group of smaller rooms may be entered by passing through the reception room. Here are seven practice rooms and three studios. On the other side of the auditorium from the music area are located two science recitation rooms and a modern science laboratory.

Just outside of the administration offices, which face the campus mall, is another landscaped patio with two separate entrances, one on either side.

In the east end of the building are six large classrooms, a home economics class and work room, and the student association offices. The teachers will be especially pleased that every classroom has an individual office adjacent to it.

Don Kirkman, a Michigan-registered architect, has developed a well-organized building plan that will provide convenience with utility. The fire-resistant structure has painted block interior and brick on the weather side. The raised portion that you see at one end of the building pictured on the cover is the higher roof over the assembly room. The final building and room arrangement is a cooperative project of the Academy directors, teaching staff, and architect. Curriculum studies and individual teaching requirements for each course of study were investigated and the building designed to meet current and future needs of the school. The requirements that the Michigan State Board of Education and the Bureau of School Services have are met in the building. The basic plan has been submitted to the Michigan Conference Committee by the Academy Building Committee. This has been approved and is now being reviewed and studied by the Lake Union and the General Conference building and educational committees. In the interim, the design is being developed into a working plan with material specifications by the architect.

I wish that somehow I could impart to you the deep feeling that has developed in the committees that are guiding the building projects at the three academies. Each person is dedicating his particular talents to make this a working program. As I sit here and attempt to describe this building to you, emotion rises within me and I confess that God is leading on every hand. I believe it is His will that there be a new major structure at each of the boarding academy campuses a year from now.

If you are in the eighth grade or going to high school now I want to ask you this question, "Wouldn't it be fun to go to academy next year?"

Subscribe Now to Israelite; Give March 19 for Jewish Evangelism

In 1905, the messenger of the Lord wrote: "There will be many converts from among the Jews, and these converts will aid in preparing the way of the Lord, and making straight in the desert a highway for our God. Converted Jews are to have an important part to act in the great preparations to be made in the future to receive Christ, our Prince."—Evangelism, p. 579.

Are there tangible evidences available today showing that Jews are accepting full salvation through Jesus Christ? During 1965, over one thousand Israelites enrolled in the Bible

Correspondence Course for Jews and almost half of the enrollees finished the course and received certificates. The high percentage of students who completed the course shows that Jews are interested in the Word of God. Surely, the Bible lessons are accomplishing their God-given task, for the promise reads: "So shall My word be that goeth forth out of My mouth: it shall not return unto Me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I send it."

In a special manner, however, the truth is to be presented to the Jews during these latter days in an attractive 32-page journal published quarterly, known as the Israelite. The plan for 1966 is for each Adventist family to avail themselves of this highly informative journal, study its pages in order to learn how better to present the truth to our Jewish friends, and then to subscribe to Israelite for one year for their Jewish acquaintances in order to present the truth to them. The journal can be ordered through your church missionary secretary or through your local Book and Bible House for only $1 per year. Plan to have your subscriptions cared for in March.

On Sabbath, March 19, a special offering will be taken in all the churches of North America, and the funds will help to send additional copies of Israelite to Jews living in large cities. Your thoughtful participation is greatly appreciated.

First 11 Books of Bible Called Myth; Churches Split

The Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec and the United Church of Canada have ended their joint publication agreement. A payment of nearly $60,000 by the Baptists was the final transaction.

The separation was a result of a controversy beginning in 1964, when the Baptist Convention heard charges that the new curriculum being financed jointly denied the Virgin Birth and referred to the first 11 books of the Bible as "myth." The following year the Baptists voted to sever their relationship with the United Church. Except for publication of the Baptist hymnal, the joint agreement between the two churches has ceased.

Teachers' and student texts for the first and second years of school will be offered for sale at regular prices, but the rest of the religious texts will be destroyed, according to Dr. L. K. Daniel, chairman of the Christian education department.

13th Sabbath Offering to Build New Dorm

NIRGUA means an academy for Venezuela where Adventist youth may develop a faith in God and prepare for His service. It means future Venezuelan ministers in this land where only 12 per cent of the ministers are Venezuelan.

These photos show buildings being constructed for Nirgua. Above is a staff house under construction. Below is the new men's dormitory site. This is exactly where your offering is needed.

Nirgua has 120 acres of beautiful fertile farm land with abundant water supply in the heart of Venezuela. The climate is ideal. Some buildings are being constructed, but your Thirteenth Sabbath offering will build the first dormitory making it possible for school to open next September.

Words of Evaluation for These Times

There is perhaps no more honored name among editorial writers in North America than that of Elder H. M. Tippet, associate book editor of the Review and Herald Publishing Association. He is a man of long teaching experience, a man eminently qualified to judge the total value of literature. Elder Tippet recently sent me the following evaluation of These Times and granted permission for me to use his evaluation.

"Among religious periodicals in America These Times, published at Nashville, Tennessee, ranks with the best in both content and format. In artistic layout, quality of paper stock, and freedom from cluttered advertising it excels most of the current church journals. Its editorials and feature articles offer a broad spectrum of comment on the significance of passing events and world opinion, with the Bible as its chief referent. Every article is carefully documented for accuracy in quotation and fidelity to fact, and the variety of its topics appeals to maximum reader interest.

"All of its material focuses on the moral and spiritual conduct of the individual life in the light of the imminent return of Christ to this world as revealed in the New Testament. This particular accent takes it out of the field of ordinary magazine journalism and makes it a periodical of vital concern to every person, from the man in the street to the dweller in the penthouse. Its covers in color, its art work, and its dramatic illustrations are a tribute to its editorial taste and the technical efficiency of its staff. A magazine you can be proud to pass on to your friends or a casual passerby."

Elder Tippet, we appreciate these kind words. We must work in the beauty of holiness with dedicated endeavor.

These Times and Message Magazine stand ready to serve you in reaching your circle of friends, business associates, and relatives. Our special missionary crusade prices are now in effect.

Order through your Book and Bible House.

National M.C.C. Camp May 31 to June 12, 1966

The National Service Organization of the General Conference announces the coming National Medical Cadet Corps Training Camp to be held at Grand Ledge, Mich., May 31 to June 12, 1966. Every day the draft calls reach lower into the manpower capacity here in the United States. Men who would have been deferred even a year ago are being taken today. The prospect is that the draft will reach even further if the war in Vietnam continues to escalate. The forecast is that some draft boards will be forced to take married men and college students. The exact formula has not been worked out, but almost certainly college students will be drafted.

This brings a need of preparation for military obligation into sharp focus, since at present if a young man is in good mental and physical condition there is a good chance he will be called into military service. So before he reaches draft age, the Seventh-day Adventist should begin making preparation for this service as a noncombatant. Some Adventist men do not expect to be drafted, feeling that somehow they will be released from this obligation. On the other hand, some enter the service completely prepared. Such an individual usually is one who has a strong religious conviction — one who long before his induction has committed his life to God to be guided by His will, has put his financial and personal affairs in order, and is ready to face any eventuality. This requires deliberate and advanced planning.

One of the best ways to prepare for one's military obligation is to take advantage of the coming National Medical Cadet Corps Training Camp.

We must face the solemn fact that we are at war. There are emergencies, sacrifices, and unusual situations ahead for all of us, particularly for our young men. Surely they must be planning to receive an adequate preparation for their military obligation. The answer is the Medical Cadet Corps program.

Throughout the United States and its possessions and in all the world there are thousands of our young men who are serving in the military. Our heavenly Commander-in-chief gives the following call through His messenger: "Christ calls for young men who will volunteer to carry the truth to the world." — Colporteur Ministry, p. 19.

To me it is evident that God has permitted our young men to be called into military service at such a time as this that they may be witnesses for God, the divine Leader of the remnant church. Our young men must face the stern realities of military life, rise to the occasion, and feel their responsibility to rightly represent the truth.

Every parent and every church member has a responsibility to our young men to encourage them to prepare for the crises ahead. Those who take the Medical Cadet Corps training are prepared, both physically and spiritually, in experience which will stand the test that is certain to come.

At the National M.C.C. Training Camp to be held just prior to the General Conference Session, the young men will be under the adequate leadership of trained Seventh-day Adventist officers, many of whom have had military training and background. Some have actually served in the wars of their country. Under the tutorage of these Christian leaders, the young men are exposed to excellence of character and example.

We have an obligation to our youth to acquaint them with the plans their church has provided in specialized training which Seventh-day Adventists offer at the National M.C.C. Training Camp to be held in Grand Ledge, Mich., May 31 to June 12.

Religious Makeup of Congress Unchanged

Despite some changes during the past year in the ranks of the U.S. Congress, the religious composition of the 89th Congress remains stable. In both Houses of Congress are 404 Protestants, 108 Roman Catholics, 17 Jews, and 6 who list no religious connection. Among Protestant Congressmen, the Methodist Church claims the allegiance of 94, followed by Presbyterian with 77, Episcopal with 69, Baptist with 55. Other smaller Protestant churches account for the remainder of the Congressmen.

ON BOOKS

The Adventures of Susan and Jimmy

When Grandma and Grandpa wrote to Susan and Jimmy and invited them to visit the farm, the two children could hardly wait for their father to come home from work and give his permission. The exciting adventures of naming the six brand new baby kittens, of gathering the eggs, of climbing apple trees, and even trying to milk Bossy kept the two children busy. And then there was the surprise Grandma and Grandpa had waiting for them! This you will learn about in Susan and Jimmy on Grandpa's Farm.

When Susan and Jimmy went exploring along the beach with their Daddy, they found all sorts of interesting creatures. They discovered Mr. Crab did not appreciate their company, but scampered off to hide in some large rocks. They collected all sorts of shells: cone shells, abalone shells, mussel shells, and sand dollars. When Susan looked out the window in the morning, she was surprised to see that the ocean was all gone! Where had it gone? This was A Trip to the Beach With Susan and Jimmy.

This is but a sample of the delightful learning adventures of Susan and Jimmy that fill a set of six books designed for the four-to-seven-year-olds by author Paula Becker. Although they are to be read by adults to the younger ones, the stories are so captivating and the pictures so real that it will not be long before the youngsters can tell the story simply by looking at the pictures. The books are written in a casual, sparkling style which will capture the attention of all young readers. The illustrations by Jim Padgett will charm adults as well. The entire set of six books (set, $7.95; each, $1.50) is now available at your Book and Bible House.

Cook Islander's Courage Recognized in London

The faith of a devout Seventh-day Adventist Cook Islander who prayed and led his companions in singing hymns while they drifted for 63 days across 2,200 miles of the Pacific Ocean has been recognized by the British Commonwealth.

Teehu Makimare, one of the three survivors of what is probably the longest ocean drift without provisions, accepted the Stanhope Gold Medal from the Royal Humane Society for his courageous leadership in the drift. Teehu was one of four members of his church who, with three others, were caught by a tropical storm and blown miles away from their home in the Cook Islands.

After 63 days of aimless drifting in a frail craft, they were tossed onto a coral reef of an island in the New Hebrides. The saga of Teehu's battle with the elements, his leadership, and his unswerving faith in God is the subject of a book by Barry Wynne scheduled for publication in April.

Adventists Observe Medical Centennial

The centennial of medical work within the Seventh-day Adventist Church will be observed by Adventist hospitals and other medical institutions throughout the world this year. One hundred years ago, in 1866, the church voted to implement a strong health emphasis program. Beginning with a health periodical and a health institute, medical work has extended to 189 countries of the world. In 1965 approximately four million persons were treated at 128 hospitals and 146 clinics throughout the world. One out of every three Adventists employed full-time by the church in 1964 was a medical worker. Open-house celebrations, fair exhibits, and parade entries by Adventist medical institutions on Hospital Day and throughout 1966 will center around the centennial of Adventist medical work.

Christians in Lebanon Mark Bible Anniversary

Christians in Lebanon and other parts of the Arabic-speaking world are celebrating the 100th anniversary of the translation of the Bible into their language. Efforts to translate at least part of the Scriptures into Arabic go back as far as the period of the Byzantine Empire. But the translation considered the most authoritative was completed 100 years ago by Dr. Eli Smith and Dr. Cornelius Van Dyk, Congregational missionaries, with the assistance of Arabic scholars. This version of the Bible is still used by all Protestant groups, and has been hailed as an important missionary instrument throughout the Arabic-speaking world. A Roman Catholic version was published a few years later. As part of the centennial celebration, 12 Protestant groups presented an exhibit of Christian literature at the American University of Beirut. The population of Lebanon is about evenly divided between Christians and Muslims.

Earnings of Market Given for Intensive Care Unit

Mrs. Jean Nissen, Hinsdale, president of the Travelers' Market, presents Mardian J. Blair, Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital administrator, with a check for $10,000 representing mart's earnings over the past year. The money will be used to help defray the cost of the intensive care unit. To date, the Travelers' Market, which operates at 18 West First Street, Hinsdale, has donated approximately $25,000 for this specific purpose.

Travelers' Market, an arm of the hospital's Women's Service Board, operates a unique gift shop, offering a broad range of gifts purchased all over the world. The Market has contributed approximately $300,000 to Hinsdale Hospital.

Continuity of Service Recognized at Banquet

Miss Lela Harper, nurse anesthetist, after completing 30 years of service with the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, was the center of attention as she accepted a pin presented by M. J. Blair, administrator, signifying these years of achievement.

She is currently giving service in the operating room of the hospital. Dedicated service to the institution and the Lord's work by individuals such as she makes it possible for a program to be effective, and for continuity to be established in the areas concerned. We commend Miss Harper for her loyalty to the institution.

Elder W. A. Nelson, president of the Illinois Conference and vice-chairman of the hospital board, gave the address at the special banquet dinner honoring those that had accumulated years of experience in multiples of five.

Twenty-six individuals received 5-year pins; seventeen received 10-year pins; three received 15-year pins; two received 20-year pins; three received 25-year pins; and one a 30-year pin. The dedication and loyalty of these employees and the many in the interim years are highly regarded by the institution.

Family Night Highlights Winter Sports

A recent family night sponsored by the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, carried a unique winter sports theme with color photography demonstrating the fun, thrills, and benefits of outdoor sports with special emphasis on skiing. A step-by-step film on the learning procedures of this delightful sport created much enthusiasm as demonstrated by the crowd that gathered to look over equipment, supplies, and apparel.

The culmination of the evening's events was the selection of two winners by drawing for door prizes which included a pair of skates and a toboggan. The toboggan was won by Mrs. Mary DePas, who gave it to her niece, Miss Beverly Berger, a student in the School of Nursing. Refreshments were served as a finale to the evening's program.

Employees Enjoy Savings and Loan Service

The annual meeting of the Hinsdale San Credit Union, open to all employees, convened on January 23 for election of new officers. The new slate includes: President, Mrs. Kathryn Sieberman; Vice-president, Emory Bowen; Treasurer, Don Ammon; and Secretary, Betty Rushing.

This organization, with 279 savings accounts, makes it convenient by payroll deductions to accommodate the employees' plans for a rainy day, as well as to satisfy needs for cash at a low rate of interest. One hundred sixty-eight loans were made during 1965, while $1869.78 was added as dividends to patrons' accounts during the year. During the year $70,357.52 was loaned. A total of $228,343.75 in loans to members has accumulated since its organization. With total assets of $64,084.15, the Credit Union has become a "big business" in its own right and is another benefit and service provided by the hospital through organization of the employees.

WISCONSIN

W.A. Seminar Presents Sabbath Worship Services

Under the direction of Elder G. T. Hewlett, a group of students from Wisconsin Academy recently led in the Sabbath morning worship service at the Madison Seventh-day Adventist Church.

"In a day when we hear so much about the failures of youth, it surely is encouraging to see some of our own young people who are willing to express their convictions on Christian living," stated Elder L. D. Jaacks, Madison pastor.

Three students presented a sermonette on the general topic of "Prescription for Living." Other members of the group cooperated together to bring appropriate sacred music.

Computer Solves Board and Room Problem For Church School Girl

Beverly Holstein, daughter of Pastor and Mrs. John Holstein of the Rhinelander district, is one of 17 students attending the new 50-student capacity Seventh-day Adventist intermediate school in Tomahawk which serves grades 1 through 10.

While many young people who come from Prentice, Ogema, Minocqua, Irma, and Rhinelander travel as much as 90 miles per day round trip, Beverly is the only one who does not commute. During the week, she stays with Pastor and Mrs. Lester L. Hall in Tomahawk.

This provided a ready-made mathematics problem recently when the school received a Friden Inc. electronic computer on demonstration loan.

The question was, how much should the Halls charge for the cost of Beverly's board during the week? (She earns her room through faithful and efficient managing of chores, but board has to be charged to the amount of actual cost.)

The Halls have two children, ages 7 and 8, who each eat 80 per cent of the amount of an adult and are in the home for all meals, 21 per week. Beverly, 13, eats as much as an adult, but she is only in the Halls' home for meals from Monday at supper time through Friday lunch. The Halls' average grocery bill is $87.72 per four-week month. How much is the charge for board per week? Answer, an even $3.00.

The problem was recently solved with the use of the electronic computer by Beverly and Pastor Hall, who has had five and a half years of secondary mathematics teaching. The computer, a Friden Inc. solid-state device which performs 160,000 operations per second, gave the answer to seven decimal places (3.0041095) with a final touch of the keyboard. The Friden 130 calculator, identical to one owned by Walla Walla College, is one of wide capabilities being useful in business, elementary algebra, and problems of calculus on a more advanced level.

Two teachers and 17 students moved into their new school on January 17. Mrs. Don Minett of Prentice teaches grades one, two, four, and six, while A. M. Amundson of Tomahawk teaches grades 9 and 10. Beverly is in the 9th grade.

Much sacrifice has been made on the part of parents and they need to be commended for providing such a school in this part of the State.

Leadercraft Course at Milton Junction

Nineteen Missionary Volunteers received MV Leadercraft Certificates at the Milton Junction Church February 20. For some, this was the only requirement still needed to become Master Guides. More-youthful members completed it as their first requirement.

Beginning Friday night, the ten-hour course was completed on schedule with perfect attendance. Three Master Guides planned the instruction, using other local talent to instruct in special areas.

The MV leader, Calvin Cottrell, was the spark that lit the Leadercraft flame. The resulting cooperation evinced more good things in store for the Milton Junction MV Society.

M.C.C. Week at Wisconsin Academy

Wisconsin Academy celebrated Medical Cadet Corps Weekend February 11 to 13, with Corp. Desmond T. Doss as special guest.

The 23 uniformed cadets marched in for the Sabbath services as the organ played "Onward Christian Soldiers." Many of the cadets took an active part in the various programs throughout the weekend.

Friday evening a program entitled "For God and Country" was presented by a number of cadets along with Elder Gordon Hewlett, academy pastor and Bible teacher. This was a skit about a young man who had received his papers to be inducted into the service. How could he remain faithful and true to God and serve his country at the same time? In talking with his pastor he was encouraged by the experiences of other men who had gone into the service and remained faithful and true, thus being real witnesses for God.

Also, the young man listened to the experience of Capt. Aaron Oswald. It was on the Sabbath day that he dashed to the wreckage of a crashed bomber to help. While carrying the injured pilot to safety he was killed as the bomb load went off. His unselfish heroism inspired many.

The young man who had gone to see his pastor was now convinced that he could go into the service with his head up and eyes forward, allowing God to use him in the service of his country.

The Sabbath School program involved a number of the cadets, including special music by a brass quartet.

The writer spoke at the church hour on the need of dedicated young men and women in the world to serve faithfully the cause of Christ. Also, special emphasis was given to the Medical Cadet Corps work for our young men already in the service.

The program that everyone was waiting for began at 4 p.m. on Sabbath afternoon when Desmond T. Doss was interviewed.

Doss told many of his experiences as a Seventh-day Adventist during World War II including his determination to attend church services every Sabbath regardless of where he was.

Some of the M.C.C. officers and their wives relax with Corporal Doss at the banquet.

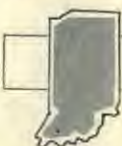

Corporal Doss demonstrates how he saved 75 with a good knot. He wears his medal.

Especially interesting was his story of that fateful day on Okinawa when he rescued 75 soldiers from almost sure death. For this he was awarded the highest honor given by this nation to its military heroes, the Congressional Medal of Honor. At the present time, he is the only acknowledged conscientious objector to be thus honored.

The presence of Desmond T. Doss and the outstanding experiences of how God led in his life were a real inspiration to the academy family and others who attended over the weekend.

The Sunday evening banquet brought the M.C.C. Weekend to a close and the film "Tanks a Million" was shown at that time.

MARCH 26, 1966, IS ALMOST HERE!

Is your candidate ready for baptism? Work and pray a little harder. Bring a soul to Christ on March 26, 1966.

Think on These Things

"To give or to labor when our sympathies are moved, and to withhold our gifts or service when the emotions are not stirred, is an unwise and dangerous course. If we are controlled by impulse or mere human sympathy, then a few instances where our efforts for others are repaid with ingratitude, or where our gifts are abused or squandered, will be sufficient to freeze up the springs of beneficence. Christians should act from fixed principle, following the Saviour's example of self-denial and self-sacrifice." — Counsels on Stewardship, p. 25.

Systematic benevolence is the law of heaven!

WATCH INDIANA GROW!

Elder R. S. Joyce recommended the "Church Manual" to church officers at one of the leadership meetings.

They said it couldn't be done — our people would not attend Sabbath afternoon Leadership Workshops. To date we have seven district meetings behind us, and without exception these workshops have been wonderfully attended.

Expressions of gratitude have been generously given by both laymen and church officers. Determination to get involved more dynamically in helping to finish God's program seems to be the key result. Our people everywhere are anxious to participate in every avenue of soul-winning in Indiana.

Special interest is shown in the Laymen's Trophy Hour to be conducted in the Indianapolis Glendale church Sabbath afternoon, March 26, in which our people are being invited to bring in their baptismal interests for a special conference-wide baptism. Elder V. W. Schoen from the General Conference, Elder A. W. Bauer from the Lake Union, and Elder R. O. Combes and Elder R. S. Joyce from the Indiana Conference are the featured speakers for this occasion.

We invite all our people to bring a trophy and to plan to be with us at this great rally.

Brass Choir Concert at I.A.

The pictured 16 members of the Andrews University Brass Choir and their director, Norman L. Krogstad, will be joined by three percussionists and bass soloist Jim Ayars, in a concert at 8 p.m. Saturday night, March 19, at the Indiana Academy gymnasium. The program has been designed to touch a variety of moods and musical styles (including humor), and the Indiana Academy brass ensemble will join the University group in a performance of one of the old brass classics. Fred Lorenz, bandmaster at Indiana Academy, will appear as guest conductor. The concert is a benefit sponsored by the senior class of I.A., and an admission charge will be received at the doors.

Time Is Short

Time is short. How short no one on earth knows. How many months or years do we have? The Lord has seen fit to veil this information from mortal eyes, even from the angels. There is a reason for this but we may not fully understand why. We do well to just leave it there.

But we are to occupy till He comes. Neither in the Bible nor the Spirit of Prophecy are we told that after such and such a date we can put up inferior buildings because they will not have long to stand.

The other side of the coin is that time is short. What we are going to do for the Lord we should do now.

Your conference is launching a building program that not only deserves but must have the cooperation and participation of every one of us who is a member in the state of Indiana.

Success will come as we plan our budget of participation on a week-by-week and month-by-month basis, and then work the plan.

I have personally seen currencies depreciate in value by 60 to 80 per cent over a period of a few short years. Where are you putting your treasure for eternity?

Anderson Nutrition School Invites You

Mrs. Bernice Frazier of the Anderson Church is conducting a nutrition school in the recreation room of the church school, at 1133 West 7th Street. Classes started March 13 and will continue for eight Sundays. The time is from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

These classes will be intensely interesting as well as profitable and will be conducted on the same plan as those in Indianapolis last fall by Mrs. Van Gundy Jones of Loma Linda, Calif.

There will be food prizes, consisting of Loma Linda food products, and a recipe contest for which prizes will be awarded. The Indiana Book and Bible House will have a display and will sell various recipe books as well as books on nutrition. Four films will be shown during the course.

Tuition will be $1.95 and the cook book, Food, Health, and Nutrition, which will be used, will sell for $1.50.

Interest is running high and carloads are expected from Alexandria, Ingalls, Muncie, and New Castle, as well as the local ladies. Anyone who cares to participate is cordially invited to do so.

Those who will be assisting in conducting the course are Mrs. Dorothy Grant, who took the instructors' training course last fall, and also Mrs. Glenn Gaevert, Mrs. Alfred Kromminga, and Mrs. Hazel Spillman. C. E. PERRY

They Enjoyed It

The Dorcas ladies of the German-Polish Churches of Chicago were busy as 1965 closed, sharing their time and material blessings with elderly people. They filled 39 baskets with fruits, nuts, and canned goods for the men of the church to deliver before the new year arrived.

At the right, above, J. Swiatek, 80, smiles happily when Z. Jablonski, local elder of the Polish Church, presents him with a food basket.

Thankful hearts received these tokens of love. They will always be remembered.

Helicopter Pilot Visits Broadview Primaries

W/O James Kolar, a returned helicopter pilot from Vietnam, visited the Broadview primary department on December 25 in appreciation of the letters and prayers of the primary children.

The children thrilled as they listened to the stories Jim told them, especially about his pet monkey, Zip. After telling of one of his many escapes from death, Jim concluded that he knew he had a guardian angel.

Jim is a member of the Community Church in the La Grange Highlands, and is presently a pilot instructor at Ft. Wolters, Tex.

LAKE REGION

Pathfinder Director David Logan of the City Temple Church provokes the juniors in their Sabbath School lesson discussion.

Yes! We Had Winter Camp

Some said, "You had no snow!" Some said, "You had no place to go!" And some said, "We didn't know!"

But Winter Camp for the Lake Region Pathfinders and interested senior youth was right on schedule, December 30 to January 2, at the Chief Noonday Camp, Yankee Springs Recreational Area, Middleville, Mich.

This was our third Winter Camp operation, and we registered our largest participating group of 94. Although we came into Camp with snow covering the ground, California weather moved in on Friday morning and we ended up with a beautiful Indian Summer environment.

Our program is taking shape in encouraging our youth to acquire an experience of living out and camping out the year-round. More than half of our campers were veterans of previous Winter Camps. Our program for the weekend included hikes, a lecture illustrated by the state naturalist, outdoor and indoor games, and an abundance of spiritual and social fellowship. Our youth were housed in

We sincerely appreciate the cooperation of the personnel who were present to assist in making the camp a success, especially Elder L. O. Anderson, our camp pastor and Sabbath speaker, and Elder Fred Beavon, our union MV secretary, who came to be with us on Sabbath.

Vice-president Carcich Speaks at Independence

Elder Theodore Carcich, vice-president of the General Conference for North America, was special guest speaker at the Independence Boulevard Church on Chicago's west side Friday night and Sabbath, February 18 and 19. Operation Breakthrough, an evangelistic thrust, was launched at this time.

Friday night and Sabbath morning Elder Carcich spoke to an audience mostly composed of the Independence church family. On Sabbath afternoon a large number of believers from area churches crowded into the sanctuary to hear Pastor Carcich bring a thrilling report on progress throughout the North American Division. The meetings were climaxed by a mighty challenge to greater evangelism.

Music was furnished Friday night and Sabbath by Miss Betty McMichael, Mrs. Alyne Dumas Lee, and the church choir.

A few short years ago the west side church met in rented quarters. Membership was small but faith and fervor were great. Evangelism has been the watchword. Today Independence Boulevard Church has a membership of almost 400. The tithe income for January, 1966, was $3,000. They have set a minimum goal for 100 baptisms this year.

Farewell to Office Secretary

The Lake Region Conference office personnel gathered for a social reception a few days before the year's end to include in their program a farewell to Miss Ruby Cartwright, senior office secretary, who would be terminating her employment of 19 years for the various departments of the conference.

Miss Cartwright has served in the home missionary and Sabbath School departments for Elder Xavier Butler for more than ten years in her last assignment. Coming to the Conference shortly following the organization of the Lake Region Conference, Miss Cartwright has rendered faithful and efficient service in all her delegated responsibilities. Following the transfer of the conference to its present location, she also served as telephone receptionist for all incoming calls.

Miss Cartwright has left to extend her career experience. She takes with her the sincere best wishes of the entire Lake Region staff. She will be missed, but she has left behind a job well done that will not be forgotten.

Prayer Meeting Attendance Soars With Study Course

The members of the Bunker Hill and Morrice churches are experiencing a real blessing in their weekly meetings. They are studying the Prophetic Guidance Course as offered by the Voice of Prophecy. These lessons bring great encouragement and satisfaction today. We must follow God's direction for the remnant people given through His chosen messenger—Ellen G. White.

In these perilous times we need His guidance and protection as never before. The promise is "I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye." Ps. 32:8. These studies instill confidence in His word and in the Spirit of Prophecy. "We have nothing to fear for the future, except as we shall forget the way the Lord has led us, and His teaching in our past history." — Life Sketches, p. 196.

Interest in these studies has greatly increased our prayer meeting attendance (almost doubling it in one church) and it is giving our members added appreciation for the instruction in the Spirit of Prophecy.

As their pastor, I can see that a spiritual revival can be the experience of the entire congregation by the leavening influence of these studies together.

I highly recommend this course if you have not taken it. Try this plan.

Denominational Museum Depends on You

Recently a letter and brochure was mailed to each family of Adventist members in the Michigan Conference telling of plans to restore the Ellen G. White home in Battle Creek and convert it into a historical museum for those interested in early denominational history throughout the world.

For a century, the Tabernacle church has been gathering historical material with no adequate place for its display. This need is to be met by putting this historic building to this use.

Surely many members of the Michigan Conference will want to share in this project. It is urgent that this work be carried forward before the General Conference Session as many visitors are expected at that time. Elder Arthur White of the General Conference has already announced plans for tours beginning June 4 and continuing through June.

This is a pay-as-you-go project. It can proceed only as funds are in hand so it is dependent on your immediate response. Send your contribution to the Michigan Conference, Box 900, Lansing, Mich. 48904.

Adelpian Band Gets New Instruments

Generosity of the more than five thousand people who have attended the band concerts at Adelpian Academy in the last year and a half has brought visible results. Students and their respective instruments are Carol Otto, alto clarinet; Jim Wheeker and Jim DeArk, basses; Jocelyn Smith, timpani.

Mesick Vacation Bible School

Mesick is a small town, the Sabbath School is one of our smaller ones, and yet the attendance at their first Vacation Bible School was excellent last summer.

This good influence has permeated a number of homes which might not otherwise have been reached, and no one can measure the results. May God add His blessing to all the efforts put forth in this worthy endeavor.

The Battle Creek Academy Concert Band will present its mid-winter concert on March 26 at 8 p.m. in the academy gymnasium.

Mrs. Nadine Grieve, solo bassoonist with the Battle Creek Symphony Orchestra, will be the featured artist. She will play David Bennett's "Bassoonata" accompanied by the band. Other highlights of the concert will include the Academy Brass Sextet and Miss Linda Houghtaling, accordionist.

The 55-piece band, under the baton of Richard Myers, Jr., will play, among other selections, Ronald Theilman's "Chelsae Suite." This will be the first performance of this exciting new composition by any Michigan academy band. Also included on the program will be favorite marches and concert numbers.

You have a special invitation to this outstanding musical event. Hear band music at its finest on the evening of March 26 at Battle Creek Academy. There will be no admission charge.

Sample Copy of "The Bible Speaks" Available

One of the most dynamic soul winning programs to be started in our field is the new "The Bible Speaks" visitation plan. In this program homes are visited and Bibles are left with the people so that they may fill out the Bible course lessons. It is surprising how many people anxiously accept these Bibles and are hungrily looking for the message that we have. We have been delinquent much too long in visiting the homes with Bible truth.

Write today to the Home Missionary Department of the Michigan Conference or ask your pastor about this plan so that your church may institute it as soon as possible. The Home Missionary Department will be most happy to send anyone, upon request, a complete sample copy of this program with all of the supplies for the cost of $1.00.

This is one of the finest programs that we have ever heard of, and we are anxious to see it instituted in all our churches as soon as possible. We feel that many baptisms will come as a result, and surely it will be one of the tools to help us finish the work.

The Book and Bible House has on hand all of the supplies needed for this program: Bibles for the Protestant people, Bibles for Catholics with corresponding lessons, Bible lessons for the children, and complete instructions for carrying out this marvelous new program. Help your church today to start this program as soon as possible.

Wright-Grand Haven A.T.C.O., March 21 to 24

An All-Teachers Course has been arranged for the Wright and Grand Haven Sabbath School workers from Monday, March 21, through Thursday, March 24. The first two of these evening meetings will be held in the Wright Church, and the final two in the Grand Haven Church, thereby accommodating both staffs.

The workers will come in two groups: Group 1 is composed of cradle roll, kindergarten, primary, and junior teachers. This class will begin at 7 p.m. and close with a film at 7:45 p.m. Group 2 includes senior, youth, and earliteen teachers and will start at 7:45 p.m., with the film, and will continue until 9 p.m. with the lesson. The films are different each night. Group 1 may remain after the film with Group 2, or may leave after it is shown.

Lessons are based upon the following books: Group 1—Teaching Teachers to Teach, The Challenge of Child Evangelism, and The Teacher Sent from God. Group 2: Teach, and Handbook for Sabbath School Teachers. These may be procured from our Michigan Book and Bible House. A free syllabus will be available to those attending.

March 21, Wright Church, 7 p.m. Group 1, Lesson 1, film: "Teaching the Word." Group 2, Lesson 1, 7:45-9 p.m.

Food Labels Swell Investment Funds

Labels from Battle Creek, Cedar Lake, Collegedale, Lange (Nutri-Vite), Loma Linda, Madison, Sunnydale, and Worthington food companies are all worth at least a cent each for investment, so please bring your labels to Sabbath School so that our funds for missions can increase.

Mrs. Gloria Kidder of Jackson made a donkey cart and here she is with her daughter Nancy who has a food label ready to contribute to the load. The cradle roll children in the Jackson Sabbath School have enjoyed bringing their food labels to place in the donkey mission cart.

Mrs. Kidder explains that the wheels are on dowel sticks so they can turn. An interesting device like this makes it easier to remember to bring labels to Sabbath School.

Korean Orphans Are Happy Teenagers Now

Chum Lee Nam and Yang Han Me were 2- and 1-year-old youngsters when they arrived in Benton Harbor from war-torn Korea in 1953. They came to live with their foster parents Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Spaulding, members of the Benton Harbor Church.

Chum Lee Nam now is Daniel Spaulding, 14, an eighth grader at the Edith B. Garrett Adventist School and Yang Han Me is Rhoda Spaulding, 13, a seventh grader at the same school. Charles Russell (center, above) is their Pathfinder leader.

Daniel has a natural bent toward electronics, according to Mrs. Spaulding. He also enjoys the physical education program being sponsored at the church school.

Rhoda is vivacious, with a charming smile that fast wins friends. Skating, singing, and swimming are high on her list of preferences.

Daniel and Rhoda are true products of their American life. The Spauldings adopted the youngsters from a Seventh-day Adventist orphanage in Seoul, Korea. They were waifs, uprooted by the war. But not now. They have brought laughter and joy into a formerly childless home and our Benton Harbor Church is brighter because of them.

Let It Snow—Please!

The Michigan Ski Club ("LET IT SNOW") has had two very successful meetings this year. We still have one more to go on the third weekend of March. Let's hope that it does snow some more. But in case it doesn't, there will be a group there anyway for a weekend of fellowship and any activities that can be arranged. The last time we were happy to have pictures on Saturday night from one of our members about his trip to Alaska. We would like to ask that anyone who comes bring pictures of trips that would be of interest for Saturday night programs. There is nothing like a weekend out in the quiet surroundings of Camp Au Sable.

For the meetings on the weekend of March 18 to 20, no reservations will be needed. The rooms will be taken on a first-come first-served basis but there will be plenty of room for all. Remember that Boyne Mountain can make snow and have skiing even in conditions that many would think impossible. Skiing on a warm day can be more fun at times than on a very cold day such as we have had in January and February.

The Michigan "Let It Snow" ski club will have a summer long weekend in August and has planned an overnight canoe trip. Don't put off joining the fun. Next winter count on being with us one or all of the weekends at Camp Au Sable. Just remember it this way: It is always on the third weekend of each month beginning with December through March. Come on up March 18 and enjoy a weekend away from it all.

OBITUARIES

BOSHONIG, Bernard, was born in Vienna, Austria, on April 10, 1889. Mr. Boshonig married, and they joined the pioneer movement to America. Two sons were born, Bernard and Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Boshonig made many friends in the west suburban area of Chicago where they lived for over 30 years. Mr. Boshonig was employed at the Hendrickson Motors as a welder and lay-out man.

Mr. Boshonig was baptized on April 10, 1943. He was a member of the Hinsdale Church for about 16 years, Aurora 2 years, then transferred to the new Downers Grove Church when it started 5 years ago.

Mr. Boshonig retired last fall and he and his wife moved to Hot Springs, Ark. As they waited for their new home to be completed, they were staying at a cabin when tragedy occurred. Because of a defective heater he was asphyxiated. He died on Jan. 26, 1966.

Surviving him are 2 sons; 4 grandchildren; and a great-grandchild. Burial was at the Allerton Ridge Cemetery. The service was conducted by Elder W. P. Ortnier and C. L. Turner.

BOSHONIG, Rose, wife of the above, Bernard Boshonig, was born on March 12, 1904, in Austria.

Mrs. Boshonig was a hard worker, toiling almost constantly with her hands. She seemed to have the motto, "If it is worth doing, it is worth doing right."

Mrs. Boshonig was baptized March 24, 1942, and remained faithful to her Saviour until death.

She was asphyxiated with her husband and remained unconscious until her death Feb. 3, 1966.

Burial was at the Allerton Ridge Cemetery with Elder W. P. Ortnier and C. L. Turner conducting the service.

CHAPMAN, Fred H., 76, Janesville, Wis., died Feb. 2, 1966. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Robinson, he, as a baby, was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chapman, who moved to Milton Junction in 1915.

In 1962 Fred went ice fishing to Harper's Ferry, Iowa, and struck up a conversation with a man named "Red." A year later he returned and learned that "Red" Robinson was his nephew. A most cordial family reunion took place as, for the first time, he met older brothers, nephews and nieces, and a half brother living on his own father's farm.

Fred had termed himself a "loner." Now to find family love and acceptance meant more to him than any other life experience.

His gratitude led him to consider the involvements of his own estrangement from the heavenly family. And so, a few days before his death, he and I together, sought the forgiveness of God. The word of Jesus in Luke 15:10 brought peace and readiness he had not experienced for a long time.

KRAUSE, Mrs. Otto W. (Emilie) of Plymouth passed away Dec. 5, 1965, following a lengthy illness. A native of Schwede, Russia, she was born Nov. 19, 1886. In 1910 she came to Chicago, Ill., where she was married to David Yurk who passed away in 1915. On Nov. 6, 1920, she was married to Otto W. Krause of Sheboygan. Mrs. Krause was a charter member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Sheboygan. Survivors are her husband; a son, Raymond Wilson of Alexandria, Minn.; 2 daughters, Mrs. Leland (Laura) Huntington of Beaver Dam, and Miss Erma Jean Krause of Portland, Ore.; 2 grandchildren and a great-granddaughter. Burial was at Sheboygan Falls Cemetery.

WALKER, Jacob, 80, died at Rocky Knoll Sanatorium and Hospital, Sheboygan, Wis., Dec. 26, 1965. He had been ill. Born in Russia on Feb. 7, 1885, he married Dorothy Wilhelm there in 1904. They came to Sheboygan 54 years ago. He was a member of the Sheboygan Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Henry of Elmhurst, Ill.; 3 daughters, Mrs. Donald (Lillian) Stryck of Hollywood, Ill.; Mrs. Michael (Olga) Saba of Lodi, Calif.; Mrs. Henry (Clara) Baerg of La Crescenta, Calif.; 7 grandchildren; a great-grandchild, and 2 sisters, Molly of Elmhurst, Ill., and Mary of Loveland, Colo. Two children and a grandson preceded him in death.

I.R.L.A. Orators Capture Prizes

Andrews University's fourth annual International Religious Liberty Association Oratorical Contest was won by Loretta Kling, Plymouth, Ind., sophomore behavioral science major, on February 22.

Miss Kling's winning oration discussed the legitimacy of compulsory union membership with regard to individual liberty. Second-place winner Gary Edwards spoke on "Religious Freedom in Jeopardy," while Paul Johnson, third place, encouraged "Maintaining the Foundations."

The panel of judges included Mrs. Hedwig Jemison and Dr. Norval Pease from the university campus; Rev. Robert Brege, pastor of a nearby Lutheran church; Michigan Representative Don R. Pears; and Dr. Clarence Schauer of Lake Michigan College.

To further prepare for freedom team leadership the three winners will be taken to the East Coast to view landmarks of American freedom. They received cash prizes of $25, $35, and $50.

Student Association Elects Officers for 1966-67

The current vice-president of the Student Association, John Kelley, has been elevated by student vote to the high office of president. Recognized on campus as a serious student for the better things, his campaign promise, "Balanced Program of More Involvement," puts Kelley in the continuing leadership role. His twin brother, Mike, is currently Student Association treasurer, both being Buckeye boys from Kettering. John is currently a biology-religion major.

Guy Whitlow has been elected vice-president of the Student Association. He is a junior history major and will be chairman of the senate next year.

Norman Perry, currently International Religious Liberty Association treasurer, will be next year's Student Association treasurer. Perry, a junior business-history major, claims Indiana Academy school background.

Nanette Wuchenich will take on the secretarial responsibilities. Nanette comes to Andrews University from Pittsburgh, Penn.

Jack Schwartz was re-elected sergeant at arms.

Recent Science Reports from Andrews University

Andrews University's professional science affiliation was marked by three papers presented to the American Physical Society at its January meeting in New York City. Research reports were presented in two papers by Dr. James Van Hise, assistant professor of chemistry and physics, on work done at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory during his post-doctoral fellowship.

Dr. Donald Snyder reported to the sectional meeting studying imperfections in lattice vibrations the "Isotopic Effect on Phase Transformation Temperature for Lithium."

Dr. Snyder's study was undertaken at the request of the United States Atomic Energy Committee to validate the effect isotopic mass has on the physical and mechanical properties of metals. This work has been under the direction of Dr. Snyder since June, 1961.

Science Grants at Andrews University

The university reports the receipt of a $10,000 check from The Research Corporation for equipment and supplies requested by Dr. James Van Hise for his project entitled "Search for Charge Conjugation Non-variance in the Electromagnetic Field."

Dr. Dwain Ford

Not to be outdone in science nomenclature is the award of $5,000 to Dr. Dwain Ford's project, "A Study of the Competition Between the Free Radical and the Ionic Mechanisms of Reaction of Bromination Cyclohexene in Non-Polar Media." These are the second and third grants to our physics and chemistry departments from The Research Corporation.
