It's Our Responsibility to Help Them

With sorrow America must acknowledge at least 5.5 million alcoholics in its fifty states. Of this number some 350,000 will fall into an alcoholic's grave during 1966. The total number of alcoholics, however, does not decrease, for during the same twelve-month period at least 450,000 new alcoholics will join the ranks.

Contrary to popular thinking less than 5 per cent of America's alcoholics are found on skid row. The vast majority are found scattered throughout the other neighborhoods of our cities. Many of them are secreted in some of America's most fashionable communities.

Someone must do something to stop this trend in alcoholism and help these victims of this evil. Seventh-day Adventists, above all people, have a special responsibility in this reform. If we fail in our task who will carry the burden? Sabbath, October 22, will give you an opportunity to help in this work. Plan to contribute liberally to the World Temperance Day Offering.

Accountants, Planners Meet in Denver Workshop

Representatives from all the local and union conferences and General Conference educational institutions in the North American Division met in Denver, September 19 to 22, to study ways to improve and coordinate activities of the church in the field of estate planning and stewardship.

The meeting was convened under the able chairmanship of Robert E. Osborn, assistant treasurer of the General Conference. Those attending from the Lake Union Conference area were: (back row) E. J. Gregg, Lake Union; M. Donovan Oswald, Indiana; E. G. Johansen, Illinois; W. F. Miller, Lake Union; Horace Shaw, A.U.; L. C. Nielsen, Wisconsin; Larry Davis, Indiana; (front row) R. E. Macdonald, Wisconsin; Alyce Ivey, Michigan; H. W. Trecartin, Michigan; L. G. Wartzok, Michigan; Arthur Opp, Lake Union; V. E. Garber, A.U.; M. C. Van Putten, Lake Region.

Two Million Dollars for Investment

It seems but a very short time ago that we were talking about reaching one million dollars for missions through the Investment plan. Now we are talking about two million dollars for the year 1967. In fact the following action was taken at the time of the recent General Conference Session.

"WHEREAS, The Sabbath School Investment plan has brought great spiritual blessings to those who have taken part in it and has proved to be unusually successful in helping to build up our world mission program, bringing in $1,414,700.83 in 1965, and a total of $15,127,083.30 in its 40-year history,

"Recommended, 1. That we request the Sabbath School Department to promote the Investment Fund plan, realizing that this plan results in an additional increase in both faith and funds that come through the wonderful prospering hand of God as a direct consequence of investing for Him.

"2. That, with encouraging Investment trends in 1966 already apparent, and using the remainder of 1966 to build faith in, and enthusiasm for, the plan, we set 2 million dollars as our world Investment goal for 1967.

"3. That we request all conference workers and Sabbath school officers to encourage and to lead the church membership everywhere into a 100 per cent participation in this project of partnership with God in the interest of a speedily finished work. [Voted.]"

If we can encourage each member in North America to aim at a minimum of only $6.00, we can easily reach the goal. Many will reach several hundred dollars. Some perhaps cannot reach the full $6.00, but all can and should do something.

The overseas divisions have all accepted increased goals and expect to do their part.

This is our day of opportunity. Surely the coming of Jesus and the close of probation must be very near, and yet there are millions of human beings still in heathen darkness, upon whom the light of God's message has never shone. What shall we do about trying to reach them? Jesus warned us that "the night cometh, when no man can work." Very soon our opportunities to save men will be forever past.

"The Lord designs that the means entrusted to us shall be used in building up His kingdom. His goods are committed to His stewards that they may be carefully traded upon and bring back a revenue to Him in the saving of souls unto eternal life."—Testimonies, Vol. 6, p. 448.

The One who long ago said, "Let there be light," and later multiplied the five loaves and two fish and fed the multitude, wants to bless your consecrated efforts and give you something E-X-T-R-A for your Sabbath School offerings during 1967. However, before the Lord can do his miracle, so to speak, you must step out in faith.

This is an urgent appeal for 100 per cent participation on the part of our entire membership. If we do our part, truly God will do His part. This is not an ordinary appeal. It is made with the conviction that this is our day of final opportunity. If you have not joined the vast multitude who have been richly blessed through the Sabbath School Investment plan, may we urge you to delay no longer. Every member investing can greatly speed the glorious finishing of God's work.

LAKE UNION HERALD

Can't Happen Here — BUT IT DID!

Two recent arrests in Chicago of people seeking to share their faith point up the fact that "It can happen here."

Reliving the trials in the Book of Acts, on October 13 Vernon C. Lyons, pastor of the Ashburn Baptist Church, was to come before a jury in the Criminal Courts Building, Chicago. His "crime" involves passing out copies of the book of Acts published by the American Bible Society.

On September 28 Mrs. Veronica Bernico, a converted Catholic, was to be tried. Her written charge read: "Upon arrival found the above causing a disturbance by bothering nuns and people by passing out at Soldiers' Field religious literature."

The story of Pastor Lyons goes back to a spring day in beautiful Grant Park near the lake. Friday, June 24, he and four of his children, Charles, Charlane, Samuel, and Martha, and two other youth from his church, were handing out copies of Acts at Grant Park.

At the time, the arresting officer couldn't cite a specific ordinance but was certain the distribution of these Scripture portions was contrary to law. Pastor Lyons was hauled away in a paddy wagon and the children went to headquarters in a squad car.

Two hours later Pastor Lyons was shown two park district ordinances he was charged with violating. One forbids the distribution of any material containing "commercial advertising" and the other prohibits littering. How the Book of Acts contains commercial advertising and how littering can be established when no booklets were on the ground or any park property are the problems facing the court.

"In the last 25 years I have distributed about a quarter million pieces of Christian literature and never had any difficulty of this kind," says Pastor Lyons. "It is shocking to know that the Chicago police classify the Word of God with 'commercial advertising' and it grieves me deeply to have the Holy Scriptures associated with manure, rubbish, and garbage."

July 27 the court was startled by Pastor Lyons' "petition for change of venue." Because of a religious power block in Chicago, he felt a fair trial on this issue would be unlikely in Chicago. Change of venue, however, was later denied, so the trial was then set for 9:30 a.m., Thursday, October 13.

As to Mrs. Veronica Bernico, 57, five squad cars came to arrest her on August 28 at Soldiers' Field shortly before the opening ceremonies of the Polish millennium celebration there. Pamphlets she was giving away included "Doubts of a Priest," "Healing Miracles," and "How to Raise a Crook" written by the Houston Police Department.

Her pastor, of the Good Shepherd Bible Church, posted $25 bail to get her out of jail. Former Roman Catholics form 80 per cent of this church, founded 25 years ago. The members are tithe-payers and the church prints and distributes 400,000 pamphlets a year, as well as broadcasting in Polish each Sunday. As this is being written on the day of her trial, the outcome is not yet known.

Before her arrest, Mrs. Bernico showed John Trinka, park official who entered the complaint, a pamphlet "U.S. Supreme Court Upholds Tract Distribution."

Other cities at times have sought to restrict the distribution of literature. Permission from the city manager was required of distributors in Griffin, Ga., but in March, 1938, the Supreme Court ruled the law illegal because it violated freedom of the press by prohibiting "the distribution of literature of any kind at any time, at any place, and in any manner." More recently the Supreme Court has voided three city ordinances prohibiting the distribution of handbills because they littered the streets, and a municipal law requiring permits for door-to-door canvassing. A municipality, the court decided, may enact "regulations in the interest of public safety, health, welfare, or convenience," but may not deprive anyone of his civil rights to circulate information and opinion.

The challenge comes to each member in the Lake Union to appreciate his rights in this land of liberty, to do what he can to make sure these rights will be continued, and to spread God's Word to others while he still has opportunity.

ON BOOKS

Over 500 illustrations under more than 200 headings have been collected by our General Conference president, Elder R. H. Pierson, and are now available to you in his new book, 501 Illustrations.

Here is Illustration 101, under the heading "Child Training," and titled "Fun at Home":

"Ten-year-old Bruce had been asked by friends to come and spend the night with them. At first he eagerly accepted the invitation. On second thought he thanked his friends for inviting him but said he wouldn't come."

"My family have so much fun together," he explained. "If I'm away, I'm sure to miss some of the good time."

And if you don't have this book you are sure to miss many good things. The illustrations have been gathered during a lifetime of service throughout the world. It is a book that will become a precious reference volume which you will find yourself using more and more.

Order your copy today from the Book and Bible House serving you. The price of this volume is only $5.95 but now on special at $5.35 until November 15. Please add tax where necessary and postage charge for mailing.

SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

Eye-testing Program Resumed for Second Year

An eye-testing program, taking only three minutes of the subject's time, opened Thursday, September 1, for the second year at Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital.

James D. Bowen, M.D., checks for glaucoma.

The three-minute test for glaucoma could save the vision of a person who did not know he was suffering from the problem, Mardian J. Blair, administrator, said. Glaucoma is the second leading cause of blindness in the U.S. (senile cataract is first).

Testing sessions, which are free of charge, will be held on the first and third Thursday of each month, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the hospital's outpatient department. In testing for glaucoma, the hospital will use a device which indicates whether fluid pressure in the eyeball is normal or too high. The disease results when fluid, which normally flows through the inside of the eyeball, does not drain as quickly as it forms. As it builds up, pressing against delicate nerve fibers and blood vessels, the imbalance ultimately narrows a person's field of vision and total blindness may result.

The first stages are so slight that a person may not realize he has an impairment, Blair said. "That's why the three-minute test is so important."

The U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare estimates that presently one out of fifty people over age 35 have glaucoma.

Annual Corn Roast Draws Large Crowd

The south lawns of the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital were crowded with employees and their families as they participated in the consumption of large quantities of roasted corn, excellent sandwiches, relishes, and watermelon.

This corn roast, an annual event, proves to be an interesting occasion as pictures illustrate; and also serves as an opportunity for many families to get together.

Employees AND their families enjoyed the corn roast.

Highest Ever for W. A. Field Day

Wisconsin Academy's annual Ingathering field day, under the direction of Elder Duane Peterson, could be billed as a most satisfactory achievement for 1966. Total receipts in cash for the day were $2,478.82, highest amount ever received at the academy. The highest all-student car brought in $200.

Elder R. E. Finney, Jr., conference president, and Lester Rilea, MV secretary, commented that the school spirit and over-all enthusiasm seem higher than ever, which is a contributing factor to such success. Thirty-six automobiles and about 190 students participated in the day-long activity.

Schneider-Scott Wedding

The beautiful chapel at Wisconsin Academy was the scene of the ceremony where Nancy Schneider and Harold Scott exchanged wedding vows the afternoon of August 7.

Nancy is a graduate of Wisconsin Academy and Harold became a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church at camp meeting this summer.

Following their honeymoon the couple set up their home at 431 Harrison Street, Beloit, Wis. BYRON K. CHALKER

Denler-Brooks Wedding

August 21 was the scene of a beautiful wedding in the Clearwater Lake Church. United in holy wedlock were Darlene J. Denler and Daniel Brooks.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Denler of Clearwater Lake, Wis. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brooks of St. Joseph, Mich.

After a pleasant trip to Canada the newlyweds are furthering their education at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich.

They Invest for God at Lily

Members of the Lily Sabbath School have taken the Investment plan seriously. This is not just another goal to reach or chart to fill, but an opportunity to goad on the work of God.

Nine members of the Sabbath School used their money and their minds to make more money and might for the work of God. Some of their fund-raising projects were selling petunia plants, saving and selling Sabbath eggs, making and selling Christmas wreaths, and selling apples from a specific tree. According to Irene Servi, there were only nine to do the work, but their enthusiasm refused to be abated. Their total so far this year is $50.

Evangelism in Savanna

Pastors Harold L. Greer, speaker, and Emil D. Moldrik, song leader, with their wives, teamed their talents to bring Christ to the community of Savanna from September 10 to 24.

There will be baptisms in the district as a result of the campaign.

Another Approach to Evangelism

On Sunday, October 2, forty members and friends of the Savanna, Ill., and Dubuque, Iowa, churches took a bus tour of interesting places in Chicago.

Mrs. Linden McNeilus, organizer and sponsor, feels that evangelism and unity among believers is vital on other occasions besides the Sabbath.

We visited the new Rockford Church, Museum of Science and Industry, Brookfield Zoo, Illinois Book and Bible House, and closed the day by touring the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, partaking of a delicious meal prepared by Adventist cooks.

We had a wonderful time and feel that not only our church members were rewarded, but also those of other faiths who had occasion to become acquainted with our people and institutions.

Many thanks to those of the Book and Bible House and Hinsdale Sanitarium for the courtesy shown us.

Fortney-Mayor Wedding

Marie E. Fortney and Richard H. Mayor were united in marriage in the Hinsdale Church on Sunday, October 2.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jollie Fortney of Detroit, Mich., and graduated from the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital School of Nursing, Class of 1965. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mayor of Western Springs, Ill.

This couple will establish their home in Echo Lake, Ill., where the groom is employed as a computer operator.

How a Youth May Look

With all the evil in this world today, still there are uncounted thousands of noble youth who are preparing to meet Jesus.

May it be said of them, as it was of Joseph—quoting Ellen G. White: "As the lad stood before his brothers, his beautiful countenance lighted up with the Spirit of inspiration, they could not withhold their admiration"—Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 210.

Help Your Bible Speak

When a Bible is provided with hands and feet it has a way of getting into homes. However, its service does not stop here. That Bible speaks to hearts and provides energy, knowledge, enthusiasm, and encouragement for its readers to use their feet in going to church.

Over 156 Bibles are speaking to hearts through the efforts of members in the West Central congregation. As a witness to this success, on Sunday night, September 25, I shared in a graduation program provided for the 49 graduates of the first Bible course and the 10 completing the advanced course.

Mrs. Selma Ostrom, the one grading the lessons and keeping records, reported a total of 156 enrollees with over 2,400 lessons having been completed.

One graduate, during the presentation, stated, "I thought I knew the Bible pretty well, but this course has shown me much that I didn't know before."

Elder E. D. Calkins had arranged a follow-up series of messages every Sunday night for five weeks to give opportunity for discussing points of doctrine.

Let your Bible speak—provide hands and feet—and it will serve you faithfully.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Young, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Millard, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nickless, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fuliki and Stanley were with the Kokomo evangelistic series. Max Phillips was also one of the assistants but not present for the picture. Mr. and Mrs. Monty Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Walter, and Mr. and Mrs. Mario Ruf are the others of the team in the picture.

Field School in Kokomo

Early in the year Kokomo was chosen as site for an evangelistic effort to be conducted by the Walter-Jones-Pumford team in conjunction with the Andrews University Field School program.

One of the early phases of preparation for the series was a collection of the names of all interests. They were gathered from such sources as colporteur contacts, Indiana Bible School, the Voice of Prophecy, Faith for Today, and from the pastor's list. The church members also compiled cards containing the names of former members.

Another vital preparation sponsored by the church was the "Tell Thy Neighbor" program. Bible lessons and Bibles were left at many homes in the area, making an excellent contact and entrance into the home.

Sunday prior to the opening weekend, a work bee was held at the lot and the work on the auditorium began. By opening night the physical plant was ready.

The following group of students came to assist with the meetings: Max Phillips, Wayne Young, Alexander Fuliki, Mike and Lynn Nickless, and Ken Millard. The Kokomo church members and the pastor opened their homes and hearts to these young workers and the experience proved to be a blessing to all.

Attendance at the meetings was good throughout the series and victories were won. Some fine families and young people were added to the church.

The evangelistic team appreciated the excellent cooperation of the students from Andrews University, Pastor and Mrs. Mario Ruf, and each of the church members.

Soon after the series ended the Walter-Jones-Pumford team accepted a call to the Northern California Conference where they are continuing their work of evangelism.

Camp Meeting Review

Hoosier Adventists turned out in ever-increasing numbers for the 95th annual camp meeting held at Cicero. From the first service on Friday evening through the final benediction on Saturday night of the second weekend, the focus was upon the Christian's need to be ready for the coming of Jesus Christ.

Certainly the evening evangelistic services, featuring the preaching of Earl Cleveland, gave importance to this need. Fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters—campers of every age group—sat spellbound and attentive as Pastor Cleveland led them nightly toward a closer walk with Jesus.

The well-planned children and youth meetings, cradle roll through senior youth, provided a host of activities which will be a constant reminder of the good spiritual things to be had at camp meeting.

Pastors Walter Howard and John Herr, the camp directors, are to be complimented on the smoothness with which facilities were prepared and maintained. Our conference president, R. S. Joyce, and our treasurers, T. Irville Rush and Arthur Opp, were constantly in evidence as the program evolved daily.

On the last Sabbath Pastor George E. Vandeman, director of the "It Is Written" television program, was there to pinpoint the evangelistic possibilities of this great missionary endeavor. He spoke to a capacity audience on Sabbath morning.

Camp meeting for this year is history. There remains one question. What use are we making of its blessings? Will we have accomplished greater things for God as a result of its influence? God grant that there will be but a few more camp meetings before the work is finished in Indiana and Jesus can come to take us home.

Seymour Tells How They Did It

The Seymour Church began Ingathering on September 6 in the business areas. On September 10, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Lawson, the home missionary leader, they began house-to-house solicitation. Band leaders were: Leon Ringering, Charles Lawson, John Sapp, and James McCrary. The Brownstown, Freetown, and Seymour areas were worked.

Wonderful weather was a real blessing as we received the most we have ever received. It was also the earliest that we had ever completed our work and it was done in the least amount of time. Our goal was $950 and we received $1,340.

We must keep this early date as a starter, for another fund drive begins on September 26. This was the reason we started doing our Ingathering early four years ago. It has truly proven to be a blessing. No more do we hear: "No, I already gave."

We had our victory celebration on September 24 and were happy to have Elder R. O. Combes from the conference office with us.

Chicago Shiloh Summer Evangelism

The big tent at 69th and Aberdeen, Chicago, Ill., saw its closing meeting Sunday night, September 4, as eight weeks of intensive evangelism was culminated. Elder S. D. Meyers, pastor of the Shiloh Church of Chicago, and his evangelistic team were blessed of the Lord to prepare 101 new members for church membership through baptism. In the first baptism 73 persons were baptized and 28 in the second. There still remain additional prospects in the baptismal class for later baptisms.

This near southwest side of Chicago holds a multitude of humanity, many of whom need to hear of the gospel of Jesus Christ. We thank our church members for their loyal support in the summer evangelistic campaign. We thank God for the outpouring of His Spirit that brought our new believers into a knowledge of the truth. We further solicit the prayers of all that we might press on successfully to reach those who yet would know Jesus.

Smorgasbord time is a refreshing time at the Lake Region workers' retreat.

A panel of field, conference, and union representatives spearhead a discussion for the Lake Region workers on effective ministry to the youth of the church.

"Come Ye Apart and Rest Awhile"

In harmony with Biblical admonition, the ministers and Bible workers of the Lake Region Conference participated in a three-day retreat, September 11 to 13, at the conference campground, Cassopolis, Mich.

With activities planned to minister to the body and soul, the retreat began Sunday evening with a keynote address by Elder Jere D. Smith, our union president. Each day's activities was opened with morning devotions, and on Monday morning Elder J. M. Phipps, our conference evangelism secretary, emphasized through the biography of Samson, our complete dependence upon divine power. Tuesday morning, Elder Fred Beavon, our union MV secretary, confronted the audience with the great challenge of ministry to the youth.

The instructional period proved to be most rewarding as Dr. F. E. J. Harder, of Andrews University, led us into an intense course in inductive Bible study and analytical Bible study. The afternoons were set aside for recreation that gave each one something to enjoy.

The evening meetings offered incisive panel discussions, grappling with questions as to effective ministry to the youth of the church. Enthusiastic and worthwhile discussion followed the panel presentations. The final evening of the retreat, the conference treasurer, Elder M. C. Van Putten, challenged the working force to a greater consecration.

A crowning touch to a delightful retreat was the sumptuous meals prepared by Mrs. S. Lawson. She topped her magnificent meals with a farewell smorgasbord that was a tribute to the culinary arts. It may be appropriately said that the Lake Region conference workers returned to their respective parts of the field refreshed and re-created in body and spiritual vitality.

Summer Evangelism in Indianapolis

Elder Samuel Flagg and his evangelistic team closed out their eight-week summer evangelism campaign under the tent, located at 25th and Rural streets in Indianapolis, Ind., with a baptism to date of 36 souls.

The meetings this summer utilized the new Bible lessons introduced at our spring lay congress, and they proved to be a real blessing not only to the people of the community to whom they were given, but to the lay members of the church who assisted so cheerfully in giving them.

The harvest of souls is not over yet, for evangelistic services are now being held twice a week. The prayers of all will be greatly appreciated.

COVER STORY

Academy Building Advances

A recent Friday in late September proved to be an especially thrilling day to friends of Cedar Lake Academy as major milestones were passed in the construction of the new girls' dormitory. The cover photos give a picture story of the action.

The new girls' dormitory, which is the first building of a new campus development at Cedar Lake Academy, occupies a site south of the existing academy buildings. The pre-cast, steel reinforced, hollow core, concrete roofing material was installed in a short time by skilled workmen using the most efficient equipment available. Actual installation time covered only a day and a half.

The roof material was prepared according to specifications and loaded on semitrailer trucks at Livonia, Mich. Truckloads of the material were loaded and dispatched to arrive at the Cedar Lake site at 45-minute intervals, and as one truck would be emptied and pull away, another, having just arrived, would come into place. After the roof sections were positioned, a grouting material was applied to seal this part of the roof. The final roofing material, an asphalt substance, is to be built up over the concrete material as construction proceeds inside the building.

The day was made even more memorable by the application of the last of the exterior brick at the same time that the roof sections were installed.

It can readily be seen that construction is hastening on, fully according to schedule, at Cedar Lake Academy. It is expected that the new girls' dormitory will be ready for occupancy the second semester of this present school year. The continued support of our Academy Development program by the members of the Michigan Conference is making this possible.

This aerial view from the south helps to orient the new building in relation to the rest of the Cedar Lake Academy campus. In the background can be seen the administration building, gymnasium, the dormitory being replaced by the new building, and the Cedar Lake Academy Mill. The boys' dormitory and the mechanical arts buildings are across the road to the right. (Photos by R. L. Hutchinson)

The masonry crew installed the last small section of brick on the exterior of the dormitory at the same time the concrete roofing was put into place.

Footings are in place at Adelpian Academy for the new high school building there.

Although construction at the Adelpian Academy site of the new academy building is somewhat behind the Cedar Lake girls' dormitory schedule, you can see by the accompanying picture that foundation work there is almost finished and very soon the walls will begin to rise. Days of real encouragement and progress in this much-needed building are just before us.

The actual construction on the third of the projected 1966 academy buildings, the gymnasium-auditorium at Grand Ledge Academy, has not yet begun. Certain design problems and unusual cost problems necessitate some re-study of this situation. It becomes even more vital for friends of Michigan academies to continue their faithfulness so that this project too can be begun soon.

We in Michigan are surely seeing evidence of God setting His hand to finish His work. We realize that the young people being trained in our academies now have a vital part in God's plan for finishing His work. God would not have us ignore this most important work and we are confident that members of God's church in Michigan will continue to follow God's leading in their giving to make possible and to expand this truly evangelistic work.

Needed Urgently!

We need the names and addresses of all Adventist servicemen. Those who have been transferred overseas are of particular importance.

Recently a letter was received by your conference MV Department from one of our men in Vietnam. He wrote that there were five Adventist fellows stationed together and he wished this information would reach the closest chaplain so they could be contacted. They need the encouragement and help that our ministers in uniform alone can give.

Names received are sent to the General Conference for their mailing list. They send these names to the nearest chaplain who arranges a visit with the soldier.

Servicemen are also entitled to three of our denominational papers, Youth's Instructor, and two others of their choice. A card for them to indicate their choice is available. Send the serviceman's name to the MV Department, Box 900, Lansing, Mich., 48904. We will, in turn, see that the card is sent to them so they can "order" the papers they want.

A special commendation is here extended to Pastors James Papendick and Paul Gates, Paul Howell, and other members and friends who gave unstintingly of their time to renovate the old church building for this very representative welfare center for northern Michigan. City officials and representatives of various welfare agencies were on hand for the official opening.

May God bless the members of our Onaway Church and Mrs. Bush, the welfare director, along with her corps of volunteers as they walk in the steps of the Master in ministering to the underprivileged and needy through the services of this health and welfare center.

Field School in Muskegon Brings 25 to Christ to Date

Twenty-five precious souls have been added to the family of God in Muskegon thus far as a result of the Andrews University Field School of Evangelism held there in early summer.

Seldom in our experience has it been our privilege to work with a church that was more dedicated to the task of winning souls to the Master. Their prayers, their gifts, and their consistent attendance were a tremendous inspiration to our entire team. Including the children, the average Adventist attendance each night was greater than the actual church membership!

Elder Lee Huff, pastor of the church and a fine evangelist in his own right, sparked the participation of our people so that everyone felt that they were members of the team.

Another series of decision meetings will be held this fall at which others of those who manifested an interest will be led to complete dedication to the cause of Christ.

We appreciate the many whose prayer support was felt as God changed lives this summer in Muskegon.

Do It Now

The new, inexpensive but effective plan of soul-winning by our laymen called Bible Speaks is being hailed with great joy by pastors and laymen.

This plan is so simple one cannot help but wonder why someone did not think of this before. Remarkable experiences are taking place in many areas, and we rejoice that this plan works, but we must work it.

During the first six months of 1966, approximately 40 churches in Michigan were engaged in this lay-evangelistic program with encouraging, surprising, and in some instances, outstanding results. Now is the time for all of our churches in Michigan to get on the Bible Speaks band wagon and implement this inexpensive and effective program of soul-winning during the fall and winter months. The American Bible Society, the United States Congress, and the Papal Ecumenical Councils have joined together to make 1966 the year of the Bible, encouraging the masses everywhere to study their Bibles and apply its principles to their daily living.

Caution—always go two by two; this is very essential, then if one is ill or away, there is someone to follow up the interest. No two persons should undertake more than five interests at one time. This will be sufficient if each interest is followed up as it should be.

Wherever Bibles are placed, let the people be contacted weekly with the study guides. It is the friendly, quiet manner that will lead these people to the truth.

Not only is Bible Speaks a conference-wide program in Michigan, but it is catching fire throughout the entire North American Division. It is a plan for the laymen, but the ministers will be happy to get you started on the program. They will also bind off the interests as the plan makes progress.

All lay activities leaders (formerly home missionary leaders) should work closely with their pastors in the plan.

Remember, your pastor is busy, for he is on call 24 hours a day, but he is eager and ready to help you get started.

Are you disheartened? Then here is a remedy. "For the disheartened there is a sure remedy—faith, prayer, work. Faith and activity will impart assurance and a satisfaction that will increase day by day."—Prophets and Kings, p. 164.

Are you discouraged, indifferent, and spiritually ill? "It is those who are not engaged in this unselfish labor who have a sickly experience and become worn out with struggling, doubting, murmuring, sinning, and repenting until they lose all sense as to what constitutes genuine religion. They feel that they cannot go back to the world so they hang onto the skirts of Zion, having petty jealousies, envyings, disappointments, and remorse. They are full of fault-finding and feed upon the mistakes and errors of their brethren. They have only a hopeless, faithless, and sunless experience in their religious life."—Christian Service, p. 107.

Yes, fellow believers, we thank God that we have the remedy through Bible Speaks for the spiritual lethargy that may afflict some of our members. Let us use this remedy of Your Bible Speaks and get on the go for God. We must put the armor on and move forward, and remember with God all things are possible. There is no retreat or defeat or failure with God.

Do it now.

New Home for Camp Caretaker

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kane, newly appointed caretakers for the Scott Lake camp, will soon be moving into a new four-room-and-bath cottage.

Part of the reason for an early move from their present small house trailer was the long day of volunteer help given by Karl Eggers, a Berrien Springs building contractor, and his crew of four. Elder Lawrence Caviness of the conference MV Department and Mr. Kane also gave of their services for the day.

Cedar Lake Area Teachers' Exchange

A Sabbath School Teachers' Exchange and Sabbath School Council will be conducted on Sabbath, October 29, beginning at 3 p.m., at Cedar Lake Academy for all Sabbath School officers and teachers in all departments.

Excellent material has been prepared for you, so come.

A Well-Rounded Education

Many folk think that because Adelphian Academy is operated by a church organization, it must be dedicated only to the training of ministers and other church workers.

It is true that many graduates of Adelphian find employment in the church organization, but for years Adelphian has been advertised as the school "Where Education Is Life." This motto indicates that the academy is devoted to training heart, head, and hand. The school attempts to develop a well-rounded individual that believes in God and worships and loves Him as Creator and Saviour.

That the spiritual training may be more fully developed, music is given an important place in the curriculum. One phase of this musical training results in the academy choir which every year delights many audiences.

This year's chorus consists of 78 members—15 sopranos, 24 altos, 16 tenors, and 24 basses.

Since the stage in the academy chapel is not large enough to accommodate that many singers at one time, the choir has been divided into two sections. These groups will alternate in providing special music for the church services, and each group will appear once or twice each month.

Carl Ashlock, their director, has been pleasantly surprised at the quality of voices and the choir potential this year and hopes to make some recordings before the year is over.

The choir will present two special programs, as is customary: one just before the Christmas holidays, and one shortly before commencement weekend. It will also participate in the Lake Union Music Festival, which will be held in April at Cedar Lake Academy.

That the mental training is at least more than normally successful is attested by two facts which have been mentioned by W. W. Smith, guidance director: In recent years several tests with known national norms have been administered. In all of these, Adelphian students consistently achieve higher scores than the median.

Each year, also, the number of scholarships awarded to Adelphian students is much greater than the per capita average in public high schools.

The physical training given at the academy consists of two phases: a definite work program and a regular physical education program.

Under the supervision of Royce Spalding, five P.E. classes meet daily with 142 of the 305 students enrolled. Boys meet three times per week the first semester and girls two times. This schedule will be reversed during the second semester.

At present, instruction and training center around tumbling, flag ball (football), badminton, and volleyball. All students have been given standardized physical fitness tests. Scores and standings on these tests have not yet been tabulated.

Adelphian does train heart, head, and hand.

OBITUARIES

BICKERT, Mrs. Josephine, was born in Austria in 1872 and passed to her rest Sept. 10, 1966.

More than 35 years ago Mrs. Bickert was seated on her porch in Milwaukee, Wis., when music was heard. Puzzled, she followed it to a tent pitched by an Adventist evangelist. At the close of this series she accepted the Advent message and lived its truths faithfully.

She leaves 2 daughters, Mrs. Alva Weber of So. Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Helen Swanson of Chicago Heights, Ill., with whom she had made her home for the past 15 years; 3 grandchildren, and 4 great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted at the West End Home in Chicago Heights by the writer and interment was in the Congregational Cemetery in So. Milwaukee, Wis. R. H. Ferris CATON, Mildred M., was born Dec. 7, 1893, in England. She passed away Sept. 15, 1966, at her home in Jasonville, Ind., following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Caton was a faithful church member for 52 years. She spent some time as a Bible worker and for many years belonged to the Terre Haute Church where she was a dedicated leader and tireless worker for the youth.

She is survived by her husband, Herman Caton, and by a host of relatives and friends.

Interment was at the Peavey Cemetery near Jasanville, Ind.

Lewis C. Brand

ELLIOTT, Mrs. Samuel, was born Dec. 6, 1878, at Jacobs, Ky., and died Sept. 19, 1966, at Antigo, Wis.

A Langlade County resident since 1900, the former Margaret Manning had lived at Lily and at Antigo, where she was a faithful church member at the time of her death.

Mrs. Elliott was the mother of 3 daughters, Mrs. A. A. (Alta) Koglin of Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. W. A. (Golda) Smith of Cattle, W.Va., and Mrs. W. A. (Flora) Dessain of Oklahoma City, Okla., whose husband is president of the Oklahoma Conference. All 7 of Mrs. Elliott's children, including 4 sons, Carl of Rhineland, Wis., Kennell of Bemidji, Minn., Orville of Appleton, Wis., and Oscar of Mishicot, Wis., are still living. Surviving also are 2 sisters and 3 brothers.

Mrs. Elliott sleeps in Jesus at Lily Cemetery.

OAKLEY, Mrs. Lydia J., 86, of Fond du Lac, Wis., died Sept. 14, 1966, after a lingering illness. Born in 1880 in Columet County, she was the daughter of Almond and Jennie Todd Merrill. She was married to George Oakley Dec. 22, 1930, in Chilton.

Mrs. Oakley was a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist church. Survivors include 4 stepsons, 4 stepdaughters, 18 grandchildren, and 54 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Oakley sleeps awaiting the first resurrection.

G. C. Sherman

PETERS, Mrs. Clara, 68, a resident of Clearwater Lake for 59 years, passed away in the Eagle River Memorial Hospital following a 2-year illness. Surviving are 5 daughters and 4 sons, 3 brothers and 3 sisters, also 30 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held April 7, 1966, in the Seventh-day Adventist church at Clearwater Lake, with Pastor John Holstein officiating.

PIEHL, Jacob Joseph, was born Aug. 19, 1882, and was laid to rest June 19, 1966.

He was baptized into the Seventh-day Adventist church in 1947.

He is survived by 5 children, 35 grandchildren, 2 sisters, and a brother. His wife preceded him in death in 1947.

Funeral services were conducted in the Nelson Funeral Home, Gaylord.

Dr. Leonard Hare, associate professor of biology, points out features of his home-built amino acid analyzer he will use for research in the chemistry of flowering.

Biology Professor Builds Own Equipment

Dr. Leonard Hare, associate professor of biology, is completing his own amino acid analyzer to be used for research in amino acids.

Designed for work in micro mixtures, the analyzer will handle four times the number of samples that does a commercial analyzer, with ten times the amount of sensitivity.

Hare's first sample after present testing of the machine will be ground-up parts of jimson weed, an intensely poisonous annual of Asiatic origin which flowers soon after exposure to short days. From these he will discover whether there is a significant difference in the weed's free amino acid levels after being exposed to a critical photoperiod which initiates flowering.

The photoperiod in this instance will be an 8-hour light period followed by a 16-hour dark period. The first plant will receive one such exposure in an outdoor growth chamber, the second two, and so on.

The results of his experiment, if significant, Hare says, may be a step toward more knowledge in the yet-to-be-unlocked field of the chemistry of flowering.

In the analyzer samples go through a series of steps which separate the amino acids one from another and combine them with a chemical which turns amino acids purple. The mixture flows into a spectrophotometer connected to a recorder which registers the results. The more amino acid present, the deeper the purple, and the higher the peak recorded on the chart.

An automatic valve actuator will enable four complete analyses to be run and charted within 24 hours.

Funds for this research project have been made available to the biology department through the University itself.

The Bible Speaks at Andrews

The Bible Speaks, a visitation program launched last year at Andrews University by the Pioneer Memorial Church, is beginning an all-out pull to draw its students to become charter members of a new Seventh-day Adventist church in Stevensville, Mich., by next spring.

Evangelistic meetings began October 8 at the corner of John Beers Road and Cleveland Avenue in Stevensville.

Don Jacobsen, assistant professor of religion, is preaching four nights a week for five weeks with the Bible-in-hand method he used during last spring's meeting in the Pioneer Memorial Church.

Before the close of the series, he hopes to announce ground breaking for a Stevensville Seventh-day Adventist church.

Wilson Trickett, assistant professor of business administration, and a group of campus businessmen are now drawing up plans for financing the land and construction.

Farrel Brizendine, chairman of the physical education department, is in charge of the music for the series.

Members of the community, college, and seminary have been giving nearly 100 personal Bible studies each week to prepare advanced Bible Speaks students for the meetings.

Dr. Harold Jones and Dr. Edward Specht of the mathematics department talk over the results of the Moscow mathematics institute they attended this summer.

Math Teachers Visit Russia

Andrews University professors Dr. Edward J. Specht and Dr. Harold T. Jones attended a ten-day international congress of mathematics in Moscow this summer.

Held at the University of Moscow from August 16 to 26, the congress was attended by over 6,000 persons. During the first meeting, held in the Kremlin Palace of Congress, four separate prizes in mathematics were awarded to mathematicians who had made outstanding contributions in their fields. Of four professors receiving awards, two were American, one was English, and one was French.

The congress was one of the first to be held in Soviet Russia, according to Specht. For years, he said, the Soviet Union has not hosted any international congress of any sort. This summer, in what appears to him to be a major change in policy, no less than 13 international meetings were held there.
