Further on Flee the Captor

Thirty minutes of radio coverage for the Flee the Captor story November 28 on WGN is one of the most recent developments in the appearance schedule for Herb Ford and John Weidner. The half hour will be between 1 and 2 p.m.

This is one of several Chicago contacts made for Author Ford and the hero of his book, the leader of the famed wartime Dutch-Paris Underground, on Monday and Tuesday, November 28 and 29.

Weidner, a native of Holland who resided in France, could not remain an uncommitted bystander when he knew in 1940 that thousands of Jews were being herded into detention camps destined to Nazi torture centers. His wartime activities in rescuing those he could brought Weidner scores of honors, including the highest United States decoration for citizens of other countries. His exciting true-life adventures as told in Flee the Captor were released to church members by Southern Publishing Association about four months ago. Official publication date is November 14 with nationwide distribution.

Read of his heroic faith and human courage in Flee the Captor, and don't forget his appearance with Mr. Ford at Andrews University, Physical Education Building, 8 p.m. Saturday, December 3, an International Religious Liberty Association benefit program.

"Pathfinder Trails" Is Coming to Guide

Beginning in January, 1967, "Pathfinder Trails" featuring activities of Pathfinder Clubs around the world, will make its debut in Guide, the magazine for junior youth. This will be a four-page section appearing monthly with action-packed pictures and stories of adventure.

To make "Pathfinder Trails" a success we need a continual flow of good pictures and well-written news stories from Pathfinder Clubs everywhere. Black and white glossy prints, 5 by 7 or 8 by 10, are preferred by the layout artist, and all pictures should be accompanied by explanation identifying individuals, places, and events. Close-up action shots are of more interest than posed group pictures.

We call the attention of all Pathfinder Club staff members, public relations secretaries, and church press secretaries to the new "Pathfinder Trails," and solicit your aid. All copy and pictures should be sent to your local conference Missionary Volunteer secretary. Do not mail these items direct to Guide.

Flying missionary Len Barnard examines New Guinea implements of war with Paul Piari, converted native.

Two Forthcoming Faith for Today Programs

In a series of outstanding Faith for Today television programs planned for the next few months are two of particular interest.

Native New Guinean Paul Piari tells the inspiring story of his conversion as contrasted with his previous heathen background, while Len Barnard, missionary pilot, assists in translating and gives his own inspiring story regarding mission advance. Barnard has flown 72,000 miles over rugged New Guinea territory.

Piari assisted missionary Len Barnard in raising up a church of more than 200. On the program Piari displays native arrows, tomahawk, and plumes and tells the thrilling story of the Bible that would not burn.

Also scheduled is a Faith for Today quartet song program featuring the original compositions of Wayne Hooper, director of musical programming for the Voice of Prophecy.

In the program Hooper is interviewed by Pastor and Mrs. W. A. Fagal. He tells the story of each song and why he composed it. Two of the songs are based directly on Spirit of Prophecy quotations, and the better known one being "The Greatest Want of the World."

The schedule for both programs is as follows:

COVER STORY

Good deeds and giving take precedence over ghosts and goblins for Lake Union Pathfinders. The Busy Beavers of Fernald, Mich., collected 3,601 cans of food on Halloween night last year to be presented to the needy.

Watch the "Lake Union Herald" for a post-Thanksgiving report of Treats for the Needy activities this year. Press secretaries who have not already done so are invited to send pertinent pictures and facts to their conference correspondents immediately.

Booths will serve homemade national dishes of the Mexican, Oriental, Egyptian, Persian, Dutch, Italian, Scandinavian, French, and American Indian types.

How?

At times we think of the church as a storehouse of goals. We seem to have established records for every phase of our work.

If the church would willingly carry out the gospel commission and become more dependent on the Spirit, in place of gadgets, man-made goals would not be so significant. The Sabbath School has a goal—that of having the best for the whole church.

The Sabbath School provides measureless areas for communicating the gospel. This is an every-member opportunity for acquainting neighbors and friends with salvation's story.

When I visit our Sabbath Schools I am thrilled to see the children's departments with well-painted walls, clean, well-lighted rooms, and well-organized cheerful leaders.

The children's attention is kept alert by the use of visual aids and a rapidly moving, well-prepared program. The best is none too good for the children of the church.

How does your Sabbath School measure up to reaching the goal of having the best?

E. L. ALLEN

INDIANA

Mrs. Virginia Oswald prepares the Eye Opener.

Something New in Indiana

Never in its past has the church of God on earth been faced with more alluring temptations. During times of persecution and trial the membership draws tightly together, but in times of prosperity and peace the church suffers because the membership is lulled into a false sense of security.

The Indiana Conference is introducing a new service in an endeavor to show church leadership the correct picture of its own church attendance. Once each quarter the pastor of each district and each local church elder receive a copy of the Eye Opener on which is given the latest report sent in by the church clerk indicating the average attendance in each of the services of the church. This information is shared with the church leadership to make them aware of their own missing members.

The church of Christ on earth has a dual responsibility: first, it is to win souls for the kingdom, of this we are continually aware; but are we as concerned about its second task, to hold intact those who have accepted heaven's invitation? Of what good is evangelism if our converts slip out as quickly as we bring them in? The Eye Opener is designed to inform each church of its own missing-member problem.

Study the Eye Opener, then search until you find your missing members. Through diligent work, persevering prayer, and kind entreaties let us win back to the cause of Christ and to His church all of our missing members.

PASTORAL DEPARTMENT

Are You Hot or Cold?

Today we are seeing fulfilled things John saw only in vision on Patmos. The last church was seen as "neither cold nor hot." What does Christ mean to us who feel in need of nothing?

God is calling you, young man, young woman, you parents. The greatest earthly treasure you could possibly possess must become insignificant when compared to the value of your life to God.

V. L. Bartlett

Indiana Academy has been established—not by men but by God. It exists that it might provide to the poor, eternal wealth; to the blind, spiritual sight; and to the naked, the white robe of Christ's righteousness.

Soon the time will come when our money will no longer be needed. The time when we may give to further God's cause will be forever passed. God's final and last call will have been made.

Let us give now while there is still opportunity. Prepare now to give liberally on November 26. Christian education at Indiana Academy needs your help now. Our youth must have our support.

V. L. BARTLETT

Two more concerts by the Lighthouse Chorale are scheduled for November—the 19th at Lansing and the 26th at Pontiac.

The Lighthouse Chorale is a choral ensemble of Seventh-day Adventists in the greater Detroit area. Their current project is to sponsor the daily Voice of Prophecy radio broadcasts—seven days a week, twice each day, over WMUZ-FM, 103.5 mc.

Each member of the chorale is contributing financially each month toward this accomplishment. Proceeds of their concerts, which include some secular choral numbers, some magic, and some sacred numbers, also are a basic part of fund-raising for the V.O.P. broadcast.

Archeologist Lectures at Andrews

A noted archeologist accepted an invitation to lecture on Samaritan papyri at the Seminary Chapel Tuesday morning, November 15.

Dr. Paul W. Lapp

Having directed several excavations at Biblical sites in western Palestine and Trans-Jordania, Dr. Paul W. Lapp is an active archeologist as well as professor of ancient near eastern history and archeology at the American School of Oriental Research, Jerusalem.

The Samaritan papyri, from the Wadi Daliyeh, came from a group of prominent citizens of ancient Samaria who fled for their lives to an inaccessible cave and died there in the time of Alexander the Great.

Papyri, the plural of papyrus, are sheets of writing paper processed first by the ancient Egyptians from the papyrus reed growing along the banks of the Nile.

In addition to the county coverage by radio, the state of Michigan and adjoining states participated.

Michigan Tuition Grants Available

Tuition grants are available from the Michigan Department of Education to Michigan residents attending private colleges in Michigan. Grants range up to $500 and are available for eight semesters of undergraduate and six semesters of graduate work.

To be eligible for the 1967-68 school year the student must have been in continuous residence in Michigan for three years and must be a first-year freshman or a sophomore. Second-year sophomores will qualify. Family financial circumstances affect the grant, but the student need only be in good standing to qualify scholastically.

Application blanks will be available within the next month either from the university or the Department of Education, Bureau of Higher Education, Lansing, Mich. Applications for the 1967-68 school year must be in by Jan. 15, 1967. Students who received grants for the 1966-67 school year will receive application blanks in the mail.

Tour Abroad Planned From Andrews

A tour for ministers, to include England, Scotland, Ireland, and France, will be conducted June 7 to 28, 1967, by Dr. N. F. Pease, chairman of Andrews University's applied theology department. The tour guide and lecturer will be Pastor Roy Graham, professor of religion at Newbold College, Bracknell, Berkshire, England.

Included will be places of historical importance in the lives of John Wesley and John Knox, as well as London, Oxford, Cambridge, Coventry, Plymouth, Stratford, and Edinburgh. A special feature of the trip will be the opportunity to hear six distinguished British clergymen.

The cost of the tour will be $519 for jet flights, hotels, surface travel, guide service, and some meals. Qualified applicants may earn three quarter units of Seminary credit. Tuition and auditing fees will be announced later. The tour is designed particularly for ministers and theological students, but a limited number of other applicants will be accepted.

"This is an opportunity," states Dr. Pease, "for ministers, theological students, and others with similar interests to gain valuable travel experience at a reasonable cost." Those desiring further information should write Dr. Pease at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich. 49104.

Lab Students Build Teacher's Dream Home

Industrial education students this year will construct the home of Dr. Merlene Ogden, associate professor of English, as a laboratory project.

Melvin Andersen, instructor in industrial education, reports that students will do all the work including masonry, carpentry, plumbing, and wiring, and will be graded on the basis of scholastic work, interest, and ability.

After the foundation is laid, work will begin on the small California-style house, which will be built on Timberland Road in Berrien, and completed by May, it is hoped.

Andersen estimates that Dr. Ogden will save $3,000 to $5,000 over a professional contractor's cost, as there is no charge for student labor.
