Photographers Exposed; Skills Develop

by THE EDITOR

MORE THAN fifty trigger-happy photographers, armed to the teeth with flash guns, 28mm to 500mm lenses, and cameras of all sizes and descriptions met at Andrews University October 8 to 10 for a workshop designed to sharpen their photographic insight.

Pastors, press secretaries, teachers, students, conference workers, professional photographers, and amateurs were among those who registered. Sponsored jointly by the Andrews University Public Relations department and the LAKE UNION HERALD, the workshop covered subjects ranging from darkroom procedures and mastering the 35 mm camera, all the way to how to make a picture tell a story.

Principal instructor was A. Ray Simons of Atlanta, Ga., free-lance photographer and specialist with the 35mm camera. Other participants were Harvey Hansen, Clearwater Lake, Wis., nature photographer; Morten Juberg, editor, Columbia Union Visitor; Charles Beeler, Ohio Conference Public Relations director; Oscar Heinrich, editor, Southern Tidings; Gordon Engen, editor, LAKE UNION HERALD; and various professors and administrators at the university.

Special presentations were given by John Freeman, Berrien Springs color photographer and publisher, on the topic of color photography; Richard Cooper, reporter for the Niles, Mich., Star on photography through the newspaperman's eyes; and Bob Mitchell, Benton Harbor inventor of the photo-val and color-val, electronic devices for determining enlarger settings while making black and white and color prints.

School photography came in for its share of emphasis. Each day sections were devoted to discussion of problems directly related to campus photography. Five academies and A.U. were represented in these group meetings.

A "teaser" type of photo contest was conducted to stimulate interest in picture taking during the workshop. Prizes in seven categories were awarded. Over 100 pictures were submitted and $50 in prize money was awarded. (See photos.)

When judging time for the contest arrived, some of the pictures in the photo report appearing here had not been submitted. Consequently they were not eligible for the contest. Undoubtedly, some of them would have been winners.

Beginning with the 1968 volume of the HERALD, an award system will be inaugurated and prizes awarded for the winning pictures in a year-long contest. Details will be announced later.

The HERALD editors hope that workshops such as this will pay off in better quality pictures for the union paper, pictures which will better tell the story of your church in action.

Baccalaureate Nursing Program Begins at Andrews University

The baccalaureate nursing program began September 27 at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich., with 46 nursing students in the freshman class and 27 in the sophomore class.

It was an important milestone in the transition from the diploma program offered by the School of Nursing at the San to the college campus program at Andrews University.

The last graduation of the San's School of Nursing will take place in August, 1968, just 60 years after the first one in 1908. Classes after that will graduate from Andrews University.

The sophomore group that began its class sessions at Andrews University this fall is the group that will come to Hinsdale next year for the junior year of instruction on the hospital campus, which will function as an extension of the University program.

The chairman of the Andrews University Department of Nursing is Miss Valrie Rudge, R.N. (M.S.), who has served since June, 1954, as head of the Hinsdale School of Nursing. With Miss Rudge are eight nurses on the Andrews University department of nursing faculty. The group includes three others who are serving at the San. They are Mrs. Lillian Moore, R.N. (M.A.), Miss Noreen Corle, R.N. (M.S.), and a newcomer this fall, Mrs. Donna Bee, R.N. (M.S.), a 1958 graduate of the Hinsdale School of Nursing who has just completed her requirements for the master's degree in medical-surgical nursing at Loma Linda University, Loma Linda, Calif.

The faculty members who are or will be at Andrews University are Mrs. Evelyn McClure, R.N. (M.S.), and Miss Phyllis Standen, R.N. (M.P.H.), both of whom are there now; and Mrs. Connie Tiffany, R.N. (M.A.), who will join the faculty November 1; Harold Googe, R.N., who is at Loma Linda University working on a master's degree in public health; and Mrs. Carol Craig, R.N. (M.S.), who is on leave while taking advanced courses in education at the University of Michigan.

Keith Bodi Maintains Confidence In Recovering Use of Arm

Mrs. Alice Bodi, receptionist in the laboratory of the San, reports that her son, Keith Bodi, is anxious to have friends pray for the recovery of the use of an arm injured recently in a freak accident.

Keith, a former San employee and a student both at Cedar Lake Academy and Andrews University, is an X-ray technician at Putnam Memorial Hospital in Palatka, Fla.

On September 14, while taking a shower, he was hit by a sudden surge of hot water, causing him to jump to the side. He crashed through the glass enclosure around the bathtub and fell so that the broken glass severed flesh all the way to the bone of his upper left arm.

With his arm in a cast several weeks, Keith's courage has been high, despite the certainty of further surgery and warnings of doctors that he may not recover use of the arm.

"I believe in prayer," Keith has told the doctors.

Friends who wish to write to Keith should address letters to him at 1510 Roselle St., Palatka, Fla. 32077.

We need ten new secretaries as soon as we can find them!

WANTED: medical secretaries . . . admitting clerks . . . key punch operators . . . laboratory secretary . . . switchboard operators . . . school secretary . . . typists . . . file clerks . . . clerk-stenographers . . . business office secretary . . . or what have you?

So highly do we prize a good secretary that it wouldn't be unusual for us to snatch one with a special interest and hold her in a good position until the one she really wants opens up.

If you enjoy working with the public, if you hate to have minutes hang around—Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital is the place for you.

Your job will be different, for you will never be far from the around-the-clock, life-and-death drama of the hospital. You will help the institution run smoothly. Sometimes, before they see doctors and nurses, patients and visitors will see you.

*If you are a good secretary,
we will make room
for you at Hinsdale.*

At the San you are loaded with benefits: subsidized housing on the campus, vacations and holidays, Blue Cross-Blue Shield medical insurance, purchasing privileges, in-patient and out-patient medical discounts, pharmacy discounts . . .

We promise you denominational work at its best. You will find yourself in a beautiful area conveniently located to the Chicago area's cultural and recreational treasureland.

Think about your role as a secretary at Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital and give Donald I. Hanson, assistant administrator, a "collect" call at area code 312, Phone 323-2100 for additional information and a "space reservation."

MICHIGAN

Beth Ann McLeod, above, represents the Kalamazoo Pathfinder Club in the new camporee field event, the wilderness calling contest.

New Field Event at Camporees

A dream of a new field event for Pathfinders became a reality at Michigan's fall Pathfinder camporees held at Au Sable and Scott Lake.

Earlier this year Oscar Boismer, who helps Lansing's Spartans, dreamed he was in a stadium where representatives from various Pathfinder organizations participated in a wilderness calling contest.

The object was to see whose voice could carry the farthest with the greatest clarity, in order to help Pathfinders develop clear speech and proper articulation which could be valuable if lost in the forest.

The dream was mentioned to Elder Merrill Fleming, associate secretary of the conference MV Department and the sponsor of Pathfinder activities. As a result, the wilderness calling contest had its first tryout during the recent campouts. Five judges, spaced about fifty feet apart, with the first a hundred feet from the calling line, listened as Pathfinders called out various nature facts as "monarch butterflies migrate," and tried, without straining their voices, to let the farthest judge hear the message clearly.

This new innovation, bolstered by the regular favorite field events, helped make these two camporees another enjoyable camping experience for Pathfinder clubs from the conference.

Two camporees were held this year to encourage greater participation and to have smaller, more manageable encampments, Elder Fleming reported. The use of Camp Au Sable for one of them made it possible for the club from Escanaba to participate. They still had to travel farther than any other club—250 miles—to make the trip, but they did so gladly.

Campfires with their group singing and stories; Sabbath schools by the Ferndale and Andrews University clubs; sermons by Elder Howard Boling of Grand Ledge and Fred Beavon of the Lake Union MV Department; nature hunts and nature nuggets; regular army inspection and a "drill-down" by Gus Poursine of Lansing were just a few of the highlights that made this year's camporees ones to be remembered.

Above, retired Technical Sergeant Gus Poursine issues commands to these two finalists from Ferndale in the drill-down.

Below, Linden and Fenton "Wapatis" (American elk) stand proudly by their teepees used for the first time at a camporee.

They didn't compete in the traditional sack race, but Elders John Erhard of Escanaba and James Wilson of Ferndale, right, show how it should have been done.

(Photos on pages 8 and 9 by Merrill Fleming)

Lynn Langill, senior from Petrolia, Ontario, solicited $150 as the top solicitor from Adelphian Academy. Her car, under the direction of Elder Harold Rutherford of Port Huron, brought in $501 as the top car.

Petrolia is just across the river from Port Huron, Mich. Miss Langill reports that Elder Rutherford took her to see her parents following their day's work. On the way over they solicited the customs officials and received a sizeable donation.

Pastor Donald Rice, shown here congratulating Miss Langill, reports that the total funds received amounted to $3,722.

Ingathering Heads to Record High

The successful completion of four academy Ingathering field days ended the first phase of Michigan's 1968 Ingathering campaign and opened the door to what promises to be the most successful crusade in the history of the conference.

In a bulletin received from Elder Watson M. Buckman, lay activities secretary for the conference, Adelphian Academy, on their field day, netted $3,722, which was $700 more than last year's total. Battle Creek Academy's gain of $500 meant a total this year of $3,350. Cedar Lake and Grand Ledge's totals of $3,650 and $1,870 respectively, already reported in the HERALD's columns, gave them gains of $1,550 and $430.

Andrews University Academy will be having its campaign early in December at the same time as the university.

Although the official launching of the 1968 crusade is not scheduled until Sabbath, October 28, four churches have already reported being over the top. Grayling and Hastings are Vanguard churches, while Boyne City and Tawas have reached their basic goals and expect to attain Vanguard status shortly.

The strike at Ford Motor Company has affected the economy of the population in a number of areas. Nevertheless, the reports mentioned above indicate that the prospects for topping the conference goal of $340,000 appear very bright.

Elder Buckman declared that "the signal blessings of heaven upon the united labors of our church members have already proven to be bountiful. This should affirm to our people," he said, "that the green light is on and the doors open for successful solicitation in every Michigan city, town, village, and hamlet." He urges all church members to make this year's crusade the best in literature distribution, contacts made, and funds received.

Newspaper Editor Honored

The city editor of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot was honored recently by the local Adventist church. In appreciation of the contribution made by the daily paper to the community by its "exceptional coverage and accurate reporting of religious news" the church presented two books to Mr. Hillis Johnson.

Pastor Arthur Covell introduced Mr. Johnson to the church congregation while Mrs. Marlene Cooper, church press secretary, made the presentation.

The books used were Seventh-day Adventists Today, a report in depth put out by the Southern Publishing Association, and the Seventh-day Adventist Fact Book, prepared by the General Conference Bureau of Public Relations. This book is prepared especially for news editors who constantly have to check the accuracy of facts and figures. Information on our history, beliefs, and work are all included as official information from the denomination. Since it was prepared particularly for the news media, this book has proved to be a much-appreciated item by editors and reporters.

Mr. Johnson remarked about the excellent public relations program which Seventh-day Adventists maintain. He indicated that we are one of the few churches trying to work with newspapers and gave high praise for what we are doing.

Harold Carter and John Thompson show interested teenagers how Smoking Sam operates at the Winnebago County Fair.

Rockford Youth Gives up Cigarettes To Smoking Sam

The Rockford MV Society sponsored a temperance booth at the Winnebago County Fair. An estimated sixty thousand families attended the five-day fair.

Space for the booth, ten feet deep with a twenty-foot frontage, was donated by the Winnebago Fair Association.

The star of the booth was Smoking Sam, a new member of the Illinois Conference Temperance Department. His smoking and his dirty fruit jar lung aided in giving out hundreds of pieces of temperance literature. One young man gave his cigarettes for Sam and said he would never smoke again.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Jean Schroeder, MV leader, Harold Carter, associate leader, and L. J. Marsa, pastor, hundreds of people were shown the dangers of smoking.

Mrs. Johnson, George Schroeder, and John Thompson also devoted many hours to manning the booth.

A number of people left their name and address indicating their desire to enroll in the Five-Day Plan later this year.

Several hundred "Wake Up America" tracts were also given out.

News Notes

- This was Illinois's best camp season with more than eight hundred campers attending Little Grassy Lake Camp. Grass is being seeded in several areas to brighten up the camp for next year.

• The roof is on the new Downers Grove Church. Much work can be done on the interior this fall and winter.

• The new church school at Quincy is doing well. How happy the folk are to have Christian education available in this western portion of Illinois!

• The Academy Ingathering field day brought in over $3,300. At one farm home a student was given a check for $100.

• Several evangelistic efforts are beginning: Broadview Church, D. A. Riesen and J. T. Krpalek; Chicago Yugoslavian, Zivko Maras, weekly half hour radio program; Decatur, H. H. White; E. St. Louis, D. G. Lewis; Kewanee, N. D. Kinney; Quincy, H. L. Greer; Rock Falls, E. D. Moldrik. Other efforts are nearing conclusion or are being planned. All these workers will appreciate being remembered in prayer.

• The Sheridan church school raised $64 on its recent Ingathering field day. The next day the entire school visited the Brookfield zoo. Someone wanted to take home a 3-day-old baby tiger, but declined when it was learned the mother tiger would have to go too.

• The northern camporee at White Pines State Park, on the weekend of September 23, was well attended. The southern camporee at Beaver Dam State Park, on the weekend of September 30, had its largest attendance. Seventy-one attended the Sabbath service among the pines on a sunny hillside.

• The literature evangelists had a camp-out at Pere Marquette State Park over the weekend of September 23. Excellent weather helped make this an ideal weekend. All attended church at Alton.

Pokey Doesn't Hibernate; Travels With Bookmobile

Hello from our traveling bookmobile. It's almost time to buy tire chains and snow shovels, isn't it? Isn't that a happy thought? But with snow and ice outside, it makes it so much cozier on the inside when you throw another log on the fireplace (or turn up the thermostat), curl up in your favorite chair with a new book, and munch popcorn or apples.

Several new books that will give you some evenings of enjoyment as well as increase your faith are Religion in Russia Today by Alonzo Baker and Hidden Patterns by George Dickenson. Pokey feels that When You Open Your Bible and I Found a Feather will be real hits with the pre-schoolers.

Clever Queen was such a captivating book for boys and girls that the publishers have reprinted it. Pokey wishes he could go to Burma sometime to see the spirit shrines and swim in the river like Clever Queen and her three friends did. However, probably he will never leave Indiana, since he's a regular Hoosier.

Pokey says that he's not going to hibernate this winter. No sir, there are just too many boys and girls to see. He is ordering a pair of long red flannels and turning up the bookmobile heater. Pokey and the bookmobile will see you at the following places during November:

Indianapolis Evangelism Reaches Climax

Nearly five thousand names of key interests in Indianapolis are constantly being evaluated. As the meetings in the airatorium are now reaching a climax, Robert Dale, Indiana Conference ministerial secretary, declares that his group is concentrating on 150 people who show a real interest.

Every morning at 9:30 those associated in the effort gather to discuss their visits of the previous day, upgrade their own evaluation of their interests, and to petition God's help in bringing people to a decision.

Merton Henry, pastor of the Glendale Church, Walter Howard, pastor of the Irvington and South Side churches, and E. W. Dirksen, pastor of the Logansport Church, are working earnestly together in the meetings which are being held on the State Fair Grounds.

The evangelistic team next moves to Columbus, Ind., to conduct another series of decision meetings. If you have not yet attended the lectures in the airatorium you will certainly wish to attend the meetings in Columbus. A new dimension in evangelism awaits your personal appearance.

1968 Lake Region Camp Meeting Dates

For those persons who must make arrangements well ahead of time, we are pleased to announce the camp meeting dates for 1968—June 27 to July 6. ARE YOU USING OUR CORRECT ADDRESS?

Some confusion has developed recently concerning the correct mailing address for Andrews University and the Lake Union Conference. In response to an urgent request from the Berrien Springs post office, we are giving the following information:

Since the zip codes have become standard on correspondence, a shortening of the address for Andrews has been approved. Mail can be addressed like this:

Andrews University
Andrews, Michigan 49104

The Lake Union Conference has a different zip code from Andrews University. Mail coming to the Lake Union office does not go through the Andrews post office, and therefore must have the following information:

Lake Union Conference
Box C
Berrien Springs, Michigan 49103

All persons receiving their mail from the Andrews University post office, whether in boxes or delivered from the Administration building mailing room, can use the address "Andrews, Michigan 49104."

All persons receiving their mail via the rural mail carrier in the university campus area, or at the Lake Union office, or in the village of Berrien Springs, must have their mail addressed "Berrien Springs, Michigan 49103."

Please help the post office here by addressing your correspondence in this manner. (Editor)

Retired Educator Volunteer Teacher in Jamaica

"People should use their talents rather than burying them—even after they're retired," declared Clinton Lee of Berrien Springs, as he and his wife prepared to leave for a year as volunteer teachers at West Indies College, Mandeville, Jamaica.

Lee, who retired in 1957 after being president of the Korean Union Mission for six years, was serving voluntarily as pastor of the Adventist churches in South Haven and Covert. He was employed by Emmanuel Missionary College, now part of Andrews University, from 1946 to 1951, as principal of the academy for three years and as assistant to the dean of the college for two years. He taught part-time in the S.D.A. Theological Seminary at the university from 1963 to 1965.

In Jamaica, he will teach education and religion courses. His wife, the former Mrs. J. R. Nelson, will teach music, giving violin lessons and working with the orchestra.

Lee, a 1936 alumnus of Andrews, worked in ministerial training and educational work in Korea from 1920 to 1941 and taught at Philippine Union College from 1941 to 1945. He returned to the Far East in 1951 to become president of the Korean Union Mission, a position which he held until his retirement.

WOODSMEN COULDN'T SPARE IT

Dr. Burton Hartwell Phipps, former A.U. biology professor, and his daughter, Miss Barbara Phipps, assistant librarian at Pacific Union College, Angwin, Calif. visit with Dean Emil Leffler and view the fallen giant in front of Lamson Hall with approximately 95 rings circling its core.

A victim of Dutch Elm disease, the tree would not have "leafed" through another spring, according to members of the university grounds department.

Andrews Sends 20 to Bible Camp

Twenty Andrews University delegates will attend the annual Michigan Bible Camp to be held October 25 to 29 at Scott Lake, an Adventist youth camp in southwestern Michigan.

Delegates from all Michigan academies and from Kingsway College in Ontario will also attend the meetings where MV officials and the General Conference representatives will discuss Biblical topics and current religious ideas especially pertinent to young people.

Kathy Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Mitchell, Berrien Springs, and Robert Falbisano, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Falbisano, Grand Rapids, bid "au revoir" to the Andrews campus. Elizabeth Buck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Buck Jr., Berrien Springs, was not available for the picture.

Three Students Leave for France

Leaving the United States aboard the M.S. Aurelia of the Cogedar Line on August 18 were three Andrews University students who plan to spend a year studying at Seminaire Adventiste in Collonges-sous-Saleve, France.

The three students, Elizabeth Buck, a sophomore art major, and Kathy Mitchell, a junior English major, both from Berrien Springs; and Bob Falbisano, a freshman chemistry major from Grand Rapids, are participants in the Adventist Colleges Abroad program. This cooperative venture, sponsored by Andrews University and eight other denominational colleges in the United States, places emphasis upon attaining proficiency in the French language.

The program was begun at the La Sierra campus of Loma Linda University and is being co-sponsored by the other eight colleges for the first time this year.

Students interested in more information about the program for the 1968-69 school year should write to Dr. W. E. McClure, Dean of the College, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich. 49104.
