COVER

She chose not to smoke. And she punctuated it by dropping the remnants of her pack of cigarettes into a box at the door following the first night of the Five-Day Plan held in the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel April 13 to 17. It was the 35th session for Hinsdale's team and also served as a demonstration for a national Five-Day Plan Congress sponsored by the General Conference Temperance Department.

Robert Dale Returns to Indiana As New Conference President

The Indiana constituency, in a meeting held April 27 in Indianapolis, elected Robert Dale as president for the next two years. Having spent five years as an Indiana Conference worker, Elder Dale returns from Oklahoma where he has been ministerial secretary, evangelist, and radio-television department secretary.

Elder Dale's response was, "Coming back to Indiana is like coming home. And I'm glad to be home."

It was in Indianapolis where Elder Dale's grandmother first came in contact with Adventists. Mary Kent, the Bible worker who gave her studies, still lives in Indianapolis.

Elder Dale was born in Los Angeles on December 4, 1932. He graduated from La Sierra College in 1954 and received his M.A. degree from Andrews University in 1959. He began his church work in the Nevada-Utah Conference in 1954 as a pastor-teacher.

In November of 1963, Elder Dale was called to be pastor of the Anderson, Indiana, church. Later he was pastor of the Gary church. From October of 1966 to August of 1968 he served as ministerial secretary of the Indiana Conference.

Mrs. Dale, the former Barbara Christensen, and the Dales' two boys, Bobby, 10, and Benny, 8, will be joining him soon in Indianapolis.

The Lord has richly blessed Elder Dale in his pastoral and evangelistic work, and has endowed him with the gift of leadership. The Indiana constituency and the Lake Union Conference join in extending a warm welcome to Elder Robert Dale and his family as they take up this important work.

5-Day Plan Congress Held in Chicago

Participants Observe Hinsdale San's Methods

by Gordon Hewlett of the Five-Day Plan Team

North America's Five-Day Plan Congress was designed to be provocative, rather than legislative, and that is what it achieved. Held in the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel, the five-night, four-day session became a pooling of ideas, methods, and experiences of the delegates. The evening meetings were observation sessions as the Hinsdale Five-Day Plan team conducted a course for 230 registrants and their friends.

Sunday night, the opening of the Sheraton Five-Day Plan, delegates were welcomed by David E. Stahl, deputy mayor of the city of Chicago. He stated that he was present because he wanted to stop smoking, and wished success to his fellow registrants. Last reports are that he has followed through with his decision, "I Choose Not to Smoke."

Ernest H. J. Steed, General Conference temperance secretary, and congress chairman, presented the aims and objectives of the first North American Congress, and with his associates, chaired the 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily agenda.

Morning devotionals, conducted by R. S. Watts, vice-president of the General Conference, and chairman of the International Temperance Association; W. J. Hackett, vice-president of the General Conference; and D. W. Hunter, associate secretary of the General Conference, stirred concepts of greater achievement, and challenged the delegates to more effectively wed together the ministry of the doctor and pastor through the Five-Day Plan.

Highlighting the congress were four outstanding guest luncheon speakers. Due to his having to appear before the Congressional House Committee hearing on advertising and labeling of tobacco, Dr. Daniel Horn, director of the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, was unable to be present. In his place, Dr. J. Wayne McFarland, co-founder of the Five-Day Plan, presented its history and development.

Dr. Luther Terry, vice-president, medical affairs, University of Pennsylvania, former U. S. Surgeon General; and Dr. Richard Overholt, director of Overholt Thoracic Clinic, Boston, received standing ovations from the delegates in response to, and in appreciation of, their presentations on the damaging results of the use of tobacco. Both of these gentlemen also spoke at the evening Five-Day Plan sessions being conducted by the Hinsdale team.

Specimens of cancerous lungs and of other body organs affected by smoking always bring mixed emotions from smokers. These visuals, shown by Dr. C. L. Dale, often help vacillating smokers quickly decide to stop smoking. Dr. Dale, pathologist at the San, testified April 21 in Washington, D.C., before the Congressional Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce urging them to take a firmer stand against the advertising of tobacco products.

Miss Janet Wagner, R.N., was one of the nurses from the San who handed out Five-Day Plan Control Booklets to the participants of the session, April 13 to 17, 1969, at the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel.

Dr. Luther Terry, former Surgeon General of the United States, spoke to the congress as well as the participants in the Five-Day Plan. Dr. Terry was instrumental in bringing out the results of the government's findings on the dangers of smoking.

Dr. Richard H. Overholt, director of the Overholt Thoracic Clinic, urged participants to urge their representatives in government to act now in curtailing the advertisement of tobacco products.

Much of the training in the congress sessions came in discussion groups. Here, Dr. J. Wayne McFarland, co-founder of the Five-Day Plan, discusses medical data with participants.

Dr. C. L. Dale and Chaplain Willis Graves were each presented a plaque by General Conference Temperance Leader Ernest H. J. Steed in recognition of their contributions to the success of the Five-Day Plan. This was the 35th Five-Day Plan conducted by Hinsdale's Graves-Dale team.

John F. Banzhaf, III, attorney, Washington, D.C., presented the legal aspects in controlling the advertising and labeling of tobacco products. As a result of his legal action, tens of millions of dollars' worth of free air time has been made available to present the other side of the tobacco picture. In compliance with the Federal Communications Commission's "fairness doctrine," one anti-smoking announcement must be made for each three cigarette spots aired on radio and TV.

All delegates were assigned to committees. Seven such action involvements dealt with: 1. Five-Day Plan Follow-up Techniques—Scientific, Medical, and Health; 2.

Five-Day Plan Follow-up—Spiritual, Evangelistic, and Educational; 3. Five-Day Plan Programming Aids; 4. New Avenues for Five-Day Plan Outreach; 5. Public Relations and Advertising; 6. Medical Data; 7. Psychological and Spiritual Data.

The committees then shared reports on their discussions. The suggestions were accepted by the Temperance Department as recommendations by the group, rather than legislative action. Temperance Director E. H. J. Steed stated that these reports would guide the department in its development of plans for promoting the Five-Day Plan.

A welcome to Five-Day Plan participants from Mayor Richard Daley's office was brought by the mayor's personal representative, David E. Stahl, executive secretary to the mayor. Mr. Stahl had another reason for coming; he had chosen not to smoke any more. At the end of the five days he was a non-smoker!

Elder Melvin Jacobson, the man who developed Smoking Sue and Sam said that these mannequins are helpful in impressing youngsters not to smoke.

Rapid, fascinating reports by unions indicated the new tempo of community outreach through the Five-Day Plan. Doctors, who made time in their busy schedules, gave glowing accounts. They claimed that the high appreciation for simple concern has opened new avenues of understanding towards the Seventh-day Adventist church.

Pooling of ideas, the recounting of experiences, the exchange of methods, the outgrowth of new concepts of development, and the fellowship sparked fresh enthusiasm in the delegates.

The Sheraton's East Room became the focal point for the 230 registrants, their immediate friends or relatives, and the delegates to the congress as, during the five nights, the Hinsdale Five-Day Plan team conducted their 35th session. Under the guidance of Chaplain Willis Graves, the session included guest speakers such as Drs. Terry and Overholt; E. H. J. Steed; Dr. Wayne McFarland, co-founder of the Five-Day Plan; Mel Jacobson, originator of Smoking Sam and Sue; Milton Dorr, crusade chairman of the Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society; and former graduates, who thoroughly inspired and encouraged the registrants.

Eighty-six per cent of those who followed the plan claimed success, according to information received at the close of the session.

Television, radio, and newspaper coverage of the congress was directed by Wayne Martin of the General Conference public relations department.

Chaplains Willis Graves and Gordon Hewlett show the "lungs" of Smoking Sue and Smoking Sam.

Five-Minute Programs Available For Local Broadcasting

The Voice of Prophecy has recently completed production of a new series of five-minute broadcasts to be used as public service radio programs. Entitled, "The Living Word—Five Minutes with H. M. S. Richards and His Bible," the program begins with the reading of a text, after which Pastor Richards draws on his experience as a student of the Scriptures and world traveler to amplify and shed light upon what he has just read. Listeners are thereupon invited to send for more information on the study of the Bible, thus leading to an introduction to the Bible correspondence school.

Described by Wayne Hooper, Voice of Prophecy programming director, as "a dynamic capsule of inspiration," the program is being made available on a loan basis free of charge to anyone who might have access to sustaining or sponsored radio time. The 52 completed broadcasts, a year's supply, come in magnetic tape form, with six programs on each seven-inch reel, which should be returned to The Voice of Prophecy when they are no longer needed. They may be purchased for personal use at a cost of $2.25 per six-program reel also.

Requests for further information regarding "The Living Word" broadcast should be addressed to The Voice of Prophecy Recording Company, Box 1511, Glendale, California 91209. Gary B. Swanson

PASTOR E. E. DUNCAN TO DIRECT FAITH FOR TODAY EVANGELISM

With 22 years of experience as pastor-evangelist, Pastor Everett E. Duncan has joined Faith for Today to direct evangelism and the Bible School. Since the telecast staff is already booked for evangelistic meetings through 1970, his coming will help to meet the many requests for decision meetings across North America.

In his Bible School responsibilities, Pastor Duncan will conduct workers meetings, investigate better methods, and supervise the overall operations of the Bible courses. Pastor Gordon F. Dalrymple, who has been serving as temporary Bible School director, will continue as editor of publications and public relations director. He will also continue to conduct evangelistic series as he has in the past.

Pastor Duncan was graduated from Walla Walla College in 1941. Soon after, he became pastor-evangelist in Washington State. Since then, he has served in that capacity in California, British Columbia, Alberta, and Ontario. He is coming to Faith for Today from the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference, where he has been ministerial, public relations, and radio-TV secretary.

Pastor Duncan's wife, Florence, comes with much experience in office work. She will assist in the accounting department.

In welcoming the Duncans to Faith for Today, Dr. W. A. Fagal pointed to their dedication and years of service as valuable assets to the telecast ministry.

"Pastor Duncan is the man we have been looking for to help in evangelism," Dr. Fagal stated. "We know that friends of Faith for Today will welcome him as he meets field appointments."

DIRECTOR CHANGES AT V.O.P.

At the Voice of Prophecy Board meeting in January of this year, it was voted to begin planning to lighten the load of Elder H. M. S. Richards so that he might work at a more leisurely pace; also that it not be mandatory for him to carry the many organizational responsibilities with which he has been burdened for so many years.

At the same board meeting, it was unanimously voted that H. M. S. Richards, Jr., carry the responsibility of speaker on the broadcast and become program director and successor to his father, July 1, 1969.

Even though the official date for transfer was voted, it was recognized by the board that a dual-speaker responsibility, in a father-son relationship, would give additional strength to the program.

Elder Richards, Sr., will continue with The Voice of Prophecy as Speaker Emeritus, and will also be available for public appearances.

Only the records of heaven could reveal the many millions whose hearts have been stirred by Elder Richards's Bible messages over the past four decades. But the records of the church tell of thousands whose names have been added because of his ministry of love through radio.

Elder H. M. S. Richards, Jr., has served as associate speaker on the broadcast through most of the sixties, and has done much to promote and establish the Voice of Prophecy daily broadcast with its fruitful follow-up crusade plan. He has also promoted a broadcast to reach the youth of North America. His enthusiasm for The Voice of Prophecy will assure an ever-expanding program of soul winning through the radio ministry.

Plans are being laid by The Voice of Prophecy for 1970. That year will complete Elder Richards's unbroken 40-year record of broadcasting the great gospel truths. Unprecedented plans are being prepared for proclaiming the message to the entire world within a short space of time.

Please pray for the blessing of God upon all that The Voice of Prophecy is doing and is planning to do to make Christ known to the millions everywhere.

*R. R. Bielz, Chairman
Voice of Prophecy General Board*

Beginning July 1, H. M. S. Richards, Jr., will replace his father as program director and speaker of the Voice of Prophecy.

SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL

Dr. David Paulson

San's Founder Predicted Awakening To Evils of Cigarette Smoking

David Paulson, M.D., (1868-1916) founder of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, is back in the news because of his 1909 warning of the evils of cigarette smoking.

A statement of Dr. Paulson's was quoted by Chicago Daily News columnist, Robert J. Herguth, March 12, as follows:

• SIXTY YEARS AGO this week, Dr. David Paulson told the Cook County Teachers Assn. that "We are going to have a tremendous awakening on the evils of cigarette smoking."

And now, 60 years later, the five-man team at Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital continues the battle for health by conducting the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking. Comprising the team are Charles L. Anderson, M.D., psychiatrist; Charles L. Dale, M.D., pathologist; Willis C. Graves, chaplain; Gordon T. Hewlett, associate chaplain; and Dr. Ben Lau, Ph.D., clinical microbiologist.

A member of the team, Dr. Dale, says that in the United States one in five of all deaths is tobacco related; one in five of all cancer deaths is tobacco related; 33 per cent of all illness in males 35 to 65 is tobacco related; and that tobacco-related deaths at the present time total 359,000 a year.

The complete story about Dr. Paulson from the March 13, 1909, issue of the Chicago Daily News is as follows:

"We are going to have a tremendous awakening on the evils of this cigarette smoking. We are only just rounding out the first generation of cigarette smokers, but give us another generation or two, descending from the present, and the result will be appalling."

Thus spoke Dr. David Paulson, superintendent of a sanitarium, in an address before the Cook County Teachers Association in the auditorium of the association building today.

He said that "if the cigarettes smoked in the U.S. last year were joined into a chain end to end, they would reach around the world twice, and from New York to San Francisco and back again."

Assumes New Post

Gerald Jones, R.T., chief radiologic technologist at Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, was elected vice-president of the Illinois Society of Radiologic Technologists, District II. He will serve for one year.

ILLINOIS

BOOK AND BIBLE HOUSE NOTES

A camp meeting book stand grows, and every piece must fit into its proper place. The photo above by W. E. Morgan, shows workmen erecting the steel frame for the new 9,600 square foot book stand for the Illinois Camp Meeting.

One of the big advantages to be enjoyed in this new facility will be having everything displayed on one level. This means that our record and music department can be expanded beyond its previous confinement to the gymnasium platform area.

As one enters the book stand he will be impressed with the color and beauty of our publications, for the displays will extend even to the wall areas. Pegboard panels throughout will enable us to more properly arrange our paperback books, records, music books, color books, etc., so that the full covers can be seen.

This new arrangement will be much the same as in the former location. We will have the same number of sales areas and will group the items similarly.

Be sure to come to camp meeting for the blessing it can be to you individually. We will be on hand to "see you at the brand new book stand!"

ILLINOIS OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Constituent members representing the Illinois churches met at Broadview Academy Sunday, April 13, for the Biennial Session, the time designated for the election of the conference leaders for the next two years.

This occasion made it possible for us to have as our honored guests Elders D. W. Hunter of the General Conference; F. W. Wernick, Lake Union Conference president; and W. F. Miller, treasurer of the Lake Union Conference.

The delegates re-elected Elder W. A. Nelson, president; Elton Dessain, treasurer; and the departmental staff.

Elder V. C. Hoffman, educational secretary, announced plans for retirement at the end of the present school year. His successor will be chosen by the newly appointed 11-member executive committee. Seven new members were appointed to the executive committee.

A significant step was taken in voting to appoint a lay advisory committee.

It was voted that study be given to provide financial help to our churches for the education of our youth on the secondary and collegiate level.

The spirit of the Biennial Session was in keeping with the ideals of our democratic society. Each individual desiring to voice a personal conviction or opinion was given opportunity to speak.

After a day of business, fellowship, and good food for the physical well-being for each one, the meeting closed with a spirit of enthusiasm for bettering the work in behalf of our youth, our schools, our churches, and our lay evangelism.

F. W. Wernick, center, and D. W. Hunter, right, congratulate W. A. Nelson on his re-election to the presidency of the Illinois Conference.

Elder F. W. Wernick announces Elder Hoffman's retirement.

CAMP MEETING IS COMING SOON

It's almost time to pack your suitcase for camp meeting. Remember, June 12 is just around the corner. The conference officers have a strong program prepared for you. Don't miss this opportunity to hear God's last warning message presented in the 1969 scope of events.

This picture shows the new Bible House building being constructed adjacent to the auditorium.

See you at camp meeting, June 12 through 21.

BIENNIAL SESSION HELD APRIL 27

The most important result of the 26th Biennial Session of the Indiana Conference was the election of Elder Robert L. Dale to the presidency. After serving many years as a district leader and evangelist in several conferences including California, Nevada-Utah, and Indiana, and as Ministerial Association secretary in Indiana for two years before taking up that same position in Oklahoma, he now returns to Indiana as president. We welcome back Elder and Mrs. Dale and their two sons, Bobby and Benny.

The departmental leaders were all re-elected to the same offices which they held during the previous biennium. The newly elected members of the Conference Executive Committee consist of the following: Elder Robert L. Dale, president; L. L. Davis, secretary-treasurer; Elder E. R. Taylor; Elder M. W. Henry; Elder W. R. Howard; Elder A. C. Schnell; W. A. McAlexander; Dr. Ben Crouse; R. L. Huff; Phillip Lutz, Sr.; and Clarence Reedy.

Five church buildings were either dedicated or constructed during the past two years, with an additional three church school buildings erected.

In brief here is a review of the departmental reports: BOOK AND BIBLE HOUSE—Our Indiana Book and Bible House has been mobilized to take our publications to our people. One hundred and eleven book sales have been conducted in our churches during the previous biennium by the manager, Dale Anderson, and his assistant, Ralph Nangle.

EDUCATION—Elder C. E. Perry reports that five years ago only 12 per cent of the church school teachers held degrees. Now more than half of the 48 elementary teachers are degreed, so the quality of education is constantly being advanced.

EVANGELISM AND PUBLIC RELATIONS—During 1967 and 1968 a total of 567 baptisms were reported, resulting in a net increase of 117 members, reports Elder M. D. Oswald. Our church press secretaries have been successful in placing more pictures and stories of our church activities in print than ever before.

MV AND TEMPERANCE—Eighty-three soul-winning programs were sponsored by the youth in our churches resulting in 161 souls baptized, reports Elder W. A. Geary. Listen magazine subscriptions have jumped from 260 in 1965 to 2,579 in 1968.

PUBLISHING—The chief function of the publishing department is to aid the church in finding souls for the kingdom. This is best reflected in the 17 souls baptized in 1968 as a result of the literature ministry, headed in Indiana by Elder H. F. Otis.

STEWARDSHIP—Elder Walter Howard reports that our churches in Indiana during the last two years gave $34,320 to conference development programs. A gain of $193,718.50 in tithe was further evidence of the faithfulness of our people.

TREASURY—God has been good to us. Our current balance sheet proves that God's blessing has attended our activities, reports L. L. Davis, treasurer. Our assets increased $89,320.91, and total liabilities were decreased by $29,142.49 over the same comparative period. Our net worth reserves increased to a total of $397,953.54.

This good report was made possible because of the faithfulness of the members in Indiana, the loyal support and hard work of its ministry and office staff, but most of all because God has seen fit to place His blessing upon every activity in which we combine our efforts. Over and over again the statement was made, "The best days lie ahead for Indiana. The future is bright." Let us work and pray that this may be so.

Bible Students Become Master Guides

Elder C. L. Newkirk, principal of Indiana Academy, reports that the youth guidance class with Adolf Beck as instructor, has successfully met the challenge to become Master Guides. Thirty-eight young people, including five faculty members, were invested as Master Guides at an Investiture service conducted at the Cicero church on April 19 by Elder J. O. Herr, the local pastor. Assisting at this highlight in the spiritual lives of the young people were Principal Newkirk; Elder Donald Anderson, Bible department head; Adolf Beck, Bible instructor; and all Master Guides in the congregation.

In the challenge to future Master Guides the group voiced their beloved class theme, "He must increase, but I must decrease."—John 3:30. The Bible is the all-important textbook at Indiana Academy. The "youth for youth" approach to Christian endeavors and youth problems, with Christ as the pattern of life, is the method advocated.

NEWS FROM ILLINOIS CHURCHES

According to Mrs. Azzie Thomas, MV leader of the Hyde Park church, Youth Day was a busy and full one.

At 8 a.m. Robert Lister, Andrews University theology student, spoke on the subject "Take Time to be Saved." The eleven o'clock sermon was delivered by another Andrews University student, Helvius Thompson. A choral group from Andrews University presented musical numbers in the afternoon. The evening activities were directed by the youth of Hyde Park.

"Choosing" was the theme of the program presented by the kindergarten and primary classes on 13th Sabbath in the East St. Louis church. Two "kings" and one "queen" were able to recite the memory verses for the quarter.

The youth department of the Shiloh church, under the leadership of Mrs. C. Stewart, presented an interesting Voice of Youth type of MV Week of Prayer, entitled "God Speaks to the Now Generation," featuring "soul" speakers and "soul" music to reach the souls of those who are seeking for a better way of life.

PAULINE GODDARD FEATURED AT BURNS AVENUE TEMPERANCE RALLY

As a climax to several weeks of temperance activities under the leadership of Robert Reid, the Burns Avenue church presented Miss Pauline Goddard in the Detroit area on March 30. The overflow audience thrilled to hear the "angel of 42nd Street" tell her experiences of witnessing for Christ in New York City. She showed slides of alcoholics and drug addicts, as well as of famous personalities who have been influenced by her magazine ministry. Witnessing to the effectiveness of her work was a New York police officer, Mr. Tony of the Narcotics Squad, who accompanied her. Also present was Elder J. P. Winston, Lake Union temperance secretary.

During the program winners of the poster contest were presented their awards. First-place winner was Florence Johnson in the age group of 21 and over, whose poster entitled "What Will Your Child Grow Up to Be" won for her $7.00.

First-place winners in the other age groups were: Ages 9-12—"Without Christ" by Kevin Reid; "You Got Your Own Cigarette" by Lester Gardner; Ages 13-16—"Don't Get Carried Away" by Timothy Gardner; Ages 17-20—"You Can Take the Cigarette Out of the Country, But You Can't Take Cancer Out of the Cigarette" by Anita Thornton.

Elder and Mrs. S. D. Meyers and family arrive at the Capitol Avenue church for MV Week of Prayer.

NEWS HIGHLIGHTS FROM CAPITOL AVENUE

During the months of February and March the membership of Capitol Avenue church has been favored with the presence of many guest speakers. On February 15 Elder Charles Dudley, president of the South Central Conference, was speaker for the worship hour.

Elder S. D. Meyers, pastor of the Shiloh church in Chicago, was the guest speaker for the Youth Week of Prayer. During that week the following speakers were featured on various nights: Elders A. T. Shaw, R. W. Bates, Samuel Thomas (Allegheny Conference), and J. E. Cox. Mrs. Lizzie Mae Strange, MV leader, was the motivating force behind the successful Week of Prayer meetings.

On March 1, designated as Sabbath School Visitors Day, Elder C. E. Bradford, president of the Lake Region Conference, was guest speaker. Our hearts were inspired as Elder Bradford presented the message, using the theme, "Now Are We the Sons of God." We were happy to have Elder W. S. Lee, president of the Central States Conference, as one of our pulpit guests.

The afternoon program on March 1 was in the form of a panel discussion featuring Miss Eura Sargent of the Indianapolis public school system and Miss Denise Hackney. Mrs. Lois Williams, superintendent of the Sabbath School, is to be commended for such an informative Visitors Day program.

FIRES OF EVANGELISM ABLAZE IN STATE

The fires of evangelism are ablaze from one end of Michigan to the other. Fifty-five series of evangelistic meetings have thus far been planned for the state for 1969, and others are in the process of being planned.

Soul-winning workshops have been conducted in all 12 districts of the conference. Pastors and members have studied proper methods of soul winning, that they may bring to men and women the last warning message.

All over the state our members are finding openings to thousands of homes through the Gift Bible Plan. About one-tenth of those enrolled in the plan are Roman Catholics. Nearly all of our churches have prospect files and are thus zeroing in on specific interests as they plan their soul-winning endeavors.

About 20 of our pastors are using the Code-a-Phone with increasing success. Elder John Hayward and Elder Glenn Hill in Battle Creek have had more than 50,000 responses. Elder Hill has guided the youth in Battle Creek in a weekly radio broadcast and Teen Dial, and they are planning for a youth evangelistic meeting this summer. Elder Hayward is in the midst of evangelistic meetings in the Tabernacle church.

Elder Robert Collar has already completed an evangelistic series in the twin cities of Alma and St. Louis. During these meetings he baptized 21. Others are being worked with for a future baptism. He was assisted in this series by Elder L. R. Ellison. Elder Collar is now in a second series at St. Johns, and is having a good attendance. The prospects look good. Our St. Johns members had previously done a splendid work of preparation with the Bible Speaks. Elder E. F. Herzog is assisting in the meetings in St. Johns.

Elder G. E. Slack has a series under way in Urbandale; four young men from the Seminary are having good success in a series in Sparta; Elder Jeremia Florea, assisted by Elders Henry Kenaston and T. J. Rasmussen, is engaged in meetings in the city of Flint; Elder Glenn Hill is giving the message in a series at Hastings and is being supported by the pastor, Elder S. J. Elie; Elder Peter Fritz is conducting meetings in Adrian and Monroe, to be climaxed by a week of intensive meetings by Elder James Ward in Monroe and Elder Oliver Johnston in Adrian. Elder E. E. Herr is bringing the truth to Menominee.

Several meetings began the weekend of April 12. Paul Cannon from the Seminary began a series in Dowagiac, assisted by Dr. Wilbur Alexander. Elder Louis Anderson in Stevensville, Donald Gettys in South Haven, Elder Dean Burns, assisted by Elder Paul Penno, in Shelby, and Melvin Foll in Chesaning, all started meetings on that date. Elder William Draper began a series in Muskegon March 30, and Elder Paul Scofield began one in Bellevue, April 6.

Other meetings recently held were by Stuart Harrison in the Gobles-Bloomington area May 3, assisted by Elder Ray Van Voorst; Elders Robert L. Boothby and Anthony Castelbuono in Pontiac beginning April 19,

This evangelistic team at Pontiac conducted a second evangelistic series within the past nine months. At the first baptism last fall 55 joined the church. The second series has resulted in additional studies in preparation for another baptism on May 10.

Those who assisted in the evangelistic series are, front row: Elder and Mrs. Robert Boothby; Mrs. Louise Gallant, Bible worker; Elder Anthony Castelbuono, youth pastor of the Pioneer Memorial church, Berrien Springs, who conducted meetings for the youth on the same topic Elder Boothby was presenting to the adults; back row: Richard Williams, assistant pastor of Pontiac; Sid Dudney, song leader; and Elder E. L. Malcolm, Pontiac pastor.

supported by Elder E. L. Malcolm, the pastor, and Mrs. Laurie Gallant, a Bible instructor. Elder John Erhard held another series in Grand Rapids beginning April 19. Also one of our dedicated layman, Ray Nickless, has begun a series in another section of Grand Rapids. He is financing the meetings himself, as well as doing the preaching. Two of our consecrated, talented laymen in Jackson started meetings April 20 in Brooklyn. Elder Robert Wiese, assisted by Elder Harry Freese, launched a series in Munising May 3.

The Pioneer Memorial, Stevensville, Eau Claire, Benton Harbor, and the Benton Harbor Main Street churches are preparing the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area for a series of meetings in those twin cities. Dr. Steven Vitano will be the evangelist for these meetings. A field school will be directed by Elder Paul Cannon in connection with this program of evangelism. The Berrien Springs, Buchanan, and Niles churches are preparing the Niles-Buchanan area for a strong evangelistic series. Elder Oliver Johnston will be the featured evangelist. He will be assisted by Elder George Coffen, pastor of the Berrien Springs church, and Elder E. J. Stevenson, pastor of the Buchanan and Chikaming churches.

Larry Caviness and a group of youth are preparing New Buffalo for an evangelistic series, and Elder George Coffen will have a prominent part in the meetings that are to be held there in June. The youth of Pontiac, Jackson, and Flint are looking forward to youth evangelism in their cities in August.

We solicit the earnest prayers of all our members in behalf of these meetings. We also solicit your faithful support by your personal attendance, and by bringing your interested loved ones and friends to the meetings.

A later report will be given as we near the time for other meetings to begin that we have not mentioned here. We hope we have not missed any now in progress.

Let every member of the church step into the ranks of the growing army of soul winners who have set their hearts and purposes to meet the challenge of a finished work.

Detroit Residents Attend Five-Day Plans

April 14 marked the opening night of the first of a series of three Five-Day Plans to Stop Smoking in metropolitan Detroit.

It all started when Dr. Arthur Weaver of the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist church was approached by the Michigan Cancer Foundation and requested to co-sponsor the Five-Day Plan.

The first such clinic was conducted at the theater of the Henry Ford Museum in Greenfield Village, where Pastor Ervin K. Thomsen of the Detroit Metropolitan church lectured about the psychological implications of smoking withdrawal. Dr. Weaver, assistant professor of surgery at Wayne State University, dealt with the medical aspects of the program. The average attendance was about 250 persons.

Radio and television stations gave periodical announcements about these events, and WXYZ-TV spent an entire evening filming the program, parts of which were scheduled for evening newscasts during the week of April 27 through May 2.

Subsequent clinics were held in Grosse Pointe on the east side, and in the Fischer Center on Detroit's north side. Participants in these clinics included Elder Ray Hamstra of the Van Dyke church and Dr. Alfred Lui of the Oakwood Boulevard church.

She's 102, But You'd Never Know It

Mrs. Angie Turney of Mt. Pleasant recently celebrated her 102nd birthday with complete trust in God. "Aunt Angie," as she is known to many, came from England at an early age and took nurse's training at the Battle Creek Sanitarium. Her mind is still clear, and she can quote Scripture from memory. She has always been impressed by the knowledge that the cardinal truths of the Adventist church were established within a short period of time and have stood the test of the years which followed.

PLAN NOW FOR TESTIMONY COUNTDOWN

Why not plan a "Testimony Countdown" prayer meeting program this fall in your church?

The April Ministry magazine outlines the tremendous success of the pilot program held in the Takoma Park church. Members said it was almost like a camp meeting every Wednesday night, with as many as 1,600 people in attendance.

Discover the Testimonies in your church through this fine program. The materials for this program will be available this fall from the Book and Bible House.

Request your church board to plan a time for this in your church. Read the April Ministry, and you will see the value of this program to each church member.

More will be sent out on this also on May 17, which is Spirit of Prophecy Day. The Testimonies are vital in our day.

Wisconsin Academy Music Festival Held April 13

The Wisconsin Academy Music Festival, held April 13, marked a "first" for Wisconsin church schools when 10 schools sent representatives to Wisconsin Academy for an elementary music festival.

The program was under the direction of Miss Louise Larmon, vocal music teacher at the academy. The massed choirs were accompanied by Miss Gwendolyn Husted, also of the academy staff. Miss Mildred Summerton, vice-principal, welcomed all to the festival. Benjamin Beck, principal of Milwaukee Junior Academy, gave the invocation. Melvin Rosen, Jr., conference educational superintendent, introduced the program.

The 188 students who participated sang four numbers as a massed choir. There were eight special numbers presented by the various schools participating.

Schools taking part in the program included Milton, Bethel, Clear Lake, Green Bay, La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Oakland, Portage, and Columbus. It is hoped that more schools will be able to participate in this rewarding experience next year.

A big thanks to the academy administration and faculty for the good lunch they served to all of us and for the use of their fine facilities to make the day such a success.

Melvin Rosen, Jr.

Students Tell Their Reaction to the Festival

Hattie Waagen, Milwaukee Junior Academy—As a member of one of the choirs that participated in the first Elementary Music Festival of Wisconsin Academy, I know how much work was put into this program.

Practicing is not very exciting, but it is a job that must be done and one that brings pleasing results. At the music festival, when the many choirs joined together, the results were pleasing. I believe that if this type of program will continue, it will develop into an annual event for the schools of the Wisconsin Conference. Much credit must go to Miss Larmon for her patience and understanding and to the choir members themselves for their willingness to cooperate.

Dale Saunders, Madison Church School—Sunday, 10 schools joined in a choir at the academy. I'm very grateful for the lunch and I hope everyone else was too. There were some things we could have done better, like watch Miss Larmon and come out louder. I think this gives me a little idea of when we go to heaven and all the angels will be singing, and I hope I did my part.

Miss Mildred Summerton welcomes visitors to the music festival.

Bart figures every angle.

He walks the tightwire between cost and price, and he manages to walk off with a plump profit nearly every time. It takes brains. It takes nerve. And it takes him down the prosperous road to nowhere.

Lord, show Barton Griggs the ledger that really counts. Get him to figuring the angle that really figures: "What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" Show him the security that will still be there when the world is a total loss. "These Times" is going to help You do it. It will be there with hard facts and sticky questions and warm appeals every single month. And You'll be there too, won't You, making it all add up to a good investment for Barton Griggs?

TEACHING MATERIALS CENTER WILL BE HELPFUL TO TEACHERS

The James White Library will enlarge its curriculum room this summer in order to house more textbooks, visual aids, and other materials of the Teaching Materials Center (T.M.C.).

The center is a valuable asset to elementary and secondary education majors and community teachers. One aspect is the textbook collection of 15 to 20 different publishers. These are put there at no cost in order that prospective teachers will be able to compare the textbooks for content.

Another aspect is the curriculum guides of courses of study that other schools are using. For example, the center has the complete course of studies that the schools in New York State are using.

Correlative material such as films, film strips, maps, slides, projectors, workbooks, games, and other material are available to the student. He can then compare what methods and material are available for use.

Other features of the center are: instructional kits, child and adolescent literature, catalogs of equipment, remedial reading material, and educational pamphlets.

According to Dr. George Akers, associate professor of education: "Enriched teaching depends heavily upon the element of variety for impact. One principal purpose of the teacher-training program is to provide a variety of teaching materials that will serve as springboards for imaginative application in the classroom."

ADVANCE PLACEMENT PROGRAM DESIGNED FOR ACADEMY SENIORS

Andrews University Academy will participate with Andrews University in inaugurating the advance placement program next school year in English and history.

The program will offer a high school student both college and secondary school credit for certain courses. It is based on the fact that many students can complete college-level courses while they are still in secondary school and on the desire of participating colleges to encourage and recognize this achievement.

Dr. Graham Down, associate director of the Advance Placement Program, New York, recently spoke to 60 academy students about participating in the program. He explained that a student must take a special test upon completion of an advanced placement course. Upon successfully completing this examination, he would be eligible for a year of college credit in the same course.

Russell Knudsen, academy registrar, stated that about 70 high school juniors and seniors will participate in the program next year.

GRADUATE STUDENTS GO INTO S.D.A. WORK

Of the 419 Andrews University M.A. graduates from the spring of 1964 through the spring of 1968, 330 have gone into educational work of some kind; and of these 330 graduates, 191 or approximately 57.8 per cent have gone into Seventh-day Adventist educational work.

This 57.8 per cent includes teachers, principals, deans, missionaries, and personnel associated with union conferences both in the United States and abroad.

The other 89 of the 419 graduates can be listed under four categories: those for whom A.U. has no record of post-graduate plans; those who went into work other than education, such as employment with private enterprise; those who are retired, housewives, or are in the army; and those doing post-graduate and doctoral work.

All figures are based on the students' plans at the time of their graduation, on information supplied by the college departments, and on personal correspondence between the graduates and the A.U. graduate school. All figures are, then, approximate due to the graduates' changing occupations and schools.

The percentage of students that go into Adventist work is probably higher than indicated because a number of the 32 doctoral candidates planned at the time of their graduation to teach in Adventist colleges upon completion of their doctoral degree.

Perhaps the percentage would be higher yet if students did not have school debts to pay, making it imperative for some to go temporarily to higher-paying occupations at secular schools.

Secretaries Honored During Their Week

Twenty-nine secretaries serving the administrative offices and departments of instruction were honored to climax the celebration of National Secretaries Week on Andrews University campus.

Administrative officers placed a rose and letter of appreciation on each secretary's desk.

Coordinating the celebration were the public relations office and the department of secretarial science, whose chairman, Miss Bonnie Jean Hannah, stands fifth from the right on the front row.
