NEW LOOK IN STORE FOR SERVICEMEN'S MAILING PROGRAM

To reach every Seventh-day Adventist church member on active duty in the U.S. military service is the goal of the National Service Organization. It is endeavoring to bring the church to those who are away from their home churches while in the service of their country.

A new look has recently been given this program. Two major changes have been made: (1) The servicemen's mailing list has been computerized; (2) Every person on the mailing list is now being sent the Military "Five-Pack" consisting of the Review and Herald, Youth's Instructor, Message, Signs of the Times, and Listen. A number of advantages have been realized by putting the mailing list on the computer. Not only has the processing time for handling new names and changes been greatly reduced, but utilizing only one list has reduced the number of areas where errors might occur.

The future promises even greater advantages. It will soon be possible periodically to provide all local MV secretaries with the names and addresses of servicemen from their conferences. The completeness of these lists will be determined by the information sent to our office. The computer will also pull out the names of men rotating home from overseas so that change of address cards can be air mailed to these men, enabling their five church papers to follow them to their new assignment in the States. The computer can work wonders.

It can work wonders IF we provide correct and current information for it. Here is where we need your help. We must count on you parents, relatives, and especially you servicemen yourselves to send in the information needed. Please let us hear from you soon. Pastors, MV secretaries, and others, do continue sending in names, but we must depend mainly on families involved.

We are anxious to contact every serviceman possible. Fill out the blank below and mail it to us immediately. If the name is already on our list, we will compare to be sure ours is correct. If the name is not on, it will be added. We will see that your serviceman begins getting his church papers soon.

C. D. Martin, Associate Director

MICHIGAN STATE SENATOR HITS "PAROCHAID" AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

DETROIT—A Michigan state senator, Sander Levin, told a Detroit meeting of Citizens to Advance Public Education that "parochial" bills would violate the constitutional principle of church-state separation.

He also charged that the passage of legislation now pending would injure the public school system by diverting to private schools money that would have been available to the public school system.

INSTANT ORDINATIONS FLOW FROM CALIFORNIA

SAN JOSE—In the San Jose Mercury-News there appeared an item on how to become an instant minister. It's really quite simple, said the story.

The Universal Life Church, Inc., of Modesto, California, issues ordination certificates upon request. All one needs to do is write a letter to Dr. Kirby Hensley, president of the church, requesting ordination. The cash outlay is slim—six cents for a U.S. stamp.

According to the newspaper's report, Universal Life Church has ordained 17,000 persons since 1962. It added that the practice could cause chaos for Selective Service Boards handling applications for deferments.

ADVENTISTS TO USE COMPUTER IN MANPOWER STUDY

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Seventh-day Adventists will use an electronic computer and modern data-processing equipment to collect information on their denomination's manpower resources. The church has more than 60,000 workers who direct some 15,000 churches and operate 5,160 medical and educational institutions.

A Manpower Study Committee will collect and analyze information on a continuing basis. This will be used in the placement of workers and in career promotion and vocational guidance of the church's youth.

UNIVERSITY'S RELIGIOUS STUDIES PROGRAM STARVED FOR FUNDS

MADISON, WISCONSIN—The University of Wisconsin has a problem. How can a department of religious studies, established by order of the state legislature, be maintained without funds? Faced with this dilemma, Chancellor J. Martin Klotsche of the Milwaukee campus appealed to the Joint Committee on Finance for $50,000.

The legislature directed formation of the department two years ago. The university needs a fourth professor and a budget appropriation for the department which students asked for and legislators approved. Earlier budgeted funds were cut off by Governor Warren P. Knowles, Chancellor Klotsche noted.

MOODY AGENCY SENDS BOOKS TO SERVICEMEN IN VIETNAM

CHICAGO—Nearly 25,000 paperbacks have been shipped to chaplains in Vietnam by the Moody Literature Mission, the distribution unit of the Moody Bible Institute. Books sent for distribution to servicemen included copies of "Beyond Combat," a book published by the Moody Press last fall. It was written by James Hutchens, chaplain for the famed Green Berets.

WILSON GOVERNMENT OPPOSES NEW DAY FOR CHRISTMAS

LONDON—Christmas Day will continue to be observed on December 25 as long as the Wilson government is in power in England. This was made clear in the House of Commons when Home Secretary James Callaghan rejected a motion introduced by six Conservative members calling for Christmas Day to be permanently fixed on the Sunday nearest December 25.

Initiator of the motion was R. Gresham Cooke, who was incensed by the industrial disruption caused last Christmas when the feast day fell in midweek, and millions of workers made almost the whole week a holiday.

ROMNEY NAMED CHURCHMAN OF YEAR

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Secretary of Housing and Urban Development George Romney has been named Churchman of the Year by the Religious Heritage of America. Romney is past president of the Mormon Church's Detroit Stake, or conference, and is the first member of his church to be selected for the annual award.

Religious Heritage has also named Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale Church Woman of the Year. The honor was conferred in recognition of Mrs. Peale's lifelong dedication to a variety of church and civic causes.

ADVENTIST YOUNG PEOPLE EXCEED BAPTISMAL GOAL SET

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Seventh-day Adventist young people are ahead of their schedule to win and baptize 100,000 other young people during a four-year period. With two and a half of the four years past they have won 93,373 new converts.

More than half a million young people around the world held nearly 20,000 evangelistic meetings which resulted in 25,200 converts. Others were won by private Bible studies in the home and other projects.

BAPTIST CHURCH HOLDS SUNDAY SCHOOL ON MONDAYS

DETROIT—Attendance at Sunday church school at the North Farmington Baptist church has declined as a result of the long-weekend type of family living that is prevalent in the area. After trying many things to correct the situation, the church decided to hold church school on Mondays for one hour and 45 minutes after school.

The Monday church school is considered a tremendous success. Near capacity enrollment has been reached with most students attending regularly.

CAMP DESMOND T. DOSS CANCELLED

On May 8 the General Conference Committee voted to cancel the 1969 National Medical Cadet Corps Camp at Grand Ledge, Michigan. This was done because of the insufficient number of applications which have come in.

Camp Doss will be held next year, and in addition several union conferences will have union-wide M.C.C. camps as well.

CORRECTION

The table of statistics recently given on our elementary and intermediate enrollments in the Lake Union seemingly were incorrect because of some old records that had been sent to us. In checking our up-to-date records that have come to us directly from the conferences, we have a grand total for enrollments in the Lake Union for kindergarten through grade ten as follows:

|                   |       |
|-------------------|-------|
| Illinois .....    | 946   |
| Indiana .....     | 698   |
| Lake Region ..... | 973   |
| Michigan .....    | 3,067 |
| Wisconsin .....   | 592   |

This gives us a grand total of 6,276, which stands high in our denominational reckoning.

We are indeed happy for the young people who are attending our schools.

A. G. Munson

A. G. MUNSON TO BECOME GENERAL MANAGER OF V.O.P.

Alvin G. Munson, who for many years has been a member of the Voice of Prophecy board and is well acquainted with the broadcast's goal of making the gospel known to millions through radio, was recently elected general manager to succeed I. E. Gillis who, after serving as general manager for 19 years, is retiring July 1.

Elder Munson has served for nearly 35 years in one capacity or another in the field of financial administration, as well as giving spiritual leadership. He is thus well qualified to take over management of the multi-faceted evangelistic broadcasting center.

He comes to The Voice of Prophecy from the Pacific Union Conference, which he has served as treasurer since 1966. Prior to that year his position was that of executive secretary of the Southern California Conference from 1962 to 1966, except for a short time when he was assistant to the president of the Pacific Union Conference.

CONSTITUENCY REPORT

"The 'Hinsdale Idea' is to help people," W. P. Bradley, an associate secretary of the General Conference, said in an address at the biennial session of the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital April 17.

Bradley said it was God's plan for people motivated by love to help people. "If the presence of God is in the heart," he said, "how much more we can accomplish."

Success in realizing the goal of helping more and more people was indicated by hospital departmental reports, which revealed an increase in admissions, expansion of the hospital's physical facilities, and growth in the number of employees.

Controller Norman Prusia said that admissions of patients to the hospital over an eight-year period extending through 1968 were up 50 per cent. There were 16,600 patients admitted in the two-year period, 1959-60, and 24,000 in 1967-68. The number of outpatients increased from 69,000 to 135,000 in the same period.

Along with the increase in admissions was an increase in the number of employees, the wage scale, and employee housing. Salaries increased from $3,200,000 per biennium to $8,500,000 in 1967-68 as the work force went from 505 to 825. In 1954 the hospital owned only two off-campus housing units; now it is more than 100.

Mardian J. Blair, hospital administrator, enumerated the purposes of the institution as specified in the writings of Mrs. E. G. White: (1) to relieve the sick, (2) to disseminate light, (3) to awaken the spirit of inquiry, and (4) to advance reform. He stated, "Although these aims have been reached to a substantial extent, the goal for the future is to achieve these to the fullest. The most effective means for success in these objectives is through its personnel, and for this reason strong emphasis has been placed on recruitment of qualified, dedicated individuals."

A new department, merging the efforts of the personnel, payroll, and housing departments, plus the initiation of a new segment, staff development, was formed during the past biennium under the direction of H. H. Hill, assistant administrator for employee relations. An expanded employee orientation program was launched under the guidance of L. C. Stannard, staff development director, and the Leadership Training Program begun under Mrs. Kathryn Sieberman, administrative assistant, was strengthened and expanded to provide the staff with the training to do a better job.

In her report, Miss Grace Scheresky, director of nursing service, stated that although hospitals are made of stones and bricks, steel girders and mortar, and include oxygen pipelines, resuscitators, and many, many other "things," it is the people who work within who make it a place of help and refuge. She mentioned the remodeling of the pediatrics and psychiatric units, the air conditioning of the orthopedic area, and the addition of heart monitors in the coronary care unit as accomplishments during the biennium.

Associate Administrator W. H. Wilson reviewed developments in the Schools of Nursing, Practical Nursing, Radiologic Technology, and Medical Technology. Affiliation with Andrews University brought about the establishment of a baccalaureate degree program and the elimination of the hospital-operated diploma school of nursing. The last graduating class of 26 from the diploma school in August of 1968 brought the total number of graduates since 1908 to 1,196.

During the past four years 112 students have been graduated from the School of Practical Nursing, 21 from the School of Medical Technology, and 21 from the School of Radiologic Technology. All of the schools are fully approved, and authorization has been granted to increase the number of students enrolled in the two-year course in radiologic technology from four to six.

Mardian J. Blair, administrator, and F. W. Wernick, president of the Lake Union Conference, report to the Hinsdale constituency on April 17.

W. P. Bradley

Chaplain Willis C. Graves told of Christian witness in the hospital and the results in baptisms, comfort, consolation, and strength. He disclosed that in the last four years 16 literature racks have been the means of the distribution of more than 136,000 pieces of literature. He told of the use of closed-circuit television, which was begun in July of 1968 with two hours of programming each day. The time is now being expanded to two and a half hours per day. Graves said that since he and Charles L. Dale, M.D., started the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking here in March, 1963, more than 4,500 persons had graduated from the 35 plans and that interest in stopping smoking remains high.

H. E. Rice, the associate secretary of the General Conference Department of Health, spoke on "Seventh-day Adventist Hospitals in the 70's." He told the delegates that love, compassion, motivation, and dedication are the elements which have made Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital and for which it is known the world around. He stated, "A hospital serving a community as this fine institution serves must keep pace with the needs of the community and grow with it. . . . Your choice is to grow or shrivel. It is for you in this institution to keep pace with these new advancements with the confidence and assurance that every new truth discovered is a step toward God." He cautioned that as the potential to treat diseases increases, the important elements for which the hospital is known must not diminish.

F. W. Wernick, chairman of the hospital board and president of the Lake Union Conference, praised the administrative staff on the operation of the institution.

Looking into the future, Administrator Blair said that because the hospital is essentially filled, "it is readily apparent that a serious bed shortage will occur within the next 12 months. . . . To go forward means broadened service, updated facilities, and a possible bed expansion. With proper direction and with continued support and interest of the church at large, and the Board of Directors, the hospital will continue to improve its pattern of service."

The members of the Board of Directors who were elected are: Francis W. Wernick, president; William A. Nelson, vice-president; Mardian J. Blair, secretary-treasurer; Charles E. Bradford; Charles L. Dale, M.D.; Rodney E. Finney, Jr.; Richard Hammill; G. E. Hutches; Robert Dale; Albert C. Larson; William F. Miller; and R. D. Moon.

BROADVIEW ACADEMY HISTORY DEPARTMENT GETS COLOR TV

On March 21, A. M. Barton and Elder W. L. Fitch went to the Motorola TV distribution center in Chicago to pick up a 23-inch color TV which had been authorized recently by the Broadview Academy school board. Motorola has given B.V.A. an excellent price arrangement for a TV system.

This color television set hopefully will become a part of a complete TV system to be installed and operated in connection with all instructional departments in the school.

During the past three years Mr. Barton has been making a study of how television could be incorporated into the enrichment of B.V.A.'s educational program. Both J. L. Odom, head of the chemistry-physics department, and Mr. Barton have received TV systems demonstrations at B.V.A. and have made fruitful tours of various commercial and high school TV studios. Fortunately, Mr. Odom has had the background experience of building an instructional TV system at Canadian Union College, which included all of the components needed in a closed circuit complex. He has given much of his experienced guidance to research in long range development of instructional TV. Presently he is giving advice to the Home Study Institute, based on this research and experience.

There are very definite advantages that are to be gained by every student in the use of such a system.

For example, everyone in biology class can observe either by live TV or video tape, a demonstration of the parts of an insect or animal. By camera everyone has a front row seat in live or taped physics experiments which would ordinarily require much more time if observed in small groups. A team can rerun a taped basketball game and learn from mistakes how to improve their game. The history department, which tries to keep up with current world trends, is able to tape events as they occur and then replay them. Speech and voice training becomes much more refined when students have opportunity to study themselves. Also, school activities throughout the year can be taped in color and sound to be played back at camp meeting and various other occasions.

Listed here is generally the order in which the system will develop as funds become available: color TV sets, TV camera, video tape recorder, master antenna system, coaxial cables to classrooms, to dorms, to camp meeting, additional TV sets for classrooms, additional cameras.

This system is not to come out of the regular school operating funds; therefore, Mr. Barton has been appealing to those who wish to give monetary assistance or leads to sources of reasonably priced equipment.

Careful study has been given so that maximum performance can be had for a given amount of money. By doing the installation himself, Mr. Odom expects to operate the total system for $10,000, as compared to $50,000 involved in about the same amount of equipment at another Adventist institution.

Instructional television is another of the tools being added to Broadview's well-equipped program of Christian education.

Easter Egg Hunt Gives Joy To Poverty-Stricken Chicago Children

Saturday night, April 5, members of the Progressive Adventist Club of Chicago, under the leadership of their president, Freeman Dodge, gathered in the West Central church to dye and decorate over 1,000 eggs. The following day they held a big Easter egg hunt for children in the poverty-stricken areas of Chicago's North Side.

On Sunday, at about 12:30 p.m., many of the group from P.A.C. met at the egg hunt location to hide the eggs. Others working with the group walked to the parking area at 1028 West Wilson to meet with James R. Grisham, executive director of the Chicago Southern Center, Inc., who was instrumental in getting the children together.

Groups of children, with P.A.C. members leading, then walked to the park near Lake Michigan where the eggs had been hidden. When the signal was given to "go search," about 100 children scattered in every direction.

Within about 20 to 25 minutes, children were returning to the spot where the search began to show their catch. Those discovering the 24 specially marked "golden eggs" received chocolate bunnies, eggs, and boxes of candy as prizes.

Says Miss Jackie Minier, P.A.C. secretary, "special projects are being planned by the officers to raise funds to help these children, who are members of southern migrant families. All who attended the egg hunt and saw their grimy little hands and happy smudged faces as they left the park clutching their paper bags of eggs and chocolate bunnies, felt well rewarded for their efforts to bring a bit of joy into their lives."

PRESIDENT WRITES ON EVANGELISM AND CAMP MEETING SPEAKERS

The year 1969 has been designated as the year for coordinated evangelism in the Illinois Conference. Already we are beginning to see the results.

The first quarter of the year is usually a poor time for evangelism because of weather conditions. This year, in spite of the weather, the first quarter was found to be a productive time for soul winning. We had a good gain in membership. At the close of the quarter our conference membership was 7,540.

The first Sabbath of the Broadview camp meeting we will have among our guest speakers Elder F. W. Detamore and Mrs. Josephine Cunningham Edwards. We have good speakers and a good program for the entire 10-day period. Plan to be with us on the campground June 12 to 21.

W. A. Nelson

Students gather around as Principal Block sets the school's flowering crab tree into the ground.

Aurora School Plants Flowering Crab Tree on Arbor Day

On Arbor Day, April 25, the Aurora church school held a tree-planting ceremony. A tree of their choice was donated by the Fox River Valley Park District to schools throughout the city for Arbor Day.

Bruce Block, principal, placed the flowering crab tree in the hole the students had prepared. Two poems were recited: "The Arbor Day Tree" by Dale Pound, and "Trees" by the third and fourth grade students. All the pupils and teachers then placed their names in a glass jar, which was placed with the tree by Glenn Ewing.

BOOK AND BIBLE HOUSE NOTES

- A new camp meeting book stand continues to grow! This progress report as you read it is a bit delayed. When this issue of the Herald reaches your home, we may very well be sorting and distributing books, Bibles, games, recordings, gift items, and foods to their proper places.

- Another tremendous advantage that comes from being in our own building will be the large walk-in freezer for frozen foods. All our food stock will be in one convenient location, which will save much time in filling orders.

- It is with pleasure that we look forward to the Melvin Smith family being in our midst again to represent Loma Linda Foods. And in his regular spot, and with the same enthusiasm, will be our good friend Carl Anderson. Both of these men have become valued and vital to our camp meeting program.

- An overhead-door loading dock will greatly aid our customers in picking up their orders. With a private road to the rear of the book stand, we anticipate almost no congestion as experienced in past years.

- Do plan to enjoy camp meeting with us. We will count it a privilege to "see you at the brand new book stand!"

*E. L. Van Sanford, Manager
Illinois Book and Bible House*

Campgrounds Being Readied For Camp Meeting

Two congenial lay brethren, Bob and Jack Crabtree, have been working in our camp meeting grounds this spring so that every aspect of the yearly convocation might be in readiness. You will be surprised to see the many improvements and comfort features that have been added to make for the over-all attractiveness of the area.

Our camp meeting dates are June 13 to 21. All our people from Indiana and their friends are invited to attend. Hoosiers are urged to make every effort to come and receive a spiritual blessing.

Publishing Leader Has Rewarding Experience

You can never realize the blessings and joys in the literature work unless you have an experience like the following.

We were having a colporteur rally at the Indianapolis Glendale church on April 19, 1969. After the afternoon symposium, a young lady walked up to Elder and Mrs. Otis and said, "Elder Otis, don't you remember me?" Elder Otis told her he knew he had seen her face somewhere. She told him that he had called at her home, left Bedtime Stories, The Bible Story, and My Bible Friends, and had prayer with her.

Since that time she has come into the church with her family and has now decided to become a literature evangelist to help spread this wonderful truth. Now her three children are in church school, and her pastor says she is a fine, solid church member.

Elder Otis's first contact was three years ago. Wally Leonard passed a card on to Elder Otis, telling him that he couldn't find these people home, and was about to discard this lead. Elder Otis picked it up, and this is how his big week started.

You, too, can win souls for Christ. We never know what these good books will do to make a heart tender and ready for the message when it is finally brought to them.

If you want to have such experiences, contact your Indiana publishing secretary.

Elder Otis, Mrs. Betty Dye and her daughter, and Mrs. Otis get together to discuss their first meeting three years ago.

WELFARE CENTER OPENS AT MUNCIE

"Ready to Serve" is the theme of the health and welfare center in Muncie, where a new facility was recently opened at 2700 South Walnut Street.

Mayor Paul J. Cooley cut the ribbon that officially opened the center. Pastor A. W. Bauer of the Lake Union Conference, Mayor Cooley, and others affirmed in their brief remarks the place and need of such a center.

Statistics reveal that during 1968 a total of 274 persons were helped through our Dorcas society in Muncie, with an estimated cash value of $4,577.27 for the total program during 1968. Obviously, with a welfare service center now opened, this program can be expanded.

Ruby Brown will be the center director, assisted by other devoted Muncie members.

Pastor Virgil Bartlett and his church board are to be commended for this forward step in the Muncie area.

*Ralph Combes, Secretary
Lay Activities Department*

Mayor Paul J. Cooley of Muncie is shown cutting the ribbon to the newly opened welfare center in that city. Looking on are Elder R. O. Combes, lay activities director for Indiana; Paul Harney, lay activities leader for the Muncie church; Elder A. W. Bauer, lay activities director of the Lake Union Conference; Mrs. Ruby Brown, director of the center; and a representative from the Salvation Army.

COOKING CLASS FEATURED AT BURNS AVENUE CHURCH

Wednesday evening, April 23, was graduation night for the 12 ladies who completed the course in food and nutrition taught at the Burns Avenue church by Mrs. Virginia Allen, who holds a B.A. degree in home economics from Andrews University. Certificates were presented by Elder Thomas Kelly, pastor, who gave them the charge to make home a happy place where all the family needs are better supplied.

Each class member gave a one-minute testimonial as to benefits derived from the instruction. Among them were expressions of appreciation for the new ways and methods of food preparation, for inspiration in stimulating more joy and satisfaction in being a homemaker, and a knowledge of how to better supply family nutritional needs.

This course, under the direction of Elder R. W. Bates of the Lake Region Conference, used the General Conference Medical Department manual entitled Food, Health, and Efficiency by Marian Vollmer, dealing with problems connected with food toxicology, fads and fancies in food, protein cookery, and other vital subjects.

Throughout the 12 class sessions practical demonstrations of the Seventh-day Adventist health message were especially valuable. The class members participated in such activities as bread making and the preparation of various protein dishes, as well as the preparation of healthful desserts.

Keen interest has been aroused in the advanced class, which is to be given by Mrs. Allen after camp meeting.

SPELLING BEE RUNOFF HELD AT CAPITOL AVENUE

"I'm so nervous!" "I'll surely be glad when this night is over!" "I'm not ready!" "Oh, I can't do it. I'm too nervous!" "I couldn't eat a thing today." "I studied all day." Such expressions were heard the night of April 13 at the Capitol Avenue church in Indianapolis. The time was 7 p.m., and the occasion was the school runoff for the annual spelling bee.

After waiting for nearly a half hour for the special word caller, a substitute was selected, Mr. York, an English instructor from Attucks High School. Judges were Miss Barbara White, Mrs. Lewis, and Mrs. Lois Williams.

Mrs. Charles Gray, principal, offered prayer, and Jacqueline Mosley, eighth grade pupil, rendered a vocal solo.

Each contestant introduced himself by giving his name and grade, after which the rules were given and it all began. The first word was "always," spelled correctly. All went well for the first few rounds, then an eighth grader sat down. For over a half hour most of them were still in the contest. Then there were only eight to battle; then seven, six, five, and now only four. Who would be the winner? Then for a very short time there were three. The excitement was high; only one girl and one boy were left.

The final contestant was asked to spell "dumbbell," which caused laughter to ripple through the audience. With the correct spelling of it, Samuel Flagg, Jr., became the winner of the runoff.

Prizes were awarded the top three contestants, Ronald McElroy, Lenita Sherrod, and Samuel Flagg.

Remarks and the benediction were given by the pastor, Elder Samuel Flagg. Sighs of relief mingled with words of congratulation for an evening well spent and a job well done.

The annual Lake Region Conference Spelling Bee was held May 10 at the Capitol Avenue school.

Former Church Members Return For Special Glenwood Service

More than 150 persons attended homecoming services at the Glenwood church, Saturday, April 26. Former members and visitors represented 18 different churches in three states and two foreign countries.

The homecoming celebrated the anniversary of the dedication of the church, which took place on April 26, 1902. The church was organized in August of 1901, and a school was opened that fall in the basement.

By the next spring the church was completed. The members had provided lumber from their own woods and constructed the building in their spare time. The school has been in operation continuously since it opened, with the exception of the 1918-1919 term, when there were no children of grade school age.

Dr. Charles Wittschiede of Andrews University spoke at the eleven o'clock hour. A potluck dinner in the schoolhouse was followed by a program of music, a short history of the church, and general reminiscing.

Family Nature Camp Has Changed Location

A change has been announced by the conference MV department for the place of Michigan's Family Nature Camp.

The announced date of August 22 to 28 remains the same, but the location will be Camp Wahdoon, Chetek, Wisconsin.

Camp Wahdoon is the youth camp for the Wisconsin Conference. Although in its early stages of development, it is still adequate for the needs of the family camp. Still largely in its natural setting, it will be the base of operation for side trips to other areas of interest to the naturalist. Those desiring further information should contact the Michigan Conference MV department and watch the columns of the Lake Union Herald for additional news on the 1969 Family Nature Camp.

Hiking Honor is Accomplished

Ten Allegan Pathfinders participated in a 15-mile hike recently to complete the 50 miles of hiking required for the hiking honor.

Those who went on the hike were John Ellsworth; Lorrie, Julie, and Jimmy Isaacs; Stanley and Patti McKenney; David and Steven White; and Charles and Jonathan Tripp.

Completing the 50 miles of hiking was quite an accomplishment for 13-year-old Jonathan. Up to two years ago, he wore leg braces. In August, 1966, he had major leg surgery, with both legs kept in casts until December. Then he was fitted with leg braces again.

In the spring of 1967, Jon was able to walk without leg braces. Since then, he has learned how to ride a bike and how to swim a little, as well as how to hike. Jon intends to try the 50-mile bicycle ride that the Allegan Agates Pathfinders are planning on to achieve their honor in cycling.

SAN BREAKS GROUND FOR ADDITION

Ground-breaking exercises were held recently at the Battle Creek Sanitarium for a new multi-million dollar three-story hospital addition. Appropriate remarks were made by Elder R. D. Moon, chairman of the Board of Trustees and president of the Michigan Conference, who then led a group of officials in turning over the dirt.

Others taking part in the act of ground breaking were Lawrence Crandall, vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees; Allen Lawson, chairman of the building committee; Dr. James R. Jeffrey, medical director; Dr. Albert J. Patt, chief of staff; Dr. L. Harold Caviness, head of the mental health unit; and Mrs. Muriel Crow, director of nursing.

Richard E. Lane, administrator of the sanitarium, was in charge of the exercises, and Chaplain Harold L. Flynt offered the dedicatory prayer. The Battle Creek Academy band furnished special music for the occasion.

Elder Robert D. Moon and Allen Lawson turn over the first shovelful of dirt at the recent ground-breaking exercises for the new addition to the Battle Creek Sanitarium.

Not content to use the ordinary silver-plated shovel used in the ground-breaking exercises, Richard E. Lane, hospital administrator, takes to the driver's seat of the huge excavator to help construction get under way in a hurry!

New Chapter of P.O.A.U. Organized in Flint

Two Seventh-day Adventists have been named officers in the newly organized Flint chapter of Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State (P.O.A.U.).

Elder Henry Kenaston, pastor of the South Flint church, was named as co-chairman, and George De Camp of the First Flint church is the chapter's treasurer.

P.O.A.U. has been in the forefront of the battle to protect the religious liberties of Americans. Seventh-day Adventists have been working closely with them in many areas. At this time when Parochialism is being pushed so strongly, it is well that a joint effort be made to keep church and state separate.

MV Department Says Thank You

The MV department thanks the laity for the camp offering which was received in our churches during March. The total of $3,189.75 will be a real help to the camp program.

The attendance at our camps continues to grow. Elder and Mrs. Harold Jewkes report over 6,000 people used Camp Au Sable last year, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Kane report over 7,000 at Scott Lake. These camps are being used summer and winter by church groups, Pathfinder clubs, and others.

Your offering will help us give even more efficient service to our church members. Thank you again for your support.

Camp Au Sable cooks are happy for the new stoves recently installed at the lodge. Archie Kane of the Scott Lake camp installed a new stove in the kitchen and new ovens in the bakery. The picture shows Mr. Kane and his wife preparing meals on the new stoves at a recent weekend camp.

Mother-to-Be in East Africa Has Shower in Absentia

A baby shower for Sylvia Clarke of Tanzania, East Africa, was held April 20, by members of the Fenton and Linden churches. Honored on behalf of their missionary daughter in Africa were her parents, Pastor and Mrs. Roscoe K. Nelson.

Gifts mailed to the Wilton Clarkes in Africa should arrive in two or three months—hopefully in time for the new arrival. Since the members had not as yet met Pastor and Mrs. Nelson's missionary daughter, a report of their work in Africa was presented in slides and a tape recording. Pictures and a recording will also be sent to Africa so the Clarkes can enjoy their shower in absentia.

The men and children of the church enjoyed the novelty of attending a baby shower with the ladies. After the program Mrs. Nelson opened the gifts in the absence of her daughter.

Honored on behalf of their missionary daughter in Africa, Elder and Mrs. Roscoe Nelson display some of the gifts that will be mailed to Sylvia (Nelson) Clarke in Tanzania, East Africa.

A.U. HOSTS 16TH CHOIR FESTIVAL

The voices of 600 elementary and intermediate school children were blended together in heart-warming music during the recent 16th annual Michigan Junior Choir Festival at Andrews University. The afternoon program was presented in the physical education building.

Eighteen schools from throughout the conference were represented in the massed choir. Twelve sang special numbers. Two schools presented instrumental group numbers: a string ensemble by Andrews University Junior Academy and a band number by the Battle Creek elementary school.

Music is emphasized in Seventh-day Adventist elementary and intermediate school training. If one of the teachers does not lead out in group work, a church member usually directs the youth in learning the selected numbers to present at the festival.

Professor Gerald Ferguson of Andrews University led the massed choir numbers; Mike Mottler from the campus speech department was master of ceremonies; and Miss Lily Pan from the campus music department was coordinator and accompanist.

The choir leaders and singers were thanked many times for their willingness to share their enthusiasm and talents with the guests. One director made this remark: "This has been a wonderful experience teaching and helping our little singers prepare for this festival."

To close the festival, "Let Not Your Song End" was sung with the hope that truly these words would live on in the lives of the youth who so enthusiastically performed their part in the program.

EVERY CHURCH MEMBER MUST LIFT HIS SHARE OF EDUCATIONAL LOAD

Contracts have now been signed for the addition of 26 student rooms and additional bathroom facilities to the girls' dormitory at Wisconsin Academy. Work should be in full progress by the time this article appears in print.

This project has been under way for approximately a year. A meeting of the constituency of the conference June 19, 1968, gave extended consideration to the requirements of the State of Wisconsin in regard to student housing. After several hours of discussion it was voted to add on to the dormitory. A meeting of the Academy Planning Committee in September recommended that the original plan be enlarged, and architectural plans were changed accordingly.

During the intervening months fund-raising campaigns were launched in the churches throughout the conference. These campaigns have been remarkably effective. While the goals set as yet have not been reached in some cases, the accelerated flow of funds has been gratifying. This is a marked testimony to the deep interest Wisconsin Seventh-day Adventists have in their academy.

Now that building has begun, we would urge our members to make every effort to see that the goals set are reached on time. Building costs have gone up at an alarming rate during the past months, and if this makes it necessary to borrow funds for this project, interest rates are equally high.

We must meet the requirements of the state. To do so means that every loyal church member must lift his share of the load.

*R. E. Finney, Jr.
President*

Wisconsin Cows Go to School

Why do we pledge and give to the building and growth of Wisconsin Academy? Why do we urge our members to give while sacrificing conveniences, luxuries, even necessities? Because we believe in Christian education as one of the best ways to save our youth from the error being taught in the schools of the world. Our schools are the best place to prepare our boys and girls for service to the church and for a place in heaven.

Is the sacrifice too great? The Clear Lake church does not think that it is. Members have pledged more than enough to reach an accelerated goal by June 30. To help with this goal, they have at least three cows that are going to Wisconsin Academy, not for an education, but to help build the needed facilities.

Ground Breaking Held for Milwaukee School

On Sunday, April 27, ground-breaking ceremonies for the new quarter-million-dollar junior academy for Milwaukee area Adventists was held on a 10-acre site at 10900 West Mill Road.

Elder C. L. Huff, pastor of the Milwaukee Central church, welcomed the guests. G. H. Crumley, conference treasurer, offered the opening prayer. Elder Glenn Aufderhar, pastor of the Waukesha and Milwaukee Concordia churches, presented the devotional.

Other participants who spoke briefly were Melvin Rosen, Wisconsin Conference educational secretary; Dr. Ernest Theiss, chairman of the junior academy board; Alderman Miller, representing the city of Milwaukee; Mr. Nell, realtor; Mr. Rugg, architect; Ben Beck, principal of Milwaukee Junior Academy; and Michael Sulen, assistant pastor.

CONFERENCE EMERGENCY SERVICE VAN READY FOR DISASTER RELIEF

Several work bees involving office personnel and laymen from the surrounding churches have put the finishing touches on the Wisconsin Conference emergency service van and prepared it for service.

There are 128 large drawers and 31 cabinets for storing supplies of clothing, bedding, first aid equipment, etc. When the van is completely equipped, it will have a kitchen unit, first-aid station, water supply, generator, fire extinguishers, and emergency tools.

The churches of Wisconsin have been making up packets of clothing, and the Red Cross has donated about five tons of surplus army clothing. The van has been filled with these supplies. Many reserve boxes have been prepared.

Red Cross officials, certain of disastrous floods along the Mississippi River this spring, said they were planning on calling on the Adventists for help. The church is trying to be prepared to demonstrate the practical aspect of Christianity—that of helping our fellowman in time of need.

E. E. Wheeler Lay Activities Secretary

Here is an interior view of the van as Hubert Moog, Pastor Rudolph Dolinsky, James Herr, and Marilyn Dolinsky install drawers.

FIFTEEN JOIN S.D.A. CHURCH AS RESULT OF EAU CLAIRE MEETINGS

As a result of a four-week series of evangelistic meetings held at the Y.M.C.A. in Eau Claire, 15 persons were baptized. Elder R. A. Thompson, Wisconsin Conference evangelist, was the speaker for the series; Pastor Mike Sulen from Milwaukee led the music; and Pastor James Snell of the Eau Claire church was the associate evangelist.

For the past nine months the It Is Written telecast has been viewed in the Eau Claire area. Hundreds of people responded to a film clip of Pastor Snell offering a free Bible and study guides. The Eau Claire church members faithfully followed up these requests with personal visits, and each of the contacts was given an invitation to the meetings. Many of these people came, and many who were baptized are from this group. These folks had no previous contact with the Seventh-day Adventist church.

While 15 have been baptized so far, another baptism has been scheduled for the near future. A number of folks are studying and are planning to be in that baptism. We have been thrilled as we have seen God working in human hearts and ask that you pray for the many others here who are now making their decisions.

Pastor James Snell

HOMECOMING DAY BRINGS 300 FROM 15 STATES

Homecoming at Andrews University brought over 300 alumni with their families to the campus on the weekend of April 25 to 27, from 15 states and Canada and representing 53 graduating classes, the earliest 1909. Mrs. Grover Fattic of Niles, Michigan, completed advanced normal training at Andrews (then Emmanuel Missionary College) in 1909.

Special citations at the homecoming function were given to Walter E. Murray from Loma Linda, California, class of 1919, who was nominated to Andrews University's Hall of Fame list; J. R. Shull, Mount Vernon, Ohio, '39, who was honored as alumnus of the year; J. E. Fetzer, '27, Detroit, recognized for his receiving the 1969 Distinguished Service Award of the National Association of Broadcasters; and Mrs. Opal Hoover Young, Niles, '26, given a citation of merit.

Visiting alumni participated in weekend activities of the religious services and entertainment. Discussion in various areas of alumni interest were conducted during the weekend.

"The Crisis Facing Church Related Schools" was monitored by Charles Hirsch, a former vice-president of the university, now educational secretary of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

"Creationism: Positive Evidences Found in Certain Areas of Science" was presented by Dr. Leonard N. Hare, professor of biological sciences. He was supported by a team of scientists: Dr. Harold G. Coffin, professor of paleontology; Dr. Richard M. Ritland, professor of geology; Dr. Dwain Ford, professor of chemistry; and Dr. James Van Hise, associate professor of physics.

W. E. Murray, a former vice-president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, receives a citation from the Andrews University Alumni Association tendered to him by Dr. Richard Hammill, president of the university, at the association's homecoming luncheon the last of April.

The citation reads in part: "Great persons are evaluated only with the passing of time. And, scanning the years, the Andrews Alumni Association wishes to honor as the first candidate for its Hall of Fame, Walter E. Murray, class of 1919."

Murray and his wife (Golda James Murray, also of the class of 1919) came from their home in Loma Linda, California, to attend the homecoming function.

Mrs. J. D. Young, editor of A.U.'s "Focus," displays the citation of merit awarded her at homecoming by the Alumni Association. It reads in part: "Opal Hoover Young has adorned her profession as educator, writer, publicist, and editor. . . . It is to extol her outstanding gifts, consistent Christian virtues, gracious character, and long years of loyal service that the Alumni Association of Andrews University proudly presents this instrument as a tribute to her accomplishments."

A third group considered "Problems in Taxation and Investment." On hand to present the problems and answer questions were Floyd Costerisan, C.P.A., Benton Harbor; Elton Ashton of the Ashton and Company Investment Securities of Detroit; Jack Werner of the Werner and Goodman law offices, Milwaukee. Supporting them were men in related fields who will present other phases of the problems at next year's homecoming; Attorney Lee Boothby, Niles; Stanley C. Johnston of South Haven, with New York Life Insurance Company since 1950; and P. T. Jackson, director of development at Andrews University.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Sherman were guest performers with the Collegians, Andrews University traveling choral society. The Shermans came from Monterey Park, California, to participate in the homecoming weekend.

Mrs. Raoul Dederen, curator of the Andrews University Heritage Room, shows an early document to some of the 250 alumni who visited her special display in Lamson Hall at homecoming.

SUMMER SESSION AT ANDREWS

The College, School of Graduate Studies, and Seminary at Andrews University will offer courses during the summer of 1969. Registration dates for the summer sessions are Sunday, June 15, and Wednesday, July 16.

The general bulletins are available upon request. For information concerning admission, fees, etc., write to: Director of Admissions, College or Director of Admissions, Graduate Divisions, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

PIANO WORKSHOP TO BE CONDUCTED AT ANDREWS

A workshop will be conducted at Andrews University on July 14 to 16 for piano students, teachers, and performers.

Participants will study music listening and piano techniques. Composers' works to be studied are Scarlatti, Haydn, Mozart, Bach, Schumann, Chopin, and Brahms. There will also be a preview and review of teaching literature.

The workshop will feature Dr. Leo Podolsky, a concert pianist who has performed recitals around the world and a teacher who has taught at Sherwood Music School, Chicago, and St. Mary's College, South Bend, Indiana. Assisting him will be Miss June Davidson, a professional piano artist who has also edited several piano method volumes for young piano students.

Persons taking the workshop may earn one quarter of either graduate or undergraduate credit or may attend the workshop without credit on an audit basis.

For further information, write to Chairman, Department of Music, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

Education Professor Tours Guyana

Dr. Ruth Murdoch, professor of education at Andrews University, recently conducted a two-week workshop for elementary and secondary teachers in Guyana, South America.

In the workshop, she discussed the Christian philosophy of education and character development, methods suited to teaching different age groups, principles of teaching and learning, and specific problems of the 35 to 40 teachers attending the workshop.

In addition to conducting the workshop, Dr. Murdoch visited several Guyanan schools in session, spoke in five different churches, and conducted evening meetings for parents on maintaining a happy, successful home.

Andrews University has many students from that area of the world, and Dr. Murdoch states that this trip will help the teachers in the education department make their courses more relevant to these students.
