COVER

The new Shiloh church, located at 7000 South Michigan Avenue in Chicago, is without a doubt one of the most impressive and beautiful sanctuaries in the Lake Union. Read about it on pages 4, 5, and 6.

Photographs of the church were taken by Gordon Engen.

THEY'LL BE HOME SOON!

Youth congress delegates and tour members will arrive home this week from their three-week adventure in Europe. Although tour schedules varied, the groups from the Lake Union converged in Zurich, site of the first Seventh-day Adventist World Youth Congress, on Tuesday, July 22.

Meeting in Switzerland's giant Hellenstadion sports center, they have chatted and worked together with young representatives from such countries as Poland, Iran, Greece, Palau in the Pacific Ocean, India, Rhodesia, and Chile.

On Wednesday morning they heard Dr. Earle E. Cleveland, associate secretary of the General Conference Ministerial Association. He was a major speaker of the five-day event, presenting a series of three sermons. They were carried in simultaneous translation in four languages to the delegates in the sports center.

Besides attending meetings, the young people enjoyed the beauty of Zurich's lakes and colorful homes, business houses, churches, and the friendly ways of the city's people. They remained in Zurich until Saturday night, July 26, when the congress closed.

We have been receiving reports from Zurich via Telex, but are waiting eagerly for the pictures and first-hand reports the returning delegates will bring home with them. Several have promised to share their photos with us. Just as soon as we can collect these pictures and get the delegates to write down some of their impressions and experiences, we hope to publish a more complete report of the youth congress. —J.F.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gabriel and Mr. and Mrs. Mardian J. Blair board a Capitol Airlines jet at O'Hare International Airport. They are now completing a three-week tour which includes a stop at the World Youth Congress in Zurich.

Support Oakwood College On Sabbath, August 9

We cannot overemphasize the financial needs for promoting and producing a superior educational program at Oakwood College. To claim that we need money to produce educated men and women is an obvious oversimplification. Long ago we have learned that it is good business for the denomination to support education, for Christian education is still the greatest evangelistic tool of this denomination.

In the most rapidly moving and far-reaching era of change—catapulted by the great gifts and grants of government and foundations to the support of higher education—never before has there been so great a need for more and better education for Seventh-day Adventist institutions of higher learning in their ever-continuing struggle “to keep up” academically.

Available data indicate that governmental agencies, federal, state, and local, now provide about one half the funds employed in American higher education. Tuition, together with student fees and other charges, accounts for nearly 40 per cent, and private philanthropy the remainder of about 10 per cent.

The federal government's support of institutions of higher education is rising rapidly and constitutes considerably more than half of the annual budget of many schools. Even smaller undergraduate schools, and particularly black institutions, are reaping a rich harvest of government funds. Institutions are literally “popping up” overnight with such liberal support.

As a denomination, we have taken the position that we cherish our independence—doing what Emerson called, “Walking with our own feet, working with our own hands, and speaking with our own minds.” Yet, I would remind you that every year now we see private schools (committed to this philosophy) absorbed by tax supported schools.

It is not our intent here to be a purveyor of doom, but rather to introduce you to some very realistic considerations that we must face in our quest for survival and superiority at Oakwood College.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools has asked us to participate in a campus-wide college self-study program beginning in September of this year. Long before that study is completed, we will be aware that it will be necessary for us to make some substantial investments in the training of personnel, the acquisition of new equipment, and certainly, in the expansion of our facilities. Total annual operating costs, including capital expenditures must, of necessity, be increased.

The increased cost of goods and services, the labor and materials which go into the construction and maintenance of the physical plant, and the salaries of faculty and staff—all give us a part of the explanation.

Student fees remain a major source of institutional income. However, it begins to look as if increasing tuition is approaching a practical ceiling. Whatever the increase in student fees, economists tell us that they will not be proportionate to increases in institutional expenditures.

None of us have any question about the value of Christian education. We have no question about the importance of this institution in providing the manpower we need to further the program that we are operating within our denomination. We are committed for every practical and philosophical reason to the advancement of higher education at Oakwood College.

But, very frankly, we have to be sure that we are willing to put our money where our mouth is. A profile of our educational needs at Oakwood College is as follows:

Scholarships for students	$ 250,000
Faculty development (advanced education)	250,000
Development of basic operational resources including teaching materials, research, plant maintenance	1,000,000
TOTAL	$1,500,000

Therefore, it has become necessary for us to intensify our program aimed at private gifts. It is clear that unless there is some major increase in the funds available for the operation of Oakwood College, we will find ourselves in the most difficult of circumstances in the days ahead. We are calling upon our members everywhere to continue to invest in Christian education. This is the most important operation (a systematic program for the salvation of our youth) that we have in this denomination. Remember to give liberally at the time of the Oakwood College Offering on August 9.

President, Oakwood College*

President Urges Participation In “Testimony Countdown” Program

A spiritual revival is needed in every church. This revival will lead to more faithful obedience to the light God has given His people. The “Testimony Countdown” program which was used last year in the Takoma Park church is now available to all of our churches and will bring a real blessing to those who participate.

The plan is very practical and consists of a 10-week series of prayer meeting studies of the Testimonies written by Ellen G. White. These inspired messages will bring a spiritual revival to all who study them. In these confusing days, we need to review the light God has been pleased to give us. I urge our churches to plan to participate in this program this fall.

V.O.P. to Have New Field Service Department Head

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA—Norman J. Matiko, who for more than six years has served as lay activities, Sabbath School, radio-TV, and public relations secretary of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference, will on September 1 assume the responsibilities of field service director of the Voice of Prophecy. The major functions of the field service department include promotion of the Bible correspondence courses, follow-up of the courses, and the answering of questions coming in from students.

Elder Matiko was ordained to the ministry in August, 1962, near the end of his first pastorate in Regina, Saskatchewan.

by Gordon Engen

Members of the Shiloh Seventh-day Adventist church in Chicago have had a dream. In 1969 this dream became a reality.

The new Shiloh church is a bright light in the city of Chicago.

As is the case with most dreams, it took work to bring it into reality. Since 1962 members of this large metropolitan church have rallied around their pastor, Elder S. D. Meyers, to do more than dream of a new church.

Prior to 1962, Shiloh church members met at 46th and St. Lawrence for worship services. The school was at 39th and Lake Park. As a result of a search for property conducive to unifying the church and school program, they purchased a church and educational facilities at 7000 South Michigan Avenue.

The church sanctuary never was large enough to accommodate the congregation; thus, they met in the more spacious parish hall next door. The adjoining rooms provided space for their Shiloh Academy, a 12-grade day academy operated by the church and the Lake Region Conference.

At first it was not clear whether they should remodel the old church sanctuary or completely tear it down and build a new one. As time passed, the rapidly expanding congregation left only one choice—tear down the old building and build a large new church sanctuary.

The project was begun with three stages in the plan. The first called for remodeling of the parish hall, adding a number of school rooms, and refinishing the auditorium. The second stage called for building a new church. The third, adding a second story on the school for more classroom space.

In January of 1969 the second stage became a reality as consecration services for the new building were held. The week-long program began at the Sabbath, January 18, church service, with Elder Francis Wernick preaching the sermon. Then on each evening during the week special speakers were presented. They included a former pastor, currently a pastor-evangelist from Portland, Oregon, Elder A. Wellington Clarke; Elder D. B. Simons, president of the Alleghany West Conference; another former pastor, Elder H. W. Kibble, currently from New York City; Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, pastor of the Concord

Baptist Church of Christ, Brooklyn, New York; another former pastor, Elder E. S. Dillett, currently pastor of the Inkster, Michigan, church; and Conference President C. E. Bradford, who concluded the series on the second Sabbath, January 25.

One of the first projects undertaken by Elder Meyers when he became pastor of the Shiloh church in 1962 was to begin a fund-raising campaign for the new building. The old church had a seating capacity of 350 and was used for Sunday and Wednesday night meetings. The church membership now stands at 1,760. Members are active in soul-winning work, and in recognition of their efforts the church has placed two plaques in the foyer, one to honor the outstanding soul winner of the year and the other to give recognition to the outstanding Ingatherer of the year. Once the name goes onto this plaque, it is there permanently as part of the church history record. Above these plaques are pictures of all former pastors of the Shiloh church. The first person to be recognized for his soul-winning activities was George E. Cox, who was instrumental in leading five people to membership in the church during 1968. Already this year he and other members of the church are surpassing his own record of last year.

This is one of the friendliest churches in the Lake Union. Members like to have visitors, and they make them feel right at home.

On the exterior of the church are pictured the three angels of Revelation 14. The interior focal point of interest is the large stained glass window above the pulpit. It is a continual reminder of the Sabbath as part of the law of God. The bottom two rings of the mountain in the window are red, depicting the volcanic fire in the middle of the earth. The next two rings are predominantly brown for the strata of stone. The next two are gray for the clay. On the top of the mountain, the green represents grass. On it the law of God stands as it was given from Mt. Sinai, with the Sabbath commandment emphasized.

The interior appointments of the church are tastefully and beautifully done. The lighting fixtures were designed for the Shiloh church, incorporating the various colors of the carpet, pews, and windows. There are two lounge areas, in addition to the beautiful entrance foyer. Lounges are located in the basement and in the area behind the balcony.

On the basement floor are large rooms for the children's divisions. Offices include those for the pastor, lay activities director, treasurer, Bible instructor, deacons and deaconesses, ushers, and Sabbath School officers. The seating capacity is 1,200. The church is completely air conditioned with a 100-ton capacity.

Funds for the church came from the members in general, from the local conference, from the Lake Union Conference, and from the General Conference.

Elder Meyers has guided the Shiloh church through the second phase of the building program. He has accepted a call to the Southern California Conference to be pastor of one of the churches in Los Angeles. The pastor who is called to replace him will lead the church in the third phase of the rebuilding program.

On Sabbath mornings before and after church, strains of beautiful hymns come from the bell tower as a witness to this community that the Seventh-day Adventists are meeting here on God's Sabbath. May members of the Adventist churches throughout the Lake Union share the joy of the members of the Shiloh church for this outstanding monument to the work of God in Chicago.

Plaques in the foyer behind the hostesses give recognition to outstanding soul winners and Ingatherers of the church. Every year a new name will be inscribed on each plaque.

Four Receive Diplomas For Medical Technology Course

A special commencement exercise was held July 3 for four students in the School of Medical Technology. Jack Blume, instructor, called together an assemblage of medical staff and technologists in the lab library of the san to present diplomas and pins to Gary Allen Wilson, Tran Thi Ngor, Dung Marie Therese, Patricia Morgan Fisher (not shown), and Pek Song Chi, who have satisfactorily completed the course of study as prescribed by the san's School of Medical Technology.

Dr. Charles L. Dale, the principal speaker, presented diplomas to the four graduates.

Money Tree Adds Gaiety—and Cash— To Anniversary Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stannard celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary recently by picking 100 silver quarters off a money tree furnished by staff members of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital in honor of the occasion.

Mrs. Stannard is a registered nurse and Mr. Stannard is director of staff development of the san.

Another Practical Nursing Class Began July 6

Sixteen girls started in the School of Practical Nursing July 6 at the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital.

NEWS NOTES

- Galesburg is one of the most missionary-minded churches in the conference. It is hoped that these missionary contacts will produce much good in the near future.

- Galva, a few miles southwest of Kewanee, is a small town with not many more than 3,000 residents. The Kewanee church is now engaged in an intensive campaign to bring the gospel to these people. Literature evangelists from the entire state of Illinois have spent a week in Galva, selling books and enrolling residents in the Bible course. Evangelistic meetings are planned to be held there this fall.

Broadview Is the Place For All Illinois Academy Students

This coming August 24 many young people in Illinois will register at Broadview Academy for the new school year. The next day classes will start.

Why don't YOU plan to be there? If you don't know how you can get there, start praying and planning and talking—and it may amaze you how the Lord will open the way. Let everyone know, including the folk at Broadview Academy, that you want to come. One young lady who did this found that help came from several unexpected places. The Lord wants our young people in our schools. Don't wait for any special offering. YOU make up your mind to be there anyhow.

Elton Dessain, Treasurer

Sherry Born is at the teletype keyboard, while Craig Anderson, assistant for the computer programming class, examines the resulting tape before sending the program by telephone to the computer.

Broadview Expands Mathematical Offerings

Two new one-semester courses have been added at Broadview Academy on the senior level in the mathematics department for the coming school year. Final touches are being made for the installation of a teletype computer terminal connected to a large shared-time computer system at Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago. This will provide "hands on" experience with this new and powerful machine—the computer—that we find invading our present way of life.

At the present time we find many of our institutions are using computers. It is felt that academy students should have opportunity to become acquainted with this new career. The goal of the course will be to help students gain an understanding of computers and their capabilities as well as limitations.

The second one-semester course is directed toward students with less of a mathematical background, emphasizing practical mathematics. For this course, six rotary calculators have been added to the teaching equipment, and special material is being developed.

YOU CAN HELP!

The Illinois chapter of the International Wilderness Club needs privately owned woodland to teach the art of surviving in the wilderness. We need to dig wild edible plants, teach fire building for cooking and warmth, and shelter building using small native shrubbery (with conservation in mind, of course).

If you have wooded acreage, are willing to let a group use it under supervision, and desire more information about helping the club and its needs, contact: W.S.S. International Wilderness Club, Illinois Chapter, P. O. Box 287, Hinsdale, Illinois 60521.

This is an adult group. Members' ages run from 16 to 81. Any area within 500 miles of Chicago would be welcomed.

A REPORT ON BUILDING PROGRAMS

Walls for the Hinsdale church are nearly completed. Soon the roof can be put on, the building will be enclosed, and no further delays need be experienced due to the weather.

A strike has delayed the Moline building considerably. However, the Lord opened the way for them to use the school gymnasium across the street from their new building, so they are now meeting there.

The Elgin foundation is being put in, after having been postponed several times. Each time a heavy rain came, the excavation would fill with water.

Alton church members are completely remodeling their basement, installing new plumbing, and improving their heating and classrooms.

Joliet and Waukegan plan to use new school rooms this fall.

The foundation for the new North Shore school and gymnasium center is now nearly complete. This work has been difficult due to the closeness to other buildings.

Sunday, July 20, ground was broken at Broadview for a new gymnasium for the West Suburban school.

DECATUR DISTRICT NEWS

In preparation for the meetings to be held in Decatur this fall, the young people of the church are distributing the tract "Wonder," which is one of the penetration series. On Sabbath afternoons several cars with teams of children and youth go out to their designated sections of town. This work is under the direction of the lay activities leader, George Ryan. The goal is to take a tract to every home in Decatur.

Two of the churches in this district are receiving new paint. The St. Elmo church has been painted on the outside and the Decatur church is being readied for painting.

Our church in Decatur has had the privilege of hearing three guest speakers on recent Sabbaths. Elder V. W. Esquilla brought us a message on June 28, Pastor Martin Feldbush and his wife were here July 12, and Richard Clinite on July 19.

H. Hampton White

CHICAGO HEIGHTS SCHOOL ENTERS TWO CITY CONTESTS

The Chicago Heights church finished a good year of school. This past year the 16 students entered two competitive contests sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in Chicago Heights for all the Chicago Heights schools.

The first one was at Halloween when the students painted the merchants' windows. The second contest found our students eagerly working on a poster for the city's clean-up week. A $25 bond was to be given to the first-place winner. The winning school would also be given a trophy, and second- and third-place winners would also receive trophies. There must have been several hundred posters entered.

A second-grade student from the Adventist school, Carl McKenney, won third place in the clean-up poster contest.

Mrs. Uella McKenney

LAKE REGION

THE SHARON (MILWAUKEE) HEALTH AND WELFARE SOCIETY and Adventist Men purchased a new van to facilitate their work. Elder Franklin Hill stands by the van with some of the Adventist Men.

MR. HARRIS AND MR. TURNER of the Ecorse, Michigan, church receive Bibles and certificates for their students from Mrs. Annabell Childress, lay activities secretary. Their Go Tell project has resulted in a number of baptisms.

WINNERS AND RUNNERS-UP of the oratorical contest sponsored by the Peterson Academy are congratulated by Elder David Rand, Pastor Walter Jones, and Principal William Brown.

THREE YEARS AGO Mrs. John Guy, the pastor's wife, began saving trading stamps to secure a new piano for the children's division of the Ecorse church. Pastor and Mrs. Guy have moved to another conference, but the project has gained momentum. Mrs. Ethel Hill, who continued the project, listens approvingly as Mrs. Loretta Thomas plays the piano which was purchased with the trading stamps.

TWO YOUNG LITERATURE EVANGELISTS, Anthony and Gregory Reese, who are working their way to junior camp and saving their money for church school, practice their salesmanship on Miss Sharon Bradford before meeting the general public.

WORLD BAPTISM SABBATH COMING SOON

September 27 can be one of the greatest days in the history of the Adventist church. "In every church a baptism" is the motto around the world.

Jesus said in Matthew 5:14, "Ye are the light of the world." How important it is that September 27 be used as a special day to light the light of God's truth throughout the world in a way never done before. We in Indiana must join hands with those around the world in doing this.

September 27 should be a day that all of our people will look forward to, a day in which we can see around the world the fruition of our hopes in the finishing of the task. May we stand on this date with those for whom we have labored, with joy in our hearts, knowing that the task is almost done. Let us make September 27 a high day. That our prayers, our actions, and our deeds may all work toward this end is my prayer.

Robert L. Dale, President

Earl W. Heslop

Heslop Comes to Muncie District

Elder and Mrs. E. W. Heslop, with their young daughter Kristin, have accepted Indiana's invitation to come to the Muncie district and serve the Muncie and Portland churches. Elder V. L. Bartlett, the present district leader, is on a sabbatical leave to finish the requirements for his doctorate degree.

The Heslops have many years of experience in God's work, having served in Michigan for seven years and in Pennsylvania the past nine years. Their main interests in denominational work cover such areas as evangelism, public relations, and photography.

In evangelism Elder Heslop enjoys wide experience, having been the featured speaker for efforts in Marquette, Belleville, and Lapeer, Michigan. In Pennsylvania he conducted successful soul-winning programs in Carlisle, Lake Ariel, Honesdale, and New Castle.

We welcome the Heslop family to Indiana and wish for them every success and much happiness in helping to advance God's cause.

Glezen Boy Recites Memory Verses

One of the smaller churches in Indiana, the Glezen church, is one of those that is large in good works. Wayne (Butch) Moenkhaus is one of the children in the kindergarten that helps to make this possible. He has said all his memory verses for the last three quarters.

Rice Lake Has "Study-In"

The nights of May 31 through June 21 were busy and exciting ones for the Rice Lake church. A nightly program under the direction of Evangelist Glen Aufderhar and District Pastor William Kennedy proved to be a thrilling series that has quickened the evangelistic fervor of the entire church.

On June 21 and 28, nine persons were baptized. Still others have indicated a desire to study and prepare for a coming baptism.

Oldest Norwegian Church Rededicated

The oldest Norwegian Adventist church in the United States (105 years), the Oakland church, was rededicated after remodeling on Sabbath, June 7.

Elder R. E. Finney, Jr., former president of the Wisconsin Conference, preached the dedicatory sermon. Elder E. R. Priebe, pastor of the Madison district, led in the act of dedication.

Others participating in the 3 p.m. service were: Melvin Olsen, scripture and prayer; Pastor Jerry Fore, history; and Hollis Olson, benediction.

Pastor Jerry Fore preached the eleven o'clock sermon. Elder Finney and Pastor Paul Johnson also participated.

The first organization meeting of the church was held in the red schoolhouse of the district in December 1861 by Isaac Sanborn and W. S. Ingraham. S. A. Bragg was the first elder. He was later followed by Andrew Olsen, who held that office until he was past 70 and his health began to fail.

In 1864 a church was built, which is now 105 years old and forms the present sanctuary, although in recent years it has been added to and improved.

The rear of the Oakland church shows part of the old building. Adventists have worshiped here for 105 years.

The Oakland church was recently remodeled.

Elder R. E. Finney, Jr., speaks at the dedication.

Pastor Jerry Fore speaks at the 11 o'clock hour.

Bulletin Reports Interesting Conversation

An amazing conversation between a gas station man and the local S.D.A. pastor was reported recently in Pastor Lester Hall's church bulletin.

GAS MAN: "Say! Are you the ones sponsoring that, that..."

PASTOR: "The Amazing Facts radio broadcast?"

GAS MAN: "Yes! I wouldn't miss it for anything. I listen to it every day. It really is good!"

PASTOR: "Have you sent in for the Amazing Facts folders yet?"

GAS MAN: "Well, ah, no, I haven't, but I've been meaning to."

PASTOR: "Well, I just happen to have a set with me. Tell you what, take your pick of one and then send in for the rest."

GAS MAN: "I think I'll take the one on marriage. Thanks a lot. Fill 'er up?"

PASTOR: "Fill 'er up!"

"Tomorrow's Foods Today"

Mr. and Mrs. Verle Sossong have joined the Cedar Lake Academy staff in the capacity of grounds supervisor and food service director.

New Staff Members Move to Cedar Lake Academy

We are delighted to introduce Mr. and Mrs. Verle Sossong, who are joining the staff of Cedar Lake Academy.

Mr. Sossong will be grounds supervisor and his wife will be food service director. He has had numerous years of experience in this field at Auburn Academy in Washington, Madison College in Tennessee, and Andrews University. He is also a certified locksmith. His coming to Cedar Lake Academy will be a definite asset, and he will be able to give attention to the grounds as well as to the upkeep of our buildings.

Mrs. Sossong has worked in her field in a nursing home and as food service director at Madison College. For the past two years she has served as the assistant food service director at Andrews University. She is a member of the Hospital Institution Education Food Service Society, which is sponsored by the American Dietetics Society.

Their son recently received his Ph.D. in nuclear physics at the University of Washington. Their married daughter is a social worker, whose husband will graduate next year from Southern Missionary College with a biology major.

25th Anniversary and Farewell Dinner Given for the Drapers

A twenty-fifth wedding anniversary and farewell dinner was given for Elder and Mrs. William G. Draper in the Muskegon intermediate school gymnasium on Sunday, June 29.

Charles Haynie read a resume of the Drapers' life. After several items of entertainment, Alson Pusey presented a money tree gift from the congregation.

The Drapers will serve a church at Collegedale, Tennessee. Elder Draper, who underwent open-heart surgery recently, is leaving Muskegon for a warmer climate.

Church Pleads for More Help

A cry has arisen for Seventh-day Adventists who are tired of city living to move to Howell. This small, quiet, clean town, halfway between Lansing and Detroit on I-96, needs your church membership and Christian witness. The 27 members of the local Adventist congregation are planning to expand the work of the church but need more help.

Jobs are plentiful in the area and some shops are even advertising for Adventist help!

Give this need your prayerful consideration and write for further information to Walter Line, 6715 Bergin Road, Howell, 48843.

Welfare Sponsors Eight To Opportunity Camp

The Muskegon Seventh-day Adventist Health and Welfare Center sponsored four girls and four boys from the local area at Opportunity Camp this year.

The conference bus picked the children up at the church.

Mrs. Mildred Congdon, who recently celebrated her eighty-eighth birthday, has made a lifetime habit of Sabbath School and church attendance.

Good Habits Formed In Eighty-eight Years

Mrs. Mildred Congdon celebrated her eighty-eighth birthday July 8. She has been a faithful Seventh-day Adventist all her life and a member of the Decatur church for over 50 years.

In 1906 Mildred Parrish (her maiden name) graduated from Battle Creek Sanitarium as a professional nurse. She returned to Decatur where she assisted in surgery and in deliveries of babies in the homes. "In those days doctors did their work and then left a nurse in the home until the mother recovered," she recalls.

After her marriage to John Roth, she lived on a farm which became a welcome retreat for ministers and guests visiting the church. After Mr. Roth died, she spent a few years in California doing special duty nursing and working in one of the denominational hospitals there.

Returning to Decatur, she became the wife of William Congdon, a former patient of hers, and was instrumental in winning him to the Adventist faith.

About two years after Mr. Congdon was laid to rest, she suffered a light stroke and became a patient in the Jones Nursing Home of Dowagiac. She has been there for the past four years, but rarely misses a Sabbath service. "By the age of 88 a lifetime habit of Sabbath School and church attendance is pretty well set," laughs Mrs. Congdon.

Choir Performs in Zurich, Switzerland

A dream of a European tour has come true for some students from Cedar Lake Academy.

The 34-member choir was invited by the General Conference to perform at the World Youth Congress held in Zurich, Switzerland, July 22 to 26. They performed four times and also were included in the presentation of the numbers by the mass choir.

Their extended traveling included many of the most fascinating European cities such as: London, Paris, Geneva, Rome, Florence, Strassburg, Naples, and more. They left Cedar Lake Academy on July 17 and will arrive home August 7.

The choir is directed by Walter Wheeler.

San Receives Commemorative Plaque At M.H.A. Founders' Luncheon

Battle Creek Sanitarium was one of 34 institutions honored at the annual meeting of the Michigan Hospital Association which convened recently at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

At a founders' luncheon, commemorative plaques were presented by H. Allen Barth, executive director of M.H.A., to representatives of the 34 charter member hospitals.

Richard E. Lane, administrator of the sanitarium, and Lawrence E. Crandall, vice-president of its board of trustees, attended the sessions, which were in celebration of the association's fiftieth anniversary.

The association is a trademark of quality; a source of information and assistance; and a means to the improvement of hospital care.

Health care has become an industry these past 50 years, and this is due to no small part of the efforts of organizations such as M.H.A.

H. Allen Barth, right, executive director of M.H.A., presents Richard E. Lane, administrator of the Battle Creek Sanitarium, a plaque citing the Sanitarium as one of 34 charter member hospitals.

"Testimony Countdown" Can Counteract A.B.M. Attitude in Churches

The letters A.B.M. mean something to Americans today. They represent a missile system so powerful that people shudder to think of its power.

The letters A.B.M. can spell disaster for a church if they stand for the "Anybody But Me" attitude.

When the pastor asks for an increase in prayer meeting attendance, too many have the "Anybody But Me" attitude. Don't let A.B.M. kill your church spirit. One good way is to encourage your church to launch the new "Testimony Countdown," program this fall. Learn more about the Testimonies in your prayer meetings.

The "Testimony Countdown" program may eliminate the A.B.M. from your church. Think about it.

WORKSHOPS AND EXTENSION SCHOOLS HELD BY ANDREWS

Eleven workshops were conducted on the Andrews University campus this summer. They included sessions for residence hall deans, mission appointees, food service supervisors, community nutrition educators, lay nutrition instructors, secondary English teachers, secondary mathematics teachers, elementary music teachers, piano instructors, auto mechanics instructors, and journalists.

In addition, extension schools of the Theological Seminary were conducted at Newbold College and at Middle East College, an extension school of the education department in the School of Graduate Studies was held at Newbold, and summer study sessions for German and music students convened at Darmstadt, Germany, and Vienna, Austria, respectively.

Among the 22 graduates of the Food Service Supervisors Workshop at Andrews University this summer were (standing, right to left) Miss Esther David, Wisconsin Academy; Mrs. Berneda C. Castleberg, Bethel (Wisconsin) Convalescent Home; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reynolds, Cedar Lake Academy; Mrs. Cleora Jones, Broadview Academy; and Mrs. Charlotte Erhard, Indiana Academy.

The instructors (seated) were Clinton Wall, A.U. food service director; Mrs. Dorothy Christensen, workshop coordinator; and Mrs. Alice Marsh, chairman of the home economics department at Andrews.

MISSION APPOINTEES STUDY AT WORKSHOP

Tropical hygiene, world religions, nutrition in overseas countries, foreign language study, mission finances, mission anthropology, and missionary family problems were among the topics discussed by 30 new mission appointees and two returning missionaries at the Andrews University missions workshop. The six-week session concluded July 24.

The new and returning missionaries, sponsored by the General Conference, included doctors, nurses, teachers, mission treasurers, and one mission president. Also attending the workshop were 28 graduate and seminary students.

Guest speakers included K. F. Ambs, assistant treasurer for the General Conference; Edwin Gibb, associate secretary of the G.C.; and Dr. P. William Dysinger and Dr. Harrison Evans, both medical doctors from Loma Linda University.

The workshop was coordinated by Dr. M. O. Manley, chairman of the missions department at the S.D.A. Theological Seminary at Andrews, and Dr. Gottfried Oosterwal, professor of missions and comparative religion.

The majority of the mission appointees attending the recent Missions Workshop at Andrews will soon leave for service in Africa. In addition to the 19 persons going to Africa, three will serve in Japan; two each will serve in Brazil, Singapore, Cyprus and Turkey; and one is going to Pakistan. Two missionaries on furlough will return to Puerto Rico.

LIFESAVING DEMONSTRATION

Karl Dickerson, an Andrews University student from Coopersville, Michigan, practices external heart massage on a dummy, as Don Candy, right, campus protection officer, watches. Behind them, Ron Zabudsky gives mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to another dummy, as his partner, Andrew Adamczyk, waits to continue heart massage.

The lifesaving methods were recently demonstrated by Candy at the Andrews swimming pool, using equipment furnished by Fessco, a rescue equipment company in Niles.
