Publishing Department Changes Its Habits

Another booth arranged for by the Publishing Department was the temperance booth, where Elder A. V. Pinkney of the General Conference Temperance Department spent a busy three days interviewing thousands of Catholic educators.

Repeatedly as the Catholic nuns passed the Bible Story display in the Civic Auditorium in Minneapolis, they would stop, walk over to the counter, pick up one or more of the books, and exclaim enthusiastically, "We have this set of books in our library."

This year the National Catholic Educational Association was held from April 13 to 15 in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Because of the many contacts which Elder J. W. Proctor, Lake Union publishing secretary, has had with Catholic educators, the Home Health Education Service was invited again to display the Bible Story and other children's books at the N.C.E.A. meeting.

Such a display dates back to 1966, when the Bible Story was first approved by the chancery office in the Archdiocese of Detroit. The books have been displayed in many conventions across North America, and in 1969 at the N.C.E.A. meeting at Cobo Hall in Detroit, as well as many other larger meetings in North America.

According to Elder Proctor, the direct and indirect results of the parochial school sales in the Lake Union territory have been in the neighborhood of $1.5 million dollars since this type of advertising began in 1966. Bible Story is listed in many diocese directories in the Lake Union territory, as well as in many other directories and in hundreds of Catholic newspapers in the United States and around the world. The books have been received by Catholic educators throughout the world field.

At the N.C.E.A. Convention in Minneapolis, 3,129 persons signed their names, expressing an interest in receiving a book at a drawing held at various times during the day. Attending this convention were over 10,000 Catholic school superintendents, principals, teachers, directors, and other top leaders.

The N.C.E.A. is not the only educational convention at which Uncle Arthur's books have been displayed. Last January when President Nixon called the White House Conference on Children, officials contacted Elder Proctor to see if it would be possible for the H.H.E.S. to display books at the convention. The General Conference Publishing Department cooperated with the Lake Union in putting together that particular display.

Literature evangelists have been visiting schools represented by those who visited the booth, and in many instances have been leaving complete sets of books at the school for use in their reading rooms and libraries. One literature evangelist calling on six schools left over $1,300 worth of our truth-filled literature in five of those schools.

The future is bright. Soon we expect to see a completion of the work. It reminds us of Ellen G. White's statement: "God will soon do great things for us if we lie humble and believing at His feet. . . . More than one thousand will soon be converted in one day, most of whom will trace their first convictions to the reading of our publications."—Colporteur Ministry, p. 151.

The Publishing Department has a few territories open because of some of our literature evangelists receiving calls to leadership. Write to your local publishing secretary for more information.

National Camps for Blind Children Organized

After successfully operating blind camps for four years on a pilot program basis, the Christian Record Braille Foundation has organized a national program. The new free service will be known as National Camps for Blind Children.

To guide this phase of the work for blind children, C. G. Cross, general manager, today announced the appointment of Raymond N. Hubbartt of Orlando, Florida, as national director. His office will be in the national headquarters at 4444 South 52nd Street, Lincoln, Nebraska 68506.

Mr. Hubbartt has been associated with the foundation, first as a field representative, beginning in 1962. He was promoted to Southeastern Division director in 1964.

Hubbartt directed the first blind camp held in Florida in 1967. He has been responsible for two camps annually in his division.

During this first year of operation nationwide, six camps will be conducted. They will be held in state youth camps operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The program is nonsectarian.

In 1971 camps will be held in Florida, Virginia, Indiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and California.

Activities planned for the blind boys and girls includes all the things enjoyed by sighted children. Among the most popular are horseback riding, swimming, archery, and water skiing.

A unique method of supporting the blind camps has been initiated. Many thousands of books of trading stamps have been contributed by boys and girls and their parents. It is hoped that in the future Operation Blind Camp, conducted nationally, will bring in enough stamps and cash donations to expand the camps to every area where needed. Cost per camper is $50 for one week.

Commenting on his week at camp, one blind boy from Florida wrote, "I loved it! We swam and I learned to water ski, rode horses and we slept out in the tree houses and covered wagons. The campfires and everything else was great too. Thanks again."

Elder Proctor makes a draw with one of the parish priests, as a number of superiors and Elders R. G. Eno and J. D. Ring of the Northern Union watch.

INNER CITY EXPERTS GATHER

The first inner city workshop in the Lake Union Conference was conducted at the new community services center at Berrien Springs, Michigan, on Sunday, May 23, 1971.

W. W. Fordham, inner city coordinator of the General Conference, pointed out in his devotional message how the modern Jericho road runs through the ghetto of our cities and that it is there that we may find our needy neighbor.

R. W. Bates of the Lake Region Conference gave an interesting report on the free medical clinic and other activities at the Chicago center.

R. O. Combes of Indiana told about the Branch Sabbath School held each week at the center in Indianapolis. Mrs. Mary Thomas and R. D. Hamstra of Detroit told about the welfare center activities there and their plans for opening a free dental-medical clinic soon.

Mrs. Thomasine Wright, home economist for Marion County, Indiana, gave an illustrated presentation on the problems of the inner city family and how we may help them.

H. N. Ortiz, assistant director of administrative services, Chicago Committee on Urban Opportunity, listed the services available from government agencies and outlined the procedure to follow in applying for the help needed.

Xavier Butler, Lake Region Conference director of urban affairs, gave suggestions on how to conduct a referral service and how to help the people in a community become acquainted with the help that is available.

Miss Maybelle Vandermark, assistant secretary of the Lay Activities Department of the General Conference, outlined certain principles to follow that will help lead people to Christ while we minister to their physical needs. She emphasized the importance of a visitation program in making our spiritual ministry effective.

May God bless the united efforts of our people in carrying out an interracial outreach for the poor in the inner cities within the Lake Union Conference.

Inner City Program

"MV KIT" BEGINS THIRD DECADE

"Twenty candles for Kit." With these words Elder Theodore Lucas, former world youth leader, salutes MV Kit on its twentieth anniversary. He joins others who have guided Kit's course through the past two decades in saying, "Happy Birthday!"

A portion of the July-August-September issue is devoted to celebrating 20 years of service to the youth leaders of this church. Since 1951, when Miss Mildred Johnson painstakingly put together Vol. 1, No. 1, Kit has increased in circulation to an average in 1970 of 9,980 copies per issue. Today Kit is printed in Spanish, French, and Portuguese, and galley proofs of the English edition are sent to many countries for translation.

Kit will take a fresh, new approach in meeting the needs of youth leaders in the seventies. In addition to articles on youth leadership, Kit will begin to feature resource material, unstructured programs and an exchange of ideas and successful programs. Kit will continue to be packed with actual program material for young people from 6 to 60. Schools, churches, and MV groups will all find valuable programs and ideas for activities.

You may obtain a complimentary copy of this special anniversary issue by writing to Editor, MV Kit, 6840 Eastern Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. 20012.

LAKE UNION TO HOST SURVIVAL CAMP

The International Wilderness Club week of survival training, August 1 to 8 in northern Michigan, continues to grow. Jack Darnall, executive director of the Wilderness Survival Seminars International, will be with us to direct the camp together with some of his staff.

For information or applications please contact the Youth Department of the Lake Union Conference by phoning (616) 473-4541, or writing Lake Union Conference, Box C, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49103.

TEMPERANCE EVANGELISM SPARKS MISSION '72

Answering the greatest national and international problem of intemperance through alcohol, tobacco, and drugs, the General Conference Temperance Department has launched a church-member involvement program to reach every home requesting help.

This temperance evangelism plan, called Home Help, is designed to prepare the way for Mission '72 public evangelism.

Adventists have specific effective community programs to give help. These have now been geared for home presentation through the use of films, long-playing records, and the loan of specific books and magazines.

At the request of people in the community, church members will visit two by two with these aids. Bible study guides and films prepared cooperatively with the Lay Activities Department will be used to assist those seeking further spiritual help.

Kits outlining the procedures are now available to pastors from the conference temperance secretaries who are organizing this advance preparation for Mission '72.

No other organization or group has a plan or program to aid people in their homes with these problems.

A vegetarian meatball added the final touch to the buffet line for Mrs. Jessie Tupper Walton at the May 23 alumni banquet for Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital's School of Nursing. Mrs. Walton, who was Miss Tupper for the 33 years she worked at the hospital, represented the class of 1921 at the golden anniversary banquet.

Nurses Honor 50th Anniversary Class

The class of 1921 celebrated its fiftieth anniversary, May 23, at the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital alumni banquet for graduates of the hospital's School of Nursing.

Representing that class was Mrs. Jessie Tupper Walton, the "Miss Tupper" for whom the women's dormitory at the san was named. Coming to Hinsdale from Loma Linda, California, for the occasion, Mrs. Walton reminisced with other nurses who had graduated from the nursing course through the years.

As the director of nurses and director of the School of Nursing for nearly 30 years, Mrs. Walton knew many of the 75 alumni attending the banquet. She remembers first coming to the san in 1917.

"I was too young to take the nursing course," she said, "so I waited on tables, answered the telephone, and did odd jobs in the hospital for a year." The following summer she enrolled in the course.

When she finished the nursing course in the summer of 1921, Miss Tupper had to wait two years before taking the Illinois state boards when the School of Nursing became fully accredited. "We never lost our accreditation once we got it," she added.

She worked two years each as an office nurse in the equivalent of today's outpatient department, as the operating room supervisor, and as the medical-surgical supervisor before becoming the director of nurses and the nursing school in 1927.

In December of 1954, "Miss Tupper" became Mrs. Walton and left Hinsdale to make her new home in the West. Her husband, Dr. Harold Walton, was the medical secretary of the General Conference for many years; he has been the administrator of both the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles and the Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital.

Alumni at the banquet voted to continue the association, even though the last new members were added in 1968 when the final class graduated from the hospital's School of Nursing. (Since then, the hospital has been affiliated with Andrews University's nursing department, providing two quarters of clinical instruction in the baccalaureate program offered by the university.)

Miss Willma Pekinpaugh, president of the association during 1970-71, reported at the banquet that 1,196 graduate nurses are alumni of the hospital's School of Nursing, which graduated its first class in 1905.

New officers for the alumni association in 1971-72 are Sharon Shepler, president; Donna Bee, vice-president; Marion Blood, recording secretary; Kathleen Shuberg, treasurer; Wanda Poole, editor; Emmy Kuehl, assistant editor; Sallyann Gabriel, corresponding and address secretary; and Arlene Hart, assistant corresponding and address secretary.

The 1971-72 board of directors includes Grace Scheresky, director of nursing service at the san; and alumnae Evelyn Wiik, Jean Mallek, and Pauline Bowen.

The association's newsletter will continue, but on a twice yearly rather than a quarterly basis. Alumni of the hospital's graduate nursing school may write to any of the above officers in care of the hospital to be placed on the mailing list for the newsletter.

The address is Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, 120 North Oak Street, Hinsdale, Illinois 60521.

NEWS NOTES

• A most successful international supper was given the evening of April 25 by Mrs. Konnie Barker and Mrs. Charles Hostler, leaders of the Dorcas Society of Chicago's Austin church, with the assistance of church ladies. Over two hundred fifty persons enjoyed the Oriental-style foods. After supper, excellent entertainment was furnished by the various national groups which compose the membership of this unique church in Chicago. Profits exceeded $350.

• On May 22 Elder John Hayward, conference president, dedicated 12 babies in the Austin church.

The Haywards were welcomed to the Austin church with a potluck luncheon.

WEST SUBURBAN CHILDREN WIN CONTEST

The village of Broadview conducted its annual spring cleanup during the first week of May. As a part of this campaign the local public and parochial schools are asked to help with various activities. The schools this year were asked to participate in a coloring book and poster contest.

This contest was divided into two groups. Grades one through four were supplied ecology coloring books and grades five through eight were to construct posters on the theme for the week.

The West Suburban school children took two first place awards. Sheryl Woodin's coloring book and Gail Litchfield's poster each received a trophy from the Broadview-Westchester State Bank and the Broadview Fire Department. Monica Lubinski received honorable mention for her poster.

EARLY AMERICAN

Remember!! We want everyone to come dressed early American. This is our centennial year for Illinois. See you at camp meeting.

If you have an old car or buggy, bring it along to park on the campgrounds. This will help give our program that early century look.

THREE HONORED BY PATHFINDER CLUB

The Rockford girl and boy of the year awards in the Alpine Eagle Pathfinder club have been awarded to Pat Christensen and Billy Ball. The Miss Teenager award was awarded to Tammie Shaw.

The awards were presented by club director Bill Glanz and assistant director Rve Grow at the Pathfinders' annual open house, Saturday night, April 24.

The annual awards are given on the basis of points earned by attendance, full uniform, cleanliness, courtesy, reverence, participation in club activities, and honors and crafts completed.

wanted to find out more about Adventists. Mr. Edsell told him the best way to find out was to go to the DuQuoin church with him. Since that time he has been taking three Bible studies each week; now he and his wife both desire to be baptized.

It is thrilling to see how God's Spirit is working to find the honest in heart. I hope every member will place himself in the channel so that he, too, may be used of God in finding and saving the lost.

Field Trip Offers Opportunity for Witness

With funds furnished by the Broadview church and Hinsdale MV Society Broadview Pathfinders took a field trip to the Gateway House. We went through the large iron gates and made our way to the structure. The door was opened by a handsome, well-dressed man. No one would ever guess he was an ex-addict. Girls and boys took our coats, and we were ushered in. Hundreds of people come to Gateway House to see what is being done for addicts.

Officially, we learned, Gateway House is known as the Chicago Rehabilitation Center for Dope Addicts and Alcoholics.

The following Saturday night another group went, and as we were ushered into the kitchen, we told the guide we were vegetarians. A young man stepped in who was a vegetarian. He said he really missed steaks. So he was asked how he became a vegetarian. He said, "I ran around with some people that were vegetarians."

Immediately we suggested that if they wanted some vegetarian foods, we would bring some to the five vegetarians there. The following Saturday night, another lady and I took the vegetarian products to Gateway House. "I told you they would be here. I knew they wouldn't let us down," said one man to his companion. Turning to us he said, "I don't know what to say, but thanks." That smile and those words were one of the biggest rewards I have ever received.

We were invited back and told to stop in any time. These young people need to know that someone cares. Kathy, 15, hugged me as she handed me my coat.

TWO BAPTIZED AT WEST FRANKFORT

It was a real inspiration to conduct a baptismal service in the newly decorated West Frankfort church. Pastor Edwin Sharpe, soon to be ordained, had helped prepare Darrell Kirk and Cathy Shelton for baptism.

When a call was made for those to stand who wished to be baptized soon, Mr. and Mrs. Quang Van Huynh stood, along with others.

Pastor Sharpe planned for another baptism in two weeks at the DuQuoin church.

Mr. Huynh and his family are Vietnamese. He came to Carbondale to attend Southern Illinois University and is receiving a Ph.D. degree this spring in psychology. He came in contact with a Seventh-day Adventist a few years ago and was much impressed. He called R. S. Edsell, caretaker of Little Grassy Lake camp. He said he

TWO BABIES DEDICATED AT BROADVIEW

A baby dedication was held recently in the Broadview church when Vernon Pellerin, son of Mrs. Al Pellerin, and Joelle Marie Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Alan Walker, were presented before the Lord by Pastor J. T. Krpalek.

Many eyes filled with tears as Mrs. Pellerin cradled her 18-month-old son Vernon during the ceremony. Mr. Pellerin died less than a year ago. Vernon has four sisters—Bethel, Dawn, Lisa, and Holly.

The offering, spread out on a flannelboard, looks impressive.

SPANISH CHURCH BEGINS SIXTH YEAR

Five years ago a small group of Spanish believers, wanting to see the church grow among the great Spanish population of Chicago, were organized into a church of 35 members. On May 22 they celebrated their fifth anniversary with an actual membership of 70. This group, who had emerged from the big Spanish church of the city, worked and prayed. The first three years they met in a store-front church, but later were able to rent a nice Methodist Church where they are now meeting.

Guest speaker was Elder Julio Huayllara, from Peru, who is studying at Andrews University. He preached a moving sermon on Sabbath morning and spoke at MV meeting in the afternoon.

Another highlight was an evening gathering of the church to enjoy a banquet and to bring a special offering pledged earlier by the membership in the form of giving an entire day of wages earned to the Lord. When the offering was taken, displayed, and counted, it reached to $1,062. This will be added to the building fund, which by now reaches $5,153.55.

During the missionary hour, Doming Mendez, Israel Lopez, and Luis Negrete, three new members, related the wonderful way the Lord led them into the church, expressing their happiness and thankfulness to God, and encouraging everybody to continue witnessing to the thousands of Spanish-speaking people in Chicago.

Van Arsdells to Attend Family Camps

To the many friends and former acquaintances of Elder and Mrs. R. A. Van Arsdell, we wish to announce that they will be with us during the three weeks of Family Camp at Little Grassy.

Elder and Mrs. Van Arsdell are former workers of the conference. It is a privilege to have them with us. Their practical counsel on family situations and the disciplining of children will be beneficial.

Reservations for the three weeks of family camping continue to come in to the MV Department. However, some cabins can still be reserved. Send your reservation to the MV Department now. Here is an opportunity for the family to be together in a wonderful recreational environment.

Family camping dates are:

Family Camp I.....July 18 to 24

Family Camp II .....July 25 to 31

Family Camp III.....August 1 to 7

Miss Debbie Hartsock

Teen-Age Pianist Appears with Symphonies

Miss Debbie Hartsock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hartsock of Western Springs, recently appeared with the West Suburban Symphony Orchestra as a guest artist.

Debbie was the first place winner in the symphony's 1970-71 competition, playing the first movement of the Schumann "Concerto in A Minor."

Miss Hartsock has studied piano for nine years with Mrs. Helen Frisch Cunat at the Chicago Conservatory. She is also a member of the Young Chicago Artists' Association. Debbie is a student at Broadview Academy and a member of the Hinsdale church.

Miss Hartsock also won in a concert sponsored by the Chicago Conservatory College. She performed with the Chicago Symphony in Orchestra Hall on June 13.

Known as Kumba la, the men's choir of the South Spanish church provided the special music for the church anniversary.

Sabbath School Helps Featured at Camp Meeting

Beyond the regular Sabbath School activities at camp meeting this year we are pleased to announce special help in many areas. R. Curtis Barger, associate secretary of the General Conference Sabbath School Department, will be featured at some of the workshops Sunday, June 20, through Thursday, June 24.

Elder Barger's particular assignment in the Sabbath School Department is in the preparation of the Sabbath School lessons and other materials for the junior and earliteen divisions. Those of you especially interested in this age group will want to take advantage of his experience in this area.

Mrs. Dixie Nielsen from Educational Felts will have an art workshop from 1 to 3 p.m. each day. She will give instruction in the coloring and painting that is necessary to make these illustrations more meaningful. There will be a special workshop on Tuesday that will include the display and sale of various materials for the children's divisions. Elder Clyde Groomer from the Michigan Child Evangelism Center will have this display available for two days, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Of course, there will be the usual daily programs for the youngsters from the cradle roll on up. Come to camp meeting, June 18 to 26.

Dr.
Gordon M.
Hyde

Hyde Coming to Indiana Camp Meeting

Dr. Gordon Hyde, general field secretary and chairman of the Research Committee of the General Conference, will be at Indiana Camp Meeting this year.

This camp meeting may be your last chance to get a spiritual infilling before the last storm beats down on the world prior to Christ's return. Come to camp meeting! Your friends will be there. Come meet with God, who reigns as the supreme guest of our encampment!

Lay Evangelism Class to Be Conducted

Fellow believers, do not let 1971 go by without making some special effort, beyond the ordinary, to help someone find his way to truth. Nearly one-half of 1971 has already passed.

Can you point to some individual who, during the past few months, you have helped win to Christ? Are you satisfied that you have done your very best? These are questions that all of us must answer!

A special class for laymen will be conducted on the Indiana campgrounds this year. It will run from 9:15 to 10:15 every morning, Monday through Friday. Please plan now to attend.

On Sunday morning the entire encampment is being invited to participate in a door-to-door visitation at Noblesville. You will be given the necessary instruction and materials. Some will go out who have never before gone in search of people needing Christ. Will you go?

If you are one of those who are used to this sort of thing, then we need you to bring inspiration to the others. Please join us.

I.A. SENDS STUDENT MISSIONARIES

June 6, 10 a.m., was the magic hour! Four students from Indiana Academy and Richard Garver, dean of boys, took off from Weir Cook Airport in Indianapolis heading south. Their destination was Guanaja, a small island just off the coast of Honduras.

Ray Smith, Jenny Thomas, Darla Dunigan, and Dean Coridan were selected to represent the Student Association of Indiana Academy as student missionaries. The dream became a reality because of the support of the good people of Indiana and the opportunity offered by Maranatha Flights International. By arranging for transportation and discovering various projects, Maranatha Flights makes it possible for lay people to spend two weeks or more in the mission field in service.

Ray is hoping to gain experience that will later prove helpful in his career as a missionary doctor. Jenny sees the trip as an opportunity to boost her own Christian experience while helping others. Dean would like to see firsthand what it is like to be a missionary. He says, "It will give me an idea of God's purpose for me." Obviously there are many good reasons for wanting to spend a month as a missionary.

"I want to be able to spread God's Word and help others. . . . I want to become humble. I want to do all I can while I'm living for God," is the way Darla states her feelings.

During their month-long stay on Guanaja, the student missionaries will primarily be working on construction. The project is a new school. It will be a two-story building with the school on the first floor and housing for the teacher on the second.

Gymnares to Be at Indiana Camp Meeting

Indiana youth will truly be privileged when the 30 students from our 10 colleges across North America are featured the first weekend of Indiana Camp Meeting, June 18 and 19.

Under the direction of coach Bob Kalua, the Gymnares for Christ are a youth witness team consisting of 15 boys and 15 girls possessing special talents in music, speaking, and gymnastics. The summer tour begins with Indiana Camp Meeting, June 18, and will take them to more than fifty cities from coast to coast.

Apart from the inspiration received through their witness, their audience will greatly enjoy their gymnastic feats. Among their acts will be block balancing, trampoline stunts, teeter board routine, and somersaulting.

Among the many objectives they have is to demonstrate that the Christian life is a happy life.

Apart from their regular Sabbath schedule with our youth, the Gymnares will perform some gymnastics in the main auditorium Saturday night following the regular service.

CAMP MEETING

Does this picture conjure in your mind the pleasures and joys of past Indiana camp meetings? It should, and to many of our faithful Hoosiers this yearly spiritual conference represents the high point in their religious experience. Plan now to come to camp meeting. God expects you—and your many friends will be looking for you. Lest you forget, or might have misplaced the information, here again are the camp meeting dates: June 18 to 26, at Indiana Academy. The purpose of the gathering is to prepare a people ready to meet God.

BOCOCK WINS 78TH PERSON FOR CHRIST

The statement in Counsels on Stewardship page 42, "Hundreds and thousands [of people] were seen visiting families and opening before them the World of God," is literally being fulfilled in many parts of the world field today.

South America had 50,000 members in 1950. It took them 56 years to reach that figure. It took only nine years to reach the next 50,000, five years for the next 50,000, three years for the next, and only two years for the last 50,000—Review and Herald, February 18, 1971, page 1,10,11. Much of this soul winning was carried on in South America by laymen. Have North American laymen been as active as their South American brethren?

Earl Bocock of Indianapolis has recently seen his 78th convert baptized. At this writing he believes another one will soon be ready which will bring the total number to 79 people that he has had a part in winning to Christ. Mr. Bocock not only believes in preaching from the pulpit, but also in personally contacting homes door to door.

I appeal to laymen who are reading these lines, throughout the state of Indiana: Are you a part of the "hundreds and thousands" that "were seen visiting families and opening before them the Word of God"?

Marriage Counselor to Be at Camp Meeting

Dr. Clifford A. Reeves, a member of the Indiana Council on Family Relations, will be the special speaker at the Family Life Workshop at camp meeting on June 20 through 22.

He is a certified school psychologist and a Fellow of the College of Chaplains. He has taught college classes on marriage and the family for many years. Recently the American Institute in Family Relations appointed him as their regional marriage counselor.

Dr. Reeves will be available for individual marriage and family counseling at camp meeting. In addition, his wife, Dr. Harriett Reeves, assistant dean of the School of Nursing at Indiana State University at Terre Haute, and an expert counselor, will join her husband in conducting the workshop and in personal counseling.

Mrs. Thelma Sommerville (at the head of the table) and her associates in New Albany had their center in top-top shape for the inspection.

INDIANA WELFARE CENTERS GRADED

Our community services centers in Indiana, commonly known as health and welfare centers, were graded recently. Miss Maybelle Vandermark of the General Conference joined us in Indiana on May 25 to 27 for the grading of nine centers, the first time to our knowledge that our Indiana centers have ever been graded.

Two centers remain to be graded that could not be worked into the schedule at this time. The Evansville center received the highest rating in the conference—excellent. Four other centers reached the superior category: Kokomo, New Albany, South Bend, and Elkhart. All others graded were in the next category, standard.

We deeply appreciate the devotion of those individual who have served so faithfully in this ministry of love for those less fortunate than we are. Many of our centers would greatly benefit from added participation on the part of more members. There are ways in which most of our members can participate; I strongly urge each to pray for guidance and for willingness to step into some of these opportunities.

Please contact your pastor or your community services center director about these possibilities.

Constituency Meeting Kept Short and Sweet

One of the shortest constituency meetings in Wisconsin history reelected Elder K. J. Mittleider, president, and G. H. Crumley, secretary-treasurer.

All department leaders were reelected with the executive officers in the twenty-second biennial conference session at Wisconsin Academy, May 16.

During the session, assembled officially less than five hours, major items of business included reports, adoption of a new academy development plan, elections, revision of the Constitution and By-laws, and the showing of a film on soul winning.

W. J. Hackett, a General Conference vice-president; F. W. Wernick, Lake Union Conference president; F. L. Jones, Lake Union Conference secretary; and Arthur Opp, Lake Union Conference auditor, represented their respective organizations.

Printed reports were given each delegate but only the financial statements were read. The departmental report was presented in a slide program narrated by Mittleider. The program showed activities around the conference during the past two years.

A recommendation by the Conference Committee and Lay Advisory Council to adopt a new academy development plan to replace the three-year plan expiring this month was discussed and voted with overwhelming support.

Four new members were elected to the Executive Committee: Bruce Babienco, Milwaukee pastor; Ben Beardsley, M.D., Rhinelander physician; Roger Nelson, Clear Lake farmer; and Jack Werner, Milwaukee attorney.

The most significant revision in the Constitution and By-laws calls for future constituency meetings at three-year intervals.

BY WATER AND BY BLOOD

Every new believer is precious in the sight of God, and each is special in some way. But usually every new believer is precious in the sight of those who have been praying for his conviction, too. To Elder Joe Ray, Madison pastor, the baptism of Gil Erickson had an additional specialness—Erickson was the five hundredth person to be baptized by Elder Ray. Below, firstfruits of the Madison evangelistic campaign conducted by F. F. Schwindt, Joe Ray, and Bruce Moore numbered 30. Some of those 30 persons are shown here. In addition to those baptized, many church members renewed their dedication to God.

REFORMATORY INMATE BAPTIZED

On July 6 Herman John, 25, will be released from the Wisconsin State Reformatory at Green Bay.

The young inmate hopes to return to make a contribution to society by being a productive citizen and a faithful Christian witness.

On Friday evening, April 30, Herman John was escorted by a prison warden and chaplain to the Green Bay church, where he had been invited to relate the events that led to his prison conversion.

Speaking softly, the young inmate told of his troubled and crime-ridden life, which included more than one arrest and conviction.

His best friend was killed in the incident that led to his current sentence. Feeling lonely and depressed, he started examining his life. His thoughts turned to the Christian foster parents who had raised him.

Overcome with feelings of remorse and loneliness and the desire to discuss his problems with someone, he decided to ask for the Adventist pastor. Visits by Elder

E. R. Rasmussen and Ray FitzGerald, literature evangelist, followed. Bible Speaks lessons were set up by FitzGerald, who continued to visit and study with John every Monday.

A decided change gradually came over the young man as he became convinced that there was a more satisfying way to live. His attitude improved, and he became enthusiastic in learning the truths he had once scorned.

Chaplain Carlson, in his remarks at the close of John's talk, said, "I thought Herman would have half the school becoming Seventh-day Adventists through his witness. After a talk on communion," Carlson recalled, "John approached me and said, 'Pastor Carlson, if you were a Seventh-day Adventist, you would be a perfect pastor.'"

Prison personnel are pleased with John's conversion. Most inmates of penal institutions resist rehabilitation.

Following John's testimony of his love for Christ he was baptized; he returned immediately to continue his witness behind prison walls.

At the time of this writing John will have seven more Sabbaths to spend in the reformatory. "But I no longer feel alone on Sabbath," he told the group happily. "It seems as though someone is there with me in my cell."

Pastor R. H. Dolinsky and Mr. FitzGerald are studying at the reformatory each Monday with a class of six young prisoners brought together by the witness of Herman John.

Maple Syrup Time Resurrected at Munising

Tapping maple trees proved to be a unique project for students of the Munising church school this spring.

Roger Brodis, the teacher, took advantage of the many maple trees on the school property to make syrup and at the same time, provide a lesson in nature for the children.

After the syrup was gathered it was brought to the back of the school where a wood-burning stove and a boiler were in operation for a few weeks to boil the sap to syrup. The children's interest was such that they didn't tire of the collecting of the syrup and the carrying and cutting of the wood for the stove.

Best of all, students claimed, were the various parties to test the product on pancakes and homemade ice cream. These events plus the selling of quart jars of the syrup brought in over $50 for the school.

Students gather the sap and carry and cut the wood to make maple syrup.

Munising church school pupils help keep the fire going to boil the "sap to syrup."

Grismore-Bentjen Wedding

Charles Bentjen and Joanne Grismore were married in a candlelight service at Bunker Hill, Indiana, on May 23, 1971.

Both have been attending school at Southern Missionary College at Collegedale, Tennessee. Following the wedding they returned to that vicinity in order to complete their education.

Mitchell-Symonds Wedding

Mary Ann Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Diaz of Chicago, and Ronald R. Symonds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Symonds of Berrien Springs, Michigan, were married Sunday, April 25, in the Beverly Hills (Chicago) church. Elder T.G. Herr officiated at the ceremony.

The young couple is at home at Berrien Springs, Michigan.

A review of new books and Chapel recordings available at your local Book and Bible House.

You've probably been hearing stories about Kata Rangoso, the legendary South Sea Islander who became a Seventh-day Adventist minister. No Devil Strings, by Eric Were is a fascinating, detailed biography of this dedicated Christian who not only saved the lives of dozens of Allied airmen during World War II, but also saved thousands of souls for Christ.

If you'd like to get a slightly unusual outlook on the world, you'll enjoy Walk God's Battlefield, by Godfrey T. Anderson. This is a collection of 25 essays by one of the church's leading scholars and writers. Titles of interest include: "Revolution in Morals," "Doing Right for the Wrong Reason," "Status or Stature?" and "Foolishness of the Cross."

Both of the aforementioned attractions are paperbacks, and sell for $1.85 each.

If you have a record library, don't miss the new album entitled Country Church by The Wedgwood. Some old-time gospel favorites with a contemporary flavor are the attraction here. You'll like the Wedgwood's arrangement of "Way Beyond the Blue," "Steal Away," and other gospel standards.

Teachers Invited to Learn Creative Approaches

Two weeks of instruction in creative approaches to teaching elementary music education will be presented at a music workshop to be held at Andrews University from July 12 to 23.

The workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Grace Nash, a noted music educator, composer, violinist, author, and lecturer, and a leading proponent of the principles and techniques developed by Carl Orff of Germany, Zoltan Kodaly of Hungary, and Rudolf Laban of England.

The workshop is designed to introduce classroom and private music teachers to new principles of dealing with the whole learning process, especially musical creativity and literacy.

Participants may earn two university credits, either graduate or undergraduate, for each week of the two-week session. Further information and applications may be obtained from Dr. Paul Hamel, Chairman, Andrews University Music Department, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49104.

Grant Given to Aid Pollution Studies

A $5,000 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation has been awarded to Andrews for use in strengthening the James White Library's resources of books and periodicals in the areas of pollution and urban studies.

The funds will be spent over the next three years, and resources will be chosen by an 11-member selection committee. Under the broad area of pollution, smaller divisions will be water, pesticides, air, and solid wastes. Under urban studies will be renewal, opportunity projects for underprivileged persons, job training, human relations workshops, and others.

Andrews currently involves students in studies of pollution and urban problems through classes and research projects in the biology, chemistry, earth science, physics, behavioral science, and nursing departments, an interdisciplinary course in contemporary issues, and in such special events as Earth Day.

STUDENTS PUBLISH IN CHURCH MAGAZINES

During the school year just past, 118 stories, poems, and essays written in Professor Harry W. Taylor's creative writing classes were successfully free-lanced to Review and Herald, Life and Health, Message, Journal of Adventist Education, Primary Treasure, Guide, Insight, and other church magazines.

The outstanding free-lancer this year was Mrs. Muriel Retterer, who received twelve acceptances from Adventist editors. Next highest were Jocelyn Smith and Susan Harris.

During 37 years of teaching English, Taylor has made a hobby of recruiting and training students to write for Adventist magazines. A number of his students have become regular story-writers, poets, and essayists; and several have become editors.

ADMINISTRATORS, FACULTY, AND STUDENTS COMPRISE NEW UNIVERSITY SENATE

An Andrews University senate, comprised of 14 administrators and faculty members and 14 students, has been established.

Ratified by the university Board of Trustees, general faculty, and Student Association, the charter of the Senate declares its purpose is to "bring all segments of the university community together in a place where they can discuss openly the challenges facing the development of this university."

Powers and responsibilities of the organization will range from discussion of university problems, relations with the community, and other topics, to advising at their request the university president, other administrative officers, or the Student Association.

With full standing as a faculty committee, it can also propose items to faculty meetings, where university policy is officially enacted.

Chairman of the Senate is the university president. Voting members by virtue of their office are the university's four vice-presidents; the Student Association's adviser, president, vice-president, and five senators-at-large; the student newspaper editor; and the Graduate Forum and Seminary Forum presidents. Voting members by appointment or election are five faculty elected by the general faculty, two faculty elected by the Student Association, two faculty appointed by the university president, two students elected by the general faculty, and two students elected by the Student Association.

"We hope the Andrews University Senate will foster a close relationship of trust and good will among administration, faculty, and students," said President Richard Hammill in announcing the new organization.

Intended to foster a relationship of trust and good will among administration, faculty, and students, the Andrews University Senate meets once a month to discuss university problems, relations with the community, and other topics. Half of the 28 members in the organization are students; the other half are administrators and faculty. The Senate is chaired by Dr. Richard Hammill, university president. (Photo by Dave Trott)
