MIDSUMMER OFFERING TO BE TAKEN

Ellen G. White tells us that God's work in these closing days of earth's history will be characterized by the same spirit of sacrifice as was manifested by the early pioneers of the Advent Movement. With an ever-expanding world missions outreach, the financial needs of the denomination are always increasing. As members of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, each year we are offered many ways and opportunities of supporting financially the worldwide program of missions. One of these important opportunities will be offered to members on July 17, 1971, when the well-known Midsummer Offering will be received in all churches.

The amount received from this offering is an important part of the general missions budget and is pooled with other special offerings, such as the Spring Mission Offering and the Week of Sacrifice Offering, etc., which all form part of the total world budget for missions.

As one who is a product of the mission field and has spent 30 years in the Lord's service in the Inter-American Division, I would like to express heartfelt appreciation for the generous giving of our members in the North American Division over the years, with the urgent appeal that we make the offering on July 17, 1971, the biggest Midsummer Offering ever. Let us give liberally to help finish the work.

SPONSORS SOUGHT FOR BLIND CAMP

Experiencing thrills they never knew about before, blind children this summer will be attending camps across the United States. The camps are sponsored by the Christian Record Braille Foundation of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Ray Hubbartt, director of National Camps for Blind Children, has announced that a camp will be held August 15 to 20 at Timber Ridge Camp near Spencer, Indiana.

Six blind camps are scheduled for the 1971 camping season. The remaining five camps will be held at other well-equipped sites in Florida, Virginia, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and California.

Blind children from Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and surrounding states will be eligible to attend. There is no charge. Support of the camps comes from contributions made by the public.

Parents of children interested in attending camp should contact one of the Christian Record Braille Foundation representatives or the area director, R. H. Blessing, 500 Chapin Lane, Berrien Springs, Michigan 49103. Phone (616) 471-1809.

Extra safety precautions will help prevent minor accidents and potential serious hazards. The well-qualified counselors and camp staff will daily review the day's activities. Plans are constantly being up-dated to make the camp more meaningful and happy for blind boys and girls.

Most blind children are anxious to attend camp, though some parents may be a bit apprehensive about their child going to camp. The whole idea behind the camp is to give the visually handicapped child a balanced camping experience. Water skiing, swimming, canoeing, horseback riding, archery, crafts, and a campfire time are some of the carefully supervised activities scheduled.

A special activity is also planned for the blind children—Touch and Feel. Each camp has a nature center, and the children are allowed to "see" the tamed animals in their zoo.

The plastic flowers made during craft period may not be very symmetrical. The tooled leather belts and wallets are not especially neat. There is no doubt, however, about the thrill the youngsters get in just having a chance to try their hand at the same activities sighted children enjoy. Grins, giggles, and happy laughter point out that the extra effort is worthwhile.

Normally sighted boys and girls across America have joined hands to help make the blind camps a reality. Literally thousands of books of trading stamps have been collected to help send blind kids to camp.

It takes 25 books of stamps to sponsor a blind child at camp for one week. For more information on how to help, write to National Camps for Blind Children, Lincoln, Nebraska 68506.

CHURCH CONSTRUCTION AT A NEW LOW IN '70

WASHINGTON, D.C.—U.S. Department of Commerce statistics show that church construction was lower in 1970 costwise than it has been since 1958. About $921 million were spent for worship, educational, and fellowship facilities last year. This compares to the low of $863 million in 1958. Based on the 1957-59 "constant dollar," the value of religious construction in 1970 would be only $556 million, which is the constant dollar value of the same type construction in 1926. According to the Department of Commerce, the per capita church-synagogue construction in 1970 was about half that of the 1920s.

THIRD WOMAN ELECTED TO G.C. COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Ethel Young, associate secretary in the Department of Education of the General Conference, is by her election to that post also a member of the General Conference Committee, highest administrative body of the denomination. The third woman on the committee, Miss Young and her cohorts are outnumbered by the over 260 male members of the group.

NEW YORK NONPUBLIC SCHOOLS RECEIVE GOVERNMENT FUNDS

ALBANY, New York—The New York legislature has passed a measure giving $33 million to nonpublic schools and defeated a bill that would water down an amendment prohibiting aid to parochial schools. Proponents for loosening the strings on educational money said overcrowded public schools will be deluged with students unless the state helps parochial schools.

Self-Service Bible Available for Busy People

BRUSSELS—The Belgian Bible Society has installed a self-service outdoor vending machine so busy people no longer need to go inside the Bible House to buy a Bible. The machine dispenses both the traditional translation and a modern version of the French New Testament.

ADVENTISTS APPROVE TRANSLATION OF THREE RELIGIOUS BOOKS

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Seventh-day Adventist Church has approved appropriations for the publication of three religious books to be translated into foreign languages. The Desire of Ages will be published in Afrikaans, Steps to Christ in Kirundi, and The Remnant Church in Japanese. Over 12 million copies of Steps to Christ have been sold. It's been printed already in more than one hundred languages. The church has a $20,000 fund set aside each year for the purpose of translating religious books.

GERMAN CHURCH REJECTS ORDER, STILL STRADDLES BERLIN WALL

EAST BERLIN—The Lutheran Church is having its problems trying to straddle East and West Germany. The East German government wants all church ties between East and West severed, yet the Eastern Synod of the church of Berlin-Brandenburg has rejected a proposal to formally separate from its West Berlin branch. A year ago the West Berlin Synod of the church consented to a resolution describing the two parts as administratively "free and independent." However, this was not seen as formal abandonment of unity.

EXPLO '72 AIMS TO TRAIN 500,000 YOUTH

DALLAS, TEXAS—Some 250,000 people are expected to take part in Explo '72, a youth congress planned for June of next year. Campus Crusade for Christ International is sponsoring the congress, which has as its aim the training of 500,000 youth during 1972 to create a spiritual explosion around the world. Dr. Bill Bright, founder of Campus Crusade, sees the Dallas congress as a launching pad for Operation Penetration, a program aimed at training college students to generate a spiritual movement on U.S. campuses.

NEW SABBATH LAW GOES INTO EFFECT

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Civil Service Commission has adopted a new regulation requiring government agencies to accommodate the religious needs of "special Sabbath observers." The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith has pressed for some time for an official ruling to assure fair treatment to Jews and other Saturday Sabbath observers. The regulation requires federal agencies to "make reasonable accommodations to the religious needs" of their employees when they can be made without "undue interference with the business of the agency or with the rights of other applicants and employees."

Phillipine Nationals Have Church Leadership

MANILA—Seventh-day Adventist work in the Philippines is now under total leadership of Filipinos; this came to pass with the election of Pastor Moises Jereos as acting Union Committee chairman of the Northern Region. Pastor Jereos' election is temporary until a Far East Constituency Meeting in November. But according to church leaders in Manila, "it is practically assured that a Filipino will be elected."

WOMEN WORK QUIETLY AGAINST ANTAGONISM

NEW YORK—Mrs. Monica Patterson, a British Roman Catholic, has founded an organization called Women Together. The organization is composed of Protestant and Catholic women who want to break down antagonisms in Northern Ireland. One member in East Belfast held a Christmas banquet for old people last year. Another is working to form a youth center. Mrs. Patterson says, "Our members in quiet areas are reaching into the trouble spots to bring mothers and children and families out of the tensions for a weekend or an afternoon." There are 10 groups and a membership of 300.

X-Ray Unit Goes South of the Border

Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital carried out its commitment to meet needs of a sister institution—Montemorelos Sanitarium and Hospital in Mexico—by donating an X-ray machine no longer in use at the san.

Eduardo Weiss, administrator of the 50-bed Seventh-day Adventist hospital, came to Hinsdale on June 7 to pick up the equipment and transport it to Montemorelos.

The Picker one-phase X-ray machine was purchased by the Hinsdale San 23 years ago, according to Gerald T. Jones, chief technologist. With the present need for a three-phase machine, the older unit could not be utilized any longer in Hinsdale, he said.

Six Learn How to Help in Drug Program

Six persons have completed a six-week educational program on drug abuse and have volunteered for active participation on the Hinsdale area "hotline" telephone service.

The course was taught by Roy Wightman, assistant administrator for health education and rehabilitation. Instruction on identifying major drugs, symptoms of drug abuse, and tips on helping people with a drug problem were provided in the classes.

15-YEAR-OLD WINS PRIZE

Janice Jensen, 15, a part-time employee of the Hinsdale san's purchasing department, won first place in an essay contest sponsored by the auxiliary of the Hinsdale American Legion and second place on the DuPage County competition for the legion.

Her essay, entitled "Freedom Fails," was also published in the "personally speaking" guest column of the Hinsdale Doings on May 27.

Janice, an honor student in her sophomore year at Hinsdale Junior Academy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jensen, 417 N. Park Avenue, Westmont.

STUDENTS LEARN OF CAREERS

Fourteen junior and senior students from Hinsdale South and Central High schools have begun a six-week health careers class sponsored by Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Mrs. Saramae Griesman, social service, is coordinating the class.

Students enrolled in health careers rotate throughout the various areas of the hospital, such as the operating room, the pharmacy, the laboratory, and patient-care floors to learn about hospital work in its many forms.

This is the second summer that the class has been taught by the san. After a pilot program in 1970, the school board asked the hospital to provide the class for students in both Hinsdale high schools.

College Students Gain Summer Experience

The summer months have brought a number of college students to Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital for work in connection with their major fields of study.

Bill Vert, a Loma Linda University student working toward his master's degree in public health, is at the san working on his field project this summer.

Keith Hausman, an L.L.U. student is working in physical therapy. Another college student gaining experience in her chosen field of work is Kathy Herring, who will graduate next winter from Iowa State University with a degree in dietetics. She is working in the diet office in the areas of therapeutic dietetics as well as general hospital dietetics.

Katherine Cahill, a junior in occupational therapy at the University of Illinois, also joined the san staff for the summer, where she is working with patients in the occupational therapy department.

AIDES COMPLETE ADVANCED CLASS

A workshop meeting one day a month for three months has been completed by 39 san employees in the nursing service department of the hospital.

The workshop emphasized advanced nurse aide techniques for such topics as personal health, communications, spiritual care, circulatory and digestive systems, grooming, and a review of blood pressure and isolation skills.

The classes were directed by the inservice education department, with Mrs. Barbara Stannard instructing.

MEMENTO FOR TOP EMPLOYEE

A pin from the Chicago Hospital Council was awarded to Mrs. Bertha Krueger, left, at an annual luncheon held May 12 in the Conrad Hilton in downtown Chicago. Mrs. Krueger, a snack shop waitress at the san, was honored along with 65 other Chicago area hospital employees who had been selected as the Employee of the Year for 1970. Shown above with Mrs. Krueger is William Mulske, supervisor of food service at the san.

ILLINOIS

Spanish congregation in B.V.A. chapel

BELIEVERS DISREGARD STORM WARNING, COME TO SPANISH CAMP MEETING

From June 11 to 13 the Spanish constituency of the Illinois Conference gathered together at B.V.A. for their first camp meeting.

There was a feeling of expectancy as Elders H. E. Roscher of the South and Aurora churches and L. M. Diaz of the Central church prepared for the first meeting.

That evening a tornado warning was in effect. The wind blew strongly. Dark clouds gathered. Finally it began to rain very hard, and the two men wondered if the people would come. First a carload came, then another, and another, until the academy chapel was almost full.

That evening Elder Raul Villanueva, guest speaker for the meetings, spoke on "Columnas del Hogar Cristiano" (Foundations of the Christian Home), and hearts were warmed.

On Sabbath the storm was gone, and even more of the Spanish folk came. Some thought that the chapel (which seats over three hundred) would not be filled. They were in for a surprise. It was necessary to bring in close to 100 chairs more—and yet these were not enough.

Many adults had to go to the main auditorium to worship. Practically all the young people were sent to the youth tent or main auditorium with the adults.

Elder Villanueva lifted the hearts of the congregation to heaven's portals as he spoke about "Los Cuidados de la Vida" (The Cares of this World). He challenged those present to put aside worldly cares for Jesus' coming.

On Sunday well over one hundred persons were present during the morning, afternoon, and evening meetings. Elder Villanueva spoke about the requirements and characteristics of those who would see the Lord.

Those present recognized the love of Jesus and committed their lives to Him.

When asked if they would desire to meet in like manner next year, nearly all agreed to be back in 1972. Elder John Hayward, president of the Illinois Conference, has said that the conference will need to provide a larger place for the meetings.

If camp meeting was a blessed experience this year, it will be doubly so next year. Meetings will be held on both weekends. Already plans are being made for it. Already many who thrilled to their first experience of camp meeting want to come and camp for the season.

It is the firm belief of the Spanish constituency that the Spanish work must go forward.

NEWS NOTE

• Jamie Walker and Dawn Pellerin were recently baptized as members of the Broadview church. Both attend the West Suburban church school. Since Jamie is a relative of his, Pastor Joseph Krpalek appreciated conducting the baptism.

B.V.A. Alumni Host Social Hour

Broadview Academy seniors and their parents were guests at the alumni-sponsored social hour which followed the academy spring band concert.

The booklet Living Proverbs was presented to each senior from the Alumni Association.

Many of the seniors' parents who are also Broadview alumni seemed to enjoy renewing old friendships and meeting new people.

Mothers of the graduates provided cookies, which were served with nuts and punch to close the evening.

Keith Marsmaker and Cheryl Krpalek

TOP CLUB IN STATE PICKS TOP PATHFINDERS

Cheryl Krpalek and Kevin Marsmaker were chosen as Pathfinder girl and boy of the year. Both are members of the Broadview church. Their Pathfinder club is rated top club in Illinois.

The criteria for Pathfinders of the year are many. A few of them are: church membership, daily lesson study, faithful Sabbath School attendance, church reverence, neatness in appearance and dress, cooperation, church activities, and community services.

Some of the things the two did for their local community include working in the March of Dimes, collecting and delivering food for the needy, helping at Vacation Bible School, and Ingathering.

They have helped with the upkeep of the church grounds. During summer camp at Little Grassy Lake Cheryl helped in the office, and Kevin worked hard at the wild life animal cages and boat docks and as mail and office boy.

Cheryl has earned 38 honors and has all of the other insignias that a Pathfinder could possibly earn. Kevin is at the top in his honors and insignias, up to as far as his grade goes, and will continue on as each year allows.

We are proud of these young people and grateful for the guidance of their parents. Elder R. J. Kloosterhuis, MV leader for the Illinois Conference, presented them with engraved plaques.

LAKE REGION

FEAST READIED FOR LAKE REGIONERS

Any approach to the campground at Cassopolis, Michigan, where the plans for the annual camp meeting are nearing completion, presents a most impressive sight.

The freshly cut grass, uniformly painted cabins, and carefully pitched tents are signs of readiness for a great spiritual feast, July 1 to 10.

The Lake Region Lay Activities Department felt that this season would be an excellent time to follow up the Sabbath School lessons on healthful living presented the last quarter of 1970. Conducting the program, entitled "Nutrition and Your Health," is Mrs. Thomasine Longware Wright. She is presently employed as home economist for Marion County Department of Public Welfare.

Mrs. Wright's training, experience, and total Christian dedication enable her to effectively get information across to her audience. Mrs. Wright is a graduate of Oakwood Junior College and of Union College, where she received her B.A. degree. In 1952 she received her M.A. degree from the University of Nebraska. Since then she has done advanced studies at the University of Chicago and the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Wright holds active memberships in the American Home Economics Association, the Community Service Council of Metropolitan Indianapolis, the Federated Women's Clubs of Indianapolis, the Indiana Adult Education Association, and the American Public Welfare Association.

If experience makes a teacher, then her record further qualifies her. Mrs. Wright (known to many of her students as Miss Thomasine Longware) taught in Adventist schools for 21 years. For two years she was a social worker, and for the past six years she has served in her present position in Indiana.

During camp meeting Mrs. Wright will present a program of nutrition showing the what, why, and how of a well-balanced diet. Included in the program will be menus for vegetarians and for low-income families with an emphasis on low-budget buying and suggested menus for restricted, low-calorie diet. The program is both inspirational and informative.

"Ignorance is no excuse now for the transgression of law. The light shines clearly, and none need be ignorant, for the great God Himself is man's instructor. All are bound by the most sacred obligations to God to heed the sound philosophy and genuine experience which He is now giving them in reference to health reform. He designs that the great subject of health reform shall be agitated, and the public mind deeply stirred to investigate; for it is impossible for men and women, with all their sinful, health-destroying, brain-enervating habits, to discern sacred truth, through which they are to be sanctified, refined, elevated, and made fit for [heaven]."—Testimonies, vol. 3, p. 162.

Elder H. A. Lindsey, pastor of Shiloh church in Chicago, will conduct the Spirit of Prophecy hour from 9:45 to 10:45 a.m., using the book Counsels on Diet and Foods by Mrs. E. G. White. A study guide will also be used as an aid in helping everyone discern the truth about health reform for this time.

Because of the importance of the program, this department will make the material available to anyone requesting it. Write to our office: Lake Region Conference, 8517 South State Street, Chicago, Illinois 60619.

Guest Speakers Electrify Flint Church

The month of April brought well-known and outstanding speakers to members and friends of the North Street church in Flint, Michigan, where Elder Ronald Smith is pastor of the Flint-Saginaw District.

Barry Black, Seminary student at Andrews University, during one worship service electrified, then challenged his audience to become active Christians for God.

Elder H. M. S. Richards, Jr., speaker of the Voice of Prophecy, in a special 9:30 a.m. divine worship service spoke of God's love to us and how love among the members and churches would show those around us that we have something special. He, with Pastor and Mrs. Gordon Henderson, director and pianist, respectively, and Norm Nelson, organist, were concluding a three-week evangelistic crusade in Flint.

Elder J. Malcolm Phipps, Lake Region Conference evangelist, in a week-long revival brought inspiration, information, and condemnation as he spoke on selected parables of Jesus. His final sermon on the Sabbath was entitled "The Wife of Christ and Why She Left Him." Mrs. J. M. Phipps assisted by furnishing organ and vocal music.

Elder C. E. Bradford, General Conference associate secretary, at a special 4:30 p.m. service explained justification, sanctification, and glorification quite clearly in his sermon entitled "The Three Kingdoms: The Kingdom of Nature, The Kingdom of Grace, and The Kingdom of Glory." The Disciples Quartet from Saginaw, Michigan, furnished the music.

COVER STORY

Pathfinder Fair Buzzes with Action

Michigan's annual Pathfinder Fair held at Lansing's Civic Center on May 23 was again a spirited and well-attended event.

Interest in the program was such that two clubs were waiting at the doors when they opened at 7 a.m. From then on, until the events began at ten o'clock, the center was a beehive of activity as 32 clubs from throughout the conference arrived to register, prepare booths and floats, and be ready for the Olympic events which were the first activities for the day.

This year determining winners was easier, as many stop watches were available to time the events. The split-second differences pointed out the difficulty which would have been encountered if stop watches hadn't been used.

The many booths were varied and attractive. A number of booths were allowed: crafts, collections, nature, household arts, pets, livestock and poultry, and agriculture and horticulture. A few booths sold food as projects to raise money for individual clubs.

One of the special events of the fair was the appearance of the Andrews University Gymnics. The dedicated group of acrobats put on a top-notch and "balanced" performance.

According to conference youth leaders, the spirit of all those present was "great." Cooperation was good and the leaders are to be commended for their help in making the fair a success.

Parade float

Among the many special guests was the conference president, Robert D. Moon, introduced by Elder Merrill Fleming. Standing behind them is Elder Ed Webb, union MV secretary, and Elder Webb's son, Ed, Jr.

Mini-Pathfinders on mini-bikes gave a mini-drill at the parking lot of Lansing's Civic Center, where the fair was held.

Mounted steer horns were presented to each club in attendance at the fair. Because of their year-long accomplishments, the Holly, Midland, and Lansing clubs had first pick of the horns. Here Elders Don Blehm, conference MV leader, and Fleming prepare for the presentation.

Thou shalt knot . . . and Pathfinders from all over the state dashed forward to tie and lash together poles that would form a rescue carriage for the Indian rescue race.

This platoon of Pathfinders are all in step as they follow the commands of their leader, Reid Tait, of the Midland Indians.

The handcraft of other Pathfinders as displayed in the many booths held the interest of participants and spectators during the day.

A "swinging" youth leader, Elder Fleming gets caught up in the act during the special afternoon program by the Gymnics of Andrews University.

U.P. Starts Off Summer With Camp Meeting

The annual Upper Peninsula camp meeting was held Friday through Sunday, June 18 through 20, in Escanaba. The Upper Peninsula is beautiful country, unspoiled by man and his factories. The Michigan Conference has 14 churches in this northernmost part of the Great Lakes states. Approximately five hundred of the seven hundred members of this first district of churches in the conference were present for this annual meeting. The Escanaba chapel was filled to capacity, and the Methodist Church next door was made available; it was also filled for the Sabbath services.

Elder Lowell Bock, associate secretary of the General Conference, delivered the keynote address Friday evening. Sabbath morning Charles Keymer, secretary of the Michigan Conference, gave the early morning devotional message. Elder Clyde Groomer directed the Sabbath School program. Sabbath School improvement remarks by Mrs. Groomer will long be remembered. F. L. Jones, Sabbath School secretary of the Lake Union, taught the Sabbath School lesson.

Nearly three hundred adults filled the chapel for the eleven o'clock service. Elder Bock delivered the morning message. Well over two hundred young people gathered in the nearby Methodist Church for the youth service there, directed by Elders Don Blehm (conference MV Department secretary) and Gordon Paxton (pastor at Andrews University). Elder Blehm also directed the afternoon program, entitled "Youth in Action."

A baptismal pool was set up Friday for the baptismal service that followed the youth program. Elder R. Wiese of the Munising District presented six candidates for baptism—firstfruits of an evangelistic effort held in Munising.

Sunday morning was campout time at the new youth campgrounds at Camp Sagola, about seventy miles west of Escanaba. Hardy campers were present for canoeing, hiking, and swimming. The lodge was still under construction. Twenty-four of the campers took the five-mile canoe trip. The three-day camp meeting experience climaxed with a Sunday night service, at which Elder Bock presented the final message.

"LISTEN" PROMOTERS

Students at Adelphian Academy believe in promoting "Listen" magazine. Proof of this is found in a recent field day on which their temperance group solicited over $250 in the Holly area. Hilde Lassel and Marty Young, left, front row, were top solicitors. Others in the picture are, front row: Carol Connor, Cheryl Messer, and Rogene Wolfer. Second row: Norma Lawhorn, Gay Young, and Vicki Williams. Back row: Tim Freeman, Eugene DeBolt, Mike Gilkey, Bob Pelton, and Bruce Calkins.

The lodge at Camp Sagola will house 100 campers. In addition there is a dining room and craft room included under the same roof.

Seventy campers were present for canoeing, hiking, and swimming at Camp Sagola, June 20.

POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE

The seventh grade of Northfield Junior Academy honored the graduating eighth-grade class with a candle-light ceremony in the Troy church June 3. A short address was given by class president Keith Edgar. The class history was read by Terri Ballard and Wendy Wilson. James Ayars, youth pastor of the Detroit Metropolitan church, sang and played his guitar and gave the commencement address.

Miss Ella May Stoneburner shows two students at the Prattville school the comparison in nutritional value between orange juice and soft drinks.

Favorite Foods Nutritional Value Knocked

Students at 37 of Michigan's 52 church schools were disappointed recently to find that some of their favorite foods contain little or no nutritional value.

They were brought these facts by Miss Ella May Stoneburner of the General Conference Department of Health, who illustrated her talk with charts that quickly and colorfully pointed out the nutritional value—or lack of it—in the favorite foods of school children.

One boy, about 12 years old, sat at his desk last spring with a rather sad look on his face as he learned some of these nutritional facts. He brightened up, however, when he learned of the high food value of a peanut butter sandwich and remarked that he had had at least one good thing to eat the day before.

Besides health education films, Miss Stoneburner's stories about her personal mission experiences were enjoyed by the children.

In addition to her visits to the schools, Miss Stoneburner was the guest at four Home and School meetings. Her talks included a demonstration of four or five types of unusual sandwich fillings that are both tasty and nutritious. She also contrasted good and poor school lunches, showing samples of each.

At Bessemer, 100 percent of the parents attended, as well as many other church members. Miss Stoneburner was accompanied on most of her stops by Miss Frances Clark, elementary supervisor of the conference. Elder Ernest N. Wendth of the Department of Health Services also took the opportunity of making a number of visits with Miss Stoneburner.

Bruce
Babienko

MILWAUKEE GETS NEW PASTOR

Elder Bruce Babienko and his wife, Marilyn, will be in the Milwaukee Central church on Sabbath, July 10.

The Babienkos are coming from the San Francisco area after 17 years' ministry in the Northern California Conference.

On a visit more than a month ago, Elder and Mrs. Babienko felt the Lord was leading them to labor in the Milwaukee area. He wrote, "We feel more convinced than ever that this is where God wants us. We placed our home up for sale, and one hour later had a cash buyer. This is only one of many indications God has given of His leadership in this move."

Elder Babienko is a graduate of San Diego Academy and La Sierra College. In 1962 he received his master's degree from Andrews University. He was ordained to the gospel ministry in Hammond Grove, California, in 1958, after interning in Carmichael and Redding. Since then he has pastored churches in Healdsburg, Alturas, and Fortuna. He comes to Milwaukee from the Pleasant Hill church in the Bay area. In each of his pastorates, the Lord has blessed with many souls added to the churches through baptism.

We wish to welcome the Babienkos, along with their three children—Kathleen, 11; Stephen, 8; and Cynthia, 7. Remember this new family on our working force.

35 BAPTIZED IN MILWAUKEE

The recent Milwaukee evangelistic effort conducted by Wisconsin Conference president Kenneth Mittleider illustrates what God can do through laymen willing to be used in God's cause.

Of 35 baptized to date, five were rebaptisms. In addition a fine group is preparing for baptism at camp meeting.

Elder Lee Huff, former Milwaukee pastor, had moved to Dallas, Texas, prior to the start of the series, placing a heavy burden on Dave Bissell, associate pastor, Mrs. Ernestine Belts, Bible worker, and on every layman.

Mittleider told several experiences which may help others know how God works.

"One member for the past several years has given literature to a Roman Catholic lady. The husband reportedly was so opposed he often destroyed the literature, but under God's Spirit both husband and wife started to attend the series and both are now rejoicing in the truth as baptized members."

Another Catholic couple becoming disappointed with changes in their church listened to a radiobroadcast about the Sabbath and began to search God's Word for truth.

They went from church to church. Mrs. Belts received their name and set up Bible studies just prior to the meetings. They missed only two meetings! Both are now baptized and hope to share the truth with others.

One of our literature evangelists in Milwaukee, Ray Krawczyk, befriended several drug addicts and introduced them to Christ. They attended church prior to the evangelistic campaign and responded to God's call during the first decision meeting. Several have already been baptized after experiencing the transformation this message brings.

A contractor, Gene Krause, made his missionary project mailing his customers a complimentary subscription of These Times. For several years he had been wondering, "Does this really pay?" Now he knows. Two families attended the series regularly. One couple is preparing for baptism at camp meeting in August. The other family is clearing up business arrangements so they can join the church.

A retired obstetrician from Austria attended the Adventist church with her sister every Sabbath, then attended her own Catholic Church every Sunday. At the last meeting she made her decision to step out fully for God's message, and has since been baptized.

Several former members have been reclaimed and now rejoice in the message.

Mrs. Barbara Gigous of Auburn, Washington, organized a Youth for Christ series in another auditorium which ran concurrently with the adult series. Youth spoke to youth and packed the place each night. Many adults tempted to stay home were "coerced" by youth to attend because the young people refused to miss the youth meeting.

Thanks are due every member of the Milwaukee and Waukesha churches. They are also due Mrs. Pat Johnson, Bible worker for the series from Appleton. Evangelism is productive.

NEWS NOTES

- Seven Protestant pastors and three Catholic clerics ate a vegetarian breakfast June 1 in Pastor and Mrs. James Fanella's home in Shawano. The meal included Stripples, Wham, and Prosage, meat substitutes prepared by Mrs. Dorothy Buettner, registered dietitian and a member of the Clintonville church. Pastor Fanella reports that an interesting discussion of Acts 10 accompanied the meal.

- Shawano doctors and their wives ate a vegetarian turkey dinner at the Shawano Memorial Hospital. The meal was prepared by the hospital Adventist dietitian, Mrs. Dorothy Buettner, to acquaint the physicians with the meat substitutes, their nutritive values, and their appeal to the appetite. The doctors expressed surprise at the flavor and value of the food.

- Under the Lord's blessing and the faithfulness of Wisconsin members, the conference tithe has shown an average increase of almost $12,000 per month for the first five months of 1971.

TEACHER TRAINING PROGRAM AT A.U. GRANTED FULL ACCREDITATION

The National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education has voted to grant full accreditation to the teacher training program at Andrews University.

This accreditation is effective as of September 1, 1970, and continues for 10 years. It covers programs preparing teachers for the elementary and secondary levels with the bachelor of arts, master of arts, and master of arts in teaching degrees.

This accreditation will permit graduates of Andrews University's department of education to have certification reciprocity with a large number of states. In practice, this means that the prospective teacher who holds his degree from Andrews University can apply for certification from another state and be granted it, even though he does not meet that state's certification requirements.

Andrews University has been preparing for NCATE accreditation for several years. The department of education has been relocated in modern offices, classrooms, and laboratories in the G. H. Bell Hall.

The faculty has been strengthened with several new teachers; and the 11 teachers now in the department all hold the doctor's degree. Dr. Thomas S. Geraty, a former associate secretary of the Department of Education of the General Conference, is chairman of the department.

The NCATE team visited Andrews University in November of 1970. They investigated the entire university's education program as it related to the teacher education program. The NCATE team observed in their report that "it was very obvious that the Seventh-day Adventist Church desires to make Andrews University a major and respected institution of higher education."

Additional comments by the team include the following: "The constructive elements of pietism, as nurtured by the sponsoring denomination, are recognizable in the life-style of students and faculty. . . . The statements made by the institution reflect the beliefs of the church and the role of education in furthering these beliefs. The university has very clearly defined goals. Andrews University exists first to propagate the doctrine of the Seventh-day Adventist faith. This position is substantiated in their literature such as the bulletins. Also the explanations of the faculty with respect to their work at the university strongly supported this position. While this orientation of their institution does not prevent them from meeting the usual objectives . . . it does influence strongly their priorities. Religious education plays a large role in their curriculum."

Dr. Joseph G. Smoot, vice-president for academic administration at Andrews University, considers NCATE accreditation at Andrews University "a major advance step in developing a high quality institution. NCATE accreditation assures that the teacher education program at Andrews University meets the most rigorous standards, in the best thinking of U.S. educators."

INSURANCE DIVIDENDS

The Insurance Service of the General Conference has given tangible support to academic achievement at Andrews in providing scholarships and awards to outstanding students.

Pictured above is Dr. R. E. Firth, chairman of the business administration department, presenting $250 scholarships to Fred Benton, center, and Irwin Hansen, left. Funds were provided on a matching basis by the Insurance Service and Andrews University. Presentation of awards was also made for prize-winning papers written in the principles of insurance class taught by Dr. Wilson Trickett. Papers were judged by the Insurance Service staff. First prize of $100 went to Hansen; awards of $75 each were made to Benton and Paul Douglas Ashton, right.

ALL IN THE FAMILY

With Mrs. Marjorie Harder (second from left) receiving a master of arts degree in education at the June commencement exercises at Andrews University, each of the four members of the F. E. J. Mrs. Harder, who teaches art in the university's laboratory school, previously earned her bachelor of science degree in secretarial science. Frederick L. Harder, right, instructor in business administration, completed his bachelor of arts in business administration and his master of arts in education in 1962 and 1964, respectively.
