Your Prayers Are Needed

It was my privilege recently to visit the evangelistic meetings conducted by Elder E. E. Cleveland in the Ford Auditorium in Detroit. The attendance was over 1,150 on a week night, and I was told that already 1,300 names have been turned in for visitation. This large metropolitan evangelistic thrust is supported by all the churches of the Michigan and Lake Region conferences in the Detroit area, and the plans have been coordinated by the Lake Union Conference. It is a very large undertaking involving thousands of church members and a heavy investment in money, and already God's rich blessing is evident.

Elder E. E. Cleveland is one of the church's most effective evangelists and is giving outstanding leadership to a large group of pastors, Bible workers, and laymen who are assisting him. The message I heard the evening I attended was a very moving one, and it was obvious that he had excellent attention from the large audience. His immediate assistant and coordinator is Elder Kenneth Mead of Australia who is a talented man in organizing and directing the many workers involved.

Time is running out for our message to be given in the large cities. No one can tell whether this is Detroit's last opportunity or not, but we are working on this premise. We invite all our churches to pray for Elder Cleveland and his staff during the remaining weeks of the series. The meetings are held every night each week except Monday and Thursday and will close the middle of August. Heaven is blessing abundantly thus far, but we want to shake this great citadel of sin and crime and claim a great victory for Christ. Therefore, we urgently request your attendance when possible and prayers for this important series of meetings.

Mobile Clinic Serves In Detroit

by F. L. Jones

E. E. Cleveland and his evangelistic team are in the third week of the Greater Detroit evangelistic series.

This crusade is being held in the Ford Auditorium in downtown Detroit. From the outset it was decided that this would not just be another series of meetings but rather a complete outreach to the unreached in the city.

With the cooperation of the General Conference, the Southwestern Union, and the Southwest Region Conference, a 38-foot mobile medical-dental clinic was obtained for use during this series.

This clinic was on display from July 2 to 7, at the 63rd annual N.A.A.C.P. Convention at Cobo Hall in Detroit. Ninety feet of space was allotted the Adventist Church for this display. Thousands of persons visited the clinic to see the work of the church for the community.

Elder Cleveland and his staff have recruited a corps of doctors, dentists, nurses, and allied workers to give free medical and dental services to the people of Greater Detroit who cannot afford to pay. People can get emergency medical aid even in hard-core poverty areas of our great metropolitan center, but millions never see a dentist in their lifetime. This clinic has one medical examination room and two dental chairs and is equipped to give complete dental service to the needy.

This mobile clinic is operated as a joint project by the Southwest Region Conference and the Southwestern Union from the Dallas, Texas, area. The IBM Corporation had this unit built and did medical record surveys in the Southwest. The Southwest Region Conference purchased the unit in April, 1971. It was almost a gift to the church when the price paid is compared to the present value. Once the unit was purchased, funds were raised to equip it for present use. The General Conference contributed liberally to this project. The Southwestern Union and the conference appropriated the rest of the expense. Weber Manufacturing Company built and installed the dental operatories. The clinic, a remodeled 38-foot semi-trailer, consists of five rooms: reception, two dental operatories, a medical examination room, and a small kitchenette. The clinic is completely self-contained having its own 130-gallon water and holding system, 15,000-watt electric power plant, and butane supply.

The objective of this clinic is to help other agencies in bringing health, healing, and happiness to those in low-income and disadvantaged areas in the Metropolitan Detroit area during this summer. We believe the example Christ set is still relevant. As we heal the sick, feed the hungry, and clothe the naked, we can then point them to Christ who renders the higher healing of the souls of men, women, boys, and girls. The motto of the mobile clinic and the medical team is: "Hands that serve are holier than hands that only pray."

The General Conference, Southwestern Union, and Southwest Region Conference combined their efforts to bring the mobile clinic to Detroit for display at the 63rd annual convention of the N.A.A.C.P. Following the convention, the E. E. Cleveland evangelistic team is staffing the clinic to give free dental and medical help to those of low income and disadvantaged areas in Detroit.

Each Tuesday afternoon workers at the Community Services Center in Berrien Springs, Michigan, distribute clothes to impoverished community residents who have been referred to the center by various social and welfare agencies.

People coming to the center are greeted warmly by Mrs. Lula Hunt, who does all the clerical work, answers the telephone, and interviews people who come to the center for aid. Pert and gracious, Mrs. Hunt looks considerably younger than her eighty-plus years.

"When I tell people my age," she explained, "they automatically categorize me as a rocking chair lady, and I'm not a rocking chair lady. Why, I ride my adult tri-wheel three miles every day. No one ever believes me anyway. When I told my doctor how old I was, he laid down his pencil and shook his head."

Mrs. Hunt is one of 13 women over 80 years of age who contribute to the operation of the center. The others help a great deal with the sewing, mending, quilting, and mangling necessary to prepare incoming donations for distribution. Each Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. these ladies gather in the center's workroom, and at 4:30 p.m. many leave with sacks of articles to work on at home.

All the women reiterate the words of Mrs. Mattie Row, who says she works at the center because, "I like to help people and this is the only thing I can do to help."

The sewing circle also fulfills a very definite social need for its members. Mrs. Clara Oxley, who will be 83 in October, says, "I enjoy meeting with the ladies every Tuesday. They are all so friendly and work well together."

During the eight years Mrs. Bertha Wohlers has been working at the center she has pieced 316 quilts. The quilts consist of 35 to 169 blocks cut from many different materials and arranged in various patterns. It usually takes about half a day to piece one quilt. However, because of failing eyesight, Mrs. Wohlers now mends more than she pieces. According to the calendar on which she records her work, she has mended 2,137 articles of clothing in the last two years. Mrs. Wohlers celebrated her 86th birthday in May.

When asked what she did at the center, Mrs. Amelia Reinhardt, who was 82 in June, replied, "Anything that needs to be done." During the past year she has completed 145 quilt tops.

Pinning the quilt edges so that they can be finished is Mrs. Lolita Hamp's job. Mrs. Hamp, who is 85, broke her wrist in December and couldn't work at the center for two months, but she returned as soon as she was able. "Each week she takes home patches pieced together in a sunburst design and applies them onto squares with beautiful handstitching," says Mrs. Elizabeth Schoun, the center's director.

Although at 92 Mrs. Hilda Michalik is the oldest of the 13 chronologically, she certainly is young at heart. Her daughter, Mrs. Anne Keyes, states, "Mother never talks about the past. She always looks ahead. If you ask her about the past, she won't have much to say, but she'll talk at length about tomorrow." Mrs. Michalik is also known for her beautiful crocheting. In the past she has crocheted many beautiful cushion tops, sold them, and donated the proceeds to the center.

Some of the ladies who are not well enough to come and spend the whole day at the center come for a half day.

Mrs. Schoun says, "I am happy that the center can provide an outlet for these women's talents. Everyone needs to feel needed. To those who sometimes express doubts about their usefulness I say, "If you come and sew on one button, it is one button that somebody else won't have to sew on."

Florence Booth, Orah Caslow, Mable Ferris, Lolita Hamp, Lula Hunt, Emma Lang, Hilda Michalik, Clara Oxley, Amelia Reinhardt, Mattie Row, Marie Tyre, Bertha Wohlers, and Bertha Wolford are 13 outstanding senior citizens.

TREASURER TAKES LEAVE OF ABSENCE

W. F. Miller, who has been treasurer of the Lake Union Conference since 1963, has decided to take a leave from his heavy responsibilities upon the advice of his doctors because of a decline in his general health.

He will continue to be available for counsel or assistance as needed after July 1, when he left his post. His successor, W. L. Murrill, who was elected by the Union Committee on June 7 to fill this vacancy, will be introduced at a later date.

Elder Miller began his work for the church in 1936 as a Bible House manager in the East Pennsylvania Conference in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He has since been secretary-treasurer of four conferences: New Jersey, East Pennsylvania, Florida, and Michigan before assuming his post in the Lake Union Conference office. From 1963 until January of 1971, he was both secretary and treasurer of the Lake Union when the duties were divided and he retained the office as treasurer. Elder Miller has been greatly appreciated by the staff and the officers in the field with whom he has worked.

A farewell gathering, which honored Elder Miller and his wife, was held by the Lake Union Conference office staff on Monday evening, June 26. His presence as treasurer will be missed, but he is also assured of the continued fellowship of many friends and associates.

MURDERER GIVEN CHOICE OF JAIL OR CHURCH

Circuit Judge Claude Edwards gave Eartha Griffith her choice of jail or church for the next ten years. She chose church. Miss Griffith pleaded guilty to the second-degree murder of her boyfriend. The Orlando, Florida, judge has used church attendance as a parole condition before, but Miss Griffith's is the longest one so far. He feels the association with people who go to church is beneficial whether or not the probationer is converted to religion. Edwards admits that his practice is unorthodox, but it has never been taken to the courts.

RELIGIOUS/ETHNIC GROUPS FEAR MINORITY CENSUS

Some religious and ethnic groups are concerned over a U.S. government proposal to compile lists of minority employees. The lists would be used in formulating anti-discrimination guidelines. A number of groups and organizations feel there is a possible invasion-of-privacy factor in the plan. Jewish groups especially object to a religious census, and as one Labor Department official pointed out, "they have some historical basis to fear it."

ANGLICAN CLERGYMAN JOINS BAPTIST CHURCH

Anglican vicar John Williams has left the Church of England and joined a Baptist church because he doesn't believe in infant baptism. Williams had been an Anglican clergyman for 18 years. He plans to continue his ministry—perhaps in a Free church, a Baptist church, or some other that practices believer baptism.

PACIFIC PRESS CREATES NEW DEPARTMENT

In an expanded effort to reach the general public with Adventist books, magazines, and records, the Pacific Press Board of Directors voted recently to establish a department of advertising and public relations.

All advertising and public relations copy, design, and layout is being channeled through the new department. Writers and artists work together as a creative team in the planning of advertising and marketing campaigns.

Chosen to act as manager of the new department was Russ Potter. A theology graduate of Loma Linda University, he joined the Pacific Press book department in June, 1967, as an assistant manager.

By working closely with Chapel/Bridge Records, Signs, and Listen magazines, and the book department, major advertising and marketing campaigns are carefully coordinated by the new department to achieve maximum results.

Most advertising in the past has been directed to the Adventist membership. However, with these additional services now available, Pacific Press will be able to introduce its products to a wider public market.

ADVENTISTS PARTICIPATE IN FLOOD RELIEF

Flood relief activities of Adventist churches in the East Coast areas recovering from the waters of Hurricane Agnes range from supplying Chlorox, blankets, and baby pants to mass feeding and housing operations.

Reports coming into the General Conference disclose some Adventist churches hard hit; one in Elmira, New York, even losing its disaster-aid van. But relief activities are going on in cooperation with authorized agencies, says Carl E. Guenther, secretary of Seventh-day Adventist Welfare Services (SAWS).

SAWS has told its conferences in the flood areas that it will match emergency contributions. Some 3,000 blankets from the SAWS New York supply depot have already been distributed, along with other types of bedding.

In Elmira, SAWS director for New York State, A. M. Karolyi, reports that SAWS teams have been moving through the flooded sections in search of people needing other help, besides maintaining a center for flood victims.

In Manassas, Virginia, Adventist teen-agers have been manning trucks bringing hot food to people working to clean up their homes, reports Rudy Bata, SAWS director for the Virginia area. Church members and young people are also helping in the cleanup operation.

Black Adventists attending the East Allegheny camp meeting in Pottstown, Pennsylvania, missed meetings in order to help flood victims clean up. Busloads of them have gone into stricken areas each day since the waters receded.

Clothing and bedding have been distributed in Alexandria; and in Waynesboro, Virginia, between 25 and 30 people have been housed in the church.

SAWS headquarters anticipates further aid will be made available as soon as local directors can assess the need and the best way to help the return to normalcy. Members have already been alerted to lend a hand with cleaning up in each area when such becomes possible.

SCHOOL PRINCIPALS CONVENE IN BERRIEN SPRINGS

Some 150 Adventist secondary school principals from across the United States and Canada met from June 21 to 26 to fortify the role of Christian education in North America.

Convening on the campus of Andrews University, the educators focused particular attention on retaining the educational heritage of the Adventist denomination. This year marks the 100th year of Adventist education.

Discussions included such subjects as campus life styles, contemporary educational trends in Congress, a systems approach to discipline, religion in education, current trends in music, and the cost of education.

In the keynote address on the opening night of the meetings, Dr. Charles B. Hirsch, world director of Adventist education, spoke on the "Prospects and Possibilities" of Christian education.

"The philosophy and objectives of Adventist education," Hirsch said, "cannot be watered down. Unless our schools maintain a distinctiveness and a difference that is demanded of them, those in charge might as well seek other pursuits, because the constituencies are not going to keep paying for a program that they can find in the public schools."

As a remedy for some of the financial ills, Dr. Hirsch called for "a more central approach for more effective operation of the secondary schools." This, he admitted, would not be easy to achieve, because of what he described as parochial thinking.

Today the Adventist educational system has 4,557 schools providing Christian education for more than 372,000 students. It is the largest worldwide Protestant church-operated school system.

The entire Klute family came to recognize Pastor Klute's 50 years of service.

PASTOR KLUTE— 50 YEARS OF SERVICE SO FAR

Have you ever been summoned before the court for "illegal" missionary work, such as Ingathering? Have you ever had to obtain a special permit from the police to hold a cottage meeting? Have you ever given a Bible study in a home, knowing that just outside was a mob waiting with rocks, clubs, and knives to kill the "heretic"?

Elder Edmund J. Klute, pastor of the Polish church in Chicago, has had these experiences. Many times during his 50 years in the ministry he has realized the protection of angels.

"If I could turn back the clock 50 years, knowing all the troubles that I had to pass through, I would enter the little office just as I did 50 years ago and would start missionary work just as I did at that time." This is the stirring testimony Elder Klute gave at the service noting the fiftieth anniversary of his ministry.

Elder Klute began his work as secretary-treasurer of the Warsaw Mission Field in Poland. Since then he has worked in almost every branch of God's cause. He pioneered educational work, serving as the first teacher of the missionary training school in Poland. For 50 years he gave his undivided attention to the work of God.

And so, on May 6, a special meeting was held at the Polish church in Chicago. Among the two hundred people attending were visitors from seven states, including all of Elder Klute's children and grandchildren.

A report on mission work in Nigeria, as told by Eugene Witzel, son-in-law of Elder Klute, was a part of the Sabbath School program. Elder Witzel and his family have been serving in Africa for the last five years.

The main speaker, both morning and afternoon, was Elder C. H. Lauda, secretary of the North American Missions Committee at the General Conference.

Elder J. L. Hayward, the president, as well as others from the Illinois Conference, were present.

Special musical selections were enjoyed throughout the day. Elder Klute's grandchildren sang, and so did a children's trio from the German church. Other singers were Mr. Sezwick, Mrs. June Herr, and the conference office trio, Elder and Mrs. Eston Allen and Adeline Kleist.

Members and guests alike enjoyed the tasty potluck dinner at the noon hour.

Several visitors from Europe added interest to the day. Mr. Lach, whose father was the first Baptist in Central Poland, accepted the Advent message and became the first local church elder in Lodz, the home town and church where Elder Klute was baptized in 1919. Mrs. Lach, who many years ago attended the children's Sabbath School class in Poznan with Mrs. Klute, was also present.

It was a special joy for Elder Klute to welcome Elder Marian Hintz, who as a soldier attended his very first evangelistic crusade in Warsaw and accepted the message. After he was released from the army, he became a colporteur, and then worked at the Polish Book and Bible House in Warsaw. Later he was ordained and served in Poland and Germany before coming to the United States. Elder Hintz worked at the Washington Sanitarium 16 years before his retirement.

PATHFINDER FAIR HELD AT BROADVIEW

Young people came from all over Illinois to set up their booths at the Pathfinder Fair at Broadview Academy Sunday, May 21.

Booths were skillfully decorated, and several received first-place blue ribbons.

Included in the day's activities was drill team work. A highlight was kite flying in which each club flew the kites they built. The Hinsdale club had the largest kite.

Another special event was the flying of model planes.

CAMP MEETING DETAILS PROVIDED

Little Grassy Lake camp meeting will be held August 9 to 12.

Tent with floor and furnishings for two, including table and chairs, will cost $6.00. Additional cots and mattresses are 25 cents each.

Parking for private trailers with electricity is $1.00. Cabin for two is $6.00. Additional cots are extra. Space is available for privately owned tents. There are several motels near the camp.

Meals will be served in the cafeteria on Sabbath. Arrangements should be made before sundown Friday at the locating tent.

The camp is located seven and one-half miles southeast of Carbondale, Illinois. Take Highway 13 east out of Carbondale for about one-half mile; turn south on blacktop; follow signs toward Giant City Park. Travel about seven miles, then turn left on first road that leads to Little Grassy Lake. Camp is one-fourth mile on right. Phone (618) 457-5756.

Those desiring reservations should write immediately to the office of the conference treasurer, Box 89, Brookfield, Illinois 60513.

GREENFIELD CHURCH HONORS MEMBER

Members of the Greenfield church enjoyed a Mother's Day lunch in honor of their oldest member. Mary Pratt has been a member of the church for 57 years.

The earliteen girls' class, under the leadership of Mrs. Lois Holmes, served a delicious meal and presented the guest of honor with a bouquet of long-stemmed red roses.

Miss Pratt has devoted her years in the church to the primary and cradle roll divisions as a teacher.

PUBLIC RELATIONS SECRETARY OF THE YEAR NAMED

On June 22, Mrs. Romona Trubey, public relations secretary of the Cicero church, was awarded the Bronze Medallion at Indiana camp meeting. The award is given to the public relations secretary who has given the most consistent and outstanding service to her church in the field of public relations. Elder Robert Dale, president of the Indiana Conference, and Elder Wayne Martin, assistant secretary of the Bureau of Public Relations in the General Conference, made the presentation.

FIFTY BAPTIZED IN GARY

Members of many churches are sometimes tempted to believe that God is dead, but the Gary church has proved that God lives.

To date 50 baptisms have resulted because the Gary Glen Park, Valparaiso, Hammond, and Gary Spanish churches worked together to advance the cause of Christ.

Two baptisms were held June 10, the closing Sabbath of the campaign, making 24 baptisms for that day. A praise service climaxed the campaign Saturday night.

Elder M. Donovan Oswald, Elder Eugene R. Taylor, and Caleb Rosado led out. Harold Rigsby, Indiana lay campaign chairman, and Oscar Ratcliff, Gary lay manager, helped in organizing this large endeavor. Special music was provided each weekend by the Blessed Hope Singers who proclaimed the gospel through their songs.

A portion of the 50 people baptized during the Reach Out for Life meetings in Gary conducted by Elder M. D. Oswald. Front row on the left are: Eugene R. Taylor, pastor of the Gary and Valparaiso churches; Caleb Rosado, pastor of the Hammond and Gary Spanish churches; and Oscar Ratcliff from the Gary Glen Park church who was the lay campaign manager. The Blessed Hope Singers are on the right.

Two boys gave their hearts to Christ, and as a result of their changed lives, they each brought another boy to Christ. One young man, the only member of his family to join the church, refused to take entrance exams for an exclusive school which were given on a Sabbath. Another young man turned down two good job offers which would require working on Sabbath and took a job as a garbage man in order to keep the Sabbath.

Whole families were baptized—others were united. Many who had left the church returned. Some who never had known Christ accepted God's invitation to become part of His family.

The Gary church is determined to share their light. Elder Oswald, in preparing the church for the Reach Out for Life meetings often said, "Evangelism will solve every church problem—church finance, church school, growth in every missionary endeavor, and problems between members. When the fires of evangelism are kindled, the church is at its best."

SHILOH HOLDS HEALTH FAIR

The health education department of the Shiloh church sponsored its seventh annual community health week program, the Science of Better Living Fair, April 15 to 18.

The success of the program was due to the cooperation of the various health organizations of the Greater Chicago area.

The fair opened Sabbath, April 15, with Roy Whiteman, assistant administrator of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital, giving an informative lecture entitled "None of These Diseases."

The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County provided a mobile unit on Sunday and Monday to take free chest X-rays. The Police Community Service van and the Lake Region Conference Disaster and Relief van were also on display. Other participating organizations included the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, American Red Cross, Chicago Council on Alcoholism, Easter Seals Society, Illinois Department of Public Safety—Narcotics Division, Milk Foundation, and the March of Dimes National Foundation.

Filmstrips on cavity prevention and periodontal diseases were shown. The filmstrips and dental health education machine were available through the courtesy of Dr. C. E. Watson, a private dentist.

The "mini" health fair consisting of table exhibits, displays, and free literature was manned by young ladies, teen-agers, and juniors from the church who volunteered their services.

Pauline Campbell, health education secretary for Shiloh, is a registered nurse and Headstart teacher-nurse for the Chicago Board of Education. Plans for the year include classes in Red Cross home nursing, first aid, Veg-A-Weigh, teen and adult cooking, and the annual blood donor program.

SCHOOL BENEFIT PROGRAM IS SUCCESSFUL

The Calvin Center Home and School Fellowship of Cassopolis, Michigan, presented a benefit spring musical at the Cassopolis high school gymnasium Saturday night, May 27.

Mrs. George J. Harness, Home and School leader, was chairman of the program and Pastor James Clements was master of ceremonies.

Vocal and instrumental artists pleased the large audience with their excellent performance. The two-fold purpose was: (1) to provide the local community with an evening of a variety of good music which included spirituals, classical selections, and popular ballads by vocalists and instrumentalists using the piano, saxophone, trumpet, and flute, and, (2) to raise funds for needed school equipment, supplies, and plant improvements.

Elder Reginald Barnes, educational superintendent, was present and made commendatory remarks. "I, being one who appreciates any effort to improve a church school, am overwhelmed with the financial success of the program—over $1,500," he said later.

Mrs. Dawn Jones, coordinator of the program, and other performers are students at Andrews University who cheerfully donated their services. Others taking part were Yaffee McGee, soloist; Alfred Minisee, youth pianist; and a children's choir directed by Richard E. Jones, teacher of the Calvin Center school. Elder Roy Bellinger is the pastor of the church.

NEWS NOTES

- Mrs. Martha Benton, a member of the Gobles church, finds witnessing even in a state hospital rewarding. As an attendant at the state institution in Kalamazoo, she shares her faith with inmates, visitors, and fellow workers. One employee, a black minister of a small church, has expressed deep appreciation for the books Mrs. Benton has given to him. He is particularly thrilled with Bible Readings for the Home saying, "I can find in it the answer to any question I want to know."

- Members of the Burlington church are again active in placing Your Bible and You in local motels. This resulted because of numerous requests from the motel managers.

- Thirteen evergreen trees recently donated to Holly's Adventist elementary school were planted on the school grounds by eighth-grade class members.

- Faith for Today can now be seen in the Saginaw area over WNEB, Channel 5. The program is televised on Sundays at 7 a.m. This new addition brings Faith for Today's total number of stations to 240.

HASTINGS TO BUILD NEW CHURCH

Groundbreaking services took place May 17 for the new Hastings church. One hundred church members and friends were on hand for the late-afternoon occasion.

Robert D. Moon and Leonard Wartzok, president and treasurer of the conference respectively, led out in the special services. Also participating were James Hayward, district leader and pastor of the Battle Creek Tabernacle; Olav Labianca, local pastor; and Robert Shaffer, chairman of the building committee. Mr. and Mrs. Burr Dennison, the non-Adventist couple who donated the property for the new church, were also present to formally present the deed for the land. Clifford Andrus, local church elder, had the benediction.

After Elders Moon and Labianca wielded their shovels in the formal act of groundbreaking, the smiling local pastor, urged on by his congregation, climbed aboard the bulldozer which had just arrived and undertook an even greater groundbreaking gesture.

The local congregation has been working toward this day for the past two and a half years. Their proposed $73,000 structure will seat 168 people and will be 37 feet wide and 73 feet long. The basement will include educational facilities and a fellowship area. The new site is in a subdivision just being developed on the edge of town.

BERRIEN SPRINGS CHILDREN SHOW THEIR TALENTS

On the evening of May 30, children of the Berrien Springs Village church school gave their final Art and Music Festival for the school year.

Mrs. Hilary Robinson directed the narration and group singing of each grade. Grade one portrayed the work of Ludwig van Beethoven; grade two, Johannes Brahms; grade three, Stephen Foster; grade four, Gioacchino Rossini; grade five, Wolfgang Mozart; and grade six, Franz Haydn.

Mrs. Rae Holman directed the junior choir singing "The Sound of Music" and "I Believe in America."

The Toy Symphony Players made cuckoo, nightingale, and quail imitations with their trumpets, coronets, trombones, drums, marimbas, tambourines, rattles, and triangles.

Mrs. Viola Doering, the elementary art director, presented blue, red, and white ribbons to three persons in each grade for their exceptional art productions during this school year. They included: first grade, Doug Collier, Tricia Harden, Janel Hanson; second grade, Linda Sumner, Dora Chen, Lannet McComber; third grade, Billy Cantor, Robbie Furman, Craig Hanson; fourth grade, Craig Althage, Belinda Lamon, Janine Berdan; fifth grade, Paul Ries, Denise Valliers, Scott Kuhlman; and sixth grade, Marsha Pumford, Peter Robinson, Teri Dowell.

After the program the parents were escorted by their children to see their art creations made from macaroni, shells, seeds, sawdust, sand, toothpicks, and straws. After all, art is seeing the beauty in common things!

COURTESY NOTED AT ANDREWS ACADEMY

60TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED BY HASTINGS COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry E. Andrus of Hastings celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary with an open house Sunday, June 25, at the Carlton Center Grange Hall.

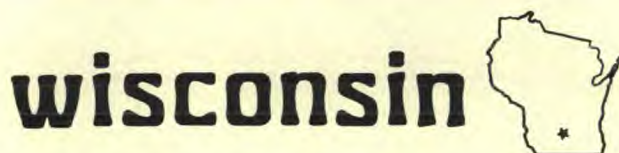

The couple were married on June 27, 1912, in Battle Creek by Elder Henry Nicola and have resided in the Carlton Center area all their married life. They are now temporarily residing at the Barry County Medical Facility.

Hosting the event were their children and families: Mr. and Mrs. Rex (Aline) Frisby, Mrs. and Mrs. Ross (Lena) Reppert, Charles Andrus, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Andrus, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Andrus.

STUDENTS RAISE MONEY FOR EQUIPMENT

Wilson Junior Academy students recently raised $220 for school equipment as a result of a Sunday walkathon. Fifth through eighth graders walked 10 miles from the school to the state forest campground. Students who participated were Ron Wery, Tom Berger, Bobbie Kitson, Jeanie Soper, Steve Wery, Rickie Blumenschein, Clair Kitson, Gary Blumenschein, Doug DeGrave, and Lola Soper. Their teacher, Arthur Leavitt, and the principal's wife, Mrs. George Blumenschein, accompanied them.

NEWS NOTES

• Dr. J. B. Jablonski, a dentist from Marinette, and Elder Trevor Delafield, pastor of the Wausau district, recently held a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking in Wausau's public library with televised reviews of each session over Channel 9 the following morning. In all, 35 kicked the habit and almost 100 purchased personal control books at local stores to follow the TV tips on breaking the nicotine chain.

• Medical and ministerial workers in Wisconsin were invited to Portage campgrounds Tuesday, June 13, for a day of recreation and fellowship.

LENA CHURCH HOSTS HIGH SCHOOL BACCALAUREATE

Members of the Lena church find their new sanctuary provides additional opportunities for community witness.

Forty seniors of the Lena public high school, their parents, staff, and friends listened as Kenneth J. Mittleider, Wisconsin Conference president, spoke at their baccalaureate service, June 4, in the new Lena church. Mittleider challenged the graduates to turn to the Scriptures to find strength to be different—to stand for God and country.

The Lena church was invited to host the baccalaureate service because many members of the community were impressed at what they saw and heard at an open house worship service in January, 1971. One of those deeply impressed was a local Catholic priest.

Each year some church hosts the high school baccalaureate service. Available facilities have been few in the little farming community, so often the services have been in the Catholic church.

Remembering the open house, the priest suggested that the Adventists might like to host this phase of the graduation services.

A member of the church, Mrs. Lionel Whiting, is guidance counselor at the high school.

Lena members are discussing plans for expanding balcony facilities in their new church for additional growth and community service.

MILTON JUNCTION HONORS MARSHALLS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Marshall of Milton observed their golden anniversary on Sabbath, May 27, and during the Sabbath School program they were surprised by a tribute and gift in appreciation for their service to the church.

The Marshalls have been members of the Milton Junction church all but two years during their marriage. Both have held positions of leadership. For 32 years Mr. Marshall has been a church elder.

Natives of Wisconsin, the couple were married May 27, 1922, in Madison. Marshall was employed in the assembly department of the Burdick Corporation for 43 years before retiring in 1961. Mrs. Marshall is the former Bertha Antsdel and is a registered nurse, graduating from the former Madison Sanitarium.

The Marshalls have two children, J. Herbert of Janesville, and Glennys, wife of Elder George Elstrom of Portland, Oregon, and three grandchildren.

Lo-Cal Casserole

(123 calories per 1 cup serving)

- 1/2 tablespoon margarine
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 clove garlic minced or pressed
- 1 can sauerkraut (27 ounce)
- noncaloric sweetener—equivalent to 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/3 cup STRIPPLE ZIPS® (1 ounce)
- 5 VEJA-LINKS®
- 2 tablespoons hot water

Heat margarine and 1 cup water in a large heavy saucepan. Add onion, green pepper, and garlic. Cook covered at medium heat until vegetables are tender. Drain and rinse sauerkraut thoroughly. Add sauerkraut, sweetener and STRIPPLE ZIPS to vegetable mixture. Blend thoroughly. Cut each of the VEJA-LINKS into six cross cut pieces. Place half the sauerkraut mixture in a shallow 2 quart casserole dish. Place VEJA-LINKS slices evenly over sauerkraut. Spread remaining sauerkraut mixture over VEJA-LINKS. Sprinkle with hot water. Bake covered at 350°F. for 25 minutes. Serves 6.

Ling Ping Chow

- 1 can SOYAMEAT™—FRIED CHICKEN STYLE (13 ounce)
- Marinade:
  - 1/2 cup soy sauce
  - 1/4 cup water
  - liquid drained from mushrooms
  - liquid drained from SOYAMEAT™—FRIED CHICKEN STYLE
  - 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
  - 1/4 teaspoon ginger (optional)
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 3/4 cup cross cut sliced celery
- 1 cup sliced onion
- 1 can sliced mushrooms (4 ounce), drained
- 1 teaspoon chopped pimiento
- 1/4 cup marinade (above)
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons sliced almonds

Drain SOYAMEAT, reserving liquid. Slice each piece SOYAMEAT in half crosswise. Prepare a marinade by combining the soy sauce, water, mushroom liquid, SOYAMEAT liquid, garlic powder and ginger. Place sliced SOYAMEAT in this marinade and allow to marinate for 15 minutes. Remove SOYAMEAT from marinade. Melt margarine in a heavy saucepan. Add celery and onions. Cover and cook at medium heat until vegetables are tender-crisp but not browned. Add mushrooms and pimiento. Combine 1/4 cup marinade, water, and cornstarch. Add to vegetable mixture. Boil until sauce is clear and thickened. Add drained marinated SOYAMEAT. Mix gently to blend vegetables and SOYAMEAT. Simmer uncovered for 3 minutes. Sprinkle with almonds and serve. Rice is an excellent accompaniment with this entree.

Sesame Zucchini

- 3 tablespoons margarine
- 1 cup thinly sliced onion
- 1 tablespoon sesame seed
- 4 to 5 cups peeled zucchini squash, cut into thin strips 2 inches long
- 1/2 packaged sliced WHAM™ (8 ounce package), finely diced
- 1/8 teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Melt margarine in a heavy skillet. Add onions. Sauté at medium heat until onions are tender but not browned. Add sesame seed. Sauté 2 minutes. Add zucchini strips. Cover. Cook at medium heat 5 minutes. Add diced WHAM, paprika, and soy sauce. Cook 5 minutes, occasionally stirring mixture gently. Place mixture in a shallow baking dish. Top with Parmesan cheese. Broil until cheese melts. Serves 4.

Chili Cheese-a-roni

- 1 cup dry macaroni
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 can WORTHINGTON CHILI (20 ounce)
- 1 cup chopped canned tomatoes
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain and set aside. Pour oil into a heavy saucepan. Add green pepper and onion. Cover and cook at medium heat until vegetables are tender. Add WORTHINGTON CHILI, tomatoes, sugar and garlic powder. Mix to blend. Simmer uncovered for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in cooked macaroni. Pour mixture into a buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole dish. Top with shredded cheese. Bake uncovered at 350°F. for 20 minutes. Yields 5 cups. Serves 6.

Prosage® Souffle

- 12 slices white or wheat bread, crusts removed
- 2 tablespoons corn oil
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup diced green pepper
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 pound PROSAGE®
- 2 tablespoons corn oil
- 3 eggs
- 2 cups milk
- 1/4 teaspoon sage
- 1 packet G. Washington's Golden Seasoning and Broth Mix

Line a greased rectangular 8" x 12" x 2" 2 quart casserole dish with 6 slices bread. Pour corn oil into a large skillet. Add onion, green pepper, and celery. Cover and cook until vegetables are tender. Add parsley. Mix well. Place half this mixture over the bread in the casserole. Slice according to package markings and fry PROSAGE in corn oil. Cut each fried piece in half. Place pieces over vegetable mixture. Top with remaining vegetables. Place 6 remaining slices of bread over vegetables. Combine eggs, milk, sage, and seasoning mix. Beat thoroughly. Pour over bread. Cover tightly and chill 4 or 5 hours or overnight. Place casserole in a pan of hot water. Bake uncovered at 325°F. for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Garnish with stuffed olives, pimiento, or parsley. Serves 6.

Faith for Today

NO STRANGER NOW by E. E. Cleveland.
Pacific Press Publishing Association, 50 cents.

Elder Cleveland's latest book addresses itself to racial inequalities of the past and present. Writing from personal experience, and a deep conviction of God's goodness, he imparts insight and understanding.

No Stranger Now is not written in bitterness. Cleveland, who knows the hopelessness of feeling inferior as well as the possibilities for human growth and development, writes with objectivity and gentleness. Problems exist, and he fearlessly admits them. Then just as fearlessly he points to the solution—Jesus living within us.

For Christians who want to understand the problems and success of the black individual in today's society, No Stranger Now is a must. A book of warmth, wisdom, and hope, it welds within readers the desire to actively work toward equality and brotherhood.

His book will help you remember God and our oneness as His children. At your Adventist Book Center now; 64 pages, only 50 cents a copy.

HAPPY SIDE OF LIFE by the Heritage Singers. Compatible Stereo, Chapel Records, S-5202.

This deluxe album not only presents the Heritage Singers in song, but also shows them in a large, double-size jacket center spread in full color.

The story of the Heritage Singers is a story of miracles—miracles in doors opened for them as they prepared to go on tour, and miracles in lives opened to the power of God as they sing their way across the country.

Those who hear this album will undoubtedly experience a deep longing to know better the One about whom the Heritage Singers have sung.

Among the selections they present are the title song, "The Happy Side of Life," "I Know Where I'm Going," "I Heard the Voice of Jesus," and "Turn Your Life Over to Jesus."

Available at your Adventist Book Center.

AWARDS GIVEN BUSINESS STUDENTS

Dr. Robert Firth, chairman of the Andrews business administration department, presents a $500 scholarship to J. Joseph So'Brien (center). The scholarship was provided on a matching basis by A.U. and the International Insurance Company of Takoma Park, Maryland. At right is Dr. Wilson Trickett, professor of business administration, who presented cash awards of $50, $75, and $125, respectively, to (from left) Paul Russell Schlaack, Mohammad Shakibnia, and Ramon Maury, whose term papers in the course, Management of Insurance, were judged best by the International Insurance Company, which provided the prizes.

STUDENTS GRANTED $37 THOUSAND

Outstanding students at Andrews were honored by scholarships, internships, grants, and recognitions during the annual awards assembly before the close of the spring quarter.

Larry Gipson, senior biology, was awarded a $26,000, four-year scholarship to the medical school at the University of Pittsburgh.

Three $2,100 internships from the Loma Linda University School of Public Health, Department of Nutrition, were awarded. The stipends, covering tuition and living expenses for one year, went to Kathy Bliven, Mavia Fletcher, and Anna McDowell, all senior nutrition students.

The $300 Thomas W. and Margaret M. Steen Scholarship, named for a former president of Andrews, was presented to Robert Bouchard, junior history and mathematics major.

Six $500 National Merit Scholarships were awarded to students who will be sophomores next year. Recipients were Harvey Brenneise, history; Karren Kieler, premed; Patricia Kinzer, premed; Kimber Lantry, theology; John May, political science; and Landa Smith, major undecided.

The music department presented $1,400 in scholarships of $50 to $500 each to Malcolm Anderson, freshman; Carlos Flores, sophomore; Adelpia Hill, senior; Carol Mosher, junior; Lucy Salsbury, sophomore; Robert Skilton, senior; and Gordon Wildman, senior.

Three students were recognized for outstanding achievement in French, German, and Spanish by the modern language department, receiving scholarships of $100 each. These were given to Kay Lawler, sophomore, who will study in Austria next year; Martha Farlow, freshman; and Nancy Noble, freshman.

Three students were awarded an anthology of modern short stories and poetry, on the basis that they were the most successful among 40 creative writing students of Harry W. Taylor, professor of English. They were Renee Copeland, a keypunch operator in St. Joseph; Muriel Jones Retterer, assistant in the periodicals room of the James White Library at A.U.; and Myrtle Fitzgerald, chairman of the education department at Southeast Asia Union College in Singapore and currently a graduate education student at Andrews.

The Wall Street Journal Award was presented by the business administration department to Norman McBride, senior business student. The Handbook of Chemistry and Physics was awarded to Chip Chaffin, sophomore premed student, by the Chemical Rubber Company.
