Tanya DiPietrantonio shows her Sabbath shoes to leader Kermit Netteburg.

No medals but....

The March issue of the Pioneer Memorial Church's monthly newsletter featured articles saluting the men of the church. One story pointed out that the membership of PMC is divided almost 50-50 between men and women as compared to most Adventist churches where the "membership is composed of considerably more women."

John Kroncke, pastor of the church, indicated that men are involved in a number of phases of the church program besides traditional roles.

The same issue of the Pioneer News carried a story by Kermit Netteburg, one of the men involved in the children's Sabbath School, entitled "No medals but..."

The story follows.

"I suppose the biggest thrill of your life doesn't have to be too big when you're only 30, as I am. The biggest thrill of my young life was one Sabbath morning as I held my daughter's hand walking down the basement hallway to Beginner's Sabbath School. I said, 'We're going to Sabbath School.'

"Her face brightened. A grin spilled her thumb from her mouth. She tugged at my hand as she tried to urge me along faster. In her best lisp she mumbled, 'Tha-vath Thoo. Tha-vath Thoo.'

"She wanted to go to Sabbath School more than anything else in her life. And I had the privilege of going with her.

COVER

"The Sabbath school is an important branch of the missionary work, not only because it gives to young and old a knowledge of God's word, but because it awakens in them a love for its sacred truths and a desire to study it for themselves; above all, it teaches them to regulate their lives by its holy teachings."—Testimonies, Vol. 5, page 389.

Doors of Opportunity

It was my privilege on February 29 through March 3 to join with about 100 administrators and leaders at Lincoln, Nebraska, for the purpose of taking a "witnessing" course. During the day we prayerfully studied Christ's methods in reaching individuals, and each evening was spent in calling on the citizens of Lincoln. It was both a rewarding and enlightening experience.

Of course, we are not unmindful of Christ's instructions to His disciples regarding door-to-door witnessing. He ever sought to impress upon His followers the importance of the individual contact. Although on occasion He spoke to large crowds, His ministry most often seemed to be with individuals or comparatively small gatherings. In this way the impact of His influence led to conviction and change in the life. It was the "personal touch."

Of the early church the record says, "And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ" (Acts 5:42). Obviously our Lord's instruction proved fruitful in the early church.

The question for us to ponder now is: Have people and conditions changed, and does modern man not respond to the personal touch? For today's answer we should seek the counsel of God's special messenger to the church. Here it is. "This house-to-house labor, searching for souls, hunting for the lost sheep, is the most essential work that can be done."—Evangelism, p. 431. "Carry the Word of God to every man's door."—Christian Service, p. 144. "Wherever a church is established, all the members should engage actively in missionary work. They should visit every family in the neighborhood, and know their spiritual condition."—Christian Service, p. 12. And this final pointed statement, "Every church should be a training school for Christian workers."—Christian Service, p. 59.

At the Lincoln meeting we called on former church members, special interests, and then went down the street door by door. The visiting team consisted of a minister and a layman from the local church. In just two or three hours of visiting each day the teams located a total of 40 to 50 people who were earnestly seeking truth and wished further information or Bible studies. One could not help but wonder what would happen if every one of the 520,000 church members and many more children in North America all became active witnesses. The results under the direction and blessings of the Holy Spirit would be staggering—it would mean a finished work in our day!

This new Witnessing Training Program is coming your way. Ask your pastor about it and offer your help. It is just that simple. Don't put it off! To delay your decision is to delay the return of our Lord and a happier, more-fulfilled you.

The doors of opportunity are waiting!

Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital

Winnie-the-Pooh recently visited children at a pediatrics party held at the Hinsdale San.

WINNIE-THE-POOH VISITS HOSPITAL

Winnie-the-Pooh pranced into the Hinsdale San on Sunday, March 28, to entertain children in the pediatric unit.

A Sears Roebuck representative in a fuzzy brown costume handed out Winnie-the-Pooh for President buttons and amused the kids with his antics. All the excitement was part of a regular pediatrics party for children scheduled for surgery within a few days or weeks.

"The parties are designed to introduce a child to the hospital when he is feeling well and can understand what will happen after he is admitted," says Thomas Lant, director of nursing development.

The parties, which include a brief tour of X-ray, laboratory, the pediatrics unit, and occupational therapy, are designed to alleviate fears of parents and children prior to entering the hospital setting.

Various medical instruments and procedures are introduced to the children at the party so they may become acquainted with them before encountering them during their hospital stay.

Toys and games which the children can play with in the pediatric unit are also shown. Nursing staff from the unit meet their prospective patients. So that the children can better identify with what will be happening to them, a film using cartoon characters is viewed.

During one part of the party, parents are given instructions as to hospital visiting hours, policies, and other helpful guidelines. In a brochure, Your Child's Stay in the Hospital, additional information is available to parents.

"All of these elements are designed to make the child's hospital stay a good experience for both the parents and child," says Mary Overby, nursing development instructor. The entire family including brothers and sisters are invited to the party.

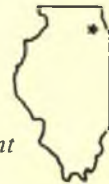

The parties are held the second and fourth Sunday of each month in Regnery Auditorium, and an average of 25 children and their families attend. The hospital has been holding these preadmission parties for more than three years.

In judging the success of the parties, Lant says, "Children who have attended these parties are consistently less fearful of their hospital stay and procedures that might otherwise frighten them."

Children who are scheduled for elective surgery receive a personal invitation to the party several days before the event. At past parties, clowns, Raggedy Ann and Andy, "Big Bird" and his friends from the Sesame Street television show, and other "celebrities" have visited the party.

Besides Pooh, a Disney character, Mickey Mouse, is expected to fly in to a future pediatrics party this summer.

October 16—Palisades State Park on Mississippi River (2 miles north of Savanna on Route 84)

The club has Sabbath services, a fellowship dinner, nature walks, and sundown worship on Sabbath. Do join us! For information please call Mrs. Polly Bull, (312) 325-1466.

Reuben Serrano, Alvera LaVelle, Frank Cangelosi, and Debbie Carson participated in the Bicentennial social at Rockford.

SPRIT OF '76 IN ROCKFORD

The Ingathering victory celebration climaxed a full day of activities at the Rockford Church.

The youth department hosted special guests Reuben Serrano, Alvera LaVelle, Frank Cangelosi, and Debbie Carson. Alvera reported on her interview and visit with Dr. Youngberg, the Good Samaritan award winner of the Guidepost magazine 1974. The doctor is doing his humanitarian work in Honduras and Alvera's report inspired all who heard it.

Reuben Serrano, a professional guitarist and singer from Mexico City, opened the Bicentennial church activities for Rockford. He sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" in Spanish, accompanied by local Vesper Voices soloist, Louise Smith, who sang in English. The singing preceded the entrance of the Pathfinder drill team which started the evening basketball game of the youth of the church against the "Over the Hills" (those over 20). OTH won 69 to 37. Dick Karp, lay activities leader, was chairman of the evening activities. His dedicated work in the Ingathering program made the victory banquet more meaningful.

Opening services in the new Freeport Church will be April 24.

OPENING SERVICES IN FREEPORT CHURCH

Members of the Freeport Church are looking forward with eager anticipation to the opening service in their new church on April 24.

Featured guests for this special occasion will be Elder Lowell Bock, Lake Union Conference president; Elder John Hayward, Illinois Conference president; and other Illinois Conference office personnel. A cordial invitation is extended to all relatives, friends, and neighbors to join this happy group on this special day.

The congregation was first organized in August of 1971 and met in a room at the YWCA for a time. Later arrangements were made to have Sabbath services in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church, where the group is still meeting.

Although the membership is comprised of only about 60 members, their faithful efforts and financial support has resulted in a wonderful lighthouse for the Lord. The new church is built on a hill on a nine-acre tract of land located on U.S. 20 on the west edge of Freeport. The sanctuary itself will seat about 200 persons. The new building also includes a full basement, kitchen facilities, recreational area, Sabbath School classrooms, a room for welfare services, and a church office.

The Lord has richly blessed and will continue to bless this congregation as they reach out now to witness in this area of the Lord's vineyard.

BVA STUDENTS VISIT QUINCY CHURCH

A group of 15 students from Broadview Academy conducted the entire Sabbath service of the Quincy Church on February 21. In addition they held a 3 p.m. special service that was well attended.

They came as a team of young men and women to demonstrate the immense possibilities and capabilities of the teenagers of our denomination. They amply proved themselves and it is hoped that they continue their studies and devote their careers to the Lord's work. Members said that it was a privilege to be their host. They made the evening an outstanding one for the members. They really made the Lord's work come alive and gave the church members renewed faith in our young people. A hearty "thank you" is expressed to everyone on that team.

A carry-in dinner was served by the women of the church in the basement of the Community Center building. This was the first dinner to be held there. The Center has been in the process of renovation for some time and still needs work to finish up the facilities.

THE MIRROR OF YOUR LIFE

"I give and bequeath to the Indiana Association of Seventh-day Adventists . . . the entire remaining residue of my estate. . . . These funds are to be used for whatever purpose its officers deem best for the advancement of the faith to which I have dedicated my life." These words, now public property, were written in 1967 and when the will was probated on January 29, 1976, there was no change in this outstanding testimony of one of God's sons who died recently.

After directing that all expenses were to be paid and a bequest to each of four stepchildren, the gift to God's work stood out as a "mirror of his life." He had been very generous to God's work in life and in death.

Just weeks before death at the age of 89, his modest home had been placed in a revocable trust with the Indiana Association. Funeral arrangements and all expenses were prepaid. He practiced true Christian stewardship.

Assistance in preparing your Christian will is a service of the Trust Services of your conference. Many choose to take materials prepared to their own local lawyer for the drafting of the wills documents, while others elect to use the services of the conference attorney.

Questions about the guardianship of minor children, testamentary trusts for the Christian education of children, bequests to the gospel work of the church, and gifts and bequests to the needs of one's earthly family should all be provided for in your will. Some estate plans will also include gift annuities, which pay a higher rate of interest on money given to advance God's work, or revocable trusts for property, cash, or life insurance policies.

Recently the words "God's will is still in probate" caught my attention. The Apostle Paul phrased it like this, "If children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ" (Romans 8:17). To be an heir of God means that the sizeable and eternal estate being prepared for God's sons and daughters will be given out when His probate is completed; and the joint-heirship is a rather unique partnership with Christ in the condominiums of heaven (John 14:1-3). Do you have a Christian will in harmony with your life?

What might have been accomplished if each of the 106 Seventh-day Adventists of Indiana who died in 1975 had a will like the one mentioned. Remember your will is a mirror of your life!

PALFIS CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Franz Palfi

In celebration of their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Franz Palfi of Hammond, Indiana, were honored at a dinner held in Obie's Restaurant in Griffith, Indiana. More than 150 relatives and friends gathered for the occasion. The Palfis were married October 10, 1925, in Hungary.

A program in appreciation of their parents was organized by Louis and Maria Hegedus and Anthony and Romana Palfi. Elder Erick Meyer, pastor of the German Church, repeated Psalms 23 and 127. A duet was sung by Elder and Mrs. Mario Ruf. The Palfis' son, Anthony, gave the history of his parents' departure from Hungary, Austria, and Germany. They arrived in the U.S. in 1951. They attend the Hungarian Church in Chicago.

The Palfis have three sons and one daughter: Frank of Battle Creek, Michigan; Steve of Chicago, Illinois; Anthony of Hammond, Indiana; and Mrs. Maria Hegedus of Hammond. They also have 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

LAKE REGION HOLDS WINTER WORKERS MEETING

The annual winter workers meeting held January 25 to 27 brought Lake Region pastors, Bible workers, and literature field leaders to Chicago.

Each year the meetings commence with the Ingathering victory celebration. The banquet held at the Chicago Sheraton featured awards presented by the conference to pastors and laymen for outstanding accomplishments during the past year.

Elder Horace Jones, lay activities and Sabbath School director, was master of ceremonies. Special guests included L. L. Bock, Lake Union president; W. R. Robinson, editor of Message magazine; F. L. Jones, executive secretary; and W. L. Murrill, treasurer of the Lake Union Conference.

President J. R. Wagner takes special interest in the award presentation. In his words: "We appreciate all of you. You are the finest workers in all the world. The award presentation is only a small way that the conference shows its appreciation to the church leaders, as well as their members, for diligence in business and the promotion of the church's programs during the year."

The following awards were presented: Robert Smith, Cassopolis, first church to reach its Ingathering goal; Bastian Bernard, French Church, double Ingathering goal and largest tithe per capita ($453); T. Marshall Kelly, Detroit, youth department; Vern Joyner, East St. Louis, communication department; Sylister Jackson, Detroit

Elder L. L. Bock

Center, inner city; J. D. Simons, Chicago, publishing department; C. R. Graham, Samuel Flagg, George Bryant, Sylister Jackson, Norman Miles, Detroit area pastors, Christian education; Harold Lindsey, Shiloh, highest tithe gain, $18,000; James E. Wray, Chicago, lay work; Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Foxworth, Chicago, Laymen of the Year; J. D. Parker, Michigan City, Indiana, dark county evangelism; Shiloh Church, top soul-winning church; four century men (baptized 100 or more for their district), J. D. Simons, 101; James Wray, 102; George Bryant, 116; and H. A. Lindsey, 146; and George Bryant, the President's Award. Appreciation plaques were presented to J. R. Wagner, I. R. Palmer, and R. C. Brown, Sr., for their dedicated and faithful service.

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Foxworth accept the award as Laymen of the Year.

Following the festivities of Sunday evening, a more serious note was sounded as the workers gathered at the Shiloh Church for a devotional before the business of the session. After song service, prayer and special music by Mrs. Cloie Logan, Elder Bock expressed his delight at being with the Lake Region workers in this his first meeting with them.

Bock went on to share thoughts from the Bible and the Spirit of Prophecy that expressed God's love for mankind as shown through His mercy. At the conclusion of his message, the workers united in a season of prayer.

Throughout the remaining day, departmental leaders addressed the workers. The Mission '76 program received added thrust as J. M. Phipps, ministerial director, gave instructions concerning this vital church program.

Evangelism plays a large part in the ongoing conference program. Wagner discussed the budget allotted for evangelism and challenged every worker to have a part in seeing 2,000 or more persons baptized in 1976. With laymen and ministers working together, this can be a reality during the 200th year of our nation.

"It hadn't always been a joy for me to go to Sabbath School with her. I remember the first Sabbath I took her to Cradle Roll. . . .

"I looked around the room and noticed I wasn't the only man there. Hidden among the forty women was one other man, as awkward looking and sheepish feeling as I.

"We were at Beginner's Sabbath School..

"He and I developed a friendship of bondsmen spirits. We were like Moabites in Judah. There were special rooms for mothers, admonitions for mothers to keep their children quiet, special envelopes for mothers to put offerings in, even an investment project for mothers.

"But my wife had decided she and I would share the privilege of taking our daughter to Sabbath School. We wanted the little girl to know both of us cared about her spiritual condition, and this was the method we chose.

"I liked to share spiritual moments with my daughter. I enjoyed 'Jesus' little lamb' or 'Here is an apple.' I stayed with it for more than a year; Charity graduated to the Nursery division. Then something terrible happened.

"It was in those awkward 20 minutes before the time adult Sabbath School is out but after the littlest children's divisions are over. Bea Hamel, the Nursery leader, shared with me her desire to see more men as leaders in the little children's divisions. I agreed with her, saying some children could easily grow to be 15 without ever seeing a man lead out in Sabbath School.

"Then she asked me to lead.

" 'Me?' I asked back.

" 'Yes, you.' she reaffirmed the question.

" 'Me!'

"I was a Cradle Roll leader.

"I had a lot of worries, 'I can't sing.' 'What if the kids scream and run because they're afraid of a man in front?' 'I'll never think of things to say to little children in between songs!'

"The worries proved unfounded. Children seemed surprised at seeing a man in front but they obeyed more easily because of the surprise. Parents in the room sang louder than usual when they heard my voice.

"I haven't exactly become famous. I'm certainly not the only man leading in young children's divisions here at PMC. Mothers don't stop me in the vestibule asking for my autograph. The pastors haven't given me an award for meritorious service in the line of little duties.

"But the rewards have been numerous. I get a huge kick out of seeing the children run up to the well to give their offerings. And when the little ones almost topple over pretending to be giant trees gently swaying, I see Jesus supporting them.

"Abraham Lincoln is credited with saying that no man stands as tall as when he stoops to help a child. I would add that no man wastes time when he listens to children and shares the love of Jesus with them."

NEWS NOTES

- Seven persons were baptized into the South Haven Church recently as a result of Bible studies by layman John Stachnik and Elder Stuart Snyder. Another person was rebaptized and joined the Covert congregation.

- Elder Stuart Snyder of the South Haven Church is directing a remodeling of the present church interior. Funds for a desired new building have not materialized fast enough so it was voted to make some improvements to the current building.

- A Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking was conducted recently in the Bangor High School with LaVan Mapes, D.D.S., and Elder Stuart Snyder leading out. One for South Haven is being planned for the near future. Another health emphasis program is being spearheaded by Brenda Mapes, R.N., and her husband, Blair, a lab technologist. They have organized a 3-C's risk evaluation program for the Bangor area. A testing program was scheduled for early March with four weekly follow-up health lectures to follow.

- The new name for the recently merged Belding and Greenville churches is "Belgreen." The combined congregations are meeting in the Belding Church until a new church structure can be erected in a more central location.

- The Wyoming Park Church of the Greater Grand Rapids area, has changed its name to the Wyoming SDA Church.

- The recent move of Elder Norman Yeager to Howard City has resulted in the Lapeer Church being assigned to the Orion-Oxford district under the direction of Pastor Jerry Johns while the Otter Lake Church is now cared for by Elder Don Gettys of South Flint.

- At a recent Battle Creek meeting of the Great Lakes Chapter of the National Association of Seventh-day Adventist Dentists (NASDAD), the following three Michigan dentists were elected to serve as officers: Robert L. Wohlers, St. Johns, president; Alan F. Bush, Lansing, president-elect; and William D. Taylor, Battle Creek, secretary-treasurer.

- Harold DeWitt, a literature evangelist from Holly, has been asked to serve as a field assistant for the Detroit area. Harry Brown who has been serving as the literature evangelist leader for Greater Detroit is now filling the vacancy at Grand Rapids caused by the recent move of Louis Olivio to Kalamazoo as a Bible instructor.

- The Farmington Youth Involvement group, students from the city's junior and senior high schools, recently collected many articles of clothing for the local Adventist Community Service Center. They collected clothes that were in both "good condition and fashionable"; clothes "that we wouldn't be embarrassed to wear to school ourselves."

- A four-week series of evangelistic meetings in Holly by Conference Evangelist Arnold Kraner resulted in an initial baptism of 20 persons. Eleven of them joined the Holly Church with the remaining nine becoming members of other churches in the area. On March 13, Elder and Mrs. Kraner began another series of meetings in Grand Rapids.

- Gordon and Cheryl Doss, daughter and son-in-law of Elder and Mrs. Victor Brown of Grand Rapids, left for Africa, March 8, to serve in the Trans-Africa Division. Gordon, who recently completed studies at the Seminary, will serve as field secretary for the North Lake Field which is a mission conference serving the northern portion of Malawi and a part of the South-East African Union.

- Stewart Erhard, M.D., of Eaton Rapids, has been asked to conduct a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking at the denomination's largest North American hospital in Orlando, Florida, in March. Dr. Erhard has led out in more than fifty smoking cessation clinics since 1964 in Michigan and Illinois. He will work with his brother John, a former pastor in Michigan, who is now chaplain at the hospital.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL SEMINAR AND WORKSHOP TO BE HELD

The annual Vacation Bible School Seminar and Workshop will be held April 30 to May 2. An estimated 250 church members involved in this evangelistic outreach are expected to attend the inspirational and training session at Au Sable.

Featured guests for the weekend will be Elders Tom Ashlock of the General Conference Sabbath School Department and Norman Matiko of the Voice of Prophecy Field Services.

Frank Jones of the Lake Union Conference and Clyde Groomer and his staff from the local conference office will also be on hand to assist in presentations and to display and explain the Vacation Bible School supplies.

If you will be involved in a Vacation Bible School this summer, attending this weekend is a must!

BICENTENNIAL ENROLLMENT CARDS

The Michigan Conference Department of Communication has a supply of the special red, white, and blue Bible course enrollment cards prepared by the Voice of Prophecy for this Bicentennial year. The cards will be available only until the Fourth of July, so if you desire a supply for your witnessing program, write immediately to the Department of Communication, Box 19009, Lansing, MI 48904.

Mrs. Maxine Matacio, Mrs. Joyce Wilburn, and Mrs. Orveta Nedley conducted the cooking school.

COOKING SCHOOL HELD IN TROY

Eighty-eight people attended the cooking school conducted by the Troy Church in early March. Forty-three percent of those registered were non-Adventists.

Each evening at 6:30, visitors lined up for tasting.

Mrs. Maxine Matacio, Mrs. Joyce Wilburn, and Mrs. Orvetta Nedley organized the school, gave the lectures, and conducted the demonstrations. Many other ladies of the church helped with the decorating, serving, cooking of samples, and selling of cookbooks and health foods. A health film was shown each night by Phil Edgar, lay activities director.

The program was well received and many of the enthusiastic group indicated an interest in additional community services which Troy hopes to offer in the near future. Two young ladies signed up for the Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course and are attending the pastor's Bible class on Sabbaths.

GUATEMALA STORY

(Editor's note: The following personal letter regarding the recent earthquake in Guatemala was written by Elder Robert S. Folkenberg, president of the Central American Union. It was received by Orville McElmurry, D.D.S., of Lansing, Michigan, and is being passed on to Herald readers because of the current interest in these events.)

February 16, 1976

Dear Friends,

After Guatemala has been in the news so much in the past few weeks it seemed only appropriate to let you know our side of the story, and bring you up to date on the myriad of happenings, as well as assure you of our safety.

February 4, at about 3:03 a.m. was the beginning of a horror-story for Guatemala, and for us. There is no terror like being awakened and virtually thrown out of bed and finding that there is nothing solid! Anita screamed, and then it sounded like the whole house was falling down around us. Bobby managed to make it outside while the earthquake was still going on. Kathi was petrified because she couldn't move due to the orthopedic bar between her shoes that she has to wear to bed. The wall came over and hit my foot and broke my toe. Make no mistake about it, an earthquake is not a tremor or a vibration, but the whole land surface, trees, houses, and all, moving back and forth about two or more feet. It is not a slow pulsation, but rapid making it impossible to stand up. We rushed out into the street and spent the rest of the night looking at the damage all over town.

What we thought was terrible in town was nothing compared to the dozens and dozens of towns that are no more. The adobe buildings that have no cement/steel reinforcement virtually all came down. In San Mateo, population 3,000, we found that 2,200 had been killed. When you fly over the earthquake zone that is about 300 miles by 75 miles, almost every town is either terribly affected or completely destroyed. The last official name-by-name count of the dead has passed the 17,000 mark, with more than 60,000 injured, and more than a million without homes. This makes it one of the worst earthquakes in history. Since the first quake there have been more than 1,300 tremors, and among them several hard quakes. Believe me this makes it hard to sleep at night. At first they were coming about one every fifteen minutes.

As far as our members are concerned, we know of six who have lost their lives. Nine churches and a gymnasium have been destroyed. Almost 300 SDAs have lost their homes. One SDA lady in San Pedro Sacatepequez threw herself on top of her two children to save their lives only to have the tons of her adobe wall come down on her and crush her. Her children were saved. This is the occasion of which heroes are made.

The church has been outstanding in the relief efforts that are still being carried out. An average of 4,000 people per day are being fed in many, many cities across the country. Almost 300 tents are up and providing shelter for eight to ten people in each of them. This shelter and food program will have to be continued for a period of up to four months.

With regard to medical work, the International Surgical Eye Team is here and will be operating for about two weeks. Also LIGA International will be coordinating a constant series of physician groups to come to Guatemala for a week at a time for the next several months. I know that there are four orthopedic specialists here now that have 75 surgeries lined up for them.

It would be superfluous to say that we need help. Many organizations have sent assistance. The Euro-African Division sent a large load of milk, and Mexico has sent several truckloads of food, but we need to buy a tremendous amount of zinc to help provide roofing for the homes of the many members who lost theirs, as well as for the destroyed churches. Thank you for your interest and support during this trying time, and especially for your prayers. This is nothing more than a reminder of the times in which we are living. Please write to us for now more than ever your letters mean much.

Your brother in Christ,

Robert S. Folkenberg, President
Central American Union

NEWS NOTES

• The children of the Prairie du Chien Church gather once a month to sing to the residents of the Beaumont Nursing Home. The children's Sabbath School only has eight members, ages 1 to 13, but they make up for number in enthusiasm.

• A Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking was held at Eau Claire, February 22 to 27, at the Sacred Heart Hospital. There were 13 people in attendance and 12 of them stayed off cigarettes for three days. One of these was a man that had smoked up to four packages of cigarettes a day. The Five-Day Plan was conducted by the Eau Claire Church laymen. A follow-up plan is scheduled by the neighboring Chippewa Falls Church.

• A Focus on Family Life series was held at Appleton, February 14 to 28, by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gibbons. This series of lectures dealt with marriage and family life and was based on their own experiences, the Bible, and the Spirit of Prophecy. The Gibbonses offered many helpful insights into Christian living based on God's plan for a more beautiful home life.

• During the first week of January, Pastor Don Roth from the Richland Center Church collected all the fourth quarter Sabbath School lessons and all the old Review and Herald's that people had. These were put into three packages and given to Mrs. Mayne Judson, Mrs. Theron Ewers, and Mrs. Phil Kabanuk. These ladies in turn took the packages and mailed them to the Philippine Union Mission. Word has just been received from the lay activities department of the Mission that the packages have been received and were greatly appreciated. The Mission has launched Target 80 Stage Three, and this literature sent by the Richland Center people will be used in this soul-winning program.

• The members of the Janesville district gathered at the Woodland Adventist School on Saturday night, January 31, to bid farewell to their pastor and his family. Pastor Wesley Jaster left to take up his new duties as pastor of the Madison Church. The Jasters were given a farewell gift as a token of the love and affection of the members.

• Mrs. Catherine Walden of Stevens Point recently spoke at a meeting of the Mid-Wisconsin District Nurses Association. She showed the film "No Hands But Ours," a Loma Linda production showing SDA medical work around the world.

• The Baraboo Church has sent out 1,500 Steps to Christs to the recipients of the Shopper Stopper, the regular shopping guide for their area. Each copy of the book included a VOP enrollment card.

• The Baraboo Church has opened a Community Services Center in their unused church school building on Highway 136 west of the city. The center is open the first and third Wednesday of each month from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

BAPTISM IN JANESVILLE

CAREER DAY AT MID-AMERICAN

Thirty-six seniors from Wisconsin Academy attended a Career Day in January sponsored by Mid-American Health Services. It was held at River Pines Community Health Center in Stevens Point.

Students heard presentations by health care professionals and toured River Pines. They also talked with supervisory personnel from River Pines and from Mid-American about job opportunities, training, and responsibilities.

Glenn Aufderhar, president of Mid-American, and Richard T. Walden, M.D., medical director of Mid-American and the Wisconsin Conference, talked about health needs in the state. Aufderhar also reviewed the possibilities of specific opportunities with Mid-American. Vernon Putz, a physical therapist from Oconto, showed a film about his profession and discussed needs in that area.

Between general presentations, students talked with persons who work in their specific areas of interest.

River Pines and Mid-American personnel taking part were Dave Beardsley, administrator; Dave Vining, assistant administrator; Linda Schroeder, director of nursing; Gloria Kiefer, social services; Morris Arnold, food service director; Cloice Lemon, activity director; and Jerry Montelius, physical therapist, all of River Pines; and Malcolm Olmstad, dietician; Connie Schwarz, secretary; and Lon Lasher, public relations/communications, all of Mid-American.

Nearly all students found the day useful, said Mrs. Catherine Walden, R.N., who organized the session. They only hoped for more time to explore specific interests, she added.

Mrs. Walden had met with the seniors prior to the Career Day to determine which areas of health care appealed to them.

Meet Ray

Ray Parr is a Licensed Practical Nurse at Hinsdale Hospital. Before his patients go to surgery he tells them that they aren't only in the hands of the surgeon, but also in the hands of God. Ray believes that, "being a nurse is a good way to serve God."

We think so too. That's why we offer a 12-month course in practical nursing. Come join the September class. Write to the director of practical nursing for an application.

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY

A REMINDER. HELP! SAVE OUR HERITAGE. In 1901 Emmanuel Missionary College personnel enjoyed the use of the county courthouse and related buildings both for classes and living. The courthouse was used as a Seventh-day Adventist church for many years. Funds are urgently needed to restore the sheriff's house next to the courthouse. Our combined gifts will be presented at a special courthouse ceremony on alumni homecoming weekend, May 2. Make your tax-deductible gift payable to the Berrien County Historical Association and mail it at once to Wilson L. Trickett, Chairman of AUAA Special Projects, 115 N. Maplewood, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

Even hardworking volunteers need a break, claim five of the six Andrews students who helped clear up and repair the burned home of an 83-year-old Benton Harbor man.

ANDREWS STUDENTS HELP BENTON HARBOR MAN

Six Andrews University students belonging to the Black Student Christian Forum (BSCF) responded recently to a call for help to clean up and repair a Benton Harbor home that had been partially destroyed by fire.

The home, owned by Roco D'Amrosio (83), had been partially destroyed when the coal furnace caught fire. D'Amrosio had lived there for 52 years.

The Benton Harbor Social Services contacted the university to ask if someone would be willing to help. BSCF students working on the house were: Ira Everett, sophomore-business; Fred Furman, sophomore-biology; Sam Leer, junior-sociology; Jim Zeisner, occupational education; Tony Patterson, junior-history; and Greg Caldwell, sophomore-communication.

The students were directed on the project by D'Amrosio's son and a representative from Social Services. They tore out two damaged ceilings, cleared the place of debris, and did general clean-up work.

COMMUNICATION COURSE TO BE HELD AT ANDREWS UNIVERSITY

A course in communication is scheduled at Andrews University this summer, June 14 to July 9.

Offered under the auspices of the Theological Seminary, the course (CM518) should be of interest not only to students but to ministers and communication personnel, administrators, and departmental directors.

Classes will meet ten hours a week, Monday through Friday and will offer four hours of graduate credit at a cost of $46 per credit. The course is open also to those not qualifying for credit at an additional charge of $10.

Areas of communication to be covered by the syllabus will include: How to develop and preserve good will; how to deal with preconceptions and prejudice; self-expression; practical public relations; exhibits; publicity, advertising, news reporting; religious broadcasting on radio and TV; photojournalism; and film and audiovisual techniques.

"The basic business of the Seventh-day Adventist church is to communicate," said Victor H. Cooper, associate secretary, General Conference communication department. "We invite you to enroll at Andrews University, sharpen up your tools, and help do the job."

Food Systems Consultants' main staff includes Clinton Wall, director, left; Ella Petricko, dietary management consultant; and Millie Kurtz, associate dietitian and management consultant.

FOOD SYSTEMS CONSULTANTS SERVE 29 INSTITUTIONS

Clinton A. Wall, R.D., Food Systems Consultants director at Andrews, provided layout design counsel for complete modernization of the food service facility at Berrien General Hospital in a two-year contract completed the last of February. Administrative dietitian Doris Collins, R.D.; therapeutic dietitian Jenine Sharp, R.D.; and Foods Systems consultant Ella Petricko, R.D., gave dietary leadership under the contract.

Part of the contract was to provide a base for the coordinated undergraduate program for dietetics at Andrews where students could receive necessary work experience in a hospital setting. The hospital will continue to provide this opportunity to A.U. students.

Food Systems Consultants offers the following types of service: food systems management on a yearly contract basis, layout design, equipment specification, and on-site review and evaluation. The consultants currently serve 29 institutions, ranging from resort facilities at Saskatoon, Canada, to Montemorelos University in Mexico.
