PROJECT STEPS TO CHRIST: . . . a planned program of presenting Christ to the teeming millions of Chicagoland. Illustration by Nadine Dower.

That They May Be One

It is refreshing to witness laymen, pastors, and conference administrators working together "as one" in the loftiest of all enterprises—carrying the "good news of salvation" to the masses in this last generation. It is more refreshing still to be a part of that action and that oneness and that spirit.

Right here in our conference during the months of June through August our people in the Illinois and Lake Region conferences will seek to contact every home in the great Chicago metropolis. In this issue and succeeding issues of the Herald you will learn how it will be done and also how the interests found will be followed.

The plan includes the use of the most modern techniques known in mass distribution, and the key people in leadership are laymen who understand and use these methods in the everyday business world. Should the church come behind in any good thing? Thank God we have within the ranks of the church dedicated, highly skilled, and God-fearing laymen who are driven by a desire to see the work on earth finished!

We believe "Operation Steps" is God's design, and trust when tested and perfected it might be used to reach every corner of that part of the vineyard entrusted to us. Notice how the plan utilizes the zip code to ensure methodical and complete coverage. This is a modern innovation that has never to my knowledge been used for our missionary outreach.

As the Holy Spirit directs those who are honest of heart, Steps to Christ will urge them on in their quest for truth. Are we ready to follow these interests with personal Bible studies? I believe it is significant that at this same time classes in witnessing are also being conducted in most of our churches. Can you see God's design in it all?

The final scenes of the great controversy are now unfolding. "The agencies of evil are combining their forces and consolidating. They are strengthening for the last great crisis. Great changes are soon to take place in our world, and the final movements will be rapid ones."—Testimonies, Vol. 9, p. 11 (written 67 years ago). Don't you think it is time for the forces of good to consolidate and unite as well? Jesus was praying for us when He appealed to the Father "that they may be one, even as we are one" (John 17:22).

Indiana is one of the most representative states in mid-America—and such it has been also in the Adventist “world.” North of Shelbyville one finds very favorable farmlands, but south of that line Indiana limestone ledges crop out. And thus Indiana is divided demographically.

The conference in Indiana at base stands as a monument to two men, aspiring young ministers, who accepted its challenges seriously. Elbert B. Lane (and his wife, Ellen) and his natural brother, Sands H., came down from Bedford, Michigan, in 1869 to draw souls into Adventist Christianity—which they did to the effervescent delight of James White, who used Review editorials to chide other young ministers because they liked to hover over churches already established.

Despite illness, axle-deep mud, and countless debates these men campaigned in the counties extending out from the Kokomo area. Conference organization resulted in 1872, and by 1880 it contained 522 members.

In 1881, however, sorrow settled as James White and Elbert Lane faded. At the time of his passing Elbert was conducting an evangelistic crusade in Camden, Michigan, while his wife, Ellen, was engaged in a series of meetings nearer their home. Summer debility had slowed him down, but he left the tent feeling quite well and happy hoping to recuperate overnight and return to the "great interest" next day. But not so. The following evening he did not come and just as prayer was offered to open the service a rider came announcing his death. The audience was shocked, and a "great cry arose from all the tent." He did not even send word to his wife of his plight because she was conducting meetings and he did not wish to alarm or disturb her.

However Sands Lane carried on to become a general favorite among the churches in Indiana, Tennessee,

Virginia, Illinois, Michigan. With his "round face beaming and his ready tongue spilling stories and vivid images . . . Sands stood in the pulpit and held his audience spellbound." Naturally Indiana folk drafted him to serve as president of their conference from 1877 to

Sands H. Lane

1884. He gathered a galaxy of native-son workers, dyed-in-the-wool Hoosiers, and the cause prospered. Thus the membership doubled by 1890, and again by 1900 when 2,226 was reached. From 1900 to 1934, however, the tally stood still, only to double again by 1947 when 4,369 counted. This final upsurge occurred under the leadership of Sherman E. Wight, 1934-40, 1943-47. Currently the conference embraces nearly 6,000.

If one studies the memberships in the other Lake States, he will discover that they, too, reveal a relatively similar pattern of growth.

Why was Adventism so lousy over 30 years? Of course one should not pontificate, but some factors are ponderable. These: 1) because after 1888 “modern Israel” turned into a wilderness of wandering; 2) because Christ did not return around 1900 as some quietly hoped; 3) because of the need to rebuild depleted churches; 4) because of the growth of heavier SDA memberships in both coastal areas.

But why the spurt following 1930? Perhaps for these reasons: 1) because of the tremendous arousal occasioned by the Great Depression; 2) because of the shift in population from country to city churches; 3) because of the on-staging of a population that was familiar with the 20th century.

Consequently the challenge, then, is to lay to heart what Indiana has to teach us!

“ ‘How remarkable! What an amazing thing the Lord has done’ ”
(Matthew 21:42, The Living Bible).

PROJECT: STEPS TO CHRIST is a concept inspired by God in the mind of Jim Barclay, a laymember in Illinois. The project has received the backing of the General Conference, the Lake Union as well as the Illinois and Lake Region conferences. This article presents the philosophy of the witnessing program as Mr. Barclay presented it in early May at a meeting of Illinois and Lake Region Conference administrators and pastors.

PROJECT: STEPS TO

PROJECT: STEPS TO CHRIST is a unique, practical research program for the North American Division. The purpose of the project is to first identify the fundamental instructions given in the Bible and the Spirit of Prophecy regarding the proclaiming of the Gospel. The second purpose is to apply these instructions to the specific geographic area of Illinois. Thus, Illinois is being considered a microcosm of a larger world, possessing a very large city (Chicago) as well as a significant country area. The state is composed of approximately 11 million people speaking 100 languages, living in 4 million residential units located in 4,756 cities.

The leading question we must ask at this point is, Can we ever really expect to successfully proclaim the Gospel to this world of Illinois? The answer is yes, based on the following instruction: "When we give ourselves wholly to God, and in our work follow His directions, He makes Himself responsible for its accomplishment."—Christ's Object Lessons, p. 363.

The next logical question is, What are His directions for proclaiming the Gospel? We will try to enumerate some of them in a sequence that will bring out the high points of God's work plan.

1. God created man (to whom we must proclaim the Gospel) a free moral agent, and God's purpose does not coerce the will of man. This leaves man free and personally responsible for making a choice.

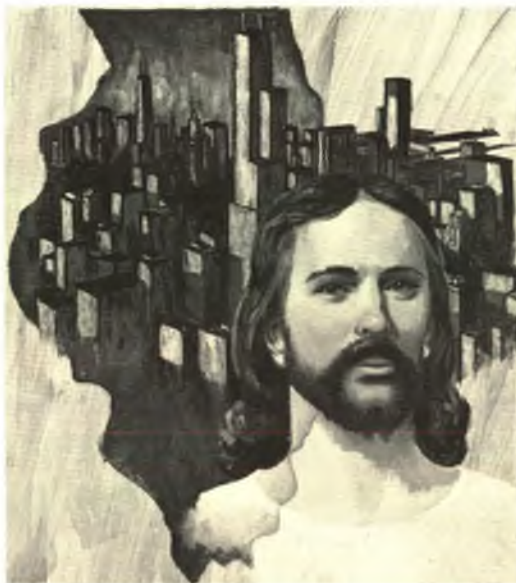

2. God created man amenable to the moral law with a conscience to realize the sacred claims of the divine law, and a heart capable of loving it as holy, just, and good. This leaves man personally capable of making a choice.

3. God's design for soul winning encompasses a team effort. "Divine and human agencies are combined in the work of saving souls."—Review and Herald, March 1, 1887.

4. The work of the divine agency,

CHRIST

by Jim Barclay

the Holy Spirit, is expressed as follows: "My Spirit alone is competent to teach and to convict of sin. Externals make only a temporary impression upon the mind. I will enforce truth on the conscience."—Testimonies, Vol. 7, p. 159.

5. The work of the human agent is expressed as follows: "The proclamation of the gospel is the only means in which God can employ human beings as His instrumentalities for the salvation of souls."—Review and Herald, October 13, 1904.

6. To proclaim the Gospel requires an action. That action consists of providing every person in every home the privilege of hearing and/or reading the gospel message.

7. To provide the world of Illinois with the privilege of hearing and/or reading the gospel message requires us to bring this right to every home's attention.

8. The responsibility for doing this work does not belong primarily to the paid ministry. "It is not the Lord's purpose that ministers should be left to do the greatest part of the work of sowing the seeds of truth."—Testimonies, Vol. 7, p. 21.

9. God has given us a team of instruments to proclaim His message. They are the living teacher with a voice, and the published word which is the silent messenger.

10. To utilize this team of proclaimers we must recognize one characteristic that both possess in different degrees. That characteristic is mobility—the ability to go places for God. The living teacher has limited mobility; the published word can go everywhere.

The immediate purpose of the research is to apply these principles to the world of Illinois. To do this we must recognize two basic types of problems—the large city type of problem and the rural country area made up of smaller towns and farming land. We have chosen to begin to work with the less complex problem—the city of Chicago.

The plan calls for carrying the privilege of hearing and reading the gospel message to one million homes in the city of Chicago this summer and to respond to those who are interested.

We appeal to the Chicagoland church members of both the Lake Region Conference and the Illinois Conference to form an army of workers that will do this work quickly in the next few weeks. Follow your local church leader's instructions promptly and it will be done.

We appeal to all church members that read this article. Pray that as this work is done the people will respond to the call of the Holy Spirit as it presses the delivered message to their hearts.

We will need your regular continuous financial support to carry the message to the second million homes. Mark your offering envelopes PROJECT: STEPS TO CHRIST.

PRACTICAL NURSES RATE NUMBER ONE IN STATE

Recently returned test results show that the September practical nursing class of Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital ranked number one of the 31 Illinois practical nursing schools taking the State Board Registration examination last October.

All of the 28 Hinsdale Hospital students passed the registration test to receive their licensures. The Hinsdale San School of Practical Nursing offers a 12-month course which begins each September. The licensed practical nurse is an important member of the nursing team and is prepared to give direct patient care under the supervision of a registered professional nurse or physician.

Areas of employment for practical nurses include hospital staff nurse, office nurse, private duty nurse, community health nurse, or industrial nurse.

The center located just north of the hospital sponsored the fifth annual health fair which included dental, lung, hearing, and blood pressure screening.

A reduced fee of $7.50 was charged by Hinsdale San for the blood test which analyzed 16 different blood characteristics such as cholesterol, blood sugar, and a white cell count. Participants returned in one week to receive the blood test results and interpretation.

NEWS NOTE

• On April 22 Elder R. J. Kloosterhuis conducted an Investiture service at the Joliet School. Thirteen boys and girls were invested. The group included two Sunbeams, two Helping Hands, two Builders, four Explorers, one Busybee, one Friend, and one Companion.

BROADVIEW ACADEMY STUDENTS REALLY LOVE CHILDREN

A busload of Broadview Academy students arrived on the campus of the Rockford Church School each morning for the school's spring Week of Prayer, April 13 to 16. They did more than teach and sing and counsel. They entered into each facet of school life, getting to know the children on a first name basis, showing interest in their studies, projects, and playground activities. Many Broadview Academy students conversed with the church school students while twirling on the merry-go-round. What an inspiration to see this involvement from dedicated students, our future leaders, bringing Christ to their little friends in such a warm and cordial way. The project was organized by Broadview Academy teacher Leonard Brown.

ETERNITY SINGERS SHARED MUSICAL TALENT AT NORTH SHORE

The Eternity Singers, a group founded 13 years ago, brought their own unique sounds of music to the North Shore Church, February 21. This group of about 20 people shared their musical talent and personal love of God.

Director Lindy Bartelson indicated the group travels approximately 20,000 miles a year. Group members come from 12 areas, as far away as Ohio. They begin rehearsals in October and continue through the end of November. Once a week, five-hour rehearsals are required during this time; then they are on the road every other weekend. Mr. Bartelson urges interested parties to contact him at Eternity Singers, Inc., 8770 West B Avenue, Otsego, MI 49078.

SPRING DORCAS FEDERATION MEETINGS HELD

The Illinois Conference Spring Dorcas Federation meetings have been an inspiration to anyone attending this year. The soul-winning and witnessing experiences were of a special quality from each of the four federations.

The Western Federation meeting held at Canton had representatives present from every Dorcas Society within the federation.

The guest speaker was Pauline Hart from Denver, Colorado. She gave an inspiring account of her experiences as a social worker. Miss Hart spoke at all four federation meetings—Chicagoland, Central, Western and Southern.

June Jacobson was introduced to the societies for the first time as the newly elected conference federation president. Her contribution and dedication to the community services work in the Illinois Conference will be greatly appreciated. Her 30 years of experience in this work will be of benefit to the program throughout the conference. Mrs. Jacobson is also the community services leader for her home church, Chicago North Shore, and is president of the Chicagoland Federation.

The community services program is growing, and we are anxious for it to play a greater role in spreading the message to the many people here in the State of Illinois in these closing days.

WA-RITE CLASSES

The Wa-Rite program, classes in weight management and healthful living, were conducted at the South Suburban Church for 12 weeks starting February 2.

Cynthia Holstein, R.N., conducted the classes with a group of selected assistants. Approximately 75 percent of the 28 registered participants were non-Adventists. The weight loss ranged from 35 to 4 pounds.

Most of the group seemed to be motivated highly by the lectures and films. Vegetarianism was received very well and great interest was shown in the damaging effects of a high cholesterol diet.

Many expressed their thanks for being taught a more healthful and balanced way to eat and live.

LEADERCRAFT COURSE HELD IN MUNCIE

Seventeen youth leaders from central Indiana gathered in Muncie recently to attend a Senior MV Leadercraft Course conducted by Elder Cliff Hoffman, youth director of the Indiana Conference.

Beginning Friday evening and continuing through Sabbath afternoon, the course extended over a wide range of areas that are vital to the functioning of an effective youth program. Among the subjects covered were youth evangelism, programming, committee work, qualities of leaders, and small group strategy.

Elder Harry Sackett, conference Sabbath School and lay activities director, assisted Elder Hoffman in the

DARK COUNTY EVANGELISM

More than a year ago an outreach program was planned for Salem, Indiana, where there were no Seventh-day Adventists. Several literature evangelists and conference office workers joined with the members from the Paoli and Scottsburg districts to visit every home in Salem.

More than 80 requests for the gift Bible came in as a result of the house-to-house visits. Bible worker Ruth Jenks was sent by the conference to assist the pastor and members in the Bible studies. Plans were made for an evangelistic series in the Salem Armory. William L. Woodruff, conference ministerial director; Harry Sackett, lay activities director; Dick Tanner, publishing director; and Ruth Jenks worked together in presenting a five-week series of meetings.

A group canvass was conducted by the literature evangelists the week prior to the lecture series, and every home received an invitation in the mail. The preparation for the mailing was done by the Livonia Church members.

On the opening night more than 125 people came to hear the Bible message and most of these were non-members. Throughout the series there was an average of 50 to 75 guests each night.

Now that the meetings have concluded a group of 14 to 16 adults plus children are meeting each Sabbath in Salem with the hope of organizing a company. Pastor Don Kellogg is continuing with meetings each Sabbath morning and Wednesday night. Seven people are planning to be in the first baptism. Several others have indicated that they would like to be in a future baptism.

We praise God for what we see happening in Salem, and we ask an interest in your prayers as Pastor Kellogg and Mrs. Jenks continue to work with interested people.

A TESTIMONIAL EVENING AT BEACON OF JOY

The usher board of Beacon of Joy Church in Chicago presented a testimonial program entitled "We are Ambassadors for Christ." The ushers wanted to show their pastor, Elder J. D. Simons, and members that they had been witnessing and giving Bible studies to their friends and families who were not in Christ. Five persons were baptized as a result of their witnessing.

The Straford Memorial Church usher board also saw the fruit of their labors. Earline Campbell, president, witnessed to Philip Page on her way home from work one day. Page was an alcoholic. She continued working and talking with him until he gave up alcohol and accepted Christ. He is now participating in the church services and will soon become a member of one of the auxiliaries at Straford. God is to be praised for all those who were baptized.

The Beacon of Joy usher board has set a goal of one soul for each usher. There are six adults, seven young adults, and seven junior ushers. It is their desire to have someone ready for baptism each quarter.

BROWN CONCLUDES SPEAKING TOUR

Roscoe G. Brown

Lay evangelist Roscoe G. Brown has recently finished a speaking tour which included eight churches in the Lake Region Conference and one church in the Illinois Conference.

During this speaking tour he spoke at the following churches: Elkhart and East Chicago, Indiana; Niles, Benton Harbor, and Dowagiac, Michigan; Chicago Heights, Pembroke, Beverly Hills, and Straford Memorial churches.

Twenty-one years ago Mrs. Beatrice Hampton, former Bible instructor for Lake Region Conference, led Brown to Christ after studying with him for a year.

Brown is married and has two children. He is the first elder of the Robbins Church in Robbins, Illinois. His dream is to see many more laymen preaching, giving Bible studies, and winning souls to Christ.

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN OIC PROGRAM

Twenty-five students from Shiloh Academy participated in a month-long celebration of black history at the Berrien Opportunities Industrialization Center, Inc., during February.

The students, under the direction of Purette Bethea, school counselor, chartered a bus at their own expense to make the 160-mile round trip. James Harris, director of training, invited the students to come. Prior to moving to Michigan two years ago Harris taught for six years at Shiloh. It was a real pleasure for him to see many of his former students sharing their faith.

The students made up a singing group directed by Yvette Skinner, senior. The group sang several Negro spirituals and gospel songs. A quintet composed of members of the group also presented music. After a poem was recited by one of the students and a short sermonette was given by Darrell Coleman, the audience was invited to sing along with the group.

The OIC is a nonprofit organization operated and supported by people of the Berrien County area. It has been at its present location in Benton Harbor, Michigan, since November 13, 1974.

The program is open to persons 18 years and older who have not completed the requirements for their high school diploma. High school dropouts and adults, who for various reasons did not finish high school, may enroll to study for the GED test and/or be trained for a particular skill.

The OIC will offer personal and vocational counseling, pre-job training, job placement, follow-up as long as needed, continuing education, multi-services with community involvement, and referral service.

MUSICIANS' GUILD HELD CHORAL FESTIVAL

The Michigan Chapter of the Seventh-day Adventist Church Musicians' Guild sponsored a recent Choral Festival in the Lansing Church.

The Sabbath School program featured two Arias from Mozart performed by 7-year-old Susan Moll of Midland; and Prelude and Fugue performed by the Grand Ledge Academy Woodwind Quintet, Deborah Greeley, Kathy Hutchins, Meredith Hutchinson, Karen Mickelsen, and Patricia Simon with David Fuller directing.

The worship service included selections by the Festival Choir of more than 200 voices, under the direction of Rosalyn Upshaw of the Andrews University Department of Music. They were accompanied by Dorothy Moll at the organ. Assisting the chorus were trumpeters Kevin Ayers, Ron Durham, and James Harebottle of Grand Ledge Academy, and Al Doering, David and Norman Moll of Midland. Meditation for Violin and Piano was performed by Dr. Gunter Koch of Bangor, accompanied at the piano by his daughter Ruth Ann. Pastor O. L. Johnston presented the sermon entitled "The King Cometh," correlating the seasonal and festival theme of the triumphal entry into Jerusalem with Jesus' great triumphal entry at His second coming.

In the afternoon the church members and guests again assembled for a sacred choral concert by the Festival Choir. Narration by Mrs. Robert Johnson of Midland interspersed the choral selections.

The Festival was coordinated by Mrs. Dorothy Moll of Midland, and Mrs. Carol Hearn of Lansing.

Earlier in the year a weekend professional sacred music conference was held in St. Joseph. Members of the Andrews University music faculty were guest artists and speakers for the convocation. Elder C. Raymond Holmes gave an in-depth presentation explaining the "Liturgical Mission of the Adventist Church." Coordinators for this event were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roy and Dr. and Mrs. Andre Van Niekerk.

SPIRITUAL EMPHASIS BY CEDAR LAKE ACADEMY

Cedar Lake Academy has completed an 11-day period of spiritual emphasis. This included junior-senior and freshman-sophomore Bible camps and the Student Week of Prayer.

Dr. E. E. Rogers, head of the Department of Religion of Oakwood College was the guest speaker for the two Bible camps at Au Sable. This was planned, directed, and carried out almost entirely by students. The Week of Prayer on the campus ended with Sabbath services in the Cedar Lake Church.

During this spiritual emphasis week, 24 students (12 young men and 12 young women) presented talks designed to cover the basic areas of the plan of salvation, Christian hope, and pure living. Each school day there were services at 11:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. with two speakers leading out in each meeting. Other students presented selections of sacred music. Elder Don Eckenroth, local pastor, coordinated the presentations and musical activities for the week.

TWO-PART PROJECT PLANNED BY SAGINAW CHURCH MEMBERS

Plans for a new Saginaw Adventist Church were approved recently by the Saginaw Township Planning Commission.

Construction of the first phase of a two-part project on the church property on Center Road should begin about June 1, according to Pastor Wilbur F. Woodhams. A Colorado firm which specializes in church construction will do most of the framework while church volunteers will do wiring, plumbing, and finishing under the supervision of a licensed contractor, he said.

Phase I will cost about $140,000 for four classrooms, a community services center, and social hall. Construction is expected to take one year. Pastor Woodhams said the congregation's present building will be sold.

GREAT CONTROVERSY BRINGS RESULTS

A sailor on duty in Iceland read his buddy's Great Controversy. He was recently baptized in Owosso after six years of searching for Bible truth.

Kenneth King was baptized February 28 in the Owosso Church by Elder Lester Mohns, director of the Michigan Conference publishing department.

King became interested in the full message of the book because it answered the question as to which day was the Sabbath. This was a question which had perplexed him since childhood, he reported. He continued to study the Scriptures and other Adventist books including: Life Sketches, Ministry of Healing, Desire of Ages, and Daniel and the Revelation. He also completed Bible study courses offered by Faith for Today and the Voice of Prophecy.

Last October, King, who is the service manager for the Radio Shack in Owosso, became acquainted with Literature Evangelist Larry Hubbell while discussing religious tapes. The two studied together until King was ready for baptism.

WEAVERS HOLD FOURTH ANNUAL COOKING SCHOOL

On March 30 Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Weaver began their fourth annual vegetarian cooking school held in the Southfield Junior Academy gymnasium.

More than 400 interested students, young and old, attended and were delighted at what they saw. Subjects such as "A Balanced Diet and Physical Vigor," "Abundant Proteins from Vegetable Sources," "Facts and Arthur Weaver, M.D., showed the audience one of the health programs.

Fallacies About Fats," and "Exciting Ways with Vegetables," illustrated with slides kept their interest.

At the beginning of each night's program students enjoyed tasty meatless chili, spinach lasagna, lentil soup, and other food samples. Later Mrs. Weaver discussed the ingredients and methods of preparation.

A father and son team, Drs. Donald and Morris Ballard demonstrated the "fun way" to make homemade breads. Duane Lemon, Southfield Junior Academy principal, showed how to make a lemon pie without all those high-cholesterol egg yolks in it! A touch of humor resulted when he realized he had forgotten to add the lemon juice and rind to the pie mixture. Mrs. Farrell Hannon and others also gave demonstrations during the four nights of the cooking school.

Ending each evening's program was the giving away of door prizes. These were chosen from items donated by various companies and displayed on a table.

Mrs. Natalie Weaver showed the various dishes that can be made out of the meatless products found in stores today.

With the help of dedicated ladies from the constituency churches (Metropolitan, Oakwood, Plymouth, Belleville, Farmington, and Livonia) who prepared and served the food, as well as the guest speakers, the cooking school was successful in helping nonchurch members understand more about Adventists' vegetarian life-style.

Ever seeking to help others to a better understanding of the Scriptures, Dr. and Mrs. Weaver held informal Bible studies on April 25 and May 2 at the Detroit Metropolitan Church which 20 couples attended. A vegetarian luncheon was served at noon. Personal Bible studies will then be offered to those who are interested in learning more about Adventist doctrines.

WORTHY STUDENT FUND OFFERING JUNE 12

Where can anyone make an investment that reaches greater dimensions than in the life of a young man or woman? Through the years there have been many of our people who have contributed faithfully to the Worthy Student Fund. What an impact this has made on the lives of many students. There are those individuals who have been assisted monthly from the Worthy Student Fund and are now holding responsible positions in the church and in their communities. How wonderful it is to be able to give assistance to students who have little source of income other than the work provided here at the academy for their education expenses.

Many times we find students who are carrying a financial burden that becomes discouraging. They long to remain at the academy yet they need help in order to do so. The Worthy Student Fund must be greatly increased to meet the ever-increasing costs of Christian education.

We feel an urgency that every eligible academy student in the State of Wisconsin should have the opportunity of attending this school. However, in order to make this possible it is necessary that we have an ever-growing Worthy Student Fund. Therefore, it means that we give prayerful consideration to our responsibility in giving for the special offering for this purpose on Sabbath, June 12.

WISCONSIN ACADEMY YOUTH SHOW THE WAY

For the past two years WAY teams (Wisconsin Academy Youth) have been sharing the "way" with the churches and people of Wisconsin. These teams visit the various churches or youth rallies and share their faith through music, speaking, and personal contact.

The five WAY teams this year have been very active in witnessing to 19 different churches and youth rallies including some as far away as Superior and Clear Lake and some as close to home as Madison. There have been 37 young people at Wisconsin Academy this year who have been involved with these WAY teams. The Wisconsin constituency has not been the only group to benefit from these witnessing teams. The team members themselves have been brought closer to God and each other as Dixie Wright, one of the team leaders, notes: "We made many new friends and had experiences we will never forget."

The four student leaders of these teams are: Nancy Levens (junior), Dixie Wright (sophomore), Debbie Gillham (senior), and Larry Sprecher (sophomore). The head sponsor of these witnessing groups is Elder Robert Knutson, and the other sponsors are Dale Lent, Dave Smith, Helen Guth, and Alfred Lane. They all agree that it is wonderful to see Christian young people sharing their faith and learning how to be even more effective witnesses for God in the future.

The new Eau Claire district church school is now in use.

EAU CLAIRE CHURCH SCHOOL USES NEW GYMNASIUM

The Eau Claire district church school children have begun to make use of their new gymnasium which is nearing completion. There are several details yet to be finished but most of the structure is now functional.

The new structure includes a kitchen, lounge area, restrooms, and a 40- by 60-foot auditorium. The main portion of the gym is designed so that it can easily be enlarged at a future time. The building is an American Steel structure and was purchased from American Structural Systems of Wausau.

The actual cost of the building is approximately $35,000; the church borrowed only $10,000. Much sacrifice and free labor have gone into the project, but it is already proving to be a great benefit to the school and the district. By the end of July the project should be completed.

VALLEY FORGE OR BUST

All the way to Valley Forge in the Bicentennial Wagon Train is a sign provided by the A.U. Alumni Association and the Berrien County Historical Commission.

The sign calls attention to the fact that Andrews University and Berrien County have been "Partners in Progress" since 1901 when A.U. was moved from Battle Creek to Berrien Springs.

Carrying the banner for Berrien County and Andrews on the side of his covered wagon is Carl Jordan of Woodland, Michigan. Jordan, 82, made his own Conestoga wagon of lumber from his farm. The flag of Michigan donated by Woodland citizens flies over his wagon.

Mr. Jordan has with him a supply of A.U. Profile pamphlets and brochures of the old courthouse which has been recently restored to its original design and appearance.

Dr. Horace Shaw, executive secretary of the A.U. Alumni Association, dressed as Uncle Sam is meeting with the Wagon Train at certain stops on its way to Valley Forge. Along the way townspeople and travelers combine talents to produce a Bicentennial program at each stop. Also the visitors are provided with printed pledges which they may sign to indicate their allegiance to the principles of freedom on which the United States was built.

HERDMAN EDITS PAMPHLET FOR COUNTY HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Herdman is a trustee of the Berrien County Historical Association which administers the courthouse in Berrien Springs and the historical collection it houses.

STUDENTS BUILD TWO $60,000 HOMES

The occupational education department, under the supervision of Farrell Gilliland Sr., has recently built two homes in the Shaker Landing development in Berrien Springs.

The houses were built by students of the general carpentry and construction class. Students enrolled in architecture, plumbing, electrical, and masonry classes also helped in this project.

Assisting in the supervision of this project were Emil Constantine (electrical) and Steve Bielas (plumbing).

"These houses are in the $60,000 class, but were not built for any particular individual," said Stephen Young, director of the occupational education department. They have been placed for sale on the open market.

A.U. STUDENTS' STORIES MAKE UP NEW BOOK

Joyce Rochat

From Tonight to Forever, a book of stories written by A.U. students and compiled and edited by Dr. Joyce Rochat, associate professor of English, has been accepted for publication by Pacific Press, Mountain View, California.

The book contains 24 full-length stories of about 2,500 words each that Dr. Rochat considered to be exceptional. The stories are from her freshman composition, expository and creative writing classes of the last three years.

Dr. Rochat says her purpose in teaching students to write is "so they will be prepared to write in a more professional way for our denominational magazines." She also feels that these stories are too valuable to be published just once in a periodical, so she began to compile them for publication in book form.
