Servicemen's Offering To Be Taken On June 19

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Many Seventh-day Adventist young people are today serving in the military forces of the United States.

These young men and women are serving their country, in most cases, far from home and friends. In many instances they are on foreign soil and in cultures that are different from their own.

Often they are near Seventh-day Adventist churches where they may benefit from the blessings of Sabbath services even though these may be conducted in languages that are unfamiliar to them.

In other instances they must travel many miles to a place of worship. This means they must attempt to separate themselves from the routine experience of a camp or bivouac if they are to find a place of quiet and rest to worship their God.

The Holy Bible is the chief source of inspiration for young Adventists in military service. However, they also find comfort in the articles found in such magazines as the Adventist Review, Insight, Listen, Signs, Message, and the Sabbath School lesson quarterly. These and other forms of Seventh-day Adventist literature are made available to them through the General Conference National Service Organization.

The cost of supplying each Seventh-day Adventist military person with this type of literature is more than $60 for a two-year period.

With the number of youth now serving in the military, and the possibility of more becoming involved, it is essential that each church member have a small share in keeping open the communication with service personnel.

It will cost $160,000 during the next two years to keep this program at its present pace. The church has scheduled one Sabbath every two years for this special offering. This year the offering will be taken on June 19.

Your prayers and contributions are solicited to aid Adventists in the service of this country. Write "Servicemen's Fund Offering" on a tithe envelope, and place the envelope with your check or cash enclosed in the offering plate. Your help will be appreciated.

20 Schools Participate in Education Fair

INDIANA—The 15th Annual Education Fair of the Indiana Academy, Sunday, April 4. Students, parents, friends, relatives and educators representing 20 Indiana schools began the day's program with worship presented by Herb Wrate, superintendent of education.

But the Education Fair really began long before the 10 A.M. opening. Throughout the gym learning centers with educational projects had already been constructed. Mark Sargeant, Dean Jewett and Gene Stutz, the backdrop committee, had worked many hours to complete the fair theme of Jesus' last words before He left earth, "Ye shall receive power . . . and be witnesses."

Twenty candle symbols surrounded the words and silhouettes of two youth in prayer. Each of the candles was inscribed with the name of an Indiana school, written in calligraphy by an Indiana Academy senior, Dave Thompson.

Preparation for the Education Fair began long before the construction of displays. The temperance posters represented school work completed weeks before. Work in other temperance areas done throughout the year included jingles, short stories and essays. Awards were presented by Cliff Hoffman, youth and temperance director.

Students commented that they enjoyed preparing for the fair and "meeting in a central place to share ideas."

Home Health Agency Opens in Hinsdale

HINSDALE, Ill.—A new home health agency, Health Care at Home, in cooperation with Hinsdale Hospital, has recently opened to serve the western suburbs of Chicago.

Health Care at Home, a division of Adventist Health System North, provides professional and supportive health care to sick and disabled persons in their own homes. These services can range from a single visit to 24-hour care, depending on the patient's needs.

Services which are available, according to Juanita Johnson, director, include skilled nursing assessments of patient's needs, monitoring medications and vital signs, and help with blood drawing and catheter or dressing changes. "Nurses also instruct patients and their families in colostomy, diabetic, and cast care, as well as diet," she says.

A wide range of services such as physical therapy, speech pathology, occupational therapy, social services, private duty care, and aides and companions are possible through contract with Hinsdale Hospital.

Health Care at Home will also be providing home care for St. Thomas Hospice of Darien, Illinois, which recently merged with Health Care at Home, and specializes in the management of pain control and symptoms associated with terminal illness.

Health Care at Home has its headquarters in Stevensville, Michigan. Another office will be opening soon in Stoneham, Massachusetts.

The Conant Gardens Church in Detroit, Michigan, is still under construction, but is now being used for worship services.

Conant Gardens Members Worship in New Church

LAKE REGION—The members of the Conant Gardens Church in Detroit have now realized a long-awaited day—the day when they would move into their new church home.

Though the building is not completed, the experience of worshipping in their own facility for the first time on April 24 was unforgettable.

This dream was accomplished with the leadership of the pastor and builder, Zadock Reid.

The speaker for the worship service was Charles D. Joseph, president of the Lake Region Conference. Dr. Joseph's topic was, "By Whose Words?"

The services for the Sabbath were completed when Elder Reid performed the first baptism in the new church for four new members.

According to communication secretary Matilda Martin, members of Conant Gardens are glad to be in their new church.

School Paper Awards Given by Lake Union Herald

LAKE UNION—Wisconsin Academy's school newspaper, the "Wisconsinian," received the All-Union Award for school paper journalism from the Lake Union Herald at the academy's award ceremony on May 24.

Kris Perlberg, a senior, was the editor of the "Wisconsinian" this year.

Established this year by the Herald staff to recognize and encourage good journalism, the award was based on several categories: coverage of activities, layout and design, writing, photos, portrayal of school image, and overall effect.

Other awards were also given: Andrews Academy's "Sanjo" and Broadview Academy's "Exponent" received awards of distinction; Cedar Lake Academy's "Cedar Log" and Indiana Academy's "Echo" received awards of merit, and Adelphian Academy's "The Shiawassian" and Peterson-Warren Academy's "Spur Express" received honorable mentions.

"We realize that the academies have different budgets and facilities to produce their newspapers," said Jere Wallack, editor of the Herald, "so these awards are not competitive among the academies. We want to encourage the school paper staffs to do the very best with what they have. More than one school paper may be eligible for an All-Union Award, or any of the other awards, in any given year."

Academy yearbooks will also be judged, and awards will be made sometime during the first semester of the 1982-83 school year.

Food Fair and Heartbeat
Draw 198 People to B.C.A.H.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—Heartbeat, a traditional winner among health education community programs, and Food Fair, a newly launched undertaking, together attracted a total of 198 participants to Battle Creek Adventist Hospital in February.

Heartbeat drew the attention of WKZO-TV, Kalamazoo, whose camera crew filmed several aspects of the coronary risk evaluation process for their Sunday and Monday news.

Food Fair's debut, on February 25, demonstrated to a dinner-hour crowd of 63 that a meal of low fat, low cholesterol, high-fiber foods can be appealing. Several people registered for a bread-baking seminar.

Teams of volunteers, both from the hospital and from the community, staffed Heartbeat testing stations and the Food Fair tasting booths.

Volunteers worked in cooperation with health education department staff members, and contributed much to the success of both programs, according to Joyce Combes, department director.

BOLINGBROOK, Ill.—When Andrew Clevinger entered the world on May 1, 1982, at 9:55 P.M., his birth cries marked the arrival of the first baby to be born at Bolingbrook Medical Center, Bolingbrook, Illinois.

Normally, women in labor are transferred from the center to nearby hospitals.

Because of the immediacy of the baby's arrival, however, Dr.

Maxine Peters, a B.M.C. emergency room physician, presided at the natural birth.

Andrew weighed in at 10 pounds, 12 ounces. After the delivery, Andrew and his mother, Vivian Clevinger, were taken to Hinsdale Hospital for post partum care.

South Bend Prepares for Fall Evangelism

INDIANA—The South Bend church members are showing their community and the surrounding area that they are "The Caring Church," inspired by the article in the February 18 issue of the Adventist Review about the proposed Reader's Digest ad featuring Seventh-day Adventists.

South Bend pastors and church leaders have been in a training program for the lay people. They are conducting Five-Day Plans to Stop Smoking, Stress Control Seminars, How To Know God Seminars, Weight Control Seminars, Parenting Seminars, Marriage Encounter and Marriage Commitment weekends, as well as involving lay people in individual Bible studies.

In the fall the church plans to conduct a Family Finance Seminar as well as other seminars in preparation for evangelistic meetings this fall.

Church leaders have watched with interest as church members have entered a closer relationship with Christ as they bring the Good News to others and help them with specific needs.

In October 1981 the Sabbath School adopted the Faith Action Advance format which has been promoted by the North American Division. The changeover has allowed time for training and sharing classes in the Sabbath School. Some of the classes which have been conducted are: Bible Marking, Personal Witnessing, ABC's of Bible Prayer, Spirit of Prophecy and Family Worship, and Sabbath afternoon activities.

Church members were delighted when they saw the article in the Adventist Review because they feel that after much hard work and preparation South Bend will be ready to meet the challenge.

When the calls come in for people with special needs, the church will be ready to help. The South Bend Church is happy to be known as "The Caring Church."

A native of New Jersey, Pastor Elliott grew up in Philadelphia. He was very active in his father's church, the Jehovah's Witnesses, although he was influenced by the beliefs of the Adventist church where his mother was a member.

Before his conversion, Pastor Elliott belonged to many street gangs. He had many brushes with the law, and served a term in a Pennsylvania prison.

After high school, Lyndon was drafted into the United States Army and served in Viet Nam. Periods of uncertainty followed his discharge from the Army. Then he felt that the Holy Spirit directed him to his Saviour.

He became a member of the Ebenezer Adventist Church in Philadelphia, where he served as youth elder, M.V. leader, Pathfinder drill instructor, chairman of the youth usher board and choir member. He was eager and willing to serve wherever and whenever needed. "To be used of God" is his sincere desire.

In 1979 Pastor Elliott received a call to the Lake Region Conference as pastor of the Voice of Hope Church in Michigan City.

He earned a Master of Divinity degree from Andrews University in 1981 just before his assignment to City Temple as assistant pastor. He and his wife, Jewell, have one son, Lyndon III.

This is the third time these 17 members of the church have broken ground for Detroit Metro.

Detroit Metro Breaks Ground for New Church

MICHIGAN—Several members and prospective members of the Detroit Metropolitan Church were on hand for ground-breaking services at the site of their new building on May 2.

The pastor of the church, Ola Robinson, led the act of consecration, as nature smiled on the scene with near-perfect weather.

Building a new church is usually a once-in-a-lifetime experience for a member, but for 17 people present at the ground-breaking, this was the third time around in Detroit.

They were members of the Grand River Church which was sold when they built the Detroit Metropolitan Church. Now that has been sold and they are building again.

The church will be located on Haggerty Road near Five-Mile Road.

Designed by Denominational Building Services, a Seventh-day Adventist group of architects in Lincoln, Nebraska, the cost of the church is estimated at $725,000, including the 12-acre lot. It will seat 400 people.

Construction is to begin in early June with completion approximately five months later.

Michigan Conference President Charles Keymer and Executive Secretary Arnold Swanson spoke from an open truck equipped with a sound system and organ at the ground-breaking ceremony.

Myron Voegelé, ministerial director for the conference, also participated.

Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donahue wielded shovels, assuring everybody that the youth would be involved in the life of the new church.

True Dorcas Spirit Shown in Green Bay

WISCONSIN—"I am so happy to be a part of the family of God. He has given me this wonderful gift of sewing to use for someone in need." That is the testimony of Delores Sampo of Green Bay who gives her time and talents to the community services department of her church. Though often troubled with arthritis, Delores loves to sew, and she has lost count of the number of lap quilts and baby quilts she has made during the past five years. She is shown here with her first full-sized quilt. Baptized in 1977 after much searching and many Bible lessons, Delores has found fulfillment through helping others.

Martha Harebottle, Stella Broom and Pastor Paul Gates spoke on what Christian education means to them as parents, teachers and pastors. Ron Gruesbeck, Glenn P. Hill and Carolyn Miller spoke from the students' standpoint. Kindergarten children from Jean Scheidt's room, Carolyn Gates, Glenn Hill, Tod Sotala, Craig DeWitt and Marcia Link presented special music. The youth shared how they felt about the parents and church members who have made it possible for them to obtain a Christian education. Pathfinders collected the morning offering.

● Otsego members have recently redecorated the interior of their church and installed a new baptism.

● As a result of evangelistic meetings at Howard City, two members were added to the Lakeview Church. James Ellsworth and his mother, Theda Duprey, were baptized by Pastor Roscoe Nelson.

● Daniel and Irene Erhard had planned a trip to Cypress during the summer of 1982 to visit Irene's father, Pastor Nicholas Tallios. Their two children, Todd, 12, and Tina, 11, looked forward to being baptized by their grandfather. But their plans were canceled when Irene died in an auto accident on February 25. Todd, who was in the car with his mother when the accident occurred, was not injured. The family decided to fulfill Irene's wishes for the children to be baptized by their grandfather. On March 6, the day of Irene's funeral, the children were baptized by Pastor Tallios in the Jackson Church, according to Marlene Cooper, communication secretary.

● An evangelistic series in Williamston resulted in four baptisms: Roger Van Blaricum, Lori and Marcia Balcom and Dennis Perry. Emma Rhyndress, who lives in a retirement apartment complex, knocked on each of the 80 doors in the building and personally invited the residents to the meetings. One man from the complex placed each health nugget he received on a table beside a pile of invitations to the meetings so that everyone could read them.

● Tawas City members recently completed negotiations for sale of their community services center. "The service will not cease to function in our area," Pastor Charles Danforth said. Plans are on the drawing board for a much better facility at the back of the church.

● Michigan community services workers were recently honored with certificates for their "outstanding work" during the past year. The event was planned by Arthur Covell, conference personal ministries director, during National Volunteer Week.

● A team of five persons, led by George Babcock, associate director of the office of education of the General Conference, visited Battle Creek Academy recently to evaluate the program offered there. Other members of the team were Herbert Wrate of Indiana, Patrick Morrison of Andrews Academy, Dorothy Massengill of Indiana Academy and David Penner of Broadview Academy, Illinois.

● Winners of the recent Cedar Lake Academy amateur hour were selected from three divisions. The winner in the piano section was Lynn Larson. Kelvin Roth and Lori Warren won first place in the novelty division, and Don Johnson won the division prize for light songs. He also received the grand prize. Winners of the three divisions also performed for the annual Academy Day on May 17.

● The Pontiac Church participated with other local churches in operating a booth at a local mall during the Easter season. Specially selected lessons from the Encounter series were shown on a Dukane projector. Members from the Southside Church joined Pontiac Riverside members in manning the booth. Free literature and Bible enrollment cards were given away, and invitations to the church's outreach programs were offered. Several people asked for literature about Adventist beliefs.

● Ardith Tait, a member of the Midland Church, conducts an interdenominational women's Bible study class each Tuesday morning at the church. Women attending were personally invited from the neighborhood and through other contacts. The 12 members of the group have an hour for a lesson discussion then read the Bible and have a prayer session.

● Juniors from the Owosso Sabbath School, with the direction of their leader, Marjorie Bedell, participated in a Skate-a-thon to raise money for the American Diabetic Association (A.D.A.). Michelle Nix received a backpack from the A.D.A. for having the largest contribution. Renee Pulse claimed second place in the overall event with a total of $120 collected from sponsors. She was awarded a pair of roller skates.

15 Clubs Attend Wisconsin Pathfinder Fair

WISCONSIN—Banners and flags rippled in the May 3 breeze as Wisconsin Pathfinders in a Parade of Honors encircled the Wisconsin Academy grounds.

Fifteen Pathfinder clubs invited their parents and friends and the public to observe the results of a year of projects and programs designed to build character in youth.

Display booths built and decorated by Pathfinders, with working demonstrations, were examined by judges. All clubs took ribbons home as evidence of their hard work and creativity.

Judges for the day were Charles Case, youth director for the Lake Union; Esther Novak, conference educational supervisor, and Elders Ken Wade and Larry Grahn.

Pathfinders demonstrated physical fitness, lashing and first-aid skills in a race with the time clock.

A special feature of the afternoon was a demonstration of personal motorized hang gliding.

Dennis Robbons, a staff member of the Woodland Ranger Club, and some friends demonstrated Ultralight hang gliders to the delight of Pathfinders and the community.

The crowning event of the day was the presentation of ribbons for participation and the 200 Club award announcements.

Seven of the clubs earned at least 200 of the possible 230 points. This included 130 points for their year-round program and 100 points for fair participation and entries.

Those achieving the 200 Club standing were Green Bay, Madison, Merrill, Pound, Stevens Point, Wisconsin Academy and Woodland.

Many other clubs were within a few points of this special distinction.

A spirit of Christian sportsmanship marked personal involvement during this event of the Pathfinder year.

Wisconsin Youth Department

The Lake Union Herald has a message for lay individuals who are just waiting for some encouragement. Reading how God is using our people should and does encourage us to do our share also. Tithe should continue to be used to support communications with our church members; it is a very important evangelistic tool to revitalize church members.

Alex Miskiewicz
Berrien Springs, Michigan

The "No One But You" program is an inspiration to the members of the church; they enjoyed the program very much. I think "No One But You" influenced some members to action. We feel that the program is effective and creates a desire to be a witness for Christ.

N. Walton
Benton Harbor, Michigan

"No One But You" is truly an evangelistic outreach of the Lake Union Conference. I can assure you that the presentation was well received by the people of Illinois. It gave me a sense of the urgency of the times and of my own personal commitment to soul winning. Thank you that we can have not only an informative kind of program but one that stirs one to wish to emulate the characteristics of our God.

Only by Your Reaching

Everett Cumbo
President
Illinois Conference

"Reach out
For only by your reaching
Does the other know
He matters to you."

All over the Illinois Conference, laymen, teachers, literature evangelists, pastors, and evangelists are "reaching out" to let people know they matter. "People are priority" in the Illinois Conference. All kinds of people—black people, yellow people, white people, rich people, poor people, educated and uneducated—these differences are not important when loving church members reach out to share their love.

Everywhere you look people are responding to the compassion demonstrated by God's people. The Willard Nelson family in Rock Falls are now joyously fellowshiping with God's people there. Doctor and Mrs. Cesar Ruiz are rejoicing in their new-found faith in the Spanish West Suburban Church. A former nun, a witch doctor, a reclaimed alcoholic, and families in Rockford, Waukegan, North Shore, Springfield, and West Frankfort—everywhere people are reaching out—loving, caring, winning.

At this writing, 390 people have been won as our Lord used people to reach out and love.

Didn't Ellen White say in Testimonies for the Church, volume 9, page 189, "If we would humble ourselves before God, and be kind and courteous and tenderhearted and pitiful, there would be one hundred conversions to the truth where now there is only one."

The spirit of "reaching out" will be very evident at the Illinois Camp Meeting where 50 to 80 people will be baptized.

"Reach out
For only by your reaching
Does the other know
He matters to you."*
