Freeport Members Dedicate Their Church

The Freeport Church

ILLINOIS—The Freeport, Illinois, Church was dedicated debt free on Sabbath, August 28. Valued at more than $200,000, the church is located on a 10-acre hillside overlooking the city and seats 200 people.

Although a group has met in Freeport since 1931, membership has fluctuated. In 1963, with only three members left, the church was disbanded.

The burden for the work in Freeport weighed heavy on the heart of Leonard Marsa, pastor of the Rockford Church 30 miles to the East.

So in 1971 he asked the conference to transfer him to Freeport to raise up a church once more.

On August 21, 1971, a church company was organized in the YMCA with 37 charter members, several of whom transferred from Rockford.

Shortly afterwards the 10-acre plot overlooking the city on U.S. Highway 20 was purchased.

Ground was broken on September 15, 1972. The first services were held on April 25, 1976, and on July 16, 1977, the church furniture was installed.

John Hayward, secretary of the Lake Union Conference, presented the worship service message. Elder Hayward, as Illinois Conference president, had participated in the ground-breaking service eight years before.

Another participant in the ground-breaking, Mark McLeroy, mayor of Freeport, brought Christian greetings from the community and gave his personal testimony during the dedication service.

Illinois Conference President Everett Cumbo spoke for the afternoon service of dedication.

Leonard Marsa, former pastor and coordinator of the building program, spoke for the Friday evening vesper service.

The current pastor is Terry Campbell.

Personal Ministry Yields Harvest

FRIENDSHIP, Wis.—The personal ministry of Michael Flugstad and his wife, Vicky, resulted in the baptism of three members of the Krah family during the Wisconsin Conference camp meeting this summer, according to Brian J. Costa, communication intern for long-term care for Adventist Health System North. Sharon Krah was secretary to Mr. Flugstad, administrator of the Villa Pines Nursing Center, for more than a year before he was transferred to Marshfield Convalescent Center as administrator. The Flugstads began Bible studies with Sharon and her husband, Kenneth, during the summer of 1981. "During that time," says Sharon, "we were impressed with the characters of Mike and Vicky. Working closely with Mike at the office, I could see that his Christian experience was real." The Krah's teenage daughter, Debra, was not interested in studying at first, says Sharon. But that changed as the months passed. "The witness of the Flugstads reached Debbie, too."

Attendance Doubles at Spanish Retreat

LAKE REGION—The annual spiritual retreat for the Spanish churches of the Lake Union Conference was held August 27 to 29 at Camp Wagner in Cassopolis, Michigan, sponsored by the Chicagoland Youth Federation.

Representatives attended from Battle Creek, Minneapolis, Berrien Springs, Grand Rapids, Aurora, North Lake and the Chicagoland area.

The attendance this year was almost double that of last year. Approximately 450 members were present for Sabbath activities.

Raul Villanueva, a well-known evangelist and poet, was the guest speaker. He is presently an asstant editor with Pacific Press Publishing Association.

Special music was provided by professional singers Evangelina Perez of California and David Castro of Minneapolis.

Several members who attended the retreat said that the weekend was a real spiritual blessing.

The Chicagoland Youth Federation extends special thanks to President Charles Joseph for actively supporting the spiritual retreat, and to Elder Conrad Gill, his staff, and all those who worked hard to make the weekend a success.

Personal Ministries Seminar Held at Au Sable

MICHIGAN—Delegates from 56 churches in Michigan attended the personal ministries seminar conducted at Camp Au Sable September 10 to 12, and directed by Arthur Covell.

Principal instructor for the weekend was Marion Kidder, the pastor at Stoneham, Massachusetts, who has made a special study of spiritual gifts.

Part of the program involved the 165 delegates seeking through a testing survey to discover their "personal gift cluster."

As they follow this up with prayer and study, they may be able to fine tune their outreach ministries to their particular gifts.

Michigan pastors may write the ministerial department for a tape recording of the presentation on making disciples so they will be aware of some of the material their lay members received at the seminar.

Other discussion included the Faith, Action, Advance concepts now being stressed throughout the church. The Sabbath School action unit was the focus of this discussion.

Training sessions in the churches must follow this seminar in order to help sharpen skills for the 1000 Days of Reaping.

Arthur Covell, personal ministries director for Michigan, interviewed Beverly Johnson of Ontonagon about the growth of the new church group there.

Prairie Convalescent Center
Stresses Spiritual Care

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis.—Prairie Convalescent Center used the week of August 30 through September 3 to stress the spiritual care element of Adventist Living Centers' approach to health care delivery, according to A. Eugene Luttrell, administrator.

"A special concern was emphasized for the spiritual care of the employees and residents," said Eric J. Wrangell, director of pastoral care at the facility. The theme for the week was "to know Him better."

"Our staff and residents are of many faiths," said Chaplain Wrangell, "and we provide services on a broad base to meet these needs. My ministry is meant to be an extension of their own pastor's, not a replacement."

Currently, there are 28 voluntary devotional periods offered each week to staff and residents. The morning devotional period was recently instrumental in bringing one employee closer to the Lord and a decision to join the church.

Mary Gilster had been working at the convalescent center in the housekeeping department for less than a year before she was baptized. During those months, she became impressed with the Christian witness she observed in the staff. "The daily devotionals awakened my spiritual need, and I wanted to learn more," said Mary.

"When I came to Prairie in August 1981, I asked God to help me witness to five new people," said Chaplain Wrangell. "So far, he has provided two residents and one staff member, and there are four more Bible studies in progress, with five church members assisting so they can learn how to share God's love. I feel that the field is ripe and that we have only begun to harvest."

DURAND, Wis.—A $25,000 matching grant from the Hospital Development Fund of the General Conference has been awarded to Chippewa Valley Hospital and Nursing Home, according to Garry Donesky, president.

An additional $25,000 was awarded through the cooperative efforts of Adventist Health System North, the Lake Union Conference, and the Wisconsin Conference to match the funds, making a total of $50,000.

The $50,000 will be used to kick off a $540,000 campaign to raise funds for new equipment to furnish the $5.9 million facility, which is scheduled to be completed later this year.

A.U. Founders
Day Contest
Announced

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Andrews has announced the opening of the writing contest for the Fifth Annual Founders Day Weekend, March 11 to 13, 1983.

The university is looking for religious music, prose, and poetry to be presented at the Friday evening vespers on March 11.

Since 1983 marks the 100th year of the death of J. N. Andrews, the theme for this year's contest will be centered around the commitment of Adventist pioneers and Adventist heritage and beliefs.

Appropriate topics would include the Sabbath, the end of the world, the second coming, the Scriptures, the Advent hope, faith, the Gospel commission.

The contest is open to current and former students, faculty and staff members of Battle Creek College, Broadview College, Emmanuel Missionary College, Potomac University and Andrews University.

Awards of $25 each will be given to the best entries in poetry, 12-line minimum, four awards; short inspirational prose, 1,000-word limit, two awards; and music, six awards.

The latter category includes instrumental solos, hymns, instrumental ensembles, vocal solos and vocal ensembles. Music may be original or an arrangement. Words may be original or selected, where applicable. Music entries should include a performance tape or arrangements for a personal presentation.

At the discretion of the judges more than one entry in a category may receive an award, and an award does not necessarily have to be given in all categories.

The deadline for the contest is February 1, 1983. Each entry should be accompanied by an identifying title page including name, year or years at the university, and current address. No name identification should appear on the manuscript itself.

Entries will be judged by two panels—one in poetry and prose, and the other in music. Winners will be notified in advance of the March 11 vespers program and winning entries will be so identified on the vespers program.

Send your entry to Dr. Merlene A. Ogden, Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, MI 49104.

New Department Formed to Market Andrews

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—A major new plan to market Andrews has been created, according to Joseph G. Smoot, university president.

In a speech to the faculty on September 15, Dr. Smoot announced the formation of a new department of Marketing and Student Financial Services.

The department combines and coordinates many aspects of the admissions process handled by the offices of recruitment, student finance, financial aid, admissions and public relations.

Terry Newmyer

Garth Christoffel

"We intend to market Andrews in a very aggressive way," Dr. Smoot told the faculty. "The college-age population is declining, and we will work hard to offer students what they need for the future, both in career preparation and for the general advancement of knowledge."

Terry Newmyer, manager of student finance, has been appointed director of the new department while retaining responsibility for student finance.

Mr. Newmyer's appointment came in September when Paul B. Riley, former assistant to the vice president for public relations and development, accepted a position as director of personnel at Simi Valley Adventist Hospital in California.

Several personnel are involved in the new department as part-time or full-time field representatives. Norman Roy, associate director of admissions, will coordinate all off-campus recruitment programs at Lake Union academies, as well as schedule university entertainment groups (band, choirs and Gymnics) at academies and churches throughout the union.

Garth Christoffel, former manager of College Wood Products, is a full-time field representative working closely with parents of prospective students, giving counsel on educational finance questions and other matters.

Ronald Knott, Andrews' General Conference communication intern, will work half-time as a field representative, coordinating College Days, and planning exhibits for Lake union camp meetings, public high schools and the Berrien County Youth Fair.

Mr. Newmyer announced that the Andrews recruiting team will visit all the Lake Union academies according to the following schedule: Wisconsin Academy, October 25 to 26; Broadview Academy, October 27 to 28; Adelpian Academy, November 1 to 2; Cedar Lake Academy, November 3 to 4; Andrews Academy, November 10; Grand Ledge Academy, November 17; and Indiana Academy, November 22 to 23.

At this writing, appointments at Shiloh Academy and Peterson-Warren Academy were in the process of being scheduled.

Mr. Newmyer encourages interested parents to visit the academies when the recruiting team is on campus for counsel with Andrews personnel on how to make arrangements to send their son or daughter to Andrews University.

Andrews University
Concert-Picture Series Announced

ANDREWS UNIVERSITY—Former astronaut and navigator for the Apollo 8 space mission, James A. Lovell; George Gallup Jr., president of Gallup Poll; and the "Sound of Music," produced and staged by the Andrews University Music Department, are among the lecturers and programs to be featured at Andrews during the 1982-1983 Concert Picture and Chamber Music series.

Providing a full schedule of cultural and educational programming for its students, the university will feature 14 special events in the series that runs for the fall, winter and spring quarters.

The series opens on October 14 with Astronaut James A. Lovell. The piano playing of Ferrante and Teicher will be featured on October 17.

The winter programming features Warren Miller's "Snowmover," the Chinese Magic Circus of Taiwan, George Gallup Jr. and three short comedies staged and produced by Andrews University.

April brings the Andrews University Gymnics, and the "Sound of Music" will be staged by the Andrews University music department on April 23 and 30. The Concert-Picture series concludes May 8 with the Twin City Orchestra and Morris Taylor.

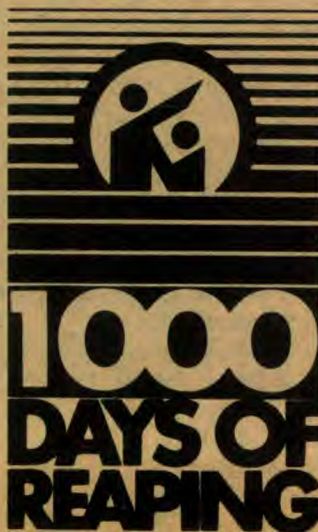

The Chamber Music Series consists of performances by Howard Gottlieb, violin; the Solomonow Trio A' Corde, viola, violin and cello; Harold Lickey, tenor and Carolyn Bisel, soprano; Leonard Richter, piano; and David Sanders, cello.

Most Concert-Picture series programs will be held in Johnson Auditorium on Saturday evenings or during student assembly periods on Thursday mornings. The majority of the Chamber Music programs take place in the University Towers Auditorium of the new men's residence.

For a complete listing of program scheduling, contact Director, Concert-Picture series, Andrews University, Berrien Springs, MI 49104.

Day Care Center Opens at North Shore

ILLINOIS—As a Christian outreach and as a way of showing ministry and love to the neighborhood, a day care center was opened at the North Shore in Chicago in August last year.

The center is directed by Mary Newbold, a graduate of Andrews University. Evelyn Pagels is her assistant. During the summer months several Broadview Academy students have helped as well.

When the school first opened only one child attended, but there are now 25.

The hours are from 6 A.M. to 6 P.M. The center can accommodate almost any working schedule the parents have. A preschool is held during the time when most of the children attend. Several of the children do not speak English but are progressing beautifully.

A favorite part of the day is Bible story time. Only two of the children in the day care center are Adventists, so most of the children have never heard a Bible story. The children have learned several prayers and are beginning to ask their parents to take them to Sabbath School.

Vegetarian meals are served. Activities include finger plays, singing, clothes washing, dish washing, floor scrubbing, painting, pre-writing and pre-reading.

The members of North Shore are proud of the center staff and appreciate their special witness, according to Bernace Kirschenbauer, communication secretary.

Vincennes Holds Wa-Rite Clinic

INDIANA—Eleven persons participated in a weekly Wa-Rite Clinic in the Vincennes Church from early May through July this year, according to Gloria Thomas, communication secretary.

The American Red Cross provided qualified nurses to take blood pressures during the first session. Each member was given a weight sheet for weekly weigh-ins, as well as other information.

In addition, charts, slides, low-calorie recipes, and enthusiasm were provided by the program instructor, Helen Stevens. Her assistant, Gloria Thomas, presented two exercises weekly and a sample of a new low-calorie dish every two weeks.

At the end of the Wa-Rite Clinic, the 11 participants had lost a total of 102 pounds. Through prayer and temperance everyone had a success story to tell.

A follow-up clinic is being planned for the fall with exercise for everyone.

News Notes from the Illinois Conference

● The newest church in the conference, the Little Village Spanish Church in Chicago—organized recently with mostly newly baptized members—exceeded the Ingathering goal in only four hours time. The members had a goal of $750 but went over $1,000. How did they do it? A Sabbath morning message appealed to the people to work for God and others. Sabbath, after church, there was a meeting to teach the people what to say and how to do the work. That Sabbath evening they went out for two hours. The next Sabbath evening they did the same. As a result, they were more than $250 over their goal in gifts for the Lord's work, reports Rodney Dale, conference personal ministries and Sabbath School director.

● Charlene Silberman, a former member of the North Shore Church in Chicago, is now a nurse's aide in the Riverside Clinic in Zambia, Africa. In letters to the North Shore Church communication secretary, Bernace Kirschenbauer, Charlene reports that the clinic staff of nine sees between 1,000 and 1,400 persons each month. The staff recently conducted a six-week health seminar. Eight Zambians attended to learn about nutrition, home remedies, and hydrotherapy. They, in turn, will return to their villages to teach their neighbors these health principles. Though she felt quite unprepared when she arrived in Zambia and saw the many needs of the people, Charlene states she has clung to God's promise in James 1:5: "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him."

● Jewell Vineyard, communication secretary of the West Frankfort Church was recently host for an hour-long radio program on WGGH in Marion entitled "Special Creation versus Evolution." Listeners have called in with favorable comments. She will be host for a program on nutrition on the West Frankfort station soon. Jewell also wrote a series of weekly articles for her local newspaper entitled, "Your Friends the Seventh-day Adventists." She is now submitting them to another paper as well.

● The North Shore Junior Academy has opened for another school year with an enrollment of 139 students from kindergarten through grade 10. Bruce Anderson, principal, and the eight teachers on the staff have indicated that their goal is quality education, according to Bernace Kirschenbauer, communication secretary. A band was formed last year, directed by Joel Pereira, and a hot lunch program was established.

● The Investment Fund at the Noble Church has reached more than $700 as of August, says Frank Tolten, investment leader. Fund-raising projects include garden produce, aluminum cans, fair prize winnings, quilts and other sewn articles, bakery products, and plants.

● "Amazing Facts" pamphlets are being distributed by the Noble church members. Signs of the Times magazines will be sent to rural route residents, according to Bob Foll, personal ministries director.

● This year a "mystery revelation" of the Ingathering campaign will be made on November 6 and 7. According to treasurer Virgil Fruth, some money has already come in—only he knows how much. October will be a busy month for Ingathering.

● Pastor Robert Fekete of the Noble Church and his wife, Carolynne, a registered nurse, conducted a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking at Olney Memorial Hospital. Fifteen persons registered when the meetings began on July 19. The request came to the Noble Church last year from Norma Kramer, a Church of Christ minister's wife who heard of the plan and contacted Pastor Fekete. A one-night follow-up meeting was held two weeks later. One-half of the participants quit and the other half cut down considerably on their smoking. The hospital may request at least two plans per year, one in the spring and one in the fall, according to Thelma Royce, communication secretary.

● Pastor Sam Mercado has been assigned to Rockford to pastor the Spanish church to be organized there after the current evangelistic meetings being held by Conference Evangelist Sergio Ortiz.

● Baptisms are nearing the 700 mark for the year, reports Conference Secretary Bob Everett. Through vigorous evangelism the goal is to top 1,000 baptisms for the year.

● Baptisms at Chicago North Shore stand at 70, with prospects to go over 100 for the year, according to the pastor, Stan Cottrell.

● Conference office personnel spent Monday, September 13, repainting the Cairo Church in preparation for fall evangelistic meetings.

● Recently the Canton Pathfinder Club held a bake sale and later they gave away copies of Steps to Christ. During Sabbath afternoons several church members have been giving out literature in preparation for evangelistic meetings to be held in October. Also the Pathfinder Club had a baseball game on September 5 at Wallace Park, according to Dottie Johnson, assistant communication secretary.

● Five new members were baptized into the Savanna Church on July 10 as a result of evangelistic meetings held by Pastor and Mrs. Ben Green and their daughters, Gina and Bobby Lynn, from the Upper Columbia Conference. Those baptized were Orville Ashby, Dennis Spears, Phyllis Stricker, Ruth Fasick and Debra Osborn, reports Pastor Leonard Marsa.

● After 10 years the Voice of Prophecy Stamp Project is growing rapidly despite the depressed economy. Since January 1, 1982, more than $30,000 has been turned in to the Voice of Prophecy as a result of stamp sales. There are more than 600 stamp club members, nearly 3,000 receive the bi-monthly stamp news, and the number increases almost daily. Harry Halvorsen wishes to thank those who have sent him many thousands of stamps to process for the stamp project. If you wish information or are willing to help, please call Harry Halvorsen at (312) 352-3014 or you can mail your stamps to him at 5701 Blackstone Avenue, La Grange, IL 60525.

● Five leaders and seven literature evangelists took part in a group canvass in Chicago recently: Myrtle DeLay, Helen Meyer, Elsie Reis, Don Armstrong, Keith Armstrong, Herbert Huhn and Frank Ullrich worked with Elders George Dronen, Lew Blumenberg, Paul Jensen, Joe Straub and Al Powell. They made many inspiring contacts: one man could hardly speak English, but he saw how much his daughter wanted the books so he bought them for her. One woman had been looking in book stores all over town for The Great Controversy and couldn't find it. She was delighted to buy it from the colporteurs. Another man didn't purchase anything, but he was having a problem with drinking, and was willing to kneel down in his home and ask Jesus to help him overcome his drinking problem. The literature evangelists said they wanted to have another group canvass soon to enjoy the blessings of working together, according to Al Powell, associate publishing director.

14 People Baptized in Frankfort

INDIANA—The Sabbath before Mother's Day was a special one at Frankfort: two new members were added to the church by baptism, Shannon Dryden and Heidi Gregory, above. They had been attending the church school taught by Naomi Trubey for several years and had studied in the baptismal classes Pastor Jeff Fisher, above left, has taught for two years. During July and August, Evangelist Larry Cansler gave prophecy lectures in the church. To date 12 people have been baptized. Shannon's mother, Shirley Rose, was one of those. Others continue to study and resolve Sabbath work problems before they, too, take their stand. One couple who are still studying have sent their daughter to church school.

Clarke Ordained in Irvington Church

INDIANA—On Sabbath afternoon, July 10, Pastor Jim Clarke was ordained as a Seventh-day Adventist gospel minister in the Irvington Church, one of the churches in the district of which he is presently the pastor. The other church is Chapel West. Elder Clarke has also been a pastor in the Angola and Gary districts. He and his wife, Judy, attended Southern Missionary College where he studied theology and she took nursing. In 1979 he graduated from Andrews University with a Master of Divinity degree. They have one son, Jared. Pictured with Elder and Mrs. Clarke are Robert Thompson, left, conference president, and Tom Massengill, conference treasurer, right.

Lake Region Conference News Notes

- Tribute was paid to Elder T. S. Barber for outstanding leadership in literature evangelism at the Shiloh Church in Chicago recently. John Bernet, director of the Lake Union Conference publishing and Home Health Education Service departments, made the special presentation, a trophy nearly as tall as Elder Barber. Elder Bernet said that 250 people had been baptized in 1981 which were a direct result of contacts made by colporteurs in the Lake Region Conference. Elder Bernet also said that Elder Barber and his team are responsible for the most outstanding work with student literature programs in the whole of North America.

- Usher's Day at the Independence Church in Chicago will be remembered for a long time by the members. The guest speaker was Charles D. Joseph, conference president. A fellowship dinner was prepared by the women of the church and served after the divine worship service.

- Clarence Thomas, presently studying at Andrews University, was guest speaker for the Community Services Day at Shiloh Church in Chicago. Elder Thomas and his family are making preparations to serve the church in Haiti. They made an appeal to other members of the church to join them in their work with people in the community.

- The week of October 2 to 9 has been set aside by the lay activities department and Robert L.

Douglas, pastor of the Independence Church in Chicago, as a week of spiritual fellowship and homecoming for Oswald Gordon of Compton, California. Elder Gordon was pastor of the Independence Church before it was moved to its present location. Services will be held each night during the week from 7 to 8:30 P.M. with Elder Gordon as the guest speaker. The meetings will conclude with a baptismal service on October 9. - The lay activities department of the Independence Church in Chicago has been "on fire" for the Lord since the year began. The members of the church have made contacts with 179 people who have completed the Amazing Facts Bible Studies. Several of the graduates have taken their stand for Christ. Another 86 people are currently enrolled in the studies. The next graduation is scheduled for October 2.

- The members of the Shiloh Church in Chicago took upon themselves the challenge to share their faith when they recently conducted a Vacation Bible School at the Pavillion of Hope, a tent located on the south side of Chicago. Patricia Burns, director of the Vacation Bible School, feels that their work in this area was really worthwhile. They were able to see the fruits of their labors when a family, whose children had attended the meetings daily, joined the church and were baptized. Mrs. Burns feels that the children were blessed and the workers were strengthened as they witnessed Christ's work. The staff consisted of approximately 20 adults who are looking forward to participating in another Vacation Bible School next summer.

- The Metropolitan Church members in Evansville, Indiana, conducted a Vacation Bible School this summer which brought excitement and many rewarding experiences for both the students and the instructors, according to Maria Person. The average daily attendance in each class was 25. The theme for V.B.S. was "Follow Jesus." Each teacher made an effort to weave this thought throughout each activity. The directors were Ruth Willis and Bertha Turner.

- John Grier, pastor of the Ecorse, Michigan, Church, and the church members enjoyed the special men's day program given by the men of the church on September 4. The guest pianist for the day was Cedric Dent, from the Burns Avenue Church in Detroit. Charles Joseph, conference president, was the guest speaker for the worship service. The special offering received will be used toward liquidating the debt on the recently renovated church building. Guests and members enjoyed a special dinner served in the lower auditorium.

Glendale's Community Services Opens its Doors

LAKE REGION—The Minneapolis Glendale Dorcas and Community Service departments have worked diligently in the development and preparation of a food and clothing area.

Canned goods and donations have been collected from members and friends. The Dorcas workers also collected clothing before the grand opening.

On August 17, 1982, Glendale opened its doors to approximately 75 needy persons who had heard of the event through flyers and radio announcements.

They were happy to receive food and clothing along with religious materials.

The community services department and Dorcas Society leaders, Birdie Williams and Lillian King, felt the event was a success. Food and clothing will be given away every second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

This event was given coverage by local television station WCCO.

17 Baptized in South Bend

LAKE REGION—The Living Water Crusade, with the direction of Elder Philip C. Willis, was held at the Berean Church in South Bend, Indiana, from August 8 through September 4, 1982.

One of the highlights of the crusade was the multimedia presentation which accompanied each message.

Michael Willis of Chicago, and his brother, Philip, conducted song service and gave special music each evening. Ron Johnson and Edith Willis were the "Goody Man" and "Goody Lady," giving prizes of spiritual books to visitors sitting in the "mystery seat."

A baptismal service was held on Sabbath, September 4. Seventeen persons were baptized, affirming their desire to walk with Christ.

Mini-Mac Dedicated at Au Sable

MICHIGAN—A highlight of the Michigan Pathfinder Camporee at Camp Au Sable on September 18 was the dedication of "Mini Mac," a miniature of the Mackinac Bridge that connects Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas. Mini Mac is a swinging bridge near the nature center. It spans an outlet of Lake Shellenbarger, opens a new section of the camp to use, and shortens the path around the lake. Forty-one Pathfinder clubs were represented at the camporee, with a total of 865 Pathfinders and staff. A similar camporee was held the week before at Cassopolis, Michigan, for clubs in the western part of the state. Attendance at both camporees totaled more than 1,500, according to M. Y. Fleming, conference Pathfinder director.

Michigan News Notes

● Three children were dedicated to the Lord on Sabbath, August 21, at the Vassar Church. Pastor Herbert Lohr presided at the dedication. Participants were Mitch and Lidia Moore with Audrey; Leon and Michelle Spencer with Eric; and Gary and Connie Ross with Kevin.

● Two college students who returned recently from serving as student missionaries in Indonesia held a worship service at the Manistee Church. Amy Niesen of Manistee and Pam Geschwind of Gobles interrupted their studies at Andrews University for 10 months to serve as teachers in English language schools in Jakarta and Sulawesi. During the church service the girls sang and prayed in the Indonesian language, told about their mission term and showed slides of Indonesian life, according to Roberta Childers, communication secretary.

● Dr. Brian Lutz of Berrien Springs has recently graduated from Loma Linda School of Medicine. He has been accepted at Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis, Indiana, for an obstetrics and gynecology residency.

● The newly consolidated Grand Ledge Adventist Academy opened its doors on August 30 to 83 elementary and 40 secondary students. Formerly Grand Ledge Academy, the school has been changed from a secondary school to include grades one through twelve. The 16-member staff has been assembled from the Grand Ledge Academy staff, and Lansing and Grand Ledge elementary staffs, and others. The school is located on the conference campgrounds where it has operated as an academy since 1958. Principal Ron Adams is proud of the experienced staff he has collected and inherited, he said.

● After a seven-year effort to buy property for a new community services center, members at Frankfort have purchased a site. A pre-built building will be placed on the property.

● Adventist Retirees of Michiana have been invited to use Lake Union Conference office facilities for their meetings. A spacious room with kitchen will be available. The building is located on U.S. Highway 31 and College Avenue in Berrien Springs. Abundant parking space and no steps to climb will make the new meeting place especially appealing to retirees. "We express deep appreciation for all retirees of Michiana when we say thank you to the officers of the Lake Union Conference," said Ruth Ipes, secretary.

● Almost 80 people participated in a recent computerized health appraisal at a health fair held in Charlevoix Hospital recently. Another program drew nearly 200 for the appraisal. Pastors Ray Hamstra of Petoskey and Gary Russell of Boyne City cooperated with the Emmet County Extension office in the events. "People are anxious to give their health history—but not too anxious to change their habits," according to communication secretary Jo Moody. "Our job in health communication is to show them how easily that adjustment can be made," she said.

Timothy Fambro of the Ann Arbor Church has been working with prisoners in the Huron Valley Men's Facility. He has included in his message to the prisoners a history of the Adventist Church. Many prisoners have expressed appreciation for his work.

The baptistry was one of the early purchases for the new church at McMillan.

Newberry Members Work Together on New Church

MICHIGAN—More than half of the 22 members of the Newberry Church in Michigan's Upper Peninsula are working on their new church building according to the pastor, Arthur Myers.

It all started this summer when another group wanted to purchase their old building. They decided it was time to upgrade and expand.

The church is largely a family effort. Elder M. E. Lowry is now retired, but he served as pastor of several Michigan churches for many years and gave 21 years to mission service in the Carribean.

His son, Marion, and daughter-in-law, Grace, gave three acres from their farm near McMillan for the building site. On this the members are building a church that will seat 75, three times the present membership. Anticipated cost is $40,000.

Two Lowry boys, Lem and Jeff (sons of Marion and Grace), are maintenance workers at a nursing home in Wisconsin. They are assisting in the building of the church. Lem drew the plans.

The project began the latter part of August and the building is already enclosed. The church members expect to complete the interior during the early winter and move into it for worship in December.

They have already purchased the baptistry, pews and carpet. They expect that everything will be paid for when the church is opened for services.

An unexpected lift came when Mary and Paul Rote told their Sabbath School class in the Takoma Park, Maryland, Church about the project. They took up a collection and raised $650 for the new church.

The Adventist presence will shift from Newberry to McMillan, about 15 miles away, but it will be a brighter light kindled by sacrifice and gratitude to God.

Personal interest and Bible studies helped these people decide to join the Green Bay Church: Jeanie Mommaerts, left, John Maszka, Pat Robertson, Michael Krueger, and Bonnie McKenzie.

5 Persons Join Green Bay

WISCONSIN—Five persons were recently baptized within three consecutive Sabbaths by Pastor Bill Wilson of Green Bay.

Jeanie Mommaerts was raised as an Adventist, but left the church for several years. Pastor Wilson studied with her for the past several months, and these studies have led to her decision for baptism.

John Maszka belonged to another church, but became interested in studying the Bible for himself. Through a friend, he received a copy of The Great Controversy and was introduced to a Seventh-day Adventist, Steve

Students Needed for Lake Union M.P.H. Program

LAKE UNION—The first classes of the Master of Public Health Degree to be offered in the Lake Union took place September 13 to 16, 1982, at which time the classes "Philosophy of Health" and "Management of Public Health Institutions" were taught.

Although 31 persons were in attendance, only 15 were from the Lake Union territory.

The second class will be taught November 14 to 16 at the Lake Union office in Berrien Springs, Michigan. "Dynamics of Planned Sociocultural Change," taught by Dr. John Elick of Loma Linda University, will last three days.

An additional 10 students from the Lake Union territory are needed so that Loma Linda University will continue to offer the M.P.H. degree in the Lake Union. Anyone interested in beginning the M.P.H. program may still do so; the two classes missed may be made up at another location.

If you are interested, please contact Charles C. Case, Health/Temperance director, Lake Union Conference, Box C, Berrien Springs, MI 49103.

Schneider. John and Steve spent long hours pouring over the Scriptures, which led to John's willingness for baptism.

Pat Robertson became interested in Adventism last fall, when her Adventist friend, Bonnie Stonebrook, used the Bible to explain the state of the dead to her.

Pat attended Pastor Wilson's Revelation Seminar in November, and has regularly attended Sabbath School and church ever since. Her weekly Bible studies with Bonnie became a major reason for her decision to be baptized.

Michael has become an Adventist because of the Christian influence of his former wife and two of his children, who were baptized last September. He has also received weekly Bible studies from Pastor Wilson, which have contributed to his acceptance of the Advent message.

Bonnie was won through the patient perseverance of her Christian husband, Arnold. Arnold was raised as an Adventist, but had left the church for 15 years. He was baptized a year and a half ago after an evangelistic series in Green Bay by Elder J. J. Millet.

Bible studies were given to Bonnie by Coleen Frank. Arnold re-joices that now Bonnie shares his new convictions. Their two boys are enrolled in church school this year.

The Green Bay congregation has been richly blessed by the enthusiasm of these five new members.

Less Than A Thousand Days

Donald Starlin
The sermon was concluded by 18-year-old senior Don Starlin. Please allow the Holy Spirit to use Don's words to challenge you to total involvement in the 1000 Days of Reaping:

Acts chapter 1, verse 7. . . "but you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the ends of the earth." Christ's commands were not only meant for the disciples and for the first church, but they were also meant for us, his remnant church. . . . Let's look at Acts 2:1-4 and 41. "When the day of Pentecost came, they were all together in one place. . . . All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit . . . and about 3000 were added to their number that day."

Now here's where things get fun. There were, for all we know, 120 believers at Pentecost, and there were 3000 baptized on that one day. That's 25 new souls per believer. Today, September 18, 1982, marks the beginning of the 1000 Days of Reaping. But I don't think it's going to take that long. The church has a membership of approximately 3.5 million people. Now stop and think about that: 25 people per person. That's 87.5 million people per day. At that rate we could go home on the 6th of November.

One thousand souls a day is beautiful, my friends, but doesn't that seem like a paltry few? Especially when we consider that today's church has nearly 30,000 times the members that the first church had back there at Pentecost.

There's something I like about the first calculation. If indeed it happens—and the only reason it wouldn't is apathy—it would take seven weeks. That's God's favorite number. Think about it, seven weeks from today. But, my friends, we've got to be united. And everyone has to do his part, according to his spiritual gifts.

In John 14:12, it says, "Greater works than these shall you do because I am going to my Father." God wanted you and me, otherwise He would not have sent His Son on such an expensive errand to redeem us. He is well pleased when we make the very highest demands on Him to glorify His name. We may expect large things if we will but have faith in His promises. He has given us the challenge "Go into all the world and baptize." He has given us the power, "Ask and I will give it to you." Let's go and do something with it.
