Our Growth in Membership

It will be of interest to the readers of the GLEANER to know the latest facts concerning our soul-winning work. We have just received from the General Conference headquarters the latest figures on the results of our evangelistic work throughout America for 1934. You will, doubtless, remember that we set as a goal an increase of 10 per cent throughout the conferences of America. Very decided increases have been made, but the whole American field has come considerably short of that goal. I think I may say that our soul-winning work in America for the last three years has been far in excess of anything reported previously.

The gain in the North American Division for 1934 is 7,439 which represents a gain of 5.2%. This represents a small falling off from the gain of the previous year.

The figures for our own union are a bit more encouraging. Instead of falling behind the North Pacific Union made gains over the preceding year. Our total net increase is 1,272, which is a gain of 7.7%. This is the largest gain made by any union in America, notwithstanding our small population which is only about 10% of the population of the largest union in America. Truly, the Lord has blessed in the labors of our ministers during the past year. It will be recognized that on the basis of a 10% increase our largest union conference in America having a membership of something over 27,000 would be expected to have an increase of 2,700. Our membership is 17,767. Had we reached a 10% increase, it would represent a gain of 1776. Our gain of 1272 is the largest increase made by any conference, notwithstanding its large membership or population.

We do not refer to these figures with any spirit of exaltation or boastfulness. It is only fair to the constituency of this field that these facts be known. The laborers of the field are endeavoring to place our evangelistic work upon a proper basis. It should occupy the front position in all of our activities.

Alaska, our mission field, raised the highest per cent of gain of any organization in America. Our Idaho Conference raised the highest per cent of gain of any local conference. Our Oregon Conference raised the highest per cent of any of the few largest conferences of America. I give below the figures concerning advancement made in our soul-winning work in our various conferences for the past year.

Conference	Membership	Gain	% Gain
Alaska	114	33	40.7
Idaho	1357	196	16.9
Montana	1145	90	8.5
Oregon	7051	537	8.2
Upper Col.	4813	304	6.7
Washington	3289	112	3.5
Union	17,769	1272	7.7

In this, as in all other branches of our work, we should aim to make far greater progress than we have made in the past. These important years of peace and liberty should be improved by us in rapidly finishing the work of God in the earth. Not only are we to do a thorough and strong work in warning the population of our field, but we should greatly strengthen our support of the foreign fields, where there are numberless millions yet in darkness. I am not inclined to think that there is anything about the figures that we have submitted above that should lead us to be contented. When we compare ourselves with ourselves, we may come to wrong conclusions. Our work is to be strengthened in all lines and I take this occasion to say that I greatly appreciate the cooperation of our conference leaders and laborers and church members in taking decided steps in advance in all lines of activity. E. K. SLADE.

Two Very Urgent Needs During 1935

Of all the needs recently presented to the Southern African Division Committee for consideration, two are most outstanding in their urgency. One is a hospital building at the Liumba Hill Mission station in Barotseland, and the other is a church building at the Mwami Mission station in Northeast Rhodesia. The problem of how to supply both these needs during 1935 was not an easy one to solve.

However, when we gave careful study to each need and began to figure up the cost, we felt that the next Thirteenth Sabbath School offering to be received in all our churches March 30, 1935, would go a long way toward the erection of these two buildings. Hence it was voted by the Division Committee to apply the overflow to the construction of the same.

For years the king of Barotseland has appealed to us to send a doctor among his people, but during the days of depression this has been impossible. We have been made happy, however, at this time that plans can be laid to answer this long-delayed call. A strong medical work in Barotseland will wield a mighty influence in behalf of the onward march of the message, and now, inasmuch as the king is so favorable toward us, it seems providential we can supply the doctor. But we will have to depend upon the coming Thirteenth Sabbath overflow to supply the funds with which to erect the hospital building.

Then speaking of the church building at the Mwami Mission, we may well add that this has been a crying need for years. Dr. E. G. Marcus opened this mission station in 1927. As yet a permanent church building has not been erected. We have often wanted to see such a need supplied, but to date it has been utterly impossible, so we are hoping the coming Thirteenth Sabbath overflow will be large enough to supply this need also.

And now, as we appeal to our brethren and sisters in the homeland to give

Eternity by Way of the Times

The Watchman Magazine endeavors to fill—and its tens of thousands of readers are eager to testify that it succeeds in filling—a unique place in our denominational literature. There are definite fields for specialized messages in the varied activities engaging God's chosen people, and periodicals devoted to children, youth, health, education, church work, missionary endeavor, the ministry, and local interests have their peculiar spheres. But The Watchman aims to live up to its name, magazine, a publication covering a wide range of interests.

However, The Watchman Magazine range is no wider than—though as wide as—the message that makes Seventh-day Adventists a people. And what message for today is as wide as ours? It converts a man's heart, but in doing so it converts his appetite, his pride, his purse, his school, his business, his family relationships,—in fact, every detail of his life.

The Watchman Magazine plans to include every legitimate interest in life. For to it life is religion, and religion is life. It becomes broad without becoming shallow. It enters into the political, international, economic, social, and cultural spheres. It deals with business, home making, love and friendship, and the hundred and one wholesome occupations of Christian living.

In every issue of The Watchman Magazine the Message is proclaimed in its essentials—the second advent and the signs of it, the Sabbath and its keeping, sleep and life after death, the saving power of Jesus Christ, the secrets of happy spiritual living.

Vivid in cover-color; window-dressed with news pictures; pat to the time—and a little ahead—with reported events and interpretive comment, styled to appeal to men and women who read to know; short, concise articles eminently readable: loyal and true to the Message for this time that gives the trumpet no uncertain sound—this is The Watchman Magazine. It preaches eternity by way of the times.

Let this magazine fall into the hands of any reader, and—he has been given the message of “this gospel of the kingdom,” the full message. There is enough in any one issue to lead him to the Jesus who saves, and the Jesus who comes.

What its friends say of the Watchman:

“I like the Watchman: It leads me to study the Bible more.”

“I am a ———, but I haven't been to church for three years. I read the Watchman, and try to keep the seventh-day Sabbath.”

“I want to tell you I am certainly enjoying the work. An Osteopath here has taken the Watchman for a couple of years. He likes it so much he loaned it to a friend of his for a while. The friend to whom he loaned these copies liked the paper so well he sent in his personal subscription. He is a minister.”

“A man and his wife here who are connected with a mission, take the Watchman, and have told me that they use articles from it quite frequently in their work.”

“There is a barber and his wife here who appreciate the Watchman very much. One of their daughters has moved to the South recently. She lives on a farm, and on Sunday she invites in the neighbors and has meetings prepared from Watchman articles.”

Notes from Y. V. A.

There are jumping stands at Y. V. A.
With a slender pole between,
And over goes each racing boy
Like a galloping jumping-bean.

And slowly, and slowly, as day by day
Lithe bodies are upward flung,
The pole mounts up to its rest at last
On the very topmost rung.

So youth must ever and ever mount
With a higher goal each day,
With eyes on an ever rising mark
Like the galloping boys of Y. V. A.

H. J. B.

Saturday night, February 23, the boys gave a very splendid pay program in the assembly hall. Features of the evening's entertainment were: The mock trial of a man convicted for running a “work-easy”; the troubles of a flivver driver; the worries of a rural school teacher, and a few of the best numbers from a former program. The proceeds, over fifteen dollars, goes to the depleted treasury of the boys' club.

Elder Scriven spoke to the students at the vesper service a week ago. His subject was “True Freedom.” Sunday morning he was seen on the ball diamond with the boys.

We had many visitors on Monday, February 25, for the Conference Committee and the Academy Board met at the school. Plans were laid for the coming year.

On the following Tuesday evening, friends in the village joined with the faculty in a farewell to Miss Roberts. We are sorry that her health made it necessary for her to discontinue her work with us. The faithful service she has rendered in the past year and a half will not soon be forgotten.

Miss Bernadine Rennewanz has taken Miss Roberts' place as English teacher and preceptress of the girls.

The senior class has organized with Ed Simpson as president—but other matters strictly secret.

Ben Grimm has been chosen as editor-in-chief of the Pitcanook. He takes the place of Marjorie Himes who had to return home. The annual staff has been busy the past few days. They promise an early publication.

Fortieth Anniversary

Within the little shake-roofed, mud-daubed log cabin which served as the vicinity's pioneer school and meeting house, a fire burned brightly in the stove which lost no opportunity to deposit a liberal supply of ashes on the rough board floor, while snow sifted through broken window-panes to lodge on homemade tables and benches.

In this humble setting at Fruitland, Wash., Elder W. F. Martin followed up the work of Brother Daniel House by holding a series of meetings which resulted in the church organization of twenty-one members, February 9, 1895.

Five of this courageous band sleep in the little cemetery of the present church building, while the youngest, Brother John Little occupies a missionary's grave in far-away India. Only the name of one of the survivors (the writer's) is now enrolled on the church book.

Laurelwood Academy

On the evening of March 2 the Laurelwood Academy orchestra gave a concert to our sister school across the river, Columbia Academy.

The personnel of the orchestra under the leadership of Ruth Lay-Erntson is:

Violins: Drusilla Booth, Florine Thornton, Russell Neuman, Phyllis Jordan, Alcyon Logan, and Kenneth Davis.

Cello: Quentin Logan.

Cornets: Vincent Ritacca, Leslie Smith, Gilbert Oliver, Theodore Be-craft, Esther Jensen.

Clarinets: Robert Emmerson, Frances Huber.

Saxaphones: Elmer Fitzgerald, Marian Klement, Larry Amberson, Mildred Gosnell, Roland Jordan.

Bass Drum: Ruth Hackett.

Snare Drum: Don Diamond

Xylophone: Eileen Abegg.

Accompanist: Lola Dick.

We are expecting Mrs. Wilkinson to return soon from California, where she went a few weeks ago in search of a much needed rest.

Dorothy Hogue was called home suddenly on account of the death of her grandmother.

Columbia Academy

Two new students have been added to our school the second semester. They are Floretta Haines, a former student of Columbia, and Clifford Willett of Seattle. This makes an enrollment of one hundred two.

The halls are humming with the enthusiasm of the students in our Annual campaign which closes the eleventh of this month.

The Seniors have organized with Wendell Fleck as president, Pearlene Hooper, vice-president; Rosemarie Reed, secretary; Leonard Vendon, treasurer; and Evern Budd, sergeant-at-arms. Professor Witzel is faculty advisor.

Professor Emmerson of Laurelwood Academy gave an inspiring talk Friday evening at vespers comparing our lives with those of the Israelites.

A group of twenty-five students from Laurelwood entertained us Saturday night with a musical program which was much enjoyed. We accepted an invitation to give a return program.

The Woodwork shop has turned out a number of chairs to accomodate the students during study period.

A temperance program was given by the M. V. society, at the eleven o'clock hour, Sabbath, Feb. 23.

Missionary Volunteer Auditorium

A few weeks ago a letter was sent out to the pastors, church elders, and Missionary Volunteer leaders, calling attention to an important action of the Conference committee which was that we build a young people's auditorium at Gladstone Park and that we raise a thousand dollars in the churches for such a building. Raising a thousand dollars means a per capita goal of only 15 cents for every member in the Conference. Already reports are coming in that the churches are rallying to this call.

Every church in the Conference is asked to have a part in this endeavor, and as each church is thoroughly organized the goal can be reached quickly. Some members will be willing to give much more than 15 cents, but this must be the average per capita in order to reach the goal. The amount raised should be turned over to the church treasurer marked, "Missionary Volunteer Auditorium Fund" and the treasurer in turn will send it in with the regular monthly remittance. I am sure that when you come to camp meeting this year you will enjoy this fine young people's auditorium.

Let us all put our shoulder to the task and the goal of one thousand dollars will be reached. H. C. KLEMENT.

Montana Items

From a comparative report received at the office recently we notice that the Montana Conference led in the North Pacific Union in the gains in tithe and mission offerings for the month of January over the same period a year ago. The tithe gain for the first month of the year was 92.9%. The gain in mission offerings was 16.8%, the total amount of mission offerings for the month, including Sabbath school offerings, being 13.2 cents per week per member. Our Sabbath school offerings for January amounted to 11.5 cents per member. This is the highest record made in the Union in these three financial lines. As these notes are being prepared for the GLEANER, our books are being closed for the month of February and we are glad to be able to report another good tithe income for this second month of the year, which will amount to about 30% over that for the same month a year ago.

This speaks well for the splendid spirit or loyalty and faithfulness on the part of our members in the Montana Conference. We know that all heaven rejoices in the faithfulness of God's people in their support of His rapidly finishing work in the earth. We realize that this splendid start on the new year will not keep up at this rate, as the next three or four months usually are light ones in income, but then God has been blessing us far beyond any of our expectations during the past year, and more and more of our people are joining the ranks of faithfulness in tithe paying believers, so we may be surprised again and continually at the signal blessings God is bestowing upon His people in this state where so many of the people are seriously handicapped financially. We do know, and realize more and more, that God does bless His people who are faithful in their obligations to Him.

Elder McConaughey visited Lewistown over the week-end of March first.

We now have a fine company of believers in Lewistown and a church of some twenty-four or twenty-five members was organized, with a full staff of officers. While this group of believers is located in one of the serious drouth-stricken areas of the state and a number of the members have no work, we note that they are faithful in paying their tithe and offerings. We know that our church organizations throughout the state will be happy to welcome the new church at Lewistown into this sisterhood of churches at the time of our coming Conference session this summer.

The Conference Committee and Academy board was in session at the Conference office on Tuesday, March 5. Plans for the forth-coming school year were laid. There is a splendid group of teachers at the Academy this year and the work is moving along most harmoniously. A fine spirit and spiritual atmosphere prevails and it is with keen pleasure that we can announce that the staff will be held intact for the coming year.

Mt. Ellis Academy is now accredited with the State of Montana and also with the Board of Regents of the Educational Department of the General Conference. We have been informed that we are being favorably considered for accrediting also with the Northwest Association of Secondary Schools. We are endeavoring to carry on a strong work in the field of Christian education at the school and we hope that many more of our Montana young people of high school grade will be with us next year. We recently were inspected by the representatives of the Board of Regents, and were requested to make some added improvements in the plant, including the library, science equipment, and in our engine room. These improvements will entail more expense than we have funds for. The Conference committee voted to designate one Sabbath during the month of April for an offering to be taken in all our churches for Mt. Ellis Academy. No appeal for funds for our academy has been made to the field this year, but in order to be able to offer our young people the opportunities for the best in Christian education we must improve and add to our equipment and our plant. Detailed information relative to these needs and the coming offering will be presented to all our people and churches in forth-coming issues of the GLEANER and by correspondence.

Elder Wilcox reports that a building improvement and repair program will be getting under way soon in the Stevensville, Corvallis, and Darby churches. We are glad to see our churches keeping their properties in good repair. Clean neat buildings for our worship makes us appreciate our Christian fellowship more and add prestige to our work.

Elder Esteb visited Billings, Livingston, Butte, Anaconda, Missoula, and the Bitter Root churches in the interest of the Signs campaign last week. Signs clubs are coming from various parts of the conference. We are pleased to note several new ones this year and that the old ones are all larger than a year ago. Our lay evangelism movement is getting under way throughout the state. Two of our laymen have each reported in the past week three new believers ready for baptism. Let us keep the good work going. Surely the lay members of our conference should win as many souls as the ministers will this year.

Sabbath, March 30, is the day for the Thirteenth Sabbath offering this quarter. We trust every member in the Montana Conference will join in helping to make this first Thirteenth Sabbath offering of the new year the largest we have ever given to missions!

S. O. S.

During the first two months of the year, 1935, the Idaho Conference shows a gain of $81.00 in tithe, and a loss of $193.79 in missions over the same period of last year. We feel much concerned over the mission program. Surely the time has come when every member of the Idaho Conference should put forth a special effort through the Sabbath school and through weekly offerings to increase the funds for the mission fields.

Seventh-day Adventists have many faithful men and women who have sacrificed friends and loved ones and gone out into the distant lands as soldiers in the Cause of Christ. Many times we have responded to the S. O. S. call. Cannot we apply these letters to a call to "Save Our Soldiers." We have every reason to believe that our faithful missionaries are "enduring hardness, as good soldiers of Jesus Christ."

Surely, every believer in this Cause must put forth a special effort to help keep these loyal men and women at their post of duty. We hope every member in our conference will put forth a special effort during the month to roll in one of the largest Thirteenth Sabbath Offerings that ever has been given by the conference. We believe that the shortage of $193.79 should be made up before the first quarter closes. God calls upon us all at this time to sacrifice.

J. W. TURNER.

Twin Falls, Idaho

The Lord is wonderfully blessing our lectures here in Twin Falls. Though the effort was started November 27, our interest is still very good and some are accepting the truth each week. Sabbath, March 2, our church was crowded, and we were pleased to see nearly all stand and tell what this message has done for them, and how the Lord has helped them to get away from habits which had formerly held them like a vise. In the afternoon we drove out to a beautiful warm springs pool, the use of which was given to us for the day by business firms in the city. On this occasion twenty-six were baptized. Our next class is nearly as large.

Among this number who were baptized was a former Methodist minister, his wife, and three daughters. A son will be baptized later. This clergyman and his good wife accepted every point peculiar to us as a people. The Spirit of prophecy and health reform were gladly welcomed. They have assisted us materially during these meetings.

During the last few weeks a lady prominent in educational circles, has been attending, and has accepted every ray of light thus far. She is bringing others to the church, and is negotiating for lumber to build our parsonage which will be built on one of the lots given us by a doctor here in Twin Falls.

One encouraging feature relative to this series is the fact that whole families are coming into the church. Two families fitted up a truck and have driven to the meetings, not missing one night through the whole series. They were well repaid last Sabbath by seeing four families who came with them, join with this great movement. Three other families in this community are very much interested.

New life has come into the church and the Lord is blessing the efforts of every humble disciple who goes in quest of those who are waiting for the light.

We solicit the prayers of the GLEANER family in behalf of our work in this center.

C. F. COLE.

News Notes

Elder J. W. Turner and Prof. H. S. Hanson spent Sabbath, March 2, at Pocatello, and Idaho Falls. They reported our brethren of good courage in that part of the conference.

The Sabbath school quarterlies for the second quarter have reached our office. Orders should be placed at once, so if we are short we shall have time to get others before the quarter begins.

Our churches that have church accounts at the office, as well as individuals, should put forth every effort possible to square these accounts at the close of each month. Where this is not done, arrangements should be made with the Book and Bible House.

March 30 is our first Thirteenth Sabbath for 1935. We hope all our people will begin now to save their dollar for a real Dollar Day.

Prof. H. S. Hanson is very desirous of securing the names of all our young people who are planning to attend the Youth's Congress, June 9-13. Those who are planning to attend should write him, Box 2238, Boise.

Brother Dewey Payne and Professor Berntson have begun a series of meetings near Boise. We hope our people will remember this effort in their prayers.

As we enter the last month of the first quarter, we hope all will lay definite plans to square up on their tithes and offerings by the close of the month.

The Colporteur Institute is now over. Thirteen of our faithful members have gone to the canvassing field. We are sure that our people will remember these faithful colporteurs in their prayers. The institute that was held in Boise, February 22 to March 2, proved to be a real success. Elder George Campbell from the Union was present during most of the meeting, while Brother J. M. Rowse from the Portland Branch of the Pacific Press was present during the latter part. Brother A. K. Phillips says that the colporteur work is onward in Idaho.

Alonzo Baker to Be at Youth's Congress

The young people of the North Pacific Union will be happy to hear that Elder Alonzo L. Baker, editor of the Signs of the Times will be at the Youth's Congress. The morning mail brought the word that he will be with us until Tuesday night.

Elder Baker will speak on our privileges and duties regarding temperance, the youth of the Reformation, and the rise and place of the Advent Movement and its youth.

You cannot afford to miss the many good things in store for you at the Youth's Congress. Lay your plans to be with us, June 9 to 13, at College Place, Wash. GEO. S. BELLEAU.

W. W. C. Summer Session

The 1935 summer session of Walla Walla college will start June 17, with Dr. L. P. Thorpe, professor of education, as director.

The summer faculty will be as follows: Prof. H. F. Saxton, Bible instructor; Prof. H. G. Reinmuth, modern languages, English, and literature; Dr. L. P. Thorpe, psychology and education; and Dr. G. G. Kretschmar, physics and mathematics.

Arrangements are being made to secure the services of a specialist in elementary education to give courses in elementary methods and administration.

Liberal arts courses, especially in the field of literature, will be offered as well as the teachers' training courses. College students can thus make up work or shorten their college course.

The summer quarter affords a special opportunity to elementary and secondary teachers to secure approved work. Academy teachers can receive the fifteen hours in education necessary to give them recognized standing.

During the summer session, a series of chapel lectures will be presented by speakers well qualified in their field.

Music will be featured in the chapel periods more than during the winter sessions. Regular library facilities will be available, and there will be frequent Saturday night programs.

During the summer the college buildings are cool and comfortable. Here is an ideal opportunity for study and for an intimate relationship between instructors and students.

Walla Walla College Notes

Prof. J. Cecil Haussler, who is at present instructor of history at Southern Junior College, Ooltewah, Tenn., has accepted the invitation of the Walla Walla college board to assume the principalship of its preparatory school beginning with the opening of the 1935-36 term.

Three articles written by members of the Journalism I class of the College are to be found in the "Progress edition" of the Walla Walla Bulletin published Feb. 27.

Students of each College class of Walla Walla college competed for the $15 cash prize in the "All Collegiate Benefit Program" in the Davis auditorium at 7:30 Saturday evening, March 9. The sophomores won.

Official announcement of the recognition of Walla Walla college as a senior liberal arts college in good standing by Washington State college, Pullman, was released Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 27, by Dr. E. O. Holland, president of the latter institution.

Leveling, re-seeding and fertilizing of the lawns of the College campus is being completed by the grounds crew with Buford Holm as foreman.

Singers, pianists, and violinists of the Walla Walla college conservatory of music were presented in recital in the College auditorium, Saturday evening, March 2.

Six new books have been given by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace to the library of the International Relations club.

Prof. H. J. Bass, principal of Yakima Valley academy spoke at the vesper and church services March 8 and 9. Quoting, "To live is thus to sail the sea," he compared life to the course of a ship, Friday evening. At the 11 o'clock hour, Sabbath, he showed the need of loyalty to God now and in the last days.
