What Did They Find In Your Church?

All over North America and extending into many other lands, a great evangelistic campaign is being carried on through the Bible correspondence schools of The Voice of Prophecy and the various local Bible schools. While Seventh-day Adventists are busy with their various activities, people everywhere are in the valley of decision. Many are accepting the truth, and many more will take their stand before the end.

As these people learn of the work of Seventh-day Adventists—many of them for the first time—they are interested in seeing how we conduct our services. They are seeking out and visiting the Adventist churches in all parts of the country, just to see what they are like. One lady writes: "I have been away on a trip this summer, and have visited a number of Seventh-day Adventist churches and have met some of the ministers. They are a grand people. I am keeping the Sabbath and am so happy about it. I thank God for the light revealed to me through the Bible lessons, and I am telling everyone about the truth."

A church elder writes: "Several people have found our church lately who have just completed your Bible course. Not long ago a lady came to our church, and we were greatly thrilled when we heard her story. She said she had given up tea, coffee, and pork, and had laid aside her jewelry, and if anything else was required, she wanted to know about it. All she had ever known about the message was through your Bible course."

Book Wanted

Copies of The Great Second Advent Movement by Loughborough, for missionary purposes, are wanted by Mrs. Bertha Steward, 2905 First Ave., Seattle 1, Wash. Have you one you would like to donate?

A Junior student writes as follows: "My sister and I have been attending Sabbath school for about six weeks and we love it. My mother is not in favor of this church and says we must leave home if we are baptized. Please pray for us."

We are glad that we do not receive many letters like the following: "While in a certain city my wife and I decided to visit an Adventist church. You had assured us that we would be welcome there, and I felt that if I could get my wife to go once she would want to go again; but, believe it or not, only one person spoke to us. On Sunday we visited another church. The people there were warm and friendly, and made a special effort to be nice to us, but I do not believe their doctrines and cannot support such a church. Please, won't you impress upon your people the need of being more friendly to strangers?" Was this your church?

One of our new converts from a northern state gives the following testimony: "I have been to my first camp meeting and I had the privilege of being baptized. It was a wonderful experience, for it was the first time I had ever been with Sabbath-keeping people. But there was one thing that disappointed me. I thought that everyone would be talking about the coming of Jesus, and it seemed as though they talked about everything else. I enjoyed the people and found them very friendly, but I thought they would all be interested in the one subject which has become so dear to me."

Were there strangers at your church last Sabbath? Did you speak to them? It may be that they were Voice of Prophecy students or local Bible school students looking for a church home. What did they find in your church?

Now Attending Church Services

Mrs. J. B. Hunt is one of our colporteur evangelists in the Washington Conference. Not long ago she had an outstanding experience in meeting with and having prayer with a lady that was quite ill and discouraged at the time Sister Hunt visited her. Mrs. Hunt gives her experience as follows:

"While canvassing some time ago I came to the home of a very ill and discouraged lady. I talked to her about God's wonderful love and healing power and had prayer with her. After prayer she seemed to feel that she had found a friend and confided in me. Sometime in her past life she had been an Adventist but gave it up because her husband, who is a Lutheran, opposed her. Later she joined the Pentecostal church. Her husband refused to attend any church with her, believing his confirmation in the Lutheran church was sufficient for his salvation. She bought a Modern Medical Counselor and Health magazine. She had Bible Readings. She seemed glad for the opportunity of going to prayer meeting and went as often as she was able. Now she is attending Brother Roper's Hour of Prophecy meetings, having missed only one. She has persuaded her husband and two sons to attend the meetings also. She has a twenty-two year old daughter for whom we have been praying, and imagine our joy and thankfulness Thursday night when we went to church to find the whole family there. There are so many in the valley of decision, and there is so little time! Please pray that the gospel message preached by Elder Roper may have the desired effect on this dear family, and that they may surrender all to the mighty power of God."

Isn't it wonderful how the Spirit of God cooperates with the colporteur evangelists in helping people to decide in favor of the message! There are thousands of people living today in sin who would gladly accept the message if someone would carry it to them. May God help us that we may be faithful in searching out and discovering those who are hungering and thirsting for a knowledge of God.

Missionary Volunteer Society Objectives

Work for the Youth Not of Our Faith

The missionary endeavors of our young people's society should not end with the youth of Seventh-day Adventist families. We should continually be putting forth effort for our young friends and neighbors about us. Often very simple methods bring wonderful results. Here is one method in which every member of the society can participate: namely, invite these young people to attend our missionary Volunteer Society meetings.

In a small society of only seventeen members a covenant was made between the members that each would do all that he could to bring someone else with him to every meeting. It was not very long until five young people not of our faith were regularly attending the society meetings. After a number of weeks had passed, these five young people applied for associate membership in the society, and before many months had passed they were baptized members of the church and regular members of the society.

Your society may do, also, what other societies have done in conducting Sunday schools, or branch Sabbath schools, and through this medium interest boys and girls in our work, and later invite them to the society and other church services. Many of those interested by this method will take their stand for the truth, and then be enrolled as active members of the society.

Also every one can take part in the circulation of the excellent leaflets and periodicals, as well as books, that are made available by our publishing houses. Probably more persons are brought to a knowledge of God's truth in this way than any other.

Nothing, however, can take the place of Bible readings and cottage meetings conducted in the homes of interested persons. Many members of the society should qualify themselves for this type of personal work. Let us watch for and take advantage of every opportunity of reaching the youth of every community and lead as many of them as possible to enlist under the banner of Prince Emmanuel. As they become members of the church and the Missionary Volunteer Society, we can at once harness their energies and support in strengthening the work of God in the church and the world.

Thus the Missionary Volunteer pledge will occupy its rightful place and every member of the society will be able to stand with his fellows and truthfully say, "Loving the Lord Jesus, I promise to take an active part in the work of the Young People's Missionary Volunteer Society, doing what I can to help others, and to finish the work of the gospel in all the world."

M. V. and Educational Gleanings

Superintendent M. J. Perepelitza visited the Vale school a few days ago and met with their church in the evening to discuss ways and means whereby the Vale school may accomplish even more in behalf of their boys and girls. They unanimously agreed that it will be money well spent to re-decorate the school which they are proceeding at once to do. The teachers' desk copies are also being ordered to facilitate instructions and much progress is going to be evident in this school to make it one of our outstanding schools in the conference. Let us pray for all schools and for their success.

The superintendent visited the Boise school and reports that good work is being done there. Mr. Lynn Callender and Mrs. Martin together with their assistant, Mrs. Perepelitza, are working hard to make this school a real success. Watch for further reports of the progress these schools are making.

The Salmon school under the direction of Mr. William Harrold assisted by Mrs. Harrold is growing rapidly, not only in enrollment but in scholastic progress.

The school at Twin Falls with Mr. William Pflugrad and Miss Barber is being renovated and is also making good progress.

The M. V. Rally was conducted at Pocatello, Sabbath, November 29, Watch for further reports. The M. V. rally scheduled for Nampa on December 13 is going to be full of interesting events. Postpone all other engagements and plan to be there particularly for the afternoon special program and the evening entertainment.

The Twin Falls associated M. V. is meeting at Twin Falls Sabbath, December 20, and is going to be visited by the conference secretary. He also plans to visit the M. V. association at Payette, Sabbath, December 27. He will stay there through the entire program with these associations and will assist them in putting on a big thrilling program for the young people in each place. Be sure to make this your place of meeting on the appointed days.

Southeastern Idaho

Baptismal services in Idaho Falls, November 15, and in Pocatello, November 22, culminated the summer's soul-winning activities in southeastern Idaho, in which 10 were added to church membership. Two previous baptisms had been held on August 30 in Idaho Falls and October 11 in Pocatello. We thank God for His prospering hand upon the work in this field of great possibilities.

Brother Earl Lee, second-year intern, and wife have been giving splendid assistance in Idaho Falls where a new concrete baptistry has been constructed, a new heating system installed, and the church interior redecorated. The Dorcas society, under the capable leadership of Sister Harold Horne, has performed a commendable service in its welfare activities and in a recent miscellaneous goods and bake sale in which close to $300 has been realized to date.

Brother R. A. Carson, local elder in Pocatello, has given valuable cooperation in the Sunday-night church effort. Sisters Smith, McGowan, Allen, and Carver have held regular Bible studies and several others are engaged in systematic literature distribution. The Pocatello church grounds have been landscaped with plantings of evergreen shrubbery, and the heating plant is in process of being modernized with the installation of additional heat runs and an automatic stoker and blower, costing approximately $600.

The believers in Blackfoot and Aberdeen are of good courage and are presently engaged in literature distribution.

Three weeks ago a program of radio evangelism was launched, the idea being to tie together and bring to favorable public attention, various soul-winning activities of the church. The broadcast appears as "The Search for Certainty, the Adventist Hour," and is heard Sundays from 10:00-10:30 p.m., station KEYY, Pocatello.

We are justly proud, we believe, of the accomplishments of our faithful colporteurs in southeastern Idaho. Brethren Willis Age, Kenneth Smith and company, S. Dixon, the Ward brothers, Henry Ford, Vernon Harris, William Christoff, and others have found a fruitful field among our Mormon neighbors. To date this year, $24,540.99 of truth-filled literature has been placed in this district alone. We pray for the continued blessings of the Lord.

Gem State Academy

Sabbath, November 22, Elder Chambers and Elder Perepelitza conducted a Missionary Volunteer Rally. A "radio" program was presented by the students, on the subject of progressive class work. A recording was made, then played back to them. "Dr. I Q." Chambers engaged the audience in his quiz and gave books as prizes. Both young and old were thrilled with the recordings of the Youth's Congress that they were privileged to hear. In the evening Elder Perepelitza conducted a social hour. The boys gave an excellent exhibition of their creative abilities by fashioning crepe paper hats for the girls. The school band played spirited music for the marches. The evening was climaxed by a showing of beautiful, full color, nature picture films of nature studies.

November 15, Ed Christiansen, the ventriloquist and "Peggy" entertained us.

Paul Leonard, the bird man of National Assemblies, is scheduled to present a program of whistling and music on the evening of December 6.

Ten students, unable to go home for the Thanksgiving vacation, enjoyed games evenings. They had Thanksgiving dinner with the Works and the Garners in the Work home.

There is an increasing interest in band and chorus. There are 48 band members and 70 chorus members. About 25 of the chorus, under the direction of Mr. Work, are to assist Brother Tucker in his evangelistic effort at New Plymouth, Sunday night, December 7.

"After Many Days"

"Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days." Eccl. 11:1. The truth of this text is aptly illustrated by this experience as related by colporteur evangelist Clarence Quarnstrom. "Last week after I had canvassed a lady for the Medical Counselor and Bible Readings, she said: 'I certainly am glad that you called on me. Years ago, when I was a young girl living in Wisconsin, I heard a farmer-preacher explain the prophecies concerning the last days. Lately I have been thinking of those prophecies as I see them being fulfilled everywhere. This little book will help me to study them again.'

"She also promised to attend the Prophecy Speaks lectures which are to start in the Anchorage Seventh-day Adventist church next Sunday night."

Much seed has been sown in Alaska, and the fields are white ready to harvest. Pray that the Lord will send forth reapers into His harvest field.

Ketchikan News Notes

The Ketchikan church school opened September 15 with an enrollment of twenty pupils. The ten grades are divided as follows: Grades one to six taught by Mrs. Alvin Hanson and grades seven to ten taught by Mr. Calvin Russell.

The school has a large gym and each Saturday night finds all the Adventists, young and old, either looking at moving pictures, playing games or roller skating. Elder T. M. Cole conducts a medical cadet corps on Monday nights at the school. He is assisted by Harold Eastham. Sometimes on Thursday evenings an all-girl gym class meets. We young people are grateful for the sacrifices our parents have made for us to be able to attend a Christian school.

There are sixty-one members in the church in Ketchikan. On Sabbath morning we have our Sabbath school at 9:40 and our preaching services at 11:00. The young people's meeting is on Friday night and is always very well attended. The young people here are very enthusiastic and very often they take papers out to Saxmon Village, a nearby native settlement.

Elder T. M. Cole is conducting evangelistic meetings on Sunday nights.

The Dorcas Society under the leadership of Mrs. Gordon Davis has just completed a very successful sale. The proceeds of $190 will be divided between European War relief and local Dorcas work.

News Notes

Elder E. S. Humann, auditor of the North Pacific Union Conference, has been spending a few days in our conference office auditing the books for the Conference and the Book and Bible House. On Sabbath, November 29, Elder Humann spoke to the church at Mount Ellis. His visit was very much appreciated.

Elders Arthur Patzer and E. G. Fresk are continuing their meetings at Big Timber. They are now holding three meetings a week. Their attendance is excellent. On the night of their twelfth meeting, the attendance was the largest yet. The church was full with 75 people present. Only about one-third of this number were members of our church there. Continue to pray for this and the other evangelistic efforts being carried on in our field that many may see the light and join with God's remnant church.

Evangelism

The Great Falls-Havre-Lewiston district is very responsive to evangelistic appeals. At present the writer is commencing Sunday night meetings in the church in Great Falls. In Havre evangelistic services are held Wednesday night in the church. It is planned that Brother Barkley will hold cottage meetings in Galata and Brother Howard Lund in Joplin and Chester. The Havre church is continuing its fine literature evangelism. The M. V.'s of Great Falls are continuing meetings Thursday nights with good prospects at Loma.

We are completing plans to conduct a Seminar on Monday nights. The Seminar students will conduct evangelistic meetings on Tuesday nights near Great Falls. This will be supervised by the pastor and Brother Livingston.

Several of the members are giving Bible studies. Sister Komoll is doing fine work in the colporteur evangelism. Sister Countryman is conducting a Master Comrade class with splendid evangelistic elements. Brother Livingston leads the church in the study of the Spirit of prophecy on Wednesday nights.

The lay members are distributing thousands of invitations for the 20th Century Bible Course. With the evangelistic outlook in the Sabbath school and the two rooms of the church school, we feel that the emphasis is being rightly placed.

With this activity and organizations we are pleased, but we look beyond these for that power that will give the increase.

District Meeting Southern End of Field

There will be a special week-end meeting in the southern end of the field at Medford the week end of December 13. This meeting will begin Thursday night, December 11, with a preaching service. Then there will be a service Friday evening, December 12, with meetings all day on Sabbath.

Elder V. G. Anderson, our union president, Elder C. A. Scriven, conference president, and Elders Lay, Reisig, and Reiner of the local field will be with us in addition to local district help. The Thursday and Friday night meetings will be conducted in the church on the corner of Edwards and Beatty streets. On Sabbath the young people will meet in the church and the adults in one of the gymnasiums in the city. Go to the church and you will find a notice there as to the place of the meeting for the senior members.

We anticipate a full attendance of our people from the Medford, Grants Pass, and possibly Klamath Falls districts. Others in southern Oregon are invited.

Oregon M. V. Officers' Meeting

Missionary Volunteer officers of Oregon will meet at Gladstone Park for officers' meeting, January 16 to 18, 1948. We have a new goal, visualized at our Youth's Congress, which we much reach. Wide and wise plans must be studied by every officer, and all along the line there must be a oneness of purpose to achieve the goal.

We hope every Missionary Volunteer officer will begin to lay plans to attend. The meetings begin Friday night, January 16, and end Sunday noon, the 18th. You will be guests of the Oregon Conference Missionary Volunteer Department.

Elder G. W. Chambers, union Missionary Volunteer secretary; Elder C. A. Scriven, our president; and other conference workers will help to make this meeting profitable to all.

A similar meeting for Southern Oregon is planned early in February.

Camas Associated M. V.'s Organize

The Missionary Volunteers of the Camas district, consisting of Cedar Creek, Amboy, Sifton, Camas and Stevenson, met at the Amboy Grange Hall Saturday evening, November 22, to organize themselves into the Associated Missionary Volunteer societies of the Camas district.

District superintendent C. G. McKeown called the meeting to order, and the following were elected to office. Leaders, Dr. Donald Coy of Camas and Mr. J. H. Swanberg of Cedar Creek; secretary-treasurer, Kenneth Daughters of Sifton; assistant secretary, Mrs. Edgar Johnson of Amboy; social leader, John W. Davidson of Camas; assistant social leader, Mrs. P. L. Current of Cedar Creek.

Elder A. J. Reisig, the Missionary Volunteer secretary of the Oregon Conference, was present and gave an interesting and helpful talk, his subject being, "The Three Cheers of the Bible." After the spiritual part of the meeting, Elder Reisig led out in the social activities for the evening in games, marches and pictures. Those present are looking forward to the next M. V. district meeting.

Coos Bay District A. M. V. S.

The church full to overflowing was the enthusiasm manifested at the Coos Bay District Associated Missionary Volunteer Rally on November 29.

Your conference M. V. secretary expressed the need for inspiration for his sermon and that could only come from the members. He called for testimonies of what the Lord was doing for and through youth. Three challenging testimonies brought many "Amen's." All stood and accepted the pledge, aim and motto anew. The inspiration is never lacking when youth tell of victories with Christ.

Mrs. Virgil Watkins of Myrtle Point was elected president of the district A. M. V. S. for the new year. A fine staff of officers will help this association to go forward to greater achievements for Christ.

A social evening of games, marches, and pictures was enjoyed by all present.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for all their sympathy, kindness and many floral offerings during our recent bereavement.

Mr. & Mrs. J. A. Peterson and Family.

Comer—Joseph Mark Comer was born Dec. 2, 1875, at Hutchinson, Minn., and passed away Sept. 15, 1947, at Salem, Ore.

His father and mother were among the early pioneers of the Seventh-day Adventist movement; thus he was born into the Adventist faith being the fifth child in a family of eight. He was baptized in 1900 by Elder F. A. Detamore. Four years later he connected with the organized work of the Seventh-day Adventist church associating with Elder O. O. Bernstien. He was ordained to the gospel ministry in 1907. He then labored as pastor of the church in St. Paul, Minn. In 1909 he was transferred to the Oregon Conference. On Nov. 8, 1910, he was united with Lola Renick in marriage.

In 1911 with his companion he accepted a call to labor in English evangelistic work in the city of Calcutta, India, returning home for furlough in 1918. Upon his return to the Orient he was located on the Island of Ceylon where he carried on English evangelistic work and organized the first Seventh-day Adventist church on the island. Ill health caused his return to the homeland in 1922. He spent the following two years as pastor of the Brooklyn church in Brooklyn, N. Y. His next place of labor was as pastor of the Dallas, Texas, church where he served for three years. From Texas he moved to Spokane, Wash., where he served as conference Sabbath school and home missionary secretary until called to the Oregon Conference as pastor of the Salem church. While serving as pastor of the church in Vancouver, Wash., in 1936 he was forced to discontinue his active work due to ill health. With his family he returned to Salem where he has spent the last 11 years. He has been active in church and personal service during these years as far as his health permitted.

Throughout his ministerial experience he manifested a great interest in young people and by his cheerful and understanding counsel helped many over rough and trying experiences.

He leaves his faithful companion, Lola R. Comer; two daughters, Mrs. John C. Hill of Salem, Ore., and Mrs. Chester Pulver of Long Beach, Calif.; one son, Harold R. Comer of Salem; two grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. H. H. Fox.

Funeral services were conducted in Salem, Ore., by Elder C. A. Scriven assisted by Elder H. E. Willoughby.

Markham—Daisy Adella Gibson was born Dec. 2, 1875, and passed away Sept. 26, 1947. She was united in marriage to Joseph C. Gibson in 1897. To this union was born twins: a son, who died at birth, and daughter, Mrs. Edith Goulard. The Gibson family accepted the Seventh-day Adventist faith in 1912, and were faithful and active in all church endeavors. They were charter members of the Tabernacle church in Portland. Their home was always open to workers who needed a place to rest. She was a mother to over 12 children and young people who were without a home, and was loved by all. With confidence we have laid her to rest expecting to meet her at the coming of Jesus.

J. H. Apigian.

Andregg—Mrs. Violet Nell Andregg, born in Blair County, Pa., in 1885, died Sept. 13, 1947 at Eagle, Idaho. Sister Andregg and her daughter, Esther, were hit by a truck while driving to church. The accident occurred almost in front of the Eagle church. She was pronounced dead upon arriving at the hospital. She is survived by three daughters, Esther, Mrs. George Dean, Mrs. George Howie; six sons, John, Herman, Paul, David, Daniel and Jim; three sisters and three brothers. Sister Andregg joined the Seventh-day Adventist church in 1917 and was sincerely following her Lord at the time of the accident.

R. J. Winders.

House.—Lewis David House was born April 23, 1868 in Hokan, Minn., and passed away Aug. 11, 1947 at the Portland Sanitarium. He was united in marriage to Clara Butterfield on September 14, 1892. Brother House served as elder of the Meadow Glade church for thirty-five years, and at one time was the business manager of Columbia Academy.

WALLA WALLA COLLEGE

Secondary Teacher Training

Thirty-six Walla Walla College seniors are planning on teaching in our denominational academies after graduation, while many more in the lower classes are working toward certification for teaching in the secondary field.

The Education Department offers a variety of courses leading to certification for teaching in one or more major fields that a student might elect. Included in the minimum of twenty-three of Regents. He was president of Pacific Union College 1934-'43 and college dean of Emmanuel Missionary College 1944-'46. He then accepted a call to return to Walla Walla College as Professor of Secondary Education.

Among the courses offered by the department of Education beginning the winter quarter are Psychology and Life, Human Relations. Tests and Measurements, Educational Psychology, and Secondary School Administration. The winter quarter begins January 5, 1948. Application for entering at that time should be made to the college registrar immediately.

Teachers of Tomorrow

Approximately two hundred students, prospective elementary and secondary teachers, assembled for an investiture occasion in Conard Hall dining room on Monday evening, December 1. Present with them were J. T. Porter, educational secretary of the North Pacific Union Conference; H. S. Hansen, educational superintendent of the Oregon Conference; V. R. Jewett, educational superintendent of the Washington Conference; Dr. G. W. Bowers, President of Walla Walla College; Dr. W. I. Smith, Professor of Secondary Education, Walla Walla College; Miss Bernice Searle, Director of Elementary Teacher Training, Walla Walla College; and a number of other teachers and friends.

The elementary section of the "Teachers of Tomorrow" Club sponsored the occasion. Once each year this club invites the secondary members of its organization to a joint meeting at which time new members are pledged and new and old members unite in a spirit of dedication to the noble work of teaching Seventh-day Adventist youth.

Miss Bernice Searle serves as faculty adviser to the elementary section of the "Teachers of Tomorrow" Club. She is director of the elementary teacher training program at the college and is principal of the campus church school. Miss Searle graduated from Walla Walla College in 1939 and took her M. A. degree in Elementary Education from the University of Minnesota in 1941.

A dialogue conducted at the club meeting by President Bowers and Dr. Smith accentuated these points: that more persons are engaged in the profession of teaching than in any other of the learned professions; that in the opinion of college students physicians only are held in a position of higher social prestige than professors; that

Mrs. E. G. White said of the work of church school teachers, "To train the young . . . is the most noble work ever given to man."

In the same discussion it was mentioned that Walla Walla College had established a normal school as early as 1899; that a "commodious new building" had been constructed in 1908, and when this was outgrown the present campus school was built in 1916. In the early 1920's both elementary and secondary teacher training were being developed with substantial increasing enrollments. As many as 30 to 35 elementary teachers were graduated annually from the two-year college teacher-training curriculum.

Seventy prospective teachers received their "Teachers of Tomorrow" pins at the Monday evening meeting. The elementary and secondary teachers in training constitute in the aggregate one of the largest clubs in the college. The "Teachers of Tomorrow" idea is attracting our young people and many of our finest youth are now dedicating their lives to the worthy profession of teaching, for "to deal with human minds is the nicest work ever assumed by men and women."

credits in professional training required for certification is a five-credit course in Observation and Directed Teaching. This course offers the student observation of classroom situations and then affords him a period of actual supervised teaching in the Walla Walla College Academy.

Dr. W. I. Smith is head of the Education Department and director of Secondary Teacher Training. He graduated from Union College in 1911 and received his M. A. degree from Whitman College in 1917. He completed his graduate work at The George Washington University in 1934, taking the degree of doctor of education.

Dr. Smith first came to Walla Walla College in 1912 as dean of boys. He became president of the college in 1917 at the age of 28 and held this position until 1930. The period of 1930-'34 he served as Associate Secretary of the General Conference Department of Education and as secretary of the Board
