The "To Morrow We Die" Philosophy

"For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain," and we hear the cry of men and women all about us: "If I wait, the grave is mine house."

Not long ago a man was heard in a barber shop expressing his views on the present world crisis: "I have a little money, and believe me, I'm going to have a good time. The world is coming to an end in a few years and I am going to enjoy myself now." The barber quietly suggested that it might take a quarter of a century for an all out atomic war to develop, whereupon the man in the chair vehemently replied: "No, sir! It won't be more than four or five years until the end of the world," and in strong language, emphasized by earnest cursing, he reiterated his determination to have a good time while it lasted.

Indeed, "What advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to morrow we die." Why not? If there is no promise beyond the present despair, why not "eat and drink; for to morrow we die." There is little in this world to cheer the heart. Great men wander in bewilderment in the fog of uncertainty; some take their own lives. Time, widely read news magazine, carried the bald statement a few days ago that "The Bible contains no clear, undisputed picture of an after-life." Has mankind surrendered in advance?

But God in His providence has entrusted us with the glorious message of hope for a doomed and dying world. "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you." "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." "All that are in the graves shall hear His voice." "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things are passed away." We possess the answer to the philosophy of "To morrow we die." The clear, certain promises of the Bible beckon us on to the better land.

The Signs of the Times is one of the nicest and most dignified instrumen-

Union Conference President

C. A. Scriven

Elder C. A. Scriven, president of the Oregon Conference, and formerly president of the Washington and Upper Columbia Conferences, has been elected to the office of president of the North Pacific Union Conference.

Elder Scriven is well known throughout the Northwest and the denomination, having been president also of the Greater New York Conference before coming to the North Pacific. He has assumed his new duties and all matters for the union president should be referred to him.

The many friends throughout the Northwest will welcome Elder Scriven to his new position of responsibility and leadership. Let us continue to work and pray for the finishing of the work and the soon coming of our Lord.

talities for presenting the glorious message of life and hope to our friends and neighbors. Again the time is here for renewing and enlarging our use of the Signs. There never was a time of greater interest and inquiry. It is the hour of our opportunity and responsibility. This will be our greatest year with the Signs.

As we search for honest souls, let us carefully guard our own salvation, "lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway." Our words, our actions, our common honesty, our kindness, our moral purity, our love one for another, will clearly indicate whether we say in our hearts, "To morrow we die." Men and women will decide for life or death because of the character they see in us. Whether in high position or lowly station, by the same standards of purity and holiness will our lives be judged. "Fear God, and give glory to Him; for the hour of His judgment is come."

May God bless us in service and keep us true.

LLOYD E. BIGGS.

Publishing Department Recommendations

At the recent Autumn Council held at Grand Rapids, Michigan, careful study was given to the work of strengthening and enlarging the influence of our message-filled publications as they are circulated by the colporteur evangelists. Four very important recommendations were made and have been adopted by the North Pacific Union Conference Committee. These recommendations are destined to accomplish the following:

1. Provision is made for all theological students graduating from Walla Walla College who desire to do so, to enter the colporteur ministry under the provision of the internship plan. This plan provides for a guaranteed weekly income for a period of three months.

2. Double the accessions to our field by calling on all to unite in various forms of public and personal evangelism, and to recognize that the distribution of our message-filled literature by our colporteur evangelists is a vital part of the overall evangelistic program of the church.

3. Encourage our colporteur evangelists to pioneer the work in unentered countries and cities in our territory thus preparing the field for evangelistic campaigns to follow.

4. To develop ways and means of more fully integrating the work of our public evangelists and colporteur evangelists.

We are convinced that a greater and stronger work can be done as a result of properly harnessing the forces represented in our corps of colporteur evangelists. Our goal for 1948 is to double the number of colporteurs operating in our territory. We firmly believe that the times demand a larger and more efficient colporteur force in the field. We invite any who may have a burden to enter the colporteur ministry to immediately contact the publishing department secretary of the conference in which he resides. The urgent need for more workers and the great unfinished task that lies before us constitute a challenge to this hour of opportunity.

It May Be Too Late After '48

Speaking of this atomic age, John Foster Dulles of the United Nations says, "The situation is disturbing. We have no time to waste. The pattern of the future is already taking form, and the form is not a pleasing one."

Everything in this material world tends toward a final, cataclysmic end. Never in the history of religious literature has the general public given itself to reading as now. Fast fulfilling prophecy has awakened a new interest in the study of the Bible. "The world hungers for a voice which will overleap the frontiers of nations and classes."

There are thousands of persons in the territory of the North Pacific Union Conference that must know about Jesus' second coming, which is very near. These can be warned and prepared for that great day through the medium of the Signs of the Times. This missionary paper stands at the top of the list of our denominational soul-winning periodicals. Enlarged, improved editorially and in color, the Signs presents a challenge to all our efforts to evangelize our communities while we have the liberty and opportunity to do so.

The 1948 Signs campaign in the North Pacific Union opens Sabbath, February 14, and closes Sabbath, February 28. This gives two full weeks and three Sabbaths in which to promote the interests of this great soul-winning periodical. Our goal is 50,000 English and 5,000 foreign Signs. I believe we can take as our objective, two Signs for each church member and get it, don't you? Even then we would be but touching our evangelistic problem with the tips of our fingers. The challenge is present, let's accept it this year in the form of multiplied subscriptions of the Signs—single and clubs. The price is $1.75 for single subscriptions and $1.50 each in clubs of five or more. Yes, use the Signs, many of them—it may be too late after '48.

Press Work—1947 Retrospect

In extent, quality and influence, newspaper publicity for the Seventh-day Adventist church during 1947 far exceeded anything of past years. We appreciate greatly the privilege of working with our ministry, church press secretaries and leaders everywhere. Truly the Lord's Spirit has been very manifest in every endeavor and advance move.

Ten union conference sessions, the North American Youth's Congress and two councils of the General Conference received wide national publicity. Editors were as interested to get quotations from speakers as they were reports of activities and plans for the church.

Many stories touched directly on Bible prophecy, the coming of Christ, the gospel as the world's only hope, the church's mighty hour for service, and the need of the church and the world "to return to the Bible and to God." Millions of copies of large city papers flashed these points of truth to their readers.

One of the last newspaper reports of the year summarized the study Elder E. F. Hackman, Inter-American Division president, gave his group of about thirty leaders in council. "Prophecies of both the Old and New Testaments have been entirely fulfilled or are in the process of fulfillment," it says. "These all point to the second coming of Christ." The digest of this talk was carried in the Miami, Florida, News into 100,000 homes. The church editor featured "belief that the world is entering the final phase of its history. . . and that the church today is participating in the greatest drama of all ages," with the stage set for its last great work.

Camp meetings during 1947 were very well reported. The Youth's Congress in San Francisco set a new high mark in national news coverage for any Seventh-day Adventist gathering ever held. The Autumn Council reports went far and wide and reached beyond newspapers into such publications as Time, Newsweek, Christian Century, the Chicago Journal of Commerce, and Protestant Voice.

During 1947 the Pacific Union Conference set up its Press Relations Bureau with an experienced newspaperman in charge—a long step forward.

Great advancement was also made in countries overseas, where little has ever been attempted to give Seventh-day Adventist work newspaper publicity. Leaders are finding the press willing to accept and publish reports, and already feel the added strength and influence this gives our Adventist work.

Truly God is blessing, and 1948 will open before us still larger opportunities to cooperate with editors. It must be God's plan that the presses of the world will carry to the masses information concerning the church that will allay prejudice, create honest inquiry, and lead many to study to know what is truth.

Meeting Error

A man who had read the pamphlet "Bible Supported Reasons Why You Should Not Be a Seventh-day Adventist," by E. B. Jones, and also our answer to that attack, in the pamphlet

More Signs--More Souls in 1948

"Bible Reasons Why You Should Be a Seventh-day Adventist," by M. E. Kern, sends a contribution to our work, and writes as follows:

"I read both sides of the argument, and not being a member of any church, I have come to the decision that your booklet is very convincing and that the beliefs of the 'Remnant Church' are deeply rooted in the Bible. May God continue to use your efforts in combating falsehoods which are now so prevalent in this chaotic age."

Our pamphlet "Bible Reasons" is not meant for general circulation, but should be placed in the hands of every one who has read or has been influenced by E. B. Jones' pamphlet. It can be secured from your Book and Bible House for fifteen cents.

What About the 60 per cent?

A new study of secondary education in the United States has just been released by the Office of Education at Washington. The authors point out that about 30 per cent of the youth do not even enter high school and that another 30 per cent do not complete the school work they began.

Another fact quite as significant is that the high school prepares but half of the remaining 40 per cent for entrance into desirable skilled occupations. The other half of the graduates are fitted to enter college.

Despite the relatively small percentage of American youth who finish high school and enter college, and the much smaller percentage who finish college, the subjects offered in the secondary school are too often adapted in interest and value to the college preparatory student only.

This situation demands some adaptation of public secondary education to the needs and interests of a greatly increased enrollment of students not especially interested in college attendance or graduation. Because of maladjustment in the secondary school many youth turn to other activities and enter their life work inadequately prepared.

For many years limited resources have retarded the development of preparation of our youth for practical living outside the professions. Because of limited offerings in the schools many youth have turned back, some of them to the world, lost completely to the church.

Happily, our school leaders have been conscious of these needs and have struggled nobly to satisfy them. They have shuddered as they saw many fine youth leave the schools never to return. The curriculum has been greatly improved but still there are fewer than half our youth in our own schools. Perhaps the total would equal the 60 per cent found outside by the Office of Education.

What about the 60 per cent? Of course we cannot let them go without a greater effort and sacrifice than the church has yet made. Some of them can be tied into the church and the Christian school by encouraging them to study while they wait for a larger opportunity on some school campus. The bonds can often be kept secure and vital by activity within the church and a direct connection with some educational interest.

A question of friendly interest or an encouraging word to a youth not in school may keep him faced in the right direction, may hold him for God and for a larger service in his community. Some adjustments, long overdue, may be possible in the curriculum of the schools. It is time to think of the 60 per cent and to help them do better what they are going to do anyway.

Stenographers and Teachers Wanted

The General Conference has several unfilled calls for stenographers and lady teachers for girls' school work in our overseas divisions. If there are any mature young women who are qualified as stenographers or teachers and who would be willing to volunteer for foreign mission service we would appreciate their getting in touch with the Secretary of the General Conference, Takoma Park, Washington 12, D. C. Please give training, experience, age, and the names of two or three conference workers who are acquainted with your work. The need is urgent. Who will respond?

Baptism at Newport

The baptismal service held at the Newport church on December 13 will long be remembered. Aside from the Newport members there were brethren present from other churches in the district. Following a sermon on the text, "Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness and hath translated us into the kingdom of His dear Son," the new church officers for 1948 were ordained and given their charge. Then seven candidates who had been previously examined and recommended for baptism by their respective churches, were requested, and the entire congregation gave their approval to their baptism. These were obedient to their Lord's command, and came forth from their watery grave to walk in newness of life under God's promise of grace.

Camas District M V.'s Meet

The Missionary Volunteer Society of the Seventh-day Adventist churches in the Camas district met for their monthly get-together Saturday evening in the I.O.O.F. hall in Battle Ground, Washington.

The main speaker of the evening,

Order Signs Now!--It May Be Too Late After 1948

Elder L. L. Huntington, a returned missionary from India, told some very interesting things about the language in India. He also showed a beautiful collection of souvenirs that he had brought back with him.

After the meeting the young people played games until time to go home. Everyone had a good time.

Deerhorn Church Dorcas Report

The average attendance at each of the seventeen meetings held by the Dorcas ladies of the Deerhorn church during 1947 was nine. The approximate number of hours spent in repairing garments and other work in these meetings was 387. Many of the ladies did much work for the society in their homes.

We have helped two needy families including fifteen persons with clothing and bedding to the extent of 131 items; also with large quantities of food.

Many pounds of wearing apparel have been shipped overseas and $22 in cash was given for relief. We have given at least $75 toward the erection of our new church school building, and as we pledged fifty per cent of our income toward its erection, in addition to this there will be $27. Offerings taken at programs, the sale of neatn foods and fancy work, and plain sewing has brought us nearly $50 during the year.

We hope to enroll every lady in the church this year, and even if she cannot attend the bi-monthly meetings, give her something she can do at her home to further the Dorcas work.

MRS. GRACE MORRIS.

Teachers of Tomorrow

The George M. Price chapter of the Teachers of Tomorrow, at Laurelwood Academy, held its first meeting of the year early in November for the purpose of electing new officers. Those elected were: president, Emma Ferguson; vice president, Rosie Houghton; secretary-treasurer, Don Richardson; librarian, Bob Bain; parliamentarian, Bill Updegrave; publicity secretary, Wilma Hansen. Our advisors are Miss Florence Smith and Mr. R. C. Lyman.

Our meetings are to be held at least every two weeks on Thursday mornings.

December 16, we had our first activity which consisted of having our supper in the dining room. From there we all went to the gymnasium for worship which was conducted by Mr. Lyman. For the next hour we played games, and everyone joined in enthusiastically.

We are planning on many more activities before the school year is over.

Columbia Campus Chronicles

The Sabbath morning of December 13 three car loads of young people from the M. V. department took a Christmas program to Brownsville, and presented it to the Associated M. V. Society of the Albany district. The program was under the direction of Miss Arletia Gibson as student leader and Mr. Fleck and Mr. Smith as counselors. The program was enjoyed by all who attended.

The members of the Meadow Glade church enjoyed a special sacred musical Christmas program which was rendered under the able leadership of Mrs. George Reis at their regular eleven o'clock church service December 20.

We were especially favored on the week end of December 12 and 13 when Dr. H. E. Westermeyer and a group of students from Walla Walla College International Relations Club were down to entertain us. On Saturday evening they presented in brief the Marshall Plan in a round table discussion. This was educational and enjoyed by all. We appreciate such programs that are brought to us from Walla Walla College. Members of the group also aided in Friday evening vespers and Dr. Westermeyer spoke at the church Sabbath morning.

On the evening of December 6 we had a splendid program in our auditorium by a group of trumpeters from the National School Assemblies.

The evening of December 22, the students of Columbia met in the auditorium where they had a special Christmas program at which time also gifts were exchanged and bags of nuts and candy were passed out. This was just before the opening hours of the Christmas holiday season. The students have now returned and are very busy preparing for their semester examinations.

The Honor roll for the second period is as follows: Fred Perry, Leland Quinn, Velma Lacy, Mary Chellis, LaVonne Van Tassel, Beryl Marx, Effie Bruce, Lois Apling, Margaret Christensen, Marilyn Christensen, Dean Davis, Phyllis Kivett, Milly Sweitz, Jim Gardner, Marjory Anderson, Lavonne Bovee, Harold Chapman, Paul Chapman, Ralph Jones, Audrey Meyers, Patricia Stiles, James Brown, Margorie Drayson, Lorraine Erickson, Chuck Hellman, Elisabeth Richards, LuJean Schmidt, Mrs. Maxine Wall, Donelda Weijohn, Ronald Flatt.

The electricians have just completed a complete new lighting system in our gymnasium which was inadequate heretofore. This project was sponsored and paid for by the Associated Students. These new lights add greatly to the usefulness and beauty of our auditorium.

Prison Church Offering

The offering to be received in all the churches throughout the Upper Columbia Conference, January 31, is to be used in helping to build the new church in the penitentiary which is located in Walla Walla, Washington. Elder I. M. Burke, the pastor of the College Place churches, has been continuing with the meetings which are held each week in the penitentiary. On a recent Sabbath eleven more of the prisoners were baptized and taken into our church fellowship. The prospects are good for still more souls to become members of our church as a result of the work which is being done by Elder Burke and our lay members in College Place.

This new church building is being built by the prisoners and will be built on the prison grounds. It will be used by all denominations. We feel that it would be very appropriate for such an offering to be received in our churches for this worthy purpose.

Irrigon Church Organized

On January 3, 1948, the Irrigon church was organized by Elder F. A. Mote. This fine group of believers had just completed their new church home made possible by the gifts and promotion of Brother E. S. Pelton. It was a happy day when these dear people gathered for the first service in their new building January 3. Those present at the service included Elder F. A. Mote, Elder H. S. Hanson, Brother I. K. Loe and the writer. At 11 o'clock the sermon was given by Elder Mote and the church organized. Officers were elected at the afternoon service and the friends and believers from near by were invited in for the dedication.

Signs Goal: 50,000--Or TWO To Each Member!

On January 18 we are beginning a series of meetings in this new church and we seek the prayers of our readers that many may accept the truth.

Irrigon is a splendid place for any of our people who wish to locate out of the cities and get a few acres of land. We should mention that in connection with the church there was also built a neat school room on the same level and this serves as the children's Sabbath school room on the Sabbath. Miss Patterson is in charge of the school and is doing good work. Irrigon could well serve as an example of what our people can do who move out of the cities and unite their efforts to follow God's plan of life for their families. The influence of these new families who have moved in around Irrigon is being felt and several attended the services who were not of our faith. We are hoping to bring the truth to these during the meetings which will begin immediately. Brother I. K. Loe will be associated with the writer in these meetings. Please pray for us.

LOGAN E. HOUSER.

Magnify the Office

I have in mind particularly the office of the various persons leading out in Sabbath school work. An officer in the Sabbath school should feel that his office is of some importance and he should try to magnify it by a conduct in keeping with its importance. The students in the Sabbath school form their opinions and ideas of what is right oftentimes by what they see their leaders do in the Sabbath school, so how important it is that the superintendent, the division leaders, the secretary, and all the teachers give thoughtful consideration to their own conduct and appearance.

Sometimes we are asked, by members of the Sabbath school, what are our standards regarding the wearing of jewelry and we tell them and then they say, "Well," our secretary, or our superintendent, or our division leader, or our teacher, "does not seem to know about these standards or they are not living in harmony with them." When people bring such reports to us it is very difficult to know what to do.

Our counsel has been, on nominating committees, to elect people to office who will accept the standards of the denomination and yet sometimes because of so few members who are considered competent to hold certain offices or because others refuse they have, in some instances, put in office people who are not living up to these standards. This brings embarrassment to the church and to the department. The wearing of rings and the use of lipstick has been reported in several instances with the inquiry, "What shall we do?" I tell them they should talk with their district superintendent about it if they feel they cannot go direct to the person themselves. The Bible method is brought to our view for just such purposes and it seems to me that it would be right for any individual who sees these things, who knows they are embarrassing someone, to go direct to the offending individual and in the spirit of Christ tell them just how it looks. I know this will sometimes get results. I have seen it do so. I think our people, generally, when they realize that their example is a stumbling block to someone, are willing to lay aside their lipstick and jewelry which, of course, they should have lain aside when they came into the church but sometimes they are not always fully instructed or sometimes they do not understand. At any rate these things are not a part of the adornment that is the accepted adornment for Seventh-day Adventists and we hope that those who find themselves still doing it will give thoughtful consideration to a discontinuation of such practice in order that they may set the right example before others and magnify their office.

In the words of Jesus, "For their sakes I sanctify myself that they also may be sanctified through the truth," is a good illustration of what our leaders have the privilege of doing for the sake of others. Let us keep our Sabbath school on a high level and keep our officers well magnified.

R. L. BENTON.

Broadcast Wins Friends

The Light of Prophecy broadcast which goes out over station KRLC, Lewiston, Idaho, continues with a good interest. As a result of this work three souls were baptized during 1947, and we hope to see others take their stand for the message in 1948.

In this work it is hard to measure the interest, but from the letters which we receive we believe many souls will be in the kingdom as a result of this work. Among the good letters received recently we submit the following:

"Dear Light of Prophecy, I am writing to let you know I enjoy your good sermons and singing every Sunday at 4:30. I will ask you to sing my favorite song for a friend next Sunday. It is 'What a Friend We Have in Jesus.' I told her about your good sermons and singing. Am inclosing one dollar to help that much. Maybe I can send one dollar each month. Sure pray that you can stay on the air. You explain the Bible so good and I love the way you folks sing."

"Dear Light of Prophecy, we enjoy your program very much. Inclosed find our contribution. May God bless your program with many souls this year."

Letters like these bring courage to our hearts and urge us on to do our best in presenting over the air God's precious message for these last days.

M. V.'s Featured at Sandpoint

The Seventh-day Adventist churches of Newport, Bonners Ferry and Sandpoint met for an all-day meeting in the Christian church building in Sandpoint, January 17. Elders C. Lester Bond, L. A. Reynolds, and Brethren H. J. Perkins and Henry Miller had charge of the day's meetings. Special emphasis was placed on Missionary Volunteer activities.

The evening was profitably spent at Sandpoint community hall with a good program of singing, Dr. M. V., and pictures. Brother Perkins showed color pictures of his recent and very interesting trip to Japan, showing the progress of our work there. A travel movie of Glacier Park was presented by Elder Bond.

Special musical numbers were given by local members assisted by Carl and John McGee, and Byron Wareham, students at Walla Walla College.

We appreciate very much the help and inspiration that our people received from our visiting brethren.

The district, under Elder L. A. Reynolds' direction, is doing its utmost to finish the work here.

News Notes

Elder H. A. Schultz, the district superintendent for the Pasco district, reports that he baptized three more precious souls in the Pasco church on Sabbath, December 20. He further stated that they are continuing with meetings at Connell on Monday nights. He is also holding Sunday night meetings in Wallula and is conducting a weekly broadcast from the Pasco radio station.

Elder E. H. Wilcox and Brother Kenneth Fleck, and their wives, are conducting an evangelistic series of meetings in Cashmere. A goodly interest is being manifested by the people of the community. They are also broadcasting over the Wenatchee radio station a program entitled "The World Today." The broadcast is held each Wednesday from 4 to 4:15 p.m.

Brethren Eldon Baker and Edward Ammundsen, and their wives, are busy with the work in the Omak district. They are following up interests which have been created as a result of evangelistic meetings which have been held recently. In addition to this work they are broadcasting each Sunday morning over the new radio station in Omak. They are also helping to raise funds to complete the new building which is being built in Omak for their school, Dorcas society, and recreational center.

Elder L. A. Reynolds has been assisting the brethren in Newport in building an addition to their church building. They are installing a baptistry and are re-conditioning the church. This will be a real blessing to that district. Elder Reynolds is planning for further evangelistic meetings in his district.

Elder Hesselstine and Brother Melvin Derby, and their wives, are following up the interests which were created during the recent Coeur d'Alene evangelistic meetings. They are also laying plans for meetings to be held in other places throughout the Coeur d'Alene district.

Elder Robbins, the pastor of the Spokane church, together with Brother Lloyd Stephens, and their wives, have started a meeting in the Spokane Seventh-day Adventist church. They also have a broadcast two times weekly over one of the local radio stations.

Brother W. L. Goffar and his wife are following up interests in Ritzville. They expect to have several more ready for baptism in the near future. They are also endeavoring to raise the balance of the money which is necessary to complete the payments on the church which is being purchased in Ritzville.

Brother Aaron Wagner and his wife have recently finished a series of meetings which were held in Soap Lake. They expect to establish a new Sabbath school there very soon. They are planning for more meetings in the Moses Lake-Euphrata-Soap Lake territory. Brother Wagner is broadcasting over the new radio station in Moses Lake.

Elder and Mrs. Shaw, of Ellensburg, are holding some meetings in connection with their personal work. Elder Shaw is broadcasting the message over his local station.

Elder A. R. Holt, Elder A. E. Butler, and Brethren Frank Munsey, Dalles Dull, and Dean Dudley, with their wives, are supervising the evangelistic meetings which are being held by the youth in Yakima Valley which are being conducted in the tabernacle in Yakima. Guest speakers are presenting subjects on Sunday nights, and the young workers and youth are conducting meetings on Friday night each week.

Elder B. Petersen and wife, together with the young people of the Grandview district, are holding meetings in Grandview. They report a real live interest in the meetings which are being conducted.

Elder L. E. Houser and Brother Ivar Loe, and wives, are beginning a series of meetings in the Irrigon church. This new church has just been organized and dedicated, and many people in the vicinity are interested in attending such a series of meetings as will be held beginning at once.

The young people of Pendleton have made arrangements to conduct a series of meetings in a hall which they are renting in the city of Pendleton. These meetings are starting February 1 and will continue indefinitely, according to word received from Elder Houser, superintendent of the Pendleton district.

Elder W. B. Riffel and wife are looking after the growing needs of the churches in Walla Walla and Milton. A large number of young people have been organized and they are conducting Bible studies and holding cottage meetings.

Brother E. L. Jolliffe, the chaplain of the Walla Walla General Hospital, reports a number of interested people as a result of the work which is being carried on in connection with our medical institution. Some have already been baptized, and others are preparing for baptism.

Elder I. M. Burke, Mrs. G. E. Greene, and the associate pastors of the College Place and Walla Walla College churches, are very busy with the work in that large center. Many precious souls have been baptized during recent weeks, and still others are preparing for baptism. Plans are being studied for a large program of evangelism in that vicinity during the next few months. Radio broadcasts are being made over the Walla Walla radio stations.

The lay workers in the Hermiston church are conducting a series of meetings in the Hermiston church at present. They report a number of interested people attending the meetings.

Elder Melvin Oss, the district superintendent of the Lewiston district, is making arrangements for an evangelistic series of meetings to be held in connection with the work in Lewiston. Brother Donald Spaulding and his wife are preparing for a series of meetings to be held soon in Grangeville.

Brethren Robert Dunton and Ray Turner, and their wives, have been holding meetings in the Moscow-Colfax district. They have plans made for further meetings, and it is expected that a number of precious souls will be baptized as a result of this work. They are also conducting a radio broadcast from the Moscow station.

Elder E. J. Bergman and wife are busy with the work in the Chewelah-Colville district. They are not only looking after the interests of the churches, but are following up a number of interested people who are studying the message.

Elder W. A. Gosmer is assisting the brethren in the completion of the Waitsburg church building. They are hoping to have the building finished at an early date so that an evangelistic series of meetings may be conducted in this new church building.

Brother Henry I. Miller and wife are assisting with meetings in Elder Reynolds' district. They have been working in Edgemere.

Elder C. L. Vories, our conference evangelist, is spending some time at present investigating the possibilities for his next series of meetings. A number of requests have been placed with the conference officers, asking for Elder Vories' services. We hope to be able to announce plans for his meetings in the near future.

Elder F. M. Oliver is assisting with the work in the Lewiston district and is continuing with his radio broadcast from the radio station located in Lewiston.

News Notes

The Sunday night meetings conducted by Elder M. L. Miles in the Seventh-day Adventist church, Anchorage are going forward successfully. The attendance is not large but regular and a number are showing a very keen interest. We ask you to pray that the Lord will bless these meetings so that a number will be converted and take their stand.

Elder E. E. Jensen was a visitor to Anchorage, Palmer and Seldovia during the first of the new year. While at Anchorage and Palmer he audited the church books. The main purpose of the visit was to consider important items of business pertaining to the future work of the hospital at Seldovia.

Word from Elder Fred Wagner of Nome states that his meetings are going forward but under heavy opposition. There is a great deal of prejudice toward any other church coming into Nome than those already established there. We solicit your prayers in his behalf. He has recently been joined by Gracie Kulukhon from Grambell who will assist in the Bible study work among the Eskimos.

Last Call For M. V. Officers' Convention

The conference-wide M. V. officers' convention is to be held at Gem State Academy beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening, January 30, through Sunday noon, February 1. To this convention every M. V. leader, assistant, sponsor, secretary and church school teacher is very urgently invited. The presidents of the Associated M. V. societies as well as their assistants and secretaries are likewise urged to attend this conference-wide session.

This is going to be a very important meeting for the youth leaders of this conference and will have its influence in churches of this field and touching the heart of every youth. Therefore, every church is sincerely urged to send their official delegation to this convention. Churches which do not have young people organizations are invited to appoint a special delegate to serve as M. V. sponsor of the work in their church and should by all means attend this officers' convention.

Every delegate is urged to bring his own linens, towels, etc., but the bed covers and pillows will be furnished for their sleeping accommodation. Come prepared to receive unusual things and much inspiration!

Elder E. W. Dunbar, our world M. V. leader, is going to be with us, together with Elders Chambers and Porter from the union and also President Kott and many others. We will be looking for you when the opening date arrives!

M. J. PEREPELITZA.

Dedication of Homedale Church

We are happy to be able to announce that the day the members of our Homedale church have looked forward to will arrive Sabbath, February 7, when their newly constructed church building will be dedicated. All day services have been arranged. Elder C. C. Kott, our conference president, will be the speaker at the morning service.

The dedicatory service will be at 2:30 in the afternoon. Elder L. E. Biggs, our union conference secretary-treasurer, will deliver the address. The building is constructed of concrete blocks and represents an investment of $10,000 and will be dedicated entirely free of debt.

Following the dedication a series of meetings will be held in the church by the writer and Kenneth Juhl who is assisting in the work of the district.

A. E. HEMPEL.

Child Evangelism and the Sabbath School

"We have an army of youth today who can do much if they are properly directed and encouraged. We want our children to believe the truth. We want them to be blessed of God. We want them to act a part in well organized plans for helping other youth. Let all be trained that they may rightly represent the truth."—Gen. Conf. Bulletin, Vol. 5, p. 24.

"Take this son, this daughter," God says, "and train it for me. Give it a character polished after the similitude of a palace that it may shine in the courts of the Lord forever."—Testimonies, Vol. 9, p. 37.

"The longer the youth remain in impenitence, the more confirmed they become in their resistance of the Spirit of God. With increase of years it is probable that there will be a decrease of sensibility to divine things, a diminished susceptibility to the influence of religion. Every day Satan works to fasten them in their habits of disobedience, their spirit of impenitence, and there is less probability that they will become Christians."—Counsels on Sabbath School Work, p. 80.

To each one of us, these statements should mean a challenge. They emphasize the necessity of getting early decisions for Christ from the lives of the children of our churches. We are to do much more than just sow the seed. We are to begin a harvest even among those of tender years. "Very young children" are to be won for Jesus. Often there is reluctance in appealing to the children of the kindergarten and primary age to give their hearts to Christ. Kindergarten and primary teachers are inclined to postpone this work and pass it on to the junior division, and the junior division leaders often pass the burden on to the youths' division. But while we procrastinate, "Satan works to fasten them in their evil habits." And the longer we wait the harder it will be to win our children and youth to Christ.

With this great challenge before us, Elder Perepelitza and the writer have mapped out the next two and a half months into a great conference-wide Child Evangelism Crusade. Every district and church is going to have the privilege of participating in these three-day institutes. These institutes will begin on Thursday night and continue on through all day Friday, Sabbath and Sunday. Three hundred lessons have already been received here in the office to be used in connection with these institutes. We want every church officer, Sabbath school officer, division leaders and teachers, M. V. officers, church school teachers, all parents, in fact, every individual who is interested in the salvation of our youth to be present.

If you are anticipating being present, please contact your district pastor so that he can make arrangements for the housing. We are making arrangements to serve meals at each institute so that we can stay together all day. Those who are definite delegates from the different churches will have their meals paid for by the conference. Those who are not specific delegates will be expected to take care of their own expenses connected with the meals.

We want you to know that we are interested in the salvation of every boy and girl in the Idaho Conference, and we feel that these institutes will play a great part in training our church officers, Sabbath school officers and teachers, all individuals working in the divisions, M. V. officers, parents and church school teachers. We are preparing definite material to place in the hands of every individual present. Let us begin praying for the greatest movement in the history of the Idaho Conference. Let us attempt great things for God and go forward in faith.

We have set the following dates tentatively for these institutes:

Feb. 5 to 8, at La Grande, La Grande and Baker districts.

Feb. 13 to 16, at Salmon, Salmon district.

Feb. 19 to 22, at Caldwell, Nampa, Caldwell, Boise, and Mountain Home districts.

March 4 to 7, at Twin Falls, Twin Falls, Jerome, Hazelton-Rupert districts.

March 11 to 14, at Pocatello, Pocatello district.

April 9 to 10, at John Day, John Day district.

May 21 to 22, at Payette, Payette, Weiser districts.

Check the date for your locality and keep it open so that all can plan to attend and gain a knowledge that will help us to save every boy and girl here in our conference. PRAY, WORK, PLAN.

WALLA WALLA COLLEGE

Temperance Groups at Work

The churches at College Place and Walla Walla have been making their influence felt through the prominent participation of many of their members in the temperance work. Dr. John R. Potts, the college physician, is president of the Walla Walla County Temperance Association and has contributed much to strengthen and invigorate the work of the State Association as well as to make Walla Walla County "temperance conscious." Dr. Potts has been invited to speak to a large number of public schools and high schools throughout this vicinity.

The College Place group was strongly represented last week at a temperance dinner given in Walla Walla by the W.C.T.U. In addition to Dr. Potts, others taking part on the program were Floyd Bresee, president of the Walla Walla College Chapter of the American Temperance Society; Gordon Dalrymple, president of the Walla Walla College Academy Youth Temperance Council; Don Weaver and Dianne Dalrymple from the Campus School; the College String Quartette and the Academy triple trio. Elders I. M. Burke and W. D. Emery also assisted in the program. Elder Burke has been very active in the temperance work in Walla Walla County and is in great demand as a speaker for temperance groups throughout the state.

Miss Regina Moede, National General Secretary of youth work for the W.C.T.U., was guest speaker at the college chapel program last Friday. Miss Moede is a young woman of great spiritual power in the temperance work. She is a former Washington girl whose offices are now in Evanston, Ill.

Cantata to be Presented

The Walla Walla College Oratorio Chorus of approximately 125 voices under the direction of Professor Clarence W. Dortch, head of the voice department, will present the Coming King cantata Friday evening, January 30, at 7:45 in Columbia Auditorium.

The soloists are: Kathleen Nelson, soprano; Lorraine Johnson, mezzo soprano; Mrs. Fern Hanks, contralto; Warren Stewart, tenor; Gerald Ferguson, tenor and Lloyd Leno, baritone.

The Coming King cantata was written by Burrell Van Buren, a Seventh-day Adventist composer from St. John, Kentucky, and had its premier performance under the direction of Professor Dortch at Southern Missionary College last winter.

This is the first presentation of this timely cantata in the Northwest. All patrons and friends of Walla Walla College are cordially invited to hear this stirring message in song.

Radio Broadcast is Resumed

Back on the air after an absence of several months, The Desire of Ages radio program began its weekly broadcast Sunday, January 25, at 10 a.m. over Station KWWB.

The Desire of Ages program is presented by the Theology Club of Walla Walla College, and advocates a back-to-the-Bible movement in every day living. The program centers its theme on the life of Christ on earth, and points to the Man of Calvary as a solution to the world's ills.

Staff personnel include the following: announcer, Don Parks; narrator, Harold Hall; the quartet, Quentin Qually, Jim Indergard, Bob Detweiler, and a fourth member to be supplied, with Richard Brown at the organ. Lee R. Hall was named publicity agent for the group.

Campus News

The March of Dimes campaign reached its climax at Walla Walla College in chapel Friday when an offering was taken to aid in the fight against infantile paralysis. Half of the funds contributed will be used by this local chapter and the remainder will be turned over to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The film, "Have you seen his shadow," a picture story of the fight against infantile paralysis, was shown to the students in chapel last Wednesday. It served as a stimulus for giving to this worthy cause.

Elder Alten Bringle, music director of the Builders of Faith radio program in Portland, was on the college cam-
