Radio Lessons Reach All Classes

Near the end we have been told that we are to go forth to proclaim the Sabbath more fully. There is evidence, in connection with our Voice of Prophecy broadcast and our radio correspondence lessons, that the Sabbath truth, as well as other features of the message, is being carried to honest hearted people. Regularly we receive reports from the Voice of Prophecy indicating interests which have been developed. We are sharing a few of these dealing with the Sabbath at this time believing that you will find them interesting and inspiring.

Age 42, Church affiliation, None. "The Sabbath is a lot clearer since studying these lessons. It was a problem at first."

Age 68, Lutheran. "I believe that Saturday is the Sabbath; and with the help of Jesus, I will keep all the commandments. My son and daughter are reading your lessons, and they are very interested in your teachings."

Age 68, Methodist. "After 68 years of Sunday observance, it will be quite a change to rest on Saturday. At first I will probably rest both days."

A Baptist lady 25 years of age writes: "This Sabbath lesson has done more for me than any other lesson. I see for myself that the seventh day is the true Sabbath."

An individual 40 years of age with no church affiliation states, "I have debated a while on this Sabbath question, but at last I am convinced that the seventh day is the Sabbath. I don't know how it will work out, but I will try to keep the true Sabbath."

Another lady expressed herself as follows: "I am the only Sabbathkeeper in our family. I cannot attend church on the Sabbath as it is too far away. I was baptized in 1909 by a Free Methodist minister, and I joined the Christian church as it was closest to my home."

Surely the support which we are giving to our radio and Bible schools does bring tangible results. Hundreds are now being baptized throughout North America every year as a result of this method of soul-winning.

The Story From A Miniature Battlefield

On a Sabbath afternoon a few days ago a very earnest member of a certain well-known sect called at our home for a Bible study.

A little conversation revealed the extreme views of these people as concerns their relationship to the State. I pointed out that while we as Christians do not feel free to take life in battle, we believe we are following the spirit of our Saviour's instruction when we dedicate ourselves to the alleviation of suffering caused by war, whether on the battlefield at risk, and often at cost, of our lives, or in helping the more indirect casualties of war behind the lines. Being told by this zealous lady that in taking such a stand we were giving comfort and support to the evil one and his hosts, I reminded her that the sweetest story of practical Christian love in the whole Bible came to us from the miniature battlefield on the rough road to Jericho and was told by Christ himself.

Significantly this story was told in Christ's answer to the question put by a shrewd lawyer, "Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" So powerful has become the impact of this simple story that the very name "Good Samaritan" is understood in every major language around the world to describe one who not only has a kindly thought for the wounded, the sick, and the unfortunate, but who is willing and prepared to do something about it. Christ told this story to bring home to a scheming lawyer the true spirit of the kingdom of heaven. To be sure, we do not get our names inscribed in the book of life by contributing to the clothing drive, or giving our blood through the Red Cross. But Jesus has made it abundantly clear that those permitted to be among the favored on His right hand and to inherit the kingdom will have been active in providing meat for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, hospitality for the stranger, clothing to the naked, and medical care for the sick and wounded.

Seventh-day Adventists have a name for being very active in these commendable lines. This reputation for devotion to relief of suffering is more deserved in some places than others. Some people, some churches—generally speaking the smaller churches—are more earnest than others in their generosity with their clothing, food, and their blood.

Would it not be appropriate on this forthcoming Medical Missionary Day, May 2, for all of us to take stock not of our good intentions, but of our actual contribution of clothing, food, means, time, and of one of our ten pints of blood? Have you given yours, has your church given its appropriate measure of aid to the less fortunate?

Gen. Conf. Medical Dept.

Pan-American Youth Congress

At the Pan-American Youth Congress you will have the privilege of meeting young people who have heroically witnessed for their Master. It will be the greatest youth gathering sponsored by our denomination and will have the added feature of fellowship with young people from three great divisions.

While attending a Youth Congress some time ago I was impressed with the three objectives in the motto of the Congress:

Spiritual Fitness
United Service
Social Fellowship

At this coming Pan-American Youth Congress you will not only receive inspiration but your spiritual batteries will be recharged. A new meaning will be given to the hymn, "Take the World But Give Me Jesus."

Some of the most interesting features at the Congress will be the demonstrations answering, "How can I win my chum?" "How can I share my faith?" "How can I bring this message to other young people?" Remember, "Not more surely is the place prepared for us in the heavenly man-

Tithe Not to be Used to Pay Debts

"The man who has been unfortunate, and finds himself in debt, should not take the Lord's portion to cancel his debts to his fellow-men. He should consider that in these transactions he is being tested, and that in reserving the Lord's portion for his own use he is robbing the Giver. He is debtor to God for all that He has, but he becomes a double debtor when he uses the Lord's reserved fund in paying debts to human beings. 'Unfaithfulness to God' is written against his name in the books of heaven. He has an account to settle with God for appropriating the Lord's means for his own convenience. And the want of principle shown in his misappropriation of God's means will be revealed in his management of other matters. It will be seen in all matters connected with his own business. The man who will rob God is cultivating traits of character that will cut him off from admittance into the family of God above." 6T 391.

The Pan-American Youth Congress is being called because: "A great work is to be accomplished; broader plans must be laid; a voice must go forth to arouse the nations . . . We need the courage of heroes and the faith of martyrs."—Testimonies, Vol. 5, p. 187.

Do you respond to the challenge to be a hero for Christ? Plan to attend the greatest MV Congress ever held. Resolve to participate in fulfilling the MV aim: "The Advent Message to All the World in This Generation."

Evangelize — Build

Evangelism

On Sunday, March 22, in the beautiful new Eugene church, the church elders and workers of the Oregon Conference met together to take stock of the present, and plan for the future. We were especially favored by having with us Elder Don H. Spillman, Union evangelist, now conducting a campaign in Salem. Elder Spillman gave an exceedingly inspirational talk at the opening of the day's activities, and he and his associates rendered beautiful music. Elder Alton O. Sage, Conference evangelist, now located at Medford, and Elder Harold Metcalf, Conference evangelist, now located in Vancouver, Washington, gave inspiring reports of their meetings. Many other evangelistic meetings are in progress in various places. The outlook for success in evangelism in the Oregon Conference in 1953 is most encouraging. Every worker is an evangelist in his own right, and the Lord is blessing in every effort. Indeed, several of the workers were unable to attend the meeting because of the campaigns which they are conducting at the present time.

The Oregon Conference stands high among the conferences of North America in evangelistic achievement, but far too little is being accomplished. Let us work and pray to the end that our efforts may result in great numbers of people brought into the saving Message.

Building

On April 6, 1952, the elders and workers met at the Laurelwood Academy to consider the building program. At that time it was decided that every effort would be made to raise funds to finish up the projects under construction and to accumulate money to continue the building operations at the new site at Milo, and to erect the much needed new dormitory at Laurelwood Academy.

It was a great pleasure to be able to report at this Eugene meeting that the money has been provided to pay for every project in hand, that it is possible to start the new dormitory at Laurelwood this spring, and that every dollar of the Academy Building Fund has been held intact for the major buildings at Milo. Our people have turned in nearly a hundred fifty thousand dollars for the Academy Building Fund. This money has been matched, dollar for dollar, by the Conference. The Union Conference has given liberal donations, and all together there is nearly $325,000 in this fund, and it is growing. We hope it may reach half a million dollars within the next few months.

Timetable

Brother Homan, the conference builder, will go to Laurelwood in April to begin construction of the new dormitory. This he hopes to accomplish by the opening of school this fall. Then he will return to the Milo site and begin construction of four buildings—power plant and laundry, kitchen and dining room, and two dormitories. This will permit the opening of school on a minimum basis. It is hoped, but it cannot be a promise, that the Lord will bless the work and the money coming in, so that it may be possible to open school at the new site in the fall of 1954.

Milo Management

We are happy to announce that we have secured the services of Brother G. L. Beane of Gem State Academy to head up the work at Milo. Brother Beane is an accountant and able business man and his services will be very valuable during this construction period. During the summer months, Brother Beane will superintend the installation of the water and sewer systems. A large reservoir must be installed, and steel pipe laid for the water system. Septic tanks and sewer pipe must be provided. These operations will run into a very large sum of money. If this work can be accomplished while Brother Homan is at Laurelwood the way will be clear for rapid progress upon his return to Milo in the fall of the year.

We Ask You

At the Eugene meeting we asked for the full and complete cooperation of officers, workers and members to the end that there may be a large tithe, and continued liberal contributions to the Academy Building Fund. By the united effort of every member, the Lord will bless in making possible great progress in the Oregon Conference both in soul winning and in necessary building. Thus, we can call upon our people to help us still in the great objectives as set forth in our two-word slogan: evangelize—build. Successful evangelism forces us to build. To build without evangelism is in vain. Thus, again we sound the call, evangelize—build.

LLOYD E. BIGGS.

Gresham and Oregon City Districts

"—And sent them two and two before His face into every city and place whither He himself would come."

During the past year the writers have affirmed the wisdom of the Master's plan in sending His workers into the field two by two laboring for a harvest of souls. The Sandy district and the Oregon City districts are located adjacent to each other, and early in 1952 the pastors of the two districts laid plans to unite their efforts in evangelism. Our first series of evangelistic meetings was conducted in the busy logging town of Estacada in the Sandy district. The meetings were held in the S. D. A. church, one of the most attractive churches in Estacada. During this series Brother Bishop brought the messages from God's word, and Brother Schwartz led the music. The church members gave very loyal support to the meetings, and the Lord greatly blessed their labors.

In planning our fall evangelistic campaign, the city of Woodburn in the Oregon City district was chosen as our field of labor. Having no church in Woodburn, we erected a metal tabernacle as our place of meeting. In this series Brother Schwartz presented the message, and Brother Bishop had charge of the music. We carried on the work there with the prayer that the Lord would open the way for His work to prosper in the strongly Catholic community. The members of our church at Monitor also gave loyal support to the meetings, and the Lord added His blessing.

Our third series of meetings was carefully planned to bring the third angel's message to the rapidly growing city of Gresham in the Sandy district. Brother Bishop again preached the message and Brother Schwartz had charge of the music. Throughout the entire series the meetings were well attended, the average attendance being over two hundred.

The new Gresham church was used as The Bible Auditorium, and provided a perfect setting for the presentation of the message. In this campaign the work was greatly stimulated by the aid and influence of Dr. William Gardner. Twenty-five were baptized as the result of this series, most of whom were patients of Dr. Gardner. In addition to those already baptized, twelve more candidates are attending church regularly, and are preparing for baptism.

Our hearts are cheered as we look back over the past year and count the results of the work of many hands in these two districts. Seventy precious souls have followed their Lord in baptism, and three have been admitted into the church by profession of faith. In addition to these, we have in our combined baptismal classes twenty-five more who are preparing to unite with the remnant church. We thank God for the loyal members of the Sandy and Oregon districts who have made this measure of success possible, and we solicit the prayers of God's people everywhere that His blessing may continue to rest upon this corner of the harvest field.

RICHARD C. SCHWARTZ,
Oregon City District.
CLARE E. BISHOP,
Sandy District.

Farewell to Oregon

Greetings from Miami, Florida, the land of eternal summertime. On February 28 a call was forwarded to us to join the working force of the Florida Conference. After reaching the field the committee invited us to work in Miami, Florida's largest city with a population of over 600,000 souls. This offers a real challenge to any soulwinner. There are three churches in the city and we are ministering to the North Miami congregation. We are getting nicely settled in the parsonage and are enjoying becoming acquainted with the people and also the tropical fruits that are entirely new to us.

It is with a certain sadness in our hearts that we bid the great Northwest farewell. For nine years we have had the pleasure of laboring in the wonderful Oregon Conference and we take with us many precious memories of the days we have spent there. We covet your prayers and pray that all whom we have had the privilege of ministering to while we served in Oregon will remain faithful until Jesus comes and then we shall meet never to part again.

ELDER AND MRS. W. W. RING,
ROXIE, JUDY AND JACKIE.

An Early Victory

Word arrived at our office some time ago that the Eugene Missionary Volunteers are over their Ingathering goal for 1953. Over $850 has been raised by the young people. We wish to congratulate Eugene for their early victory. To our knowledge this is the first society over the goal.

We trust that as the Ingathering campaign gets into full swing Missionary Volunteers will find their place in raising the goal in every one of our societies and churches. This is one place, young people, where we can give "the Advent message to all the world in this generation."

Let us hear from your society as soon as you are over the top.

A. J. REISIG.

Civil Defense

A recent Federal Civil Defense Bulletin states that, "Russia has four hundred planes which could strike the sixty-seven critical target areas in the United States." These bombers, the report says, "would carry conventional as well as atomic bombs two and one-half times as powerful as the one dropped on Hiroshima. In a daytime attack one such an A-bomb would kill or injure 110,000 persons."

One-half of those injured could probably be rescued and eventually be restored if prompt first aid assistance could be rendered.

The bulletin also gives the following warning, "Make no mistake about it, America's civil defense is not developing fast enough to meet the threat that now faces us."

Columbia Academy to Celebrate

Columbia Academy will celebrate its Fiftieth Anniversary on the week end of April 10 to 12, with all events conducted by the Alumni. Plan now to attend, and if you will need a place to stay, write to the Alumni association immediately.

The Spirit of prophecy contains the following counsel regarding preparedness on the part of the Remnant Church.

"There will be suffering ones, plenty of them who will need help, not only among those of our own faith, but largely among those who know not the truth."

"In every city where we have a church, there should be a corps of organized, well disciplined workers, not merely one or two but scores should be set to work."

The present threatening disaster calls for special safety and rescue measures. All of our churches should arrange for first aid, home nursing, and disaster relief instruction. The seriousness of the situation reveals our need for many more instructors. Your Red Cross Chapter will help you arrange classes if there is no local instructor in your church.

Do not delay, the life to be saved may be in your family, or your church, or your neighbor.

Be prepared.

H. C. MENKEL, M. D.

THE CHARACTER CLASSICS—

What Are They?

Recently a poll was taken in the Salem church on this question, and we found that literally not one person in twenty-five knew the answer—and yet this is the second item on the Missionary Volunteer report blank which is used every week in our churches.

We at Salem decided to do something about it. The plan was investigated. The writer with her husband started the reading plan, the husband using the first-year plan, while the wife used the second-year plan. We both have full time employment and it was our purpose to prove that this plan is made for busy people. We began reading during the third week in February, and at this writing we have read every assignment through January, February and March. Now we are joyfully reading far ahead of the daily assignments.

Now, mind you, this does not replace family worship, nor yet the study of the Sabbath school lesson: this wonderful reading plan employs those odd moments so often wasted, and for which we will be required to give an account as our Lord has told us.

In four years, by reading not over 15 minutes daily, you read the entire Bible, plus the Conflict Series. The plan, briefly, is as follows:

First Year: The four Gospels, plus The Desire of Ages.

Second Year: Acts to Revelation, plus Acts of the Apostles and The Great Controversy.

Third Year: First half of the Old Testament, plus Patriarchs and Prophets.

Fourth Year: Last half of the Old Testament, plus Prophets and Kings.

If your church home missionary secretary or MV leader does not have a supply of the leaflets outlining your daily assignments to be checked off, do write to your conference MV secretary. He will be glad to supply you.

We learned recently in our Sabbath school lessons that the Spirit of prophecy is a lens to magnify the Holy Scriptures. So then let us take up the lens and polish it lovingly from the gathered dust of disuse and prayerfully and lovingly begin this wonderful reading plan. I promise you that the things you read and underline in your books and the Bible will return to your heart and mind as a golden thread again and again during your busy day, connecting your mind with the mind of God. You will be thrilled with the results of your own private thinking. It will color your conversation, it will direct your attitudes, it will influence all that you are. You will find yourself living as you have always hoped to do. Can we afford to put it off for even one more day?

Branch Sabbath School

We are always happy to receive reports from the Sabbath schools in the Washington Conference that tell us of new branch Sabbath schools being started. In a recent letter from Sister Lela Landing in Tacoma we find this very interesting report and instead of calling it a branch Sabbath school or Sunday school, they are calling it "The Story Hour."

"With prayer in our hearts we started our first 'Story Hour' at Salishan on March 1 at 3:30 P.M. We had can-

One lady in Salem took the first-year plan leaflet on the Sabbath, and on the following Sunday evening she sent us the glad word that she had read all of the January and February assignments in less than two days. That is the Spirit-filled character of this heaven-sent plan. It grips the heart and mind, and you can hardly bring yourself to lay aside the wonderfully interesting volumes. What a joy and accomplishment it becomes to check off the assignments.

For that high level of Christian living of which you have dreamed, and for which you have longed, here is one answer. May you feel His dear presence with you as you read and learn of Him whom to know is to love.

We of the Salem MV Society have taken this as one of our major projects. We now have approximately 150 plan leaflets in use at this writing. We would appreciate communications from those who try this plan and find blessing in it as we are doing. Please be sure to report this great activity on your Missionary Volunteer report.

vassed the district the Sabbath before with personal invitations to come to 'The Story Hour.' I prepared for fifty children, not knowing if more or less would come.

"At 3:35 P.M. our joys were realized when ninety-four children were seated. We opened our 'Story Hour' with our theme song 'Jeus Loves Me.' The children entered into the singing with enthusiasm and this enthusiasm ran through the entire program.

"We have had an average of eighty children each week now for three weeks. We have children from three years to twelve or fourteen years old. They all seem to enjoy 'The Story Hour.'

"Last week I asked some of the children what they thought about 'The

The "Story Hour" Group at Salishan, Tacoma.

Story Hour' and here is what they had to say: 'I like the songs that we sing,' says Pamela Lamb. Betty Porter brought three visitors to show how much she likes 'The Story Hour.'

"When I asked Brenda Anderson what she liked most, this is what she said, 'I have gone to Sunday school for a long time, but the songs and stories you tell here at 'The Story Hour' I can understand whereas the ones I heard in Sunday school I didn't understand very well.' She is eight years old and I believe that was a real reward for all the work of 'The Story Hour' in just that one comment from a little girl. Even three-year-old Lois Harlen wanted to tell me she liked all 'The Story Hour.'

"I have five sets of twins in each week and one set of little colored girls have been there every week and they wanted to tell me they just loved everything. One of the girls brought thirteen children last week who had never been to 'The Story Hour' before. That is the way she showed her appreciation."

Congratulations, Tacoma Sabbath school, for this wonderful missionary endeavor.

The goal is to have one branch Sabbath school for each Sabbath school in the Washington Conference.

Report of the Aberdeen-Hoquiam-Raymond District

"The means in our possession may not seem to be sufficient for the work; but if we will move forward in faith, believing in the all-sufficient power of God, abundant resources will open before us.

"If we go to the Source of all strength, with our hands of faith outstretched to receive, we shall be sustained in our work, even under the most forbidding circumstances."—Desire of Ages, p. 371.

Last fall the members of the Aberdeen-Hoquiam church went before the Lord with hands outstretched for wisdom to plan according to His Divine wishes for the progress of His work in our cities. One look around us told us several things; namely, that we needed a new church, a church school, and a seemingly unattainable amount of money to do something about it.

Sister Atwood's kindergarten under her excellent leadership had filled all available space, and Sisters Scott and Fulton, starting a junior department with two juniors only a few weeks before, were now prying 17 into space more adequate for the original two.

There was no doubt as to the need of a new church; but the burden of our hearts lay very close to these children who were creating our space problem. There had been no church school on Grays Harbor for a number of years, and after careful and prayerful consideration, it was decided that first things must come first.

A coat of paint and a little touching up here and there have had to suffice for the church. While it has not solved our problem of space, it has helped our patience and good nature considerably.

A campaign was launched in November to raise the needed funds for a church school. Our people here have responded wonderfully to this call. To date two thousand dollars has been raised.

Committees were selected and a search for property, which is a scarce and expensive item in this area, began. Then came a thrill to all of us as a wealthy Methodist lumberman offered to give us a gift of 2½ acres ideally located exactly half way between Hoquiam and Aberdeen. Negotiations are now under way to secure this property.

We are praying that as this generous Christian gentleman puts some of his means into our work that he will put his heart there also. He reads and enjoys the Signs of the Times, and is a faithful tithe payer.

We have faith to believe that God will continue to open the way before us so that we can have a school for our boys and girls this fall.

This district has two churches: Aberdeen-Hoquiam and Raymond. The members of these churches, believing that the work will never be finished until the laymen unite their efforts with the ministers and church officers, have caught the spirit of evangelism.

An evangelistic effort is being conducted in Raymond solely by the members of the church. Leading out are John Little and Harold Broder. The meetings are run with precision and the message is being given in an appealing way every Sunday night. An interest has been aroused and God is blessing this consecrated group with fruitage for His kingdom.

In Aberdeen, Dr. R. D. Fulton and Brother Emmerson Scott are conducting a cottage meeting in the Fulton home every Monday evening with excellent results. One whole family is interested. One lady, who has been attending regularly, declared her intention just last week to join the remnant church.

On Sunday night, March 15, a series of meetings was begun in Westport by the pastor and Brother Charles Wilson. Despite a very stormy night, 31 people were present. While the attendance is not large, we hope, nevertheless, to find a number of honest-hearted souls in this little fishing settlement who will respond to the preaching of the third angel's message.

Seventh-day Adventists are well respected here. Elder Alexander Snyman, who left this district in August to accept a call to the Colorado Conference, was well known and respected by nearly all the business men of the county. Dr. Fulton is doing much to break down prejudice in this strong Catholic area. The Dorcas Society, under the direction of Sister Abbie Scott, has become known for its welfare work.

Recently, when disaster struck in the Harbor area, a group of civic minded men decided that a community disaster committee should be set up. They asked me to sit on the plans committee as a representative of the churches of Aberdeen. We are not sure what effect this will have on the churches, but we are glad that the name of Seventh-day

Auburn Academy Day

Monday, April 27, has been chosen as Academy Day at Auburn. We invite every young person of academy age in the Washington Conference to be the guest of Auburn Academy for the day. An interesting day of program and activity is being planned for you.

Contact your district pastor for further details.

Thank You

We take this method of thanking the large number who so generously have contributed to our plea for literature. May God reward you amply for your efforts. All of this has been and is being put where it will do the greatest amount of good, and we know this is what you want.

Please keep the material coming, but confine mailings to 1952 and 1953 issues of all periodicals that carry the message; and we will return postage on all Signs, Little Friend, and Youth's Instructor of 1953 vintage. Keep these separate, and use commemorative stamps in mailing when you can get them. These go to the Voice of Prophecy to help carry the message. Foreign stamps also and old U. S. stamps and those above the eight-cent stamp are wanted.

Again we thank you.

Baptisms

Recent baptisms include four persons by Elder Robertson on March 14; 1 by Elder Patterson on March 7 and four on March 28; and nine by Elder Ziegler on March 28. Of special interest is the fact that Elder Ziegler baptized his own son in this group.

Rural Living

Sabbath afternoon, April 11, at 3:00 o'clock in Seattle Central church, guest speaker, Elder Wesley Amundsen, Secretary, Self-Supporting Institutions, General Conference, Washington, D. C. All those interested in self-supporting institutions are urged to attend this meeting. Also those that are interested in rural living are cordially invited.

A great deal of information has been given to us through the servant of the Lord regarding this matter and Elder Amundsen will have a real message for those that attend. As many as possible living in and near the Seattle area should attend this meeting.

Wanted

Three hundred young men and women are wanted for the school year 1953-54. Those who apply should meet the following qualifications:

1. Have a sincere desire to learn to know the Saviour better and follow Him fully.
2. Have an earnest desire to prepare for a place in the Master's work through diligent study and class attendance.
3. Have a sound body physically, and a determination to keep the body temple clean and undefiled.

4. Have a willingness to cooperate by performing any labor assignments as "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

5. Have a willingness to cooperate in the social program as outlined for our schools in the Spirit of prophecy.

6. Have sufficient funds available in cash and labor credit to take care of financial requirements. This requirement will be $85 at the opening of school, plus $65 at the close of each month. This covers board, room, and tuition for four units. Music and school supplies are extra.

Those who may be interested should write the Principal of Auburn Academy at once.

Help Wanted

We have opportunity for a number of boys sixteen years of age, or older, to work at Auburn Academy this summer. Those who are diligent and faithful may earn their entire way through the academy by starting to work June 1. Those who may be interested in such a program should write to the Principal of Auburn Academy immediately.

Washington News

Elder D. A. Neufeld met with the Auburn city church on Sabbath, March 21, in connection with the young people's week of prayer. He reports something very unusual, in that the church was completely filled before Sabbath school began; and how they squeezed 70 more children into the church for the eleven o'clock hour is still a puzzle.

Pastor W. E. Dopp and his building committee are laying definite plans for a new church building, which is greatly needed. Pastor Dopp reports that he has a very active group of lay workers in the district.

In the afternoon Elder Neufeld baptized seven individuals in the Renton church for Brother Dopp. One of the young ladies baptized was a graduate of the Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course.

The week end of March 28, Elder Neufeld visited the San Juan Islands. On Friday night he met with the believers on Shaw Island in the home of Brother and Sister Fowler. A large group came out for the meetings and to see the pictures, "On the Wings of the Wind," and "What Hath God Wrought!" On Sabbath afternoon he met with the believers at Friday Harbor in the interest of the Sabbath school and the Signs of the Times. He reports that the members of the church are of good courage and although they do not have too many people to work with, living on the islands, they are letting their light shine.

Sabbath evening Elder Neufeld met with the believers on Whidby Island, showing the pictures in the Oak Harbor church. The churches in the island district really appreciate the work that Elder Wyman is doing.

Elder Edwards to Visit Conference

When he visits the Upper Columbia Conference, April 13, 14, and 23, Elder J. Ernest Edwards, General Conference Associate Home Missionary Secretary, will bring a recent report on the progress of the work of S. D. A.'s behind the Iron Curtain, and pictures taken during a recent trip through South America including pictures of a formerly demon-possessed individual who is now a Christian. In connection with the services, meetings for church missionary officers will be held. We are fortunate to have Elder Edwards with us, and we urge as many to come as possibly can.

Cooking Class Serves as Evangelistic Effort in Spokane

Monday evening, March 23, saw the closing class in a series of seven on the subject of nutrition and healthful cookery in the Health and Welfare Center in Spokane. Sixteen non-Adventists attended these classes and were favorably impressed with the presentation by Mrs. George Knowles, the instructor for this series. Openings into their homes resulted; and Miss Viola Brooks, Bible instructor, doubled as hostess so that she might thus become acquainted with these members. Seventeen Adventists also attended, and many of them were responsible for bringing their neighbors and friends with them. We are certain that the contacts thus made will result in many souls won for this truth.

Counsels on Diet and Foods, page 472, records the following instruction: "More cooking schools should be established, and some should labor from house to house, giving instruction in the art of cooking wholesome foods. Many, many will be rescued from physical, mental and moral degeneracy through the influence of health reform. These principles will commend themselves to those who are seeking for light; and such will advance from this to receive the full truth for this time." When our health message is presented in the right manner, we can see the truths of these statements unfold before our eyes. The people of the Spokane church have witnessed this in their newly opened Health and Welfare Center. When can the same be said of your church?

Golden Jubilee Year

Fifty years ago Jasper Wayne, a layman of Sac City, Iowa, ingathered $130 for missions. Not a large beginning, but think what the Ingathering plan produced in 1952—nearly five million dollars in the world field.

Seventh-day Adventists in the Upper Columbia Conference are responsible for $65,615.07 of that amount. That figure is about $2,300 more than was raised in 1951. For the increase we are thankful. But—

Nineteen hundred fifty-three is the Jubilee year. And the needs are greater. The opportunities call to us more urgently. The end is closer. This year should be one of real advance!

The official dates for Ingathering in this Conference are April 25 to June 6. However, many pastors and church groups are either planning to begin earlier than these dates, or they have already finished with their Ingathering.

Fellow Christian, under God let us make 1953 a greater year in Ingathering evangelism!

JAMES E. CHASE.

"Signs" Report

The reports on the Signs of the Times crusade for 1953 show a good increase in subscriptions during the last week or ten days. The latest report now compiled indicates that up until March 24, 6,579 subscriptions had been recorded. This is just about 50 per cent of the grand total raised during the campaign in 1952, and is slightly over one-third the amount of our goal for 1953.

There are thousands of people living within the territory of the Upper Columbia Conference who are not acquainted with the third angel's message. To place the Signs of the Times in their homes is a work that practically all the members of the church can engage in, and results will be seen eventually in souls saved for the kingdom of God.

Let us all do our part to give our missionary journal the circulation it really deserves in our field.

Upper Columbia News

Elder and Mrs. C. Lester Bond visited with the Winona believers Friday night and Sabbath, March 27-28. It was the closing meeting of their Missionary Volunteer Week of Prayer. The attendance was good and the response was gratifying. Two of the young people who were not members of the church made request to join the baptismal class to prepare for baptism.

Elder W. C. Loveless met with our believers in Osburn, Sabbath, March 28, and reports a lively interest there. Mrs. G. A. Oldham, Bible instructor, is laboring there during the time that Elder Wayne Moore is assisting Elder E. R. Priebe in evangelistic meetings in Ellensburg.

Elder James E. Chase, Home Missionary leader, held an all-day Dorcas Federation meeting in the Spokane Valley church, Sunday, March 29. He also held Dorcas Federation sessions in Oroville on Monday, Toppenish on Tuesday, Milton-Freewater on Wednesday, and Lewiston on Thursday.

The Walla Walla College orchestra, under the direction of Melvin Johnson, presented a sacred concert, Sabbath afternoon, March 28, in the Spokane church. A secular concert was given by the orchestra that evening in the Emmerson High School in Spokane.

Elder and Mrs. C. L. Bond left Tuesday evening, March 31, for Washington, D. C., to attend the spring meeting of the General Conference Committee. Elder Bond has been called to serve on a large committee which will study the educational problems of our denomination.

Elder Lee Now Army Chaplain

Chaplain (Colonel) Robert J. Hearn, First Army Chaplain, on March 31 delivered the graduation address and presented diplomas to a class of United States Army Chaplains at Fort Slocum, New York, in The Chaplain School Auditorium at commencement exercises.

The students, having successfully completed the Chaplain Orientation Course, will now report for active duty at army posts throughout the country. This course, especially designed to orient the newly commissioned and/or reserve chaplain, includes such subjects as counseling, map reading, speech techniques, character guidance and others.

Among the members of the graduating class was Chaplain (1st Lt.) Earl T. Lee of Payette, Idaho.

Story Hour

Your "Story Hour" "aimed at making the boys and girls of today better men and women of tomorrow" is now released over six Montana stations. As previously announced this children's feature was introduced to Billings listeners over one year ago and has continued to gain favorable comment and enthusiastic support from all who have heard the broadcast. Early this year it was introduced to Miles City, where it has been favorably received. A short time later it was presented to the Bozeman XL station and the suggestion made of the desirability of a Z Bar Net broadcast. We now have the broadcast on three of the six Montana Z Bar stations; namely, KXLQ of Bozeman, KXLK of Great Falls, and KXLL of Missoula. The time of the "Story Hour" broadcast over these stations is every Saturday morning 11:30 to 12:00 noon.

It is true that this program comes at an hour when our Adventist folk are not listening to their radios; but we are interested in getting our neighbors to listen in, and this is a good listening hour for them.

One program director writes, "We are all very enthusiastic about your 'Story Hour' and find that we take a half hour off work just to listen. Although the program is slanted at children, it seems to have a good deal to offer adults too. Many parents have called saying the whole family enjoys the program. One thing more. We received a copy of the 'Good Deeder' and all of us enjoyed it so much. We were wondering if you would send a copy to the other Z Bar Net stations in Great Falls, Missoula, and Helena, Montana."

A program director in eastern Montana, where the program is heard Saturday, 4:30 to 5:00 p.m., says, "You might be interested to know that in the apartment where I live, the kids spend the 4:30 to 5:00 p.m. period in the various apartments with the radio turned on, and in each of the apartments there is not a sound except the radio. You are doing a fine job of telling the stories, and if the youngsters in our neighborhood are any indication, the stories will accomplish their purpose."

Other favorable comments could be quoted but space will not permit. For those not familiar with this program we might add that the broadcast is produced by consecrated Adventist laymen with a hope that child evangelism will be made easier by this means. I have had the privilege of seeing many of the responses, and they are very encouraging.

We are faced with two problems. We would like a more favorable broadcast time over the XL stations and that can be aided by careful work. If those who listen to the broadcast would take the trouble to write in and thank the management of the station for carrying the broadcast and carefully suggest that if opportunity arises where other time is available, more of your friends could hear the broadcast if it were heard before say 9:30 Saturday morning or afternoon on Saturdays. When writing be sure to thank the management for their kindness in carrying the program. In this connection it is well to remember that all promotion and advertising of the broadcast is handled from the Montana Conference office.

Our second problem is finance. So far this program has been carried as a public service by the six stations, which means that we only pay production costs and the station donates the time, which is a sizable contribution. However, we have not previously asked for money to pay for the production costs of the broadcast, namely because Billings and Hardin has paid for the Saturday morning KOOK release at 8:00 a.m. and Miles City and the eastern area voted to support the Miles City broadcast. However, this is the first publicity that has been given to the Z Bar Net broadcast, and we need volunteers to help pay the small production cost for this release. The cost is $5 per week for the state network, payable to the conference office. If we have no volunteers, the broadcast will be sold to a sponsor, and a prospect is already negotiating for the broadcast. It is felt that the broadcast without a sponsor is better in that there is no commercial advertising in the broadcast. The future of the children's broadcast depends on your action. What better investment can you make than your children and your neighbor's children? The children are going to find something, and it is up to us to supply something good. This broadcast is the best, and the cost is only a fraction of regular broadcast time so let us not let this opportunity pass by. May we hear from you? Thanks!

E. G. FRESH.

Mt. Ellis Academy News

The student faculty day, with students taking the places of the teachers, was held at Mt. Ellis, Thursday, March 29. The following students, chosen by the student association, held office during the day: Luther Harris, president; Bill Barger, dean of men; Helen Altimus, dean of women; Everet Witzel, farm manager; Jack Blevins, music director.

The students chosen by each class to teach for the day were: Dean Flint, Bible Doctrines; Roy Conner, New Testament History; Rachel Wold, Old Testament History; Olive Landoll, Civics; Lillian Clark, Physics; Fred Krejci, Geometry; Glenn Pruitt, Music Survey; Ann Mae Sipes, Shorthand; Bessie Busch, Claudia Russell, Bill Barger, Typing; Charles Hayes, Montana History; Paul Nystrom, Biology; Rosemary Wills, Algebra; Henry Surdal, Bookkeeping; Myrna Yeatts, Spanish II; Arlene Gildroy, Spanish I; Colleen Flesher, English III; Hugh Winn, English II; Kermit Petrock, English I.

The junior class presented their benefit program, a variety entertainment, Saturday night, March 29.

The Ellisonian, now in its final stages of completion, will be dedicated this year to Brother and Sister Robert Allaway, who are completing their ninth year as members of the faculty of MEA.

Mrs. Margaret Brown, who has taught the Mt. Ellis church school for five years, was recently reappointed for another year by the church board.

Associated MV Meeting

Place: Seventh-day Adventist Church, Helena, Montana.

Time: 3:30 P.M., Sabbath afternoon, March 21, 1953.

What: The Associated Missionary Volunteer March meeting.

A good live song service of favorite hymns and choruses together with special numbers opened the afternoon's activities. Mrs. George Beech sang

"One Day." What was to have been a junior boys' quartet, but because of illness became a duet, was enjoyed by all. Elva Montgomery sang "Beautiful Hills" as a solo. The Helena ladies quartet, composed of Mrs. Faul, Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. Winkler, and Myrna Winkler sang "He Will Hold Me."

As the officers of the Association filed in, all with bowed heads hummed softly "Into My Heart." Brother Johnson of Butte read Psalm 148 and offered prayer.

A well-planned program entitled "Deep Places of the Earth" was presented, among those assisting the leader on the program were Sister Gilmer of Boulder, Sister Fritz of Helena, Brother Wileman of Walla Walla College, Sister Montgomery of Helena, and Sister Nyström of Butte. The chorus used to close was in harmony with the theme of the day, "I See Jesus Everywhere I Go."

Sister Lucille Gilmer of Boulder had the vesper service, and read Rev. 3: 13-22 and reminded us that this message was penned for us, the last church, that we might look into our own hearts and see how we appear before God. Many of those present gave their testimony as the vesper service closed.

Walla Walla College

College Place, Washington

Industrial Arts Department

The Industrial Arts department of Walla Walla College, headed by J. J. Walcker and established for the training of men in the teaching and use of the practical skills and arts, offers courses leading to graduation with the Bachelor of Science degree in that field. In addition to departmental offerings for majors in Industrial Arts, this department of the college offers courses for the fulfillment of the nine-hour vocational requirement for graduation in any field.

Students enrolled in various of the 37 courses offered by the department number 230. Although no new courses were included in the curriculum this year, two new offerings are slated for next year. At that time those interested in sheet metal work may register for the sheet metal class, and any desiring a course in practical home mechanics will find this included in the departmental agenda.

The most striking phase of the Industrial Arts department is the new quarters totaling over 9,000 square feet in which the various shops and classrooms are located. These spacious buildings, formerly veterans' apartments, have been completely renovated and now house the woodwork and auto mechanics shops, plus Professor J. J. Walcker's and Instructor Darrell Cowin's new raised-floor, glassed-in offices. The north end of the building, which formerly housed the entire department, has been remodeled to include two classrooms, one with an elevated stair-step floor, and a departmental library with adjoining librarian's office.

The new library at present contains 242 books, 429 magazines, and 87 catalogs, making a total of 858 volumes of special interest to students in Industrial Arts. In this connection and as an indication of the progressive nature of Industrial Arts students, it is interesting to note that in December of last year more books on Industrial Arts and related topics were checked out at the college library than any other single college subject.

New equipment in the department includes a 5" x 13" Delta planer and a South Bend metal lathe. Several other acquisitions are expected in the near future.

The graduates of the department in recent years are experiencing a great degree of success wherever they go. Here is a report on a few of them: Ed Spady ('51) is teaching shop and P. E. at Auburn Academy. This is his second year there. Elmer Miller ('47) is in charge of the construction of a new dormitory at Southwestern Junior College, Keene, Texas, and Joshua Wall ('52) is one of his right-hand men. Lawrence Claridge ('50) has been head of the Industrial Arts department there since his graduation. Cleve Henriques ('48) is in Mexico studying medicine. Harold Fristad ('50) has been in the construction game in the Spokane area and has done some work at Upper Columbia Academy. Frank Riter ('51) has also been doing construction work in the Spokane area. James Kegley ('51) is here at WWC finishing a pre-med course with high hopes of Loma Linda in the future. Oscar Lee ('47) is employed as furniture designer at the Harris Pine Mills in Pendleton, Oregon. He has recently had the safety engineering responsibility added to his work, and was sent to Portland for advanced training in that field. Art Ziegele ('48) is still here at WWC as assistant to Leland Parker at the power house. Stanley Sargeant ('46) is in charge of construction and repair for the college. The recently completed Clara Rogers School is a fine compliment to his work and a credit to the school. Glen Coulson ('52) is teaching printing at the College Press. Elvin Payne is in Oregon working on his Master's degree in Industrial Arts. Clifford Lawson ('51) worked on his Master's in Education last year, and is now teaching in the ten-grade church school at Monroe, Washington. Karl Fisher ('48) has been working for the School of Tropical Medicine at Loma Linda for some time. Charles Dill ('50) and Biggs Cox ('50) are contracting in Seattle. Virgil Wilson ('52) works for Boyd and Brady, Contractors, in Walla Walla. Mark Christenson ('52) is working for his brother-in-law at the Border Heating and Air Conditioning outfit of Pendleton. Don Wertz ('50) has a foreign mission appointment.

The Industrial Arts department endeavors to equip men to use their training in such a way that they may exemplify the Master Builder. If this goal can be attained, the department will have fulfilled its responsibility to the school that educates for life.

An Hour of Charm

Walla Walla College is proud to present the girls of Aleph Gimel Ain in "An Hour of Charm," April 11, at 8 o'clock in Columbia Auditorium.

The program, "A Portrait in Song," will feature an all-girl chorus directed by Professor Clarence Dortch. The guest artists will be harpist Earl Thompson, and flutist Leonard Palmer.

Write to Jerry Wilson at Conard Hall and make your reservation today. The tickets are selling at $1, $.75 and $.50. Come and enjoy one of the most outstanding programs of the year.

Seniors, Attention

This is the last notice to all academy and high school seniors. Be sure to attend the College Day program at Walla Walla College April 12 to 14. Come and learn all about the college and then plan to attend this fall.
