

Religious Retreats Overseas

Those having knowledge of men in the Armed Forces who are somewhere in the Far East are advised that two Seventh-day Adventist Retreats have been authorized by the authorities for those in these areas. For those in Korea, the date is March 14-16. All men in Korea who make request to do so will be granted administrative leave to attend. The place is the Army Retreat Center in Seoul, beginning at ten o'clock Friday morning, March 14, and continuing on till Sunday evening, March 16.

Another Retreat is to be held at Camp Drake in Tokyo, Japan, April 4 to 6. All men in the Army, Navy or Air Force assigned in Japan or Okinawa are authorized to attend. By special arrangement men assigned elsewhere in the Far East may be able to secure orders as well to attend this Retreat. We have word that the presidents of these Union Mission fields will be with us together with other missionaries from the Unions and the Far Eastern Division. We are asking that all parents and relatives of our youth who may be in these areas send word on to their loved ones concerning these important meetings and urge them to attend. You are also invited to pass on to me any word concerning individuals in need of special contact and help. It is not always possible to find men in such scattered areas, but every effort will be made to do so if full and complete locations are given with the addresses.

A similar Retreat for those in Europe is being conducted at Berchtesgaden, Germany, February 15. These overseas meetings take the place of annual camp meetings to our boys over there and are greatly appreciated. Your prayers for their effectual ministry to the youth among us who are serving overseas is earnestly solicited.

Bible Lessons Penetrate Sunday Schools

Probably not many of us have been invited to attend Sunday Schools and present Bible truths as we understand them. But the Advent message is being presented far more widely than we realize, and by unsuspected instruments.

In this week's mail alone three different Sunday School teachers have told of the help they receive for their classes from the Bible correspondence lessons. A Pennsylvania Sunday School superintendent declared, "I do want you to know that your Bible course has been a great help to me. I use your lessons as subject material for our devotions."

Another Sunday School worker requested, "Please send me about five enrollment cards with each lesson you return to me. I am telling others of how much I've learned and how your lessons help me to understand our Sunday School lessons. Many wish to take the Bible course themselves."

Perhaps the most remarkable of the three was a letter from the teacher of the men's class of the First Methodist church in a city in Pennsylvania. He reported, "I have read Lesson 19 on the Sabbath. I believe the seventh-day must be the Sabbath as observed by the Jews. We of the men's class of the First Methodist church all agree. Pray for us as we study further."

Surely it would not be amiss for us to pray each week as the hour for Sunday School approaches that God will send His angels to stand at the side of the many teachers of His word who, unknown to us, are revealing our precious message to eager listeners. How true is the words from the Lord's Messenger, "God has in reserve a firmament of chosen ones that will yet shine forth amidst the darkness, revealing clearly to an apostate world the transforming power of the obedience to His law. Even now they are appearing..."

WEDDINGS

MV News

Elder John Hancock and the writer spent nine days, January 10-19, visiting seven of the twenty-nine churches in Montana. During this itinerary, there were two Leadercraft courses given. The first was conducted at Kalispell where twenty-three completed the course, including Pastor Paul W. Johnson. The next class was taught at Mount Ellis Academy where five certificates were issued including one to the pastor, William J. McHenry.

A one-night meeting was held at Great Falls, Helena, Missoula, Glendive, and Billings, to acquaint our people with the MV plans for 1958 and inspire the leaders to a greater dedication in finishing the work in Montana.

Our people responded wonderfully to the aim of the MV Society and the church, The Advent Message to all the world in this generation, by reconsecrating their lives in service to their communities through MV community service, Voice of Youth and youth leadership.

There was a good attendance at each meeting and some people drove from 25 to 100 miles to attend.

Montana leaders and youth are all anxious to accomplish great things for Christ in 1958. Let us all join in a prayer that God's will may be done and His coming hastened.

WHAT DO YOU DO?

WHEN YOUR TEEN-AGER IS OLD ENOUGH TO DATE?

Parent No. 1: Dating is a serious matter. If ever a teen-ager needed guidance, it is in the subject of dating. Many a young person has wrecked his happiness here and his hope of eternal life by making a mess of his courtship—dating too young, the wrong person, or going to questionable places. On the other hand, dating should be most delightful and beneficial. I want my son to enjoy his dating as much as I did when I was dating his mother; therefore, I am at his service to give him the benefit of my knowledge and experience as best I can.

Parent No. 2: I try to keep myself informed concerning the correct thing to do. Inasmuch as I have two sons and a daughter I have to know the proper way to ask for a date and also how to accept, when to date and when not to. Contrary to my fears, I find my children are anxious to know this correct thing to do and are glad to come to me for information. This affords me an excellent opportunity to guide them in what to do on a date, where to go, and who should be along.

Parent No. 3: I want my daughter to feel free to invite her friends to our home. Although I cannot afford to buy everything she might suggest, I do let her arrange the front room as it seems best to her. If the young man is coming to dinner, I let her cook the meal. She enjoys it, and it is a good experience for her.

WHEN THE CHILD WHINES?

Parent No. 1: We ignore him. We simply do not grant his requests when he whines. Children use the method that works best and when they find that whining brings results, they will form the habit of whining every time they desire something. "When you ask for it cheerfully, you may have it" reminds our son that the way he asks for things helps to determine whether he gets it or not.

Parent No. 2: When my daughter begins to whine, I will say to her, "Little girl, have you seen Lola? You will know her when you see her, for she has a lovely smile on her face. Let's take this mirror and see whether we can find her hiding around somewhere." I hold the mirror up to various objects or to her pouting face and shake my head, saying, "No, that is not Lola. Lola's face is prettier than that." Usually in a very short time, she is all smiles again, and I hold the mirror up and say, "There she is. That is my Lola."

Parent No. 3: Little learners catch the tone of the voice used by adults very quickly. That is why my husband and I guard our voices very carefully to see that we do not whine or scold or fret. We find that it pays. Seldom do our children whine unless they are sleepy or hungry. I try to divert their attention to a toy or something of interest until it is time for dinner.

HINTS TO MOTHERS

The often tearful transition from mother's arms to playpen might be easier for junior if you put him down with his back to you and with a favorite toy in front of him in the pen. You can quietly back away and leave him in a happy frame of mind (we hope).

ings are coming to a close in Great Falls and Elder Harris reports that God has been wonderfully good to them and a large number have come into the fold. The Harris-Wyman group will be moving to Missoula in the early part of February to conduct a series of meetings there. We appreciate very much the good work that they have done and the way that the Lord has blessed them and the corps of workers.

We were very happy to have with us for several days, Elder E. S. Humann, the North Pacific auditor. He audited the books at the conference office and also at Mount Ellis Academy.

L. L. McKinley spoke at the Billings church Sabbath, January 18, and reported a fine interest has been developed for a real crusade for Christ.

Wapato Meetings

Nearly 350 persons filled the Dickon Theater in Wapato on Saturday evening January 25, for the opening meeting of the Knowles-Fleck evangelistic team. The attendance was equally good on Sunday evening. The meetings will continue seven nights a week through February 16. On the opening night one man, who was baptized during the Toppenish meetings, brought seventeen visitors. Twenty-two have been baptized since the meetings were concluded in Toppenish last December, and more are receiving studies. Please pray for the meetings in Wapato.

"THIS IS LIFE"

Some recent surveys and other investigations indicate that only about one-fourth of Seventh-day Adventist families have a morning devotional period. How can we as adults be presumptuous enough to go through the day's activities without asking for the direction and blessing and protection of our Heavenly Father? And what a tragedy that nearly three-fourths of our children go to school and other activities without the protection of the spiritual hedge that morning worship puts about them.

"In too many households prayer is neglected. Parents feel that they have no time for morning and evening worship. They cannot spare a few moments to be spent in thanksgiving to God for His abundant mercies . . . They have no time to offer prayer for divine help and guidance, and for the abiding presence of Jesus in the household. They go forth to labor as the ox or the horse goes, without one thought of God or heaven. They have souls so precious that rather than permit them to be hopelessly lost, the Son of God gave His life to ransom them, but they have little more appreciation of His great goodness than have the beasts that perish."—Patriarchs and Prophets, pp. 143, 144.

"In every Christian home God should be honored by the morning and evening sacrifices of prayer and praise. Children should be taught to respect and reverence the hour of prayer. It is the duty of Christian parents morning and evening, by earnest prayer and persevering faith, to make a hedge about their children . . . Train the children to offer their simple words of prayer. Tell them that God delights to have them call upon Him. Will the Lord of heaven pass by such homes and leave no blessing there?—Nay, verily. Ministering angels will guard the children who are thus dedicated to God."—Counsels to Teachers, Parents, and Students, p. 110.

"Therefore we ought to give more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip . . . How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation?" Hebrews 2:1,3.

In recent years the problem of what to use for morning worship has been solved by the publication of a book each year designed especially for that purpose. These books contain a verse of scripture for each day with appropriate illustrations and commentary. The book for 1958 is entitled This is Life and was written by Elder Paul Heubach, dean of the School of Theology at Walla Walla College. It is not too late to make a New Year's resolution that your family shall have the blessings of daily morning meetings with their God.

Columbia Academy Activities

Columbia Academy's gross enrollment has hit the two hundred mark again, the first time in eight years. The student body is almost equally divided among boys and girls. Thirty-two are village students living with their parents. Three youth come from Guatemala, three from Alaska, others from South Dakota, California, Utah, Oregon and Washington.

The vesper hour recording of the converted Catholic priest was interrupted by lights out over the community for one hour and ten minutes. Some felt the evil one did not want us to hear of the conversion of this Spanish worker. During the darkness the students, teachers, and friends sang well-known gospel songs and choruses; talks were given concerning the conditions of the world when the lights will go out forever in this world of sin and Christ will come; testimonies were given by a majority of the student body telling their relationship to God, their appreciation of a school which is a haven of refuge to them, and their confession of wrongs done. Individuals gave their hearts publicly to the Lord for the first time. Gods of cosmetics, literature, and evil were burned, taken away, or destroyed as student-led prayer bands met in both dormitories following the vesper service. God turned a threatened defeat into a definite and glorious victory.

The Student Week of Consecration was conducted January 19 to 24 under the direction of Samuel Pellecer. Samuel has been with us for three years and comes to us from Guatemala. The chapel setting was carefully arranged for this special week. Indirect lighting, black light featuring Christ kneeling in the Garden of Gethsemane, and live plants gave just the right atmosphere for the student talks given by Gene Shafer, Associated Student Body president; Cathy Williams; Leslie King; Mari Anne Jensen; Jerry Bramlett, Senior Class president; Geri Van Tassel; and Samuel Pellecer. Mr. Archie Devitt, ASB sponsor, and Elder Lyle Cornforth, speech and seminar director, have given good help to this special week of consecration.

January 26 found a number of students camping on Mt. Hood, skiing down the long trail, and enjoying a real snow picnic. These students were those who received or aided the ASB Steinway piano campaign with $25 or more. A cabin for girls and one for boys had been been rented for the overnight stay. A special treat is always enjoyed with the "chats" around the fireplace. Thanks to all those who helped with the Steinway!

Dr. Gernet and Mr. Hafner, instructors in the Walla Walla Music Department, are expected to be with us on the Saturday night of March 15. Dr. Gernet will ably feature good music on our Steinway; Mr. Hafner will entertain with his violin. You are invited to an evening of fine music.

The Columbia Academy will feature the music department at the following places:

February 7, 7:30 p.m., Lents church in Portland, Choir program.

February 8, All day at Corvallis and Albany, Oregon. Sabbath school, church, MV—Choir; Saturday night—Band.

March 1, 3:00 p.m., Longview, Wash., Choir program.

May the Lord bless our young people as they enter into the work of taking the gospel to the world—be it in the student-led and organized prayer bands where personal work is being done; in the student-teacher-church evangelistic effort planned and executed by Elder Lyle Cornforth, pastor and Bible teacher; or in the participation of these youth in the church activities back home.

During the six nights between Thanksgiving and Christmas season, students, teachers, and village church folks, raised $1,094 toward the Ingathering funds for the coming year. The academy goal is $600; the rest was applied to the Meadow Glade church goal. Several of these same students also participated in caroling while they were at their home churches during vacation.

If you are not now in a church school or academy, make plans for the coming year. Better yet, enter one now. If you have the will to work hard, God will see you through His schools. Contact one of your academies now. Plan well in advance.

Nursing Students Present Program

"Under Spanish Skies" will be presented by Walla Walla College School of Nursing (Portland, Oregon) on February 8. A light and varied musical program portraying a day in Chapala, a little Spanish town, will depict traditional events, daily work, and customs there. Featured as guest artist will be Evelyn Leiske from Walla Walla College playing the marimba. Included in the special and novelty numbers will be a thirty-voice ladies' chorus under the direction of Rheta Woodland. This program will be at Mt. Tabor Grade School, 5800 Ash (just off S.E. 68th), Portland, Oregon, February 8, at 8:00 p.m.

Cottage Grove Meetings

A very successful series of evangelistic meetings are drawing to a close in Cottage Grove. When my eleven-year-old daughter saw all the new converts being baptized she exclaimed, "Mother, we must surely be living in the time of the latter rain." Satan would have stopped the meetings, but God is more powerful. God led Elders Don Gray, Duane Corwin and others who helped in a wonderful way. Because of the effort the church members have caught a new vision. Words cannot express our happiness in having the association of the new members who have joined us in keeping the commandments of God.

Auburn Church Report for 1957

The past year has been one of the highlight years in the growth and development of the work in the Auburn area. The Lord brought to fruition the plans and prayers of many years. During the preceding months many interesting activities were undertaken and successfully carried out, such as: a well conducted and well attended branch Sunday school, two successful vacation Bible schools, a short interesting and successful Ingathering campaign, and many other projects.

The real thrills for the year were three: our week of revival, the dedication of our new church, and an evangelistic campaign.

On Sabbath, September 21, our conference president, Elder N. R. Dower, began a week of revival meetings for our people. The services were conducted nightly and concluded with a moving consecration service as men, women, boys and girls moved to the altar in dedication and reconsecration. The meetings set the spiritual tone of the entire church for the weeks that were ahead.

On Sabbath afternoon, September 28, the long awaited moment arrived when the beautiful new Auburn church was dedicated to the Lord free of debt. The sanctuary, with a seating capacity of 550, was filled to capacity and overflowing as Elder John Kozel delivered the dedicatory message. Mayor Clark of the city of Auburn gave a short message of appreciation for the work of the church in this city. Pastors from several of the other congregations in town were in the audience, and Pastor Unruh, president of the local ministerial association, gave the invocation. Emil Bitzer, building committee chairman, read the history of the church and Harry Raley secretary, presented the deed for the church to the pastor, the writer, who in turn presented it to the Washington Conference. Brother L. R. Alexander received the deed with words of appreciation on behalf of the conference. Elder N. R. Dower, our conference president, led out in the act of dedication following Elder Kozel's timely message. It was a most happy occasion for the members of the church as they presented another monument of service to the cause of God.

On Sunday evening, October 6, the writer and Elder Bill Ring began a series of evangelistic meetings in the church. The meetings were conducted seven nights a week for three weeks and the Spirit of God was certainly in evidence. Night after night the people came and there was a remarkable attendance from the very first meeting through to the closing one. What a thrill it was to see souls making their way to the altar in surrender to the Lord Jesus. Backsliders were reconverted, families were united in the church, sinners found the pardoning grace of Christ. Over thirty precious souls made their decision for the church, many of whom have already been baptized and others are making preparation.

The year at Auburn closed with a net gain in membership of fifty for which we thank the Lord. Though our church is completed and we have had a successful soul-winning campaign our sights are set on even bigger accomplishments for the Lord during 1958. Already we have laid plans to purchase adjoining property at a cost of over $28,000, the property to be used for additional parking and for a new building project that will care for the ever-expanding work of the church. The building project will be for additional facilities, recreational activities and Dorcas welfare work. Plans are already being laid for another intensive soul-winning program in '58, and we solicit your earnest prayers for the work in this area.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Stack of discarded SIGNS wins convert—

Mrs. Wade was discarding a stack of old SIGNS when an article title attracted her attention, which resulted in her reading all of the copies. Her interest was further developed when her husband ordered a subscription as a birthday present. Further contact was made by a pastor, and Bible studies followed. Sister Wade is now a baptized member.

"Gift" subscription sponsored by neighbor results in baptism—

Mrs. Armstrong learned that her neighbor and friend, Mrs. Sherman, was searching for truth. She took advantage of the opportunity by sponsoring a subscription to SIGNS. Mrs. Sherman is being welcomed into church fellowship by Pastor E. L. Gackenhaimer, while Mrs. Armstrong looks on—happy that she has won a soul for the kingdom of God through SIGNS.

SIGNS read in doctor's reception room, results in baptism—

Mrs. Applegate's interest was aroused when she read a copy of SIGNS taken from an attractive literature rack in a physician's reception room. She then subscribed for SIGNS and later enrolled in the Bible course. Mrs. Applegate was baptized a few months ago and has already become an active soul winner.

SIGNS wins SOULS. Everywhere hearts are seeking for truth. The times demand that every member put forth greater efforts to win souls before it is too late. Souls who are without a knowledge of this blessed hope are perishing all around us. SIGNS OF THE TIMES is known as the denomination's great "silent evangelist." It is an intimate visitor in the home, presenting the truths of the everlasting gospel with regular frequency.

Idaho Conference

A Wonderful Response

We were delighted with the fine spirit and wonderful response manifest toward the Conference-wide MV Pathfinder council and training course, conducted by Elder J. H. Hancock, Missionary Volunteer Secretary of the North Pacific Union Conference, January 24 to 26, at Caldwell, Idaho.

Fresh, new, interesting, up-to-the-minute information on the latest and best methods for MV Pathfinder leadership was presented by Elder Hancock. Thirty-seven Pathfinder officers from the 17 Pathfinder Clubs in the Idaho Conference received this valuable instruction. These junior youth workers returned to their clubs with new enthusiasm and fresh ideas to give to their Pathfinders. We believe real progress was made in the Conference MV Pathfinder program.

Besides conducting the Pathfinder leaders' training course, Elder Hancock spoke to the Gem State Academy student body at their regular Friday evening vespers, to the Academy students and members of the Caldwell Seventh-day Adventist church at the worship hour, and at the Missionary Volunteer meeting Sabbath afternoon.
