Signs Co-operative Evangelism

"He was baptized and accepted into church fellowship during the month of May." But this is the sequel to a thrilling story in which Signs of the Times made the initial appeal. Brother LaVerne Albin, whose picture is presented with this story, operated a tire and supply store in Wellington, Kansas. Whenever the late Elder J. R. Williams visited him during Ingathering he always responded liberally.

LaVerne Albin

Following the usual procedure the pastor sponsored a Signs subscription for him. Frequently it found a final resting place in the wastebasket. In due time, however, its heart-warming message prompted him to enroll in the Bible correspondence course featured in Signs.

The lesson on the Sabbath question temporarily chilled his enthusiasm. A later visit to the Adventist church in Wellington, where he listened to a stirring sermon by the pastor, brought him to a personal decision to observe the Sabbath. Visiting the local library a few days later, he found ample confirmation on the change of the Sabbath.

A gracious providence was combining the forces that deepened his conviction on the truth, and led him along to the baptismal pool and fellowship in the Wellington church. It is interesting to observe the steps and agencies involved in bringing Brother Albin to that thrilling and dramatic moment, when he received the hand of welcome to fellowship with the remnant church:

1. An Ingathering contact by the pastor of the church.
2. A sponsored subscription to Signs of the Times.
3. Enrollment in the Bible correspondence course.
4. A final Sabbath morning visit to the Adventist church in his home town.
5. Continued visits and indoctrination by the pastor.
6. Baptism and the hand of fellowship.
7. Currently engaged in literature-evangelistic work in Kansas.

"Every name a sacred trust" is the challenging motto written in the heart of every worker in the Signs office. As soon as a name is entered on our files for a yearly subscription, every available resource, combined with earnest, united prayer, is focused on the attainment of one great objective—the winning of souls.

Remember you can erect a "silent pulpit" with Signs in the homes of those for whom your heart is burdened for only 3½ cents per week during the current Signs crusade.

We invite you to fellowship with us in this most effective soul-winning literature ministry during this year of opportunity. The year 1960 may be too late.

Arise and Shine

If even half of our believers would actively accept this call to "Arise, shine," (Isa. 60:1) I believe The Voice of Prophecy would soon be able to close its office doors for the last time. The great majority of letters that daily flood our desks contain petitions for spiritual help in one form or another. Everywhere people are in distress, and are crying out for something more tangible than what they have. Our Bible school workers—instructors, lesson checkers, letter writers, and typists—are working daily at top speed, to check lessons and to answer the many questions as promptly as possible. We can hardly over-emphasize the value of the Bible correspondence courses which adults, youth, or juniors are studying in the quiet of their homes. We quote briefly from a couple of recent letters:

"How I love to study your lessons. The more you send, the more I like them. I cannot tear myself away from them until I am through. I find you are right. Saturday is the seventh day of the week."

Another: "After studying these Bible lessons, I felt that I must let you know what these studies mean to my life. They are so clear. They really got through to me when I needed them most. My whole life is now changed."

How we long for all our membership to arise, shine, and give many more people the opportunity to enjoy these Bible courses and radio messages. A listener writes:

"As I was sitting by my radio this morning listening to your broadcast, you spoke those words in such a way that they touched my heart and tears came to my eyes, and I asked God to have mercy on me and save me for Jesus' sake. I want you to pray for me."

The printed page is still effective in showing people the way to the cross. When students are graduated, they receive a 6-months' complimentary subscription to Signs of the Times magazine, after which many of the recipients renew the subscriptions for themselves. A recent graduate writes:

"I am glad I took the Bible course. Your Signs is 'worth a million' from

A Chorus of Praises for MARKED BIBLE

"Marked Bible" Did It!

When Mary was ten years of age her heart was touched and she was baptized in a popular Protestant church, but this experience was soon forgotten. However, as she grew older, beneath apparent enjoyment of worldly pleasures lurked a continual yearning for something better. She attended several different churches but received no real satisfaction.

Years passed and she married. The hunger continued despite the habitual dancing, card playing and other amusements. While attending a religious meeting one evening, Mary felt impressed to go forward when the minister spoke about how one never knows when life may be snuffed out and probation closed forever. He urged all who would to surrender their lives to God. However, there was much confusion as all prayed at one time and with a feeling of bewilderment, Mary left the meeting. How could this be what she wanted?

Finally, she discussed her problems with her grandmother, who was a Seventh-day Adventist. This good lady gave her the little book The Marked Bible. Mary was thrilled with it and compared its contents with her own life. She said, "The Lord came very close to me as I read it. And so it was, as I prayed and studied, that I saw the light of the Seventh-day Adventist message . . . my desire was satisfied."

Mary is now an active worker in one of our Oregon churches. We are very grateful for books like The Marked Bible and for people like Mary's grandmother, who distribute them.

Are you looking for people to whom such books as The Marked Bible may be presented? "... you will find more hearts that God has been preparing for the seed of truth than you imagine, and they will hail with joy the divine message when it is presented to them." —Counsels on Health, pp. 34-35.

Did you find the true Sabbath through reading? Let us give our friends the same opportunity. Everyone likes a good story—everyone will love Marked Bible!

Marked Bible is now in that convenient 5-for-$1.00 package. Why not order two packages—one for the home and one for the car?

For Those Who Want to Remember

Once again the one day in the year that is set apart to honor our mothers is fast approaching. Too often many of us, even though unintentionally, take this wonderful lady for granted.

Most of us can reflect back through the years and remember the love, kindness, and tender care shown to us by our mothers.

Remember your first day of school? How you put your trembling and hesitant hand into your mother's, and, with her at your side, marched off to the inevitable? Remember when the varied attacks of illness forced you to bed? How during the long hours of the night, mother would faithfully and willingly get up and attend to your slightest discomforts? Remember the many times you thought you were too tired to read your Sabbath school lesson and how mother would volunteer to take time to read it for you?

Actually, we could go on indefinitely listing the many praiseworthy traits of character our mothers demonstrated to us during the turbulent and difficult years of growing up.

Quoting from the little Sunshine Magazine, "Most of all the other beautiful things in life come by twos and threes, by dozens and hundreds. Plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers and sisters, aunts and cousins, comrades and friends—but only one mother in the whole world."

Your Book and Bible House has many excellent remembrances for mothers, some of which are listed below for your convenience. Should you have other preferences, you may still use the attached order blank.

Idaho Conference

Changes in the Conference

We are happy to welcome into our conference, Elder and Mrs. R. E. Parks who will be located at Baker, Oregon, where Elder Parks will become the district pastor for Baker, Richland, and Halfway church groups. We will have a full story about this family in a later issue of the GLEANER.

We also bring to our believers in Idaho the information that Elder and Mrs. Lyman Shaw are moving to Pocatello, Idaho, where Elder Shaw will be associated with Elder Dell Phelps, the district pastor, in following up the many interests that have been created by our colporteurs and other church members in that territory. It is hoped also at a later date for Sister Shaw to conduct some of her very fine cooking schools in that territory.

We wish all of these workers the blessings of heaven as they endeavor to build up the work of God in their portions of His vineyard.

Aberdeen Church Organized

Sabbath, April 25, was a high day for the believers at Aberdeen, Idaho. In the morning, Elder A. J. Gordon, president of the Idaho Conference, was present and spoke to the church on the subject, "Ten Rules for Successful Christian Living." Following the morning services, the church had dinner together at the home of one of the believers in Aberdeen. At three o'clock in the afternoon, the church was filled to capacity as representatives from the various churches in the district met with the believers at Aberdeen for the organization of the church. After a brief sermon by the conference president on the subject, "The Church—The Body of Christ," nineteen persons signified their desire to be formed into a church group. This was done.

Following the organization a nominating committee was chosen to bring in nominations for the offices to be filled. The major offices were cared for, elders and deacons were ordained, and all enjoyed a very thrilling day. We wish for this newly formed church the richest blessings of heaven. Perhaps in a later issue of the GLEANER a further story will be given.

Investiture and Baptism at Idaho Falls

The week end of April 24 and 25 was an important week end for the believers in the Idaho Falls district. On Friday evening at the Idaho Falls church, eight juniors, four boys and four girls, were invested. The children gave a very interesting program, and did their parts well. The leaders of these juniors are to be commended for the fine work they are doing for these children. Elder Emery from the conference office was present to give the charge to those invested.

Following the investiture, two boys and two girls, of the eight, were baptized by their pastor, Elder Dell Phelps. There were several very beautiful musical numbers given by the adult members of the church, which added to the interest and to the enjoyment of the program.

Upper Columbia Conference

Elder Buckwalter Coming

It is with pleasure that we present Elder J. A. Buckwalter of the General Conference who will be one of our guest speakers at the coming Upper Columbia Conference Session and camp meeting at College Place, June 17 to 27.

From the years 1928 to 1942 Elder Buckwalter served in Canada as pastor, evangelist and departmental secretary. From 1942-1944 he served as public relations director of the Canadian Union Conference. From 1945 to 1948 Elder Buckwalter filled the position of pastor and instructor at Union College, Lincoln, Nebraska. In 1949 he was appointed an associate secretary of the Ministerial Association of the General Conference and held this with other duties until the last General Conference at Cleveland, Ohio, when he was elected secretary of the Religious Liberty Department of the General Conference.

Elder Buckwalter is a forceful speaker and will bring some soul-stirring messages at the time of our camp meeting.

C. M. BUNKER

Special Notice Bearing Good News

The conference has ordered fifty new family tents for camp meeting. These tents will be open at both ends and will be equipped with a fly, thus making them cool and comfortable. These tents are being made available for comfort and convenience of our people. We want to see them all filled.

C. M. Bunker

Conference Educational Superintendent

We are happy to present Elder A. J. Werner to our field as our new educational superintendent who has accepted our call from the Washington Conference to fill the vacancy left by Elder M. J. Perry.

A. J. Werner

Elder and Mrs. Werner with their two children have arrived in our field and are now in the process of getting settled and becoming acquainted with the work. We have already held an educational committee meeting and it is very evident that Elder Werner has a good grasp of the educational work. His many years in this department with his fine Christian spirit gives us the assurance that we have chosen well in securing leadership for the future of our educational work.

We welcome the Werners to our field and solicit the interest and prayers of all our people as they take up the heavy responsibilities in this field.

C. M. BUNKER

Farewell to Upper Columbia

After serving in the Upper Columbia Conference for nearly 10½ years and enjoying every day of it, first in the Missionary Volunteer Department, and then, finally, the last four years in the capacity of educational superintendent, words failed us as we endeavored to utter our parting words of farewell to our many friends, fellow workers, church and school officers, school administrators, our beloved teachers, church members, and others, as we severed our connections and headed westward over the Cascades to take up my duties in the same capacity in the Washington Conference.

We have appreciated so much the warm Christian fellowship we were privileged to enjoy with our fellow workers and secretaries, and particularly with our beloved president, C. M. Bunker, and our treasurer, L. W. Crooker. I am confident that the Lord will continue to richly bless your conference as you endeavor to serve Him without reserve during these closing days.

We are now located in Seattle and are deep in the midst of our new responsibilities, but greatly pleased to likewise find a wonderfully warm and friendly hospitality among our office staff, fellow workers, and teachers, and are therefore confident that our stay here will be most enjoyable.

Mrs. Perry and Morey join me in expressing to one and all our warmest Christian greetings, and the best of personal wishes for your continued health, happiness and spiritual and temporal prosperity, as we all endeavor to serve Him faithfully day by day and thus prepare to meet our God soon.

M. J. PERRY

Coming to Pendleton

The "Knights of Song," a male quartette from Portland with Richard Lange, narrator and soloist, Lorraine Hansen, soloist, and Elsie Fitzgerald at the organ, will present two programs May 16 in Pendleton.

A sacred program will be given Sabbath at 3:30 p.m. in the church at S.W. 14th and Goodwin, and a secular program at 8:15 p.m. in the church school auditorium at S.W. 10th and Frazier. An admission of 35 cents for adults and 15 cents for children will be charged for the evening program.

We take this opportunity to invite all from the surrounding area to come and enjoy this musical treat.

Remember, May 16, 3:30 and 8:15 p.m.

It Is Your Christian Duty

Being a genuine Christian involves certain serious obligations which can not be slightly esteemed. Your salvation as well as that of others is at stake and it is, therefore, a life and death matter for all concerned.

It is your Christian duty to live victoriously. Living the life of faith and knowing victory over sin and the world is not only the future, but present goal of the child of God. "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." "To honor Christ, to become like Him, to work for Him, is the life's highest ambition and its greatest joy."—Education p. 297.

It is your Christian duty to love one another. We frequently need to be reminded that through love is the fulfilling of the law and the new commandment which Christ has given us is that we should love one another as He has loved us. When this is in evidence in the life of a Christian its fruitage will be such as to gladden our hearts and produce souls for the kingdom of heaven.

It is your Christian duty to work for others. The sharing of our faith through the spoken word, the example of the life, the distribution of our truth-filled literature is not only a sacred duty, but a glorious privilege. How rich our joy will be as in the kingdom we shall meet those who have been won through our labors and saved by God's grace.

It is your Christian duty to support your church. Your support is evidenced by a faithful attendance at all of its services. In no other way is our interest in the church of Christ revealed so accurately as in our attendance at the various services which the church conducts.

Your Christian duty includes participation in the church's programs. Sharing in its spiritual activities, having a part in its campaigns and going beyond the call of duty in offering one's self to the work to be done is a real indication of our love for Christ and His cause.

Your Christian duty also will lead you to faithfully attend the evangelistic meetings that are conducted by your church. While these truths are familiar to all of us, yet a genuine inspiration comes from having our minds stirred up by way of remembrance of them. This we experience by attending the evangelistic meetings. Then, too, it is a source of continued encouragement to the minister to find that his own members are sufficiently interested in spiritual things to lay aside their other activities and plans in order to spend some time in reviewing these precious truths. Of course, it goes without saying that we cannot expect those who are not of our faith to be much interested in our message if we, ourselves, are not sufficiently interested to attend. We, therefore, appeal to all of our members to acknowledge their Christian obligations in this matter and faithfully support the evangelistic efforts that are being carried on.

United Advance News

Throughout the conference there is a great deal of building activity which is the result of the healthy growth in our churches. These require not only the faithful support of the churches involved, but of our conference as well. Our ability to help them is dependent upon your continued contributions reaching us. We, therefore, appeal again for your support of the UNITED ADVANCE PROGRAM. One per cent of your income given regularly would make it possible to assist in these projects as well as with the rebuilding of Auburn Academy and the enlarging evangelistic program which the conference is sponsoring.

ISSUE OF THE "GLEANER!"

There are many other areas where Christian duty is involved. Suffice it to say that the words "well done. . . enter thou into the joy of thy Lord" are spoken to the good and faithful servant who has recognized his Christian duty and lived up to his possibilities. May this be your happy experience.

Four Bands to Play

Saturday, May 9, at 8:30 p.m. the Seattle Junior Academy band is playing host to the school bands of Monroe Junior Academy, Cedar Home grade school, and Mountlake Terrace grade school. These four bands are to be combined under the direction of Mr. Gordon A. Finch and will present a musical program of enjoyment to all. No admission will be charged but an offering will be taken. Come and bring a friend. Seattle Junior Academy is located at 2610 Nob Hill.

Music Recitals at Auburn Academy

Mardi Neufeld, pianist, and Richard Coleman, clarinetist, will be presented in a recital on Sunday, May 10, at 8:00 p.m. in the Academy chapel.

The following Sunday night, May 17, a recital of students in voice, wind instruments and piano will be presented. This recital will also be held at 8:00 p.m. in the Academy chapel.

The public is cordially invited to attend these recitals.

Auburn Academy

The Academy spring week of spiritual emphasis conducted March 27 to April 3, by Elder Lon Cummings, was begun by an all-night prayer service. The service was divided into four two-hour shifts from 10 o'clock Friday evening till 6 o'clock Sabbath morning. Students and faculty met throughout the night and participated in prayer, singing, and testimony of God's providence and blessing. The presence of the Holy Spirit was felt in a marked way during the week which was characterized by brotherly love and spiritual fellowship.

Auburn Academy has been blessed with a good school year. Students and faculty have worked in social, mental and spiritual harmony. As an indication of the stable quality of the student group, the Academy has experienced a drop-out rate of only seven per cent of the total enrollment, which is an encouraging improvement over other years.

With both immediate and long-range building plans ahead, Auburn Academy is expanding to meet the needs of consecrated youth as they prepare for God's service. At no time in earth's history is Christian education of greater importance than right now. Auburn Academy offers to young people that harmonious, wholesome education so essential to life in these turbulent times.

Report From Seattle Junior Academy

The patrons and friends of Seattle Junior Academy will be interested in the following report of this year's activities. We are proud of each student and teacher who has contributed to this program.

The following Junior High students have been on the Honor Roll for the year: Ann Feather, Darlene Barnhart, Paul Jensen, Corra Lenn Elliott, Marilyn Froom, Neva Lovell, Carolyn Ruddle, Nikki Silver, Colleen Tokuda, Audrey Ching, Carolyn Hall, Karen Hansen, Maria Henriques, Pat Ruddle, Julie Krenzler, Jeannine Silver, Allan Braman, Barbara Grubb, LaVonne Ruddle, Ann Jensen.

Our Jasper Waynes this year are: Tim Clough, Jerry Kramer, Corra Lenn Elliott, Carolyn Ruddle, Audrey Ching, Pat Ruddle, Jack Taylor, Bob McSwain, Charles Green, Marilyn Gange, Clifford Ruddle, Jim Clough, Bob Heathcock.

The total share collected by these enthusiastic youth and their classmates was $6,378.69.

The total enrollment of Seattle Junior Academy is 215. Of these, 108 students are members of The Associated Student Body. This organization has been very active in promoting the spiritual, social, and scholastic aspects of school life. The project of which each is especially proud is the purchase of new lockers. These full-length lockers are now installed in the halls at a cost of $1,094.30, which was raised by programs and profit on sales.

The officers of the year were: Audrey Ching, LaVonne Ruddle, David Dooley, Barbara Grubb, Marilyn Gange, Bob McSwain, Allan Braman, Randy Hannah, Nikki Silver, Julie Krenzler, Cher-Sabbath, March 28, was a high-day for members and friends of the Seattle Central church. During the Sabbath school hour we were privileged to see the film "From Baghdad to Benghazi" recently released by the General Conference, showing the life and mission service of Dr. Roy Cornell, for many years a member of our Seattle Central church. Our hearts were stirred as we watched this film, and our prayers ascended in behalf of Dr. Cornell and his good family. This was followed by our Thirteenth Sabbath offering to be used to further mission work in giving this gospel to others.

During the eleven o'clock hour, we were privileged to have Elder A. R. Lodahl as our guest speaker. Following the morning message, Elder H. F. Hannah, pastor of Seattle Central, baptized a group of new believers pictured above, first fruits of evangelistic meetings now being held in the church. As each candidate was ready for baptism, Mrs. Hannah told a little of the background of each person and how they came in contact with the Adventist faith. We rejoice, as a church, to see these dear ones take their stand for the third angel's message.

ry Morris, Sharra Lynn Elliott, Jeannine Silver, Pat Ruddle, Paulette Dressel, Barbara Clark, Marilyn Froom, Richard Schwartz, Bud Quimby, Roy Wesson, advisor.

Mrs. Hixson's third and fourth grade room was the recipient of the new desks this year. The Home and School, under the direction of Mrs. Lovell and Mrs. Palmer have helped to make this possible. Now all our rooms are equipped with new student desks of which we are proud.

Mr. Gordon Finch has led out in a strong program of instrumental music. You will be amazed at the results in fine musicianship in this area. The choir under the leadership of Miss Robison has made several appearances and brought inspiration to many with its programs.

We will miss the leadership given by our tenth grade class but we wish them well as they go on to Auburn Academy. They are: Jean Boswell, Allan Braman, Bennie Burnett, Arlene Collins, Flay Currie, Paulette Dressel, Sharra Lynn Elliott, Charlene Everrett, Douglas Feather, Jo Ferguson, Marilyn Gange, Charles Greene, Barbara Grubb, Leona Haskell, Lannie Hunton, Ann Jensen, Julie Krenzler, Linda Lovell, Bob McSwain, Pat Parker, LaVonne Ruddle, Jeannine Silver, Babara Tally, Eda Lee Taylor, Hattie Wood.

God has richly blessed us and the school spirit has been high. This is noted in the sacrificial giving on the part of our youth who at the holiday season sent over $200 to help in the work of the Voice of Prophecy.

For Music Lovers

The Columbia Academy Music Department will climax their year's activities during National Music Week, May 3 through 9, with special chapel programs and recitals.

The Portland Union Academy band will be featured during the Monday chapel.

The Saturday evening program will feature the organ, two piano selections, the choir and girls' glee club. The band will include the "Warsaw Concerto" for piano with band accompaniment, featuring sophomore music student, Lynn Wheeler, as soloist. We hope many music lovers will join us for this program. No admission charge.

GLENN DAVENPORT

Columbia Academy News

June Ledbetter won first prize in the W.C.T.U. temperance essay contest for Clark County which closed April 10. Placing second was Betty Schoonhoven, and third prize was received by Kathi Strunk. Twyla Rasmussen received a book for participation. The contest was open to all high school students in Clark County, and a large number took part.

May 6 is the date set for the annual Academy Day, when all prospective students are invited to visit Columbia Academy to get acquainted with the faculty, students, and campus. From each department visited, a small souvenir will be obtained, and a 1959 Vine Maple will be given to each student who pays his room deposit for the coming year. Students should arrive at the school between 9:30 and 10:00 a.m., and a hearty welcome is extended to all who can attend.

Construction is underway on an addition to the Woodfold Corporation building at Columbia Academy. The floor space of the addition will double the size of the original building. With this expansion the industry will branch out and make folding wood doors in addition to the fabric ones they are now making.

Mr. Lyle O. Botimer has accepted the position of Boys' Dean at Columbia Academy, and will arrive early in the summer. Mr. Botimer will be graduated from Washington Missionary College in June, his major being business, with minors in education and physical education. He is married and the father of two children. He has already served his two years in the service of his country.

The fifth period Honor Roll revealed 40 per cent of the student body faithfully at work. The senior class stands highest with 54 per cent, the juniors have 40 per cent, the sophomores 36 per cent, and the freshmen 32 per cent.

Distribution of "The History of Columbia Academy—1903-1959" was the highlight of the alumni week end. For two years a committee has worked on the compiling and writing of a school history, and now it is a reality. The thirty-two pages contain names of all former faculty members, and a complete roster of all graduating classes. If there are those who are unable to attend the home-coming and who desire a copy, some are still available. Write to Columbia Academy, Battle Ground, Washington, and enclose fifty cents.

Elder Preston Smith of White Salmon gave an inspiring message at the eleven o'clock hour of alumni week end with the key thought, "Look up, for your redemption draweth nigh." Elder Leonard O. Venden and wife, of Auburn Academy, presented an uplifting hour of sacred music at the MV service. A cinemascope picture was shown in the evening, "On the Threshold of Space."

Elizabeth Moser, valedictorian, and Darlene Bakke, salutatorian, attended the annual banquet for honor students of Clark County at the Totem Pole on May 7.

The C.A. Temperance Society, under the leadership of Paul Chissus, will take a "Temperance Poll" at Salem on May 9. This is part of a nationwide poll that is being conducted.

Three new teacher desks, and seventy-three student desks are installed in the church school, and all paid for. The total cost was $2,453.10. The children raised half of this amount. The community has supported this project with a wonderful spirit.

Construction Achievements at Mt. Ellis Academy

The fire that destroyed the boys' dormitory in January of 1955 started a much-needed building program at Mt. Ellis Academy.

The first of the buildings to be constructed was the boys' dormitory. It was built on the extreme north end of the campus and was finished in January of 1956.

The next in the line of construction was a new dairy barn. The old dairy was an ancient looking structure and was in constant need of repair. It was located on the west side of the campus and the farm on the east side. The cows had to be driven across the campus to the dairy each morning and afternoon. The dairy was moved to the farm site, thus eliminating many of the difficulties that arose when the farm and dairy were so far apart.

The new milk parlor is a concrete and block structure. The bacteria count of the milk at the dairy is one of the lowest in the state.

The new girls' dormitory is situated at the south end of the campus. The most interesting part of the girls' dormitory is the dining room. The dining room and stainless steel kitchen are among the best in the North Pacific Union.

After the dairy was moved, the laundry moved into that old building. A dairy barn is hardly a place for a laundry so in the summer of 1958 a new building was started behind the kitchen.

Probably the most important building at Mt. Ellis or any campus is the administration building. Being the center or the hub of activities, the ad building has been placed between the girls' and the boys' dormitories and in the center of the campus. Although the new ad building is still under construction, the music department is being used and is near completion.

The ad building is a two-story building and is built in the shape of a "T". The entrance is in the cross of the "T", and the class rooms are in the two-story wings. The music department is in the spur of the "T" and directly behind the chapel.

The music department was built with the band pit and choir rehearsal room in the center. Practice rooms are on the two floors with halls that connect them and windows that overlook the band pit.

The chapel, which is not yet completely finished, has a maximum seating space of three hundred, and the projection room, which overlooks the chapel, can be used as a balcony if the need arises.

The first services to be held in the new chapel was the church service on April 25.

The graduation services for the class of 1959 will be held there, and at the start of the coming school year, we hope to have the new administration building completed.

OBITUARIES

Montgomery—Mr. John Montgomery was born in North Carolina on March 31, 1879, and passed to his rest in Spokane on Feb. 22, 1959. Mr. Montgomery was a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist church. Those left to mourn are his wife, Violet; one son, Stuart Montgomery, U. S. Navy. Services were conducted by M. E. Heinrich. Interment in the Pines Cemetery, Opportunity, Wash.

Coss—Otto C. Coss was born near Russell, Kans., Sept. 20, 1879. On Aug. 26, 1918, he was united in marriage with Luella B. Dehoney of Joplin, Mo., in Denver, Colo. Both Mr. and Mrs. Coss joined the remnant church June 18, 1955, in Billings, Mont., after belonging for years to another church. Mrs. Coss survives to cherish his memory. Elder M. M. Anderson officiated at services held Dec. 29, 1958, and interment took place in Mountview cemetery at Billings, Mont.

Aveline—Mrs. Fannie E. Aveline, member of the College Place Seventh-day Adventist church, was born in Missouri on Sept. 15, 1876, and passed away March 27, 1959. Elder Melvin Lukens officiated at the final services which were held in Walla Walla, and she was laid to rest in the Mount Hope Cemetery in College Place. Sister Aveline is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Culber of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. Ruth Wade, also of Seattle; three brothers, Louis Monroe of Seattle, Wash.; Marcus Monroe of Portland, Ore.; and John J. Monroe, Jr. of Kirby, Ore.; one grandson and three great-grandchildren.

Isaac—Ella Beatrice Miller Isaac was born July 8, 1892 in Clackamas County, Ore., and passed away Feb. 26, 1959, in Portland, Ore. She attended Walla Walla College for three years and completed nurses training at the Portland Sanitarium and Hospital in 1920. In 1921, she was married to Harold Isaac, and they responded to a call to do mission work in Ecuador. In later years they labored in Peru, Cuba and Jamaica. In 1938, they returned to the United States and devoted their efforts to the operation of a nursing home. The past five years they were located in Salem, Ore.

Those left to mourn her loss include her husband, Harold Isaac, a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Geddis of Troutdale, Ore.; a sister, Mrs. Ada Harrington of Lebanon, Ore.; three brothers, Guy and Edgar Miller of College Place, Wash., Frank Miller of Medford, Ore.; and two granddaughters.

Peach—Billy Jean Davis-Peach was born in LaGrande, Ore., March 11, 1938, and died at the Virginia Mason Hospital in Seattle on Feb. 23, 1959. She was graduated from Auburn Academy at the age of 17 and attended Walla Walla College for one year. At eleven years of age she gave her life to her Lord and became a faithful member of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. On Sept. 2, 1956, she was married to Mr. Olin Peach and in 1957 they went to Auburn Academy where Mr. Peach joined the faculty as boys' dean. Billy Jean is survived by her husband, a son, Mark William; four sisters: Florence Caroline Dail, Eloise Frances Ingerson, Aglah Mae Meredith, all of La Grande, Ore., Elma Virginia Burgess of Salem, Ore.; one brother, Eldon Everett Davis of Paramount, Calif.; and her mother, Mrs. Helen Davis of La Grande, Ore.

Emmerson—John Samuel Emmerson was born Dec. 6, 1871, in Lake Grove, Minn., and died Febr. 17, 1959, at the Portland Sanitarium and Hospital. He was married to Frieda May Babcock in Sauk Center, Minn., Oct. 16, 1895. Together with his wife, he entered the nurses' training in 1896 at Battle Creek Sanitarium; following this the two practiced nursing in Adventist-operated clinics at Seattle, Bellingham, and North Yakima, Wash. Brother Emmerson and his wife gave 23 years of service at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium and Hospital before retirement. They came to McMinnville, Ore., in 1949 where they made their home until their move to Silverton, Ore., shortly before Brother Emmerson's death.

John Emmerson will especially be remembered for the important part his consistent Christian living unwittingly played in influencing Mr. Porter, at the time a patient at the Paradise Valley Sanitarium, to contribute heavily to the cost of construction of the Porter Sanitarium and Hospital in Denver, Colo.

The bereaved include: his widow, Frieda now of Silverton, Ore.; a daughter, Mrs. Vera Tunsen of Seattle, Wash.; a brother, Robert E. Emmerson of Portland, Ore.; and a grandson, Robert K. Tunsen, serving in the United States Navy and at present stationed at Midway Island.

Orchestra to Present Annual Concert

The Walla Walla College Concert Orchestra under the direction of Professor John J. Hafner will be heard in its annual spring concert in Columbia Auditorium Saturday evening, May 9, at 8:15 o'clock.

Dr. S. K. Gernet will be featured as soloist in Brahms' "Piano Concerto No. 2, B major" with orchestral accompaniment. Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" will also be heard as will lighter numbers, says Professor Hafner.

In addition to the campus musicians, guest musicians from Pendleton and Portland will augment the organization for this event. Judith Ross is concert mistress.

Academy Teachers Announced

Three new members of the Walla Walla College Academy faculty have been announced by President P. W. Christian.

Willard H. Meier, currently doing graduate study at the University of Maryland and serving as a guest instructor at Potomac University, will join the staff to teach history. An alumnus of WWC, Mr. Meier holds a master of arts degree with a major in history from the University of Washington. He has also studied at the University of California. His teaching experience includes positions in the Northwest, in California and in Australia.

Ervin Bigham, principal of the Milton-Freewater church school for the past two years, will teach biology and Bible at the academy next fall. Also a WWC alumnus, he had taught four years in Canada before taking his present position. He plans to continue graduate work in biology, attending the summer session at the Biological Station at Rosario Beach working toward a master's degree.

Miss Ann Parrish, a graduate of Atlantic Union with highest honors in English, will teach English at WWCA next year. She is currently at the University of Arkansas on a teaching assistantship and will continue there this summer where she plans to receive her master's degree with a major in English at the end of the summer session.

High Scholarship Recognized

Fellowships, assistantships, and traineeships in recognition of high scholastic attainment are being granted to WWC students and alumni in continuing larger numbers, says Dean Fabian A. Meier.

Indicative of the recognition possible for WWC students is the case of James Van Hise, senior chemistry major, who had the delightful dilemma of choosing a graduate school from the fourteen which offered him fellowships and assistantships. He has chosen to attend Stanford University from among such schools as Yale, Princeton, the University of Illinois, Purdue, and universities of the Midwest and West.

Tom Walters, another chemistry major, will also attend Stanford on the same arrangement: a fellowship and an assistantship. Audrey Radomsky, a third chemistry major, has chosen to attend the Oregon State College at Corvallis for her graduate work on an assistantship in bio-chemistry.

Physics majors who have also had excellent offers from graduate schools are Orvin Wagner and Vernon Cunningham. Mr. Wagner will attend Arizona State University on an assistantship. Mr. Cunningham has accepted a commercial offer in lieu of the graduate work for this coming year.

Summer Research

Kenneth Kelln, junior physics major and pre-medical student, will be the first WWC student to take part in a summer research program at the University of Washington School of Medicine on an assistantship offered by the school. Lassia Radomsky, junior chemistry major, will also work at the same school this summer as a research assistant arranged by a member of the staff of the School of Medicine.

Alumnus Recognized

Brian Bull, now completing his sophomore year of medical study at CME, has been awarded a two-year tuition scholarship at CME, according to Dean Walter Macpherson, "because of his excellent performance as a student and in anticipation of a career in academic medicine."

Scholarships Presented to Visiting Seniors

Nine students representing nine Northwest academies were awarded tuition scholarships to Walla Walla College as a part of College Day exercises when more than 450 seniors visited WWC last week.

President P. W. Christian, assisted by the academy principals, made the awards of $150 tuition scholarship grants in a combined college and visiting academy chapel. Recipients chosen on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, and financial need were: Kenneth Fridlund, Auburn Academy; Beverly Paladeni, Columbia Academy; Frances Storey, Gem State Academy; Helen M.

Finck, Laurelwood Academy; Glen Reiswig, Milo Academy; Lornie Glaim, Mount Ellis Academy; Dorothy Von Bergen, Portland Union Academy; Georgine Thompson, Upper Columbia Academy; and Diane Dunlap, WWC Academy.

Laurelwood Academy won the plaque for having the highest percentage attendance of last year's seniors at WWC. Professor Victor Fullerton received the award for the school.

Graduate Nurse Traineeship Program

Six supplementary graduate nurse traineeships granted to students of the WWC School of Nursing this past week bring to a total of 18 the number now studying under the grants this current year, says Professor Fred Henson, dean of the School of Nursing. All are graduate nurses qualifying in leadership and planning for careers in nurse education, nurse service, or health education.

Two of the new grants are post-bachelor traineeships. Constance Rimmer Tiffany, an alumna of WWC with a B.S. in nursing education, and Lillian Moore, graduate of Washington Missionary College with a B.S. in Nursing, are the recipients.

Margaret Spurgeon of Chico, California, a graduate of the St. Helena Sanitarium; Joyce Riter of Wenatchee, graduate of the Central Washington Deaconess Hospital School of Nursing; Emalena Raetz of Powell, Wyoming, graduate of the Sioux Valley School of Nursing, Sioux Falls, South Dakota; and Robert Downes of Brockton, Massachusetts, a graduate of the New England Sanitarium, Melrose, Mass. are the four to receive pre-bachelor grants.

Senior Standings

In competition with the highest-rated schools of engineering in the nation, 13 WWC engineering seniors earned scores averaging the 64th percentile in the graduate record examinations, says Professor E. F. Cross. Highest score attained by a WWC man was the 99th percentile, the records show.

Norman Sossong, received the beginning physics achievement award for 1958-59 from the Chemical Rubber Company in a chapel hour presentation April 29. Dr. R. H. Brown, chairman of the Department of Physics, made the award.
