COLLEGE PLACE, WASHINGTON

Montana's First Welfare Center

On Thursday afternoon, October 29, Mayor Howard Hammer of Kalispell, Montana, cut the ribbon to officially open Montana's first Welfare Center.

Miss Lillian Jellstrup, County Welfare Director, and Col. Ralph Sleator, County Civil Defense Director, also joined us in the opening ceremonies. It was thrilling to hear these leading citizens commend Seventh-day Adventists for their part in helping to meet community emergencies.

Elder Paul Johnson and Sister Frank Hull, Welfare Center director, and their loyal members are to be congratulated on the fine way everything is organized to serve on a moment's notice.

The center is ideally located downtown. Hundreds of people will drive and walk by every day. This center will give our church members in Kalispell the opportunity of walking in the steps of the Master and doing good in many ways as the days go by. Certainly, God will richly bless their efforts on behalf of suffering humanity.

Your Sons in the Service

The Thanksgiving and holiday season of the year are traditionally a time for thinking. It is a time to pull ourselves out of the day-by-day routine and to think of our life, of our family and friends, of our church, and of our God. It is a time to give thanks for His watchcare and blessing. It is a time to check up on ourselves and to remedy the things we have left undone.

The Seventh-day Adventist young men in the service of their country are scattered far and wide over the surface of the earth, yet none of them are too far for God to care for. The War Service Commission tries to keep contact with them, too. So that we might know of them, we urge parents and friends of Seventh-day Adventist youth in the military service of the United States to send their names and military addresses to the War Service Commission, 6840 Eastern Avenue, N. W., Washington 12, D. C.

When we receive the name of one of these young men we send immediately a warm letter of welcome to the fellowship of other Adventists in the military service. We also send a postage-paid, self-addressed card telling him that he will be sent the Review and Herald, the Youth's Instructor, and another Seventh-day Adventist periodical of his choice if he will return the card filled out. We ask him to return the card so that we will know that he wants literature, and so that we will know the name and address are correct. If he does not reply to that letter, we send him a second and a third letter trying for an answer.

Parents and friends can help us. Encourage these young men to return that card. We find that it is necessary to get a direct reply from the young man in order to conserve the funds received from you in the offering. When you consider the cost of subscribing to the Review and Herald, the Youth's Instructor, and then one other Seventh-day Adventist periodical, for the two years a young man is in military serv-

Ingathering Time is Here!

Last year the church members faithfully rallied to the challenge and spent more hours, gave out more literature, and raised more funds for the worldwide program than ever before. And remember, too, that all this was accomplished without dragging into the spring of the year.

Look at these final totals for the most successful program:

Alaska	$ 7,237.03
Idaho	27,579.67
Montana	21,526.35
Oregon	123,020.47
Upper Columbia	73,955.57
Washington	75,205.57

Union	$328,524.66

Now to this year and its opportunities. The campaign begins on Sabbath, November 28, 1959, and comes to a successful conclusion the end of January. Church officers and members, rally to the Ingathering call and plan to be doing your part right away by volunteering for caroling, house-to-house and business solicitation as the opportunities come.

"Marked Bible" Is Still Potent

A family in Seattle requested Bible studies. The pastor contacted them and over the weeks became well acquainted with the family as they studied and visited.

During his first visits, the pastor noticed a copy of Marked Bible, and Mr. _____ said he was reading the book. He stated that his mother is a Seventh-day Adventist and that he had practically been raised in the church. As all mothers, she had been praying for his conversion for years and had sent him the copy of Marked Bible.

As Mr. _____ read the book the experience of the young man was so similar to his own that it touched his heart and a decision was made for full surrender to our Saviour. There were the usual problems; smoking, Sabbath work and others, but the Lord answered their prayers and gave them victory. Mr. and Mrs. _____ with their oldest boy, were baptized on Sabbath, June 20.

These experiences reveal that Marked Bible is potent. What one reads greatly affects one's life. Thus Marked Bible with its Sabbath presentation reroutes the life stream of many. Order several packages now.

We feel confident that you will continue your intercession in behalf of these.

The following schedule will keep you informed as to the subjects to be presented by Evangelist Don H. Spillman for the coming week end.

Week of Prayer at Milo Academy

Another fine Week of Prayer has just been concluded at Milo Academy. Elder Lee Kretz, Oregon Conference evangelist, presented the series of topics for the week, emphasizing the Second Coming of Jesus, the Spirit of Prophecy, the Judgment, and many other timely studies in repentance, conversion, confession, and the Christlike life.

A special testimony service was conducted on Thursday evening, with large numbers of the students and faculty expressing their desires to more fully surrender their lives to God. A point of special interest noted was that some students gave testimonies for those who were sick and unable to be present for the meeting.

Friday night the call for baptism was answered by ten students. These ten students represent a wide variety of backgrounds. Some of them have come to Milo from church homes not of our faith, and yet they expressed a desire to become Seventh-day Adventists. It will not be easy for many of them to live as Seventh-day Adventists. These ten students are organized into a weekly baptismal class with plans for a baptism in a few weeks.

The school year has had an excellent start at Milo. There is an earnestness and seriousness of purpose that is encouraging to every teacher. We feel that God is blessing this school this year more than at any time in its history. Good spiritual leadership among the students and a smooth running program under the direction of our principal, Elder Russell, has made us all realize that truly this is the greatest work entrusted to man. We are encouraged every day by the fine cooperation given to the whole program by the students. We are looking forward to even greater blessings as the school year continues. Your interest and prayers are solicited for Milo Academy, that this school may continue to be a haven of refuge for every student here.

Mill City Pathfinders

The Pathfinders of the Mill City Company went out on Halloween night to give out the little tracts provided for the occasion. They collected 141 cans of food and $8.69 in cash which they plan to use in making Thanksgiving baskets for the needy in the community. There were eight Pathfinders and two smaller children who participated. Already one family, who lost everything in a fire recently, has been helped with food and clothing. The Pathfinders—just being organized under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Rufner—are very active in working. They have also been out selling Christmas cards to help to buy much-needed books and a moving picture projector for the new church school just starting out this year. We are very proud of the fine work of our boys and girls and look for great things from them as they really get organized and going strong.

A candlelight service is planned for the night of the 21st with supper and fine moving pictures on nature.

Mount Ellis News

The students of Mount Ellis Academy are bubbling over with the excitement of raising $1,500 for their Associated Student Body campaign.

The money is being raised for physical education equipment and stage curtains.

The students are enjoying the facilities and the wonderful classrooms of the new administration building, but as one student says, "We need even more equipment, and it would surely be nice if we had curtains for the stage, especially for amateur hour, Melody Lane, etc."

Each student is expected to raise a minimum of fifteen dollars. There are some who have already raised their goal and plan to get even more money.

Physical education equipment is the main goal of their campaign. They plan to raise enough money to buy spring boards, a tumbling horse, parallel bars, mats, and other equipment for tumbling.

The leaders of the campaign are Dorothy Emmerson and Ray Cummings, both juniors. They were elected to keep the students interested in the campaign and to put on skits in the Associated Student Body meetings for the raising of the $1,500.

Larry Gore and Carolyn Ruddle were each presented a beautiful desk pen set for being the first ones to raise their goals.

You are invited to send a contribution. The students would appreciate it very much. They would surely like to see Mount Ellis get the facilities it needs, and with your help, it will get what it needs.

All you have to do is send your money to: Associated Student Body, Mount Ellis Academy, Bozeman, Montana.

Thank you.

"It is Written"

The program for It is Written on November 21 is, "God and the Cities." Be sure to invite others to tune in to Channel 11, KTNT-TV, Saturday night at 7 o'clock and enjoy these wonderful programs. We have some more interesting comments from viewers of the program this week.

"Would you please send me the pamphlet Take His Word. We enjoy It is Written very much, and would not miss it for anything. Even though we are of a different faith, he makes everything so clear, it makes one stop and think. Please have him continue this wonderful program."—Mountlake Terrace, Wash.

"Thanks for our literature. We think this is the best program on the air, and only wish it was a longer program. We could enjoy it every evening. May God bless you and keep you and help your work to reach many people. Remember us in your prayers and we will continue to pray for guidance and strength in this kind of work."—Lacey, Wash.

"I must let you know how much I enjoy your program, It Is Written. It is very inspiring and gives one a desire to live better. So many programs are about crime or evil that I very seldom watch TV. I think it would be a blessing to our young people if they could see more pictures like It Is Written.—Olympia, Wash.

"Three weeks ago by accident, I had Channel 11 on and listened to Rev. Vandeman. I write for the study guides, and already I am beginning to know how to understand God's Word. I am enclosing these summary sheets along with my sincere appreciation of the help you have given me to better understand God's Word and the Bible. Thank you for the help you have given me and God bless you for the wonderful work there are many like myself so filled with emotional tensions and fear, they need help to understand."—Burlington, Wash.

Evangelism in Anacortes

Immediately after the close of the 1959 Washington Conference camp meeting season the Mittleider-Cummings "Christ Our Hope" evangelistic team set up an operational base at the Walla Walla College Biological Station near Anacortes. Extensive pre-campaign plans were laid and, with the full cooperation of Dr. Harold Coffin and other staff and student members of the Biological Station Summer School, an active program was put into operation. Local church members, together with the student group, blanketed the city with literature for six weeks prior to the meetings. A daily radio broadcast was used to stimulate interest in the campaign.

The congregation in Anacortes is very small, but thanks to the support of our good people in the surrounding area, attendance at the meetings was beyond what could be normally expected. A number of families came regularly from as far away as Seattle. Several families donated their vacation time to assist in the meetings. Under the influence of the preaching of Elder Kenneth Mittleider and the inspiring music of the Cummings family, a goodly number of hearts were touched and attracted to the kingdom of God.

The series ended on August 30. Since that time more than ten souls have been added to the churches of the surrounding area and a number of interested persons are still being contacted and studied with each week. The Anacortes church not only received the blessing of new members, but it has also greatly profited from the inspiration of being able to be a part of a concentrated soul-winning program. The small group of believers there have a new spirit of love for the Lord and for one another, and together they are working hard to make their church a bright light in their community. Many thanks to the members of the evangelistic team, and the faithful members of other congregations who helped to support these meetings.

First Washington Conference Pathfinder Olympics

For the first time in Conference history the Pathfinder clubs from western Washington met at Fort Casey State Park on Sunday, October 4, for a huge Pathfinder Olympics. The day dawned clear and beautiful and by nine o'clock more than 400 Pathfinders and officers together with several hundred visitors and parents were enjoying the facilities of the fort. As the crowd increased, the young people started participating in time trial elimination contests and in exploring the hundreds of cement embattlements of the old abandoned fort.

At one o'clock, with a nice wind blowing in from the Straits of Juan de Fuca, the Olympics events began. Color and interest were also added by a number of huge multicolored and unusually shaped kites made and brought to the occasion by the various Pathfinder clubs. At the close of the day when the points were tallied, Monroe "Evergreen" Pathfinder Club took the yearly rotating trophy with a total of 196 points. Close behind in second place with 190 points was Puyallup; and in third place, Enumclaw.

Everyone involved, both Pathfinders and officers, felt that the change offered by the Pathfinder Olympics this year was an interesting one after many years of Pathfinder fairs, and word has reached the MV office that several of the clubs have already begun working on next year's giant Pathfinder Olympics.

A salute to each of the leaders in each of our clubs who make this wonderful soul-winning agency in our church possible!

God's Promises Claimed

The familiar quotation from the writings of Mrs. E. G. White: "The greatest want of the world is the want of men, men who will not be bought or sold; men who in their inmost souls are true and honest; men who do not fear to call sin by its right name; men whose conscience is as true to duty as the needle to the pole; men who will stand for the right though the heavens fall," could properly have become the official theme of the fall student week of prayer at Upper Columbia Academy which was conducted by Elder L. J. Meidinger, October 25 to 31.

Two meetings a day were held—an evening meeting at 8:15 o'clock in lieu of the worship hour, and a special chapel session daily at 11 a.m. Early in the week 20 prayer bands were formed which met just before the morning assembly period. As the week progressed, a special evening prayer band was formed at the request of the students.

Elder Meidinger's appeals to youth for stronger Christians and deeper faith in God were marked with wonderful responses by the members of the school family. An unusual act of trust was entered into Wednesday evening following a special study on faith and God's willingness to aid man in overcoming temptation.

A call was made to students to prove the Lord, by requesting assistance in overcoming their most serious besetment in an unusual manner. The problem was to be written on a small card and then with a heart dedicated to the Lord and with supplication for help, this outward token was placed on an open Bible in the front of the chapel. The accompanying picture shows the Bible opened to the appropriate text, Proverbs 3:5, 6: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths," which was read for the students' encouragement in the call. Almost three hundred members of the school family crowded forward to appeal for God's special help in this manner and a number have already publicly testified to God's faithfulness in completely removing the stated inclination towards wrongdoing, or the granting of greater strength in combating a known sin.

In the final evening meeting, opportunity for public testimony was given and many rejoiced in their special blessings received during the week. A number thanked Elder Meidinger publicly for his ministry, who then again kindly turned the students' minds to the Great Giver of all happiness and freedom and expressed his pleasure in having had a part in bringing messages that had stirred youthful hearts.

The week was closed appropriately on Sabbath morning with the celebration of the ordinances. Without question, the Week of Prayer services and the special counseling sessions did much to strengthen the spiritual determination of many of the students and for the eleven who are now studying weekly in the baptismal band, and who will soon be baptized, this week was decision week with eternal destiny at stake.

New School Building In Coeur d'Alene

The readers of the GLEANER will be interested in the new school building that has just been completed in Coeur d'Alene. For many years this new school has been the dream of the Coeur d'Alene church. It was with much faith, prayer, and sacrifice that this modern structure was begun in the early spring of 1958. Four acres of land was purchased on Locust Street between Second and Third Streets for $5,000. This lovely monument of Christian education now stands completed at a total cost of $45,000.

The building is 140 feet in length and 33 feet in depth. There are four class rooms 24 feet by 30 feet. Aluminum windows cover the entire length of the building on both the front and back side. The exterior construction is of brick and cedar paneling. Each room has the very latest in fluorescent lighting. There is a fine basement 30 feet by 83 feet. This serves as a recreational room for rainy days. The building is heated with oil. A ten-grade, four-teacher school is in operation. Miss Beverly Petersen is teaching grades one to four; Jack Osborne teaches grades five to eight, and Vernon Schmidt and Mrs. Vernon Schmidt teach grades nine and ten. Mrs. Schmidt teaches Home Economics as well as assisting in history and English. The tenth-grade students may now go to Spangle with 10½ units of credit. At the present time there are fifty-one students enrolled, fifteen in grades nine and ten.

Should there be those who might be interested in attending a modern ten-grade school it might be well to get in touch with the Coeur d'Alene school. The school is staffed and equipped for over a hundred students. Tuition rates are very moderate and there are opportunities for those who might like to board and room in Adventist homes. For further information, contact Vernon Schmidt, principal, 715 S. 12th, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Omak District Meeting

On Sabbath, October 31, a combined district meeting of the Omak and Oroville districts was held in the Omak school auditorium. A good representation from the four churches was present for the Sabbath school under the leadership of Sister Hattie Haeberle, superintendent of the Omak church. Brother Leroy Moore, pastor of Oroville district, led out in a stimulating Sabbath school lesson study, stressing the importance of our time and talents, and the awareness of responsibility of these God-given gifts. For the eleven o'clock service we were privileged to have Brother Boardman Noland of Spokane with us as our guest speaker. His topic, "Liberty," inspired everyone anew with thanksgiving that, living in such a time as this when there is great evidence of the undermining of our religious liberties, we can live secure in the eternal liberty made possible through Christ.

After partaking of a bountiful potluck dinner, the congregation reassembled to witness the baptism of two candidates; one joining the Brewster church and the other the Omak church.

COLLEGE PLACE YOUTH CENTER

The Lord's richest blessing was extended to these new members of God's remnant church. Following this inspiring service, a panel discussion was conducted with Brother Jack Cockrane, of Tonasket, as the moderator. The topic for discussion was, "The Adventist and His Community." New insights regarding our community relations were received by all present. The panel retained a high interest level due to the moderator's enthusiastic leadership. To close the day's program, a new motion picture, "Footsteps of Livingstone," was shown, and the evening was devoted to recreation.

Once again it was good to have met together in fellowship with God and with one another. We in the northern part of our conference are looking forward to the day of our Lord's return. Our minds are now being directed toward our Ingathering program. This annual missionary endeavor will again prove a blessing to all who participate in it. God is counting on every one of us to do our part in hastening "the gospel into all the world" so that the promise of Christ's return may be fulfilled.

Youth Leaders Hold Rally

A Youth Rally, under the direction of Elder John Hancock, with Elder Theodore Lucas as guest speaker, will begin on the WWC campus Friday evening, November 20, at 7:30 and continue through the Sabbath. Missionary Volunteer officers and members are invited to share the inspiration of the sermons, instructions, pictures and fine music planned for the occasion.

A Missionary Volunteer secretaries' conference for the North Pacific Union will precede the rally beginning on Wednesday evening.

Dr. Shryock Speaks During Health Week

Dr. Harold Shryock, chairman of the department of anatomy at the College of Medical Evangelists, is the guest speaker during the special week of mental health emphasis sponsored by the Health and Safety Committee whose chairman is Professor F. R. Hanson, dean of the school of nursing at WWC, and coordinated by Miss Katty Joy Fenton, director of the health service.

During Health Week, dedicated to the better understanding of health principles and their application, Dr. Shryock will discuss such interesting topics as "This is Your Romance," "Health and Everyday Living," "This is your Future," and "Chosen Vessels."

Monday's chapel talk, "This is Your Brain," was the first of thirteen lectures which the noted author will present to various groups making up the entire school community.

Dr. Shryock, author of Happiness for Husbands and Wives, Highways to Health, Mind if I Smoke, and many other books, was born in Seattle. He received his B.S. from PUC, his M.A. from the University of Southern California, and his M.D. from CME.

His wide experience in education, ranging from instructor in the department of anatomy to dean of the school of medicine at CME, has given him a valuable understanding of human relations and the art of counseling.

Counseling sessions are available to individuals who wish to speak personally with Dr. Shryock.

Introducing the Health Week last Friday in chapel, Mrs. Carl T. Jones, instructor in nursing education, moderated a panel which discussed ways of becoming more efficient through the application of practical health knowledge. Panel members were Elsie Bolton, Wenatchee, Washington; Bob Visser, Orting, Washington; Ed Castner, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Kenneth McGaughey and Malcolm Murdoch, College Place. The religious activities committee of the Associated Students sponsored the chapel program.

Dietetic Association Meet Hosted

The Walla Walla College food service department hosted a meeting of the Washington State Dietetic Association Monday evening, November 11, in the Alaskan Room of Kellogg Hall.

Preceding the formal meeting, Clinton Wall, director of WWC's food service, entertained representatives of food supply houses at the evening meal for which they were served in the regular cafeteria line to acquaint them with the service.

Miss Dorothy Syme, program chairman for the local dietetic group, had arranged a program featuring the guests as speakers. Other special guests were food service personnel from the Washington State Penitentiary, Whitman College, and the public school system.

Idaho

A Quick Campaign in '59

In harmony with the General Conference recommendation and the lush situation for caroling at Christmas time, the Idaho Conference machinery has been set up for a quick Ingathering campaign in '59. It seems that just so many hours are necessary every year to put the Ingathering over, so this year instead of spending eight or ten weeks our plan is to spend four concentrated weeks. We are asking those who do the business solicitation to plan to have it finished by December 23 if at all possible. Likewise, the caroling should end at least by the night of the 23rd of December, thus bringing to a successful conclusion the Ingathering campaign in 1959. If every able-bodied member will participate, this will become a reality.

If your church is not organized for this type of campaign please volunteer your services to the responsible officers and encourage them to organize for a quick campaign in '59.

Vacation Bible School Follow-Up

A word about the results of the La Grande Vacation Bible School. As is the case with all successful Vacation Bible Schools, much planning and work were involved. Sister Marie Spears and her assistants gave unstintingly of their time and energy and once again the wonderful, loving message of Jesus was brought to tender receptive hearts.

Too often, however, there is little follow-up work with interested children and parents. This year this challenge was met for the primary age children by Sister Jessie Curtis' Bible Explorer's club. This club was organized as a weekly meeting for those children who signed up for the Voice of Prophecy Bible correspondence course. Social activities and crafts were added and now the club has developed into a permanent program. Half of the children who attend the weekly club meeting come from non-Adventist homes and the response to the club by both children and parents is encouraging. It is planned now that this Bible Explorer's club will be to our Pathfinder club what the Cub Scouts are to the Boy Scouts.

Colored Quartet Coming to Gem State Academy

On Saturday evening, November 21, at 8:00 o'clock, the Mississippi Jubilee Singers will present a program at Gem State Academy.

The Mississippi Jubilee Singers make up one of the best-known Jubilee quartets of the entire country. With their unique background of experience and training they form a combination of voices seldom equalled. Probably no Jubilee male quartet in America gives a more authentic interpretation of Negro spirituals. The repertoire of the Mississippians is extensive, including the best in Negro music. The entire program reflects the humor, the deep religious flavor, the drama and pathos, the good nature, and the musical gift of their race.

This unusual quartet is under the personal direction of Mr. Thomas J. Pruitt of Berkeley, California. Mr. Pruitt is a graduate of the famous Negro School at Piney Woods, Mississippi. He is a master in the field of music and readings. His dramatic selections of his own race are a high spot of the program.

These beautiful voices have unusual blending in rare harmonies, and with their well-selected numbers and a highly developed perfection in quartet work, are accorded today the unique reputation of being the finest quartet presenting their type of music.

An informative talk at the start of the program explains the nature of the Negro folk music. Humor and comedy are always an outstanding element in the Jubilee program and this is no exception. Masters of comedy all, yet no trace of burlesque enters. Several years of radio experience over Western stations and the National Broadcasting System of San Francisco have made them well known and widely popular.
