Sabbath School Child Evangelism Workshop

HAYDEN LAKE, IDAHO, JUNE 5-11, 1960

DON'T MISS BEING THERE!

Many Sabbath school teachers, leaders, and others interested, are sending in their applications to attend the Union-wide workshop at Hayden Lake. Every Sabbath school in the Union should have at least one delegate there. We want to share some of the letters that have come to us about a similar workshop held two years ago.

"The workshop in 1958 brings back many memories to me. It was such an inspiration to be with so many devoted workers for God. I am looking forward to the workshop at Hayden Lake, June 5-11. Enclosed is my application for enrollment and $5 deposit."—Mrs. Ruth Stratton, Pasco, Washington.

"I am writing to tell you that the Child Evangelism Workshop in 1958 at Hayden Lake was one of the most inspiring camps I have ever attended. If one wants to catch the spirit of working for the salvation of the boys and girls, they should plan to come to the workshop being planned for Camp MiVoden this summer. It will be a wonderful week, and one will be inspired with greater determination to help finish the work.—Mrs. Ruth E. Hunt, Newport, Washington.

"I would like to express my great appreciation for the help received at the two Hayden Lake Workshops that I have attended, in 1954 and 1958. There is no other place or way in which I would rather spend my vacation, for these workshops provide a well-balanced program of recreation, pleasure, and learning. I would encourage anyone who can possibly do so to attend. I feel there is no better way to become an enthusiastic Sabbath school worker and winner of souls."—Mrs. Carey K. Eastwood, Waterville, Washington.

"I am sending in my $5 with my application for attendance at the Hayden Lake Workshop. I attended the last one in 1958. I feel like I could write a book on the things I saw and learned about Sabbath school work. It was a wonderful help and inspiration. My advice to other Sabbath school workers is, if you do not have time to go to this workshop in June you had better make time!"—Violet Waldrum, Sedro Woolley, Washington.

"I was thrilled to hear that you are planning another workshop at Hayden Lake. I have already sent in my application to attend. The 1958 workshop was the first time in my life I have ever attended anything like this, and until then I knew little about children's division work. I feel that it is through child evangelism that our church is going to grow. No effort or time is too much to help our boys and girls nearer to Jesus."—Shirley B. Bilbro, Ephrata, Washington.

"My husband and I attended the 1958 Hayden Lake Workshop and it was the most profitable and wonderful week we ever spent. We have since been able to do a much greater work in the Cradle Roll department of our Sabbath school. Our application has been in for sometime for the workshop to be held in June at Hayden Lake. We are hoping and praying that nothing prevents us from attending this year.—Mrs. Dan Langlitz, McMinnville, Oregon

Sabbath school workers throughout the North Pacific, we appeal to you again, do not miss being there! Where could you spend a week more profitably as a time of recreation and inspiration than at Hayden Lake June 5-11? Many applications have come in, but there is still space for more. Remember, the expense of attending is little more than it will cost you to remain at home. At the last workshop, several professional men, with their wives, attended—dentists, physicians, ministers, et cetera. They took this as their vacation time, and they enjoyed every minute of it. If you have not sent in your application yet, better do so immediately. Send it to your local conference Sabbath school secretary.

Again we remind you, do not miss being there!

CURRENT NEEDS AT CME

At the College of Medical Evangelists' Board meetings which I attended two weeks ago the reports given indicated progress along all lines. At the same time, the problems facing the carrying forward of a strong medical college are gigantic. Decisions which must be met in the near future are of vital importance not only to the medical college but to the work of our denomination. Surely as a people we must pray that the Board may make no mistakes. It is the privilege of each of us not only to pray for the institution and those who are connected with it, but also to have a personal part in the growth and success of the medical college, by giving a liberal contribution on Sabbath, May 28, when an offering is taken throughout our churches in the North American Division. Let us ever remember that "The liberal soul shall be made fat."

Medical Evangelism Institute at CME

The second annual Medical Evangelism Institute was held on the Loma Linda campus of the College of Medical Evangelists recently and had as its theme, "The Ministry of Healing." Persons participating included CME faculty, alumni, personnel, visiting teachers, and pastors. Their common goal was to learn better how to utilize their professional training and experience to win souls. Their varied backgrounds enabled them to present the principles and practices of medical evangelism to the 200 who attended the Institute.

Purpose of the all-day activities were to review the meaning of and reason for the health message as connected with the Seventh-day Adventist Church and to further acquaint students and those attending with the role of medical evangelism in professional life.

Master Guides at Columbia Academy

"With such an army of workers as our youth rightly trained might furnish" . . . The Master Guide training program sponsored by the Missionary Volunteer Department is designed to fulfill the above oft-quoted phrase from the pen of Mrs. E. G. White.

The administration and faculty of Columbia Academy through the years have realized the importance of Master Guide training. A candlelight investiture service on the evening of April 27 in the Meadow Glade church climaxed another year's Master Guide training course with the dedication of 18 new Master Guides. This year's investiture service marked the tenth consecutive year at Columbia Academy during which investitures have been held. The number having been invested as Master Guides the past ten years at Columbia totals 84, with 1960 and 1954 tying for highest year with 18 each. The success of this training program has largely been due to the fine work of Mrs. Gertrude Pyke who has been the sponsor year after year.

Included among the group invested this year were three members of the faculty, Mr. Joshua Wall, Miss Gladys Robison, and Mr. Art Nelson.

Anniversary

The many friends of Elder and Mrs. J. T. Jacobs of Brookings, Oregon, will be pleased to hear that they recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding. Brother and Sister Jacobs were married April 28, 1900, in Pueblo, Colorado.

Evangelism in Salem

Public evangelistic meetings will begin in Salem in September. If you read this notice in the GLEANER several weeks ago and intended to send the name of a friend or loved one to be contacted, but did not, please do it now. I feel that there is someone who has put off this important matter. Please delay no longer. The sooner we have the names the more personal work we will have time to do.

This group of students and faculty of Columbia Academy were invested as Master Guides, April 27. From left to right they are—Front Row: Miss Gladys Robison, Mrs. G. Pyke, Fern Payne, Bonnie Hoffman, Janice Payne. Second Row: Mr. Art Nelson, Mr. Joshua Wall, Bonnie Kendall, Kathi Strunk, Gwyn Olmstead, Charlotte Tucker, Jim Nelson, Nancy Devitt, Lawrence Lashier, Lynn Wheeler, Karen Lloyd, Robert Wresch, Cliff Romig, Paul Cole.

We want the names and addresses of all former members now living in the Salem area. Please include any background information that might be of help to us. We also want the names of any who have studied our message or shown a definite interest in any way.

We appreciate the many names received in response to our earlier request. Almost all of these have already been contacted once. However, in most cases we will not have a report for you until the public meetings

Send that name today to: George E. Knowles, 145 Candalaria Blvd., S., Salem, Oregon.

The Spillman-Lyman-Wyman Union Winter Meetings

The winter meetings of the Spillman-Lyman-Wyman Union Team, held 70 nights at Portland Oriental Theater, and 15 nights in the Youth Center at College Place, came to a close April 29. To date 209 have been baptized or come into the church by profession of faith.

The offerings for these meetings amounted to approximately $10,000.

Our regular evangelistic team consisted of Elder Lewis Lyman, treasurer, public relations, and personal worker;

Elder C. Lloyd Wyman, music director and personal worker (who accepted a call to Southern California at the close of our Portland effort); Elder Robert Letcher, projectionist and personal worker; Olive Davies and Florence Backstrom, Bible instructors; Ray Anderson (during first half in Portland) personal worker; Elsie Fitzgerald, organist; and Mrs. Spillman and Mrs. Wyman, pianists. Mrs. Lyman was head usherette and assisted in the music. A large usherette corps did splendid and faithful work. We deeply appreciate their good help.

The Knights of Song male quartet were a very integral part of our team as they assisted ably from night to night. We wish to express our appreciation to those of our pastors and lay members in Portland and College Place who supported our meetings loyally by their prayers and presence. We express gratitude also to the Conference administration who backed us willingly in a financial way.

I want to express my personal appreciation to each member of our regular evangelistic team who worked faithfully in all kinds of weather in visiting the homes of our interested people.

We covet your prayers for our Vancouver, Washington, campaign which will begin September 10 in the Carpenter's Hall.

Osburn, Idaho, Welfare Center Dedication

The sunny afternoon of April 28 was a day of rejoicing for the church members of the Osborne, Idaho, Seventh-day Adventist church. On this afternoon, a former citadel of evil was converted into a building whose services are dedicated to the Lord.

Located on the busy U.S. highway, No. 10, only half a block from the Seventh-day Adventist church, is the newest Welfare Service Center in the Upper Columbia Conference. The excellent location of the service center had formerly served as a tavern, but now the poor and needy in heart, soul, and body will receive benefit for both their physical and spiritual needs.

We were very fortunate to have assisting in the dedication services, the leading county commissioner, the chairman of the village board, the county Red Cross director, and other county officials, as well as the conference president, treasurer, and home missionary secretary.

Shown in the accompanying photograph is Mr. Gus Voltolini, the county commissioner who officially opened our Welfare Service Center by cutting the satin ribbon.

The welcoming speeches on behalf of the county, the village, and the Red Cross officials were most friendly and sincere. They all expressed their deep appreciation for the welfare work our church was conducting, and pledged their utmost cooperation with us in our endeavor.

The Service Center director, Sister Maxine Johnson (shown in the ribbon-cutting photo) gave an excellent report of the welfare activities of the church for the past year. The officials of the area were amazed to learn that our small society, during the year past, accomplished nearly as much for the needy as had some of the official organizations.

Many expressions of appreciation were given to the writer concerning the dedicatory sermonette given by Elder Bunker, the president of Upper Columbia Conference. Mr. Voltolini, himself a faithful member of the Roman Catholic Church, stated, "My that was a wonderful talk, I certainly enjoyed it very much." We are assured, judging by the favorable reaction and comments of those who were concerned with this opening, that many leaders now have a clearer and more favorable impression of the Seventh-day Adventists than before.

The response of the public was also most gratifying. The county welfare director was very enthusiastic over the program that Seventh-day Adventists follow in welfare work. She said, speaking for the entire county regarding our Center: "This is the greatest thing that has ever been done in Shoshone county in the line of the welfare program."

Official opening of the Osburn, Idaho, Welfare Center.

The newspapers and radio station were both very cooperative in publicizing our opening ceremonies. The radio station carried a taped five-minute personal interview with the pastor several times throughout the two days preceding the opening date.

Quite a number of professional and business people (aside from those participating in the opening) confided to the pastor that they had heard the radio announcement and wished the church every success in the wonderful program they had launched.

Following the dedication service, the visitors were treated to refreshments of punch and cookies prepared by the Dorcas Society ladies. It was very impressive to see them in their new uniforms as they served the guests.

Since the time of our Service Center opening, over 3,000 men have been forced out of work due to a major labor strike. This has proved to be a crippling blow to this entire area, and there is no indication of an early settlement of the situation. However, if this labor situation continues into the winter months, our welfare center will prove a tremendous blessing to the scores of families that will be in need.

As we contemplate what has already been accomplished, we can only humbly say, "What God hath wrought!" In view of the economic crisis facing us in the mining area of the Coeur d'Alenes, we sincerely ask for the prayers of God's people, that we might be the instrument for Him to render both physical and spiritual help to any of His children in need.

Youth Effort at Coeur d'Alene

Sabbath, May 7, brought a real thrill to the youth of the Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, church as they witnessed the baptism of 15 precious souls. They were thrilled because six of these were the first fruit of "Operation Fireside."

On Sunday night, February 28, "Operation Fireside" was begun with 27 youth and sponsors participating. For eight consecutive weeks these young people gave Bible studies in eight different homes.

During the week of April 17 to 23 nightly services were held in the church with the youth taking care of the ushering, special music, music directing, playing of organ and piano, etc. The attendance was outstanding and grew from night to night. The young people did a fine job in this soul-winning endeavor.

Among those baptized was one of the "Fireside" teams. These two young people presented the sanctuary service and the 2300 days in the series of Bible studies.

We are very proud of our youth and rejoice with them in their endeavor to serve the Master.

Newport, Washington, District

As I read the GLEANER from week to week I am often disappointed that there is not more news of my own conference, and wish that my fellow laborers would tell something of the work in their districts, but suddenly I realize that it has been a long time since I have written anything.

Newport is a small district consisting of three churches: Newport, Edgemere and Ione. We were in that district one year and seven months. We fell in love with the district upon our very first week there. The earnest zeal of the members for the work of God and ready cooperation made it a real pleasure to work with them.

The Newport church, which was very much in need of repairs, we raised on timbers and a full basement was built under it. A new furnace was installed, a room in the back was enlarged to be used as a school room. Last fall a church school was begun with Mr. Harold Harvey of Hermiston, Oregon, as their teacher.

Last fall a series of meetings was started in the Newport church, but was soon moved to a larger hall downtown. The Newport and Edgemere churches did a wonderful job of finding and bringing interested people to the meetings. After the meetings closed, studies were conducted for interested people. The Ione church was too far away to help much in the meetings, but Bible studies were also conducted at Ione. The Sabbath of April 30 was a high day for the people of the district. Eight souls were baptized. Three were baptized at Ione Sabbath morning in the river, and five were baptized at Newport in the afternoon. This makes a total of thirteen during the time we were there. Each of the churches are doing their share and seeing the results of their labors.

Much of the work in remodeling the Newport church is still to be done. We wish that we could have finished the building before leaving the district, but must fit into the larger picture. The conference has called us to a new district and we must leave to Elder Davidson, the new pastor, much of the work which we did not finish. Elder Davidson is in the Newport district now and is already loved by those who have met him.

And so the work of God moves forward. Workers are moved and the believers who love them are sorry to see them go, and that is as it should be. But as new ministers fill their places, new ideas and different personalities attract and draw new interests and the work of God is rounded out and prepared for the great harvest of souls at the end of the world.

Bozeman High Schools See Temperance Film

During the last two weeks in April, the film "One in Twenty Thousand" was shown daily in the Bozeman high school classes. In the senior high school there were 14 showings, with over 380 viewing the film. The students who first viewed the picture, were so enthusiastic in their remarks about the film, other classes could hardly wait until their turn came to view it. The Counsellor and Guidance teacher thought it a wonderful film for the students to see.

The picture was next shown to the junior high school, where over 350 students saw the picture. The Counsellor teacher was so favorably impressed with the film, he arranged to show it to the National Guard. Approximately 50 of the guard viewed the picture.

To Mrs. E. H. Tucker goes the credit for getting this excellent temperance film into the high schools of Bozeman. Mrs. Tucker has also been very active in the work of the W.C.T.U. in Bozeman.

Eastern Montana Dorcas Activities

The Eastern Montana Dorcas Federation met in Plentywood, Montana, on April 27. The societies making up this federation are Plentywood, Glendive, Miles City, Fallon, Ft. Peck, and Jordan. The members from Miles City had the longest drive to make—220 miles—to Plentywood.

It was profitable for so many Dorcas members to be together to fellowship and gain inspiration from the messages presented. Mrs. C. S. Tange, of Poplar, is Federation president and prepared the program for the day. Visiting ministers were Elder A. E. Soper from Billings, Elder Ralph Gladden from Bozeman, Elder Gerhart Schwarz from Williston, and Pastor Larry Lewis from Glendive. Our local pastor, Edmund Jones, had the morning devotional.

Elder Soper brought a very practical message for the main address of the morning with ideas on how to increase attendance and participation in our Dorcas societies. It is said of Dorcas of old that her skillful fingers were more active than her tongue. Elder Soper told of a family who are now members of the Jamestown, North Dakota, church because four years before when their house and belongings burned, the Adventist Dorcas Society were the first ones there to give assistance to them. Dorcas work is evangelism and opens up people's hearts for the message.

Our Dorcas societies of the Eastern Federation are busy at work. Here are a few examples of what they are doing:

The Fallon society placed seven new denominationally published books in the Miles City Industrial School for boys. During the past seven months they have sent 49 boxes, and 75 letters to boys at the school with whom they are corresponding.

The Miles City society sent twelve bouquets of flowers to their local hospital over the six-month period. A widow and four children were given food. Another family of whom the father is dying of cancer has been given aid. Articles of clothing numbering 225 have been given to another large family who are in need.

In Glendive a family of five children were supplied with a quilt and blankets. Food, toys, and clothing were assembled in boxes for distribution at Christmas time. Dorcas members have visited a German lady who is in a wheel chair and have given her bouquets of flowers and dresses to wear. Members of the Dorcas Society visit the Old Folks Home and take them cookies and oranges.

In the Plentywood Dorcas there is one member who is unable to hear or speak, and yet she has made two scrapbooks of old greeting cards, and these will be given to the hospital to spread cheer. Six sheets were made and sent to the Navaho Mission School in Arizona. Fifteen copies of the book Love Unlimited have been placed in the rooms of the local hospital. One lady, 89 years old, who was bedfast, had no desire to live until our Dorcas members started visiting her regularly and giving her help. Now she is able to be up, and can even go for car rides occasionally. Her outlook on life has changed and she has been made happier as she realized that there is someone who cares for her.

As Jesus went about doing good, let us follow in His footsteps. There are great possibilities in welfare work. If people see the demonstration of the gospel in our lives, they will want to have a part of it too. Are you an active Dorcas worker?

Montana News

Butte-Anaconda: Elder A. M. Matar who is conducting evangelistic meetings two nights a week in Butte, and two nights a week in Anaconda, was called to California to attend the funeral services of his sister. However, his night meetings were advertised and someone must carry on. Elder Ralph Gladden who had had experience in pastor-evangelistic work, kindly consented to step in and fill the appointments for Elder Matar who left by plane for California, Wednesday, May 10. Elder Gladden reports that he has thoroughly enjoyed the five evangelistic meetings he has conducted in Anaconda and Butte. Brother E. H. Tucker filled appointments for Elder Matar at Boulder and Helena, on Sabbath, May 14.

One Hundred Per Cent Investiture at Hot Springs and Kalispell:

Two of the three schools that had investitures this year are eligible for the 100 per cent plaque. The teacher's name and the year of 1960 will be engraved in gold. Each of these teachers, Mrs. Vera Folks, Kalispell, and Mr. Ted Pyke, Hot Springs, had heavy school teaching loads.

Yes, it can be done. It means a great deal to the children to receive these awards of achievement. A record will be kept of all 100 per cent investitures in each school. Your school can qualify. Make sure it does.

A Planting Bee: Tuesday evening, May 9, six members of the Conference office staff met at the office at 6:30 to participate in a planting bee. Several flats of "Pink Magic" petunias were planted both in the front and at the back of the office. Shrubs have also been planted this spring and our corner at North 15th and Main streets is fast becoming a very attractive place.

Evangelism in Sidney

A series of evangelistic meetings has begun in Sidney, Montana. The opening meeting was May 6, and the meetings will continue on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and Wednesday nights until June 5.

Edmund Jones, pastor of the Plentywood church is the speaker, and Curtiss Dale is music director for the meetings. Mrs. Dale is hostess and Mrs. Jones is pianist.

The N.Y.A. Hall in downtown Sidney, across from the courthouse, has been rented for the meetings. About 100 chairs have been set up. The stage has been attractively arranged with hydrangea plants on either side of the pulpit, and spotlights on a scenic picture in the background. A sound motion picture is shown each evening preceding the service. The "Life of Paul" series, and the Walt Disney nature films are being used.

The first three meetings have been well attended. Church members from Glendive and Plentywood and other surrounding towns are giving their support. There is no Adventist church in Sidney, and this is the first time that any Adventist evangelistic meetings have been held. There is only one elderly Adventist couple in Sidney who are church members, but they are attending regularly even though one is in a wheel chair. Approximately 11 to 15 local non-Adventists are attending.

Sidney is a very lovely town of 4,000 people. It is one of the neatest and most attractive towns in Montana. There are many churches there. People may be satisfied with what they have instead of wanting to drink deeper into the fountain of life. Please pray with us that this may not be so, but that many will want to hear the messages that are being preached in their town which will lead them more closely in step with the Master.

Summer Session Plans Revealed for Study at Rosario Beach

Plans for the summer session beginning June 14 at the Walla Walla College Biological Station seven miles south of Anacortes at Rosario Beach have been announced by Dr. Harold Coffin, head of the Department of Biological Science.

In addition to the regular departmental staff members, four other professors will augment the teaching staff for the summer. These will include Dr. Asa C. Thoreson, visiting professor of biology; Dr. E. S. Booth, research professor of zoology, and former head of WWC's department; Dr. Carl T. Jones, chairman of WWC's Department of Chemistry, and Kenneth Groves, assistant to WWC's business manager, whose graduate degree is in biology. He will teach ichthyology and direct the second term of the summer session at the station while Dr. Coffin is away on a geological tour.

Miss Beatrice Emery, assistant professor of biology, who spent the last two summers at the University of Michigan Biological Station, will teach courses in systematic and marine botany.

The wide range of subjects, and the ideal location and situation for summer school study and laboratory work, make it possible for undergraduates to pursue regular courses or for graduate students to do research and seminar studies in such varied fields as marine biology and vertebrate natural history.

The degrees of bachelor of arts, bachelor of science, and master of arts are offered with majors in biology or zoology.

Dr. Coffin returned Monday from a weekend at the station where he reports progress in readying the station for the summer session students. Two graduate students are currently doing research at the station in marine biology.

Facilities and equipment at the station located adjacent to Deception Pass State Park on 40 acres of beach and timber land include 37 buildings. An assembly hall, two laboratories which provide marine aquaria with a constant supply of running sea water, dining hall, and kitchen, shops, and 27 cottages are on the property. Seven boats including two cabin cruisers are used for collecting on excursions.

Dr. Coffin will be one of the Seventh-day Adventist college scientists taking a 1900-mile geological tour sponsored by the Geo-Science Research Center of Andrews University from August 3 to

23. The tour will begin at Yellowstone Park and end at the Grand Canyon. Two members of the three-man research team to direct the tour have been named. They are Dr. F. L. Marsh, professor of philosophical biology and paleontology at the University and Dr. Richard M. Ritland, whose research in vertebrate morphology and paleontology has made him especially fitted for membership on the team.

Staff Member to Be Added at Portland

Miss Ingrid Rudy, Walla Walla College alumna, will join the staff of the clinical division of the WWC School as instructor in surgical nursing in July. Dr. R. H. Brown, dean of administration, has announced.

A graduate of Washington Missionary College with a B.S. in nursing, Miss Rudy took her Master of Arts degree in education with a concentration in nursing education from WWC in 1959. She is currently instructor in nursing education at Emmanuel Missionary College.
