

LAST CALL!

PUBLIC RELATIONS WORKSHOP Gladstone Park, February 6-8

B. M. PRESTON, Secretary
Public Relations Dept., North Pacific Union Conference

Are you a Church Press Secretary? Have you made plans to attend the Public Relations Workshop being held for the benefit of all the press secretaries throughout the North Pacific Union Conference? If you have not yet decided to come, it is not too late! You must not miss this marvelous opportunity!

Next Sunday and Monday, press secretaries, institutional personnel, ministers and others interested in church public relations will be leaving by auto, bus or train to attend the largest meeting of its kind ever to be held in the Northwest. Several carloads of delegates will be coming from Idaho including press secretaries from the most distant points in Idaho. Montana will be well represented including delegates from far-away eastern Montana. A large number of delegates will be attending from the conferences closer to Portland, like Upper Columbia, Washington and Oregon. Those who attend this meeting will be happy they came. They will be thankful they made the sacrifice or whatever it takes to be there.

May we again remind all 1961 Church Press secretaries, your conference wants you to attend this workshop. Your church wants you to attend and receive the blessings and benefits of this institute and we are confident will gladly assist you in your travel expense and registration fee of $2.50. If you live more than 400 miles from Portland travel expense for any additional miles will be allowed from the general workshop fund at the rate of two cents per mile.

If you have up to this time been undecided about coming, decide now to come! It is not too late. Do not worry about sending in an application. You can register when you arrive at Gladstone Park. We would suggest you talk with your pastor or local elder so arrangements can be made to give you some assistance on travel. Also it may be arrangements could be made for you to go with other delegates from your section of the conference.

Bring your Church News Manual if you have one. Each conference will have a display of newspaper clippings and we want your choicest clippings included. Bring your best ones or, if you have them filed in a scrap book, bring that for display. Bring your own warm bedding, pillow and towels. A sleeping bag would be ideal. It could be cool nights.

Gladstone Park is the Oregon camp-meeting site at Gladstone, Oregon, situated between Portland and Oregon City. Gladstone is on route 99E. Those arriving by auto from the east should go south on S.E. 82nd Avenue through the town of Clackamas and as they approach Gladstone, the park will be on the right. Those coming by train or bus should take an Oregon City bus and get off in Gladstone.

REMEMBER, every press secretary has an important appointment at Gladstone Park, February 6-8! Do not miss this appointment! First meeting will be 7:30 p.m. Monday. Supper will be served at 6 p.m. You will be so happy you came. We will be looking for you! Pray that this workshop, under the blessing of God, will be the means of advancing His work.

"ALL THE TITHE . . . IS THE LORD'S"

J. C. KOZEL, Treasurer
North Pacific Union Conference

"And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the Lord's: it is holy unto the Lord." Lev. 27:30. This was one of the commandments which the Lord commanded Moses for the children of Israel when they were camped at Mt. Sinai. In the 32nd verse of this same chapter it is made clear that God's claim of one tenth applied to all of man's possessions or property—the flocks and herds are mentioned specifically in addition to the crops produced by the land, the tenth shall be holy unto the Lord. Faithfulness in tithe paying was one of God's special tests for the children of Israel. This requirement remains unchanged. All the tithe is still the Lord's. The command of God to bring all the tithes into the storehouse is one of His special tests for the remnant church today.

It is with genuine pleasure that I present a report on faithfulness in tithe paying of the Seventh-day Adventist church members in the North Pacific Union Conference during the year 1960. God is keeping His word wherein He says: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse . . . and prove me now herewith . . . if I will not open you the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10. How wonderful is God's plan for the support of His work. As God's children are faithful in bringing all the tithes to the storehouse He blesses them to an even greater degree so that they have an even larger amount to return to Him as time goes on.

The year 1960 shows a splendid increase in tithe receipts when compared with 1959. In the Union as a whole there was an increase of $418,237.61

(8.76%) making the total tithe receipts for the year $5,190,852.92. This is an average per member of $137.29. A detailed report by individual conferences is given above.

Although we know that God has richly rewarded you for your faithfulness we wish to express our sincere appreciation for what you have done in supporting the work of God in this section of His vineyard. It seems evident to us that a large majority are meeting God's test by bringing all the tithes into the storehouse. You are to be commended. May you continue to receive the blessings God has promised.

Not only have you been faithful in returning to God that which is His portion, but you have been liberal in your free-will offerings. It has always seemed to me that our offerings, which of course are in addition to the tithe, are an expression of our gratitude to God for His matchless love. All of us thoroughly enjoy giving gifts to our loved ones. What a pleasure it is to give something to God who has done so much for us. We give even as God has prospered us. Sometimes those with comparative little give much because they love much. Your gifts to God in 1960 by way of the Sabbath school mission offering was a wonderful testimony regarding your love for the Lord Jesus. The total amount was $947,797.66, an increase of $86,867.99 (10.09%) over 1959. The average amount on a weekly per member basis was 47.3 cents for the entire Union Conference. Both the Alaska Mission and the Upper Columbia Conference exceeded the General Conference goal of an average of 50 cents per week per member. The report by conferences is printed below.

This is a wonderful report of giving—nearly a million dollars for missions through the Sabbath school. What joy it must bring to the General Conference mission board, to our overseas leaders, and especially to our loved ones who are out there in the far corners of the earth proclaiming the "good news" of Jesus' love and His glorious second coming. I am so happy that I had a share in this valuable gift. Thanks so much for your part of this large offering.

There were other mission offerings in 1960. In one of these our friends joined with us—I refer to the Ingathering. The total for the 1960 campaign was $338,924.53, an increase of $10,399.87 over 1959. The Mid-Summer Offering totaled $12,675.26, the Missions Extension Offering was $15,896.37, and the Week of Prayer and Sacrifice Offering was $42,030.16. The last three offerings fell a little short of the 1959 totals. I am pleased to report that our total mission offerings reached an all-time high of $1,404,496.78, an increase of $92,393.55 (7.04%) over 1959. This was an average of $37.15 per member. In other words, for every dollar tithe paid, twenty-seven cents was provided for missions.

It is difficult to bring this report to a close. It is a good report because of your faithfulness and your liberality. It is my sincere hope that every member in the North Pacific Union will remain true to God during 1961. The evidence is overwhelming that the

A Seventh-day Adventist Church and School In Old Jerusalem

The Thirteenth Sabbath Overflow Offering for the first quarter of 1961 goes to the Middle East Division. The projects that will be sponsored are as follows:

- (1) A new church and school in Jerusalem.
- (2) A Mercy Orphanage in Cairo.
- (3) New industry, Middle East College.

Sometimes the first quarter's overflow is less than the fourth quarter's overflow. Let each one of us give as much or more, for this coming Thirteenth Sabbath, as we did for last Thirteenth Sabbath. The Middle East mission field is a difficult field to work. Our missionaries make a tremendous personal sacrifice. Shall we not determine to support them by our prayers and liberal offerings? Plan now for your largest Thirteenth Sabbath Offering.

Then, too, the brethren in the Middle East are providing a beautiful little memento for those who give $10 or more. The wording on this memento is as follows: "I helped to build our church in Jerusalem." It has on it a cross with a very thin strip of olive wood and pressed flowers from the Garden of Gethsemane. I am sure many will want to get one to keep in their Bibles. The brethren wish that they could give one to everybody but, of course, they have to draw the line somewhere and I am sure that our members will understand. These mementos will be procurable from your local conference Sabbath School secretary.

TV Station Letters Keep Faith For Today on Ohio Station

Recently Marvin Reeder, Radio-TV Secretary of the Ohio Conference, and I visited TV stations in that state. While there we made a courtesy call at WHIZ, Zanesville, which has carried Faith for Today for seven years.

As we talked with the program director, he told about the heavy competition in the field of religious telecasting today. (There now are over 40 religious programs available to stations.) He also remarked that Faith for Today had been scheduled to be dropped on a number of different occasions. The reason for this, we are told, was that the station had carried us for so long it was felt time should be given to another group.

The one big factor which decided that Faith for Today would be continued was the letters of appreciation which were continually being received by the station.

"From the light God has given me, every member among us should sign the pledge and be connected with the temperance association."—"Temperance," p. 220.

Through education, let us counteract the tobacco and liquor propaganda coming daily over the television and radio and in newspapers and magazines. On commitment Day, February 25, sign up a member of the American Temperance Society.

This mail did not consist of a great number of letters. It was only a trickle, but the response was steady and as a result Faith for Today is still on Zanesville.

We have always known that letters of appreciation would help to keep the telecast on for a longer period of time. This, however, is one of the first real proofs that it can save the program.

Are you doing your part to help keep Faith for Today on in your area? Remember the station is giving your church valuable television time at reduced rates or at no cost as a public service feature. Most stations will continue to carry the programs as long as they know it is appreciated. Won't you write that letter today?

What Is a Baby For?

There is more to a baby than can be seen. When we look upon a newborn infant all we see is a little weak, helpless, immature piece of humanity. But within that little life are hidden an infinite number of possibilities.

One father lay awake practically all night after the birth of his son, thinking over the possibilities wrapped up in a little blue blanket over at the hospital. What would his son be like? Would his tongue someday herald the last warning message to a dying world? Would his hand administer healing to the sick? Would his feet carry the glad tidings of salvation to those who sit in darkness? Would those lips, could those lips, ever profane the name of God? Would it be possible for those tiny hands ever to take that which was not his? Could those little pink feet ever walk in the paths of sin? There in the stillness of the night that father rededicated his life to God and resolved to be all that a father should be to his child.

What do we see when we look at a child—a tousled head, a face full of freckles? Do we know our own children? Did Jesse know David? To be sure he was acquainted with a little ruddy-faced boy that trudged at his heels as they walked over the hills surrounding Bethlehem. But did he realize that right by his side was a "man after God's own heart?" Under the stillness of the Syrian moon Jesse had told that little shepherd lad stories of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. But did he realize that that little boy sitting on his knee would some day sit on the throne of Israel?

Did Jochebed know Moses? To be sure she was acquainted with the little baby who had looked into the face of the Princess on the banks of the river Nile. But did she know that some day he would look upon God and talk to Him face to face? As she washed his face, combed his hair, and fed him his humble fare day by day, did she know that some day God in heaven would send this very same little boy back to this earth to comfort His Son Jesus before He went to Gethsemane? While teaching her little son to sing and to pray, did Jochebed even dream that all the redeemed would some day sing the song of Moses and the Lamb?

Do we as parents know our children? Can we see the future? "Heaven sees in the child the undeveloped man or woman, with capabilities and powers that if, correctly guided and developed, with heavenly wisdom, will become the human agencies through whom the divine influences can cooperate, to be laborers together with God."—Counsels on Sabbath School Work, p. 124.

We may have a Daniel or a Paul, a Ruth or Esther, right in our home and not realize it. That little boy who is tracking in sand on our carpets today may be trekking the sands of the mission fields tomorrow, or he may be pacing the halls of a prison. That little girl who brings her broken dolls to us to mend may be treating the sick tomorrow, or she may turn her back on God and religion. Much depends on the training we give these children in our homes today on what they will become tomorrow. Do we have an F. A. Stahl, a W. H. Anderson, in our home today? What will your son be tomorrow? Where will your daughter spend eternity?

Did You Know?

That "Education begins with the infant in its mother's arms."—Child Guidance, p. 26.

That "God cannot keep children from evil if the parents do not cooperate with God."—Ibid., p. 21.

That "The first child especially should be trained with great care, for he will educate the rest."—Ibid., p. 27.

Spirit of Prophecy in the Home

The January-April, 1961 Home and School magazine carries the program "Spirit of Prophecy in the Home," by D. A. Delafield. This material is of help to all homes.

"The Adventist Church possesses no greater instrument to consolidate family life in love and truth than these Spirit of prophecy books." The very titles of these books indicate the valuable help they are in building a good home — The Adventist Home, Child Guidance, Counsels to Parents, Education, Ministry of Healing, etc.

"The presence of Christ in the family makes the difference between success and failure in good family relations and in strong and abiding influences. . . . We must have Jesus in the home if we would have happy homes. . . . The Spirit of prophecy in the home is Jesus testifying in the home, and happy are those families who obey God's commands and adhere to the 'testimony of Jesus.'"

It helps to study the kind of homes we want. The instruction is given in a kind, understandable, practical, positive manner that brings courage to all who are striving to build a good Christian home.

Sabbath, February 4, 1961 CHRISTIAN HOME DAY

Recently a London magazine sent out a thousand inquiries on the question: "What is a home?" Out of 800 replies received, these gems were selected:

1. Home—The place where we grumble the most and are treated the best.
2. Home—The place where our stomach gets three square meals daily and our hearts a thousand.
3. Home—The father's kingdom, the mother's world, and the children's paradise.

How fortunate to live in a Christian home! One of the important parts of any Christian home is a library of well-chosen and well-worn books.

If you would like to add some of these books to your Christian home library—and do it at a material saving—read the announcement on page 15 in this issue of the GLEANER. Here you will find recommended books that will help the hearth in your home burn even more brightly.

Is your home a "father's kingdom," a "mother's world," and "children's paradise"? These prophetic guidance volumes can help make it so.

Ingathering In Matanuska Valley

"Merry Christmas!" warm hearts, cold fingers and dollar bills highlighted the evening of December 24 as four members of the Palmer church joined their pastor, Elder Glen Stambaugh, in Ingathering for Christ.

The solicitors all agreed that this had been the best Christmas Eve they had ever experienced.

The residents of the small town of Palmer responded generously to the greeting and invitation to give to our Bristol Bay Mission school and the world-wide work for humanity. It was with thankful hearts that the group counted $156.62 at the close of the evening.

Earlier in the fall our children from the Anchorage church school with their teacher, Mr. Dave Kuebler, joined the Palmer church school to Ingather in the Matanuska Valley farming area. The group then raised $134, making a total of $290.62 for this area.

New School at Palmer

January 3 was a happy day for the pupils and teacher of the Palmer church as it marked the first day of school in their new building four miles southeast of Palmer.

Members of the church have long recognized the need for a more suitable building and location for their children's education. The old building in town atmosphere was too small, poorly heated, and offered no surrounding play area. To meet this need a plot of ground containing a little more than four acres was purchased by the Alaska Mission in 1959. Members of the church set to work clearing an opening into the beautiful birch and spruce forest. In the spring of 1960 the Alaska Mission was able to secure a surplus building from Elmendorf Air Force Base. This building, 24 x 72, used as a beauty parlor on the base, was torn down in six weeks by volunteer help from the Anchorage and Palmer churches.

Erection began last summer under the fine help of Brother Henry Madden, newly-won convert from Catholicism. This man helped us architecturally, financially and physically. Many others caught the inspiration and volunteered their services, completing the main part of the structure in late fall.

During Christmas vacation local members rallied again to complete a temporary schoolroom in one end of the building. Though not completed, the move was made and classes began January 3. The children and teacher are thrilled to be in their new quarters and express their sincere appreciation for the many gifts sent by friends and the sacrifices of the local brethren and sisters.

We solicit your prayers that the "old beauty parlor" may serve God's purpose in helping to beautify the hearts and lives of our boys and girls.

Harris-McGann Revival at Billings

After four years' absence Elder Stanley Harris returned to Billings for a week of revival meetings. He was assisted by Ralph McGann who is associated with him in evangelistic meetings in Seattle. The members of the Billings church, especially those who united with the church four years ago as a result of Elder Harris's series of meetings, were happy to welcome God's messengers. The first meeting was Sabbath morning, January 21, and the entire church responded to the message "Revive Us Again." Saturday night the members brought many of their friends who were stirred as they listened to a message on the "End of the World."

Throughout the week God spoke through His servants in the preaching and singing. Truly the church members were revived spiritually and strengthened in their determination to be ready for their Lord's return. Also some who had been lingering in the valley of decision took a stand with God's people and are preparing for baptism. As Elders Harris and McGann returned to the coast to begin a new evangelistic series of meetings, they were assured of the prayers of God's people in Billings.

Results of Evangelism in Hamilton and Darby

"God has impressed me that this is the truth and I want to become a member of your church," was the response of a fine lady of the Mormon faith after attending only two of our evangelistic services in the Hamilton church. Our faith was not as great as hers and we felt perhaps she was making a premature decision. However, as every test of faith was presented she joyfully accepted them, even determining to become a vegetarian as soon as possible as she heard of God's ideal diet for His people. Would she hesitate at giving up a substantial pension offered her by her former church for the rest of her life? Not one moment! For much more than worldly mammon she loved this precious Advent truth. How true are the words of the Spirit of Prophecy that in the last time the message will go not so much by argument as by the strong impression of the Holy Spirit.

It gave the members of the Darby and Hamilton churches great joy to see two young couples stand for Christ and His truth and bring their little ones to Sabbath school along with other new members. A husband of one of our sisters who had believed this truth for years, but had been held back by the chains of tobacco, both smoking and chewing, for 70 years, was delivered by the power of God of the habit and now rejoices with his wife in this message. A number of others also received victory over this enslaving habit.

Not only do we thank God for the eleven precious souls that have been baptized by Elder Munsey thus far with six more planning to take that stand on February 11, but we also praise Him for the many victories gained in the lives of our own members as they Pictured above is the Butte Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Matar, teacher of the Butte church school. shared in this soul-winning work and spiritual revival.

The members of the Cummings-Dale Evangelistic Team wish to express their thanks to the members of the Hamilton and Darby churches for their whole-hearted support of the meetings. Some had to come from nearly 20 miles away and yet never missed a night. Especially we thank Elder Frank Munsey, pastor of this district, whose faithful sowing for many years, with his members, now comes to fruition.

Mt. Ellis academy is urgently in need of a new 16mm. moving picture projector. The two old machines the school owns are beyond satisfactory repair. Perhaps a friend of Mt. ## Dorcas Activities With The Red Cross

Red Cross nurse showing Great Falls Dorcas group how to improvise an infant's bed out of a cardboard carton.

Inasmuch as the Great Falls Red Cross director of home nursing classes was finding it difficult to obtain members for the training, she was agreeably surprised when twelve people from the local Dorcas Society volunteered to enroll. "We have been begging people to take the course, but you did not have to be urged!" the nurse repeatedly stated.

On the last evening of our class, the instructor had arranged for a news photographer to take a picture. "This is a volunteer class—most unusual," she explained to the reporter.

Since the completion of the home nursing course in November, the class members have been called to assist in two Red Cross blood drawings, and in preparing Christmas gifts for patients hospitalized at Malmstrom Air Force Base. "We know you people like to do good works," the Red Cross officials declared when soliciting our help.

This week (the middle of January) we were asked to help recruit members for a new home nursing class. "We have six enrolled for the morning class," the director sighed, "and need at least six or seven more, but cannot find any who will take the time." The following Sabbath a church announcement was made—and the quota for the training class was reached.

"The Adventist response is very heartening," the director said, "but we still are not through with you! Three more blood drawings will be held soon, and you will be asked to help because you are dependable."

Good public relations—and another phase of Dorcas service to the community.

UPPER COLUMBIA

Ingathering

Just two months ago today Ingathering was launched in the churches of our Conference. When we began our caroling for 1961 we did not know what the response would be. While we had faith in the response of our church members we were aware that most of the Ingathering funds are gathered in from people outside our own membership. For several months prior to the opening of our campaign we were bombarded through the papers and over TV and radio with the fact that a recession had developed in our area. Naturally we wondered what effect this would have on our Ingathering.

The answer to our question came to us as the campaign unfolded and we soon realized that we could reach our goal if we put forth a real effort. The membership of the Conference responded in a splendid way, and when the working force of the Conference met for a report on January 19 we found that we had gone far beyond the Conference goal and even beyond the amount raised last year. The total reported was $76,281.93, almost $2,000 more than had ever been raised in one campaign in Upper Columbia. The final total will be more than $77,000. To date, 59 churches have reached their goal, and by January 31 others will join them as Victory churches.

We can only say thank you, one and all, for your support during Ingathering. It was your willingness to give of your time and money that made possible the splendid gains in our field. We must now press on to greater achievements in the days ahead. The Lord will bless as we labor for Him.

Questions for the Christian Home

Can parental discipline of teenagers be too strict? "To spank or not to spank" demands an answer. Do you think that you know? Should parents help children with their home work? If so, what kind of help and how much?

These questions and questions on marriage, true love and how it should be expressed, the best way to educate children to respect their father and mother, and many, many related matters on how to make the home a happy one are answered in the book The Adventist Home. This is an indispensable book for every homemaker. Take advantage of the special offer elsewhere in this paper to get your copy now.

FFT Bible School Bee Hive of Activity During Past Year

During 1960, the Faith for Today Bible School was a bee hive of soul winning activity with an influence extending from one end of North America to the other.

Half a million Bible lessons were graded by the staff of instructors in the school and 8,717 graduation certificates were issued to students completing courses.

Almost 1,500 people indicated their acceptance of the message and are now keeping the Sabbath. Of these, nearly 800 have already been baptized.

In addition to these Bible School students, the lives of millions of people have been touched by the messages presented each week on the Faith for Today telecast. Thus, the seed of truth is being scattered on a broad scale by the television ministry, and the prospects are that when the time of harvest comes, there will be a vast gathering in of souls for God's kingdom.

Expansion of FFT Coverage Is Planned; Present Stations Must Be Retained During the Year

By Ernest N. Wendth

Two-hundred television station outlets by the end of this year is the goal of the Faith for Today Station Relations Department.

Enough new stations must be added to give a net increase of at least 50 by the end of 1961. Routine changes in station programming during the year will mean that Faith for Today will go off some stations. To offset these losses and reach the goal of 200 outlets, an average of more than one new station must be picked up each week.

During 1960, television stations in five of the 10 unions of the North American Division were contacted. Definite plans have been made to visit stations in the remaining five unions this year in an effort to contact every TV station in the United States and Canada. Special emphasis will be given to metropolitan areas where Faith for Today is not currently being seen.

These efforts are in harmony with the divine commission Faith for Today has to take the Gospel into the homes of the millions of people living in the great population centers of North America. Results, however, will depend almost entirely on the offering received from church members on February 11, when the special Faith for Today television offering is taken.

YOUR TV PASTOR SPEAKS:

Prophetic Signs Show Crisis Developing For TV Ministry; Big Offering Needed

By W. A. Fagal

February 11 will be a tremendously important day in all Seventh-day Adventist churches in North America. On that date the Faith for Today annual offering will be received and our people will think in a special way of the television ministry conducted by the church.

Record Voice Of Prophecy Offering Given In Oct.

Church members in North America exceeded the $175,000 goal and gave nearly $250,000 to the Voice of Prophecy offering last October. This record offering indicates the sense of urgency God's people feel, and demonstrates their desire to utilize the air waves in giving the message quickly to the multitudes.

Truly, "The work that centuries might have done must crowd the hours of setting sun". The Faith for Today staff is praying that every church member will again respond and make the television offering on February 11 the greatest in the history of the telecast.

Faith for Today faces a real crisis. Originally the program was released in

Pastor Fagal

11 large cities in the United States, the time being purchased. At present only five of these original 11 are left, and doors have been closing which once were wide open. True, the Lord has blessed in a remarkable way and the program is now on 150 stations, most of which donate the time. However, the time on some of these free stations is poor.

The sobering fact is that there are still 150 television areas in the United States and Canada which do not currently carry Faith for Today. Many of the TV stations in these areas would sell desirable time to us if we had the funds to purchase it. Never in the 11-year history of Faith for Today have the funds with which to purchase time in these "dark" areas been available. The times demand that this situation be changed.

• Serious Problem

Pressures are at work which are striving mightily to restrict television time for religious programming. Recently, in Chicago Faith for Today was cut off the air with the explanation that the station would no longer sell time to any religious group. The station would give time now to the groups which it chose. The following week the station placed a Catholic program on the air in the half hour which had been ours. No other time could be secured on any television station in Chicago, with the result that at least for the present the Adventist message cannot reach the millions in this area by means of television. The door is closed. The same situation exists in Philadelphia. Ominous rumblings make us fear that other large cities might soon follow.

Seventh-day Adventists know that the time is short. We know that we do not have much longer to work. The signs all indicate that prophecy is being rapidly fulfilled. What we do, we must do quickly.

What Your Offering Dollars Will Do Now To Finish the Task

Funds invested now in the television ministry of Faith for Today will do a tremendous job of reaching the multitudes. Here's what your dollars will do now:

$1 will make it possible for Faith for Today to reach 250 people.

$5 will send the telecast to 1,250.

$10 will take Faith for Today to 2,500 individuals.

$25 will make it possible to reach 6,000

$100 will reach 25,000.

$1,000 will send Faith for Today to a quarter of a million people

These amounts enable Faith for Today to reach these people not once but 52 times during the year.

• Goes Into Homes

And every week when the telecast goes into the homes of the people, an invitation to enroll in a free Bible correspondence course will be given, along with a carefully prepared "real life parable" and an inspirational study from the Bible by Pastor W. A. Fagal. The Faith for Today quartet will bring a message of faith and hope in song each week.

Unlike the ordinary missionary worker, Faith for Today is able to carry out its task faithfully regardless of weather conditions or other circumstances. And the approach is always well made.

So, if you are looking for a way to have a part in successful missionary activity, put your dollars to work by supporting Faith for Today, the tireless missionary which goes where you cannot go and presents the message as you want it presented, in the homes.

FFT Offering Scheduled for February 11; $175,000 Goal Set By General Conference Committee

A goal of $175,000 has been set by the General Conference as the official objective of the 1961 Faith for Today television ministry offering to be taken in all Seventh-day Adventist churches in the North American Division on Sabbath, February 11.

Prayer Circle Ministry Exerts Wide Influence

A little-known but highly important part of the Faith for Today ministry is the Thursday morning Prayer Circle in which the entire staff of some 50 workers participates.

Each week an average of 100 requests for special prayer come from Faith for Today viewers, and each request is presented to God by the employees. The requests come from people in all walks of life who are distressed about problems, suffering from illnesses, or facing some overwhelming crisis. Many of the letters received ask that some child or other loved one be remembered.

All the prayer requests are placed in a special folder by Elder Leonard C. Lee, Bible School pastor, who brings them to the group.

In addition to the many letters asking for prayer, many others are received expressing appreciation for the prayer ministry and stating how prayers have been answered. Thus, Faith for Today employees are ministering to a vast congregation in a personal way, and they are seeing results of eternal value.

The goal represents the amount needed to maintain the current operations of Faith for Today, and provides a small amount for expansion into new areas. This fact makes it imperative that the goal not only be reached but that it be exceeded. There are millions of people living in 150 television areas in the United States and Canada where Faith for Today is not on the air at present. During 1961, Faith for Today hopes to reach many of these people with the message of the church.

• Offering Theme

The theme of the offering this year is "While It Is Day". This theme will be featured in promotional material being prepared. It was chosen because of the urgency of the times. Rapid developments in the world indicate that little time remains to finish the great task. There are millions to be warned, and such mass communication media as radio and television must be utilized to the fullest if the job is to be done. Although the denomination now has full freedom to expand and develop to the fullest extent possible such evangelistic tools as Faith for Today, there are indications that this freedom will not last too much longer.

• Example Given

Here is an example of how suddenly the work of Faith for Today could be closed up:

For ten years, Faith for Today has been on the same television station in Chicago, using purchased time. Last October, the program was suddenly dropped. The station had submitted to certain pressures and decided to stop selling time for religious telecasting. Other Chicago stations have adopted the same policy, and the work of Faith for Today is now closed in this great metropolitan area.

• Other Pressures

The same pressures are being exerted in many other places, and the television work could be closed overnight almost everywhere. But through the providences of God, Faith for Today continues strongly on 150 TV stations.

Every church member will want to dig deep and give a greater offering for Faith for Today on February 11 than he has ever given before. The television ministry has proven through the past decade that it is possible to reach the multitudes with the message of the church.

EMPLOYEES GIVE—Faith for Today employees gave $3,221 from their monthly paychecks during 1960 to aid the Faith for Today ministry. Pastor Fagal (seated) and Joseph Webb, treasurer are shown with money representing the amount given by the 50 Faith for Today workers.

EIGHT BIBLE COURSES:

Bible Study Program Is Offered For Every Member of the Family by FFT

A Bible course designed to meet the spiritual needs of every member of the family has been prepared by Faith for Today. Through its Bible Correspondence School, the television ministry offers eight free courses designed to make study of the Scriptures a rewarding experience for children and young people as well as for adults.

Latest addition to the list of offerings is "Life At Its Best", a course prepared for teen-agers and young adults by Dr. Merlin Neff, book editor at Pacific Press.

The new youth course consists of 21 lessons and features the Faith for Today "self-grading" plan. The text from which the questions are taken is in story form and deals with the true-to-life experiences of several young people.

• Courses Listed

For youngsters, Faith for Today offers "Adventures in the Holy Bible," a four-part course with 13 lessons in each part.

There are six courses for adults, including the 34-lesson "Faith for Today" basic course. The "Life of Christ" course of 28 lessons is based on the book Desire of Ages; "Adventures in Prophecy" consists of 34 lessons based on the book Daniel and Revelation by Uriah Smith. The book Great Controversy forms the basis for the 21 lessons in the "Drama of the Christian Faith" course. The "Hebrew Scriptures" course, primarily for those of a Jewish background, is devoted largely to a study of various Old Testament books and contains 40 lessons. The two-part health course contains 14 lessons devoted to "Health and Hygiene" and 12 lessons dealing with "Foods and Nutrition."

• Spiritual Enrichment

These free Bible correspondence courses will not only bring spiritual enrichment to the members of every Seventh-day Adventist family, but will also be an excellent means of giving the message to relatives and friends. Many Adventists use Faith for Today courses to give Bible studies with great success to individuals and groups. Lessons will be provided on request for use in cottage meetings and other Bible study programs.

An attractive diploma is awarded at the completion of each course.

FFT Finishes 11 Years; Oldest Church Sponsored TELEVISION Program

Faith for Today will complete its 11th year on television on May 21, of this year.

The Adventist telecast is the oldest church sponsored religious program in the world. It began as a six-month experiment on one station in New York City. Today Faith for Today is an international TV ministry reaching millions of people on some 150 stations throughout the United States and Canada; in Guam, the Philippines, Australia, and Nigeria, West Africa.

BIBLE SCHOOL — Part of the Bible School employees grading lessons.

COUNTING ON YOU — Pastor and Mrs. W. A. Fagal are counting on each church member to make the Faith for Today offering a generous one to meet the great needs of the television ministry.

FFT Literature Ministry Reaches Thirty Countries

A vast literature ministry is conducted by Faith for Today in addition to the telecast and Bible School.

During 1960 nearly one and a half million books and pieces of literature containing the message were sent into the homes of people in some 30 countries in addition to the United States and Canada. There were also tens of thousands of Bible lessons going out each month.

Literature from Faith for Today went to Germany, Switzerland, England, Angola, Nigeria, Cameroon, Congo Republic, Ghana, The Union of South Africa, Jordan, Ethiopia, India, Australia, New Zealand, New Guinea, Malaya, Ceylon, Indonesia, Taiwan, Philippines, Mexico, British Honduras, Dominican Republic, Panama, Uruguay, Brazil, British West Indies, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Guam, and lonely Pitcairn Island.

MORE PASTOR FAGAL

• Opportunity Remains

While some doors are closing to us, other doors are still open; other stations will sell time to us. But who knows when they may follow the trend and close their doors as well? Now is the time for all of us to give sacrificially as never before, that we might take advantage of our opportunities. Who knows what the value of your dollars will be in the near future? But given now, they can mean a great deal in the finishing of the work.

Even as you read these words, will you ask God to impress you with what you should do on February 11 for Faith for Today? This must not be just an ordinary offering. It must be extraordinary in these extraordinary times to meet our extraordinary needs.

The offering goal is $175,000. We are praying that the offering may greatly exceed this amount so the program can be expanded into new areas. May God bless you as you give.

Latest Listing of TV Stations Carrying Faith for Today Telecast

This listing of stations on which Faith for Today can be seen is given to help church members become better acquainted with the extent of the Adventist telecast coverage. ### Gem State Academy

January 9 to 15 was courtesy emphasis week at Gem State Academy. Marolyn Eiseman, the spiritual vice-president of the Associated Student Body, was in charge of the activities during the week. Each day at chapel time there were talks and skits which pointed out the importance of courtesy and thoughtfulness of others.

The climax of the week was the courtesy banquet on Sunday evening, January 15. Special numbers were rendered by Gary Fresk and Mrs. Estyn Goss. Gary presented the cornet solo, "The Trumpeter's Prayer," and Mrs. Goss sang two vocal numbers, "The Sleigh" and "The Icicle." Mickey Meyer of Parma, Idaho, played the organ during the banquet.

Everyone waited anxiously for the presentation of the King and Queen of courtesy, the most courteous boy and girl in the school. This turned out to be Charles Ferguson and Deanna Hopkins. Their court attendants were the outstanding courteous boy and girl of each class and were as follows: senior class, Eddie Lambert and Sharon Gray; junior class, Roger Cook and Sharon Jacobson; sophomore class, Tom Ferguson and Eileen Lambert; and freshman class, Jerry Jones and Lillian Clark.

During the banquet the awards were given for the students who obtained the most funds during the campaign to obtain additional dinner ware for the cafeteria. The prizes were as follows: first prize to Eddie Lambert of $25 worth of merchandise from Chuck Banks; second prize, a beautiful table lamp to Marolyn Eiseman; and third prize, a very practical piece of traveling luggage to Maxine Nelson.

Promotions in rank were given to students who had brought in certain amounts of cash. The lieutenants were: Renee Butler, Jean Mund, Bill Rose, Sharon Jacobson, Marjorie Jones, Judy Throckmorton, George Larson, Leslie Radford, Carolyn Molyneux, Diana Smith, Linda Floyd, Nancy Eastham, Billy Andregg, Ann Gray, Janet Stone-man, and Gary Witherspoon; Captains: Bunny Woods, Deanna Hopkins, and Rory York; major: Eva Johnson; colonel, Lana Tadej; and generals; Eddie Lambert, Marolyn Eiseman and Maxine Nelson.

At the close of the evening the chairman of the academy board, Elder A. J. Gordon, spoke a few remarks of appreciation for the accomplishments of the students. Mike Baker, the Associated Student Body president, asked the benediction.

Ability and Christian Giving

"For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not." 2 Cor. 8:12.

Chapters 8 and 9 of Paul's Second Epistle to the Corinthians form the classic Scripture on Christian giving. Here the Apostle cites to the Church in Corinth the example of the churches in Macedonia, "How that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality." They even entreated the Apostles to receive their gifts and so to let them share the honor of supporting the "ministering to the saints."

According to the principles the Apostle Paul lays down on this subject, giving is first of all a "grace of God." (2 Cor. 8:1) The mind to give and to give liberally, is a divine grace, a gift of the working of the Holy Spirit upon the heart. Giving is intimately connected with the state of the spiritual life. When we see generous giving to God and His work, there we may recognize the work of God's Holy Spirit.

Furthermore, poverty is no bar to generous giving. The excuse of poverty is often urged by some when the duty of Christian giving is taught. But the Apostle's reasoning follows a path that is just and equitable for both the poor and the rich. "If there be first a willing mind" precedes all giving. Christian giving does not depend upon wealth. The widow who gave "two mites" (Mark 12:42-44) was a liberal giver. Compared with her gift the "much" that was cast into the treasury by the rich (Mark 12:41) did not represent the liberality shown by the widow.

God is not only the best business partner a Christian can have, but He is also a just and righteous judge of one's ability to give. He judges the gift "according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not." In God's eyes a tithe applies equally to a small income as well as to a large income. He requires the same faithfulness of all, and of each one according to his ability.

Each one "according to his means" was the standard fixed in the early Church. Yet the Macedonian Christians surpassed that standard. "They gave as I can testify," said Paul, "beyond their means." They sought to emulate their Lord Jesus Christ, who for their sake "became poor" that they "through His poverty might be rich." (2 Cor. 8:9)

Christian giving must bear a recognized proportion to income, and this proportion must be fixed by the giver himself and not by others. The word "grace" associated with giving occurs five times in First Corinthians, chapter 8. In verse 7 this word is used along with faith, utterance, knowledge, diligence, and love—all of them graces we often dwell upon, and then comes the urgent appeal to "abound in this grace also," that is, in the grace of Christian giving.

Harvest Blessing

The harvest song, "He that goeth forth . . . shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him" (Ps. 126:6), fittingly expresses the spirit of the Conference workers at their meeting in Portland on January 16. This was the target date for Ingathering this year. On this day the Conference objective of $125,000 was to be reached.

One by one each district pastor, answering to the roll call, reported the latest Ingathering results. Their reports were often punctuated with experiences peculiar to this year's campaign. As the reports from individual churches were fed into the adding machine the natural temptation to predict the final results became very strong. There was no doubt about reaching the "objective." The question was: How much would the reports go beyond that point?

The total amount reached in 1960 was $131,000. Had we reached that total already? Some of the district leaders were not yet able to report "objective reached," others reported "objective surpassed." Those still lagging a bit gave positive assurance that last year's total would be reached before their churches would stop working.

Finally, after the last report was given, the adding machine revealed the happy secret that the total of $130,222.89 had been reached. The final report will not be in until February. By that time we anticipate that every church in the Conference will have not only reached their "objectives" but also an amount equal to that attained in 1960. When the final report is rendered we believe that the 1960 Conference total will be surpassed.

ATTENTION: Oregon Teachers Association

All S.D.A. Teachers (grade school, high school, and college) are invited to Laurelwood Academy, February 5, at 6:30 for a pot luck supper and social. Bring salads, hot dishes or desserts.

Mrs. Paul Stuart, secretary
Portland, Oregon

At this time we want to thank every one who has had a part in this year's Ingathering enterprise, and appeal once more to those who have had no share in the current Ingathering blessing to join their fellow believers without delay and participate in this great work before the books of the treasury are closed for the year.

Pathfinder Training Course

Pathfinder workers 230 strong were in attendance at Gladstone for Oregon's annual Pathfinder workshop January 20-22. Enthusiasm ran high as these leaders of youth engaged in the various phases of instruction. Elder H. L. Rudy presented a stirring consecration message on Friday evening. The Sabbath service message was presented by Elder Clark Smith, General Conference Associate MV Secretary.

Sabbath afternoon was spent in nature discussions, Share-Your-Faith experiences, and in outlining the Pathfinder yearly program.

Five areas of instruction were offered as the group divided Saturday night. Among those from which to choose were: nature, crafts, marching drill, basic Pathfinder training, and survival camping.

Our hearty thanks to each Pathfinder worker who gave of their time to better prepare themselves for the task of youth leadership. May we also express our gratitude to the instructors who helped to make the workshop a success.

R. C. SCHWARTZ

MV Secretary

"It Is Written"

"It Is Written" enrollments continue to come in at the rate of between 100 and 200 each week. More than 2,200 interested people in the conference are receiving Take His Word lessons, knowing that they are Seventh-day Adventist Bible studies, for each telecast announces that this program is sponsored by their friends the Seventh-day Adventists.

We have now come to the time when the visits by those specially trained to follow up these names become very important. Tactfully these interests need to be developed in preparation for Elder Vandeman's meetings which begin in the Civic Auditorium on Sunday, February 26.

We would like to remind visitors that it is their privilege to unassumingly commence giving Bible studies by offering to help fill out worksheets for those not now sending them in. Remember, also, that when you are asked a question that might present some difficulty, this gives you a wonderful opportunity to suggest that you will bring someone along with you next week who will provide a good answer. Then request your pastor to accompany you.

We do sincerely hope that there are no lessons 7 and 8, and 15 and 16 lying around undelivered.

We furnish below the television schedule for "It Is Written," drawing attention to the change in time in some of the stations down south.

Faith for Today

We are happy to announce that Faith for Today will be released from KEZI, Channel 9, Eugene, 5:00 p.m., Sundays. Faith for Today is also released from KOIN-TV, Channel 6, Portland, 10:00 a.m., Sundays.

A Word of Appreciation

It would be well for our members to write the station managers of these various stations where you view "It Is Written" or Faith for Today, expressing your appreciation of these programs. Use your own style, and let your letters or cards be brief. It is very vital to the success of these programs, and to keep them on the air, that these stations receive public reaction.

Wisdom would decree that you do not identify yourself as a Seventh-day Adventist. You do enjoy these programs anyway, and so do I.

Evangelistic Series To Begin In Camas

Evangelistic meetings under the direction of Elder D. H. Spillman are scheduled to open in Odd Fellows Hall, Fourth and Cedar, Camas, Washington, this coming Saturday night, February 4. Services will continue each Saturday, Sunday and Wednesday for a period of six weeks. Anticipating the need for pleasant surroundings in which to welcome Sabbath visitors from the meetings, the membership, under the enthusiastic leadership of Elder Neal Losey, has completely redecorated their church home in an attractive pastel two-tint rose-beige color scheme.

Our best information is that within the past 33 years only two evangelistic campaigns, advancing the claims of the Sabbath command, have been conducted in this thriving paper mill and farming supported community. In 1928 Elder Alexander Ritchie opened meetings in a tent, later transferring the services to Odd Fellows Hall, and between the years 1948 to 1951 Elder Carole Aimes also held meetings for a short time. We greatly appreciate the work of these and others who have gone before us in this needy little city. Assisting in the meetings in addition to the faithful membership are Elder H. Turner, Elder Neal Losey, Mrs. Turner, Bill Morris, Helen Morris and the writer. If you wish to correspond with Elder D. H. Spillman regarding interest in this area you may reach him at this address: 4807 N.E. Skidmore, Portland 17, Oregon.

Class Officers Elected

Excitement mounted on the Columbia Academy campus immediately after the return of the students from the Christmas vacation. This was the time specified by the principal, Mr. Harold Ochs, that the Junior and Senior classes would organize.

Wendell Tucker

The Senior class met on the evening of January 8, and chose for their president Wendell Tucker. Wendell, whose parents reside at Rutherford, California, has been a member of the student family for two years. He transferred from Pacific Union College Preparatory School. Wendell is planning on being a pharmacist. His present plans are to work toward this goal at Walla Walla College.

Brenda Pifer

For vice-president the class chose Brenda Pifer, a student who has attended Columbia Academy both during her elementary years and also during her secondary years. When Brenda graduates this spring she will be the fifth member of her family to graduate from Columbia Academy. Brenda plans to enter Walla Walla College and pursue a secretarial course. Brenda's parents live here in Meadow Glade.

Mary Timmons, secretary, and Robert Wresch, chaplain, also have attended both the elementary and academy for all of their schooling. Mary is a resident of Brush Prairie and Robert a resident of Meadow Glade.

Other officers elected are Judy Lloyd, treasurer, from Gresham, Oregon; Bonnie Lukens, chorister, from Salem, Oregon; Joanne Barrett, organist, from Vancouver, Washington; Charlotte Tucker, pianist, from Vancouver, Washington; and Terry Kendall, sergeant at arms, from Escondido, California.

The sponsors for the class are Mrs. Frankie Reis and Mr. Joseph Stone.

The class president invites all interested friends, alumni and parents to come to their talent program the night of March 4.

Children's Choir at Coos Bay

Is anything sweeter to the ear than children's voices raised in song? Especially when they are your own! So Coos Bay church is justly proud of its Children's Choir. Two years ago J. Vernon Botkin had the vision and patience to start working with the children in the church school and has developed a choir that is a real blessing to the church and community. The choir has sung for various community events and gave the Christmas program at the Florence, Oregon, church a week prior to Christmas and again presented the same program for the Coos Bay church with the pastor narrating the story of Bethlehem.

When Pastor Q. E. Qualley held a six-week evangelistic effort during October and November last fall, the Children's Choir was a regular part of the services. And the vocal training the children had received aided them inestimably in the caroling program for Ingathering. Pastor Qualley, with the help of others in the church, set up ten band leaders with a solicitor assigned to each band. Two or three adults and three or more children from the choir completed the bands. Weather was generally good and God blessed the caroling bands so their part of the Ingathering program was a wonderful success.

Pastor Qualley has commented often that only God can know the tremendous influence a Children's Choir can have on a community. J. Vernon Botkin continues to give of his talent, patience and hours of his time to the training of these young voices. Here at Coos Bay we hope and pray that his example may be copied in many more of our churches.

Glenwood Branch Sabbath School

Our Sabbath school in the Glenwood valley that lies to the south and east of the beautiful snow-capped volcanic cone, Mount Adams, is a branch Sabbath school of the White Salmon, Washington, church.

In looking over the record of the past year we are encouraged. Our membership is 16, as it was at the beginning of 1960. Where two of our members have left us, we have gained two new ones. These new members are girls, one in the primary class, and one in the junior. There has previously been an interest in the family, and we are looking forward to watching the interest grow.

Our yearly average for daily lesson study has been 10. Our total offerings for the year have been $541.82, with $245 of this Investment offering.

As in most ranch areas, the people as a whole are quite satisfied with what this world has to offer. However, we are amazed to find quite a sizable number of people who have either been raised in the Adventist Church or have Adventist relatives, or have had some direct contact with Adventists. We are looking forward to watering some of the seeds that have been sown and planting new seed for the harvest of souls.

MRS. JAMES W. HOWE

S.S. Superintendent for 1961

Laurelwood Academy

Class and club organizations have held the Laurelwood campus spotlight this new year along with a new approach to religious services.

Dale Ziegele

Elected to head the 70-member class at an organizational meeting January 12 was Dale Ziegele of Hood River. Dale is a third-year student at LA.

Assisting Dale in other major offices are Barbara Wimer as vice president and Eugene Nordstrom as chaplain. Barbara is also a third-year student from the Laurelwood community, while Eugene came from Portland only this year.

Secretary is Delbert Epperson of Laurelwood. Sue Young of Hillsboro is treasurer. Nancy Koelsch of Longview, Washington, was chosen pianist and Ron Emmerson of Portland, chorister. All came to Laurelwood as freshmen. Miss Shirley Burton and Mr. Curtis Perkins advise the class.

Taking over student body leadership amidst a $3,000 uniform campaign is LeRoy Fish, senior of Eugene. LeRoy, an amateur taxidermist, has been prominent in nature organizations during his two years at Laurelwood.

Earlene Parmele, Hood River senior, was named vice president. Tom Calkins, Otis senior and associate editor of the Laurolian, is chaplain.

Other ASB officers include Nancy Mahurin, Grande Ronde; Shirley Doherty, Carlton; Dan Shaul, Willamina; Nancy Koelsch; Sue Wagner, Portland; and Lewis Cochran, Paradise, California. Nancy Mahurin is a senior, the others juniors.

Teresa Klein tops the list of choir executives. She is a Gold Hill senior. Juniors Lloyd Thomas and Eugene Nordstrom and sophomore Ann Diamond complete the slate.

Pastor B. E. Evans is conducting evangelistic services in the school chapel Wednesday and Friday evenings. Filling a two-fold need, the meetings are geared to non-Adventist community residents and students as well as baptized church members.

Barbara Wimer

Senior Julene Mohr is currently coordinating the student-conducted prayer week. The twice-daily exercises point to the theme, "Face with Eternity." Dorothy Hessong wrote the theme song.

Pray with the staff that the leadership of these students in their clubs and religious services might be real soul-saving ventures.

"It Is Written"

"It Is Written" is now being shown on KTNT-TV, Channel 11, Sunday evenings 6:30 to 7:00. We have over 700 enrolled in Take His Word.

Just this week one of the students indicated on the lesson worksheet that she was keeping her first Sabbath beginning Friday night, this week. Scores of letters are coming in each week, such as the following:

"I was so interested in your good sermon, and believe in all you said. I wish there were more like you, and on the TV. God is really blessing your messages. I would like to have copies of the sermons you preached the last two weeks, they have opened my eyes to see the wonders of God.

"Will you please send me the lessons, I shall be so grateful if you will. Thank you so much."—Federal Way, Wash.

Be sure to tell your friends and neighbors that the program has been changed from Channel 7 to Channel 11 and that the time is 6:30 p.m. Please pray for this program and the souls that are watching it.

Faith for Today

For the past seven years KTNT-TV, Channel 11, has carried the program Faith for Today as a public service program. This represents thousands of dollars of free time given to this wonderful program. Yet it costs thousands of dollars for keeping up the program and paying for stations where they cannot get on as a public service program.

On Sabbath, February 11, you will have an opportunity to give a liberal offering for the Faith for Today program. We do not know how much longer we will be permitted to have free time or even be permitted to buy TV time. There are many stations in America today where we are unable to buy time as they do not sell time for any religious telecasting.

Realizing that we must work while it is day because the night is coming, won't you pray for Faith for Today and prepare to give a large offering on Sabbath, February 11.

Walla Walla College

Student Week of Consecration Reaches Climax

Using as its theme the lateness of the hour and the climactic events happening all around us, Walla Walla College students spoke twice daily during the Student Week of Consecration which reached its climax Friday evening, January 27, with an appeal to "Make Straight His Path." The week concluded with the thought Sabbath morning that "All Things Are Now Ready."

All through the week the meetings were well attended; and as student after student opened his or her heart, meeting by meeting, a spirit of revival seemed to be gripping more and more of the students. As the week progressed, increasing numbers of young people expressed concern over the lukewarm spiritual condition of so many around us; and as youth prayed for youth, there was a feeling that the Spirit of God was working in a strong way, gripping the hearts of all speakers and hearers.

We invite our GLEANER friends to join us in sincere prayer that the spark of revival which started this week in the hearts of so many youth may be fanned into a fire of holy dedication and that this fire may spread so that the work may be finished and we can all go home.

Elder Ed Webb, MV secretary for the Washington Conference and WWC alumnus of 1951, was on campus through the week for counseling.

Those speaking during the week were: Clyde Praye, Joe Willey, Peter Maher, Morey Perry, Ken Bushnell, Marilyn Cross, Ed Castner, Fair Ochs, Paul Schuett, Pat LeDrew, Wilbur Ingram, and Terry Holland.

CME Accepts Ten WWC Students for Medical Study

Ten Walla Walla College students, including three young women, received acceptances to the school of medicine, College of Medical Evangelists, last week, Dr. R. H. Brown, dean of administration reports.

One graduate student and nine seniors are included on the list. Rita Hopper, a graduate nurse who took her B.S. degree in nursing in 1958, has now completed the pre-medical requirements and will be beginning medical training.

The nine seniors, their majors, and home addresses are: Burton Briggs, chemistry, Loma Linda, California; Edward Castner, mathematics, College Place, Washington; Ruth Chen, music, South Lancaster, Massachusetts; Rowland Dietrich, chemistry, Sedro Woolley, Washington; David Hollenbeck, religion, Trout Lake, Washington; Frank McNeil, chemistry, Spangle, Washington; Morey Perry, biology, Seattle, Washington; Roy M. Rusch, zoology, College Place, Washington; and Joyce Tan, zoology and history, Singapore.

WWC Senior Class Organizes

Demonstrating the international composition of the student body at Walla Walla College, the 173-member senior class elected officers from three states in the United States and from Portugal and Newfoundland last week.

President of the newly-organized body is Glenn Aufderhar, a theology major from College Place, Washington. Listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," he has held executive positions in the ASWWC, on the staffs of the Collegian and Mountain Ash, and in the College church.

Newfoundland is the home of vice-president Pat LeDrew. She is a nursing major who has led the student body of the Portland division of the WWC School of Nursing. She is managing editor for the Mountain Ash, and she is also listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

ALL-TIME HIGH

Today we bring you a different comparison. We are happy that previous reports show every conference over the goal. This is a fine accomplishment and is appreciated. To everyone who had a part, THANK YOU VERY MUCH!

In this new comparison Montana leads the way with the most over last year's total, but Upper Columbia is a close second. Oregon and Alaska also are over last year's totals. All four of these conferences are thus setting all-time high records.

The other conferences are pressing on to surpass last year's totals. Surely we have reason to thank God for His blessing on this year's Ingathering program.
