

RECEIVE THEM NOT

By H. L. RUDY

President, Oregon Conference

The attitude of Christians towards false brethren is clearly defined in the Word of God. It is very important that we follow the instruction that God has given us along this line. This attitude can be summarized in two simple points.

First: "Try the spirits whether they are of God," 1 John 4:1; "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good." 1 Thess. 5:21. If upon observation and adequate investigation a person whom we have not known has given sufficient evidence of his soundness in the faith and of his true love for the brethren he may be received as a brother in the Lord. On the other hand, if the evidence of falseness is obvious we must adhere to the counsel of God in our attitude toward these "brethren."

This then calls for the observation of the next phase of our relationship with false brethren. Here the Bible is explicit and emphatic. The Lord Himself has said, "Beware." Matt. 7:15. We must be on guard against the strategy and beguiling approaches of these wolves in sheep's clothing. Keep a safe distance from them. They are "thieves and robbers" seeking "to steal, to kill and to destroy" (John 10:8-10). We are to shun, or avoid their "profane and vain babblings." 1 Tim. 6:20. Let them curse if they want to (2 Sam. 16:5-11), but "answer" them "not" (2 Kings 18:36).

The noble example of Nehemiah is left on record for us to emulate in these last days. When the enemies of God's work sought to distract him from his task of "building the wall" his steadfast reply was: "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come down." Neh. 6:3. As ministers, teachers, and leaders in the churches we must follow the example of Nehemiah when these false brethren come to do their devastating work.

"Satan takes advantage of every unconsecrated element for the accomplishment of his purposes. Among these who profess to be the supporters of God's cause, there are those who unite with His enemies, and thus lay His cause open to the attacks of His bitterest foes. Even some who desire the work of God to prosper will yet weaken the hands of His servants by hearing, reporting, and half-believing the slanders, boasts and menaces of His adversaries."—Prophets and Kings, p. 645.

Note this further warning: "As the time of the end draws near, Satan's temptations will be brought to bear with greater power upon God's workers. He will employ human agents to mock and revile those who 'build the wall.' But should the builders come down to meet the attacks of their foes, this would but retard the work. They should endeavor to defeat the purposes of their adversaries; but they should not allow anything to call them from their work. Truth is stronger than error, and right will prevail over wrong.

"Neither should they allow their enemies to gain their friendship and sympathy, and thus lure them from their post of duty. He who by any unguarded act exposes the cause of God to reproach, or weakens the hands of his fellow workers, brings upon his own character a stain not easily removed, and places a serious obstacle in the way of his future usefulness."—Ibid., p. 659.

Let us as workers in God's cause, and as followers of the Lord Jesus, take these instructions seriously. It is so easy to cause harm to young, inexperienced members, by failing to follow Divine counsel.

Finally, let us heed the admonition concerning our attitude towards "a deceiver;" "Receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed, for he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds." 2 John 10, 11.

PUBLIC RELATIONS WORKSHOP A SUCCESS

By B. M. PRESTON, Secretary
Department of Public Relations

Over one hundred church press secretaries, ministers, and others interested in denominational public relations attended the union-wide PR workshop at Gladstone Park, February 6-8. It was the first meeting of its kind ever to be held on a union-wide basis. It was the first time our church press secretaries have had the opportunity of receiving more adequate training for the rather technical work their church has asked them to do.

We were very fortunate in having excellent help in conducting this institute. Elder H. B. Weeks of the General Conference Bureau of Public Relations carried the major responsibility of conducting the instructional classes with Mrs. William Lay of Walla Walla College assisting. Elder M. E. Loewen of the General Conference also gave excellent help. Other speakers included Dr. C. Stanley Lowell, associate director of POAU, Mr. Watford Reed, church elder of the Oregon Journal, Jack Hubbs, administrator of Walla Walla General Hospital, Mr. Verlin G. Coleman and Mr. Tom Rader of the Kenden Advertising Agency, Portland, Elders C. A. Scriven, H. L. Rudy, L. E. Biggs, George Belleau and our local conference Public Relations secretaries.

We believe the entire church public relations program will be strengthened as a result of the Gladstone meeting. Every conference, including Alaska, was represented at this meeting with delegates. We could have wished that all our 252 church press secretaries could have been present to receive the benefits of this splendid meeting. However, we are certain each church press secretary elected by their church to carry this important responsibility in 1961 will, by God's help, endeavor to be faithful in this important work. We bespeak for each of these church press secretaries the united cooperation of

SHOTGUN EVANGELISM

In frontier days of old, and sometimes even today, outlaws have used sawed-off shotguns to scatter their shot. It was used as a defense device to put fear and trembling into a group, and strange as it may seem, even in the Seventh-day Adventist Church much of our evangelistic effort could be classified as "shotgun" evangelism. We scatter our shot everywhere without careful, concerted aim, without a regular follow-up program, and without the encouraging results that we ought to receive.

It was with this thought in mind that the editors and the circulation department personnel of the Southern Publishing Association met and conceived the idea of placing in The Message Magazine, our great evangelistic journal containing articles by leading Negro evangelists and writers, the new type of evangelistic approach to be found beginning January 1, 1961. This is the direct antithesis of "shotgun" evangelism, for in each issue of the journal there appears a center spread of four pages dealing with just one of our cardinal doctrines each month. This program will carry over two years and then be repeated. Each article, covering one of the great truths of our church, is being freshly written, freshly edited, and freshly illustrated.

So with great courage, we can say "shotgun" evangelism is dead, for The Message Magazine is concentrating with deer-rifle accuracy at human hearts and lives. This adds new emphasis to your missionary subscriptions, and it puts new force and purpose behind our endeavors to win the lost to Christ. While "shotgun" evangelism may be all right with some for certain purposes, we serve notice that our journal will be more highly evangelistic and more closely aimed to the finishing of the work. We are not satisfied with just good articles in a good journal. Carefully arranged in proper sequence, these articles will be aimed toward definite evangelistic objectives in this crucial hour.

This gives us great courage to come to our people and urge a tremendously increased subscription list for The Message Magazine. My brethren and sisters, if you have loved ones, if you have friends, if you have business associates, Ingathering donors, and neighbors that you seek to win to the truth, may we urge a larger committal of your funds to missionary subscriptions for this journal?

We also strongly urge our white churches to sponsor Message subscriptions for their colored friends and leaders in education, business, and professional fields. It is part of your mission field.

Each Message Magazine subscription is only $1.50 a year, or $1.25 when ordered in clubs of 5 or more to one address. Order through your Book and Bible House or your church missionary secretary.

Religious Emphasis at CME

LOMA LINDA—Student religious life at both campuses of the College of Medical Evangelists received new impetus from Spring Week of Devotion Programs during February. Two speakers, one from Washington, D. C., and one from Pacific Union College, sought to stimulate students to greater understanding and endeavor at the daily meetings.

The Los Angeles meetings preceded by a week those on the Loma Linda campus, and featured as speaker Elder A. Graham Maxwell, chairman of the Department of Religion at Pacific Union College. The speaker for the Loma Linda series was Elder C. Wilson, secretary of the Religious Liberty Department of the Columbia Union Conference.

Special CME Insert Coming

A special four-page insert describing activities of faculty and students at the College of Medical Evangelists is being prepared for inclusion in the NORTH PACIFIC UNION GLEANER and other union papers of the North American Division. In addition to campus-centered work and religious activities, the special insert pages also provide information concerning CME's participation in the church's world program through the efforts of its alumni.

Timed to coincide with CME Offering Day on Sabbath, April 8, publication of the insert will occur in most union papers during late March or early April. The GLEANER will carry the special section in the issue scheduled for delivery on March 27.

the entire membership of the church as they endeavor faithfully to keep a constant flow of church news going to their newspapers, radio and TV stations.

The objectives of our church public relations program have been well defined by Elder Howard B. Weeks in the following statement: "To present Jesus Christ, to win good will for His church, to allay prejudices, to prevent wrong impressions, to lay a firm foundation for all evangelistic activities, to place truth before multitudes—this is the work of public relations increasingly vital to a growing, forward-looking denomination."

It is well to remember that each of us, as church members, are public relations representatives of our church. To many, the only picture or concept they will have of Seventh-day Adventists is what they see in our life. May we all do a good job in public relations for our church.

What's an Idea Worth?

What wouldn't the world give for an idea that would lead to the conquest of cancer? Or one that would lessen world tension? Or another that would correct economic uncertainties and assure everybody peace of mind as well as a full dinnerpail?

But as fantastic as it may seem, an idea will be the main ingredient in the solution of every one of these big problems. Wise the man who steps forward with the long-sought idea. Of course, it will have to be good, but some day that man may appear.

He may not ask for pay. The world may not even be grateful, but in time his name will be honored. Men will recognize the value of his idea and wonder why they had not thought of it before.

That is the way men fight crop and human disease, or produce an article that gets to a lucrative market first, or see value in an invention that changes industry and makes them immensely wealthy.

Ideas have consequences. Think of great gospel ideas such as: "The just shall live by faith;" "If we confess our sins, He is . . . just to forgive us;" "This gospel . . . shall be preached . . . and then shall the end come;" "I can do all things through Christ."

And ideas help men to mount obstacles. They produce conviction, driving power, and sustaining strength. Ideas dissolve barriers, shorten the way to worthy goals, and avoid the expensive trial-and-error method.

Ideas enrich the mind. They often cost little more than the effort to find and assimilate them. The experience, skill, and thought of the masters are the possession of those who read the right books and learn how to select the best ideas. Character itself is a combination of approved ideas put into practice.

One good idea can in time transform a life. It can make an ordinary man extraordinary. He will succeed where uncertainty and inexperience earlier neutralized his best efforts. With confidence he is the master of circumstances.

Where can a man find such ideas? That depends on the object of his search and his own diligence. A man sees what he seeks. Men of wisdom and special talent have enriched the world of ideas with their books. To share their mind treasure is to become rich indeed.

Your selection of the right book can have little influence unless it is read and its ideas assimilated. And that is where the Christian teacher can become the guide to a great continent of values both of information and inspiration. Personal study under skillful, experienced guides can open doors to greater growth and gratifying achievement. Capitalize your spare moments by study according to a plan.

Of Special Interest to "Review and Herald" Readers

The first issue of April, the Review and Herald will begin a series of articles on the subject of "Righteousness by Faith." This is a series that is well balanced and should have a strong appeal to every reader of our church paper. Since the Sabbath school lessons for the second quarter are on the subject of "Righteousness by Faith," we thought our people would be glad to know that these six special articles will appear during that quarter to give strong emphasis to the subject.

We hope that our workers throughout the conferences will call special attention to these articles and emphasize to our members the value not only of reading the Review and Herald but of subscribing to it.

A Special Message

One of the many lines of endeavor in which Seventh-day Adventists are active is the work for the Jewish people, organized under what is known as the Hebrew Scripture Association. A quarterly Jewish journal called Israelite is going out to a subscription list which is just over 5,000. The Bible correspondence course, known as the Hebrew Scripture Institute, with lessons especially prepared for Jewish people has an enrollment at present of over 2,000. A twenty-five minute radio broadcast from Miami, and more recently also from St. Petersburg, have been a great blessing to many, and as a result, quite a number have enrolled in the Correspondence course of Bible study. Plans are under way for radio broadcasts in New York City in the near future. As a result of the influences of these activities, there are today between 250 and 300 Jewish families in New York and Miami that need to be visited. Will you not pray that God may abundantly bless our brethren as they visit these homes.

At the present time there are approximately 150 Hebrew Adventists connected with our churches in North America. Three of our conferences now have committees on Jewish work, and forward looking arrangements are being made for evangelistic work with our literature and also public meetings.

On March 18, opportunity will be given in all our churches for our members to assist in carrying forward this work, and you will be invited to submit names of your Jewish friends and business acquaintances to whom you would like to send a yearly subscription of the quarterly Israelite at a cost of $1.00. We trust you will all have a definite part in this endeavor to reach the Jews with the message for this time, for we read:

"When this gospel shall be presented in its fullness to the Jews many will accept Christ as the Messiah."—Acts of the Apostles, pp. 380, 381.

O. A. BLAKE

Master Guide Clubs are springing up like mushrooms everywhere in our union. Like these young people studying a special mimeographed Master Guide Class Outline which is available to all churches to guide them in this leadership program, the interest of young and old alike has been captivated by the 1961 MV thrust in our union called "MV Target 1000." Leadercraft classes are being taught in every academy during the spring quarter and the response from the local churches to "MV Target 1000" has been so terrific it is difficult for the conference to keep up with the demands for supplies. If you have not already enrolled in a Master Guide class, or if you would like to have further information relative to how you can be invested as a Master Guide in the "MV Target 1000" service at the coming 1962 North Pacific Union Youth Congress, contact your local MV secretary at once for full details.

Invest for Security

In these perplexing days we are often reminded of the many statements of Scripture which are being fulfilled so accurately in the events that are taking place around us. Surely these are days, for instance, when "men's hearts are failing them for fear."

As human beings we tend to allow our minds to dwell upon the untoward conditions that exist and rightly refer to them as events that are fulfilling Bible prophecy. God through His word has been good to those who believe, and truly we do not need to "walk in darkness."

There is, however, a wider vista that the Lord would have us enter. The days ahead are to be the greatest days for God's people—days that are to lead into eternity and the fulfillment of many of the great and precious promises relating to the deliverance of God's people and the future life in His kingdom.

which is being fulfilled in this our day is that found in Matthew 24:14: "This gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come." The gospel is being preached in all the world, but so much more needs to be done before the work can be considered finished.

Today is our day of opportunity for, as Jesus said, "The night cometh when no man can work." We have witnessed the closing of some lands for the proclamation of the message, and in these days the "King's business requireth haste."

We have opportunities in our Sabbath schools, and in other ways to give financial support to the promulgation of the message in other lands. To supplement these resources and to provide that "little extra" which is so much needed in the mission fields of the world, our members have for many years participated in what we all know as the Sabbath School Investment Plan.

The Sabbath School Department is planning to make 1961 a big year for Investment. The goal is to encourage the participation of the Sabbath school membership in the Investment Plan, suggesting that the school financial goal be based on an average of $3 to $5 per member.

We should like to bring before our members at this time the great need in the mission fields and of the great privilege of "investing" through the Sabbath School Investment Plan during this year 1961.

Notice for Nurses

At the Quadrennial Session for Seventh-day Adventist nurses which was held at Loma Linda in August, 1960, the nurses voted to have a committee make the necessary arrangements for those attending the National League for Nursing meeting in Cleveland to get together. The following arrangements have been made:

Sunday, April 9
7 p.m. at the Auditorium Hotel in the St. Clair Room.

Tuesday, April 11
5:30 p.m.—Dinner Meeting at The Clark Restaurant.

Approximate cost
$2.50 per person.

Those who will be able to attend should write before March 25 to Maxine Atteberry, Chairman Plans Committee College of Medical Evangelists School of Nursing Loma Linda, California

Literature distribution was one feature of Temperance Commitment Day, held Sabbath, February 25. Here, Linda Maile, a junior at Blue Mountain Academy, Hamburg, Pa., leaves a tract with a woman in the Washington, D. C., area.

A special two-color brochure prepared especially for the occasion, the tract was entitled "Just A Human statistic" and told the story of a young bride-to-be who encountered the tragic effects of alcohol. Francis A. Soper, editor of "Listen," authored the story. Approximately 300,000 of these tracts were sent to the field, according to Elder J. O. Gibson, director of promotion and finance.

Your Home and Mine

Perhaps the least known journal among us as Seventh-day Adventists in the territory of the North American Division is a journal published at the Southern Publishing Association, entitled The Adventist Home and School.

Here is a journal designed and edited to bring specific help to the Adventist home at this time. Thousands of parents are greatly perplexed about situations that are covered by articles, editorials, and helpful suggestions in this splendid little journal.

Much help also appears on the function of the home and school relationships, how to improve these relationships, and how to realize full benefits from our educational facilities. This help many churches and individuals need now.

Why not be one of the first to receive the benefits of the journal in your church?

There appears in this issue of your union paper an ad with a coupon. You are invited to make the helpful services in this journal available to your home. Newlyweds will enjoy it. Well-established homes will appreciate it. The price is very low. And may I add, its help for you is very great. Order today, using the coupon in this issue of the GLEANER.

Weddings

On December 18, Russell Lawrence Graffis and Eva Mae Bennett were united in marriage in the Central church of Tacoma, Washington, by Elder Glenn E. Patterson. They have established their home in Tacoma.

On February 12, Judy Bounds and Dale Lund were united in marriage at the Sheridan, Oregon, Seventh-day Adventist church by Elder H. W. Hempel. Dale will continue laboring in the literature ministry in southern Oregon where the Lord has been blessing him.

Miss Betty Austin became the bride of David Myers in a sacred ceremony at the Sandy Seventh-day Adventist church on Saturday night, January 28. The wedding was held at the close of one of the evangelistic meetings being held there. Elder Floyd Bresee presided. Please join in praying God's richest blessing on this new Adventist home.

Auburn Evangelism Report

As a result of the Lord's blessing and the faithful consecrated labor on the part of the Mittleider Evangelistic Team in Auburn, we rejoice to announce that forty-one souls came forward to accept their Lord and to register their decisions in baptism.

On November 5, Elder Kenneth Mittleider, conference evangelist, opened a three-week series of soul-winning services in the lovely Auburn Seventh-day Adventist church. Even though this was the second series held here in less than eighteen months a fair attendance was present nearly every evening. A few obstacles presented themselves and we were able to overcome them by spending time on our knees. The first Tuesday evening was the National election, and due to the nature of the event many stayed at home to see the outcome. Then on the closing week we had an unusually heavy snowfall for that time of the year which lasted for several days. We were aware that Satan was doing his best to discourage us but our faith did not fail. Many great victories were won for the Lord over Sabbath problems, tobacco and oppositions in the home. We rejoice that there is power in united prayer.

We wish to express our thanks first to the Lord for sending His Holy Spirit and the holy angels to assist in work for these souls. We are grateful for the excellent preaching and personal work of Elder Mittleider and the fine musical talent of his wife, Barbara. We were also blessed with the ministry of two fine young men and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harbeson. Much credit goes to the ushers, flower committee, custodian, church musicians and the nightly support of our faithful members.

Spotlight On Africa

In the Bellingham "Voice of Youth" evangelistic meetings Saturday evening, March 18, from 7:45 to 8:15, the spotlight will be on "Africa Next," when Elder Harold W. Beavon will show his pictures of big game and talk on the customs and environment of the African people.

dark continent. Seven of these years were spent in the Congo working with the primitive Wanande tribe who live between the forest pygmies and the giant seven-foot Watusi tribe of Ruanda. This is a land of verdant mountains, active volcanoes and big game.

Later Elder Beavon spent three years in Kenya during the climax of the Mau Mau rebellion and suffered a savage attack at night by unknown assailants. African friends rescued him and after his recovery he continued his missionary work in Kenya for another year.

If you can, come and listen to the throb of African drums, moving pictures of elephant and the lion. And as a result of his recent contacts listen to the political, social, economic and religious changes that are taking place today in Africa.

Good Attendance At Sequim Meetings

Sunday night, January 29, an evangelistic campaign was started in our church in the little town of Sequim, about 15 miles east of Port Angeles. There was good attendance at the opening meeting but still room for more, and a much larger crowd was anticipated by the writer. By the time the fourth Sunday night was reached, at which time the accompanying picture was taken, it was necessary to bring in extra seats for the children and seat adults on the rostrum in order to take care of the crowd. We are sorry that so many present at the service were left out of the picture.

Members of the church say, "This is the best attendance we have ever had at a series of evangelistic meetings held in the church." While we appreciate very much the support which our members are giving by their faithful attendance, helping in the music, etc., we are glad too that a good representation of non-members are in attendance. We are holding meetings four nights a week and are now in the midst of the fifth week. Judging from the attendance and interest, we will continue the series for a number of weeks.

If you have relatives, friends or acquaintances in the vicinity of Sequim, will you please contact them and urge them to attend at once the meetings being held in the Adventist church. This one little endeavor on your part, in behalf of your friends and loved ones, may do more to lead them to an acceptance of the truth than anything else you could possibly do for them. Many who can invite no one to attend our meetings can offer a prayer for the success of the effort.

Brother L. W. Robison and wife are not only assisting in the evangelistic campaign, they are also giving much appreciated help in caring for the five churches in the peninsula district.

Auburn Academy Hosts Workshop

The first Washington Conference Church Music Workshop was held February 19 on the campus of Auburn Academy.

The eighty-five delegates present represented many churches in the Washington Conference, several churches in the Oregon Conference, and one church in the Montana Conference.

Guest lecturers were Dr. Melvin West, Chairman of the Music Department at Walla Walla College, and Mrs. Nelda Blisserd, Director of Music at the Eugene, Oregon Junior Academy. Coordinator of the day's activities and also a lecturer was Mr. Marvin L. Robertson, Director of Music at Auburn Academy.

The workshop, which was designed to develop an interest in all phases of church music, included lectures on Sabbath school music, service playing, proper use of hymns, wedding music, and choral singing.

It Is Written

How many people did you ask this past week to tune in to "It Is Written" on Channel 11, at 6:30 Sunday evening? Someone in Tacoma did invite someone to watch the telecast, and as a result we have the following letter from Tacoma:

"Thanks for the lessons. I do enjoy them very much. My wife and I study them together. We are seeking for truth and guidance for our daily lives. I am a deacon in a Presbyterian church, but our church needs spiritual fire and we do not get the spiritual food we need. At present we are without a pastor and need a leader badly.

"Please give my special thanks to Pastor Vandeman that broadcasts each Sunday over television station Channel 11 for his wonderful sermons. They are not cluttered up with foggy ideas, but are clear, concise and uplifting. We always try to be at home in time for them. He preaches Christ simply and in an understanding manner. May God richly bless you in your work. Enclosed is a bit toward the work. My wife and I are both retired school people."

Someone also shared their faith in Lynnwood, Washington, and as a result the following note was in Worksheet No. 13:

"It has always been a question in my mind about the Sabbath day, which is right. I think really down deep in my heart I have always thought that the Sabbath was on Saturday. I have had discussions about the seventh day, but have always been told that a certain religion changed the calendar. So I guess you know I have been a little mixed up. But the more I read, the more I think I am right."

Won't you please share this blessed experience with your friends and neighbors. Invite them to tune in each Sunday to Channel 11, 6:30 p.m.

Elder Vandeman Coming To Spokane

The time is drawing near when Elder George Vandeman will be opening his series of meetings in the Masonic Auditorium, W. 1108 Riverside Avenue, in Spokane. These meetings are scheduled for April 8-29. Extensive and detailed plans are being formulated for this crusade. We are exhausting every possible source for names of interested people. Naturally, first of all these meetings are to capitalize on interests developed by the "It Is Written" television program.

We are setting up a special "It Is Written" office just across the corner from our conference office. Here names will be processed, classified, and put into a master file for reference and follow-up. First of all we will consider the names of those enrolled in Take His Word; then we will have the names of those who are taking our own local conference Bible correspondence course; also those who have finished the course. We will also have a long list of people in this area who have become discouraged and left the church.

Announcements will go to those in this area that are getting the Signs of the Times as well as to those taking the Faith for Today and Voice of Prophecy Bible Courses. Thousands of handbills will be distributed in this area and every possible means of communication will carry an announcement of these meetings. We expect hundreds that are viewers of "It Is Written" to attend these meetings even though they have not enrolled in the Take His Word course.

We are calling in quite a group of our young ministers to assist Elder Vandeman in this crusade and also participate in the school of evangelism that he will conduct for the benefit of these young men.

I know many of our people will say, "What can we do to help make this crusade a success?" First of all, every church in this area should cover its territory at once by way of a survey to see how many are viewing the program and how many can be enrolled in the Take His Word course. We have reasons to believe that viewers will come many miles to attend Elder Vandeman's meetings. Next, anyone knowing of a potential interest in the Spokane area should forward name and address at once to the conference office so these can get into our master file.

Last but not least, it would be a great help to us right now if those who have not as yet paid their "It Is Written" pledge could do so. Also, if others could give us further financial help, it is needed and will be greatly appreciated. Our people have faithfully supported the "It Is Written" program financially and are to be commended for it, but we are still far short of meeting the expense.

I know of no program that has ever met with so much favor by the public as our "It Is Written" program. No doubt it will never come our way again and we must do everything possible to capitalize upon the interest.

We solicit the interest, effort and prayers of our people everywhere in behalf of this great and promising evangelistic program.

Ground Is Broken for Spokane Northside Church

After six years of prayerful anticipation the members of the Spokane Northside church are realizing the fulfillment of their hopes for a new church building in which to worship. Ground-breaking ceremonies were held Sunday, February 19, with Elder C. M. Bunker, Conference president, Elder Edwin G. Brown, the pastor, and Loren Stentzel, building committee chairman, taking part.

On March 1 excavation for the basement got under way with the work being donated by Mr. O. H. Almandinger of the Spokane Valley church, who is doing the digging with his power shovel. Mr. Al Smith, also of the Valley church, is donating the use of his large dump truck and supplying a driver for it. A Mr. Nesbitt, though not a Seventh-day Adventist, is offering the services of his large dump truck. Mr. Harold Shane of the Northside church is furnishing the gas and oil for all the machinery. It is anticipated that this donation of labor and equipment will save the church $2,000 on the completion price.

The architect for the church is Mr. Benjamin F. McAdoo, Jr., A.I.A., of Seattle. Mr. Ben Ruckle from Roseburg, Oregon, is the building contractor and Mr. Maurice Wilson of Salem, Oregon, is the foreman. It will take approximately one year to build the church so as to utilize as much donated labor as possible.

Since its inception in March, 1955, the Northside church has been meeting in the school gymnasium. Under the direction of the former pastor, Elder Ray Alderson, a building site was purchased for $5,000. After six years of fund raising the church has $93,000 cash on hand from all sources. The church lot and architectural plans at a cost of $10,000 are paid for in full. In addition there are bona fide pledges in the amount of $36,000. The over-all cost of the church and furnishings, including a macademized and lighted parking lot with space for seventy cars, is $153,000. The church will seat 540 people.

The church is indebted to Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Platner and family of the Deer Park church for the gift of a nearly new two-manual Baldwin organ.

The members of the church have worked hard and sacrificed much to make this new edifice possible and are looking forward to its completion.

Pathfinder Workshop

There will be an extended Pathfinder workshop held at College Place on Sabbath and Sunday, April 8 and 9. This course was originally scheduled for February, but was postponed.

The first meeting of the workshop will convene in the girls' worship room in Conard Hall at 9:30 a.m. Sabbath, April 8. The afternoon meeting and balance of the workshop will be held in the College Place Youth Center on Eighth Street just west of South College Avenue.

We will have a fine staff of instructors to bring real enrichment to the Pathfinder Club program. These include Elder John H. Hancock, North Pacific Union MV Secretary, Dr. Harold Coffin, Walla Walla College, Professor Homer Morrison of the Hermiston public schools, and craft instructors Mrs. W. F. Platner, Mrs. Maurice Smith, Mrs. A. J. Reisig, Mrs. E. L. Purvis, and rocks and minerals by Mr. M. R. Denney.

This course will also meet the Junior Youth leadership requirement for Master Guide. Prepare now for "Target 1,000." Attend this workshop.

All club officers and groups planning to attend are asked to mail card giving number who plan to attend to Missionary Volunteer Department, West 1025 Indiana Avenue, Spokane, by April 3.

An S.O.S. from the Moscow Home and School

All of us here in the Moscow area are very proud of our nearly new, two-room, two-teacher church school; however, we are sorry for the lack of playground equipment. When our 23 students go out to play at recess they find no swings or slides, and for the young ones, especially, this is not good.

Billboard Publicity

The accompanying picture is one of two such billboards sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. Orval Patchett of Pasco. These billboards are strategically located in the Tri City area where the traffic count is the greatest, and stand day and night as a silent witness for the message.

The true value of billboards is no experiment as their wealth has been proven so many ways through the years. We are wondering if there might be others who would like to undertake this fine missionary endeavor and thus give an added impetus to the viewing audience of this fine program.

I have never known of a program put on by our denomination that met the public favor as has this one. Everywhere people feel that it is dignified, representative, and gives the message in a most convincing way. I am sure God will greatly bless anything we can do to draw it to the attention of the public.

C. M. BUNKER

The Gold Bond Stamp company has made a very generous offer for clubs and organizations which we hope will solve our problem. With all of us saving our Gold Bond Stamps and turning them into our Home and School association, we hope to gain the required number of points to make possible the so badly needed swings and slide for our children. Since there is a bill to outlaw trading stamps here in Idaho, just now awaiting the signature of our Governor, we are more than anxious to obtain the required amount of stamps just as soon as possible, and we are now asking all of you who have access to Gold Bond Stamps to help us by sharing yours with us.

Each filled book is worth 700 points, or if you have just 1/5 of a book, it is worth 100 points. If you have just a few stamps, it would be better to just send them loosely, but remember each Gold Bond Stamp is worth something to us. If you would rather not share the stamps themselves (although we are sure you will) when you trade in your book, have the cover validated by asking them to stamp it, and if you would send it to us, it is worth 10 points. You may send your items to Mrs. Philip D. Spechko, Genessee, Idaho, or Mrs. Herbert Waters, 611 S. Washington, Moscow, Idaho.

We wish to thank you in advance for your wonderful generosity.

Stan Midgley Coming

We have been fortunate to arrange for three appearances of Stan Midgley in the Upper Columbia Conference. For nearly two years we have been waiting for his thrilling color film and personal appearance in our field. Stan specializes on American subjects, usually the colorful West. He is a "lone-wolf photographer," making his filming trips leisurely by bicycle, in a jeep where possible, or afoot. In addition to excellent color pictures, he loads them with trick photography and "gags" which have won for him the reputation as being the "Mark Twain of the camera."

Mr. Midgley will give his first film program at the Vert Memorial Auditorium at Pendleton on Sunday night, April 23; on Tuesday, April 25, at Granger Roosevelt School; and Wednesday night, April 26, at Wenatchee Valley College Auditorium.

Mr. Midgley's travelogue program is of the finest type and will be enjoyed by all our people and their friends. Tickets will be sold in advance by our JMV youth.

Trust Agreements

Ellen G. White wrote, "I saw that if any held on to their property, and did not inquire of the Lord as to their duty, He would not make duty known, and they would be permitted to keep their property, and in the time of trouble it would come up before them like a mountain to crush them, and they would try to dispose of it, but would not be able."—Counsels on Stewardship, p. 60.

The times require the most crucial decisions of our lifetime. It is no longer a matter of a normal life-span, death, and then the resurrection. We can anticipate translation and, of course, participation in those rapid movements preceding the glorious appearing of our Lord. It is just that real.

Sister White continues, "The time is coming when we cannot sell at any price. The decree will soon go forth prohibiting men to buy or sell of any man save he that hath the mark of the beast."

"Houses and lands will be of no use to the saints in the time of trouble, for they will then have to flee before infuriated mobs, and at that time their possessions cannot be disposed of to advance the cause of present truth. I was shown that it is the will of God that the saints should cut loose from every encumbrance before the time of trouble comes, and make a covenant with God through sacrifice. If they have their property on the altar, and earnestly inquire of God for duty, He will teach them when to dispose of these things. Then they will be free in the time of trouble, and have no clogs to weigh them down."—Ibid., pp. 59, 60.

It is important to inquire of God for duty and seek counsel from men of sound judgment whose judgment is based on convictions acquired from a study of present truth and world events. Let us not attempt to run ahead of the Lord. We have His promise that He will make duty known if we sincerely seek to know His way for each one of us.

We are prepared to serve you. We probably have a Trust Agreement plan that fits your needs exactly. A letter of inquiry places you under no obligation and this will enable us to acquaint you with our service.

The Doctors Were There

My work as conference revivalist in the Oregon Conference takes me to all sizes of churches, large and small, old and new, and city and country. There is no church too large or too small for the conference revival program. During the week, of February 18 to 25, the program was held at Roseburg.

The new Roseburg church is surely a most beautiful credit to the denomination and to the cause of God. It was a privilege indeed to return to Roseburg after 23 years and hold a week's reassurance meetings with friends and other dear people living in and near the city.

People that know the Roseburg membership, know that there are several active doctors in the church. These men are busy just like doctors are in most places, but the interesting part is that they arranged their busy programs to allow attendance at the meetings. One lady, who is a nurse that works at one of the Roseburg hospitals and therefore acquainted with the doctors, told me that all the doctors of the church were present at the same meeting at least once, and perhaps more.

One busy doctor led the song service each night while his wife and children sat nearby. I mention the wife and children because it is so easy to stay home when you have children, but they came all six nights. Another very busy doctor came to Sabbath school after having had only 1½ hours rest the night before. Another wrestles with the chairmanship of the school board. Another is teaching the Master Guide class as well as being an elder. Another works with the Sabbath school, and perhaps I did not notice others.

Roseburg has a lot of good members that are not doctors, but the fact that all their doctors made a way to come to the reassurance meetings causes me to say, "Thank God for Loma Linda and Christian doctors." And may God so lead that many, many more doctors will locate near, help build, work with, and attend each Sabbath. As you know, I am happy to report that they did so at Roseburg, Oregon. This is, no doubt, one of the many reasons why Elder A. P. Ritz and his wife think they have a most wonderful church membership to work with.

Columbia Academy Students Assist Camas Evangelism

The spirit of "doing" for Christ was again made manifest on the afternoon of Sabbath, February 18. Four carloads of students, wanting to do what they could for Christ, made their way to the Camas, Washington, Seventh-day Adventist Church. They went door-to-door, inviting people to the Spillman meetings being held in that city. Those participating are pictured as follows, from left to right beginning with the front row: LaVonne Hoffman, Carol Hathaway, Janice Payne, Phyllis Hegsted, Laura Lea Hoffman, Thelma Ellenberger, Judy Pope, Joan Bauer, Mrs. Cleo Griffith, Jack Heisler, Bob Wresch, Dale St. Clair, Richard Dodge, Dennis Stilwell, Dan Johnson, Marvin Webberly, Willis Gruzensky, Owen Byers, Mr. Wendell Fleck, Mr. Bill Halstead, Elder Lyle Cornforth.

MONTANA

Machine Shop Equipment Needed

The home and machine shop of Brother and Sister Sam Parker of East Missoula, Montana, were recently destroyed by fire.

Brother Parker was repairing a truck in his welding shop when gasoline fumes from the vehicle's gas tank caught fire from a heater nearby. The fire moved rapidly through the wooden structure, completely destroying it. Parker received "partial thickness" burns to the left arm and right leg and was kept in the Community Hospital overnight for observation. Fortunately, his wife and nephew were attending a Home and School meeting of the Mountain View church school at the time of the fire.

Through the Christian generosity of the Missoula Adventist members, the Parkers have been supplied with needed household items and clothing. Plans are to construct a cement building for a shop near the location of the original shop. When the necessary materials have been collected, a "building bee" will be conducted. The Parkers are now living in a trailer house loaned by Brother and Sister Elwin Johnson of the Will-o-dell Convalescent Home of Missoula.

Brother Parker is anxious to get back to work but even after the shop is erected, Brother Parker will need tools, and his tools now are a blackened, twisted mass of junk. Tools such as saws, wrenches, micrometers, and other machine shop items are needed. Anyone who is able to help may send their contributions in equipment or cash. Send them to the Sam Parker Rehabilitation Fund, 800 South Avenue West, Missoula, Montana.

"Signs" Produce Bible Studies

For many years Leon and Dorothy Anderson have been sending the Signs of the Times to all of their neighbors in the prosperous farming community where they live south of Lindsey. Recently I started out with Brother Anderson to see what influence this silent evangelist and the witness of this Christian family has had on the hearts of the people. Without a single exception we found real appreciation for the Signs. Most of the people mentioned certain articles or features that they especially liked and their knowledge of them gave proof that their appreciation was genuine.

As we talked we would mention current happenings in the world and remind them how fortunate we are to have the blessed promises of God's Word in which to place our hopes rather than in the United Nations or some hoped-for thaw in the cold war. We would then mention the need for studying the Bible as our textbook, if we are planning to apply for citizenship in a new earth wherein dwelleth righteousness. Then we would offer them the privilege of Bible studies or "Pictured Truth" in their home.

As the result of three afternoons of visiting, Brother and Sister Anderson are now giving studies six nights a week to eight families and four more families are willing to study and several families remain to be contacted. Because this is a slack time of the year for farmers, they are giving two studies each night and two nights each week to groups to two or three families each as they gather in cottage meetings. The work of the Andersons will be reinforced with help from nearby Glendive to take care of additional interests.

As we visited each family we mentioned that we planned to climax the series of thirty studies with a three-week series of nightly meetings in the community hall right after spring planting. This suggestion was well received and we look forward to a fine harvest of souls in this community.

Without doubt, there are many more fields such as this that are "white to the harvest." May God bless His people as they go out into the field and "work for the night is coming."

Great Falls To Have New School

At a business meeting held March 1, the Great Falls church approved the building of a new four-room school with auditorium. The following members were elected as a building committee: Mr. Donald Woehler, chairman; Elder J. L. Jespersen, pastor; Mrs. Charlotte Clark and Mrs. June Evans. The new site has not yet been chosen.

According to Elder Jespersen, the present school located at 2823 4th Avenue South, and serving 42 students, is overcrowded and the need for new facilities is urgent. Great Falls has had an SDA school since 1923.

Camp Meeting

We are happy to announce again the coming camp meeting which will be held at Gem State Academy, June 21 to July 1. The first day will be spent in conference business beginning the evening of June 21 and ending perhaps by Thursday evening, June 22, at which time the camp meeting proper will commence. In the first day of business, reports will be given by the conference officers and departmental men, and elections will take place. As soon as we have word on the visiting ministers who will be with us, we will publish it in the GLEANER. But we do want you to plan your vacation so that you will be able to spend the entire time at the meeting, if possible. Tents and rooms may be reserved as usual by sending your name and address and a small deposit to the conference office in Boise.

Building Program

The buildings at the new Gem State Academy are moving along in a very encouraging way. The boys' dormitory should be completed in about a month, or less. Already excavations are being made for the new administration building and the girls' dormitory. This summer there will be an additional crew of men on the job who will be added to those who are the regular workmen. We would like to urge our people to get in as much of your pledges as possible, for we do not want to slacken our pace on getting the buildings in readiness for school opening a year from this fall. There is much work to do, and heavy demands for money. At camp meeting time you will be delighted to see the transformations taking place in and around Caldwell. Thank you, brethren and sisters, for your loyalty and faithfulness. God bless you.

$673.50 In One Night

The city council of Pocatello, Idaho, has limited the Seventh-day Adventist church to one night of solicitation for Ingathering. Because of this the pastors invited the student body of Gem State Academy to participate in the evening solicitation.

Friday, December 16, the Gem Staters left the academy in 16 cars and traveled to Twin Falls for a sacred concert in their new church. Sabbath morning, December 17, bright and early they left Twin Falls for Pocatello.

A district meeting had been called in Pocatello and the academy had charge of the Sabbath school program. Elder Ralph Carter, principal of Gem State Academy, spoke at the eleven o'clock service giving some excellent parallelism of ancient Israel with ourselves.

After a potluck dinner the Gem State choir again gave a sacred Christmas program for those assembled from the district. By 6:00 p.m. the students had been divided into solicitation teams and were assigned their area throughout the town. At 9:00 o'clock when we all assembled to count our funds we were gratified with the total of $673.50.

We want to thank our Gem State Academy student body and faculty as well as the drivers of cars for their support and cooperation in making this a successful weekend.

MESSAGES TO YOUNG PEOPLE?

- 1 "The most essential education for our youth today to gain, and that which will fit them for the higher grades of the school above, is an education that will teach them how to reveal the will of God to the world."
- 2 "Real happiness is found only in being good and doing good. The purest, highest enjoyment comes to those who faithfully fulfill their appointed duties."
- 3 "Through faith in Christ, every deficiency of character may be supplied, every defilement cleansed, every fault corrected, every excellent developed. 'Ye are complete in Him.'"
- 4 "But when we give ourselves wholly to God, and in our work follow His directions, He makes Himself responsible for its accomplishment. He would not have us conjecture as to the success of our honest endeavors. Not once should we even think of failure. We are to cooperate with One who knows no failure."
- 5 "Any amusement in which you can engage asking the blessing of God upon it in faith, will not be dangerous. But any amusement which disqualifies you for secret prayer, for devotion at the altar of prayer, or for taking part in the prayer meeting, is not safe, but dangerous."
- 6 "A little time spent in sowing your wild oats, dear young friends, will produce a crop that will embitter your whole life; an hour of thoughtlessness—once yielding to temptation—may turn the whole current of your life in the wrong direction."

Spring Quarter Offers Educational Opportunity

Registration for the spring quarter at WWC is now proceeding for on-campus students. There may be many, however, who have planned to begin or return to school for the summer quarter, or even next fall, who should consider the possibility of coming for the spring quarter.

Since WWC is on the quarter system, it is possible for students to register at the beginning of the spring quarter for many courses of one quarter's duration and thus to accelerate graduation. Registration for new students will be conducted on March 20 with instruction beginning on March 21.

Departments offering courses available to an entering student are art, biology, education, industrial education, English, music, physical education, history, religion, home economics, and speech.

If there are those who live within driving distance of WWC but who are employed during the day, they may wish to take advantage of the late afternoon or evening classes being offered during the spring quarter, says Dr. H. L. Rasmussen, academic dean. These courses, the teachers, and the evening of meeting are: School Arts, Miss Bernice Searle, Monday; Educational Evaluation, Dr. R. E. Silver, Thursday; Mental Health in Education, Mrs. Carl T. Jones, Tuesday; Introduction to Music, Professor Lloyd Leno, Monday. Late afternoon classes include Curriculum Planning, Arts and Crafts, and Water Safety.

New Faculty Appointment Announced

Elder Joseph N. Barnes, director of the SDA New York Center since 1955, has accepted an appointment as assistant professor of religion at Walla Walla College, President P. W. Christian has announced.

Elder Barnes will complete the doctoral work in religious education at New York University before coming West. He holds a master's degree in the same field from New York University and a bachelor's degree from Union College with a major in religion and a minor in speech. Other graduate study has been at Andrews University, Harvard Divinity School, and the Biblical Seminary of New York.

The new staff member began his ministry in Massachusetts in 1947. Since then he has done pastoral work in Boston, assisted in a Carnegie Hall lecture series, and been youth director and radio speaker for the Greater New York Conference of Adventists. His present position is director of the adult education, community service, and evangelistic institution at Times Square in the heart of New York City.

Elder and Mrs. Barnes have three children, Sherilyn Jo, Joseph Dale and Lorinda Lou.

His first appearance will be March 25 when he will conduct the Spring Week of Consecration, March 25 to April 1, on the campus. Entitling his series "Adventures in Faith," he will speak twice daily to the college community to which the public is invited, says Elder P. C. Heubach, chairman of the department of religion.

Courses for Teachers at Rosario Beach

The science and professional education needs of teachers are being considered at the Walla Walla College Biological Station Summer Session for June 12 to August 18. A full-year course, 12 hours, of General Biology will be offered. This course will meet basic science requirements. Methods in Teaching Biology will also be taught and will provide professional education credit and eliminate two hours of the Directed Teaching requirement. Persons desiring more information may write to Dr. H. G. Coffin, Department of Biology, Walla Walla College, College Place, Washington, for a Biological Station bulletin.

The class schedule for the summer session is as follows:

First Term
General Biology	8 hours
General Ecology	4 "
Marine Botany	4 "
Comparative Physiology	4 "
Biochemistry	4 "
Second Term
General Biology	4 hours
Methods in Teaching Biology	2 "
Oceanography	4 "
Marine Invertebrates	4 "
Limnology	4 "
Systematic Botany	4 "

Science Department Heads Invited to Summer Sessions

Plans for summer graduate study were announced for heads of two WWC science departments this week.

Dr. R. H. Brown, chairman of the physics department, has been selected as one of 20 scientists to participate in the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies to be held this summer for physics teachers from small colleges.

The Institute, set for June 26 to August 18, at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and supported by an Atomic Energy Commission grant to colleges to assist in the expense, will give college physicists an opportunity to be brought up to date on physics theory, says Dr. Brown.

Prof. E. F. Cross, chairman of the department of engineering, has accepted a National Science Foundation fellowship for summer study at his alma mater, the Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, New Jersey. The Institute, July 10 to August 18, is being conducted in Professor Cross's teaching fields of thermodynamics and the science of engineering materials.

Junior Class Names Officers

The 105-member junior class organized March 3 with Dr. R. H. Brown, dean of administration, presiding.

Officers elected were: Barry Kellogg, president, chemistry major, Caldwell, Idaho; Lynette Nelson, vice-president, business administration, Roseburg, Oregon; Eddy Lou Owens, secretary, secretarial science, Keene, Texas; Dale Beaulieu, treasurer, business administration, College Place; Clyde Praye, chaplain, theology, College Place; and Larry McGinnis, sergeant-at-arms, mechanical engineering, New Bridge, Oregon.

Ralph L. Jones, assistant professor of business administration, was selected to be the class sponsor.

Quiz Program to Provide Entertainment, Funds for Scholarship

A Tempo, music department club, is sponsoring a quiz program, "Witmatch," for Saturday evening, March 25, in Columbia Auditorium, proceeds to provide music scholarship funds for an incoming freshman majoring in music in 1961-62, says Ruth Chen, A Tempo president.

With Elder G. S. Balharrie, associate professor of religion as master of ceremonies, teams of contestants from 14 campus departmental clubs will compete on questions from 20 categories. Entertainment between sections will feature club information and activities and music by the sponsoring club. A small admission will be charged.
