

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY

WILLIAM J. HARRIS, Associate Secretary
Sabbath School Department, General Conference

In the community surrounding many Seventh-day Adventist churches live neighbors and friends, many of whom have never been inside an Adventist church. Possibly some would have visited our church except for their idea that Seventh-day Adventists are a strange and peculiar people. We are regarded as being odd and that "we keep Saturday for Sunday," and that we never eat pork. Very often that is about all they know about this marvelous Advent Movement and the people who have dedicated their lives to getting ready for the soon coming of Jesus.

This distorted image of the Advent people and their message is most unfortunate. However, it need not be. There is much that we can do, and that we must do, to create a proper image of this blessed truth and the people who love it. Without doubt there are many of our friends and neighbors living around our churches who could be won to Jesus if they were to receive a true picture of Seventh-day Adventists and their belief.

One of the very finest ways to remove prejudice and secure the good will of our neighbors and acquaintances is to do something helpful for their children. A careful approach by means of the Vacation Bible School plan will often open doors of opportunity that will be productive in real soul-winning. Of course we do not urge or expect that we are going to be able to baptize parents a few weeks after Vacation Bible School is over. We work on no such assumption, even though it has in some cases produced just such results. But we can remove prejudice, we can create good will, and we may tactfully meet inquiries that will help many to more clearly understand Seventh-day Adventists.

The summer is here; so also is Vacation Bible School time. This is a golden opportunity to help the children of the community and also to create a better impression in people's minds concerning the work and belief of the Advent people. Vacation Bible School is a spearhead effort in Sabbath school evangelism. It will open new doors and help to prepare the minds of many for a more favorable reception of God's truth for our day.

A surprising amount of good will may be cultivated by inviting friends and parents of the Vacation Bible School children to a special graduation program at the close of the Bible school. Invite the parents and other neighbors to view a display of your VBS crafts that the children have been making. Arrange for the visitors to meet the teachers and other helpers. Take the visitors on a tour through the church, show them your Sabbath school rooms and some of your teaching aids. Have them visit your church school, see the wonderful Bible story books and other helpful books and papers for children. Let them leaf through the Vacation Bible School lesson and workbook materials. Through such opportunities the people of the neighborhood may gain a new appreciation of our work and belief.

By careful planning, nearly every Vacation Bible School could develop into a follow-up of Branch Sabbath School, or Community Bible Class, or perhaps a Children's Story Hour. Frequently such may also lead to a Neighborhood Bible Class for adults. Branch Sabbath School work is a natural outgrowth of Vacation Bible Schools. This type of Sabbath school evangelism need not necessarily be done only on the Sabbath. All such may be done on any day of the week and be included in your Branch Sabbath School goal achievement. Eventually most such undertakings will later be transferred into a regular Sabbath school on Sabbath.

Vast possibilities are opened before us through the Vacation Bible School plan. This is Vacation Bible School season. Let every Sabbath school plan for this important kind of soul-saving work which will add greatly to the blessings of the Sabbath school. Indeed, this is your opportunity!

Ministers Wanted

It is important that ministers living near military bases have in their possession the latest information necessary to help our servicemen facing military problems. It often happens that our youth in military service who have lost their way will attend church and firm up in their religion, and this way open the door to grave problems. Parents often write us telling of their sons at military bases in need of immediate help. For this reason we need the names of our ministers living near these bases.

If you live near a military installation or have one in your district, please send us your name and address so that we may supply you with up-to-date information from time to time. Send your name and address to the Seventh-day Adventist War Service Commission, 6840 Eastern Avenue, Washington 12, D.C. Thank you!

Students Have Link With Missions

The Signs of the Times is not just another Adventist publication to Mount Ellis Academy students—it is a link with missions.

For three years students and teachers at Mount Ellis Academy have been sending Signs to the Vincent Hill School, located at Mussoorie, India. Two years ago a club of 70 Signs was sponsored; a year ago a club of 130 was sent, and this last year a club of 202 Signs was subscribed to.

The students' enthusiasm was displayed in a new way this year by taking funds from their class dues to pay for the Signs subscriptions. Students working in school industries such as the dairy and shop contributed to this worthy project.

W. O. Manley, principal of the Vincent Hill School, wrote several letters thanking the students for the Signs and telling the results of Signs evangelism. Principal Manley stated that the Dalai Lama is receiving the Signs regularly, and sent a picture of the Dalai Lama holding a copy of the Signs. The Dalai Lama has been favorable to our work.

A former Tibetan police guard for the Dalai Lama who is now a platoon commander wrote this about the Signs, "I am regularly receiving the copies of the Signs from your group, and I find these to be quite interesting. Some of the poetries are worth to get by heart which my family members do. I thank you very much for this favor." Another man writes, "I like your magazine Signs very much, because it helps to solve the problems of mental, physical, and spiritual life . . . Here I utilize all your magazines, etc., for my personal use as well as for the library of Telegraph Recreation Club."

The students and faculty of Mount Ellis Academy are happy to have a part in giving the message in mission fields through the Signs.

Salem Church "Swarms"

On Sabbath afternoon, June 10, an unusual service took place in the Salem church. As the result of this historic meeting a new church organization emerged, known as the East Salem Seventh-day Adventist church.

During the past year the membership of the Salem church was greatly increased, having surpassed the 700 mark. The recent evangelistic effort under the direction of Elder George Knowles greatly added to the crowded condition in the church. It had become impossible to adequately seat the congregation. The Sabbath school space was so limited in the various divisions that many people were unable to attend.

Several months ago the Salem church board under the leadership of the pastor, Elder Joseph C. Hansen, and in counsel with the Conference officers developed plans for "swarming." Opportunity was given to those who would like to become members of a new congregation to express themselves accordingly. Nearly 200 members declared their desire to be members of a new church.

Since the Salem church had already purchased land in the East Salem area for the new elementary school and junior academy it was decided that the East Salem church would establish its home near the school. Plans for a new church building are in the making, and as soon as the school buildings are finished the church project will be further activated.

In the meantime the East Salem church is meeting in a rented building, which is already proving too small for the rapidly growing congregation.

We are happy to note this healthy growth and development of God's work in Salem, and we pray that the newly-organized East Salem church will soon equal the mother church in membership.

An Appeal to Our Members

Our hearts have been made glad as our pastors and evangelists have reported their baptisms for the first six months of this year. We believe that we have never had so many join the church in a six-month period. Surely this is as it should be with the end so rapidly drawing near. Our pastors and evangelists have worked harder than ever and conducted more efforts than in former years.

But we believe our lay members have also played an important part in reaping this harvest. They cooperated in local church soul-winning projects. They entered wholeheartedly into the Bible Crusade plan launched at our church officers' conventions, and they have done much of the personal visiting in connection with the "It Is Written" program. This cooperative and coordinated effort under God's blessing is responsible for the large number of baptisms.

However, we have a real burden to share with our members. It is this: Experience tells us that when earnest, carefully planned efforts are put forth in winning men and women to this truth, there is usually a large number who do not make their decisions as early as others. We are deeply concerned that we do not drop or neglect these interested people because they have not moved forward in these early baptisms. For example, here in Portland following the "It Is Written" auditorium meetings there were 200 or 300 who manifested a real interest but who have not gone forward as yet. I myself have several such on my visiting and Bible study list. There are many all over the conference in this class. I appeal to our church members not to drop the work of visiting these people during the three long summer months. It is usually difficult to revive interest once we let it lag, so let us carry these precious souls on our hearts and keep up the contacts and in the fall many of these slower people will move forward. We are told that we let go of the Lord too soon.

Our greatest harvests from the "It Is Written" and Bible Crusade programs should be reaped this fall and in the spring of 1962. This type of program takes time. The full impact of the telecasts and the "Take His Word" studies will mature this fall as the programs continue all over the conference. So we earnestly appeal to our "It Is Written" visitors not to become weary in well-doing. Faithfully and enthusiastically keep up your contacts and in due time you will reap your harvest.

We have now provided your pastor with the answers to the Take His Word worksheets. If you have not already received a copy, please ask him for one. With these answers in hand you will be better prepared to offer to help fill out the worksheets. This is one of the finest and simplest ways to give a Bible study.

Let us all pray and work earnestly to have at least one precious soul in the kingdom because we have yielded ourselves to the Master for His service. It is constant impact with this truth that counts. If we make contacts, give Bible studies, invite and bring people to our services and help our neighbors, we will sometime, somewhere, reap the fruitage of what we sow. What a thrill it must have been for one of our lay members of the Stone Tower church when two Sabbaths ago Elder Lickey invited her to come and stand beside the baptismal candidate she had helped to win! The promise is, "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." Let us work and then claim the promise.

We Are Moving, You Know

Where?

To camp meeting. It is that time. We move every year to Caldwell for this important event. And we hope to see you there, too. And when you come, bring a friend. And when you both come with the rest of the family, come to the Bible House. It will be at its usual place. But it will be different. We have many new books and other things. And you need them too, for yourself, your friends, for gifts, for the grandchildren and your personal missionary program.

Remember, the Bible House in Boise will be closed from June 18 to July 3. We will not be there. We have no need to be. We are at camp meeting.

Mail orders are still accepted any time. Write as usual to Box 2238, Boise. We will be answering mail and shipping books any time we are not serving our customers.

Dedication of Caldwell Church

The beautiful new Caldwell Seventh-day Adventist church was dedicated, free of debt, May 13, at 3:30 p.m. It was our first Sabbath in our attractive church, made more attractive by its many contrasts. What a lovely, high day it was for us and our friends.

Elder C. A. Scriven, president of the North Pacific Union Conference, preached the dedicatory sermon. Elder C. E. Bishop, pastor of the church, and his congregation took part in the act of dedication. Elder A. J. Gordon, president of the Idaho Conference, offered the dedicatory prayer.

Mayor Ed Simmerman of Caldwell commented on the acoustics and beauty of the building in his congratulatory speech. Other special visitors were Rev. Ray Wilson, a moderator of the Presbyterian Church, who drew the plans; Rev. Ken Armstrong, president of the Caldwell Ministerial Association; business men who furnished supplies for the building; and many from surrounding Seventh-day Adventist churches of the valley. A thousand people were present to witness the dedication, and a Thank Offering of $213.43 was received.

The new structure has a seating capacity of one thousand comprising over 16,000 feet of floor space. It includes such features as one floor construction, ten semi-private senior division Sabbath school class areas, youth and prayer meeting chapel, nursery, complete educational unit, reverberation chambers for the organ speakers, stereophonic sound system, upholstered pews, choir rooms, pastor's study, home missionary office, treasurer's room, reostat controlled lighting in the main auditorium, and a nice enclosed courtyard with fireplace to serve as open-air fellowship grounds. It is valued at $200,000. Over $50,000 worth of donated labor helped and was greatly appreciated.

The history of the church dates back to Miss Lenora Watt's grandfather, Brother Peter Gurton, who held Sabbath school each Sabbath in Grandma White's home in 1903, and in other homes too, before the first church was organized in 1905. The first church was a one-room building which also served as a school. Our beautiful new church makes the third one this congregation has built.

Elder C. E. Bishop, our pastor, laid the rock veneer which was a saving of $5,000 to the congregation. He labored hard and faithfully, as did Brother Kenneth DeHart, who was in charge of the building program which lasted only ten months. Many others worked long, hard hours too, but that is in the past and we all exclaim, "The Lord is due all the praise, and to Him be the honor and glory!"

The Conflict of the Ages

It is almost over, the conflict that has been going on for ages, the conflict between Christ and Satan. That is a thrilling fact, is it not, to know that soon time shall be no longer, that eternity shall be a reality? But what kind of a thrill does it really give us? Well, that depends on whose side we are on, who we are fighting for and who we are fighting against.

Would you like to bring yourself up-to-date and project yourself into the future by reading the most interesting and inspiring account of the major and minor characters on that field of battle, right from the beginning of time? Who would not enjoy reading the story of the perfect life, the story of the plan of salvation because perfection became imperfection? Where is the lesson to be learned in the study of ancient Israel, the life of Moses, the story of Queen Esther and Daniel? What do you know about those minor prophets who came upon the scene of action at the appointed time? And then, the story of Jesus, His life, His teachings, His death, burial and resurrection and ascension. Now comes the reformation period, the disappointment of 1844 and the signs of the times pointing to Christ's second coming. The past is gone, the present shall disappear and what about the future life, the time of trouble, the apostate power to the forefront, the seven last plagues, probation ended, Christ actually coming, the millennial period, heaven, sinlessness? And through it all a people who have prepared and have chosen the better things of life and have been found ready for all things.

Do you have this story of the conflict of the ages? It is found, you know, from beginning to the end in that 5-volume set of Mrs. White's writings entitled, "Conflict of the Ages." Why not order this set for your home today. And, read them from cover to cover. And when you get to the last book, The Great Controversy, read those closing chapters over and over again. It will be well worth your while.

Evangelism in the Rupert, Jerome and Gooding District

In the past 18 months the Lord has blessed this small district which had a combined membership of 90 with 46 baptisms. Elder Harry Gray and Elder Ray Cronk led the music in Gooding and Jerome for the pastor-evangelist David Watts. In a 12-week series in Rupert and a 3-week series both in Jerome and Burley the music was led by Mr. Gary Patterson.

The greatest obstacle to evangelism in these small towns is the large Mormon element comprising 50 to 85 per cent of the population. However the gospel still goes on and reaches the honest in heart and marvelous victories are gained in spite of any obstacle. Even though our churches in this area are small the attendance was good due to the faithful support of each member.

The evangelistic team, Dave Watts and Gary Patterson, are presently engaged in a series of meetings in the Salmon area. We would ask for your prayers in this campaign and future work.

UPPER COLUMBIA

Evangelism in Yakima

A combined evangelistic effort by laymen and young people of the Yakima church under the direction of the writer opened March 12, and was carried on every Sunday and Wednesday night throughout the "Sure Word of Prophecy" series, which ended May 28. The meetings were held in the Seventh-day Adventist church auditorium, and the attendance was very good. Many Christian friends of other non-Adventist churches helped fill the auditorium every Sunday night. The Wednesday night meetings consisted of studies on the great prophecies in the Book of Revelation, and the meetings will continue throughout the summer months.

Great joy was felt on Sabbath, May 27, during the morning church worship hour when 19 persons were baptized and accepted into church fellowship. The Spirit of the Lord was present and worked upon many other hearts. When an appeal was made at the end of the baptism a number indicated their desire to prepare for baptism in the near future.

On Sunday night, May 28, the closing night of the series, the topic was "The Sin God will not Forgive," and it was thrilling to see the congregation standing in response to an appeal and see them reach up with right arms to heaven indicating their willingness to follow the truth which the Holy Spirit impresses upon their minds and hearts.

The summer season in Yakima will be a very busy one for there are hundreds of names which need to be followed up. There is a very good interest that has developed from the "It is Written" telecast along with scores of names which attended faithfully the "Sure Word of Prophecy" series. The pastor and laymen are entering these homes to start Bible studies.

Another baptism is scheduled for the month of July, and another series of Sunday night meetings is planned to open September 17, to be carried on until Ingathering time.

To God be given the honor and glory for what has been done, and we thank our faithful church members in Yakima for their devoted support. I am writing this report to encourage all to spend more time in evangelism. It is the life blood of the church, which is vitalized by the flow of God's energizing Spirit. We are living at the brink of eternity. Time is extremely short. The "last act" in the drama of the ages will soon break upon us. Now is the day to work, pray and cooperate with the crucified, risen, and soon-coming Saviour. May the Lord help us raise our vision and see the field that is ripe for the harvest.

Pathfinder Camporee

Where are all those car, bus, and truck loads of Pathfinders going? They are so happy and jubilant, and their officers too. Haven't you heard? They are on their way to the Blue Mountain Pathfinder Camporee. They will be spending the weekend of June 30-July 2 camping in Target Meadows area near Langdon Lake.

Here they will put to practice their skills in camp making, lashing, outdoor cookery, and field events. On the trail they will study the great book of nature and worship its creator.

The Pathfinder Camporee is an experience no club should miss. We hope all club officers will bend every effort to bring their club and enjoy this fine fellowship.

College Place Pathfinders Win At Portland Rose Parade

The marching unit of Waiilatpu Pathfinder Club of College Place was awarded a blue ribbon and trophy for its appearance in the Junior Rose Parade at the Portland Rose Festival, June 7. The victory was a well-deserved reward of months of intensive drill under Drillmaster James Roebuck, according to Henry Smith, director of the 20-unit Pathfinder Club.

Smartly attired in the Pathfinder uniforms with gold shoulder epaulets, Pathfinder belts with buckle insignia, and white gloves, the 20-member marching unit was adjudged a first place winner in the organizations section. It was during the parade, after several expertly-executed drill demonstrations, that the team received the trophy, presented to Director Smith.

Leading the College Place group in the parade were Charles Hallsted and John Sipkens Jr., bearing the U.S. flag and the Pathfinder flag, respectively. Carol Thornton and Karen Gustafson with the Pathfinder banner, giving the local club insignia and identification, followed Club Director Smith and preceded the marching unit.

Marchers were Barbara Ragan, Kathleen Boyd, Richard Ritz, Barbara Horne, Lonnie Feyen, Judy Wade, Karen Reiber, Hugh Blair, Barbara Mitchell, Edrie Kendall, Jeannie Dunham, Lauralee and Loislee Craig, Carman Winter, Sandra Fairchild, and Linda Haugen.

The 110-member Waiilatpu Pathfinder Club meets regularly every Tuesday evening in the College Place Youth Center. Activities will continue through the summer, says Director Smith, who mentions that many outdoor activities are planned for this period of the year.

Ministerial Interns

Four ministerial interns will join the working family of the Washington Conference this summer. Brother and Sister Arthur Bushnell will be serving under the direction of Elder J. H. Laurence, the pastor and leader of the Spruce Street district. Brother Bushnell will be assigned to the Tacoma area in the interest of developing a strong church in our second largest city. We are grateful for the leadership Elder Laurence is giving to the work and the Committee feels that Brother Bushnell is most fortunate to serve under the guidance of such a successful, experienced and very active district minister.

Brother and Sister Paul Moore will be coming to us from Washington, D.C., where, upon completion of his ministerial training at the Seminary, he has taught at Washington Missionary College for the past year. It is our plan to assign him to the Bremerton district where he will be privileged to work under the supervision of Elder Shepherd.

Brother Norman Versteeg is a graduate of Walla Walla College and has now completed his year at the Seminary at Berrien Springs. He and his wife will be associated with Elder Patterson, recently assigned to the Auburn district where a rapidly growing work will give plenty of opportunity for development and service.

Brother David Parks is also a graduate of Walla Walla College and has also finished his work at the Seminary. He has been assigned to the Tacoma district where he will labor under the supervision of Elder H. F. Hannah, the new leader of the district. There are great opportunities for service in Tacoma and it is our prayer that the

Summer Session Opens

The summer session at WWC opened June 13 with 358 enrolled on the campus and 35 at the Biological Station at Rosario Beach. This total of 393 compares favorably with last summer's total of 385 for the same two groups.

At the WWC School of Nursing clinical division at Portland 74 remained in training. In July a new class will begin training.

Professional Meetings Call WWC Staff Members

WWC staff members are attending and conducting professional meetings this summer.

Dr. Carl T. Jones, head of the chemistry department, and Professor C. W. Shankel, chemistry staff member, attended the Northwest Regional meeting of the American Chemical Society in Portland June 15 and 16.

Mrs. Carl T. Jones, assistant professor of nursing education, was in Seattle on the same days for the Northwest district institute on the Science of Health Education.

Clinton Wall, director of food service, will be at Andrews University conducting workshops for school food service personnel and for hospital cooks during June and July.

From June 19-30 he will direct the food service workshop giving college credit in administration of school food service or in institutional management. A staff of nearly 20 dietitians, medical doctors, home economists, are slated as lecturers, instructors, and discussion leaders.

From July 3-15 Mr. Wall will direct the second workshop, membership being limited to 30 hospital dietitians and cooks. Mrs. Earl Nixon, assistant administrative dietitian at the Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital, will be the assistant director.

On the local college campus June 11-14 workers of the Upper Columbia Conference attended sessions on nutrition under Mr. Wall's leadership.

Youth Urged to Plan for A College Education

Summer time is decision time for youth. Educational plans must be made—soon. By recent action of the Walla Walla College board, September 1 is the deadline for applications for college for the coming year 1961-62. Processing applications, obtaining all the necessary data, and having acceptances ready before the beginning of the fall quarter, Monday, September 25, are contingent upon strict adherence to the deadline.

Everywhere throughout the Northwest students are spreading the word that their college is a fine school to attend: a school of high scholastic, spiritual, and social standards. There are, however, many questions on which prospective students may need counsel.

To meet this need on the part, not only of students, but of parents, WWC faculty representatives are already in the field, visiting former and prospective students and giving advice on financial, academic, and career problems.

The experienced educators and counselors and their locations for the summer are: Professor Kenneth Aplington, chairman of the department of English, Idaho and Montana; Professor Melvin Davis, director of choral music, Washington Conference; Professor J. J. Hafner, director of the string ensembles at WWC, Portland and vicinity; and Professor J. G. Mehling, chairman of business administration, southern and eastern Oregon. A number of faculty members will visit churches and individuals in the Upper Columbia Conference following the camp meeting.

No "Gleaner" Next Week

In harmony with our policy of omitting two issues of the "Gleaner" each year, there will be no paper next week. The next "Gleaner" will be dated July 3.

Student Editor Invites Participation at WWC

You have seen The Collegian, perhaps read it from time to time. No doubt you are aware that at WWC each year are an Amateur Hour, three examination weeks, and Senior Recognition Day.

But factual news stories appearing in The Collegian can never describe that feeling of personal involvement you possess when you are a participating student at WWC. Only a student can understand what it is like to join in singing the chapel prayer-hymn with 1300 other students, or to stand in dinner line at 12:13.

You who come to WWC as freshmen this fall will find a welcome waiting for you. There will be a place for you in registration line; there will be a part-time job available through the Finance Office; there will be classes, books, teachers, and schedules at your disposal.

During your first year at WWC you will meet with many Christian young people of your own age and a similar background; you will meet others with more colorful backgrounds and more varied ways of living. You may expect to overhear conversations anywhere on the campus in Portuguese, German, or Cantonese.

You will find enjoyment and social pleasure throughout the year at the ASWWC Midwinter Event, the Student Association Center, and Campus Day. You will broaden your spiritual values by attending weekly services in the College church, the winter quarter Student Week of Devotion, and Friday night vespers.

Intellectually, you will meet and conquer subjects of interest to you ranging from Quantitative Analysis to English Renaissance Literature. Through textbooks you will become acquainted with great minds such as Aristotle and Mendeleev, or you may delve into the study of integral calculus or the quantum theory of radiation.

We on The Collegian staff will be looking forward to meeting you on the WWC campus this fall. We hope to print your name in the course of the year for your outstanding attainment in your school work, in student activities, or in feats of physical skill.

The Student Association of WWC needs students who will participate, who will support, and who will lead others in the student activities of the organization. Your talents and abilities are welcomed in the extra-curricular program of WWC this coming year.
