

THE "COUNT-DOWN" NEARS "ZERO"

JOHN H. HANCOCK

There is a lot of excitement these days at the Union Conference office. With every passing week trucks or mail cars are delivering boxes and packages with interesting materials in them. Signs, decorations and exhibit booths are also beginning to be seen in the conference basement and garage.

In today's mail the first shipment of the MV Target 1000 Master Guide pins to be used at the Youth Congress Investiture service arrived. We could hardly wait to open the metal container to see these beautiful insignias which will be awarded to those who are invested on Sabbath afternoon, April 21, in this largest of all Investiture services ever held in our denomination.

All of this makes us realize that the "count-down" for our youth congress is really on the way to zero. April 18 is only about a month away. As I travel through the union, I find the Youth Congress fever running high. Thousands are planning to attend the entire congress for this great gathering of young people promises to bring us some of the greatest inspiration of any meeting ever held in the Northwest territory.

The thrilling festival of music, great revival preaching by Elders Minchin, Richards, and Delafield and others, "Spotlight on Truth" Bible teams, thrilling share-your-faith stories, returning missionaries, youth orations and a visit by Rafer Johnson—the world's greatest living athlete—Congress Cavalcade, informative and spontaneous youth discussion groups—all of these add up to make the Youth Congress a "must" for our constituency here in the North Pacific Union.

To make this congress possible, it has taken much planning and will entail a large outlay of financial appropriations. Just the bringing in of the nine academy choirs from the entire Union plus the a cappella choir and symphony orchestra from Walla Walla College will cost the Youth Congress several thousand dollars. When this is added to the rental of the Coliseum for four days and nights, plus the additional expense of various special features, which we are bringing to this congress to make it interesting, we are in great need of financial help from the constituency in our field to meet these costs.

By action of the Union Committee, the Sabbath morning church offering on March 17 is to be devoted to helping us defray the expenses of this great congress. In 1960 we raised a large amount of money to send 300 young people to Atlantic City for the national youth congress. We appreciated the liberality of our people in supporting the youth program at that time. The offering to be taken on March 17, however, will make it possible for at least 12,000 to gain a blessing right here in our own territory. We are counting on every young person and every family to share the burden of this congress and give a most liberal offering on March 17. This is an investment in our own Northwest young people. We believe that the results of this congress will be felt for months and years to come. As the count-down nears zero, will you not be extra liberal when the offering plate is passed this coming Sabbath morning, March 17?

Rafer Johnson, world's greatest living athlete, and winner of 1960 Olympic Decathlon event, will appear at the Youth Congress on Thursday night, April 19.

Rafer Johnson at Youth Congress

Six thousand two hundred pigeons fluttered into the warm August sky, a runner touched flame to the huge torch overlooking the giant stadium, 7,000 Olympians marched in solemn procession into the arena and the 1960 Olympiad in Rome was under way.

Carrying the flag of the United States in the monumental parade of competitors was a tall, dignified, 6-foot, 3-inches, 200-pound American negro named Rafer Johnson. A few days later a lifelong dream came true to Mr. Johnson when he stepped to the center platform to receive the gold medal in the ten-part decathlon—a whole track meet in miniature which combines the classic Olympic demands of speed, stamina, strength and spirit.

Rafer Johnson, known as the world's greatest athlete, had compiled more points in the 1960 Olympics than any American athlete in history, and will be featured at the coming North Pacific Union Youth Congress on Thursday night, April 19. There in connection with the Temperance oratorical finals for our union, Mr. Johnson will give a talk entitled, "More Than a Champion."

All of our people throughout the Union are conscious of the fact that we are to hold a great Youth's Congress here in Portland, April 18 to 21. As an aid in making this congress a complete success, it is necessary that we receive a liberal offering on Sabbath, March 17. Your interest is appreciated.

Mr. Johnson first gained an interest in the decathlon event when his high school coach drove him to nearby Tulare to watch a 1948 and 1952 Olympic Decathlon Champion, Bob Mathias, compete in his home town. In 1956 Mr. Johnson won his first national championship and in November of that year at the Olympics in Melbourne, Australia, he finished second to America's Milt Campbell with Kuznetsov, of Russia, a close third.

In 1958 he traveled to Russia to compete in the United States-USSR track meet. Just weeks before, the same Kuznetsov had set a new world's record. In one of the great athletic duels in history there in Moscow, Johnson beat Kuznetsov and set a new world mark.

Rafer Johnson is not only an athlete but has high Christian principles. He was leader of the Youth For Christ organization at the University of Los Angeles campus. In his senior year, Rafer was elected student body president of that university. We are sure that his message on clean living and high Christian standards will be of interest to the young people and non-believers who will be attending the Youth Congress.

Those who would like to know more about this young man may read the center spread of the November, 1961 issue of Listen Magazine.

Question: Knowing these things, what is enjoined upon God's people?

Answer: "We as a people have not accomplished the work which God has committed to us. We are not ready for the issue to which the enforcement of the Sunday law will bring us. It is our duty, as we see the signs of approaching peril, to arouse to action. Let none sit in calm expectation of the evil, comforting themselves with the belief that this work must go on because prophecy has foretold it, and that the Lord will shelter his people. We are not doing the will of God if we sit in quietude, doing nothing to preserve liberty of conscience."—Testimonies, Vol. 5, p. 713.

Question: How can we now best honor God?

Answer: "We have been looking many years for a Sunday law to be enacted in our land; and now that the movement is right upon us, we ask, Will our people do their duty in the matter? Can we not assist in lifting the standard, and in calling to the front those who have a regard for their religious rights and privileges? The time is fast approaching when those who choose to obey God rather than man, will be made to feel the hand of oppression. Shall we then dishonor God by keeping silent while His holy commandments are trodden under foot?"—Ibid., Vol. 5, p. 716.

Question: What will God do for His people?

Answer: "In the time of testing and trial, the shield of Omnipotence will be spread over those whom God has made the depositories of His law. When legislators shall adjure the principles of Protestantism, so as to give countenance and the right hand of fellowship to Romanism, then God will interpose in a special manner in behalf of His own honor and the salvation of His people.—Ibid., Vol. 5, p. 525.

What If He Had Waited?

On January 29, I called on a family in Anacortes who had three junior age young people who desired to be baptized. While visiting with the family, I learned that the mother's brother, Lollin Briggs, thirty years of age, who had recently come to stay with them, had once been a Seventh-day Adventist. His story was one of hardship and serious health problems all of his life and as a result he had drifted out. After talking with him and extending an invitation for him to give his heart anew to Christ, he responded with sincere earnestness to have a new beginning in the Lord. We had prayer together for the young people in the family and also for Lollin that their decision would be a complete and a lasting experience with Christ.

The next Friday night they came to a baptismal class with six members from the district, and with the others, Lollin stated his reason for wanting to be baptized was because he loved his Lord and wanted to put Christ first in life. On February 17, they were all taken into church fellowship at Anacortes and followed their Lord in baptism that Sabbath afternoon.

A wonderful change was seen in Lollin's life. He seemed so happy, and the following week he offered his services to help the neighbors and some of the church members in their work. The next Friday night came and Lollin gathered with the family to study the Sabbath School lesson and then went to bed early. He never awoke. He passed away during the night apparently from a heart attack. Yes, just one week after his baptism Lollin Briggs had fallen asleep in Jesus, but we are all thankful that he was ready. The last book that he read was the Bible; the last subject that he studied was the story of the good Samaritan. For one week Lollin too was a good Samaritan; not only was he ready to help others, but ready to lay down his life in Christ. We have the blessed assurance that he will be among those who will hear the voice of the Life-giver on the resurrection morning. But, like the thief on the cross and thousands living today on the borderline of eternity, what if he had waited a little longer?

Mount Ellis Academy

The Mt. Ellis Academy Student Week of Devotion came to a close Sabbath morning, February 3, with a challenge to make our lives tomorrow the best and happiest life by accepting Christ today. This sermon, entitled "A Gift to You," was a fitting climax to this week of prayer organized and conducted by the students themselves.

Speaking on the theme "Your Life Tomorrow," the ten student speakers twice a day spoke on such subjects as "The Tiny Executioner," "Do you Honor God," "Does it Pay to be a Square," "Choose Ye this Day," "Why go to Heaven," and many others. An extra feature was the spiritual counsel given by Dale Brusett, a young minister who stayed on the campus during the week to counsel with the students and take two of the services. His ministry united with that of the student speakers gave our school one of its finest "mountain-top" experiences. Certainly no endeavor can be more blessed of God than when students and adults together work and pray for a spiritual blessing.

Montana Camp Meeting

The dates for the Montana camp meeting are June 29 to July 7 and, in addition to the fine help we will have from the General, Union and local conference, we have been able to secure Elder and Mrs. Glenn Coon for a series of studies. Many are acquainted with Elder Coon through his printed studies on "Path to the Heart" and "The God I Love." Plan now to be present for every meeting and you will be greatly blessed.

From the Isles of Tonga

We often hear of Pitcairn Island or the Fiji Islands, but who has heard of a small group of islands called Tonga Islands?

Our work in Tonga has had just as thrilling a beginning as that of Pitcairn. C. S. Palmer was one of our early pioneers in the Tonga Islands. With many exciting experiences, he brings to us Tales of Tonga. Days of superstition, days of the head hunters, days of pirates—all told from boyhood experiences on Tonga.

You will want this book in your library. The month of March is the best time to buy because—Tales of Tonga can be yours along with Two Little Chatterboxes for less than the price of one of these good books.

Here is a $5.75 value for only $2.45. This is better than a 50 per cent discount. Order from your Book and Bible House.* Add 15 cents postage for the first book and 5 cents for each additional.

A Challenge, Not a Chore!

Many years ago a man by the name of Brother Paul stood up one Sabbath morning following Sabbath School and urged the church to greater activities with these words: "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me." Then he went on exhorting each member to face the task before them, not as a chore, but a challenge.

You see, Brother Paul served as home missionary leader in that church and he felt that the Ingathering program which he was promoting that Sabbath, needed a special push that hour.

"Inspiration and perspiration must characterize the service of all of you. There is no defeatism in this program, brethren and sisters!" he added.

With these words pealing the air, Brother Paul sat down. The members immediately caught the vision and pledged that morning to plan for it, save for it and work for it.

It is altogether possible that our beloved Apostle might have been an enthusiastic and capable home missionary leader. And it is altogether true that this dynamic soul-winner gave these inspiring words found in Philipians 4:13 which are a source of wisdom and courage to us today.

The churches of the Butte district too have heeded the exhortations of the Apostle Paul and have faced the In-gathering this past year as a challenge and not a chore. The district reached an average of $29 per member. And hats off to two of our churches! Butte reached $39 and Anaconda $32 per member.

Honor is due the following individuals who are eligible for the Jasper Wayne: Mrs. Emil Lorengo, Linda Haney, Mrs. Dale Moles, Mrs. George Beech, Pfc. Eugene Schmidt, Mrs. Jack Andres, Mrs. Joe Gross, Chester Haney, George Beech, and Mrs. Chester Haney. The following reached $100 or more: Mrs. Frank Rosich.

In this challenging program, we as a people must believe victory, think victory, preach victory and be a minute-man to assure victory.

Milo Week of Consecration

The Student Association of Milo Academy completed an inspiring Student Week of Consecration with a thrilling testimony service on Friday night, February 9.

Choosing as the theme for the week the words from 1 Corinthians 10:11, "All these things were written for our admonition upon whom the ends of the world are come," 22 students spoke on outstanding Bible characters and the lessons that we can learn for our lives today. Two students spoke each morning and two each evening through the week. Inspirational music was also provided entirely by students.

Some Bible characters studied were Seth and Cain, Enoch, Jonathan, Noah, John, Judas, Elijah, Job, Miriam, Ruth, Peter, Samuel, Paul, Abraham, Joshua, Lot, Moses, Samson, Mary Magdalene, Esther, the Ethiopian eunuch, and the rich young ruler.

Stage settings included a three dimensional Bible about four feet by two and one-half feet with the words of the theme text written on one side and the topic titles changed each service on the other side.

Speakers for the week were Mike Fellows, Carolyn Davidson, Dixie Dunks, Jim Gregg, Ben Eby, Linda Jones, Dan Wissinger, Dussie Maier, Sharon Haeger, Lynda Cook, Jim Weil, Sandy Spomer, Ken McFarland, Neil Jamison, Mike Wilson, Kay Unterseher, Carolyn Nevins, Carol Smith, Dave Abston, Connie Gronemeyer, Kathie Dickey, and Darold Bigger.

Lovely printed programs were provided for each student to keep as a souvenir of a most wonderful week. The positive results of this good week continue to be felt by every teacher and student.

Last Call for Anthology Entries

Intermediate school, junior and senior academy teachers are reminded that entries for the second edition of First the Blade are being received, until March 28, according to Dr. T. S. Geraty, associate secretary of the General Conference department of education.

This emphasis upon creative writing may be used by teachers of English I-IV in all schools of the North American division. It need not conflict with manuscripts for the Instructor Pen League inasmuch as materials for The Blade are shorter and may be written by students in all four high school years. Encourage the students in your school to be original and creative.

Data concerning The Blade submissions were sent to the teachers in mid-October. However, you may secure a reprint from Dr. Geraty's office. Briefly, the standards call for poetry not to exceed 30 lines, prose 300 words.

Teacher Training

The Sharon and Milwaukie Sabbath School teachers have just finished the Sabbath School Teacher Training Course No. 2. This course is given in four classes of one and one-half hours each. The pastors of both churches were in attendance. It is a real help when our ministers take an active part in the Sabbath School program, especially in the training of teachers.

There will be a Teacher Training program in the Roseburg Sabbath School beginning Friday evening, March 23, and ending Sabbath night, March 24. Mr. Gilbert Wood, superintendent at Roseburg, has extended an invitation to all Sabbath School teachers in the Roseburg area to attend these classes. These will be conducted by the writer. Those who attend three out of the four classes and read the book, Hand Book for Sabbath School Teachers, will be entitled to a certificate.

One does not need to be presently active as a teacher to attend these classes. Books will be available, and the first class will be held Friday evening, March 23, in the Roseburg Junior chapel. A Sabbath afternoon class will convene at 3:00 p.m.

We are hoping to meet many of our people in the Roseburg area who are interested in improving the quality of their teaching and those just interested in self-improvement.

Total Coverage

Every home in the Brookings-Harbor, Oregon, area received the special April issue of the Signs of the Times. At a cost of $123.40, the Brookings church mailed 1,720 Signs to every box holder and every rural route box in the vicinity of the two small communities.

Because time is short, and because the Corwin-Winkle Oregon Conference evangelistic team will conduct a full scale crusade here beginning March 31, the members voted to blanket the entire area with the Signs to arouse interest in the message. Now we are anxiously awaiting the results of this total coverage.

◆ Laurelwood Associated Students launched last week a drive to raise $3,800 for gymnasium curtains for the new gym to be completed in time for graduation.

The set of eight stage curtains will provide for program back-dropping and dimension changing in addition to a canvas cover to be lowered to keep the stage area free from dust. The proposed curtain facilities for the new 15,000 square-foot gym will enable Laurelwood Academy to share better programming with the conference constituency.

◆ Doubling its goal for the Conference Building Fund, the Laurelwood Academy church has already received

$4,812.92 for the multi-purpose Conference-wide fund.

Academy church members, recognizing the large share of the fund to be returned to Laurelwood, sought to prove Christ's philosophy of 100-fold returns. LA's need for a new gym, teacher housing, and industrial expansion was incentive for sacrificial giving by members and students.

An estimated $600 in pledges is still to be collected before the close of the ten-month drive.

◆ Recent Laurelwood Academy guests have included Elders Paul Alderson and James Scully, the Walla Walla College Chorale, and Glenn Cunningham.

Elder Alderson discussed the Christian home for Christian Home Week. Both Elder Scully, ATS representative, and Glenn Cunningham, former track star and Olympic champion, stressed temperance.

Two Laurelwood alumni toured with the Chorale. They are Betty McDougal, Eugene graduate of '57, and Ed Turner, Vancouver alumnus of '59.

◆ Three new faculty homes have recently been built on the old multi-level Peterson property, across the street from the grade school. Although landscaping is not completed and there is an inadequate road, the dwellings are being occupied by the families of Curtis Perkins (upper level), Robert Morris (middle), and Roy Johnson (lower).

◆ Fifty students are attending a 20-minute code class conducted by Elder Morris Venden daily during the noon hour. The instruction leads to a novice license in amateur radio broadcasting.

◆ Art work of four Laurelwood students appears in the Washington county spring employment bulletin recruiting fruit harvesters.

Louise Neuffer, Portland; Mike Harris, Hillsboro; Vernene Hartzell, Eugene; and Berneva Crites, Port Huene, California, were awarded cash prizes by the Hillsboro Rotary Club for their winning entries.

Of the 11 sketches used, four were from Laurelwood—the most represented county school.

Your Best Gift For Youth Congress

The Lord has blessed the Seventh-day Adventist Church with the finest young people anywhere. These youth are our single greatest asset, they are the future of the church. How thrilling it is to see them in our church schools, academies, and college preparing for service in this final and finest hour of the church and her program.

On April 18-21, 1962, the North Pacific Union Youth Congress convenes in Portland, and the eyes of youth are turned to this big event. Preparations have been made to make this the most spiritual and fruitful youth gathering ever held. The Congress will feature the finest musical talent as the choirs from Walla Walla College and from all our academies unite in the music festival.

To make possible this Youth Congress and to bring all the choirs to Portland the church offering on March 17 will be received for Youth Congress expense.

Remember, fellow members, these young people are the only earthly possession of eternal worth we really have. Let us give liberally on this day and pray for the success of this Union Youth Congress.

Make the eleven o'clock Congress Offering on March 17 your best gift.

Two Little Chatterboxes

Has someone told you that the book, Two Little Chatterboxes, is for primary age children? They told you right because it is; but it is a primary book that will be enjoyed by those of any age who love God's creatures and appreciate their beauty and intelligence.

The Two Little Chatterboxes are two myna birds. The mynas are birds of the Orient that possess an abundance of intelligence and ability. They can be taught to talk much better than parrots. They are able to perform many different and unusual feats. They seem to be able to think and reason almost as humans.

Read this very interesting book, Two Little Chatterboxes, and you will appreciate much more these beautiful creatures that God has made for man's enjoyment.

In order that you might see and appreciate what has been done with the academy building fund in the construction of this building, we are planning for an open house on Saturday evening, April 7. This is the date scheduled for our music department program entitled "Music-Arama." The program will begin at 8:00 p.m. The music building will be open to the public from 7:00 to 8:00 on Saturday evening for inspection. Watch the GLEANER for further announcement.

◆ A number of classes are being offered this second semester which are enrichment courses to better prepare young people for service. One of these courses is Art Metals under the direction of Mr. Greenley. In this class students learn to make ornamental objects from metal. Ceramics, being taught by Elder Ramsey, is offered for the first time this year. Here the students form the clay into attractive objects and then it is baked in our new kiln. Oil painting too is another offering in which a number of students are enrolled. Mrs. Renschler has been teaching this for several years in succession and the interest in this course is very constant.

Driver Education car in use at Upper Columbia Academy.

Two very popular offerings this semester are the courses in Driver Education and Speech. Twenty-seven students are enrolled in the course with actual behind-the-wheel experience in the new 1962 Rambler, supplied by the Central Motors Company of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. In order to complete the course, every student will have 6 hours of dual-control, behind-the-wheel experience. Mr. Freitas is the instructor. Speech has also proved to be a very popular course this year with Miss Jennings, our assistant dean and a speech major, conducting the class.

Gold Bond Stamps to Make Children Happy

"Thank you," and "Thank you, again," say the leaders of the Moscow Home and School. Gold Bond Stamps are helping them to buy some much-needed playground equipment. They are still in need of a few more books and validated covers before they can send for their slide. Would you like to help them finish their project? Send your Gold Bond Stamps or validated covers, filled or partially filled books, to Mrs. Herbert Waters, 1128 Kouse, Moscow, Idaho, or to Mrs. P. D. Spechko, Box 8, Genesee, Idaho.

Anything Wrong?

"Mary Jones was the campus judge. She could tell you what was wrong with every person, student, or professor who passed that way. There was something funny or queer or ugly or objectionable or unlikeable or contemptible or unpleasant or disagreeable or unattractive or tiresome, or unbearable, or distasteful or suspicious or freakish or unsightly or amusing or laughable or silly or odd or absurd or hopeless or disgusting or off-color or irregular or unusual or peculiar or screwy or unreasonable or unreliable or pitiable or doubtful or questionable or uncertain or mysterious or dull or uninteresting or two-faced about everybody."

This paraphrase, taken from the chapter, "Must I be Unpopular," is in the new book, Questions Girls Ask by Dr. Belle Wood Comstock.

Readers are enthusiastic! Order one today for either yourself, your daughter, a friend or a relative. It would be a perfect gift for non-Seventh-day Adventist girls. Pleasingly illustrated. Cloth bound, only $3.50.

Spring Quarter Registration

Students planning to enter Walla Walla College in the spring quarter should send applications immediately, says Dr. H. L. Rasmussen, academic dean.

Registration for new students will be conducted Monday, March 19, and classes will convene Tuesday, March 20. The large number of academic offerings will make it possible for students not currently in attendance to begin or resume college work with full study schedules.

The winter quarter closes March 14, the college schedule allowing for a spring recess from March 15-19, inclusive.

Junior Class Organization

The Walla Walla College junior class of 140 members chose Gary Schoepflin, physics major of Grandview, Washington, as president at its recent organizational meeting with Dr. R. H. Brown, vice president, presiding.

Other officers are: Linda Osborne, secretarial science major, Yakima, Washington, vice president; Alice Cook, secretarial science major, Sherwood, Oregon, secretary; Ken Walters, business administration major, College Place, treasurer; Don Blehm, theology major, College Place, chaplain; Carl Oldham, physical education major, Boulder, Colorado, sergeant-at-arms.

Faculty adviser selected by the class is Ralph Jones, assistant professor of business administration.

Herbert Philbrick Lecture

Herbert A. Philbrick, former FBI counterspy and author of I Led Three Lives, will be presented at Walla Walla College Saturday evening, March 24, at eight o'clock.

The story of "diabolical propaganda techniques used by the Communists with incredible success" is to be told in his lecture, "Cybernetic Warfare." Many groups may wish to attend, says Prof. J. G. Mehling, WWC lyceum committee chairman.

An American citizen who "postponed his own life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness, to get to the bottom of the great communist conspiracy in the U.S.," made one of the greatest sacrifices a man can make, devoting nine years of his life in this dangerous triple role. Despite the pull of family responsibility and community loyalty, Mr. Philbrick had a stronger sense of patriotic responsibility. Now after completing his assignment, he continues to give his time and energy in the fight against communism as a lecturer.

General admission prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Other spring quarter events include a concert by the Walla Walla College Symphony with Dr. Blythe Owen as soloist, March 31; the Aleph Gimel Ain Hour of Charm, April 14, Stan Midgley's travelogue, "Canadian Rockies," April 22; and Don Cooper's "Pan American Highway," May 6. Out-of-town as well as local residents are invited to share these excellent programs.

sociation Executive Secretary Aplington will meet with groups as follows: Sunday, March 11, Lodi; Monday, March 12, Fresno; Tuesday, March 13, Bakerfield; Wednesday, March 14, San Diego; Thursday, March 15, Los Angeles; and Saturday evening, March 17, Loma Linda.
