

A MILLION DOLLARS FOR EVANGELISM

J. C. KOZEL, Treasurer
North Pacific Union Conference

An earnest appeal has been made by our General Conference leaders that the Adventist church around the world unite in special prayer in behalf of the General Conference session which is to be held in San Francisco, California, from July 26 to August 4. The challenge of warning a disobedient world, of announcing the imminent second coming of Christ, and of revealing by precept and example the gift of salvation, is one which staggers the imagination and emphasizes the imperative need for divine assistance. Human effort and strategy are insufficient for the task. Our denominational leaders are strong men but the "great controversy" between Christ and Satan is entering into its final stages, and there is need that the church possess in fullness the power of the Holy Spirit as promised by the Lord Jesus. Let us persistently appeal to our God, both in public prayer and private devotion, for divine guidance, for unity of purpose and action, and for the infilling of God's Spirit.

In the great and wonderful plan of God for redeeming lost mankind, human and divine agencies are to be combined. Intercessory prayer is vital and the forces of heaven will respond to the fervent prayers of the church, but more than this is required. The church must put forth untiring, dedicated effort on its part. It must employ its resources for the advancement of the Kingdom of God. Along with the appeal for the special prayers of God's people comes an appeal for their physical resources.

As early as the 1961 Autumn Council the General Conference Committee outlined plans for "A Million Dollar Offering for World Evangelism." The final portion of this offering will be contributed by those who are in attendance at the General Conference session in San Francisco on July 28. The vast majority of our faithful church members will not be able to attend the General Conference session. Therefore, it has been arranged for this special offering to be received in every Seventh-day Adventist church prior to the General Conference session so that a final "victory" report can be tabulated during the time of the session in San Francisco.

Here in the North Pacific Union the special "World Evangelism" offering is to be received on June 23 in the Montana, Oregon and Washington Conferences. It will be received on July 14 in the Alaska Mission and the Idaho and Upper Columbia Conferences. This plan has been adopted because of the dates for the camp meetings in the various conferences.

The North Pacific Union Conference has assumed the responsibility of providing $100,000 of the $1,000,000 goal. This is no small amount, but under the blessing of God I am confident that we will measure up to our responsibility.

Please note the counsel given to the church by the Lord's messenger: "In the last extremity before this work shall close, thousands will be cheerfully laid upon the altar. Men and women will feel it a blessed privilege to share in the work of preparing souls to stand in the great day of God, and they will give hundreds as readily as dollars are given now." C. S. p. 40.

In this special offering for "World Evangelism" I trust that many will be impressed to give a contribution of $1,000 or more. The work must not stop for want of means. May there be scores of members in our Union who will make donations of $500, and hundreds who will give at least $100. Every member should participate in this special appeal. Some may not be able to make a large contribution. God takes into consideration the ability of the individual to give. "According to the talents bestowed will be the returns called for." C.S. p. 116. We should all realize, however, that every member of the church has a responsibility to advance the cause of God. The whole family of God are included in the responsibility of using their Lord's goods.

As we give to "World Evangelism" (on June 23 in Montana, Oregon and Washington, and on July 14 in Alaska, Idaho and Upper Columbia) let us ever bear in mind that "the highest display of the power of truth is seen when those who profess to believe it give evidence of their faith by their works." C.S. p. 41. May God add His blessing to our gifts.

Near our denominational exhibit at the Century 21 Fair in Seattle is a display of one million silver dollars. The accompanying picture helps one to understand how much one million dollars really is. You will note that it occupies 180 cubic feet and weighs 60,000 pounds. These silver dollars were brought to Seattle in two trucks.

Why were we so interested in this exhibit? Perhaps as you look at the picture you have guessed it. In the North Pacific Union we plan to do our part toward the Million Dollar Offering for World Evangelism.

In the Montana, Oregon and Washington Conferences our people will be giving their offering this coming Sabbath. There may be those who do not have the cash and will plan to bring it in a week or two later, but surely all of us throughout our territory will plan to give a large offering this year. When we realize how many that were with us four years ago are no longer numbered among the living, we realize that for some even though the work may not close in the meantime, this will be the last opportunity to give to a great world program on one Sabbath a million dollars.

Just how large a stack of silver dollars are you planning to be responsible for? One thousand, five hundred, one hundred, or just how much? Seek the Lord for His guidance and give as He shall impress you.

Beware of "Fall-Out!"

This warning has nothing to do with atomic "fall-out" although the consequences could be in the sight of heaven as serious. Approximately 140 Sabbath Schools in the North Pacific Union are laying plans for Vacation Bible Schools this summer. Never has enthusiasm for Vacation Bible School run higher. Hundreds of teachers and leaders attended the Vacation Bible School workshops held throughout the Union this spring. Conservatively, from eight to ten thousand boys and girls will attend these Vacation Bible Schools, with approximately six thousand of them from non-Adventist homes. We cannot possibly imagine the impact on the minds and hearts of these thousands of youth who will be brought nearer to Christ as a result of attending Vacation Bible School.

Any successful program that leads youth to the Saviour will be opposed by the enemy of souls. Satan will do everything in his power to prevent the holding of Vacation Bible Schools. He is always on hand when plans are being laid to hold a Vacation Bible School to discourage the project. He can suggest more reasons than any human naturally could think up why it can not be done. But if God's people move ahead with plans for holding a Vacation Bible School, Satan even then is not going to give up. With determined effort he will use every possible means and circumstance to get the church to change their plans for holding the Vacation Bible School. If he can succeed in getting several churches to change their plans about holding a Vacation Bible School and "fall-out," he has scored a victory. Such "fall-out" could mean that hundreds of boys and girls will be deprived of the spiritual blessings of Vacation Bible School. Many of these youth who would have attended these schools could have been brought to Christ. The Vacation Bible School could easily mean the turning point in their spiritual experience. Next year could be too late. When a church is tempted to change its plans about holding a Vacation Bible School and "fall-out," it is a sure sign some youth in that area especially need the help of a Vacation Bible School.

In past years there have been as many as five or six churches change plans at the last minute and not hold their Vacation Bible School. This is almost tragic when one really understands what is involved in such "fall-out." The enemy of souls rejoices over this kind of "fall-out." No church, once having "put their hand to the plow" to hold a Vacation Bible School, should change their plans without most earnest prayer and persevering effort to find a way to go through with the program. God will lead and help a church to find a way.

By the same token, we hope some of our churches that have not planned to hold a Vacation Bible School this summer will restudy this matter, will pray about it, and will decide to hold a Vacation Bible School. It is not too late. Supplies are available. Our mem-

We sincerely hope this year that not one church will change its plans to hold a Vacation Bible School. Remember in prayer our pastors and the many hundreds of leaders and teachers who are so unselfishly giving their time and effort to this soul-winning ministry for the youth. Pray that hundreds of these youth attending Vacation Bible School this summer will give their hearts to Christ and be saved in God's kingdom.

Degrees Granted at
Andrews University

Among the sixty-six recipients of degrees from the graduate divisions of Andrews University were two candidates from the North Pacific Union Conference. Elder Calvin V. Hartnell received his Master's degree in Systematic Theology as did Mr. Paul Francis Nystrom. Elder Hartnell will be returning to serve in the Oregon Conference.

Andrews University is happy to report practically one hundred per cent placement of all of its graduates. Twenty-five members of the current class represent overseas divisions. Many of these graduates are returning to their mission fields. Most of the remaining members of the class will accept ministerial internships or teaching positions.

New Investment
Opportunity

The Minnesota Conference Dorcas societies were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Zachary this past winter to conduct a series of bread-baking demonstrations, using a specially ground whole-wheat flour and a new, quick-baking recipe.

Mr. Zachary has long been an exponent of healthful living and has had a burden for promoting the use of whole-wheat flour rather than the white flour that has the added preservatives. A master miller himself, he made a contact with the Old-Fashioned Millers in St. Paul and urged them to make a special, extra-fine, stone-ground, whole-wheat flour that could be used in all types of baking, including pastries. The result is a nutritious flour that has no additives of any kind, milled from the finest available hard wheat, without added moisture, and with about 5% of the floating bran removed to make it palatable to everyone.

And now the millers have gone a step further and are offering a premium for Investment for Seventh-day Adventists. With every 50-lb. sack of this flour they attach a coupon worth 5 cents. A coupon for 10 cents is added to each 100-lb. sack of flour. These are redeemable to the church or to individuals for whatever purpose they desire, but many will wish to take advantage of this offer to swell their Investment returns. These coupons are to be sent in to the Home Missionary Department of your conference, who, in turn, should forward them to: Old Fashioned Millers, Inc., 540 E. 7 Street, St. Paul Minnesota. Coupons should be sent in only once a year to arrive at the miller's by November 30.

Medical Meeting Preceding
General Conference Session

Those of our people interested in denominational medical work and who will be in attendance at the General Conference Session will be welcome to the all-day medical meeting, July 25, in Polk Hall at the Civic Auditorium.

Meetings will begin sharply at 9:00 a.m., Dr. Graham Maxwell being the speaker for the half-hour devotion service. The day will be taken up with reports from our institutions, from our chaplains, from our schools of nursing, from our conferences and their medical department activities, from our dietitians and from our food factories.

There will also be meetings during the afternoon hour from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m., July 30 to August 2 (Monday through Thursday). This time will be spent in giving study and discussion to our medical work.

Activity Pictures for Teachers of Tiny Tots

For a long time teachers and leaders of cradle roll and kindergarten divisions have been wishing for activity pictures to use in their Sabbath School work.

Today this wish has become a reality, for the Pacific Press has put out a beautiful set of 24 Activity Pictures for Teachers of Tiny Tots at the request of the Sabbath School Department.

These pictures are in three-color and depict boys and girls performing kind deeds, as well as engaging in many activities so often talked about in Sabbath School.

These pictures have many uses in Sabbath Schools for illustrating songs, poems, and stories. They may be used just as effectively also in Branch Sabbath Schools and Vacation Bible Schools. They are 11 inches by 14 inches in size.

The entire set costs only $1.95. They are sold only in sets. Sales tax should be added where necessary, and a 25-cent mailing charge when mailed outside the United States. Order through your Book and Bible House.

Change in Missoula District

After seven years as pastor of the Missoula district, Elder Frank Munsey has accepted the invitation of the Nevada-Utah Conference to become pastor of the Reno district. Elder Munsey has given faithful and valuable service to Montana, having served on the Conference Committee and the Mt. Ellis school board, in addition to leading the Missoula congregation in the building of a beautiful new church home. The Munsey family will be missed in Montana, but we believe God has led them to their new field of labor; and we know He will bless them as they continue in His service.

At a recent committee meeting, Elder Don H. Spillman was invited to become the pastor of the Missoula district; and we are happy to announce that he has accepted and is already located in the "Garden City," of western Montana. Elder Spillman brings many years of experience in pastoral, evangelistic, and administrative work to our field; and we bespeak a fine growth in membership in the Missoula district as a result of his ministry.

Graduation at Mt. Ellis

In a chapel beautifully decorated in the senior class colors of crimson and white, parents, faculty, and friends of Mt. Ellis Academy enjoyed a particularly moving week end of services.

Elder Dale Brussett was the consecration service speaker and charged the class to live henceforth by their chosen motto and aim—"To Know Him" and "To Make Him Known."

A special friend of the graduating class and of Mt. Ellis Academy was the Sabbath speaker, Elder M. E. Smith, principal from 1955 to 1960. He skillfully revealed the meaning of the class motto, "To Know Him."

Walla Walla College, delivered the commencement address and pointed out that the senior class had set its goals in the best Seventh-day Adventist tradition. A life of service to one's fellow man and to the Master is still the highest type of accomplishment possible.

Thirty-one seniors in gowns of crimson and of white received their diplomas and the good wishes of their many friends.

This was the first baptism held in the new church and those who witnessed the service felt it was the most impressive baptism they had ever seen. ◆ Elder Ralph Gladden reports that we now have more Vacation Bible Schools than at any other previous time.

◆ The evangelistic meetings conducted by Elder Lon Cummings and Elder Francis Ruddle at Livingston have come to a close. An outdoor baptism was held, Sabbath afternoon, June 9. Two joined the church on profession of faith, and nine followed their Lord in baptism. A detailed report of the meetings and the victories won will follow in a later issue of the GLEANER.

Mount Ellis Academy News

◆ Mt. Ellis Academy has just received notification from the Montana State Department of Education that it has been granted "full accreditation with regular standing."

We feel this is the result of the Lord's hand in giving us a particularly well-qualified staff, four of whom have Master's degrees. All have complied with the specific requirements of Montana and professional regency, and most of the faculty will be attending summer school.

From the most recent visit of the committee from the Northwest Accrediting Association, we expect to be accepted into that association at their next meeting.

Mt. Ellis Academy has for some time needed a school bus. As the time for Youth Congress neared, earnest efforts were made to find a suitable bus in which to make the trip. We feel that the Lord met this need with a bus in very good condition, and at a ridiculously low price. And, as if this were not enough, the school was given with this purchase a 1955 Ford station wagon, and a 1960 4-door sedan Ford pick-up. With some mechanical and body work our newly-obtained fleet was soon ready for the road.

◆ Mrs. Kathryn Hixson, graduate of Walla Walla College, and mother of two sub-teen daughters, will be our new dean of girls. In welcoming Mrs. Hixson to Mt. Ellis Academy we hope she will find much personal satisfaction in guiding and training our girls. She will be taking the place of Mrs. Vera Folks who has retired to care for her aged father.

Mrs. and Mrs. Clyde Smith are coming to us from Milo Academy. Mr. Smith to be vice-principal and assistant manager, and to do the accounting work of Mr. Duerkson, whom we lost to the Bolivian Mission. Mrs. Smith will run the academy laundry and complete her degree in Home Economics. We welcome the Smiths, their daughters, Valerie and Kay, and their son, Roger.

◆ Elder Larry Lewis, our director of counseling services, is doing extensive graduate study in the field of counseling and has set up the counseling department of Mt. Ellis Academy on a professional basis to receive the acclaim of the state and Northwest Accrediting Association as well as denominational educators.

The department gives special guidance in the following areas: Vocational Testing and Counseling, Student Work Placement, Scholastic Testing and Counseling, Graduate Follow-up, Remedial Reading Service, Spiritual Guidance.

The students and teacher of the Butte church school were delighted to occupy their new, colorful classroom during the last two months of the school year.

This picture appeared in the local newspaper along with a picture of the exterior and interior of the new Butte church. The newspaper carried a lengthy story of the building and the history of the church as well.

Truly our schools are a God-given means of keeping our boys and girls close to Jesus. Christian education is one of the channels through which God works mightily for the eternal salvation of our youth.

ALASKA

In spite of being forced by bad weather to spend four days in a makeshift shelter in sub-zero weather, with only enough food for one meal, at the headwaters of the Anvik River in the mountains between Norton Sound and the Yukon River, the trip to Selawik and Shungnak located above the Arctic Circle was tremendously rewarding and inspiring.

As our plane approached Selawik the natives came out of their little huts and sod igloos to welcome us. Pastor Glenn Murphy, our pilot, is well known in this section of the field as he and his family had spent several years in missionary endeavors among these people. Several of the natives immediately expressed their concern over our being missing in the mountains. For three days their radios had been constantly tuned to the search operations that were conducted by the United States Army and the Federal Aviation Agency.

At Selawik we have a small log church building with attached living quarters and a few loyal members. For the past several years no church services have been held at this place. The people appeared eager to meet us and get acquainted. Our members were among the first to come and the last to leave. From the time we landed until we left we had a constant stream of visitors. Children, as soon as they were dismissed from school, came. The tied-down plane on the river outside our modest church was a constant invitation for visitors. When the word went out that a meeting would be held the little church filled to capacity. It was heart warming to see the interest.

The following day while visiting an Eskimo family we learned of an interest that is developing at Point Barrow regarding the Sabbath truth. It is here that Dr. Kenneth Wical has been witnessing for the truth while working in the native medical service. Apparently tape recorders are being introduced and communication via tape is becoming popular between some communities for it is much easier than writing the native language. We were told that several at Point Barrow want to know about the Sabbath and why some people worship on that day. "I am telling them everything I know about the Sabbath," commented our friend, "I may not do all the Bible says, but I know what is right and I try to tell them the best I can." Then he added he wanted his children to know more about the teachings of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The teen-age children in this household stated that they wanted to be Seventh-day Adventists. As I looked about his humble but comfortable cabin I saw many of our message-filled books. I am sure there is a harvest of souls to be reaped in this village and others like it.

Realizing because of the oncoming darkness that we would be unable to visit all the homes we had intended, it became necessary to pack our gear and fly another eighty-five miles northeast to the village of Shungnak located on the Kobuk River. Flying low we were able to observe large herds of caribou digging through the snow for food. A few reindeer herds were also seen. These were tended by Eskimo herders. Just as the shades of night were falling we made our approach to the snow-covered landing strip in front of the village. The roar of the plane brought the villagers out. They litterly lined the air strip to watch our landing. Here at Shungnak we have a loyal Eskimo family bearing witness to God's saving power. Brother and Sister Robert N. Cleveland may be the most northerly permanent residents of our faith on the North American continent. It was at this village we were again received with Arctic hospitality. More helping hands than were needed were ready to carry our luggage to the Cleveland home.

In her neatly kept cabin Sister Cleveland immediately set about to prepare a lunch for her guests. When the food was prepared and placed on the table, which was about eighteen inches in height, Sister Cleveland with bowed head faced the table and offered a prayer of thankfulness in her Eskimo language. What a fitting finishing touch to the preparation of her meal, I thought. It was not until after her prayer was finished that we were invited to partake of the meal. Small blocks of wood about six to eight inches in height were used for chairs.

During the meal my curiosity was aroused by the cabin door opening several times. Turning I was surprised to see several natives sitting on the floor. Their soft mukluks had allowed about thirty to silently enter the cabin almost unnoticed. Even though the hour was late (nine o'clock) they had come to hear a message. That night the large cabin was filled for the service and Brother Cleveland was encouraged by what he saw. "Many," he commented later, "were here tonight that would not attend a meeting in my cabin before, but now they ask me many questions about my church."

The possibilities of advancing our missionary program into the far north was the topic of our conversation. Ideas were exchanged until suddenly we realized it was far past midnight. Outside the temperature had dipped again far below the zero mark and the aurora borealis was lighting the northern sky while inside we were made comfortable for the night. Our sleeping bags were placed on caribou hides that were rolled out on the cabin floor. Exhausted three visiting missionaries slept soundly.

This trip was a most thrilling experience from the beginning to its end. Truly Alaska is a challenge to every Seventh-day Adventist of the North Pacific Union Conference—it is our mission field—a field of evangelistic opportunity, for here the message has been presented but in only a few places. Many of the towns and villages have never been touched. Here as in other lands the preaching of the everlasting Gospel must be continuous before the light of truth will penetrate the spiritual darkness. Truly a tremendous work needs to be accomplished throughout this vast region before the promise of our Lord's return can be fulfilled.

New District Pastors

Recently the Conference Committee voted to ask Elder Ralph McGann, who has been associated with Elder Stanley Harris in our Conference for the past three years, to be pastor and leader of the Chehalis district. Brother and Sister McGann and their family have already moved and have taken up their duties in this fine area. Their rich background of evangelism and pastoral work should be the means of providing the entire district with good leadership and an aggressive program.

Elder D. C. Marchus, who at present is pastor of the large English church in Lodi, California, has accepted our call to become pastor and leader of the Tacoma church and district. He comes with a rich background of experience in pastoral and evangelistic service in various parts of the country and will enter upon his duties as soon after camp meeting as possible. He will speak in Tacoma on Sabbath, June 30. He and his family will be moving to our conference as soon thereafter as arrangements can be made to terminate his work in the Northern California Conference. We welcome them to our field and solicit for both of these families the prayers and support of the entire constituency of our field.

A Million Dollar Trust Agreement

In this day and age of a multiplicity of taxes more and more people are finding the use of trust agreements very advantageous, both the trustor and the trustee.

Just recently several million dollars were released from a trust fund—this time to the President of the United States. Somebody mentioned the fact that for years now these millions of dollars actually belonged to the President but they were of no use to him whatsoever because of still being controlled by the trust agreement and the trustor. Once released they began to serve a purpose.

On July 14 (June 23 in the Washington Conference) a Million Dollar trust agreement comes due and the funds will be released for immediate use around the world. The Trustee is God or the work being done for Him; the Trustors are none other than members and friends of the Seventh-day Adventist churches in all corners of the world with whom God has set up His trust agreement covering all their worldly possessions. At this time He is requesting a certain portion greatly needed to meet urgent calls here at home and throughout the entire world field.

On June 23, 1962, all will be given the opportunity of releasing to the Lord a portion of the funds entrusted to them; now is the time to be liberal. Very soon millions of dollars remaining in the trust agreement will be of no value whatsoever.

"The work of God is to become more extensive, and if His people follow His counsel, there will not be much means in their possession to be consumed in the final conflagration. All will have laid up their treasure where moth and rust cannot corrupt; and the heart will not have a cord to bind it to earth."—Counsels on Stewardship, p. 60.

One Million Dollar Mission Offering to be taken in all churches in the Washington Conference on June 23, 1962—$20,320 corresponds to this conference.

Space Age Version of an Old Adventist Custom

To many of our isolated believers in days gone by the annual trek to camp meeting was like a modern Feast of Tabernacles to which some farmers came with $100, $200 or even more, to present as a sacrificial offering for missions. It was the thrill of the year. The General Conference Session is even more such an occasion for dedication for a mighty advance. What electrifying news it would have been 50 years ago to have raised a million dollars in one such meeting! That is what is planned for the General Conference Session in San Francisco this summer!

We cannot all be there, but every church will participate by sending a special offering. It will be called the "Million Dollar Offering," and will take the place of the usual Midsummer Offering and the Missions Advance Offering. In our conference it will be received on Sabbath, June 23. When you go to church that day with a special contribution, consider yourself as having a part in the proceedings in San Francisco on that day in August when the huge offering is received, the conferences report their additions to it, the adding machines start humming, and the final announcement is made. That will be the moment when the treasurer of the General Conference hopes to announce, "One Million Dollars!" Perhaps it will exceed that. It should, and likely will if we all do our part.

There is more than one reason why this offering appeals to us. It will be used for evangelism rather than building or operating institutions, not only overseas, but also in the home field. It will support city evangelistic efforts in places that might otherwise be neglected, and special radio programs that would otherwise be impossible. It will add extra high-octane thrust to the efforts of our workers in many cities of the world to go out and preach where the people are and there is opportunity, to do something beyond the routine program. It will be the space-age version of an old Adventist camp-meeting custom. No matter how much you give, take a little pride in marking it "Million Dollar Offering."

Million Dollar Offering

Since the last General Conference Session when the offering was taken for world evangelism, Olympia has had three evangelistic efforts the full results of which will only be known in the kingdom of heaven. However, in addition to the increase of membership which has resulted in such an overflow that we have had to have two services on the Sabbath to accommodate the crowd, there has been a sizable increase in tithe receipts. In 1958 the members of Olympia gave $27,511.34 tithe. Last year the membership gave $44,423.86—an increase of $16,912.52.

We do thank the Lord for the growth made here in Olympia during the last four years. But above all, we thank the Lord for the leadership of the denomination who envisioned the giving of a large Sabbath offering for the cause

IT WAS A WISE INVESTMENT . . .

It was only four years ago that members and friends throughout the Washington Conference put forth a real effort in order to construct the camp-meeting auditorium. Hundreds of those in attendance have expressed their appreciation for this commodious building, comfortable chairs and excellent sound system.

In addition to this capital investment, thousands of dollars are spent each year to provide accommodations for those wishing to attend camp. We believe that these are dollars well spent.

For 1962 consecrated Christian speakers have been chosen to present what we most need for TODAY—but, in order that the Lord might give us an ample return on our investment, we must be present during the ten days, July 5-14.

Now is the time when we must take advantage of our liberties, join together in the study of God's Word and encourage one another to be ready for the Lord's return. Let us attend camp meeting this year and collect some dividends from our investment. Soon it will be too late.

ARE WE TOO BUSY TO ATTEND? Sister White answers that question. "Satan will, if possible, prevent them (the people of God) from obtaining a preparation to stand in that day. He will so arrange affairs as to hedge up their way, entangle them with earthly treasures, cause them to carry a heavy, wearisome burden, that their hearts may be overcharged with the cares of this life and the day of trial may come upon them as a thief."—"Impending Conflict," p. 91.

. . . We'll see you soon at CAMP MEETING!

E. C. Christie, Treasurer
Washington Conference

The Mittleider-Beaman-Harbeson evangelistic meetings in Sequim started with an excellent attendance. The first two nights nearly one hundred visitors were in attendance each night.

The new Air-dome tabernacle (upper picture) used for the first time for these meetings caused a great deal of interest as it was erected on the main highway in Sequim.

The inside view shows Elder Mittleider at the pulpit as well as the decorations and arrangements on the platform. Elders Dower, Mooers and Neufeld had occasion to visit the meetings the night these pictures were taken. Elder Aimes and Brother Robinson, the district leaders, are looking forward to a rich harvest of souls as a result of these meetings. We earnestly solicit our prayers.

of evangelism four years ago which made this growth possible.

Hence, when it was announced that once again the brethren of the General Conference were setting the goal for a million dollar offering to be taken up at General Conference time for the purpose of evangelism in all its aspects the hearts of God's people thrilled to the challenge, and especially the hearts of the dear ones who have responded to the challenge of evangelism and are today rejoicing in the truth of the three angels' message as a result of sacrificial giving four years ago.

We recognize that it will once again be a sacrifice on the part of God's children to give such a large offering on one Sabbath, but the sacrifice which we will make must only be estimated in the light of the great sacrifice which God made two thousand years ago for the cause of world evangelism.

In this climactic hour of the world's history when all things are about to be fulfilled, God is depending upon us to make perhaps the final financial sacrifice for evangelism. Let us ever remember that evangelism is nothing more than the promulgation of the story of God's great sacrificial gift.

God's people in general, and especially the people of Olympia who have been the recipients of the sacrificial gift of four years ago, will respond to the challenge and give a gift commensurate to the blessings received. It is a thrill to belong to such a wonderful movement and to assist in the giving of such a liberal offering on one Sabbath. Remember our part of the million dollar offering will be taken June 23. Let us make this a real thank offering for the Lord.

Camp Meeting Time

Camp meeting time is almost here again, and we know that many are looking forward to it with anticipation and joy. Even though it is real hard work for us who have the responsibilities, we still enjoy it too and look forward to this occasion.

We have been preparing for some time now, making plans, ordering books, and organizing so that we can serve all to the very best advantage.

We hope all of you have also been planning what you are going to buy this year. In order to help you with this task, we are sending some camp meeting booklets to your church missionary secretary to give you some idea of the items we will have on hand. If you do not get one, ask for a copy; and do not forget to bring your camp meeting booklet with you to camp meeting. There are just a lot of real bargains on many different items.

We are quite sure that the new Index to the E. G. White writings will be ready and on sale at a special introductory price. We have another real special Bible this year and many other items of interest.

We will look forward to meeting you at camp meeting.

you, and also this beautiful State of Washington. Our prayer is that God will richly bless every one of you with whom we have become acquainted through these years together. We look forward to hearing good reports of the progress of the Lord's work in your area, and also in your life. We remember too that soon we expect to enter a land where there will be no more parting. Thank you for all your faithful labors with us.

If you should happen to be down our way, do stop in and see us. Our new address will be:

Camp Doss on West Coast In 1962

For years, those of us on the West Coast have felt that it was prohibitive for many of our young people to travel to Camp Doss in the East. Consequently, we have been thrilled that the General Conference officers have seen fit to bring this camp to our side of the country every other year.

Let us demonstrate that we do appreciate this by seeing to it that every eligible young man who is facing military service takes advantage of this training in August 14-28 of this year. Applications are available through your local MV Department.

The Last Requirement

All requirements were completed for investiture at Youth Congress except one of the two missionary endeavor honors. For this my choice was colportage and the preparation was made. My canvass was memorized and Elder Allaway and I were ready for the training experience of demonstration.

We bowed our heads in prayer to ask God's blessing on our efforts and then chose a house with tricycles to insure us there were children. A very friendly young man greeted us, but as soon as he saw the book he interrupted, giving several reasons why the canvass should not be completed. He gave us the name of the family living next door and we said good night and left. At the next house the man of the house objected to buying anything at the door. He also told us they had had many salesmen pestering them. At the next house, the owner finally agreed that we could step in briefly to take a survey, but he was not happy about it and certainly did not want to see any book and did not feel he could give us the name of his neighbor. "Take your chances," was his parting remark. This seemed hard and when the next door neighbor opened the door, he fairly barked at us. He wanted to know who we represented and refused to give any answers. He stated he was Catholic and that should end our conversation. Well, more or less it did! We each hesitated before the next home.

"Don't be discouraged," said Elder Allaway. "Sometimes the devil works extra hard to keep us from going to a certain place. When you have a series of rebuffs, it just may mean someone precious to the Lord is waiting for you at the next place or so." The door opened and three stood a very young father holding a small baby in one arm with his hand on the head of another small boy. He invited us in where we met his lovely wife and little girl. She graciously excused herself to finish fixing their dinner. Elder Allaway could see he must hurry, so he quickly began his canvass to Mr. _____. Still holding the baby, he asked, "Who puts this out?" "_____ Publishing Company," replied Elder Allaway. "Oh, the Seventh-day Adventists," he said. "A young man was here last year selling a set of Bible Stories and at that time we couldn't afford them, but I promised when I could I would get them for the children. We have just brought another set of children's books, but my! this is nice!"

Elder Allaway hurried on through the canvass ending with the price. Mr. _____ gave the baby to his wife and leafed through the Golden Treasury. Slowly he lifted his head and said, "In a month or so I would be interested." So out came the order book and pencil, "Fine, we can take care of that. Perhaps you would like to have us leave it today and pay just a little down and a little each month." His eyes lit up as he left to get the check book. "Yes, that would be wonderful! We visited the Kirkland church when Elder Mittleider was there." We were surprised and delighted. We invited them to come to the meetings that Elder Richards was holding at Central church and also to Sabbath School and church at either Kirkland or Central. He agreed and we left with the promise what we would definitely get acquainted as we were neighbors and that I would visit them soon.

I was thrilled and could talk of nothing else all the way home. Satan was hard at work but Christ was the victor again! This experience will always go with me and when the road is rough and seems hard, I will push on to find the Shepherd's lamb just beyond. I will press on till I find that soul waiting for me to tell of Jesus' love.

My experiences with the other people a I took the book from door to door have been delightful and I have really received a blessing. This experience will help me to interest young people in this wonderful work. Now I am ready to be a Master Guide.

Our Record Club

Many people today belong to some kind of record club for the purpose of getting the records they desire, and at the same time to save money. We have just such a record club available known as the Chapel Record Club.

This record club offers a good variety of music in the religious field, and thousands have taken advantage of it. In the past we have taken applications through this office and passed them on to our supplier in California, but now we can take your application here at the office and deliver right to you the first three records of your choice for only $3.95, plus tax and postage. (If you wish stereo, then they are $4.95 for three.) Why not consider this way of accumulating a record library at real bargain prices? Ask your missionary secretary for an application form, or write us if she does not have one. A list of records available will be sent on request.

This offer will be available at camp-meeting time as well as now. Plan to sign up then if not now.

Gem State Academy

next school year. He will teach science and mathematics. Mr. Miller graduated this spring from Walla Walla College with a major in mathematics and a minor in physics.

Life around one of our boarding academies will not be new to Mr. Miller. He attended Upper Columbia Academy, graduating there in 1957. His home is in College Place, Washington.

Some of the hobbies he enjoys are camping, mountain climbing, and skiing. Perhaps some of the Gem State Academy students and teachers can join him in these hobbies next school year.

Bible House Preview To Camp Meeting

Seventh-day Adventists are not only lovers of the Bible but they are also lovers of Nature. And rightly so. For who can fail to see the love of the Master as He paints for us the sunset and dots the skies with stars and planets and other celestial glories. And then, God gave us the birds, the trees, the flowers, the grass, the seeds, the shells, the animals large and small. He gave us worms and puppy dogs and turtles and fish and bees and bear cubs. How could we get along without them?

And, do you not think that the more we enjoy nature's secrets here, the more we will enjoy nature's perfections in the world to come? I rather think so.

We have many nature books in our Bible House. And we have many books telling the stories of these "nature lovable" that we cannot help but enjoy if we and our children have access to them.

That is why we are planning a very special spot at camp meeting for nature lovers. Pokey, the Runaway Bear will be there. So will Sally and Packy. Here Come the Bees, Pets Aplenty, The Bible Zoo, Who Lives in a Field, The Glory of the Stars be among the many interesting books on display. And just coming from the publishers will be Elder C. L. Paddock's new book, The Eagle That Went to War. It is the best in nature stories.

Then for the nature student we have Dr. Booth's bird book, Birds of the West. We will have some of Roger Tory Peterson's Field Guides and for the whole family we will have many new and old interesting and educational games of nature.

So when you come to camp meeting be sure to see the nature corner display. Your purchases here will be well worth the investment.

OREGON

Active Dorcas Society Receives Public Recognition

When a goodly portion of the city of Roseburg was shattered by the explosion of a truck carrying explosives, the Roseburg Welfare Center was all ready for service. The reason for its success is found in this comment by their leader. "I have some of the most willing, cheerful workers doing all and more than they should. I feel especially blessed for their help."

In the local newspaper the following report publicly recognized their service.

"Local Adventists Give Welfare Aid"

"Mrs. Elmer Schendler, leader at the Roseburg welfare center of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, reports that both men and women of the church have been working each Wednesday preparing and packing clothing and relief supplies for shipping to the denomination's west coast welfare distribution center at Watsonville, California.

"Since March 1, a total 60 boxes of clothing, containing more than 3,300 articles, have been sent to the depot.

"From Watsonville, supplies will be shipped to points of disaster and need here in our own country and abroad. The Adventists maintain an east coast distribution center as well as the one in California.

"During 1960 a total 6,496,913 articles of clothing was distributed by the various welfare agencies of the church.

Help was given to 6,899,332 persons. This included 4,105,104 boxes of food (each with a value of at least $4) and more than $1,500,000 in cash. Total valuation of help given during 1960 was more than $34,500,000, according to reports from C. J. Ritchie, director of welfare work in the Oregon Conference headquarters in Portland."

Modern Miracles

Would you like to hear of modern miracles? Listen to this. Mrs. Kennedy gave Bible studies to a couple in her neighborhood. When she presented the Sabbath, the Harrisons did not accept it, but Mrs. Kennedy did not give up. She spent many a night on her knees pleading with God to help her neighbors see the importance of keeping all of His Commandments. She prayed that if necessary God would perform a miracle to prove to the Harrisons that the seventh-day was the Sabbath, and that they were obligated to keep it holy.

One evening Mrs. Harrison looked out of her kitchen window and admired the beautiful golden sunset. Lo and behold, she saw a perfect 7 appear in the sky among the clouds. Amazed and overwhelmed at what she was seeing she called to her husband to come quickly, "What do you see there in the sky?" she asked him. "It's a number 7," he answered. "That's what I see," Mrs. Harrison said. "Do you think that God put it there to prove to us that the 7th day is the Sabbath?" she asked. From that day on Mrs. Harrison has kept the Sabbath and is now a member of the remnant church. Her husband plans to join her as soon as he solves his Sabbath work problem.

Here is another one:

Mrs. Sosic, a former S.D.A., was traveling with her Catholic husband to a florists' convention in San Francisco. One night she had a very strange dream. She dreamed that Christ was coming. She saw many people and she looked for her husband, but he was not there. She called him, but he did not come. She looked for her children, who were grown up and away from home now, but they were not there. She called and called, and called in vain. Having been brought up in the Truth, she realized that this dream was a warning to her. It stirred her thinking. For many years she had not served God. What was God now trying to show her? On three different nights she dreamed the same dream. She began to pray that God would help her get back to Him.

On their way back from San Francisco they stopped at a service station for gas, and as she went to the restroom a voice spoke to her saying, "Look in that little drawer. There is something for you." She opened the drawer and found a little booklet, The Final Crisis and Deliverance. She took it with her, read and re-read it, and then sent it to her daughter. When they returned home they received an invitation to the evangelistic meetings in Canyonville. She was very happy when her husband was willing to go. When Bibles were given out, her Catholic husband willingly accepted one. Mrs. Sosic said later on that it thrilled her heart to see her husband hold a Bible in his hands for the first time in his life. Today both Mr. and Mrs. Sosic are baptized members and are rejoicing in the knowledge of their soon-coming Saviour, and are looking forward to His return.

Mrs. Sosic has ordered 20 copies of that little booklet and has sent it to each one of her children.

The owner of the Rio Theatre, also a former Adventist, offered the use of her theatre for evangelistic meetings. Each night she gathered her neighbors and brought them to the meetings. When a call was made for full surrender she came forward and her two neighbors that live on either side of her came with her. Knowing well that she could not be an Adventist and still run the theatre, she approached her projectionist to buy it. She knew that he was hoping and dreaming of some day owning it. It was not too big a surprise to her when he answered, "I'm sorry ma'am, but I can now no more conscientiously run that theatre than you, yourself, could." You see, he, too, attended the meetings and helped run the projectors. While waiting for the sale of her property this dear lady had organized a Bible study group in her home. God works in a mysterious way His wonders to perform.

In Seattle the children of a Catholic father made him the object of their prayers. They prayed for him in their homes and at prayer meetings; they prayed and prayed, and God answered their prayers. He attended the meetings at Glendale and came forward in response to a call after the sermon on the Prodigal Son. He was touched since he had left his home in France when a young man and never returned to his father. Now he felt he could answer the call as a son to His Heavenly Father. What a day of rejoicing it was when all the children gathered to witness his baptism. There were tears of joy and gladness.

When Christ knocks at one's heart's door, money matters become very insignificant. During the meetings one night one business man decided that at the day of judgment he would have to give an account of why he did not follow His Lord in the keeping of the Sabbath. He posted new hours on his flourishing Drive-In. He placed a "Closed" sign on Friday and was baptized on Sabbath. We stopped at his beautiful home on the hill that Sabbath afternoon and rejoiced with his wife and family over the victory gained. It was thrilling to sit and listen to him play hymns on the organ.

A young mother of three children had tried many times to overcome a smoking habit, but the more she tried the more she smoked. She came forward to an appeal one evening. That night when she got home, she got on her knees and prayed until she gained victory. The craving for tobacco completely left her. Her husband was amazed as he knew how hard she had tried to quit in the past. She is now preparing for baptism.

The Lord has blessed in the meetings in the Canyonville district. Our people wholeheartedly supported by attending and also by bringing their friends and neighbors. To date 26 new members have been added.

May God bless as new seed is being sown for another bountiful harvest.

Columbia Academy Additions to Staff

Joining the faculty for the 1962-63 school year is Mrs. Charlotte Syphers.

Mrs. Syphers will be dean of girls, and we anticipate strong leadership in this important work. At the present time Mrs. Syphers is employed by Walla Walla College where she works closely with the young people counseling them regarding student finance. Mrs. Syphers has two teenage children who will be coming with her. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Syphers, Keith and Carolynn to Columbia Academy.

Also joining our Academy staff for the 1962-63 school year is Mrs. George Fullerton.

Mrs. Fullerton will receive her degree from Portland State College this spring and will be well qualified to take up her work as instructor in commercial subjects. We are happy to be able to secure the services of this well-qualified teacher.

Camp Meeting Music

Since it is almost time for our annual camp meeting which will convene at Gladstone, July 5 to 14, may we take this opportunity once again to remind you to be sure to bring your Church Hymnal along with your Bible.

We are making definite plans to have another good choir this year in the large pavilion. Brother Estyn Goss, choir director at Gem State Academy, Idaho, will be in charge of the choir this year in the absence of Brother Norman Skeels, who is going to summer school. The first choir practice will be Thursday, July 5, at 6:30 p.m. Daylight Saving Time, in the usual place of practice—the Music Building. Those who have had experience in choir singing, please come and join us and enjoy the rich fellowship.

Let all of us come to camp meeting with a singing heart.

HAROLD R. TURNER

Music Chairman

What Does Camp Meeting Mean to YOU?

Camp meeting means many things to many people—to children, perhaps, it means fun; to young people it may mean enjoyable companionship with groups of their own age; to mature Adventists it should mean, above all, a spiritual feast.

In addition, camp meeting should mean being able to take advantage of the purchasing of our good, truth-filled and interesting books. We may have to prepare for this of course by cutting corners and foregoing non-essentials and, in some instances, even sacrificing. It is well worth the struggle, however, to be able to have a well-stocked library that can be shared with friends and neighbors.

This is the one time of the year when bargains are really bargains! Be sure to attend the big book sale on Tuesday afternoon, July 10, at 3 o'clock.

Columbia Academy News

◆ The success of a school year is measured in many ways. One of the most important is the student progress in spiritual growth. Most students at Columbia Academy are baptized church members. Of the few who are not, four made their stand for Christ during this year and were united in baptism. They were Ralph Bastian, Marvin Stewart, Jack Young, and Vern Colvin.

◆ Visitors to our campus during the summer will note a number of projects in full swing. One of the most noticeable is the relocation of our service entrance from the east side of the campus to the southern side. The new service road will enter just west of the old church school and will run north and then east. Mr. Grams is leading out in this project.

◆ A number of teachers are doing summer school work to complete their work for Master's degrees and for certification. Miss Gladys Robison will be at Occidental College in Los Angeles, Mr. Dale Rhodes will be at San Jose State College, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald York will attend Portland State College, Mr. J. J. Wall will be at Oregon State University, Mrs. Charlotte Syphers will attend Walla Walla College, and Mr. Nelson will be doing work on his thesis on the campus and at Walla Walla College.

UPPER COLUMBIA

Academy Staff Changes

The close of a school year always brings certain changes in staff personnel. Leaving Upper Columbia Academy this year are four of our members. Mr. Roy Golden, who has been the P. E. instructor for the past two years plans to work on his Master's degree during the coming year. Miss Olivia Harder and Miss Vivian Hassell who have served this school for seven years have accepted calls to Rio Lindo Academy in California. Miss Harder has been the instructor in piano and organ and Miss Hassell has been teaching Home Economics and was in charge of the library. Mr. Ted Lutts who has been the manager of the furniture factory for the past four years has accepted a call to the Oregon Book and Bible House. We appreciate the service that these people have rendered to Upper Columbia Academy and bid them God's blessing as they take up their new responsibilities.

To fill these vacancies and to make our staff complete, Upper Columbia Academy welcomes the following individuals to its working force:

From California we have called Mr. and Mrs. Don Hall to fill two important positions on our campus. Mr. Hall will be the principal of our grade school and teacher of grades 5 to 8. Mrs. Hall, the former Lois Coleman, who at one time served on this staff, will be instructor in piano and organ.

John Woodbury

Mr. John Woodbury, a summer graduate of Walla Walla College, has accepted the call to be the Physical Education instructor and to act as the assistant dean of boys. His wife, Carol Lynn Pester-Woodbury, is an alumnus of Upper Columbia Academy.

Also joining the staff of Upper Columbia Academy is Mr. John Payne, accepting the position of salesman for the furniture factory. Mr. Payne has been a successful operator of a furniture business in Glendale, California, but sold out his partnership when he accepted this message.

Mrs. Edna McDonald, who has completed her training at Ellensburg this year, is coming to Upper Columbia Academy as the librarian and instructor in two classes of English.

Mrs. Edna McDonald

We are very pleased to welcome these new individuals to the staff of Upper Columbia Academy. We are confident that their contribution will be for the strengthening of the program at this school.

Mr. Sam Smith who has been production manager of the furniture factory has been elected as manager of the factory. Mr. Ray Jensen, salesman, is coming into the factory as a foreman of the upholstery department. Mrs. Vernon Schmidt is transferring from the History section to Home Economics.

With these new additions and adjustments in the staff, we are pleased to announce that Upper Columbia Academy is fully staffed for the new school year.

UCA Class of 1952 Reunites

On Thursday evening, April 19, Upper Columbia Academy graduates of the class of 1952 had the privilege of renewing friendship with former classmates and faculty members. The tenth anniversary reunion was held at Obie's Restaurant in Portland, Oregon, with Elder Jim Hiner of Lebanon, Oregon, presiding. Mrs. Eleanor Buswell Cornell of Monterey Park, California, decorated the dining room with class colors and with the motto and aim. There were 17 class members present and 5 former faculty members.

Entertainment was provided by a UCA male quartet and trumpet trio. Class members present each told of events which had transpired in his life during the ten years since seeing one another. Letters were read from class members who were not able to attend the reunion. Dr. Kenneth Wical, class advisor, sent an appeal urging each one to keep his life in preparation so we can reunite soon in the New Earth. Associate class advisor, Mr. Richard Dutro, was present at the reunion as well as all but two of the class officers. The evening was an enjoyable and memorable occasion for all attending.

present had served in mission appointments overseas; 13 were second generation alumni.

Kenneth Kahler, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harlan Kahler, Pendleton, and formerly of College Place, and grandson of Mrs. Eva Kahler, is a third generation alumnus. He is a member of the class of 1962. All three generations were present.

Obituaries

Beavers—Roy Beavers was born in Spokane, Wash., Oct. 29, 1937, and was baptized in 1955, joining the Deer Park, Wash., church. He passed away April 28, 1962, in Deer Park and was laid to rest in the Elk, Wash., cemetery waiting the call of the Life-giver.

Raley—Winnie Belle Raley was born March 26, 1860, in Bloomington, Ill., and passed away March 11, 1962 in Lebanon, Ore. She was married to Benjamin F. Raley Sept. 11, 1881, and was a loyal member of the Seventh-day Adventist church for 81 years. She leaves to mourn her passing four sons: William C. Raley, Angwin, Calif.; Frank H. Raley, Cornelius, Ore.; James L. Raley, Milton-Freewater, Ore.; Henry L. ## Walla Walla College

Summer Enrollment

Summer session at Walla Walla College opened Tuesday with an enrollment of 502 as compared with 477 for the first term a year ago, says Miss Orpha Osborne, associate registrar.

On the College Place campus there are 418 registered; at the Clinical division of the School of Nursing, 41; at the biological station, Rosario Beach, Anacortes, 43.

Biology Department

Confirmation of two National Science Foundation grants totaling $21,900 has been announced by President P. W. Christian.

A grant of $13,900 previously approved by NSF for research entitled, "Laboratory Culture and Larval Development of Marine Isopods," named Dr. Harold G. Coffin, chairman of the WWC department of biological sciences, as chief researcher.

A second grant of $8,000 for the support of "A Collecting and Laboratory Vessel for Biological Research," under the direction of Doctor Coffin, was recently approved and now confirmed.

One of the needs at the Rosario Beach Biological Station, says Doctor Coffin, has been for an adequate vessel for research purpose. The College now has two boats which will be sold. Proceeds from their sale added to the grant funds will make possible purchase of a 45- to 50-foot purse seiner adapted to station use.

Doctor Coffin, at Rosario Beach for the summer session, announced the summer teaching staff will include Carl Forss, who has been doing doctoral study in biology at the Oregon State University; Eldon James-Veitch, Canadian ornithologist; John F. Stout, newly arrived WWC staff member, and Paul Miller, current staff member. Also at the station will be Donald Rigby, completing research for his doctor's degree.

Courses offered which will be using the new research vessel will include ornithology, marine invertebrates, oceanography, and ichthyology, says Doctor Coffin. He will begin research on the laboratory culture and larval development of marine isopods, having as assistants graduate students.

Degrees Are Granted

Andrews University

Eight Walla Walla College alumni were among those receiving degrees at Andrews University commencement June 3.

Elder Bruce Johnston, whose B.Th.

is from WWC, received the Bachelor of Divinity degree with honors. He is currently director of the fifth annual field school in evangelism for Andrews University.

Master of Arts degree from the SDA Theological Seminary was received by Charles Oliver, with a major in archaeology and history of antiquity.

Receiving Master of Arts degrees in the School of Graduate Studies were Robert G. Burgess, Izella P. Stuivenga, Violet V. Wentland, Calvin V. Hartnell, and Paul F. Nystrom. Wilbur A. Burton was awarded the Master of Arts degree in teaching.

University of Washington

Mrs. Flossie Giebelhouse, assistant professor of nursing in the clinical division of the Walla Walla College School of Nursing, received her Master's degree in nursing education from the University of Washington, in absentia, June 9.

The WWC staff member took her nurse's training at Loma Linda University and is a graduate of Pacific Union College.

Staff Members Attend Conventions

Two Walla Walla College administrators attended the Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education June 14 and 15 on the campus of the University of Nevada at Reno.

Dr. R. H. Brown, vice president, and Dr. H. L. Rasmussen, academic dean, attended the conference which draws representatives from colleges and universities in six Northwestern states, western Canada, and Alaska. Convention theme was "Higher Education: Its Support and Autonomy."

From the chemistry department, Dr. Carl T. Jones, Dr. J. R. Chambers, and Prof. C. W. Shankel are attending the regional meeting of the American Chemical Society at Pullman, Washington, June 18-20.

Dr. Barnett to U of W

Dr. Claude Barnett, chairman of Walla Walla College's physics department, has been named acting associate professor of physics for the summer session at the University of Washington.

A graduate of Washington State University with both M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from that institution, Doctor Barnett will teach two courses at the University of Washington for the summer session June 18-August 17. He also hopes to attend the theoretical physics institute being held there this summer.

The WWC physicist is a member of Sigma Xi, the American Physical Society, and the American Association of Physics Teachers. Before heading the WWC science department, he studied on research assistantships at WSU.

Alumni Elect Officers

Walla Walla College Alumni Association officers were elected at the annual Association meeting held June 3 in Kellogg Hall with Dr. T. R. Thompson, general vice president 1961-62, presiding.

Grove Starr, college architect, and former president of a Southern California Alumni Association chapter, was named president. Others elected on the recommendation of the nominating committee with Prof. Eugene Winter as chairman were: Erwin Fowler, general vice president; Dr. Richard L. Litke and Miss Beulah Heidinger, vice presidents; Mrs. J. D. Losey, secretary; Mrs. Harold D. Schwartz, treasurer; Dr. T. R. Thompson, board member. Professor K. A. Aplington continues as executive secretary; Mrs. William Lay as Alumni Review editor and Miss Orpha Osborne as mailing editor.

Dr. P. W. Christian, president, presented the class of 1962 to the Association. In responding as class president, Dale R. Beaulieu revealed that the class gift of approximately $300 would go to the interior decor in the new College Church.

Recognition by classes indicated Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Milton-Free-water, as earliest graduates or staff members present. From the 1900-1910 decade was Kempton Turner. Fifteen

NOTICE TO CHURCH PASTORS, ELDERS AND TREASURERS:

In the Montana, Oregon and Washington Conference, the Million Dollar Offering for "World Evangelism" will be received at the regular church service on Sabbath, June 23. This entire offering should be remitted to the local conference by the church treasurer at the close of the month with the other conference funds. In some cases the individual envelopes may designate the offering as "World Evangelism" and in other cases "Million Dollar Offering." However, the offering is one offering, and should be sent on to the conference in one total. We trust that every member in every church may have a part in this special offering. The hour has come for the church to evangelize the world. The North Pacific Union Conference objective is $100,000.
