

How Will the Million Dollar Offering Be Used?

By this time every reader of the GLEANER has been informed of the plan of the General Conference to receive a special Million Dollar Offering in connection with the 1962 General Conference session. This offering is being received in the churches prior to the San Francisco meeting and then the final appeal will be made to those who attend the session on July 28, 1962.

What is the purpose of this offering? How will the funds be used? This is a special offering over, above, and beyond the regular missions offerings. Our church members are quite generally acquainted with the fact that the Seventh-day Adventist world mission program is largely supported by a certain percentage of the tithe which is passed on monthly to the General Conference treasury, and the regular mission offerings such as: Sabbath School, Ingathering, Midsummer, Missions Advance, Missions Extension, Week of Sacrifice, et cetera. These funds must not be curtailed. The General Conference budget each year is based on the estimated income from these sources.

As plans are being formulated for the next quadrennial period, it is felt that the church should make a bold thrust in evangelism on a world-wide scale. Time is running out. The work which remains to be done must be accomplished quickly. The funds received in this Million Dollar Offering will be used in both the North American Division and the overseas divisions for evangelism—bringing the good news of salvation to those who are not now members of the church. At this time when the harvest fields are ripe and ready to harvest this offering will enable us to make significant advances into new areas. It is planned that the funds received will enable the church to expand and strengthen its radio and television ministry. A certain percentage of the funds will be used right here in North America by each union and local conference to meet its most urgent evangelistic needs. It will enable our conferences and missions to expand evangelistic activities along lines which have proved successful over the years, and will also provide the funds to employ new media of communication in order that this gospel of the kingdom may be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations.

Let us give sufficiently to the Million Dollar Offering so that it will be a sacrificial gift. If we do this, many additional members of the human family may be made ready for the glorious second advent of our Lord and may participate in that wonderful gathering of the saints—"those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice." Psalm 50:5.

Seventh-day Adventists Featured in August "Signs"

Who are Seventh-day Adventists? What are Seventh-day Adventists doing in the world? What do they believe? How extensive is their work?

Questions like these are being expressed by hundreds of people today. Many thousands more will be asking increased volumes of questions as they read news stories that will be emanating from San Francisco, telling of the World Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Someone ought to give them an answer, and it should be someone who can tell the story in its true setting and inspiration.

Why Seventh-day Adventists?, a question raised by thousands, is answered by Elder R. R. Figuhr in the August issue of Signs of the Times. "They have come on the scene," he says, "to obey a commission, to fulfill a purpose, and to meet a destiny."

Because of the witness of Seventh-day Adventists, millions are now looking for Christ's return. Elder Roy F. Cottrell discusses the reasonableness of this position on page 10 of the August issue of the Signs.

Tens of thousands are joining the ranks of Seventh-day Adventists every year, and on page 14 of the August issue of the Signs, Leonard Lee tells why he came to make this step.

Many wonder why Seventh-day Adventists keep Saturday instead of Sunday as their day of rest. This question is answered by the editor of Signs, Elder A. S. Maxwell, in a beautiful article that indicates the rich blessing that comes in obeying God's word.

This special August issue of the Signs is published in connection with the Forty-ninth Quadrennial Session of the General Conference, to answer the question, "Who are Seventh-day Adventists?" and help our friends to learn that Adventists are messengers of hope to a weary, worried and despairing world.

It occurred to us that you might like to use a quantity of this special General Conference issue in acquainting your inquiring neighbors and friends with the work of the church and its message. Sufficient copies are now available that you may order from your local Book and Bible House at the current rate of 20 cents per copy. It will help to swell the impact of the 1962 General Conference.

Here is good news for all who would like a souvenir of the General Conference and this special edition of Signs. The cover page picture without the type and with the caption "Christ Over San Francisco" is available for framing. The price of this beautiful 9½ x 12-inch picture with a one-half inch margin is only 50 cents. Order through your Book and Bible House. PERIODICAL DEPARTMENT

Field Hospital Will Help Train Medical Cadets

Word has just reached us that the 60th Field Hospital based at Fort Lewis, Washington, will again set up its facilities at the National Medical Cadet Corps Training Camp at Gladstone, Oregon, as in 1960. This year, however, their instructors will come right into our classes, at our invitation, and will teach some of the military medical subjects. After having taught the material they will take their classes right into the facilities set up and demonstrate how it works in practice.

This offers an unparalleled opportunity to get a practical preparation for your stint of military service. During the past 12 months, 146,500 men have been drafted, and several times that number have enlisted. Many Seventh-day Adventists are represented in this vast segment of manpower. In the face of the continuing Berlin crisis and the developing situation in Southeast Asia, if you are of draft age—or soon to be—by all means plan to prepare for your period of military service at this time. You must be a young man 16 years old or older, or in at least the eleventh grade next school year, in order to attend this camp.

The camp will be held August 14-28 at the Oregon Conference Camp-ground, Gladstone, Oregon. The camp fee is $35. For full details contact your local conference MV secretary.

Top U.S. Nutritionists Slated To Speak at LSC Convention

What changes should be made in the average American's eating habits? Health-minded members in the North Pacific Union who plan to attend General Conference will have an unprecedented opportunity to hear a score of leading U.S. nutritionists answer this question at La Sierra College this summer.

A special nutrition convention, August 6 through 9, arranged under the direction of Dr. John A. Scharffenberg of the International Nutrition Research Foundation, has been authorized by the General Conference Medical Department to be held on the campus of La Sierra College immediately at the close of the General Conference in San Francisco.

Among the numerous nutrition authorities and educators who will appear on the program are such renowned scientists as Drs. Ancel Keys, U. of Minn.; Laurance Kinsell, director of the Institute for Metabolic Research of the Highland-Alameda County Hospital; J. B. Brown, Ohio State U.; Jeremiah Stamler, Chicago Board of Health director; Seymour Dayton, assistant professor of medicine, U.C.L.A.; and outstanding lecturers from Loma Linda University.

Thought-provoking topics include such subjects as "Diet and the Danger of Future Heart Disease," "The Relationship Between Diet and Cholesterol," "The Harmful Effects of Hydrogenation of Commonly Used Food," "Nutrients of Foods Grown on Different Soils," and "Problems in Meat Inspection."

Answers to the voluminous misinformation now being broadcast by health faddists will also be given on succeeding days of the convention during sessions of interest to physicians, teachers, cooking school instructors, and food service directors of our academies, colleges, and hospitals. There will also be a special workshop for ministers, health education instructors, and evangelists.

Regular delegates to General Conference or others from the North Pacific Union who make advance reservations for the Nutrition Convention will be provided rooms without charge in La Sierra College dormitories. Inexpensive meals may be obtained at the college cafeteria. The only other expense for the four-day session is a registration fee of $10.

For full details, write for a copy of the printed program just off the press. Address: International Nutrition Research Foundation, Convention Secretary, 11503 Pierce Place, Arlington, California.

NOTICE TO CHURCH PASTORS, ELDERS AND TREASURERS:

In the Alaska Mission, and the Idaho and Upper Columbia Conferences the Million Dollar Offering for "World Evangelism" will be received on Sabbath, July 14. The entire church offering including individual contributions should be reported by the church treasurer to the conference treasurer as soon as possible after July 14, in order that the total amount may be included in the final report which will be secured at the time of the General Conference session in San Francisco. The actual funds, of course, will be sent in at the close of the month of July to the conference office along with the other conference funds. Let EVERY member in EVERY church have a substantial part in this great offering which will be used by our conferences and missions around the world for evangelistic purposes. Surely the churches of the North Pacific Union will wish to go well over our goal of $100,000.

General Conference Daily Reports

We have good news for everyone. The reports of the General Conference proceedings at San Francisco will be published in ten daily issues and sent to every subscriber without extra cost. Surely every Adventist home will wish to have this daily, illustrated story of the greatest meeting in our history.

Are you a subscriber? If so, there is nothing you need to do at this time. The reports will come to you routinely as they are published. But perhaps you failed to subscribe. Why not do so at once and make sure that you get this great plus value of ten special issues of the "Review"? The subscription price of the "Review" for the year is only $5.95. However, if you place your order on a perpetual basis with your Book and Bible House the price is only $3.95—you save $2. Act now if you are not already a subscriber. Keep abreast of the stirring news of the church.

If you are a pastor or other church leader, why not make an appeal to those in your church who are not subscribers? Keep all your members alive to the great developments of the church. An informed membership is an intelligently cooperative membership.

Report of Goldendale Nutrition Class

Classes in nutrition and healthful cookery were conducted in Goldendale, Washington, May 8-31. The classes which were held twice weekly 7:00-9:30 p.m. were well received by the public who listened to the lectures and tried the recipes demonstrated from night to night. Average attendance to the classes was 35-40, more than fifty per cent of whom were those not of our faith.

The writer conducted the classes assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Lofthouse as platform assistant, Mrs. Nora Ward and Mrs. Marcella Godfrey as kitchen supervisors, Mrs. Ellen Holderby assisted by Mrs. Vera Kirscher as serving hostesses, beautifully decorating the tables each night. Mrs. Carolyn Hill was door hostess and the junior girls assisted in serving the samples.

Mr. Harlan Holderby met with the group on two occasions and brought some very vital facts on nutrition. The climax of the seven lessons course was a public dinner served in the local high school cafeteria to approximately sixty guests. Dr. I. C. Bohlman of Walla Walla was guest speaker for the occasion. He spoke to the class and visitors on the physiology of digestion, our eating habits and fats as related to heart disease. Prizes were awarded to three ladies for completing the most recipes. Two of these ladies were non-Adventists.

We feel that this missionary project did much to break down prejudice and promote good will among our non-S.D.A. friends in Goldendale and vicinity.

Hermiston Church School Grows

Hermiston is indeed proud of its new church school. The church basement housed the Hermiston church school for many years, but in 1959 the basement became unbearably inadequate. During August, plans were completed for a two-room church school building. For about six months members of the church and friends worked steadily, side by side, and in February, 1960, the classes moved eagerly into the larger, lighter, more convenient rooms. Within the next eight months new families began to move into the area adding children to the new school. First three, then three more, four more and six more. The church school grew rapidly.

Hermiston Church School Building.

In September, 1960, when 57 students were enrolled in the school it was determined that another room was needed, and by December, 1961, a neat, nearly completed room was pressed into service. Our Home and School provided material for shelves and cabinets. Some of the lumber was donated by the Harris Pine Mills. Shrubs were donated to be placed in attractive positions around the school by the Milton Nursery.

Three full-time teachers were employed at this time. Mr. Allen Johnson, principal, teaches grades five through eight, Mr. Lyle Gray is teaching grades three and four and Mrs. Nadene Nelson grades one and two this year. For the year 1962-1963 Miss Delores Hoyt will be teaching the lower grade room. In addition to the three full-time teachers we have the services of a music program instructor, Mr. Louis Johnson. We are completing our first year with a church school band, made up chiefly of church school students in the upper grades and also including all adults in the church who are interested in playing in the band. This band has been attended by approximately twenty persons during the year and has given two concerts. It has proven to be of real value to all concerned.

The Hermiston church school has the distinction of being the only school in the entire Upper Columbia Conference which has made a consistent growth in attendance in each of the past six years, starting with fifteen pupils and registering fifty-seven pupils this school year. We definitely anticipate continued growth in the years ahead. One reason for this growth is the continued active improvement program which is being carried on. The school has had an active past, it also has an active present and future. Added playground equipment, baseball backstop, lawn seeding program and other projects have been concluded or are being completed at the present time. We have five acres on which to expand and plans are underway to construct a new church building in this same area. This school is the only church-operated school in the community of Hermiston and has been recognized by a write-up in the civic promotional material of the community. Through concentrated faithful stewardship of church members we are glad to report that the entire plant is paid for. It is estimated that the present new plant can adequately care for the school needs of approximately seventy-five or eighty pupils as it is now operated.

God has richly blessed our efforts to provide a school where our children, separated from worldly influences, can learn Bible truths and Christian ideals. We thank Him for His guidance as we continue to welcome more new students. We also express appreciation to our dedicated teachers who have made the success of this school possible.

The exact date of dedication of our school is not known at this time. Watch your GLENER for an announcement in the near future.

Walla Walla College

Summer School Enrollment

Complete summer school enrollment for the first term, which ends July 13, at Walla Walla College totals 521, with 45 studying at the Biological Station at Rosario Beach.

At the Biological Station this summer, a weather station has been established which will supply the following information: wind speed, amount of rainfall, maximum-minimum daily temperatures, ground temperatures, and relative humidity. One-half of a new laboratory building has been converted into a research laboratory with a running salt water system. Research with marine algae, crustacean larvae, and parasitic copepods will be conducted there.

Members of the Animal Behavior class, a class not previously offered at the Station, have been conducting significant research and observation on animals in the locale, reports Dr. Harold G. Coffin, chairman of the department of biological sciences.

Already 50 are scheduled for the second term at the Station.

Students may register for the second term on the College Place campus beginning July 6. Classes begin July 16. It is not too late to send for a summer school bulletin giving the wide variety of courses available during the second term, July 16 to August 17.

Address The Registrar, Walla Walla College, College Place, Washington.

Delegate to Convention

Mrs. Carl T. Jones, assistant professor of nursing education, is a delegate to the 11th International Conference on Health Education of the Public being held in Philadelphia, June 30 to July 7.

Alumni Luncheon

A special Walla Walla College alumni luncheon has been arranged for Sunday, July 29, in connection with the General Conference session in San Francisco, President P. W. Christian announces. This event will provide a wonderful opportunity for alumni to meet friends whom they may not have seen for years.

The luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. in the Vista Room at the Whitcomb Hotel, only one block from the Civic Auditorium. A short program will follow the meal, concluding by two o'clock in order not to conflict with General Conference session meetings.

Those wishing to attend should write for tickets to: Walla Walla College, Box 127, College Place, Washington, including $2 for each reservation. Checks should be made payable to Walla Walla College.

A large attendance is anticipated. The Vista Room accommodates some 400 guests, and tickets will be sold on a first-come-first-serve basis. A limited number of tickets will be available in San Francisco for alumni coming from overseas and not able to arrange in advance. Alumni in the North Pacific Union should write immediately for their tickets.

OREGON

Portland Sanitarium and Hospital School of Practical Nursing

Word has just been received from the Executive Secretary of the Oregon State Board of Nursing that full accreditation has been granted to the School of Practical Nursing at the Portland Sanitarium and Hospital. This recognition has been received in response to our first request for inspection by the State. Much credit for this achievement goes to Miss Ann Stratton, Director, and to her associate, Agnes Scheresky. The Hospital Nursing Service Director, Grace Scheresky, and her associates are interested in educational endeavors and have enthusiastically supported the development of a strong school. Their contributions have been very helpful.

This practical nursing educational program covers a twelve-month period. The present class consists of twenty-one students. They will graduate in February, 1963, when another class will begin. It is not too early to make application to enroll for the next class. We can recommend—in good faith—this educational program for those who, for one reason or another, may not desire a four-year course in the collegiate program. Enrollment is open to men as well as women.
