

A LETTER TO EVERY MEMBER

MIKE A. JONES

General Conference Temperance Department

We are inviting every church member to participate this year in selecting the Temperance Man of the Year for 1963. This American Temperance Society-sponsored project is now entering its third year.

All you have to do is to submit the name of someone in your church who is doing outstanding work along temperance lines. Send his or her name to your local conference temperance secretary with a detailed letter outlining specifically the various temperance activities this person performs.

To give you concrete examples of what previous Temperance Men of the Year have done, I will cite the Man of the Year for 1961, William Ashton, a retired postal worker from Batesville, Arkansas. Mr. Ashton used our temperance message so effectively in Batesville that he was able to secure community support in building a Seventh-day Adventist church where there was none before. Furthermore, it has already been paid for.

Among his temperance activities, Mr. Ashton showed temperance films such as "One in 20,000" in local public schools, churches, in homes, and throughout the community. And he also gave temperance talks, many before other church groups.

Last year's Man of the Year was John Lammerding of Orangevale, California, a retired contractor who cultivates a five-acre almond orchard. To assist him in his temperance activities, Mr. Lammerding has for several years operated a prize-winning temperance booth at the California State Fair in Sacramento.

During the past two years Fair officials have awarded him a plaque for his outstanding educational exhibit.

So if you know of someone in your church who is carrying on an especially good temperance program, why not sit down today and submit his name, with specific details, to your conference temperance secretary. You have two weeks from the time this article appears.

Perhaps this year the Temperance Man of the Year will be chosen from your church or from your conference.

Your temperance secretaries are:

Alaska Mission J. C. Hansen
Idaho Conference Leon Cornforth
Montana Conference Ralph Gladden
Oregon Conference E. J. Bergman
Upper Columbia William Clements
Washington Conference A. R. Lodahl

1963 Colporteur Institute

More than 100 colporteurs, and colporteur wives, gathered on the Walla Walla College campus, January 7-12, for the Union-wide Institute. All meetings were held in Conard Hall chapel. When entering, each individual had to pass before a display of literature backed by a beautiful colored painting portraying the colporteur at work and the reward for his faithfulness. What an impression this spotlighted scene made upon the 300 or more dormitory ladies, as well as the colporteur force. We thank the Portland Branch for this display.

Most of the sales instruction was given by S. L. Clark of the Review and Herald, and a panel of experienced colporteurs. It was interesting to note the emphasis placed on the fact that we should not rest satisfied, but should strive continually to improve.

If we were asked to pick out the high light of the Institute it would be most difficult. The devotions presented by the pastors in the College Place and Walla Walla areas were superb. The music—you just could not ask for better. We appreciated having the Venden family and Professor Hafner Attractive literature display at Union-wide Colporteur Institute.

At the last meeting, Sabbath evening, service pins, credentials and licenses were presented, and then the great moment when the man-colporteur of the year, and the woman-colporteur of the year, were announced: Brother P. E. Mitchell from Seattle, Washington, and Sister Grace Wallace from Pocatello, Idaho. These individuals were selected by the leaders as a group, on fifteen different qualifications. The Portland Branch presented each with a set of Our Heritage of Faith. These two workers represent very well the fine group of colporteurs in the North Pacific Union.

Their goals of $625,500 in deliveries and 225 souls will be reached if each colporteur and leader takes seriously the slogan they selected, "We'll bear the cross—to find the lost."

Invaluable Reference

Every now and then a publication comes to our attention which we consider a very valuable reference volume. Such is the case with the new book, Principles of Teaching for Christian Teachers by C. B. Eavey. All teachers, preachers and Christian leaders will find profit and pleasure in its contents. This brings into one volume the pertinent points in the art and technique of Christian teaching.

In writing this book the author has

THE VOICE OF PROPHECY SERMON TOPICS

February 3 The Holy Dead

February 10 We'll All Be Together Again

February 17
The Unexpected Messiah

February 24 Look to Jesus Christ been motivated by a threefold purpose: (1) to present a view of teaching that is entirely in harmony with the evangelical point of view; (2) to give that understanding of the nature and meaning of both teaching and learning which the teacher needs in order to do effective work in the classroom; (3) to set forth principles as a basis for right and intelligent use of methods.

Both your Bible House men and Sabbath School leaders are so impressed with this book, that they are offering it at a substantial saving. Regular price is $3.50, for a limited time, only $2.50, plus postage. Let us emphasize again, that every Sabbath School teacher, astute preacher and Christian leader should have a copy. ### Christian Home Week

Christian Home Day is slated by the General Conference for February 16. The topic for that day, "The Home a School," is one of the most important for the year 1963. Everyone who desires to live in the home above will make this day all that it should be.

There will be plenty of activity in the church schools during Christian Home Week, February 16-23. No doubt, you already have been invited to visit your church school to see the children in some of their "home" activities this week. Be sure to look over the albums they will have on display in the church on Sabbath, February 23.

If you are near one of our academies or colleges you will enjoy listening to the speeches, stories, and discussions by these young people. Many of the neighboring churches are inviting them to conduct a Christian Home program in the local church. If you are fortunate to belong to one of these churches, be sure to attend. Your presence will encourage these young people also.

Those First Seven Years

a. "Too much importance cannot be placed upon the early training of children. The lessons learned, the habits formed, during the years of infancy and childhood, have more to do with the formation of the character and the direction of the life than have all the instruction and training of after years." MH 380.

b. "Until a comparatively recent time the church school has given little attention to the children under four years, but we have suddenly come face to face with the fact that in the first three years, when a human being learns more than in any other given period of his life, the child has been forming habits, receiving impressions, laying foundations for good or ill, that are all-important in determining what the rest of his life is to be."—Plans and Stories for the Nursery Class, Louise M. Ogelvee, pp. 10, 11.

c. "Let every Christian father and mother understand when a child is three years old, that they have done more than half they ever will do for his character."—Charles T. Bushnell, Ph.D., sociologist and eminent religious writer.

d. "The first five years of life are the most fundamental and formative years in the cycle of the child's growth."—Dr. Arnold Gessel, of Yale Child Clinic.

e. "The lessons that the child learns during the first seven years of its life

Relationships

The Teenager

Question: The teachers at school are always talking about my poor relationship with others as if it were a disgrace or something. But I like to be myself. Why can't people leave me alone?

Answer: Our relationship with others is something like a barometer whereby we can tell what kind of person we really are, whether stormy or fair, saint or sinner, sane or insane. When a person considers everyone his enemy, is suspicious of his neighbors, and jealous of his friends we say he is insane. When an individual shows respect for his parents and teachers, is congenial with his friends, and considerate of others both older and younger, he is usually sane.

A child of God always has good relationships. There are no exceptions. In other words he keeps the ten commandments. His relationship to God is revealed by the way he keeps the first four commandments. His relationship to his home and relatives is revealed by the way he keeps the fifth. His relationship to all people is revealed by the way he keeps the last five commandments. The way one relates himself to others determines what kind of person he is.

You may delay, but time will not.— Ben Franklin.

IDAHO

Evangelism in Homedale

The Idaho Conference evangelistic team is currently engaged in a three-week campaign in Homedale, Idaho. Cold weather has been somewhat of a deterrent factor to the attendance a few nights, but since the opening night on January 12 the audience has been building in size till now it is well past double the church membership.

The church members of Homedale have been most helpful and faithful in both the erection of the building for the meetings and attendance at the meetings. A sizable portion of the regular attendance has been nonmembers, however, since the membership in Homedale is not large. The air tent is being used and as before it has attracted much attention. With the fine assistance of the church, the tent was put up and nearly readied in two days.

As usual, the Bible marking plan has been an aid in the building of a regular attendance as well as holding the attention of the audience during the meeting. The nightly pictures on the "Magic Box" are fascinating to the people and many express a desire not to miss any of the meetings so as to see these truly unusual pictures drawn by Mrs. Watts.

After the first presentation of the Sabbath one woman who had heard it for the first time remarked, "I wish all of the people of Idaho could hear this since the Sunday law is coming up before the legislature this year." God's truth is plain and we can truly wish the same as she has expressed it.

The Caldwell series ended December

Greater Efficiency — YES!

Farmers are continually fertilizing their soil in anticipation of greater productivity. Likewise God's church in these last days are striving for greater efficiency in the program of soul saving.

Our telecast, Faith for Today, has been producing more for the Lord as each year comes around. In 1961, 741 people were baptized as a result of the Faith for Today program. We just discovered that in 1962 over 1800 precious souls were won through this modern medium of communications. Who can say the worth of a soul? In eternity the 66 cents which is the average per church member that Faith for Today is asking us to give on February 9 will seem very insignificant.

Oh that we might envision the tremendous potential of this wonderful program being telecast over 210 television stations. We understand that they are filming now in color since so many stations are desiring it that way. While this is very nice and constitutes a step in the right direction it also costs nearly $50,000 more a year to produce.

Let us take this opportunity on February 9 to give abundantly of our means that we might support Faith for Today in this great and glorious year.

In order to reach $225,000, which is needed, every church member must average at least 66 cents which, when realistically worked out, means that many people will have to give large sums since not all can give the 66 cents. This is the most up-to-date method to give the gospel yet devised. We are hoping that all will cooperate fully on this project.

Church School Christmas Story

More than $100 was collected by the happy boys and girls of the Eagle Seventh-day Adventist church school to insure happiness for two non-Adventist families in the area at Christmas

Mr. Kurtz took the children on a shopping tour to buy clothes, food and toys for these two needy families, whose names had been supplied by the Welfare department.

This generous gift came from various scurces. One youngster sold Christmas and every-day greeting cards, gift wrap and the like, using half the profit to swell the Christmas Poor Fund; one brought a liberal offering from his weekly milk check; others gave from their allowances and money earned from household chores, good grades on their report cards, and music lessons; some gave money they had received as Christmas gifts and others brought donations from their parents.

The smiles you see on the faces in the picture are merely a reflection of what Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz and the students saw on the faces of the surprised children when they received their gifts that Sunday night just before Christmas. What satisfaction and joy there was in watching and helping these children open their packages, to find tucked inside a pretty new dress with leotards to match, or a spanking new doll to cuddle, jeans for the boys, a shiny dump truck or some interesting books by Uncle Arthur and Sam Campbell. Everyone agreed that true happiness is found only as we are willing to share what we have with others.

Thanks to our teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kurtz, for teaching our children this valuable lesson in unselfishness.

Investment Success in the Kelso-Longview Church

Swelling over the goal of $5 per member for Investment, the Kelso-Longview, Washington, church of 300 members raised $1,861 during 1962. It is almost a spiritual rags to riches story considering a short time ago the totals were listed in a few hundred dollars, and now nearing the two thousand dollar figure.

Sister Arthur Coleman, the 1962 Investment leader, gives much credit to Sister William Bland, the 1961 leader, who spurred the total to $1,500 in that year. Both ladies say they saw things start to move and just kept it going.

Devices were a major factor. Sister Bland was almost synomomous in 1961 with her miniature plastic Christmas tree brought out at every opportunity with the active Investment participants' names written on leaves hanging on it like silver dollars. There were several hurried a djustments when more branches had to be grafted on for more and more names.

Sister Coleman introduced the grand finale of all devices ever used anywhere, when she unfurled a mammoth scroll that hung over the audience like a scroll in the sky. Each participant's name was written on the scroll.

Both 1961 and 1962 leaders give credit to the Sabbath School superintendent who faithfully gave them time in Sabbath School for reports. On occasions these ladies even maneuvered themselves into the sermon hour to promote Investment.

To bind off the season's effort, a successful Investment dinner and variety sale were held in the fall of both years. Almost as much funds were raised at these functions as were raised during entire previous years. Sister Coleman says that the more than $1,800 was a result of co-operation by a large percentage of the members and the loyal support of the pastor, Sabbath School officers and Conference Sabbath School Department.

Literature wanted for missionary work: Signs of the Times, These Times, Life and Health, and Listen magazines in good condition, unsoiled. Anyone having extra copies of these papers, please mail them to: Earl J. Erickson, P. O. Box 216, South Beach, Oregon.

Perpetual Subscriptions

This term is still relatively new in our midst, but we are anxious that all become familiar with it. Your name on the perpetual subscription list guarantees uninterrupted service on your periodicals.

Recently we sent out a large number of renewal notices to those on the perpetual list. Most have been returned with the remittance. These families will not miss those good papers; however, a number failed to respond. These normally have to be cancelled, but since this is still a very young program we will notify you once again, and then if we have no response, we will very reluctantly send in the cancellation notice.

On all perpetual renewals send your remittance to the Book and Bible House, 605 S.E. 39th Ave., Portland 14, Oregon.

Coming Event

On February 2, at 8 p.m., Portland Social Activities Association proudly presents Wanda Dawson, soprano, in concert at Benson High School.

Miss Dawson, a student at La Sierra College, is a pupil of Dr. Oliver S. Beltz. She has concertized mainly in southern Californa, charming her audiences much as did the late Georgia Laster in San Diego, La Jolla, National City and Loma Linda, and as she did last year on her tour of Oregon.

Portions of her varied program include "My Heart Ever Faithful," Bach; "Hear Ye, O Israel," Mendelssohn; Schubert's "Lieder;" a group by MacDowell, including "The Robin Hangs in the Apple Tree;" Cobell-Tipton's "Crying of Waters," and a group of spirituals.

Accompanying Miss Dawson will be Carolyn Boyer McHan of Springfield, Oregon, Walla Walla College graduate and ex-Portlander.

Admission, Adults: 50c; Students 25c; Family rate $1.50.

Tacoma Central Church To Be Dedicated

We are happy to bring this important announcement to the readers of the GLEANER. Plans are being made for the dedication service of the Tacoma Central church to be held on Sabbath afternoon, February 9, at 3:00 o'clock. It is definite that Elder Theodore Carcich, former Washington Conference president, will be with us, and there is a possibility that General Conference president, Elder R. R. Figuhr, will also be present. Elder C. A. Scriven and Elder N. R. Dower will also participate, as well as several former pastors.

All former members of the Tacoma Central church are cordially invited to attend. If you are unable to come we would be most happy to receive a word of greeting from you.

The church address is 615 N. Sprague, Tacoma 6, Washington.

Douglas Marchus

Pastor

Faith for Today

Sabbath, February 9, is the day for the Faith for Today offering. The Washington Conference is very fortunate in having two Faith for Today programs each Sunday morning. These stations think so much of the Faith for Today program that they are willing to carry them on public service time.

But it does take a lot of money to carry on the Bible Correspondence School and take care of all of the activities in connection with the Faith for Today program. Forty-four people were baptized as a result of Faith for Today for the third quarter 1962.

Your generous gift on Sabbath, February 9, will be greatly appreciated.

Bible Conference Plans Progressing

After a meeting held at Sunset Lake this week, it has been decided to hold the Washington Bible Conference at Sunset Lake over the week end of February 21 to 24. This Bible Conference is for high school and academy students only—grades 9 to 12—and will feature Elder Gordon Balharrie from Walla Walla College, presenting a series on last day events.

As we are only allowing eighty young people to participate, we are taking reservations on a first-come, first-serve basis. Everyone asking for a place at the Bible Conference must have his application signed by his local church pastor. Send applications to Washington Conference, MV Department, Box 1585, Seattle 3, Washington.

Outdoor Club Notice

With the January Outdoorsman, those with 1962 subscriptions will find their subscriptions expired. Consequently, anyone wishing to renew should send fifty cents, with their name and address to Box 1585, Seattle, Washington.

Plans for 1963 look very good. During the winter months there will be one ski class, one showshoe trip, one nature program and one indoor class of some kind going each month. When spring comes there will be classes in Camping, Skin-Diving, Mountain Climbing and several in nature activities being conducted around the Conference. During the summer months will be all of the skiing, boating, swimming, hiking and mountain climbing and other activities which are so handy for us here in the Northwest.

Your Outdoorsman will give you the information on each of these outings. Remember there is something going on each week end in the Washington Conference through the Outdoor Club. The Outdoorsman is the only way by which you can know about these outings. Do not fail to subscribe today,

MV DEPT., WASHINGTON CONF.

Seattle Outdoor Club

This article is presented in the GLEAN-ER to accomplish two objectives: First, to inform our people in the Seattle area of the many and varied outdoor activities presently offered by the Club and, secondly, to clarify membership requirements, meeting place, etc.

The Seattle Outdoor Club at the present time is carrying on activities in Rock-Hounding and Bird Watching. Besides these, Nature Photography will be presented at our next regular meeting and activities organized in this area. Mr. Jack Bergman of Tacoma, a graduate of the New York School of Photography, who has enjoyed many years in this hobby, will be the speaker and will display a number of his works.

Along with these organized groups there have been within the last three months snow outings for the family, bird and rock-hounding excursions and a potluck dinner as well as the very interesting monthly meetings. Varied outings are provided each month especially geared to the family. Also in the very near future classes will be organized for Family Camping, Hiking and Outdoor Survival, and Basic and Intermediate Mountain Climbing.

As is obvious, the Outdoor Club offers a wide variety of activities to afford satisfying recreation in God's wonderful out-of-doors. Other areas can be offered at any time as sufficient interest is manifested. The time, place of meeting, leadership and equipment available for the above-mentioned activities will be given at our next monthly meeting, February 3, 7:30 p.m., Washington Conference Auditorium, 4414 Woodland Park Avenue North, Seattle.

The Seattle Outdoor Club is sponsored by the MV Department of the Washington Conference. Its activities and leadership is not limited to any specific church, membership is open to all and there are no dues. Expenditures arise only to cover costs for specific projects in which you are participating.

Except for our next meeting which has been specially arranged for Sunday, February 3, the usual time of meeting is the last Thursday evening of each month at 7:30, in the Washington Conference Auditorium, 4414 Woodland Park Avenue North, Seattle.

At present the Seattle Outdoor Club president is Mr. Alfred Sayler a member of the Ballard church, 363 Academy Place, Seattle; phone: AT 2-6645; the secretary is Mrs. Alfred Sayler; and the program secretary is Mrs. Alfred Aus, a member of the Green Lake church, 6011 Fourth Avenue, NE, Seattle 15, Washington; phone LA 2-8096. The sponsor is Youth Pastor Edward Norton, 3031 Alaska Road, Alderwood Manor, Washington; phone: HU 6-7496.

Everyone in the Seattle area or nearby localities who is interested in outdoor activities and the unique fellowship it affords, feel free to attend the meetings and phone any of the above officers for further information.

New Church Makes Appeal for General Mills Coupons

A new church, new leaders, wall-to-wall carpet, new pews, P.A. system, new piano, electric organ and choir loft greeted the members of the Grays Harbor Seventh-day Adventist church, 3101 Cherry Street in Hoquiam, the first Sabbath of the New Year.

Pastor C. Maurice Monks, who took charge of the pastoral work last June, has spent considerable time in team work with the members in bringing the church so close to completion.

Much time and money has been spent to improve the property. The church has a brick faced front and the grounds are planted in trees, shrubs and plants. It now stands as a beautiful memorial to God's cause.

This building, which is next to the school, has a fellowship hall, choir room, kitchen, library, pastor's study, and four children's classrooms. The adults meet in the fellowship hall for their Sabbath School services.

The church is in need of silverware for the new kitchen, and if all the sister churches and Dorcas societies would save and send their General Mills Coupons for the Star Pattern to the Press Secretary of the church, is would be very much appreciated.

The Hoquiam folks have set Febru-

One of the highest compliments ever paid to a clergyman was what was once said to Massilon by Louis XIV: "When I hear other preachers, I usually go home praising them; but when I hear you, I go home condemning myself." This is the most valued compliment a parishioner can pay a pastor.

The above is a portion of the monthly news letter to his church by one of our pastors in Upper Columbia. I thought it good for all of us.

Expect Great Things

"It is not the capabilities you now possess, or ever will have, that will give you success. It is that which the Lord can do for you. We need to have far less confidence in what man can do, and far more confidence in what God can do for every believing soul. He longs to have you reach after Him by faith. He longs to have you expect great things from Him."—Christ's Object Lessons, p. 146.

Wo would like to share with you this wonderful experience:

"At 6:30 p.m. sharp, Mr. Clear, the Assistant Publishing Secretary, and I started to make evening calls. The third call of the evening was at home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams D—— and their three children.

"Mrs. D— first saw the beautiful Bible Stories in her doctor's office. There were no lead cards in the volume, so in her eagerness to obtain the Bible Stories, Mrs. D— wrote directly to to Arthur Maxwell (Uncle Arthur).

ATTENTION Union College Alumni

A supper meeting will be held for Union College alumni Tuesday evening, February 5, in the Alaskan Room of Kellogg Hall at Walla Walla College. Plan to be there before 6:10 p.m. for cafeteria service.

Union College President Bieber and J. C. Turner will be with us. A film on the history of Union College will be shown.

He promptly wrote her a nice letter and also wrote a letter to the Upper Columbia Publishing Secretary so this family could find the truth that they were seeking

"During the canvass, we could see the deep interest and sincerity of these people.

"As the canvass drew to a close, they were asked what they thought these lovely books would cost them. Their reply was $250. They were told that the books were worth every bit of it, but we were happy to tell them they could be purchased for only $155.74. Of course, other volumes were included.

"Mr. D——looked rather shocked and said, 'Are you sure that's all they cost?' To the veteran literature evangelist, it was music to the ear. To me it rang a bell, for I felt that our books were too high. Friends, I was wrong. We are not just selling books. We are selling life eternal.

"Where do you suppose they went to get their payment? They went to their Bible! They had $200 in cash in the center of their Bible. Then a text went through my mind, 'Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.'

"About three weeks later, my husband and I called to see Mr. and Mrs. D—. The door flew open and Mrs. D— said, 'Mrs. Schutter, I thought you would be here before now.' She was anxious to visit and tell us that her husband had stopped smoking while they were reading the book Your Bible and You. Also, that the Lord had blessed them with an increase in salary.

"It is wonderful how God works."

Student Week Of Consecration

GARY STRUNK

Chaplain, Portland Union Academy Counselor, WWC Student Week of Consecration

Through sunset clouds ablaze with golden fire, the Lord quietly and beautifully signalled His approval of a memorable Student Week of Consecration at Walla Walla College. We had just finished the communion service in the College Church as a climax to the inspiration of the week. And as I moved toward the dormitory I could see the fire escapes and windows lined with viewers witnessing the radiant splendor of God's appointed way of ushering out the Sabbath

Gary Strunk

It had been an enjoyable week, as it had been my privilege to assist as counselor and to share in the week's blessings with the students. Through visiting classes, talking with students, and especially through hearing the presentations of the student speakers, the college portrayed a scene of urgent, deliberate investigation of itself.

A reappraisal of young men's and women's personal relationship to basic Seventh-day Adventist doctrine is in process. Fearful of permitting the emphasis in Christian witness to deteriorate into a creed of negatives and meaningless ceremony, there exists a stimulating desire to return to the vital core of primitive Christianity, the dynamic force of love to God and to man.

While it can be an unnerving experience to have one's inherited behavior and beliefs brought under scrutiny by a new generation, we can rest assured that, under the direction of God, there will emerge a more purposeful and meaningful expression of the great Advent movement for this century.

The campus is still the home of a warm, inviting atmosphere. And although students are under the pressure of schedules, dates, and deadlines, they still have time to smile and say, "Hi." Let us pray together that God will continue to smile a refreshing sunrise and glow an approving sunset to the "vision" of Walla Walla College.

Lyceums Scheduled

Two Walla Walla College lyceum programs promise enlightenment and entertainment, says Profesor J. G. Mehling, chairman of the lyceum committee.

"Village Beneath The Sea," a film lecture by Harry Pederson, leading underwater authority on February 2, is a classic among underwater films.

On Saturday evening, February 9, Henry L. Scott, piano-humorist, will bring to the lyceum platform a program ranging from humerous pantomime to brilliant interpretations of outstanding composers.

Both programs are at 8 o'clock in Columbia Auditorium.

Summer Session at Biological Station

An arrangement concluded with Andrews University will bring students from AU and EMC to WWC's Biological Station at Anacortes next summer, says Dr. Harold Coffin, biology department chairman

Dr. Asa Thoresen, assistant professor of biology at AU, will join the WWC faculty in teaching during the summer session. The AU faculty member is well acquainted with the outstanding facilities at Rosario Beach having taken his M.A. degree from WWC and having been visiting professor during the summer session once before.

Since facilities are limited at the Biological Station, students should lay plans early to attend the 1963 summer session, says Doctor Coffin. Further information may be had by writing to Dr. Harold Coffin, Department of Biological Sciences, Walla Walla College, College Place, Washington.

The Time Is Now

I am sure our people do not realize the seriousness of the Sunday law issue facing the Washington and Idaho legislatures. It is subtle as the religious issue is purportedly left out and it is to "Save Sunday for the Family."

The proponents of this bill are flooding the legislators with letters urging support for this bill. The legislators are literally looking to Seventh-day Adventists to give consistent logical reasons why such legislation should be opposed. Every adult member has a grave responsibility in this matter.

At a recent Upper Columbia Conference workers' meeting this whole issue was studied and much material was placed in the hands of the pastors. If you have been unable to attend church when this matter was presented, your pastor will be glad to inform you on what to do.

Right now you must write your legislators and in long-range planning see that every person of public influence in your area will be the recipient of a year's subscription to Liberty magazine for 1963.

A Little Chat With Your Pastor

The sermon is the central feature of the Seventh-day Adventist church service. Whereas some Protestant churches are molding their service more and more around the altar and ritual, the remnant church follows the pattern of the apostolic and reformation churches whose inception and existence depended upon spirit-filled preaching. Wherever Adventists meet on the Sabbath day, the reading and expounding of the Scriptures constitute the central act of worship. Everything else is secondary to this.

All of us need to examine our behaviour during the sermon. Some come to church without their Bibles and thus rob themselves of the blessing attending the reading of the Scriptures. Others come with minds filled with bitterness and criticism toward others. Some come with minds filled with business transactions. Still others, physically tired and listless, sleep throughout the sermon. Then there are those who are more interested in what others are wearing than in what the minister is saying. Because of these various methods by which the evil one would steal away the Word and the blessings of corporate worship, let us heed the counsel contained in the six points listed as follows:

- Come to church for one purpose to worship God.
  - 2. Determine to receive a blessing.
- 3. Rid your mind and heart of all criticism, bitterness and envy.
- 4. Pray for the speaker.
- 5. Stay awake. "Let none come to the place of worship to take a nap." 6T 361.
- 6. If we do these things the blessing will come. "God will bless all who thus prepare themselves for His service. They will understand what it

Sunday Law Legislation

If you live in Washington or Idaho, have you written the senator or representatives from your district giving your reason why he should oppose the proposed state Sunday law?

You MUST NOT DELAY. WRITE NOW. Your legislators will welcome your views on the matter. If you need help, contact your pastor. C. M. Bunker
