

ARE YOU BRINGING A VISITOR SABBATH, OCTOBER 12?

B. M. PRESTON

Secretary, Sabbath School Department

The welcome mat is always out for our non-Adventist friends to attend our Sabbath School services. Every Sabbath in the year is Visitor's Day and we are honored when our neighbors and friends visit Sabbath School.

About six or seven years ago, the North Pacific Union Sabbath School Secretaries' Council voted to set aside one special Sabbath in the year when a concentrated effort on the part of every Sabbath School member could be put forth to bring a visitor to Sabbath School on that special Sabbath designated as Visitor's Day. It was felt it would stimulate the whole program of bringing visitors to Sabbath School every Sabbath of the year. Visitor's Day was a success from the start. Based on rough surveys that have been made, it is estimated that we have had approximately 10,000 non-Adventists as visitors in attendance in our Sabbath Schools in the Northwest on Visitor's Day each year. Today there are many who are now baptized members as a direct result of being invited to Sabbath School by one of our members on Visitor's Day. Thrilling experiences have come out of this Visitor's Day evangelistic endeavor. It proved such a success in this Union that other Unions adopted the plan and later the General Conference adopted it as a world program in our Sabbath Schools.

Sabbath School officers, teachers and councils should now be making big plans for Visitor's Day on Sabbath, October 12. Every member should endeavor to bring at least one guest to Sabbath School on that Sabbath. Start now extending invitations to your neighbors and friends. Do not become discouraged. Some will have excuses, valid or otherwise, why they cannot come, but invite others and be determined to bring at least one friend or neighbor as your guest.

The General Conference has produced two very attractive leaflets that will help us. One is entitled "We Cordially Invite You To Honor Us with Your Presence on Visitor's Day." This is to be used by our members when they call on their friends and invite them to Sabbath School. The other is a very attractive "Welcome Visitors" leaflet. This leaflet is to be given to the visitors on Visitor's Day

VOICE OF PROPHECY OFFERING, OCTOBER 12

D. E. CASLOW

Radio-TV Secretary

Great events are taking place. Rapid changes are coming in the world. Bible prophecies are being fulfilled. Today, as never before, there is an urgency in proclaiming the everlasting gospel. How grateful we are for the world-encircling ministry of the Voice of Prophecy.

Sabbath, October 12, has been designated Voice of Prophecy Offering Day. Every church member will have an opportunity to give an offering to share in heralding the gospel to the millions.

The Voice of Prophecy broadcast and Bible Correspondence School continue their dedicated task of seeking souls. Week after week, the broadcast messages are sent out in search of candidates for God's kingdom. The fruitfulness of this work is evident from the resulting baptisms.

The lasting major thrust into the airways was the launching of the Voice of Prophecy broadcast over Radio New York Worldwide, Station WRUL, last June. Suddenly the voice of H. M. S. Richards and the music of the King's Heralds, Del Delker, and Brad Braley were placed in reach of more than 88 million shortwave radio sets strategically spotted in key areas of the earth.

At the Voice of Prophecy many new doors are opening; wonderful opportunities are developing. At the same time other doors are closing. There is need to take full advantage of the open doors before they close. But by a member of the welcoming committee. If these leaflets have not already been ordered, a supply should be ordered immediately from the conference Sabbath School Department.

It is not too early to invite that friend, that neighbor or that relative to be your guest at Sabbath School on Visitor's Day, October 12. Let us double the attendance at our Sabbath School on that Sabbath. God will greatly bless if "each one brings one" on Visitor's Day. This is personal evangelism that gets results.

this cannot be done without our special help.

On this Voice of Prophecy Offering Day, October 12, let us all join in giving sacrificially to speed the message to all the people of the world. There is great need to make this our finest offering!

AN APPEAL TO ALL CHURCH MEMBERS

G. R. NASH, Secretary

General Conference Sabbath School Department

The Sabbath School leaders around the world are putting forth earnest efforts to gather into the Sabbath School all our church members. This is a most worthy undertaking, and one that should have the full support and active cooperation of every church leader and conference worker in the Advent cause. It should also appeal to every faithful church member. In almost every church there are some church members who are absentees at Sabbath School. Each missing member is a good reason to support the endeavors of our Sabbath School leaders in their present efforts.

From the standpoint of Scriptural and spiritual training the Sabbath School is our greatest educational institution. It is also our oldest. Virtually, from the very inception of this movement, the Sabbath School has played a very important part in the activities of the church. Through the years our people have benefited by the weekly blessings of Sabbath School attendance. The united study of the Holy Scripture is of untold benefit to all believers. Furthermore, it is obvious that when one is growing in grace—sanctification—he will love to attend the religious meetings, God's appointments with His people. Naturally this will include the Sabbath School.

In different parts of the world field we have seen our evangelists taking an active part in the Sabbath School program. Often they have gathered around them a large group of new believers and have taught them the Sabbath School lesson. These new believers thus learn from their leaders the value of the Sabbath School. Every new believer should not only be instructed in the Scriptural teachings regarding Sabbath observance, the second coming of Christ, et cetera, but he should also be taught the blessing and importance of Sabbath School attendance.

We appeal to every worker, church leader, and loyal member to give his full support by precept and example for the strengthening of our Sabbath Schools. "The Sabbath school work is important, and all who are interested in the truth should endeavor to make it prosperous."—Counsels on Sabbath School Work, p. 9.

Let us personally resolve that just as far as possible we will not be absentees, but that we will be present and on time each week in our own home Sabbath School. May we all join together in building up our Sabbath School attendance is my earnest prayer.

Information Wanted

A major evangelistic effort began in the Bowman, North Dakota, area on September 28. We are interested in obtaining the names and addresses of any former Seventh-day Adventists who might be living in the southwestern part of North Dakota. Also, we would like to have the names and addresses of any relatives of Seventh-day Adventists who are now living in that area. We would like these names and addresses so that we can extend special invitations to them. Please send all such names and addresses to Elder Robert E. Janssen, Box 846, Beach, North Dakota.

Special Feature in November "Signs"

In a gripping five-page article, vividly illustrated and entitled "Helping the Homeless and Hungry" by Elder Carl Guenther, Associate Home Missionary Secretary of the General Conference, you will be given an intriguing description of the world-wide welfare work of Seventh-day Adventists, and the good accomplished through it.

There is a touch of pathos in the picture of Korean orphan boys waiting their turn to get a pair of trousers at the Seventh-day Adventist orphanage in Seoul, Korea. It is thrilling to know that the devastating Waco, Texas, tornado, the Tulsa, Oklahoma, flood catastrophe and the Iranian earthquake brought immediate response from Seventh-day Adventist welfare workers who truly proved equal to the challenge of "Helping the Homeless and Hungry." And you will look on with interest as workers at the Western Welfare Depot in Watsonville, California, prepare clothing for overseas shipment.

A play-by-play description of some of the major disasters in which Seventh-day Adventists have given emergency help tells its own story of what sacrifice and dedication can accomplish today. The spirit of Dorcas, that heroine of the early Christian church, radiates throughout the article. Comments author Guenther: "If you had seen 10,000 flood refugees sleeping in the Calcutta streets under the open sky, you could assess the true value of a sheltering roof and a bed with blankets and sheets.

"If you had seen 100,000 Arab refugees from Israel clothed in rags tied together with bits of string, you could appreciate the luxury of selecting clothes from a well-stocked closet.

"If you had seen half a million fatherless Korean children, burned, twisted, legless, or blinded casualties of war and famine, you would give daily thanks to God for a home, a sound body and three square meals."

This dramatic description of Seventh-day Adventist welfare activities merits a wide distribution among our friends, neighbors and business acquaintances.

Leaders of our welfare work and directors of our welfare centers will find the November Signs an effective agent telling the story of helping others. Use it in your holiday baskets.

Churches will find opportunities on every hand to use the November Signs and the results will be heart warming.

Ministers' Chorus on VOP Broadcast

The Southern California Conference Ministers' Chorus will provide special music on the Sunday broadcasts for October 20 and December 29. Well-known throughout the Greater Los Angeles area, this chorus has appeared before countless congregations, including radio and television audiences.

The idea of an all-ministers' chorus caught hold about eight years ago. Within a few weeks of its initial announcement a group of 35 Seventh-day Adventist ministers with special singing ability were selected and molded into this distinctive vocal group.

R. R. Bietz, president of the Pacific Union Conference and an influential figure in the formation of the Ministers' Chorus, says: "It is my opinion that this chorus has been a real inspiration to our people. These men have been a strong factor in building up the spirituality of the churches. They are always appreciated, and no large conference convention seems complete without their presence."

The Voice of Prophecy is honored to have this group with us for these two programs. We know our listeners will derive a blessing from their ministry in song on October 20 and December 29.

"Junior Guide" Is Ten Years Old!

The very first issue of Junior Guide was dated October 7, 1953. The first issue of October, 1963, marks ten full years of life.

There were many who heard the birth cry of the Junior Guide back in 1953, who questioned whether the baby would survive.

There were, indeed, many reasons for doubt. Would anyone write stories for the new paper? Even more important, would the juniors and teenagers read it?

The answers to those questions has been a resounding YES!

The early issues of Junior Guide had a circulation of about 17,000. As Junior Guide turns ten, the circulation is more than 43,000 copies every week, read and devoured in Adventist homes around the world!

Would anyone write for the new paper? This was a most serious question, because a weekly paper consumes a vast quantity of material.

A great host of men and women have arisen all over the United States and around the world to write for the Junior Guide. There are school teachers—one almost expected them to write. There are dentists and doctors, too, and one hardly thought they would find time. There are nurses and ministers, men whose names are famous throughout the denomination, and housewives

Address all Correspondence to Elder A. O. Dart,

The Kindergarten No. 6

Parents are the best teachers of their preschool child for they love him. They love him enough to care for him themselves to the best of their ability. They are interested in his physical, mental, and spiritual welfare. Money, time, energy is spent gladly for his advancement, his joy, his success. No personal sacrifice is too great for his eternal welfare.

Parents are the best teachers of their little child for they are with him. Mother would rather be with him than with her social group. She would rather be at home with her baby than in the finest office with the highest salary. She would rather save him than her jewels. Father, too, gives him some of his time. He will not neglect his child for a college degree or sacrifice his son for personal advancement.

Parents are the best teachers of their infant for they are teaching at a time the child is learning the most. "The first lessons impressed upon the child are seldom forgotten." C.G. 193. "Too much importance cannot be placed on the early training of children. The lessons that the child learns during the first seven years of life have more to do with forming his character than all that it learns in future years." C.G. 193.

Parents are the best teachers of their preschool child for they are trained in the art of parenthood. God, the author of the home, values the education of the child to be of such great importance that He requires every parent to be qualified to teach his child. "To assume the responsibilities of parenthood without such preparation is sin." M.H. 380.

The child begins to learn as soon as he is born. "It is in the home that the education of the child is to begin. Here is his first school." C.G.17, "The father and the mother should be the first TEACHERS of their children." C.G. 21. "Awake, parents, from your spiritual slumber and understand that the very first teaching a child receives is to be given to him by YOU. YOU are to teach your little ones to know Christ. This work you must do before Satan sows his seeds in their hearts . . . Sin will lie at the door of parents unless they take themselves in hand and qualify themselves to become wise, safe Christian teachers." C.G. 23, 24. "It is the privilege of parents to take their children with them to the gates of the city of God, saying, 'I have tried to instruct my children to love the Lord, to do His will and to glorify Him.' To such the gate will be thrown open, and parents and

The Teenager

Question: Whom should I date?

Answer: No one in his right mind ever hands his money over to a stranger, whether he has much or little. Neither should he hand over his reputation to a stranger. (We are known by the company we keep—the people we date.) Some foolish people will take a chance with their character that they would never think of taking with their money, yet character is far more valuable. Wise individuals never date a stranger. Now a stranger is one whose character is unknown. We may have seen a certain face dozens of times on the street, in the city park, or at the soda fountain, but he is still a stranger to us until we know his character. We learn to know an individual through others and by observing him over a period of time. We can learn about his reputation from our parents, teachers, ministers, and other reliable adults—not from thoughtless superficial people who look on the outward appearances only. We can observe him by noticing where he goes, what he does, and what he talks about. Only those with the same standards as I have would make me a suitable dating companion.

Long-Awaited VOP Health Course Now Ready

Radiant Health is the descriptive title of The Voice of Prophecy's newest correspondence course. Just off the presses, this timely addition to the correspondence school contains a wealth of practical medical information for the average family.

Radiant Health has been written and prepared by Clifford R. Anderson, M.D., known and loved in many areas of the world as "Your Radio Doctor." Renowned as physician, lecturer, and radio speaker, Doctor Anderson is well qualified to condense up-to-date medical data into everyday language designed especially for the layman.

The 16 fascinating chapters of Radiant Health have been generously illustrated with attractive pictures and its format closely resembles the pattern of Bright Horizon, a Voice of Prophecy Bible course for senior youth. Through a "grade yourself" system of testing, the student is given the opportunity to reinforce his memory of each lesson immediately. Filled with practical information and sound advice ranging from headaches to cancer, Radiant Health stresses the sacredness of the Christian's body, "temple of the Holy Ghost."

Friends and listeners of The Voice of Prophecy are encouraged to ask for and introduce others to Radiant Health, by sending a letter to The Voice of Prophecy, Box 55, Los Angeles. In treating both the body and the spirit, The Voice of Prophecy hopes to reach the whole man through correspondence courses which will direct his heart and mind to God—the Source of his being.

whose names are scarcely known beyond the walls of their own homes. There are presidents of the great world divisions of the General Conference, missionaries, and managers of denominational institutions.

Their manuscripts find their way to the Junior Guide from the rarefied altitudes of Peru and from the steaming jungles of New Guinea and the Solomon Islands. They come from India and Chile and Kenya and Denmark and Canada and England and Brazil, from Australia and New Zealand and South Africa, and from many more places besides. Among the writers are devout Christians in the Presbyterian faith and the Baptist, the Episcopalian and the Roman Catholic. The oldest contributor is in his nineties; the youngest is less than nine.

All have seen in this growing youth a servant of God, a voice through whom God speaks to the hearts of juniors and teen-agers, and they give God's message words, that the young may read and be drawn to their Savior.

The tenth-anniversary issue, October 2, is not a special one. It is not particularly different from the 522 Junior Guides that have preceded it. Yet how significant are the stories it contains! The first is about a seventh-grader who witnessed for his faith in a public school. Next is a thrilling mission story describing the advance of God's Word in the face of immense difficulties. In the third, the Reformation lives again. The center story features our denomination's radio program, the Voice of Prophecy. And on page ten the annual "Treats for the Needy" campaign begins once more—a constructive way to spend Halloween that Junior Guide first suggested to the Adventist churches of North America nine years ago, and which by now has swept the country and leaped the oceans. Pick up any of the Junior Guides, and you will find it packed with character-building true stories and features like these.

To all who have written for the Junior Guides, and to you who have prayed and worked for its success, a million, million thanks.

May God bless the Junior Guide during the next ten years as richly as He has blessed during the first.

Special events included a guided tour of the new College Church and a late afternoon trip to Whitman National Monument. An outdoor meal at the monument site preceded an address by L. H. At an evening meeting Dr. Sherman Nagel, missionary on leave from Africa, showed slides of mission work and related experiences.

Enthusiasm and a spirit of dedication to health principles prevailed during the entire session made possible by the support of local and union conferences. We sincerely wish for them the continued blessings of God, as they blend their lives to form this new home.

Carol Grace King and Russell Roy Newell exchanged their vows on September 14, in Enumclaw, Washington. Elder Ed H. Webb performed the ceremony for these two young people. May the Lord's blessings be with them as they continue along life's way together.

Sunday evening, August 25, at a lovely wedding held in the new Walla Walla College church Susanne Spoo of College Place, Washington, became the bride of Harvey Heinrichs of Saskatoon, Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Heinrichs will continue their education at Walla Walla College before going to Loma Linda the following year where the groom plans to study medicine. The bride's uncle, Elder H. A. Peckham, read the ceremony. Their host of friends wish them much happiness and that the Lord richly bless and protect their newly-established Christian home as together they prepare for a place in His work.

Village Church Summer Activities

Wednesday evening, September 25, was the last meeting held in a series of programs entitled: "Finding A Seventh-day Adventist," conducted in the College Place Village church. The purpose for these meetings was to present the principles of Adventism in a unique and helpful manner so as to be of interest to the youth in the church and community and provide some spiritual activity for the young people during the summer months. The meetings took the place of the usual prayer meeting, and were planned to meet the needs of all ages, both old and young.

A rousing song service interspersed with instrumental and vocal numbers by the youth, opened the meeting. Opportunity was given for requests for prayer, and a season of prayer followed.

The evening's theme was introduced by the personal testimony of one of the new church members, or one who had recently become a church member. This type of introduction varied with the unusual manner in which the truth had been brought to the speaker. Some of them had found the message from the sale of a book, or from a colporteur contact; others by friendly Adventist neighbors; some through attendance at revival meetings; others through attendance of week of prayer meetings at school; and still others from the radio and TV Bible correspondence courses. This introduction set the pace for the evening's discussion and admonition, after which testimonies of a similar nature were called for from the audience. This program was planned primarily for youth participation. A roving microphone was provided so everyone present could enjoy the conversation that ensued between the audience and the pastor at the desk.

Some of the individuals selected to introduce the theme of the evening preferred to be interrogated by either the pastor or the Bible instructor, Mrs. H. Farnsworth. One couple chosen for questioning told of having found each other and God's truth in a Russian slave-labor camp—a marvelous illustration of finding Seventh-day Adventists by the providences of God. Both young and old were thrilled as they learned how the Lord led and guided different individuals into the remnant church.

During this series of programs, many of the peculiarities that distinguish us from the other church communions and the world were pointed up to show that often it is the little things that make the difference. The meetings closed by urging the youth and older church members to put these personal touches into operation in our daily activities and to really live the truth, and thus God will bless our efforts to win souls for the kingdom of heaven.

Following this unique evening meeting, which lasted one hour, the youth were invited to join in a Youth Fellowship Hour for recreation and fun. These were conducted on the lawns of various church members who had room enough to accommodate a large group of young people.

On inclement nights, we went immediately from the church to the gymnasium, where we enjoyed games of volley ball, ping pong, etc. The Fellowship Hour closed with the serving of a glass of punch at 10 p.m. Everyone went home tired but happy for the evening's spiritual and physical refreshment.

This program doubled our attendance at our mid-week service and a large number of the increased attendance were our own young people. Several of the youth have expressed their delight for the program, and the opportunity it afforded to get acquainted during the Fellowship Hour. Some expressed their gratitude for the different type of mid-week service, feeling that we had endeavored to provide something that was a real help to them. Likewise, the older members remarked of their happiness to see so many of our youth attending the mid-week service and to hear the encouraging ring of the personal testimonies given. We do feel that this experiment of the summer months has been a profitable venture in mid-week church activities, and we recommend it highly to other churches as a means of building up the mid-week service and of integrating the youth into the church program.

Also, during the summer months, our Missionary Volunteer Society, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ekkens, has enjoyed a fine program of mixed activities, alternately holding services in the church and at the lodge in the Blue Mountains. Sabbath afternoons usually have featured a hike in the woods, returning to the lodge for a singspiration and a variety MV meeting, supper, and an evening of games and recreation.

We wish to thank the sponsors and leaders of our MV Society for the splendid work done for our youth during the year and especially during the summer months. We believe that many of our young people will look back upon these endeavors as highlights in their experiences, and that they will find their way to the kingdom because someone cared enough and put forth an effort to help them.

It is with pleasure that we welcome Elder and Mrs. A. L. Moore to join us as associates in the College Place church. Elder Moore will devote considerable time to the promotion of our youth program. We feel fortunate to have his services in this large and needy field of our church program, and we do pray that God will abundantly bless as we unitedly work together for the advancement of the cause of Christ in this district.

word. Applied to life, it is the period from the moment one is born until death. Applied to this world, it is the period from creation to the end of this planet as we know it. God has very wisely and mercifully given us way-marks (or prophecy as we call it) to mark off the centuries and let us know in advance the events foretelling the end. The second word in this title is interesting to note, because it seems that time is not just "walking," but "running." We are told, you know, that the last movements will be rapid ones. And lastly the word "out" indicates very definitely an ending. In other words, time as we understand it here on this earth will be no more.

Would you like to read about this important subject as it relates to the present and the immediate future? Then send in your order to us and purchase a supply of this new book entitled Time Running Out. Literally thousands have been sold right here within our Conference already. It is really the most popular item we have right at the moment. Let us all pool our efforts and use this book to help those around us know that Jesus is coming soon and that this event will climax the time that is fast running out.

Vernonia Home-Coming

Sabbath, September 7, was a festive day in Vernonia. The church, under the leadership of their pastor, Reuben A. Hubbard, arranged for a grand home-coming and openhouse to which they invited former members and friends of the community. A very interesting program was planned for the entire day, beginning with the Sabbath School.

The attendance was exceptionally good; every seat was occupied and additional chairs had to be provided. Following the Sabbath School and the eleven o'clock worship service, all the people partook of a delicious picnic lunch in the city park. The afternoon was filled with a musical program in the church, and color motion pictures on the advancement of the Gospel were presented in the evening.

It was a special pleasure for Mrs. Rudy and me to participate in the services of this day and fellowship with our dear people at Vernonia and their many friends.

From Nebraska to Oregon

Again the Oregon Conference extends a hearty welcome to a new family that has come to join the ministerial ranks of the Conference. This time it is Elder and Mrs. Larry N. Boyd and their three lovely children: Marvin, 14; Terrence, 12; and Clarissa, 4.

Elder Boyd is pastor of the Astoria district, comprised of three churches: Astoria, Ocean Park, and Seaside. He is a graduate of Union College (1947) and has served as a minister in Wisconsin and Nebraska; his last pastorate having been Grand Island, Nebraska.

Elder Larry Boyd family.

Mrs. Boyd is also a graduate of Union College, in the class of 1944. Following her graduation she served as Dean of Women, Platte Valley Academy; then as instructor in mathematics and biology at Union College, and Union College Academy.

The Boyds have a background of education and experience that well qualifies them for the work to which they have been called. We welcome this good family to the Oregon Conference, and we look forward to getting better acquainted with them. May the Lord richly bless them in their ministry as they unite with the churches of that important district in building up the Lord's work.

Red Cross Home Nursing Training—TV Showing

Home nursing training by television will be offered to audiences of KOAP-TV, channel 10, and KOAC-TV, channel 7, which began Wednesday, September 18, at 7:30 p.m., and a repeat course beginning October 1 at 2:15 in the afternoon. Each series will consist of 10 weekly telecasts entitled, "The Home Nursing Story." This series depicts the fundamental nursing skills and proper attitudes necessary for efficiency in meeting emergency situations.

Supervised practice workshop sessions will be offered viewers in conjunction with the telecast. These practice sessions in the Portland area will be conducted at Oregon Trail Chapter headquarters, 4200 S. W. Corbett Avenue, on Thursdays, October 3, 24, and November 21, at 7:30 p.m. Persons interested in attending these sessions or in obtaining the accompanying workbook and textbook may make arrangements by telephoning the Chapter (CA 8-8561) in Portland, or your local Chapter headquarters in other areas.

Red Cross home nursing certificates will be issued to viewers who have attended all three workshops. These motion pictures are based on the regular Red Cross "Care of the Sick and Injured" course.

Vacation Bible Schools Boost Church Groups

Oregon Vacation Bible Schools are already reaping results in enlarged Sabbath School and Pathfinder groups throughout the conference.

One hundred ten children (75 percent non-Seventh-day Adventist) registered at Redmond where 32 church members provided leadership during the two-week session. Attendance two days reached 92, although 96 diplomas were granted at the "graduation" exercises.

Mrs. Lila May Anderson supervised overall plans. Mrs. Jean Hopper, primary leader, and Douglas Peterson, junior leader and conference intern, personally provided taxi service, as did Hubert Van Tassel who also assisted with crafts while mending a broken leg.

Many of these Redmond youngsters have been attending Sabbath School—at times outnumbering regular members. This Sabbath School attendance is the beginning of reward for the 1100 hours spent working for the VBS in Redmond, leaders feel.

At Sweet Home, nine of the 60 enrolled for VBS have continued in the Pathfinder Club. Ten have attended Sabbath School. Peak attendance at VBS was 53, and percentage of non-church members was always 50-70.

Total registration at Coos Bay was 169 with 105 coming from non-Seventh-day Adventist homes. Kindergarten and primary departments each arranged for 51 enrollees, while 67 attended junior meetings (previous high 13).

Mrs. Dennis Humbert and Mrs. Harry Sharp were co-leaders and made arrangements for the school. Departments were headed by Mrs. Lawrence Hooker, kindergarten; Mrs. E. E. Young primary; and Mrs. H. L. Roberts, junior.

Several of the non-SDA's are now attending Sabbath School, many of whom were contacted by Dennis Stilwell, a student colporteur in the area.

Mrs. Charles Cannefix drives seven miles every Sabbath to take 8 to 14 children from the farm labor camp to Sabbath School. Initial interest was created by the McMinnville VBS.

Districts Continue Stop-Smoking Clinics

Newport's second Stop-Smoking Clinic was conducted September 15 to 19 by Dr. Robert Kaye and Elder and Mrs. R. G. Letcher.

Of the 11 who completed the course, seven felt they had broken the habit, while the remaining four expressed a desire to continue the fight to overcome. One of the men identified himself as one who would have become a Seventh-day Adventist 35 years before, had he been able to stop smoking. He invited Elder Letcher to visit his home. A good interest was maintained through the week.

Dr. George Allen of Portland lectured one evening. Other assistants were Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Andre and Leslie Walter.

Invitations to attend were extended during the Lincoln County Fair in August. The fair booth displayed temperance materials, a cancerous lung, Coos Bay (left) registered a challenging 169 for their two-week VBS. Many were invited by a student colporteur. Sweet Home's VBS (right) aroused an interest in the Pathfinder program. Oregon has only begun to witness results of Vacation Bible Schools.

and the films "One in 20,000" and "Verdict at 1:32."

Elder R. G. Stambaugh and Dr. Kaye began a similar clinic in Oceanlake September 29. Plans are for such a course to be conducted twice each year in both the Newport and Oceanlake districts.

An Invitation

All former members and pastors of the Shady Point Seventh-day Adventist church, near Shady Cove, Oregon, are invited to attend the dedication services in this church on Sabbath afternoon, October 5, at 3:00 o'clock. We expect Elders Francis D. Nichol and Henry L. Rudy to be with us to lead in this important service.

Faculty Home Nears Completion

Slated for completion October 1, Columbia Academy's newest home will be occupied by science and math instructor R. C. Reed and family.

The new home, a $12,000 split-level in the last stages of completion, is the tenth school-owned home and the first to be built at the Academy in five years, according to Principal H. T. Ochs.

Standing amid construction debris, Columbia Academy's new split-level house will soon be occupied by the family of R. C. Reed, science and math instructor.

Under the direction of George M. Pifer, local contractor, work on the project started July 1.

The architecture provides for three bedrooms, a fireplace in the combination living-dining room, a kitchen, a utility room, and a double garage.

Located on 189th Street, the home is approximately one-half block east of the Academy campus.

Berry Pickers Hold Sabbath School

Where there are Sabbath keepers, there is Sabbath School—even in the huckleberry fields near Mt. Adams.

On a recent Sabbath, six families, most of whom had not met before, joined to study the lesson and to sing praises and songs for children. Before evening two more families met with the group, making a total of 24.

From Vancouver and College Place, Washington; Kelowna, B. C.; and Paradise, California—three unions of the North American division meeting on the beautiful hills of Mt. Adams—Seventh-day Adventists were reminded that God goes with His people everywhere.

Teaching Facilities Are Expanded

Commercial art classes have been relocated from the present administration building to the ground floor of Laurelwood Academy's new gymnasium.

Previously serving as registrar, "Coach" LaRene Spady is teaching 78 typing, 24 office practice, and ten short-hand students this year. These future commercial artists utilize four IBM and Royal Electrics, three Selectrics, 27 Royal manuals, six adding machines of differing types, and one dictaphone. Thirty-one custom-made typing tabledesks were provided from Laurecraft Industries.

"Coach" Spady indicated the primary advantage in the new work-out room by exclaiming, "There's room here!"—thanks to the constituents of the Oregon Conference and their support of the Academy Building Fund.

◆In order to promote an interest in skiing and skill and safety while skiing, a ski club was organized Monday, September 16, for the benefit of faculty and students interested in this winter sport. Chosen as president was Don Jenkins, while Karen Brooks was elected vice-president and Linda Hubbard as secretary-treasurer. As the former Bear Canyon Ski Lodge has come into possession of the school and as skiing will be taught as a class in the physical education program, ample opportunity will be provided for the ski club to follow its pursuits.

◆Elder D. E. Caslow, Home Missionary Secretary of the North Pacific Union Conference, spoke for academy vespers, Friday evening, September 20, on the subject, "Let Christ Be Magnified."

"Just as the magnifying lenses of the telescopes enlarge the view of stars, so Christian young people are to enlarge others' view of Christ by living His life," the speaker observed. "A cheap magnifying glass gives only a blurred image. What kind of a magnifying glass are you for Christ? May each one of you this year let Christ be magnified in your life," Elder Caslow challenged in conclusion.

The speaker was introduced by Elder Ralph Gladden, Home Missionary, Temperance and Sabbath School Secretary for the Montana Conference. Elder H. K. Dawson, pastor of the Miles City church, offered the opening prayer.

Popularity Increasing of "Time Running Out"

As the weeks have rolled by since our recent camp meeting when the new book by Arthur S. Maxwell, Time Running Out, was introduced, we are finding our mail flooded with orders from the churches for this very timely little volume. It is evident that our members are seeing in this brand new book a real opportunity to win their friends, relatives, and neighbors. If you have not had opportunity to read the book, we would suggest that you do so and after you have done this we would suggest that you immediately contact your Home Missionary Secretary and place an order for a good supply that they may be "scattered like the leaves of autumn."

NORTH PACIFIC UNION GLEANER

Walla Walla College

College Registration

Classes began at WWC Wednesday morning, September 25, with 1400 students registered, and many still in the process. On-campus registration stood at 1,288 as compared with 1,281 the same time last year.

Placement of School Teachers

This was a "bonanza" year for elementary Christian education in the Northwest, says Elder A. J. Werner, educational superintendent of the Upper Columbia Conference.

Seventeen 1963 graduates of Walla Walla College, trained as teachers, are now in elementary schools in the Upper Columbia and Montana conferences. "This is the largest number of graduates to begin teaching in any one year during my 13 years in the North Pacific Union," says Elder Werner.

With an augmented faculty and construction of a modern educational building as a center for the teacher training program set to begin this year, the training of Christian teachers will continue to fulfill a major need.

The education department faculty includes: Dr. R. E. Silver, chairman and professor of education; Dr. J. Wesley Rhodes, professor of education; Miss Bernice Searle and Dr. J. V. Peters, associate professors of education; Andrew Leonie, assistant professor of education; Mrs. J. Paul Grove and Robert E. Stahlnecker, instructors in education.

Home-Nutrition Instructor Course

Sixty-seven delegates from five conferences of the North Pacific Union Conference completed the four-day, home-nutrition training program held at Walla Walla College, September 8-12, with Mrs. Melvin Zolber, Union Conference lay-nutrition instructor-trainee, as director.

Highlights of the course included lectures by Dr. Mervyn Harding of Loma Linda University, Professor Joseph Barnes and Mrs. Carl T. Jones of Walla Walla College, and Dr. John Potts, physician. Also presenting lectures and demonstrations were Wilmer Snyder, Walla Walla College's director of food service, and Mrs. Zolber, associate professor of home economics at WWC.

Spiritual emphasis was given each morning at the devotional period. Those leading out in the devotionals were Dr. P. W. Christian, president of WWC; Mr. Jack Hubbs, manager, Walla Walla General Hospital; Elder N. R. Johnson, pastor, College Place church; and Elder George Chambers, associate pastor, College church.

Emphasis was given to methods of teaching and to demonstration techniques. A number of excellent demonstrations were presented by Mrs. Clayton Prusia, Walla Walla; Mrs. N. R. Dower, Seattle; Mrs. C. J. Ritchie, Portland; and Mrs. Lyman Shaw, Pocatello, Idaho. Foods prepared were served at the regular meal period so they all could enjoy the finished products. Favorite recipes which were
