Ground Is Broken for Walla Walla Area Academy

Elder C. M. Bunker, president of the Upper Columbia Conference and chairman of the building and site committee, turned the first shovel of earth, Sunday, October 27, at the site of the new $430,000 academy for the Walla Walla area.

Ground breaking climaxed the ceremonies at the 20-acre site, Hussey between SW Second and SW Fourth, with Conference officials, academy and church administrators participating.

"I feel as did Martin Luther," said Elder Bunker. "If your cause is just, if it is right, if you're sure of it, go forward in His name. He will not leave you nor forsake you," Luther wrote, quoted the conference executive, "I believe this project of faith is right and success will be yours."

Signaling the start of the outdoor program was the trumpet call by Carroll Klein and the presentation of colors by the Walla Walla College Academy Medical Cadet Corps color guard: Cpl. David Smith, Richard Heyden, and Fred Johnson. The national anthem was sung by Miss Audrey Klein.

Dr. J. V. Peters, secretary of the building and site committee, presided. J. T. Porter, educational superintendent of the North Pacific Union department of education, spoke on "The Birth of a School." He pictured the new school as a part of the church's secondary Christian education program in the Northwest. "There is no other way," he said, "to pass on our Christian heritage than to provide an adequate school plant."

Principal H. D. Schwartz of WWCA called the time and event, "my lucky day." Now in his 13th year as principal, he has waited for new facilities which he hopes to see by next fall.

Mrs. Eva Stull, county superintendent of schools, complimented the administration, educators, and constituency for their faith and courage in attempting the financing of a secondary school plant adequate to today's needs.

Other participants were Joe Hardy, builder, who received the roll of blueprints from Elder Bunker, and Pastor N. R. Johnson, College Place church pastor, who gave the invocation.

Walla Walla Hospital Church Organized

The dreams and hopes of many were realized on Sabbath, October 19, when a new church was organized at our Walla Walla General Hospital in Walla Walla. Ever since the shell for the new addition to the hospital was finished about six years ago, many of us have longed to see the time come when the building would be completed, thus providing among many other needs a very representative chapel where regular religious services could be held both for the employees and patrons of the institution.

We are glad to report that the new addition is at last finished, and on October 19, nearly 100 persons gathered in the beautiful new chapel for the regular Sabbath services and the organization of a new church. It was a most delightful and spiritual atmosphere to enter the chapel and hear the beautiful organ music and see the rostrum decorated so beautifully with flowers donated by a local florist. The whole setting was so conducive to worship.

Following a well-conducted and inspirational Sabbath School, we entered into the regular worship service. In place of the regular preaching service the writer brought to the attention of those assembled the meaning of the word CHURCH and what it means to be called into the fellowship of the church. Our hospital chaplain, Elder Arthur Dahl, had made careful preparation for such a service and was ready with 27 letters granted by nearby churches to those desiring membership in the new church. These names were presented and declared charter members of the new church.

These members then had the glorious privilege of voting into membership by profession of faith a dear soul who probably would not live to see another Sabbath. This brother had been baptized in the bathtub the night before, and craved membership in God's remnant church before his death. Thus 28 became charter members of the new church. A nominating committee was then chosen and retired to nominate Sabbath School and church officers for the new church. During this interval the writer gave an address on the subject, "The True Church." Following the report of the nominating committee and the election of a full corps of Sabbath School and church officers, the church chose as the name of the new organization, "The Walla Walla Hospital Church." Previous to a recent action of the conference committee, Elder Dahl was hospital chaplain, associate pastor of the College Place church, and carried the responsibility of our work at the penitentiary. Inasmuch as Elder Leroy Moore has been appointed assistant pastor of the College Place church, Elder Dahl will now be pastor of the new hospital church, the hospital chaplain and continue his work at the penitentiary.

To see the nurses bring some of the patients to the Sabbath services and some of the nurses and employees on Sabbath duty come into the service for a while, was indicative of the great blessing the new chapel and church will be to our hospital. Let us all pray earnestly for this new light in our midst.

Church School Nearly Completed

When school opened in the Tri-Cities this fall, it was quite different from the previous years. Many additions have been made in the last year. First, school opened in the nearly completed Junior Academy; second, a new addition in teaching staff; and last, the largest enrollment to date.

With an enrollment of 118 students, five teachers were required. David Gouge remains principal and teaches grades 9-10, William Dickerson came from Arizona to teach grades 7-8, Mrs. Alice Nash is new on the staff and teaches 5-6, Miss Evelyn Chickering, a new teacher also, has grades 3-4, and Mrs. Leona Gouge remained to teach first and second grades.

At present only five classrooms are completed, but work is continuing and we hope in the very near future all rooms will be completed and the building of a much needed gym will be underway. But until such a time, the members of the Riverview church are thanking the Lord for the beautiful classrooms with plenty of room in which their children can be taught by dedicated Christian teachers.

Changes in Personnel

Sometime ago I reported through these columns a number of changes that had taken place in our conference working force due to calls from outside the field. Since then Elder and Mrs. R. T. Minesinger have accepted a call to the Central California Conference. Brother and Sister Irving Gray are now in Loma Linda, California, having responded to a call where Brother Gray will be assistant manager of the Loma Linda University Association. Brother and Sister Lawrence Heath have responded to a call to connect with the new Kettering Hospital of Dayton, Ohio. Miss Betty Hendershot, office secretary in the MV Department, has responded to a call to the same department in the General Conference, and Beverly Holm has left her work in the Book and Bible House to be with her husband in the Armed Forces.

For several years Elder Minesinger served as pastor of Pasco, Lewiston and Clarkston churches, giving unstintingly of time and energy in building up the work in these places. For two different periods Brother Gray has served as assistant treasurer of the Upper Columbia Conference and Mrs. Gray has served occasionally as office secretary in some of the departments. Brother Heath was at one time secretary of the Publishing Department, and for the last seven years has been assistant manager in our Book and Bible House.

Every phase of God's work is needful and it is imperative that we have consecrated workers to serve in each and every capacity. Inasmuch as it takes these workers of various talents and training to keep the work going in a well-rounded way, it is truly, as the Apostle Paul declared, "we are workers together with God." As together we work, plan and pray, naturally a wonderful bond of fellowship and friendship develops.

The workers mentioned above have been most faithful and diligent in their service and will be greatly missed by their fellow workers and members in the churches. We will ever pray for their success in their new fields and look forward to the time when partings will be no more.

Dedicated Quarters

"Dedicated quarters" and "Push Payne Campaign" is common parlance about the campus of Upper Columbia Academy. Let me explain. Mr. Bud Payne is the salesman for our furniture factory. Whereas he is employed to sell furniture, he is selling more than the products of our factory. He is a layman who is extremely interested in selling Seventh-day Adventism wherever he goes. Since he is on the road most of the time in the four western states that comprise this union and makes many contacts with business organizations, sleeps in motels night after night, and eats his meals at restaurants, he has an unusual opportunity for the distribution of literature. Wherever he goes, he leaves behind him a trail of truth-filled tracts and books.

The Home Missionary Department at the Academy, under the direction of Mr. William Greenley, has accepted the challenge of supplying Mr. Payne with literature and books under the title of "Push Payne Campaign" and supported by dedicated quarters. The student body has accepted as their challenge the earning of dedicated quarters through such means as window cleaning, automobile washing, and miscellaneous other jobs to earn these quarters dedicated to the cause of the literature ministry. For four consecutive Sabbaths a "dedicated quarter" offering has been taken during the Home Missionary hour, netting in the neighborhood of $200 for this worthy purpose.

Pendleton Church Welcomes New Pastor

To fill the vacancy in the pastorate of the Pendleton church following the transfer of Elder John Boyd to the Spokane Central church, Elder Harry Hannah is now settled in Pendleton as their new pastor.

Elder Harry Hannah

The Hannah family are not altogether strangers to the Northwest as Elder Hannah served over a period of years as pastor of two churches in the Washington Conference. Elder Hannah comes to us at this time from Houston, Texas, where he served as pastor of that large church.

We welcome Elder and Mrs. Hannah, Randy and Candy as they cast their lot with us. Elder Hannah has a most successful background as pastor-evangelist and I know all of the good people in Upper Columbia will pray God's blessing upon his efforts in the fine center of Pendleton.

New Pastor Arrives For Lewiston-Clarkston

The Lewiston and Clarkston churches recently had the pleasure of welcoming their new pastor, Elder Philip Welklin, and his little family.

This family comes to us from the Colorado Conference where Elder Welklin has served for several years as a district superintendent and made a wonderful record of soul winning. We welcome this fine family into our midst and wish them every joy and blessing as they unite their prayers and labors with those of the workers and laity in Upper Columbia for the finishing of the task in the portion of God's vineyard that He has entrusted to our care.

Evangelism In East Portland

The Stone Tower church, 3010 NE. Holladay at Sandy, will be the center for special evangelistic meetings, November 17 to December 14—only a few days away. Elder Fordyce W. Detamore and his associates, O. H. Bentzinger and Robert G. Collar, will unite their efforts with the pastors of the churches in the East Portland area during the Stone Tower effort.

The following churches will participate in this area-wide evangelistic endeavor: Stone Tower, Lents, Montavilla, Mt. Tabor, Sunnyside, Sharon, St. Johns, Estacada, Gresham, Sandy and Wemme. This will be a short and intensive series of meetings and will require the undivided and enthusiastic support of every church. We strongly urge that for the first three weeks of this effort the meetings at Stone Tower be given special priority in all the planning of the participating churches.

Much work and expense have already gone into the planning of the Stone Tower meetings. Every possible step is being taken to contact and bring interested people to these gatherings. We must take advantage of this opportunity to bring our neighbors and friends to hear these important messages. Who knows when another such favorable occasion will come to the East Portland area. Let us make the most of this great soul-winning.

Personal and Family Survival

The Federal Civil Defense Agency, in cooperation with the State Department of Education is sponsoring a series of adult classes in Personal and Family Survival. Since this program is being adopted in state colleges and the senior classes in high schools, we felt it is likely to become mandatory sooner or later in our own institutions.

Consequently, some of our teachers from Portland Union Academy, Laurelwood Academy, and Columbia Academy, with representatives from the Portland Sanitarium, were given an instructor's course which qualifies them to conduct these classes in our own churches and institutions.

"Peace and Safety" Cries

It surely seems as though another "peace and safety" cry is beginning to sweep the world, and this would indicate that sudden destruction could surely be ahead of us. The General Conference has urged our churches and conferences to participate in such Civil Defense activities as are compatible with our religious convictions and church policies. This class is one of the activities of Civil Defense and the Department of Education which we can endorse, and we would recommend that our members find opportunity to take this course.

Contact your local Supervisor of Adult Education or your local Superintendent of Public Instruction to discover when and where you may take this course, or write the undersigned for further information.

Christian Stewardship

"Many names are enrolled on the church book that have robbery recorded against them in the ledger of heaven." Sister White, writing in the book, Counsels on Stewardship, includes this statement along with many others equally revealing.

This series of articles on Christian Stewardship, of which this is the second, is to inspire our people and to provide food for spiritual strength and growth by means of a question and answer method with the answers taken from the book, Counsels on Stewardship.

Q. Into whose storehouse does our treasure go?

A. "There are only two places in the universe where we can place our treasure,—in God's storehouse or in Satan's; and all that is not devoted to God's service is counted on Satan's side, and goes to strengthen his cause." p. 35.

Q. How will a person respond whose heart is emptied of selfishness?

A. "Empty the heart of selfishness, and brace the mind for Christian activity. If you are in close connection with God, you will be willing to make any sacrifice to place eternal life within the reach of the perishing." p. 49.

Q. Does the ministry have a responsibility to our people in the matter of wills?

A. "Many manifest a needless delicacy on this point. They feel that they are stepping upon forbidden ground when they introduce the subject of property to the aged or to invalids in order to learn what disposition they design to make of it. But this duty is just as sacred as the duty to preach the Word to save souls." p. 323.

Open House at Rogue River Academy

Parents and guests toured the Rogue River Academy at Open House Saturday night, October 5, on the occasion of the first Home and School session. President H. L. Rudy discussed provisions for Christian education at a semi-formal meeting in the Pathfinder Club House.

Elder Rudy pointed out that Christian education is first the responsibility of parents, then Christian youth themselves, and finally of all church members. He does not favor educational hand-outs but rather a program of assistance to those who help themselves.

First food service in the new plant at the Rogue River school was provided recently under the direction of Mrs. Ethelene Beltz. She previously directed the food service five years. The new plant includes a large grill, walk-in refrigerator, attached storeroom, and a revolving salad deck.

Present at the Open House was the pioneer in arranging for meals at the old "crackerbox" school. Mrs. Lulu Knull-Carothers, then living at the foot of the hill on which the school is located, began in 1941 preparing soup and other light lunches in her home, carrying them up the hill and serving in the chapel.

Mrs. Lulu Knull-Carothers, Mrs. Maele Cartwright, and Mrs. Viola Knull-Archer were pleased with new arrangements for Rogue River Academy food service at the Open House. Kitchen and dinner ware, used by two of them before, await Mrs. Ethelene Beltz in the new structure this month.

In 1943 Principal Burt Ritz remodeled the basement of the gym to include a cafeteria, and Mrs. Maecle Cartwright was asked to direct the service. During nine years mothers took turns assisting her at meal time. From 1952-56 Mrs. Viola Knull-Archer was the assistant. Enrollments averaged for all 12 grades 185-200.

Mr. Max Boicourt is the current principal, and the enrollment is 185 in ten grades.

Columbia Academy Farm

"We produce 1,100 pounds of milk each day for marketing and enough extra milk to supply nearly 200 students with milk for three meals a day," says Gordon Bissell, Columbia Academy farm manager.

Columbia Academy senior Melvin Kohltfarber (left) and freshman Don Bliss take a close look at the corn crop. The corn will provide 500 tons of feed for hungry cows.

The academy now has a grade A dairy equipped with modern sanitary equipment for milking, storing, pasteurizing, and homogenizing milk.

Almost all the equipment from the barn itself to the new individual stall loafing sheds and the four unit pipeline milkers has come in the last eight years.

The present dairy herd is 100 animals with 50 cows milking. The cattle are bred by artificial insemination and the breeding is done so a large number of cows will freshen in the fall when there is available student labor and dry up in the spring when the students leave the campus.

"We have been building our herd," says Bissell, "and they are not exactly regulated, but next fall we will have 65 fresh cows."

Based on the Seventh-day Adventist philosophy of education, the farm not only provides food and an income but it also provides work for fifteen or more students. The farm buildings, in-

IDAHO

Gem State Academy Special

November 1963 is to be an important month for Gem State Academy and Sabbath, November 30, a special Sabbath.

The 1963-64 school year is going along very nicely. The young people are happy in their preparation for service. The teachers are dedicated to their task of true education. The Lord is blessing Gem State Academy and we ask that you continue to pray for God's Spirit to direct both teachers and students.

Our current building fund drive is falling behind schedule. To be ready for school we had to keep up with the building program and that meant we were spending money that would be coming in from the churches. Now our building fund account is overdrawn.

We know that many members have faithfully given regularly to this worthy project. Some good members have not given at all. Perhaps, many of these receive their income only once a year and this date should fit into their giving plans.

November has been designated catch-up-month for Gem State Academy. Sabbath, November 30, the offering will be for the Academy Building Fund. Won't you plan to join in this good work?

We appreciate very much our faithful members who have given. Let all of us join this Thanksgiving season in making November a special month for Gem State Academy.

The Lord blesses as we pray, plan and sacrifice for His cause.

Thank you for what you have done and will do for Gem State Academy this month.

Our schedule for the books sales and evening of entertainment is as follows, each appointment to begin at 7 p.m.

Investment at Troy

In Troy, Montana, the Seventh-day Adventist church has only 17 members in the Sabbath School. Five of these members are under 10 years of age; therefore, one person has to do more than one thing. I was elected Kindergarten leader and Investment leader. We set our Investment goal for 1963 at $175. The children and I decided the Kindergarten division would raise at least $50 of the $175.

I wanted to fix up a good device to make the four girls want to really work toward that $50. I say four girls, because the fifth one was under 1 year. Late in January, I waded through 2½ to 3 feet of snow and went out in the woods and found a dead limb with several sprigs on it. I put it in a pretty candy can. I purchased some flowers from the variety store, picking out the ones that had lots of flowers and leaves on one stem.

When I showed the tree to the girls, they did not think it was very pretty; but when they saw the flowers and leaves, they wanted to start to work at once. They began to ask me what they could do for Investment. I had a sack for each girl. I gave them the sacks and they looked inside and found potholders to sell—some were red heart shape, some were square, and some were mittens. They sold the heart shape ones and the square ones for 25 cents each and the mittens for 40 cents each. Two of the elderly ladies made some potholders when I ran out of scraps and the children wanted some more to sell. We also made and sold clothes brushes and candy. Every time we brought in 25 cents we would put a flower or leaf on the tree or in a bouquet around the tree.

By the first of May, we had so many flowers and leaves on the tree that there was not any room for more. I had to get another tree. This time I made the flowers out of crepe paper. They were much cheaper and prettier.

On August 31, when this picture was taken, the Kindergarten Department had turned in $58.94 for Investment. This does not count the health food labels we have turned in.

To date for the whole Sabbath School, there has been $143.26 turned in for Investment.

There is more yet to come for several people have a big surprise for us.

Church Building in Choteau

The members of the Choteau church are working zealously to achieve a goal which was set before them a few months ago—that of building a new church. For years we have worshipped in the old Masonic Temple Hall and it certainly does not meet our needs. Now our long, hoped-for dreams are being realized.

The building site is a favorable one, located on the outskirts of the city. Each Sunday is a church construction day for the members. The church is being built entirely by the members. We appreciate the able assistance lent us by the men of our sister church, Great Falls.

We wish to thank everyone for the fine orders we have been receiving for the book Time Running Out, and we hope you will continue. Two Treats for REVIEW Readers

The editors of the Review and Herald have just informed me that one of the most significant series of articles ever to appear in the Review will begin in the November 14 issue. The series prepared by Elder L. E. Froom, author of the four-volume set of books, The Prophetic Faith of Our Fathers, provides a preview of the material that will soon appear in the Conditionalist Faith of Our Fathers, two new volumes in the Faith of Our Fathers series.

In the eight articles Elder Froom presents in terse, popular form, the gist of evidence searched out in the libraries of the Old World and the New, showing that the Adventist position on the nature of man has been held by leading scholars throughout the centuries. The word "conditionalist" used in this series signifies a person who believes in the doctrine of conditional immortality, in contrast to the popular teaching that man has an immortal soul.

With Satan's final attack against truth to be made by marshalling the churches in league with Spiritism, this series of articles is especially timely and significant. It will fortify every reader to resist the deceptions that are destined to sweep the world.

Review readers have another treat in store also. Dr. Bert B. Beach is now in Rome covering the second session of Vatican Council II for the Review. His splendid reports on the first session last year were outstanding, and we believe that his articles this year will be of the same authoritative, penetrating quality.

Walla Walla College

Week of Prayer at WWC

The autumn Week of Prayer at Walla Walla College, November 9-16, will be conducted by the new church pastor, Elder Richard Fearing, Dr. P. W. Christian, president of the college announces. "The Search for Christ" will be the theme of the series.

"During this week, we want to approach the subject of our Lord and Master from many different angles and illustrate it in many different ways so that every student who chooses to do so can find Christ for himself," says Elder Fearing.

Weeks of Prayer have been conducted by Elder Fearing at Broadview Academy, Wisconsin Academy, Blue Mountain Academy, Hinsdale Sanitarium, and Andrews University. October 19 to 26 he conducted the Week of Prayer at Atlantic Union College, his theme being "Realities of the Adventist's Christian Life."

Evangelism Class Holds Meetings

The Evergreen Community Center, Evergreen and Roosevelt, in the Eastgate section of Walla Walla will be utilized between November 1 and mid-December for an evangelistic series featuring members of the Walla Walla College evangelism class as a "Community Bible Team." Elder G. S. Balharrie, dean of the School of Theology, is sponsor for the project.

The twice-a-week services are held Sunday and Friday evenings at 7:30 with senior theology students as speakers. Features are Elder Balharrie's question box, Dr. Eugene Winter's tips on physical fitness, special music, and feature films.

Divided into four teams, the class members all participate in speaking and in some other area of activity. Will Degerty is coordinator. Committee chairmen are Harry Sackett, hall; Ray Erwin, program; Dave Johnson, advertisement; and Bob Dunham, visitation.

Other members of the class sponsoring this important project are: Lorraine Corth, Joe Prather, Dale Von Bergen, and Russ Thomsen.

Purpose of the local series is to provide senior theology majors with a "taste of actual evangelism," informs Elder G. S. Balharrie. Later when each man begins his ministry, he can look forward to his opening evangelistic effort as his "second campaign" rather than a new and total unfamiliar experience. This means a great deal, Elder Balharrie believes. But he and members of the class regard the Evergreen Center effort in terms of "people rather than just experience and class credit." Before them lies the opportunity of reaching minds with the Good News of concern.

Those living in the Walla Walla area are invited not only to attend, but to bring community friends.

Dr. J. Hoover Mackin Is Campus Visitor

Dr. J. Hoover Mackin, prominent geologist, University of Texas, was on the Walla Walla College campus as national Sigma Xi lecturer, Monday, October 28, under the sponsorship of the Whitman College-Walla Walla College Sigma Xi Club.

His evening lecture open to the public was the first public use of the Physics Lecture Hall in the new Engineering-Physics-Mathematics Building. Titled, "The Swing to the Quantitative in Geology," the lecture was a discussion of two approaches to problem solving.

Counseling with science staff members and upper division students occupied the forenoon, and a noon luncheon honored Dr. Mackin. His afternoon was spent on the Whitman College campus.

Federal Nursing Traineeships

Miss Margaret Dunham, representing the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Public Health Service, Division of Nursing, visited Walla Walla College October 24, counseling with administrators on the graduate nurse traineeship program.

Studying on federal traineeship grants are graduate nurses Jean Hecox, Lycan, Colorado; Joni Lang, Lynwood, California; Mary Magula, Richland; and Christine McIntyre, Beloit, Wisconsin. Tuition, fees, travel expenses, and a living stipend are included in the grants.

Applicants must be graduate nurses from state approved schools of nursing, must be American citizens, and must reach high scholastic and personal qualifications, says Doctor Brown, vice president of Walla Walla College.

Four other grants have been allocated to Walla Walla College by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, says Dr. R. H. Brown. Applicants should send applications to his office.
